Mary understood that through her conception, God had put down the mighty from their thrones and exalted them of low station in this life (Lk. 1:52). This clearly alludes to Ez. 21:26, where the princes are to be put down and him that is low is to be exalted, i.e. Messiah. But Mary felt that she had been exalted; thus she shared Messiah’s exaltation because He was in her and she in Him. We too are in Him, and we should feel something of the pride and joy, along with the suffering, that comes from that identification. She parallels her lowly estate with them of low station in this life (Lk. 1:48,52) – perhaps referring to her and Jesus? Yet despite all her undoubtedly pure perception in her song of praise, she didn’t have totally pure understanding. It seems from her allusion in Lk. 1:52 to Ez. 21:26 [the mighty being put down from their thrones and the humble one exalted] that she thought that Ezekiel’s prophesy about Messiah’s restoration of the Kingdom had already been fulfilled in her conception of Jesus. It could be that she was so sure that her child would one day do this that she saw the time of the coming of “Him whose right it is” as being right there and then; and yet we know that it is in fact still future.
Against Ammon
28 You, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus says the Lord Yahweh concerning the children of Ammon, and concerning their reproach; and say, A sword, a sword is drawn, for the slaughter it is polished, to cause it to devour, that it may be as lightning; 29 while they see for you false visions, while they forecast lies to you, to lay you on the necks of the wicked who are deadly wounded, whose day has come in the time of the iniquity of the end. 30 Cause it to return into its sheath. In the place where you were created, in the land of your birth, will I judge you. 31 I will pour out My indignation on you; I will blow on you with the fire of My wrath; and I will deliver you into the hand of cruel men, skilful to destroy. 32 You shall be for fuel to the fire; your blood shall be in the midst of the land; you shall be remembered no more: for I, Yahweh, have spoken it.

Chapter 22
Sep. 26

The Sins of Israel and Jerusalem

The word of Yahweh came to me saying, 2 You, son of man, will you judge, will you judge the city of blood? So now cause her to know all her abominations. 3 You shall say, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: The city sheds blood in the midst of her so that her time of judgment may come, and makes idols against herself to defile herself! 4 You have become guilty in the blood that you have shed, and are defiled in your idols which you have made; and you have caused your days to draw near, and have come even to your year of judgment. Therefore have I made you a reproach to the nations, and a mockery to all the countries. 5 Those who are near and those who are far from you shall mock you, you infamous one and full of tumult. 6 Behold, the princes of Israel, each according to his power, have been in you to shed blood. 7 In you have they set light by father and mother;

21:27 The throne of the kings of Judah was to be no more until Christ, the rightful King of Israel, returns. He is the One who was low who has been exalted on high (:26). The triple ‘overturning’ could refer to the Babylonian destruction of Jerusalem, the Roman destruction in AD70, and a final overturning of the city in our times, just prior to Christ’s return as King of Israel. Alternatively, the triple ‘overturning’ refers to the three invasions of Judah made by Babylon. The future Kingdom of Christ is to be a re-establishment of the Kingdom of God as it once was, based around Jerusalem. The return of Christ is spoken of as the restoration of that Kingdom in Acts 1:6, where the disciples are basically asking when this prophecy of Ez. 21:27 will be fulfilled.

22:2 Judge the city of blood... cause her to know all her abominations – The purpose of judgment is to reveal sin to those being judged. We must face up to our sins, know them for what they are – either now, or in the process of rejection at the final day of judgment.

22:3 So that her time of judgment may come, and makes idols against herself to defile herself – Notice how the judgment and defiling were brought about by her own behaviour. Those who are condemned have condemned themselves (see :31).
in the midst of you have they dealt by oppression with the foreigner; in you have they wronged the fatherless and the widow. 8 You have despised My holy things, and have profaned My Sabbaths. 9 Slanderous men have been in you to shed blood; and in you they have eaten on the mountains: in the midst of you they have committed lewdness. 10 In you have they uncovered their fathers’ nakedness; in you have they humbled her who was unclean in her impurity. 11 One has committed abomination with his neighbour’s wife, another has lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law; and another in you has humbled his sister, his father’s daughter. 12 In you have they taken bribes to shed blood. You have taken interest and increase, you have greedily gained from your neighbours by oppression and have forgotten Me, says the Lord Yahweh. 13 Behold, therefore, I have struck My hand at your dishonest gain which you have made, and at the blood which has been shed in the midst of you. 14 Can your heart endure, or can your hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with you? I, Yahweh, have spoken it, and will do it. 15 I will scatter you among the nations and disperse you through the countries; and I will consume your filthiness out of you. 16 You shall be profaned in yourself, in the sight of the nations; and you shall know that I am Yahweh. 17 The word of Yahweh came to me, saying, 18 Son of man, the house of Israel has become dross to Me: all of them are brass, tin, iron and lead in the midst of the furnace; they are the dross of silver. 19 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because you have all become dross, therefore, behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem. 20 As they gather silver, brass, iron, lead and tin into the midst of the furnace to blow the fire onto it to melt it; so will I gather you in My anger and in My wrath, and I will lay you there, and melt you. 21 Yes, I will gather you, and blow on you with the fire of My wrath, and you shall be melted in its midst. 22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so you will be melted in its midst; and you will know that I, Yahweh, have poured out My wrath on you. 23 The word of Yahweh came to me saying, 24 Son of man, tell her, You are a land that is not cleansed nor rained on in the day of indignation. 25 There is a conspiracy of her prophets in its midst, like a roaring lion tearing the prey: they have devoured souls; they take treasure and precious things; they have made her widows many in its midst. 26 Her priests have done violence to My law and have profaned My holy things: they have made no distinction between the holy and the common, neither have they caused men to discern between the unclean and the clean and have hidden their eyes from My Sabbaths, and I am profaned among them. 27 Her princes in its midst are like wolves tearing the prey, to shed blood and to destroy people so that they may get dishonest gain. 28 Her prophets have plastered for them with whitewash, seeing false visions and foretelling lies to them, saying, Thus says the Lord Yahweh, when Yahweh has not spoken. 29 The people of the land have used oppression and committed robbery; yes, they have troubled the poor and needy and have oppressed the foreigner wrongfully. 30 I sought for a man among them, who should build up the wall and stand in the gap before Me for the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found none. 31 Therefore have I poured out My indignation on them; I have consumed them with the fire of My wrath. Their own way have I brought on their heads, says the Lord Yahweh.

Sep. 27

Samaria and Jerusalem — Sisters in Prostitution

The word of Yahweh came again to me saying, 2 Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother: 3 and they played the prostitute in Egypt; they played the prostitute in their youth; there were their breasts pressed, and there were fondled the breasts of their virginity. 4 Their names were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister: and they became Mine, and they bore sons and daughters. As for their names, Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem Oholibah. 5 Oholah played the prostitute when she was Mine; and she doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbours, 6 who were clothed with blue, governors and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding on horses. 7 She bestowed her prostitution on them, the choicest men of Assyria all of them; and on whoever she doted, with all their idols she defiled herself. 8 Neither has she left her prostitution since 22:30 Even at this dire time of Judah’s weakness, God would have changed His entire program of judgment for the sake of just one man. But there was none, it seems Ezekiel himself wasn’t passionate enough even. Thus God says He has consumed them in His wrath (:31), whereas Moses ‘turned’ God from executing His wrath as He planned (Ps. 78:38; 106:23).

the days of Egypt; for in her youth they lay with her, and they fondled the breasts of her virginity; and they poured out their prostitution on her.

9 Therefore I delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyrians on whom she doted. 10 These uncovered her nakedness; they took her sons and her daughters and her they killed with the sword, and she became a byword among women; for they executed judgments on her. 11 Her sister Oholibah saw this, yet was she more corrupt in her doting than she, and in her prostitution which was more than the prostitution of her sister. 12 She doted on the Assyrians, governors and rulers, her neighbours, clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding on horses, all of them desirable young men. 13 I saw that she was defiled; they both took one way. 14 She increased her prostitution; for she saw men portrayed on the wall, the images of the Chaldeans portrayed with vermillion, 15 dressed with girdles on their waists, with flowing turbans on their heads, all of them princes to look on, after the likeness of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the land of their birth. 16 As soon as she saw them she doted on them, and sent messengers to them into Chaldea. 17 The Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their prostitution, and she was polluted with them, and her soul was alienated from them. 18 So she displayed her prostitution, and uncovered her nakedness: then My soul was alienated from her, like as My soul was alienated from her sister. 19 Yet she multiplied her prostitution, remembering the days of her youth, in which she had played the prostitute in the land

23:8 Neither has she left her prostitution since the days of Egypt – A reference to how Israel took the idols of Egypt with them through the Red Sea (16:8,9), just as we can take this world’s idols with us through the waters of baptism (1 Cor. 10:1,2).

23:11 Judah (the two tribe Kingdom) are portrayed here as more sinful than Israel (the ten tribe Kingdom), although the historical records in Kings and Chronicles suggest that Judah had more spiritual Kings than did Israel. We must conclude that occasional good leadership doesn’t therefore affect the entire community. Seeing relationship with God is so intensely personal, good leadership can only be of limited value, and it therefore shouldn’t be over-emphasized as the reason why a community are righteous or not.

23:14 Men portrayed on the wall – The context suggests this was some kind of visual pornography. There’s a lot of language in these verses which speak of her attraction to them visually. The impression is given of a totally superficial woman who became sexually obsessed – when married to God Himself. This is how we can become, unless we understand our covenant relationship with God to utterly preclude any other relationship.

23:19 Remembering the days of her youth– Israel’s memories and perception of their time in Egypt were very warped. It was a furnace of suffering for them, and yet they remembered fondly the food which the Egyptians ate (Num. 11:5), and the gods they worshipped. We need to understand our life before baptism for what it was, and not keep hankering after it.
of Egypt. 20 She doted on their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of donkeys, and whose issue is like the issue of horses. 21 Thus you called to memory the lewdness of your youth, in the fondling of your bosom by the Egyptians for the breasts of your youth. 22 Therefore, Oholibah, thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I will raise up your lovers against you, from whom your soul is alienated, and I will bring them against you on every side: 23 the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them; desirable young men, governors and rulers all of them, princes and men of renown, all of them riding on horses. 24 They shall come against you with weapons, chariots and wagons, and with a company of peoples; they shall set themselves against you with buckler and shield and helmet all around; and I will commit the judgment to them, and they shall judge you according to their judgments. 25 I will set My jealousy against you, and they shall deal with you in fury; they shall take away your nose and your ears; and your residue shall fall by the sword. They shall take your sons and your daughters; and your residue shall be devoured by the fire. 26 They shall also strip you of your clothes, and take away your beautiful jewels. 27 Thus will I make your lewdness to cease from you, and your prostitution brought from the land of Egypt; so that you shall not lift up your eyes to them, nor remember Egypt any more. 28 For thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I will deliver you into the hand of those whom you hate, into the hand of those from whom your soul is alienated; 29 and they shall deal with you in hatred, and shall take away all your labour, and shall leave you naked and bare; and the nakedness of your prostitution shall be uncovered, both your lewdness and your prostitution. 30 These things shall be done to you because you have played the prostitute after the nations, and because you are polluted with their idols. 31 You have walked in the way of your sister; therefore will I give her cup into your hand. 32 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: You will drink of your sister’s cup, which is deep and large; you will be ridiculed and held in derision; it contains much. 33 You shall be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of your sister Samaria. 34 You shall even drink it and 23:22 Your lovers... from whom your soul is alienated – No illicit relationship can ever last, and the supposed love always turns to hate or alienation. Israel are the classic case – it was the nations whose gods she worshipped who came and destroyed her without mercy.

23:27 Your prostitution brought from the land of Egypt – It is repeatedly emphasized that Israel took Egypt’s idols with them (16:8,9 and elsewhere in this chapter). Yet Ezekiel is writing centuries afterwards. The faithless attitude Israel had when they left Egypt influenced their spiritual walk afterwards. How we start our walk with God is so important; and we should be very aware of this in raising children and in our attitude to new converts within the church.
drain it out, and you shall gnaw the broken pieces of it, and shall tear off your breasts; for I have spoken it, says the Lord Yahweh. 35 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because you have forgotten Me, and cast Me behind your back, therefore you also shall bear your lewdness and your prostitution. 36 Yahweh said moreover to me: Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah? Then declare to them their abominations. 37 For they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands; and with their idols have they committed adultery; and they have also caused their sons, whom they bore to Me, to pass through the fire to their idols to be devoured. 38 Moreover this they have done to Me: they have defiled My sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned My Sabbaths. 39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into My sanctuary to profane it; and behold, thus have they done in the midst of My house. 40 Furthermore you have sent for men who come from far, to whom a messenger was sent, and behold, they came; for whom you did wash yourself, paint your eyes, and decorate yourself with ornaments, 41 and sat on a state-ly bed, with a table prepared before it, whereupon you set My incense and My oil. 42 The voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with men of the common sort were brought drunkards from the wilderness; and they put bracelets on both their hands, and beautiful crowns on their heads. 43 Then I said of her who was an adulteress of old, Now will they play the prostitute with her, and she with them. 44 They went in to her, as they go in to a prostitute: so went they in to Oholah and to Oholi-bah, the lewd women. 45 Righteous men, they shall judge them with the judgment of adulteresses, and with the judgment of women who shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands. 46 For thus says the Lord Yahweh: I will bring up a company against them, and will give them to be tossed back and forth and robbed. 47 The company shall stone them with stones.

23:34 Ezekiel speaks of how every act of idolatry was seen by God as the fickle wife of a faithful husband deceitfully liaising with another, worthless, man. And there is a similar shocking terror associated with our infidelities to the Lord who bought us for His own. The self-hatred of repentant Israel before they accept the new covenant is described with a purposefully terrible idiom: a woman plucking off her own breasts. These words must be seen in the context of Israel offering these parts of her body to the hands of the Gentiles (:3,8). And now, with her own hands, Israel would fain pluck off her breasts in realization of her degradation. This self-loathing must be part of every true repentance; for we too, in advance of Israel, ought to have repented a like repentance, and entered the very same covenant. Just reflect upon the self-loathing in repentance of 6:9; 20:43; Job 40:4; 42:6. This is how sin is serious. Alternatively, we can read this self-hatred as an Old Testament form of what Jesus repeatedly warned about – the “weeping and gnashing of teeth” which will be experienced by those rejected at the judgment seat (Mt. 8:12; 22:13; 24:51; 25:30).
and dispatch them with their swords; they shall kill their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness. They shall compensate your lewdness on you, and you shall bear the sins of your idols; and you shall know that I am the Lord Yahweh.

The Cauldron

Again, in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of Yahweh came to me saying,

Son of man, write the name of the day, this same day: the king of Babylon came close to Jerusalem this day.

3 Utter a parable to the rebellious house and tell them, Thus says the Lord Yahweh, Set on the cauldron, set it on, and also pour water into it.

4 Gather its pieces into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it with the choice bones.

5 Take the choice of the flock, and also a pile of wood for the bones under the cauldron; make it boil well; yes, let its bones be boiled in its midst.

6 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: Woe to the city of blood, to the cauldron whose rust is therein, and whose rust is not gone out of it! Take out of it piece after piece; no lot is fallen on it.

7 For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it on the bare rock; she didn’t pour it on the ground, to cover it with dust.

So that it may cause wrath to come up to take vengeance, I have set her blood on the bare rock, that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: Woe to the city of blood! I also will make the pile great.

10 Heap on the wood, make the fire hot, boil well the flesh, make thick the broth, and let the bones be burned.

11 Then set it empty on its coals, that it may be hot and its brass may be hot, so that its filthiness may be molten in it, that its rust may be consumed.

12 She has weared herself with lies; yet her great rust doesn’t go forth out of her; her rust doesn’t go forth by fire.

13 In your filthiness is lewdness: because I have cleansed you and you weren’t cleansed, you shall not be cleansed from your filthiness any more, until I have caused My wrath toward you to rest.

14 I, Yahweh, have spoken it: it shall happen, and I will do it: I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I relent; according to your ways and according to your doings.

24:7 She set it on the bare rock – But :8 says that God made her do this with her blood, so that she would incite His wrath. Here we have an example of how God confirms people in the sin they choose to commit. There’s both a downward spiral and an upward one, we can never take a break from our spiritual journey, constantly we are being confirmed in the direction we choose.

24:12 Weared herself with lies – The wearying with lies suggests that it was due to their listening to false prophets rather than the true word of God that the fire did not cleanse them.
shall they judge you, says the Lord Yahweh.

The Death of Ezekiel’s Wife

15 Also the word of Yahweh came to me, saying, 16 Son of man, behold, I will take away from you the desire of your eyes with a stroke: yet you shall neither mourn nor weep, neither shall your tears run down. 17 Sigh, but not aloud; make no mourning for the dead; bind your headdress on you, and put your shoes on your feet, don’t cover your lips nor eat men’s bread. 18 So I spoke to the people in the morning; and at evening my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded. 19 The people said to me, Won’t you tell us what these things are to us, that you do so? 20 Then I said to them, The word of Yahweh came to me, saying, 21 Speak to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I will profane My sanctuary, the pride of your power, the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pities; and your sons and your daughters whom you have left behind shall fall by the sword. 22 You shall do as I have done: you shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men. 23 Your ornaments shall be on your heads, and your shoes on your feet: you shall not mourn nor weep; but you shall pine away in your iniquities, and groan one toward another. 24 Thus Ezekiel shall be a sign to you; according to all that he has done, you will do. When this comes, then you will know that I am the Lord Yahweh. 25 You, son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that whereupon they set their heart, their sons and their daughters, 26 that in that day he who escapes shall come to you, to cause you to hear it with your ears? 27 In that day your mouth will be opened to him who has escaped, and you shall speak, and be no more mute. So you will be a sign to them; and they shall know that I am Yahweh.

24:16 The desire of your eyes – The implication is that Ezekiel dearly loved his wife and found her very attractive. Yet just as he so loved her, so Judah loved Yahweh’s temple (:21). We must realize that Judah weren’t atheists, they hadn’t rejected Yahweh. On one hand they loved Him, but they loved their other gods too.

24:23 The emphasis is very much on the psychological suffering of the condemned Israel. Ezekiel wasn’t allowed to weep, which is the natural expression of grief. It therefore bottled up within him, causing deep psychological pain; in order to present Israel with an illustration of how they would feel under God’s judgment. The punishment of the rejected at the final judgment will be “gnashing of teeth” (Mt. 24:51), which is again a picture of anger with oneself and internal torment at what might have been, the eternal future which they chose to miss. The wicked will not be punished with literal fire or torture; the internal psychological pain will be far worse. These pictures of condemnation are frequent in the Bible; not to scare us into submission, but to bring before us the eternal consequence of the decisions we take in this life, for the flesh or for the Spirit.

Against Ammon

The word of Yahweh came to me, saying, 2 Son of man, set your face toward the people of Ammon, and prophesy against them: 3 and tell the people of Ammon, Hear the word of the Lord Yahweh: Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because you said, Aha, against My sanctuary when it was profaned, and against the land of Israel when it was made desolate; and against the house of Judah when they went into captivity: 4 therefore behold, I will deliver you to the people of the east for a possession, and they shall set their encampments in you, and make their dwellings in you; they shall eat your fruit, and they shall drink your milk. 5 I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the people of Ammon a resting place for flocks: and you shall know that I am Yahweh. 6 For thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because you have clapped your hands, stamped with the feet and rejoiced with all the despite of your soul against the land of Israel; 7 therefore behold, I have stretched out My hand upon you and will deliver you for a spoil to the nations; and I will cut you off from the peoples, and I will cause you to perish out of the countries. I will destroy you; and you shall know that I am Yahweh. 8 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because Moab and Seir say, Behold, the house of Judah is like all the nations; 9 therefore, behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon, and Kiriataim, 10 to the people of the east, to go against the children of Ammon; and I will give them for a possession, that the people of Ammon may not be remembered among the nations. 11 I will execute judgments on Moab; and they shall know that I am Yahweh.

Against Edom

12 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because Edom has dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance and has greatly offended and revenged himself on them; 13 therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh, I will stretch out My hand on Edom, and will cut off man and animal from it; and I will make it desolate: from Teman even to Dedan shall they fall by the sword. 14 I will lay My vengeance by the hand of My people Israel – The Law of Moses had commanded Israel not to hate Edomites (Dt. 23:7); so they were intended to carry out this judgment with no personal hatred, just as at times we have to. Despite Josephus claiming that the Maccabees fulfilled this prophecy, Obadiah 21 speaks of how this judgment will be fulfilled in the last days around the second coming of Christ (cp. Is. 63:1).
ance on Edom by the hand of My people Israel; and they shall do in Edom according to My anger and according to My wrath; and they shall know My vengeance, says the Lord Yahweh.

Against the Philistines

15 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with despite of soul to destroy for the old enmity; 16 therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh, Behold, I will stretch out My hand on the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites, and destroy the rest of the sea coast.

25:15 For the old enmity – A reference to the Jacob:Esau hatred, which will finally be resolved in Jacob’s favour – by God’s grace alone.

25:16 The rest of the sea coast – The Hebrew word for ‘Philistine’ is the same as that now used for ‘Palestinian’; the Palestinians of the Gaza Strip are in exactly the geographical location spoken of here.

26:7 This speaks of how Babylon will surround and destroy Tyre. But this never happened in recorded history – it was done by Alexander and the Greeks much later. 29:17-20 explains that because the King of Babylon laboured so hard to take Tyre (even though he never actually succeeded) God would give him the land of Egypt as a reward. This doesn’t mean that the word of prophecy failed. Rather does it mean that God is open to a rethinking of plans and futures in accord with human response. Although all the conditions for Tyre’s fall and Babylon’s victory against her aren’t given, evidently there must have been such unrecorded conditions; and they weren’t fulfilled, hence Tyre was spared destruction by the Babylonians, and yet they were ‘rewarded’ for their part in the situation. Nebuchadnezzar was God’s servant, but God changed the terms and conditions of his labour. He would not conquer Tyre, but he was given Egypt instead. Is it that God changes His mind? Did someone (of whom with horsemen and a company, and many people. 8 He shall kill your daughters in the field with the sword; and he shall make forts against you, and cast up a mound against you, and raise up the buckler against you. 9 He shall set his battering engines against your walls, and with his axes he shall break down your towers. 10 By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover you. Your walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wagons, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into your gates, as men enter into a city in which is made a breach. 11 With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all your streets; he shall kill your people with the sword; and the pillars of your strength shall go down to the ground. 12 They shall make a spoil of your riches, and make a prey of your merchandise; and they shall break down your walls, and destroy your pleasant houses; and they shall lay your stones and your timber and your dust in the midst of the waters. 13 I will cause the noise of your songs to cease; the sound of your harps shall be no more heard. 14 I will make you a bare rock; you shall be a place for the spreading of nets. You shall be built no more: for I Yahweh have spoken it, says the Lord Yahweh. 15 Thus says the Lord Yahweh to Tyre: shall not the islands shake at the sound of your fall, when the wounded groan, when the slaughter is made in the midst of you? 16 Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones and lay aside their robes and strip off their embroidered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling; they shall sit on the ground and shall tremble every moment, being astonished at you. 17 They shall take up a lamentation over you and tell you, How you are destroyed, who was inhabited by mariners, the renowned city, who was strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, who caused their terror to be on all who lived there! 18 Now shall the islands tremble in the day of your fall; yes, the islands that are in the sea shall be dismayed at your departure. 19 For thus says the Lord Yahweh: When I shall make you a desolate city like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep on you and the great waters shall cover you; 20 then will I bring you down with those who descend into the pit, to the people of old time, and will make you to dwell in the lower parts of the earth, in the places that are desolate of old, with those who go down to the pit, that you be not inhabited; and I will set glory in the land of the living. 21 I will make you a terror, and you shall no more be rebuilt; though you are sought for, yet you will never be found again, says the Lord Yahweh.

Lamentation over Tyre

The word of Yahweh came again to me saying, 2 You, son of man, take up a lamentation over Tyre, 3 and tell Tyre: You who dwell at the entry of the sea, who are the merchant of the peoples to many islands, thus says the Lord Yahweh: You, Tyre, have said, I am perfect in beauty. 4 Your borders are in the heart of the seas; your builders have perfected your beauty. 5 They have made all 26:21 No more be rebuilt – This also may have been part of a conditional prophecy – see on :7. It could be that the Biblical Tyre wasn’t on the same spot as the city now known as “Tyre”. The Hebrew can bear the translation ‘Not be built any more’, meaning that the building which was then ongoing would end. The same grammatical construction is found in passages like Ex. 9:29, where Moses says that ‘As soon as I go out of the city, I will spread out my hands to the Lord ... there will be hail no longer...’. This doesn’t mean that there would never be any hail ever again; it means that the current hailstorm would stop. Another example is in Neh. 2:17.

27:3 Perfect in beauty – Arrogant self-confidence, opulence, human beauty, human wisdom, praise and respect from others, power… all the things which people so strive after in our society were all obtained to their fullness by Tyre, and yet these are the very things which they were condemned for. Note how the prophets pointed out to Gentile nations their sins and failures before the God of Israel; sin is still felt by God as sin, even if it is committed by those not responsible to His final judgment. It must be so hard for God, feeling all this offence against Him. However, it was Jerusalem which was the city seen by God as “perfect in beauty” (Ps. 50:2); Tyre wasn’t simply boastful, but consciously wanted to take over from Jerusalem as God’s chosen city. They thought that their wealth and human advantage could buy for them status with God – as people do today. It was Tyre’s aspiration to replace Israel as God’s people which He found so upsetting – see notes on chapter 28.
your planks of fir trees from Senir; they have taken a cedar from Lebanon to make a mast for you. Of the oaks of Bashan have they made your oars; they have made your benches of ivory inlaid in boxwood from the islands of Kittim. Of fine linen with embroidered work from Egypt was your sail, that it might be to you for a banner; blue and purple from the islands of Elishah was your awning. The inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad were your rowers. Your wise men, Tyre, were in you; they were your pilots. The old men of Gebal and the wise men of it were in you, your repairers of ship seams. All the ships of the sea with their mariners were in you to deal in your merchandise. Persia, Lud and Put were in your army, your men of war. They hung the shield and helmet in you; they set forth your beauty. The men of Arvad with your army were on your walls all around, and heroic men were in your towers; they hung their shields on your walls all around; they have perfected your beauty. Tarshish was your merchant by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with silver, iron, tin and lead they traded for your wares. Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were your traffickers; they traded the persons of men and vessels of brass for your merchandise. They of the house of Togarmah traded for your wares with horses and war horses and mules. The men of Dedan were your traffickers; many islands were the market under your control. They brought you in exchange horns of ivory and ebony. Syria was your merchant by reason of the multitude of your handiworks. They traded for your wares with emeralds, purple, embroidered work, fine linen, coral and rubies. Judah and the land of Israel, they were your traffickers. They traded for your merchandise wheat of Minnith, and confections, honey, oil and balm. Damascus was your merchant for the multitude of your handiworks, by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches, with the wine of Helbon and white wool. Vedan and Javan traded with yarn for your wares: bright iron, cassia and calamus were among your merchandise. Dedan was your trafficker in precious cloths for riding. Arabia and all the princes of Kedar, they were the merchants of your hand. In lambs, rams, goats, in these were they your merchants. The traffickers of Sheba and Raamah, they were your traffickers. They traded for your wares with the chief of all spices and with all precious stones and gold. Haran and Canneh and Eden, the traffickers of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad, 27:17 Judah and the land of Israel – Ezekiel would’ve reflected that this list of good things from his own land was produced at a time of blessing on the land (Dt. 8:8; 32:14); for at his time, the land was desolate and not trading with Tyre. As a young Jew in Babylon, Ezekiel likely knew nothing of Tyre personally, and so the detailed list in this chapter is an example of Divine inspiration giving the Bible writers information which was beyond them personally to amass.

were your traffickers. 24 These were your traffickers in choice wares, in wrappings of blue and embroidered work and in chests of rich clothing, bound with cords and made of cedar, among your merchandise. 25 The ships of Tarshish were your caravans for your merchandise, and you were replenished, and made very glorious in the heart of the seas. 26 Your rowers have brought you into great waters. The east wind has broken you in the heart of the seas. 27 Your riches, your wares, your merchandise, your mariners, your pilots, your repairers of ship hulls and the dealers in your merchandise, and all your men of war who are in you, with all your company which is in the midst of you, shall fall into the heart of the seas in the day of your ruin. 28 At the sound of the cry of your pilots the suburbs shall shake. 29 All who handled the oar, the mariners and all the pilots of the sea shall come down from their ships. They shall stand on the land, and shall cause their voice to be heard over you, and shall cry bitterly and shall cast up dust on their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes; 31 and they shall make themselves bald for you, and clothe them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for you in bitterness of soul with bitter mourning. 32 In their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for you and lament over you, saying, Who is there like Tyre, like her who is brought to silence in the midst of the sea? 33 When your wares went forth out of the seas, you filled many peoples; you enriched the kings of the earth with the multitude of your riches and of your merchandise. 34 In the time that you were broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, your merchandise and all your company fell in your midst. 35 All the inhabitants of the islands are astonished at you, and their kings are horribly afraid; they are troubled in their face. 36 The merchants among the peoples hiss at you; you are become a terror, and you shall never again have any being.

Tyre: The Anointed Cherub

The word of Yahweh came again to me saying, 2 Son of man, tell the prince of Tyre, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because your heart is lifted up, and you have said, I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet you are man, and not God, though you set your heart as the heart of God. 3 Behold, you are wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that is hidden from you. 4 By your wisdom and by your understanding you have become rich, and have gathered gold and silver into your treasures. 5 By your great wisdom and by your traffic you have increased your riches, and your heart is lifted up because of your riches. 6 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because you have set your heart as the heart of God, 7 therefore, behold, I will bring strangers on you, the terrible of the nations; and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of your wisdom, and they shall defile your brightness. 8 They shall bring you down to the pit; and you shall die the death of those who are slain, in the heart of the seas. 9 Will you yet say before him who kills you, I am God? But you are man and not God in the hand of him who stabs you. 10 You shall die the death of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, says the Lord Yahweh. 11 Moreover the word of Yahweh came to me saying, 12 Son of man, take up a lamentation over the king of Tyre and tell him, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: You seal up the imitation, full of wisdom and perfect in beauty. 13 You were in Eden, the garden of God; every precious stone adorned you: ruby, topaz, emerald, chrysolite, onyx, jasper, sapphire, turquoise, and beryl. Gold workmanship of tambourines and of pipes was yours. In the day that you were created they were prepared. 14 I put a terrifying messenger there to guard you. You lived on My holy mountain and walked among

28:13-15 It is wrongly assumed that this refers to Satan once having been in Eden. But the words “devil” and “satan” do not occur in this chapter, nor in the rest of Ezekiel. The context shows this is a prophecy about the King of Tyre; the preceding chapter 27 is an oracle against Tyre, and now chapter 28 speaks specifically about the King of Tyre. Ezekiel chapters 27 and 28 clearly hold together as a literary unit. The city of Tyre and the King of Tyre are described in similar terms, e.g. “perfect in beauty” (compare 27:3 and 28:12; 27:16,17 with 28:13; 27:33 with 28:16). The passage plainly speaks of the King of Tyre, not anything that happened at the beginning of the world. It is commonly believed that Satan was thrown out of heaven into Eden, but this passage says that this person was in Eden before he sinned and was cast out when he sinned. The garden of Eden was on the earth, not in heaven (its boundaries are given in Gen. 2:8-14), therefore the casting out was not out of heaven. The person was to “die the death of the uncircumcised” (:10), but angels cannot die (Lk. 20:35-36). That a man is referred to is confirmed by :9 “you are man”. Verse 2 defines him as the “prince of Tyre”. The Hebrew word for “perfect” is applied to Noah, Abraham, Job and David (Gen. 6: 9; 17:1; Job 1:1; Ps. 18:23 & 25); it doesn’t imply a supernatural being. “You were in Eden” refers to where the king of Tyre was in place, not in time. Pharaoh and Assyria are similarly described as being like trees in Eden, and having these trees in awe of them (31:2,3,8,9,16,18). The trees in Eden are not to be taken literally, they represent the nations whom Pharaoh and Assyria conquered, possibly referring to the fact that they were all within the old geographical boundaries of the garden of Eden. Eden was a geographical area on earth known to Ezekiel’s readers – this is how it is used elsewhere in Ezekiel (27:23; 31:8,9; Is. 51:3; Gen. 13:10). ‘Eden’ was not understood as a historical reference to the garden of Eden in early Genesis, but rather to a known nation / region of Ezekiel’s time. The sin of the King of Tyre is defined in :16-18 as dishonest accumulation of wealth. The sin in view wasn’t some Angelic rebellion against God. The language of precious stones in :13,14 is an allusion to the stones set in the breastplate of the high priest of Israel (Ex. 39:10-14). Tyre was “on the holy mountain of God” (:14) – but this holy mountain is Mount Zion, Jerusalem here on earth (20:40). The prophecy of the fall of Tyre is being consciously sparkling gems. 15 You were perfect in your ways from the day that you were created, until unrighteousness was found in you. 16 By the abundance of your trading they filled the midst of you with violence, and you have sinned; therefore I have cast you as profane out of the mountain of God; and the angel who guarded you drove you away from the midst framed to mirror the fall of man, e.g. in :2 “you are man”; “man” is Adam in Hebrew, as if God is saying to the prince of Tyre, “You are like Adam in this parable”. Verse 17 tells how he will be brought to the ground – as Adam had to return to the dust. The passage is often skim read, leading to the assumption that the King of Tyre is being likened to the serpent in the Garden of Eden, or to some Satan figure who fell from Heaven at that time. But careful reading shows that the King of Tyre is being likened to Adam in Eden, not to the serpent. Verses 14,16 sound like a reference to the King of Tyre as Adam: “I put a terrifying angel there to guard you… the angel who guarded you drove you away “ (:14,16 – this is also the reading of the G.N.B. and T.E.V)

Another approach is suggested by archaeological discoveries in Tyre. A large cherub-sphinx with a king’s head and animal’s body set on a base of sculptured mountains was discovered, evidently a deification of a king of Tyre. With Hiram’s knowledge of the true God, it seems that subsequent Kings of Tyre came to put themselves in the position of God, seated between the cherubim on Mount Zion, in the same way as the king of Assyria effectively aspired to the same thing – Phoenician inscriptions have been uncovered calling the king of Tyre “Lord of the Heavens”. Even more amazingly, the jewels described in :13 were all found embedded in this sphinx-cherubim. The three jewels of the breastplate missing from the list in :13 were also missing from the sphinx. Inscriptions also describe Tyre as the “garden of God”, and reliefs of cherubim guarding Tyre as they did Eden have been found. Thus the king of Tyre had set up a blasphemous system of worship copying that of the temple and of Eden, with himself as God in the midst of it. “The king of Tyre” (:12) may be a reference to the Tyrian god Melkart (“King of the city”). Perhaps Tyre had installed a system of Yahweh worship similar to that which was in Jerusalem (perhaps a result of Hiram’s relationship with Solomon and assistance in building Yahweh’s temple) – but this had become mixed with the worship of Melkart. “You seal up the imitation” (:12) show how God was aware that this replica of His system of worship had been pushed by the king of Tyre as far as it could go. According to the Jamieson-Fausset-Brown Bible Commentary: “This feeling of superhuman elevation in the king of Tyre was fostered by the fact that the island on which Tyre stood was called “the holy island” [Sanconiathon], being sacred to Hercules and Melkart, so much so that the colonies looked up to Tyre as the mother city of their religion”. The city was thought of as rising from the waters like the rock-throne of God. This would explain why the King of Tyre is criticized for saying “I am a god, I sit in the seat of God “ (:2). It would also explain all the allusions to Israelite worship – he was setting himself up as a rival to Zion, dressing himself in clothing featuring all the jewels in the High Priestly breastplate (Ex. 28:15-20); the word used for his “workmanship” with those jewels in :13 is used in Ex. 31:3,5; 35:31 of the workmanship of the tabernacle and associated garments. The King of Tyre claimed to be “perfect in beauty” (:12) – just as Zion was described earlier in Ezekiel in the same terms (16:14).
of the stones of fire. 17 Your heart was lifted up because of your beauty; you have corrupted your wisdom by reason of your brightness. I have cast you to the ground; I have laid you before kings, that they may see you. 18 By the multitude of your iniquities, in the unrighteousness of your trading, you have profaned your sanctuaries; therefore have I brought forth a fire from the midst of you; it has devoured you, and I have turned you to ashes on the earth in the sight of all those who see you. 19 All those who know you among the peoples shall be astonished at you. You have become a terror, and your life shall end evermore.

Against Sidon
20 The word of Yahweh came to me saying, 21 Son of man, set your face toward Sidon, and prophesy against it 22 and say, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I am against you Sidon. I will be glorified in the midst of you; and they shall know that I am Yahweh when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her.

23 For I will send plague into her and blood into her streets. The wounded shall fall in the midst of her, with the sword on her on every side; and they shall know that I am Yahweh. 24 There shall be no more a pricking brier to the house of Israel, nor a hurting thorn of any that are around them, that scorned them; and they shall know that I am the Lord Yahweh. 25 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the nations, then shall they dwell in their own land which I gave to My servant Jacob. 26 They shall dwell securely therein; yes, they shall build houses, and plant vineyards, and shall dwell securely, when I have executed judgments on all those who do them despite all around them; and they shall know that I am Yahweh their God.

Against Pharaoh and All Egypt
In the tenth year, in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month, the word of Yahweh came to me saying, 2 Son of man, set your face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him and against all Egypt. 3 Speak and say, ‘Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great monster that lies in the midst of his rivers, that has said, ‘My river is My own, and I have made it for Myself’.

4 I will put hooks in your jaws, and I will make the fish of your rivers stick to your scales; and I will bring you up out of the midst of your rivers, with all the fish of your rivers which stick to your scales. 5 I’ll cast you forth into the wilderness, you and all the fish of your rivers. You won’t be bound together, nor gathered. I have given you for food to the animals of the earth and to the birds of the sky. 6 All the inhabitants of Egypt will know that I am Yahweh, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel. 7 When they took hold of you by your hand, you broke, and tore all their shoulders; and when they leaned on you, you broke, and paralyzed all of their thighs. 8 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I will bring a sword on you, and will cut off man and animal from you. 9 The land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste; and they shall know that I am Yahweh. Because you have said, ‘The river is mine, and I have made it;’ 10 therefore, behold, I am against you and against your rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt an utter waste and desolation, from the tower of Seveneh even to the border of Ethiopia. 11 No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of animal shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years. 12 I will make the land of Egypt a desolation in the midst of the countries that are desolate; and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be a desolation forty years; and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. 13 For thus says the Lord Yahweh: At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples where they were scattered; 14 and I will bring back the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their birth; and they shall be there a base kingdom. 15 It shall be the most base of the kingdoms; neither shall it any more lift itself up above the nations; and I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations. 16 It shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to remembrance, when they turn to look after them; and they shall know that I am the Lord Yahweh. 17 It came to pass in the twenty-seventh year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of Yahweh came to me saying, 18 Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was worn; yet had he no wages, nor his army, for Tyre, for the service that he had served against it. 19 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and he shall carry off her multitude and take her a spoil and take her a prey; and it shall be the wages for his army. 20 I have given him the land of Egypt as his recompense for which he served, because they worked for Me, says the Lord Yahweh. 21 In that day will I cause a horn to bud forth to the house of Israel, and I will give you the opening of the mouth in their midst in the midst of the surrounding nations. But at the time of Christ’s return, when Israel repent and enter the new covenant with Him, they will remember all their past sins and never open their of the mouth in their midst; and they shall know that I am Yahweh.

Lamentation over Egypt

The word of Yahweh came again to me saying, 2 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Wail, Alas for the day! 3 For the day is near, even the day of Yahweh is near; it shall be a day of clouds, a time of the nations. 4 A sword shall come on Egypt and anguish shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt; and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down. 5 Ethiopia, Put and Lud, and all the mixed people, and Cub, and the children of the land that is allied with them, shall fall with them by the sword. 6 Thus says Yahweh: They also who uphold Egypt shall fall; and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of Seveneh shall they fall in it by the sword, says the Lord Yahweh. 7 They shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate; and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted. 8 They shall know that I am Yahweh, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and all her helpers are destroyed. 9 In that day shall messengers go forth from before Me in ships to make the careless Ethiopians afraid; and there shall be anguish on them, as in the day of Egypt; for, behold, it comes. 10 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease, by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. 11 He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought in to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain. 12 I will make the rivers dry, and will sell the land into the hand of evil men; and I will make the land desolate, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I, Yahweh, have spoken it. 13 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: I will also destroy the idols and I will cause the images mouth any more because of their shame (16:63). They will be so ashamed that they will feel as if they can never open their mouth. But Yahweh will open their mouth, and they will witness. In some anticipation of this, Ezekiel as the “son of man” prophet, a representative of his people just as the Lord Jesus was to be, had his mouth shut in dumbness, and he only had his mouth opened when Israel came to know [to some degree] that “I am Yahweh” (24:27). In all these evident connections something marvelous presents itself. Those who feel as if they just cannot open their mouths in witness are the very ones whom the Father will use; He will open their mouths and use them exactly because they are ashamed of their sins! And so it should be with us.

30:2 The wailing and lamentation for the fate of Gentile nations, even those who had been enemies of God’s people, really shows how neither God nor Ezekiel had the slightest pleasure in the punishment of the wicked. God’s desire is to positively manifest and develop His Name; this is His focus, rather than hitting back against those who rebel against Him.

30:13 I will put a fear in the land of Egypt – God often punishes people by sending attitudes of mind upon them.
to cease from Memphis; there shall be no more a prince from the land of Egypt: and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt. 14 I will make Pathros desolate, will set a fire in Zoan and will execute judgments on No. 15 I will pour My wrath on Sin, the stronghold of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of No. 16 I will set a fire in Egypt; Sin shall be in great anguish, No shall be broken up and Memphis shall have adversaries in the daytime. 17 The young men of Aven and of Pibeseth shall fall by the sword; and these cities shall go into captivity. 18 At Tehaphnehes also the day shall withdraw itself, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt, and the pride of her power shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity. 19 Thus will I execute judgments on Egypt; and they shall know that I am Yahweh. 20 It happened in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of Yahweh came to me, saying, 21 Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and behold, it has not been bound up, to apply healing medicines, to put a bandage to bind it that it be strong to hold the sword. 22 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong arm, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand. 23 I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. 24 I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon and put My sword in his hand: but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man. 25 I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon; and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am Yahweh, when I shall put My sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out on the land of Egypt. 26 I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.
among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; and they shall know that I am Yahweh.

The Assyrian a Cedar in Lebanon

It happened in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of Yahweh came to me saying, 2 Son of man, tell Pharaoh king of Egypt and his multitude: Whom are you like in your greatness? 3 Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with beautiful branches, and with a forest-like shade and of high stature; and its top was among the thick boughs. 4 The waters nourished it, the deep made it to grow. Its rivers ran all around its plantation; and it sent out its channels to all the trees of the field. 5 Therefore its stature was exalted above all the trees of the field; and its boughs were multiplied, and its branches became long by reason of many waters, when it shot them forth. 6 All the birds of the sky made their nests in its boughs; and under its branches all the animals of the field brought forth their young; and all great nations lived under its shadow. 7 Thus was it beautiful in its greatness, in the length of its branches; for its root was by many waters. 8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide it; the fir trees were not like its boughs, and the plane trees were not as its branches; nor was any tree in the garden of God like it in its beauty. 9 I made it beautiful by the multitude of its branches, so that all the trees of Eden that were in the garden of God envied it. 10 Therefore thus said the Lord Yahweh: Because you are exalted in stature and he has set your top among the thick boughs and his heart

31:1 This was a month before Jerusalem was taken by the Babylonians. Judah were desperately hoping that Egypt would come to their rescue, and in this prophecy there is the clear message that Egypt like Assyria before them, like all human strength, is doomed to not ultimately save us. Judah were intended to learn from history – the apparently invincible Assyrian had fallen, so would Egypt. But our human tendency to live in an eternal present means that we tend not to learn the lessons of history; yet God’s word is full of history for us to learn from. Note how Is. 52:4 likewise parallels Egypt and Assyria.

31:3 God’s people Israel are likened to such a cedar (17:3), spreading out roots to the waters (Ps. 80:11). The implication is that Assyria wished to usurp Israel as God’s people and appropriated such language and imagery to themselves. It is God’s Kingdom which gives “a forest-like shade” (Mk. 4:32); but the kingdoms of men appear as fake imitations of God’s Kingdom; and it is our wisdom to perceive the difference.

31:6 Under its shadow – The smaller nations lived under the shadow of the superpowers like Egypt and Assyria, but they had eventually fled from under the shadow of Assyria (:12). Judah like us today are asked not to dwell under the shadow of such superpowers – in our day, perhaps insurance policies, savings, home ownership – but to dwell under the shadow of God’s invisible Angel-cherubim wings (Ps. 17:8; 91:4). For a small nation like Judah wedged at the time between the superpowers of Babylon and Egypt, this was a radical demand – to dwell at peace under the shadow of God’s care.
is lifted up in his height, 11 I will even deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations. He shall surely deal with him. I have driven him out for his wickedness. 12 Gentiles, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off and have left him: on the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the watercourses of the land; and all the peoples of the earth are gone away from his shadow, and have left him. 13 On his ruin all the birds of the sky shall dwell, and all the animals of the field shall be on his branches; 14 so that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, neither set their top among the thick boughs. Their mighty ones shall not stand up on their height, even all who drink water; for they are all delivered to death, to the lower parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with those who go down to the pit. 15 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: In the day when he went down to Sheol I caused a mourning. I covered the deep for him, and I restrained its rivers; and the great waters were stayed; and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him. 16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to Sheol with those who descend into the pit. And all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in the lower parts of the earth. 17 They also went down into Sheol with him to those who are slain by the sword; yes, those who were his arm, that lived under his shadow in the midst of the nations. 18 To whom are you thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? Yet you will be brought down with the trees of Eden to the lower parts of the earth: you shall lie in the midst of the uncircumcised with those who are slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, says the Lord Yahweh.

More Lamentation over Egypt

It happened in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of Yahweh came to me saying, 2 Son of man, take up a lamentation over Pharaoh king of Egypt and tell him, You were likened to a young lion of the nations: yet you are as a monster in the seas; and you broke out with your rivers, and troubled the waters with your feet and fouled their rivers. 3 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: I will spread out My net on you with a company of many peoples; and they shall bring you up in My net. 4 I will leave you on the land, I will cast you forth on the open field and will cause all the birds of the sky to settle on you, and I will satisfy the animals of the whole earth with you. 5 I will lay your flesh on the mountains and fill the valleys with your height. 6 I will also water with your blood the land in which you swim, even to the mountains; and the watercourses shall be full of you. 7 When I shall extinguish you, I will cover the sky and make its stars dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud and the moon shall not give its light. 8 All the bright lights of the sky will I make dark over you and set darkness on your land, says the Lord Yahweh. 9 I will also trouble the hearts of many peoples, when I shall bring your destruction among the nations, into the countries which you have not known. 10 Yes, I will make many peoples amazed at you, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for you, when I shall brandish My sword before them; and they shall tremble every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of your fall. 11 For thus says the Lord Yahweh: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come on you. 12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause your multitude to fall; they are all the terrible of the nations; and they shall bring to nothing the pride of Egypt, and all its multitude shall be destroyed. 13 I will destroy also all its animals from beside many waters; neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of animals trouble them. 14 Then will I make their waters clear, and cause their rivers to run like oil, says the Lord Yahweh. 15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, a land destitute of that of which it was once full, when I shall strike all those who dwell therein, then shall they know that I am Yahweh. 16 This is the lamentation with which they shall lament, with which the daughters of the nations shall lament therewith; over Egypt and over all her multitude shall they lament therewith, says the Lord Yahweh.

Lamentation over Egypt’s Supporters

17 It happened also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of Yahweh came to me, saying, 18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, to the lower parts of the earth, with those who go down into the pit. 19 Whom do you pass in beauty? Go down, and be laid with the uncircumcised. 20 They shall fall in the midst of those who are slain by the sword, she is delivered to the sword; draw her away and all her multitudes. 21 The strong among the 32:10 The prophesied judgment upon Egypt [a symbol of the world] included that the sun was to be made dark, and people would be “amazed” at her. This is just what happened when Christ was crucified (Is. 52:14). The judgment of Egypt / the world had some elements of fulfilment in the ‘judgment of this world’ which occurred through the cross (Jn. 12:31). The crucifixion of Christ declared all worldly strength to now be nothing compared to the power of God’s love toward us.

32:18 Cast them down – This was the power of the word of prophecy. What Ezekiel said on God’s behalf was as good as done.
mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of Sheol with those who help him. They are gone down, they lie still, even the uncircumcised, slain by the sword. 22 Assyria is there and all her company; her graves are all around her; all of them slain, fallen by the sword. 23 Their graves are set in the uttermost parts of the pit, and her company is around her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who caused terror in the land of the living. 24 There is Elam and all her multitude around her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who are gone down uncircumcised into the lower parts of the earth. They who caused their terror in the land of the living have now borne their shame with those who go down to the pit. 25 They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude; her graves are around her; all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for their terror was caused in the land of the living, and they have borne their shame with those who go down to the pit. He is put in the midst of those who are slain. 26 There is Meshech, Tubal, and all their multitude; their graves are around them; all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for they caused their terror in the land of the living. 27 They shall not lie with the mighty who are fallen of the uncircumcised who are gone down to Sheol with their weapons of war, and have laid their swords under their heads, and their iniquities are on their bones; for they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living. 28 But you shall be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shall lie with those who are slain by the sword. 29 There is Edom, her kings and all her princes, who in their might are laid with those who are slain by the sword. 30 They shall not lie with the mighty warriors of the nations around, lying in their graves. This refers to the custom of burying warriors with their weapons, and resting the head of the corpse upon its sword. Yet this is a description of Sheol, the word translated in some Bibles “hell” – the grave. These mighty men lying still in hell (i.e. their graves) hardly supports the idea that hell is a place of fire. Physical things (e.g. swords) go to the same “hell” as people, showing that hell is not an arena of spiritual to the pit. 30 There are the princes of the north, all of them, and all the Sidonians, who are gone down with the slain; in the terror which they caused by their might they are put to shame. They lie uncircumcised with those who are slain by the sword, and bear their shame with those who go down to the pit. 31 When Pharaoh sees them, he will take comfort in his hordes. Pharaoh and all his army will die violently, says the Lord Yahweh.

32 For I have put his terror in the land of the living; and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with those who are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his hordes, says the Lord Yahweh.

CHAPTER 33  Oct. 7

The Responsibilities of Ezekiel the Watchman

The word of Yahweh came to me saying, 2 Son of man, speak to the children of your people and tell them, When I bring the sword on a land, and the people of the land take a man from among them and set him for their watchman; 3 if, when he sees the sword come on the land, he blows the trumpet and warns the people; 4 then whoever hears the sound of the trumpet and doesn’t take warning, if the sword come and take him away, his blood shall be on his own head. 5 He heard the sound of the trumpet and didn’t take warning; his blood shall be on him; whereas if he had taken warning, he would have delivered his soul. 6 But if the watchman sees the sword come and doesn’t blow the trumpet and the people aren’t warned, and the sword comes and takes away any person from among them; he is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman’s hand. 7 So you, son of man, I have set you a watchman to the house of Israel; therefore hear the word at My mouth, and give them warning from Me. 8 When I tell the wicked, O wicked man, you shall surely die, if you don’t speak to warn the wicked from his way; that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at your hand. 9 Nevertheless, if you warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he doesn’t turn from his way; he shall die in his iniquity, but you have delivered your soul. 10 You, son of man, tell the house of Israel: Thus torment. Note how Sheol is often paralleled in this chapter with “the pit”, clearly referring here to the mass graves of the once mighty soldiers.

33:4 If the sword come – Yet the context speaks as if the sword will surely come. But if the watchman warns the people, there arises an element of possibility – “if the sword come”. The implication is that God is willing to change the intended judgment if people repent (:11), as happened with Nineveh.

33:8 If we do not warn the wicked of their way, “his blood will I require at your hand”. Some will have to give an account on judgment day of their specific lack of witness. Yet we can live day after day, saying nothing to our fellows, as if it doesn’t really matter, because nobody notices… Not only our salvation but that of others can be limited by our exercise of freewill. If others’ salvation is not to some extent dependent upon our preaching, then there is no meaning to the very concept of preaching.
you speak, saying, Our transgressions and our sins are on us, and we pine away in them; how then can we live? 11 Tell them, As I live, says the Lord Yahweh, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live. Turn, turn from your evil ways; for why will you die, house of Israel? 12 You, son of man, tell the children of your people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not save him in the day of his disobedience; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turns from his wickedness; neither shall he who is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sins. 13 When I tell the righteous that he shall surely live; if he trust to his righteousness and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but in his iniquity that he has committed, therein shall he die. 14 Again, when I say to the wicked, You shall surely die; if he turn from his sin and do that which is lawful and right; 15 if the wicked restore the pledge, give again that which he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die. 16 None of his sins that he has committed shall be remembered against him. He has done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live. 17 Yet the children of your people say, The way of the Lord is not fair; but as for them, their way is not fair. 18 When the righteous turns from his righteousness and commits iniquity, he shall even die therein. 19 When the wicked turns from his wickedness and does that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby. 20 Yet you say, The way of the Lord is not fair. House of Israel, I will judge every one of you after his ways.

Explanation of Judah’s Demise

21 It happened in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one who had escaped out of Jerusalem came to me saying, The city has been struck. 22 Now the hand of the Yahweh had been upon me the evening before the fugitive came; and He had opened my mouth by the time the man came to me in the morning. So my mouth was opened, and I was no longer dumb. The word of Yahweh came to me saying, Son of man, they who inhabit those waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, ‘Abraham was one, and he inherited the land; but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance’. Therefore tell them, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: You eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes to your idols, and shed blood. Shall you possess the land? You rely on your sword, you work abomination, and every one of you defiles his neighbour’s wife. Shall you possess the land? You shall tell them, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: As I live, surely those who are in the waste places shall fall by the sword; and him who is in the open field will I give to the animals to be devoured; and those who are in the strongholds and in the caves shall die of the pestilence. I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment; the pride of her power shall cease and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, so that none shall pass through. Then shall they know that I am Yahweh, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, because of all their abominations which they have committed. As for you, son of man, the children of your people talk of you by the walls and in the doors of the houses, speaking one to another, each one to his brother saying, Please come and hear what is the word that comes forth from Yahweh. They come to you as the people come, and they sit before you as My people, and they hear your words, but don’t do them; for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goes after their gain. Behold, you are to them as a very lovely song of one who has a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument; for they hear your words, but they don’t do them. When this comes to pass (behold, it comes!), then shall they know that a prophet has been among them.

CHAPTER 34 Oct. 8
Woe to the Shepherds of Israel

The word of Yahweh came to me saying, Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, Ezekiel’s audiences loved to come and hear God’s words at his mouth – and in response to them, “with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goes after their gain”. Materialism stopped them from really accepting those words, even though they theoretically assented to their inspiration. Only in their condemnation would they know “that a prophet has been among them” (:33). And so there is a chilling choice: to really accept the power of inspiration now; or have to learn it through the process of condemnation when judgment comes.

They hear your words – God prophesied that those to whom Ezekiel witnessed would not hear His words (3:11). And yet they came and sat before him, desiring to hear God’s word. They wanted to hear, they heard, and yet they didn’t really hear. The prophets were like buskers singing songs in the subway, which we may listen to with half an ear, even admire them for a few moments, and then walk on in our busy lives. But the prophets were speaking forth the words of passionate love of God Almighty for His people…
prophesy and tell them, even to the shepherds, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Woe to the shepherds of Israel who feed themselves! Shouldn’t the shepherds feed the sheep? 3 You eat the fat and you clothe yourself with the wool, you kill the fatlings; but you don’t feed the sheep. 4 You haven’t strengthened the diseased, neither have you healed that which was sick, neither have you bound up that which was broken, neither have you caused to return that which was driven away, neither have you sought that which was lost; but with force and with rigour you have ruled over them. 5 They were scattered because there was no shepherd; and they became food to all the animals of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did My shepherds search for My sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and didn’t feed My sheep; 9 therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of Yahweh. 10 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I am against the shepherds; and I will require My sheep at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the 34:4 Cause to return – The great restoration prophecies of Jer. 23:1-8 and Ez. 34:1-31 speak of the flock of Israel going astray due to bad shepherds, being saved by the good shepherd, being delivered / gathered, and then returning to the land. The Hebrew word shub means both ‘to return’ in the sense of returning to the land, and ‘turning’ in the sense of repentance (see :4,16 and frequently in Ezekiel). But these restoration prophecies are packed with allusion to the great shepherd Psalm 23. Here, David says that the good shepherd ‘causes me to repent’ (Ps. 23:3 Heb.). This is matched in Ez. 36 by the idea of God giving Israel a new heart. And the parable of the good shepherd (Lk. 15:1-7) brings together Ps. 23 and also these restoration passages, in speaking of how He goes out and finds the lost sheep and brings it back home. The sheep is found, and accepts being found – there is no actual mention of repentance. Thus the ‘return’ of Judah to their land was intended as a work of God – He would make them return, He would give them repentance [note how Acts 11:18 speaks of God granting men repentance]. This is all such wonderful grace. The even more incredible thing, though, is that Judah refused to accept this grace; they didn’t ‘return’ to the land because they saw no need to ‘return’ to God. They willingly forgot that they were only in Babylon because of their sins; to ‘return’ to the land was a ‘return’ to God, which He had enabled. But they were like the lost sheep refusing to sit on the shepherd’s shoulders, preferring to sit in a hole and die... and this is the warning to us. For truly, absolutely all things have been prepared for us to enter the Kingdom. It’s only those who don’t want to be there who won’t be.

sheep; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; and I will deliver My sheep from their mouth, that they may not be food for them. 11 For thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I Myself, even I, will search for My sheep, and will seek them out. 12 As a shepherd seeks out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered abroad, so will I seek out My sheep; and I will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. 13 I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them on the mountains of Israel, by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country. 14 I will feed them with good pasture; on the mountains of the height of Israel shall their fold be. There shall they lie down in a good fold; on fat pasture shall they feed on the mountains of Israel. 15 I Myself will be the shepherd of My sheep, and I will cause them to lie down, says the Lord Yahweh. 16 I will seek that which was lost, and will cause to return that which was driven away. I will bind up that which was broken and will strengthen that which was sick: but the fat and the strong I will destroy; I will feed them in justice. 17 As for you, O My flock, thus says the Lord Yahweh: See, I judge between sheep and sheep, the rams and the male goats. 18 Does it seem a small thing to you to have fed on the good pasture, but you must tread down with your feet the remainder of your pasture; to have drunk of the clear waters, but you must foul what remains with your feet? 19 As for My sheep, they eat that which you have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which you have fouled with your feet. 20 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh to them: Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep. 21 Because you thrust with side and with shoulder and push all the diseased with your horns, until you have scattered them abroad; 22 therefore will I save My flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and I will judge between sheep and sheep. 23 I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even My servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

34:11 I Myself, even I, will search for My sheep – The passage in John 10 where Jesus speaks of Himself as the good shepherd who seeks out God’s sheep is full of allusion to this chapter. When He says “I and My Father are one” (Jn. 10:30), He is speaking in this context of His being the shepherd on God’s behalf. This principle of agency, of operating on behalf of God in His Name, doesn’t mean that Jesus was God Himself in person, but rather that He manifested the Father, so that God’s shepherding was achieved through the person and work of Jesus.

34:20 Between the fat sheep and the lean sheep – The shepherds are here likened to fat sheep. Shepherds or pastors are themselves sheep and in that sense no different from those they are shepherding. This should result in an appropriate humility in all pastoral work.
24 I, Yahweh, will be their God, and My servant David prince among them; I, Yahweh, have spoken it.
25 I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause dangerous animals to cease out of the land; they shall dwell securely in the wilderness and sleep in the woods.
26 I will make them and the places around My hill a blessing; I will cause the shower to come down in its season, there shall be showers of blessing.
27 The tree of the field shall yield its fruit and the earth shall yield its increase and they shall be secure in their land; and they shall know that I am Yahweh, when I have broken the bars of their yoke and have delivered them out of the hand of those who made slaves of them.
28 They shall no more be a prey to the nations, neither shall the animals of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid.
29 I will raise up to them a plantation for renown, and they shall be no more consumed with famine in the land, neither bear the shame of the nations any more.
30 They shall know that I, Yahweh their God, am with them; and that they, the house of Israel, are My people, says the Lord Yahweh.

35:5 “Esau is Edom” (Gen. 25:30; 36:1). The reference here is to the hatred between Jacob and Esau which played itself out between their descendants. Bitter argument between family members of one generation can continue over many generations; one aspect of the sin of division and enmity is that it tends to continue after our time, or after the protagonists have resolved with each other, as Jacob and Esau did. And each generation, according to this prophecy, is held responsible for their part in any hatred against their brother.
I am Yahweh. 10 Because you have said, These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess it; whereas Yahweh was there. 11 Therefore, as I live, says the Lord Yahweh, I will do according to your anger, and according to your envy which you have shown out of your hatred against them; and I will make Myself known among them, when I shall judge you. 12 You shall know that I, Yahweh, have heard all your insults which you have spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they have been given us to devour. 13 You have magnified yourselves against Me with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against Me, which I have heard. 14 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: When the whole earth rejoices, I will make you desolate. 15 As you rejoiced over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do to you. You shall be desolate, Mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it; and they shall know that I am Yahweh.

CHAPTER 36 Oct. 10
A Prophecy about the Mountains of Israel
You, son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel and say, You mountains of Israel, hear the word of Yahweh. 2 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because the enemy has said against you, Aha! and, The ancient high places are ours in possession; 3 therefore prophesy and say, Thus says the Lord Yahweh. Because, even because they have made you desolate and swallowed you up on every side, so that you became the possession of the rest of the nations, and you became the talk and evil gossip of the nations; 4 therefore, you mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord Yahweh. Thus says the Lord Yahweh to the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which are become a prey and a mockery to the other nations that are all around; 5 therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: Surely in the fire of My jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the nations, and against all Edom, that have appointed My land to themselves for a possession with the joy of all their heart, with despite of soul, to cast it out for a prey. 6 Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and tell to the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I have spoken in My zeal and in My wrath, because 35:10 The two nations refer to Israel [the ten tribes] and Judah [the two tribe kingdom]. As God “was there” in the land of Israel in their past, so when the Kingdom is re-established it will again be known that “Yahweh is there” (48:35). The future Kingdom on God on earth will be a re-establishment of God’s Kingdom as it earlier was in the form of Israel and Judah.

35:12 I, Yahweh, have heard – The extent of God’s knowledge is amazing. He consciously is aware of every thought, intention, implication and actual spoken word of every single person in the world, including Gentiles like Edom.
you have borne the shame of the nations: 7 therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: I have sworn saying, Surely the nations that are around you, they shall bear their shame. 8 But you, mountains of Israel, you shall shoot forth your branches and yield your fruit to My people Israel; for they are at hand to return. 9 For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and you shall be cultivated and sown; 10 and I will multiply men on you, all the house of Israel, even all of it; and the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be built. 11 I will multiply on you man and animal; and they shall increase and be fruitful; and I will cause you to be inhabited after your former manner, and I will do better to you than at your beginnings; and you shall know that I am Yahweh. 12 Yes, I will cause men to walk on you, even My people Israel; and they shall possess you, and you shall be their inheritance, and you shall no more henceforth bereave them of children. 13 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Because they say to you, You are a destroyer of men, and have caused bereavement in your nation; 14 therefore you shall destroy men no more, neither cause bereavement in your nation any more, says the Lord Yahweh. 15 Neither will I let you hear any more the shame of the nations, neither shall you bear the reproach of the peoples any more, neither shall you cause your nation to stumble any more, says the Lord Yahweh. 16 Moreover the word of Yahweh came to me saying, 17 Son of man, when the people of Israel lived in their own land, they defiled it by their way and by their doings.

36:13 You are a devourer of men – This prophecy is given to the physical land of Israel. It seems the captives in Babylon didn’t want to return after the 70 years because they felt the land itself was somehow evil and would devour them. This is a similar mistake made by Israel in the wilderness, who slandered God’s land rather than accepting it was a land of blessing. Being influenced by worldly superstitions and fears can lead God’s people to reject the hope of His Kingdom, and prefer to remain in the world rather than taking possession of the good Kingdom prepared for them. But God worked with Judah in their misunderstanding – He promises that from now on, the land will not be like that (:14). This is rather like how in New Testament times, Jesus worked with the wrong ideas people had about demons, and demonstrated that even if this was what they feared, they were actually of no power compared to the inbreaking of God’s Kingdom power which was possible for those who believed.

36:15 Neither shall you cause your nation to stumble any more – The Jews blamed the high places of the land of Israel for having bereaved them of their children (:13) and having made them stumble; but it was in fact they who had chosen to go up to the high places, build altars there for false gods, and sacrifice their children to them. God doesn’t specifically correct them, although He privately explains the real situation to Ezekiel (:17,18); rather He works through that wrong idea, supposing for a moment it was true, but assuring the people that this will no longer be the case – just as Jesus did by using the language of demons when He did healing miracles, without specifically stating the basic truth that demons in fact don’t exist.
Their way before Me was as the uncleanness of a woman in her impurity. 18 Therefore I poured out My wrath on them for the blood which they had poured out on the land, and because they had defiled it with their idols; 19 and I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries. According to their way and according to their doings I judged them. 20 When they came to the nations where they went, they profaned My holy name; in that men said of them, These are the people of Yahweh, and are gone forth out of His land. 21 But I had respect for My holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations where they went. 22 Therefore tell the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: I don’t do this for your sake, house of Israel, but for My holy name, which you have profaned among the nations where you went. 23 I will sanctify My great name which has been profaned among the nations, which you have profaned among the nations where you went. 24 For I will take you from among the nations, and gather you out of all the countries, and will bring you into your own land. 25 I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you shall be clean: from all your filthiness and from all your idols will I cleanse you. 26 I will also give you a new heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh. 27 I will put My Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in My statutes, and you shall keep My laws and do them. 28 You shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and you shall be My people, and I will be your God. 29 I will save you from all your uncleanness, and I will call for the grain and will multiply it, and lay no famine on you. 30 I will multiply the fruit of the tree and the increase of the field, that you may receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations. 31 Then you shall remember your evil ways and your doings that were not good; and you shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. 32 Not for your sake do I this, says the Lord Yahweh, be it known to you. Be ashamed and confounded for your ways, house of Israel. 33 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: In the day that I cleanse you

36:27 Cause you to walk in My statutes – Entering the new covenant which God here proposed to His people involved Him promising to make them be obedient to His ways. We who have entered this same new covenant (Heb. 8:8-13) are likewise party to this same operation of God on human hearts – if we want it.

36:27-29 A new spirit was potentially given to the exiles who returned from Babylon, God put in the heart of men like Nehemiah to revive the work (Neh. 2:12 same Hebrew word). But this didn’t force them to be obedient. They chose not to be, and so the promised kingdom blessings of corn etc. were replaced by famines in the times of Nehemiah, Haggai and Malachi.

36:33 This says that although Judah had profaned God’s Name in Babylon, yet He from all your wickedness, I will cause the cities to be inhabited and the waste places shall be built. 34 The land that was desolate shall be cultivated whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all who passed by.

35 They shall say, This land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fortified and inhabited. 36 Then the nations that are left around you shall know that I, Yahweh, have built the ruined places and planted that which was desolate. I, Yahweh, have spoken it, and I will do it. 37 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: For this also will I be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them. I will increase them with men like a flock. 38 As the flock for sacrifice, as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed feasts, so shall the wasted cities be filled with flocks of men; and they shall know that I am Yahweh.

The Valley of Dry Bones Comes to Life

The hand of Yahweh was on me and He brought me out in the Spirit of Yahweh, and set me down in the midst of the valley; and it was full of bones. 2 He caused me to pass by them all around: and, there were very many in the open valley; and, they were very dry. 3 He said to me, Son of man, can these bones live? I answered, Lord Yahweh, You know. 4 Again He said to me, Prophesy over these bones, and tell them, you dry bones, hear the word of Yahweh. 5 Thus says the Lord Yahweh to these bones: I will cause spirit to enter into you, and you shall live. 6 I will lay would sprinkle their hearts by grace and make the new covenant with them; and then, “In the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will cause the cities to be inhabited”. But in recorded history, there was no apparent connection between Judah’s forgiveness and the rebuilding of the land. God enabled the exiles to return and rebuild the cities even though they didn’t repent; such was His grace and urgent desire to give His spiritually weak people the Kingdom He had potentially prepared for them. We can take strong encouragement from this.

37:5 I will cause spirit to enter into you – This is an amplification of 36:27, where God explained His plan to make a new covenant with the returning exiles from Babylon. His Spirit would enter them and He would “cause” them to be obedient to His covenant, and they would return to the land and rebuild it. The dry bones represent Israel and Judah in their captivity, spiritually dead and thinking they were too far gone for God to revive them. God’s plan was to revive them and return them to His land and for them to rebuild God’s Kingdom there. But only a few returned from exile, and they were more interested in building up their own kingdom and houses than God’s Kingdom and house. The return from exile therefore featured some small fulfilment of the potential which is outlined as possible in chapters 36 and 37. The return of Israel to their land, arising as it were out of the death camps of Europe to rebuild and make fertile the neglected land of Israel, was likewise a small fulfilment of these prophecies – perhaps in the 1940s and 50s, as at the return from exile, there could also have been the fuller fulfilment of this chapter. But again, there wasn’t the all important turning to God in spirit and truth. It seems we must await yet further persecution to lead sinews on you, and will bring up flesh on you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and you shall live; and you shall know that I am Yahweh. 7 So I prophesied as I was commanded. As I prophesied, there was a noise, and an earthquake; and the bones came together, bone to its bone. 8 I saw, and, there were sinews on them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above; but there was no breath in them. 9 Then He said to me, Prophesy to the wind, prophesy, son of man, and tell the wind, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Come from the four winds, breath, and breathe on these slain, that they may live. 10 So I prophesied as He commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up on their feet, an exceedingly great army.

11 Then He said to me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost; we are totally cut off. 12 Therefore prophesy and tell them, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I will open your graves and cause you to come up out of your graves, My people; and I will bring you into the land of Israel. 13 You shall know that I am Yahweh, when I have opened your graves, My people, and caused you to come up out of your graves. 14 I will put My Spirit in you, and you shall live, and I will place you in your own land; and you shall know that I, Yahweh, have spoken it and performed it, says Yahweh.

Unity and United Rule
15 The word of Yahweh came again to me, saying, 16 You, son of man, take one stick and write on it, for Judah, and for the children of Israel his Israel to return to their land in repentance and faith in Christ, and then the promised Kingdom conditions will come about.

37:7 The sound of the cherubim Angels which Ezekiel heard was like the noise of an earthquake (3:12). Those two Hebrew words, for “noise” and “earthquake”, occur here in 37:7, when he hears the “noise” of “shaking” or earthquake as the bones of Israel in exile come together by the spirit / Angelic operation of Yahweh. The Spirit came from four places (:9) – just as there were four cherubim. As the sound of the cherubim was as of a great army (1:24), so revived Israel stood up as a great army (:10). The Angel cherubim would work with God’s disillusioned and broken people to revive them, so that they would become like the guardian Angels of Israel above them. The point was that the Angel cherubim system which Ezekiel had seen at work amongst the captives was able to gather them together, and give life to the nation. And yet that didn’t happen to those exiles – because they didn’t walk in step with the spirit.

The Hebrew word for “noise” here is the same word used in Ezra 1:1 about the “proclamation” of Cyrus for Judah to return to the land. Most of God’s people didn’t return; the majority preferred to stay in Babylon. Therefore the prophecy was deferred in fulfilment until our times; the tragedy is that so much was potentially enabled at the time of Cyrus’ decree, and Judah made such little use of it.

37:11 These were the very sentiments of Jeremiah in Lamentations, and those who wept by the waters of Babylon when they remembered Zion.
companions. Then take another stick and write on it, For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions. 17 Join them yourself one to another into one stick, that they may become one in your hand. 18 When the children of your people shall speak to you saying, Will you not show us what you mean by these? 19 tell them, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions; and I will put them with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in My hand. 20 The sticks whereon you write shall be in your hand before their eyes. 21 Say to them, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations where they are gone, and will gather them on every side and bring them into their own land. 22 I will make them one nation in the land on the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all; and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all. 23 Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions; but I will save them out of all their dwelling places in which they have sinned and will cleanse them. So shall they be My people, and I will be their God. 24 My servant David shall be king over them; and they all shall have one shepherd. They shall also walk in My ordinances and observe My statutes and do them. 25 They shall dwell in the land that I have given to Jacob My servant, in which your fathers lived; and they shall dwell therein, they and their children and their children’s children, forever: and David My servant shall be their prince for ever. 26 Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them; and I will place them and multiply them and will set My sanctuary in their midst forevermore. 27 My tent also shall be with them; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people. 28 The nations shall know that I am Yahweh who sanctifies Israel, when My sanctuary shall be in their midst forevermore.

Against Gog, of the Land of Magog

The word of Yahweh came to me saying, 2 Son of man, set your face toward Gog, of the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him 3 and say, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I am against you, Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal. 4 I will turn you around, put hooks into your jaws, and will bring you out with all your army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed in full armour, a great company with buckler and shield, all of them handling swords; 5 Persia, Ethiopia and Libya with them, all of them with shield and helmet; 6 Gomer, and all his hordes; the house of Togarmah in the uttermost parts of the north and all his hordes; even many peoples with you. 7 Be prepared, yes, prepare yourself, you, and all your companies who are assembled to you, and be a guard to them. 8 After many days you shall be visited. In the latter years you shall come into the land that is brought back from the sword, that is gathered out of many peoples, on the mountains of Israel, which have been a continual waste; but it is brought forth out of the peoples, and they shall dwell securely all of them. 9 You shall ascend, you shall come like a storm, you shall be like a cloud to cover the land, you, and all your hordes, and many peoples with you. 10 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: It shall happen in that day, that thoughts shall come into your mind, and you shall devise an evil plan. 11 You shall say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages; I will go to those who are at rest, who dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls and having neither bars nor gates; 12 to take the spoil and to take the wealth; to turn your hand against the waste places that are now inhabited, and against the people who are gathered out of the nations, who have gotten livestock and goods, who dwell in the middle of the land. 13 Sheba, Dedan and the merchants of Tarshish with all her young lions, shall say to you: Have you come to take the spoil? Have you assembled...

Your company to take the wealth? To carry away silver and gold, to take away livestock and goods, to take great spoil? 14 Therefore, son of man, prophesy and tell Gog, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: In that day when My people Israel dwells securely, shall you not know it? 15 You shall come from your place out of the uttermost parts of the north, you, and many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great company and a mighty army; 16 and you shall come up against My people Israel, as a cloud to cover the land. It shall happen in the latter days that I will bring you against My land, that the nations may know Me, when I shall be sanctified in you, Gog, before their eyes. 17 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Are you he of whom I spoke in old time by My servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days for many years that I would bring you against them? 18 It shall happen in that day, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, says the Lord Yahweh, that My wrath shall come up into My nostrils. 19 For in My anger and in the fire of My wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; 20 so that the fish of the sea, the birds of the sky, the animals of the field and all creeping things which creep on the earth, and all the men who are on the surface of the earth, shall shake at My presence. The mountains shall be thrown down, the steep places shall fall and every wall shall fall to the ground. 21 I will call to all My mountains for a sword against him, says the Lord Yahweh. Every man’s sword shall be against his brother. 22 With pestilence and with blood will I enter into judgment with him; and I will rain on him and on his hordes and on the many peoples who are with him, an overflowing shower, and great hailstones, fire, and sulphur. 23 I will magnify Myself, and sanctify Myself, and I will make Myself known in the eyes of many nations; and they shall know that I am Yahweh.

The Destruction of Gog

You, son of man, prophesy against Gog and say, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Behold, I am against you, Gog, chief prince of Meshech, and Tubal: 2 and I will turn you around, and will lead you on, and will cause you to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring you on the mountains of Israel; 3 and I will strike your bow out of your them. This would bring the number of Israel’s invaders in this prophecy to ten – which is the number of horns of the beast which desecrates the land of Israel in the last days, and the number of surrounding nations who attack Israel according to Psalm 83. 39:1 The emphasis of the prophecies is upon the individual leader of the confederacy. It seems there will be one specific, charismatic anti-Christ figure who leads the world’s opposition to Christ in the last days. 39:3 This speaks of the failure of military technology – a scenario we can well imagine in our times.

4 You shall fall on the mountains of Israel, you, and all your hordes, and the peoples who are with you. I will give you to the birds of prey of every sort, and to the animals of the field to be devoured. 5 You shall fall on the open field; for I have spoken it, says the Lord Yahweh. 6 I will send a fire on Magog, and on those who dwell confidently along the sea coasts; and they shall know that I am Yahweh. 7 My holy name will I make known in the midst of My people Israel; neither will I allow My holy name to be profaned any more: and the nations shall know that I am Yahweh, the Holy One in Israel. 8 Behold, it has come, and it is done, says the Lord Yahweh; this is the day about which I have spoken. 9 Those who dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall make fires of the weapons and burn them, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the war clubs, and the spears, and they shall make fires of them seven years. 10 They shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests; for they shall make fires of the weapons; and they shall plunder those who plundered them, and rob those who robbed them, says the Lord Yahweh. 11 It shall happen in that day, that I will give to Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of those who pass through on the east of the sea; and it shall stop those who pass through. There shall they bury Gog and all his multitude; and they shall call it The valley of Hamon Gog. 12 Seven months shall the house of Israel be burying them, that they may cleanse the land. 13 Yes, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them for a renown in the day that I shall be glorified, says the Lord Yahweh. 14 After the seven months are over, men will be chosen to travel through the land in order to find and bury those bodies remaining on the ground, so that they can cleanse the land. 15 They shall go up and down the land; and when anyone sees a man’s bone, then shall he set up a sign by it, until the undertakers have

39:4 On the mountains of Israel – Here we see God’s grace; because the mountains of Israel were the high places where Israel had built altars to other gods and sacrificed their children to them. But in these very places, God would show Himself strong for His people.
39:6 Those who dwell confidently along the seacoasts – Maybe referring to the Palestinian enemies of Israel dwelling in the Gaza strip, confident because of some international body guaranteeing their safety?
39:9 The burning of wooden weapons and the cleansing of the land from dead bodies (:12 – :16) was likely part of the scenario which was intended by God at the time of the return from exile, but Judah’s lack of commitment made this possible scenario not come true; the essence but maybe not the details of the prophecy will be fulfilled in the last days, when God finally intervenes to save His repentant people from their invaders and establish His Kingdom on earth.
buried it in the valley of Hamon Gog.
16 Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. Thus shall they cleanse the land. 17 You, son of man, thus says the Lord Yahweh: Speak thus to the birds of prey, and to every animal of the field: Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to My sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice on the mountains of Israel, that you may eat flesh and drink blood. 18 You shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bulls, all of them fatlings of Bashan. 19 You shall eat fat until you be full, and drink blood until you are drunk, of My sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. 20 You shall be filled at My table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, says the Lord Yahweh. 21 I will set My glory among the nations; and all the nations shall see My judgement that I have executed, and My hand that I have laid on them. 22 So the house of Israel shall know that I am Yahweh their God, from that day and forward. 23 The nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they trespassed against Me, and I hid My face from them: so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they fell all of them by the sword. 24 According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions did I to them; and I hid My face from them. 25 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: Now will I bring back the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy on the whole house of Israel; and I will be jealous for My holy name. 26 They shall bear their shame, and all their trespasses by which they have trespassed against Me, when they shall dwell securely in their land, and none shall make them afraid; 27 when I have brought them back from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies’ lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations. 28 They shall know that I am Yahweh their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them to their own land; and I will leave none of them any more there; 29 neither will I hide My face any more from them; for I have poured out My Spirit on the house of Israel, says the Lord Yahweh.

39:17-20 This gathering of the birds of prey at Gog’s destruction is alluded to in Rev. 19:17, which draws a parallel between Gog and the confederacy he controls and the latter day false prophet and “the beast” (Rev. 19:19). The confederacy of tribes which bordered Israel spoken of in Ez. 39 therefore become “the beast” of the latter day prophecies. We can therefore expect this “beast” to refer to Israel’s neighbouring Islamic enemies in the last days.

39:29 For I have poured out My Spirit – Clearly the meaning is “I will pour out My Spirit”. Here we have one of many examples of where God speaks of future events as if they’ve already occurred, so certain is His word toward us (Rom. 4:17). Verse 8 outlined the same principle: “Behold, it has come, and it is done”.

The New Temple Area Described

In the twenty-fifth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was struck, on that very day, the hand of Yahweh was on me and He brought me there. 2 In the visions of God brought He me into the land of Israel and set me down on a very high mountain, whereon was as it were the frame of a city on the south. 3 He brought me there; and, behold, there was a man whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. 4 The man said to me, Son of man, see with your eyes and hear with your ears, and set your heart on all that I shall show you; for you are brought here with the intent that I may show these things to you: declare all that you see to the people of Israel. 5 See, a wall on the outside of the house all around, and in the man’s hand a measuring reed six cubits long, of a cubit and a handbreadth each: so he measured the thickness of the building, one reed; and the height, one reed. 6 Then he came to the gate which looks toward the east, and went up its steps: and he measured the threshold of the gate, one reed broad; and the other threshold, one reed broad. 7 Every lodge was one reed long, and one reed broad; and the space between the lodges was five cubits; and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate toward the house was one reed. 8 He measured also the porch of the gate toward the house, one reed. 9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and its posts, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was toward the house. 10 The lodges of the gate eastward were three on this side and three on that side; these three were of the same measure: and the posts had the same measure on this side and on that side. 11 He measured the breadth of the opening of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits; 12 and a border before the lodges of one cubit on this side, and a border of one...
cubit on that side; and the lodges, six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side. 13 He measured the gate from the roof of the one lodge to the roof of the other, a breadth of twenty-five cubits; door against door. 14 He made also posts, sixty cubits; and the court reached to the posts, around the gate. 15 From the forefront of the gate at the entrance to the forefront of the inner porch of the gate were fifty cubits. 16 There were closed windows to the lodges, and to their posts within the gate all around, and likewise to the arches; and windows were around inward; and on each post were palm trees.

The Outer Court of the Temple
17 Then brought he me into the outer court; and behold, there were rooms and a pavement, made for the court all around: thirty rooms were on the pavement. 18 The pavement was by the side of the gates, answerable to the length of the gates, even the lower pavement. 19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate to the forefront of the inner court outside, one hundred cubits, both on the east and on the north.

The Gate Which Is toward the North
20 The gate of the outer court whose prospect is toward the north, he measured its length and its breadth. 21 The lodges of it were three on this side and three on that side; and its posts and its arches were after the measure of the first gate: its length was fifty cubits, and the breadth twenty-five cubits. 22 The windows of it, and its arches, and the palm trees of it, were after the measure of the gate whose prospect is toward the east; and they went up to it by seven steps; and its arches were before them. 23 There was a gate to the inner court over against the other gate, both on the north and on the east; and he measured from gate to gate one hundred cubits.

The Gate Which Is toward the South
24 He led me toward the south; and behold, a gate toward the south: and he measured its posts and its arches according to these measures. 25 There were windows in it and in its arches all around, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth twenty-five cubits. 26 There were seven steps to go up to it, and its arches were before them; and it had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, on its posts. 27 There was a gate to the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south a hundred cubits.

The Inner Court Gates
28 Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according to these measures; and its lodges, and its posts, and its arches, according to

40:29 Nehemiah did his very best to bring the potential Kingdom of God about by urging the people to repentance and conformity to God’s will, such was his perception these measures: and there were windows in it and in its arches all around; it was fifty cubits long, and twenty-five cubits broad. 30 There were arches all around, twenty-five cubits long, and five cubits broad. 31 The arches of it were toward the outer court; and palm trees were on its posts: and the ascent to it had eight steps. 32 He brought me into the inner court toward the east: and he measured the gate according to these measures; 33 and its lodges, and its posts, and its arches, according to these measures: and there were windows therein and in its arches all around; it was fifty cubits long, and twenty-five cubits broad. 34 The arches of it were toward the outer court; and palm trees were on its posts, on this side, and on that side: and the ascent to it had eight steps. 35 He brought me to the north gate: and he measured it according to these measures; 36 its lodges, its posts, and its arches: and there were windows therein all around; the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth twenty-five cubits broad. 37 The posts of it were toward the outer court; and palm trees were on its posts, on this side, and on that side: and the ascent to it had eight steps.

The Sacrifice Preparation Rooms

38 A room with its door was by the posts at the gates; there they washed the burnt offering. 39 In the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to kill thereon the burnt offering and the sin offering and the trespass offering. 40 On the one side outside, as one goes up to the entry of the gate toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side, which belonged to the porch of the gate, were two tables. 41 Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they killed the sacrifices. 42 There were four tables for the burnt offering, of cut stone, a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high; whereupon they laid the instruments with which they killed the burnt offering and the sacrifice. 43 The hooks, a handbreadth long, were fastened within all around: and on the tables was the flesh of the offering.

The Priests’ Rooms

44 Outside of the inner gate were rooms for the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south; one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north. 45 He said to me, This room, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, the keepers of the duty of the house; 46 and the room whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are the sons of Zadok, who from among the sons of Levi come near to Yahweh to minister to Him. 47 He measured the court, one hundred cubits long, and a hundred cubits broad, foursquare; and the altar was before the house.

The Temple Porch and Details

48 Then he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side. 49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; even by the steps by which they went up to it: and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

CHAPTER 41

Measurements of the Temple Building

He brought me to the temple and measured the doorposts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the structure. 2 The breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured its length, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits. 3 Then he went inside and measured each post of the entrance, two cubits; and the 40:46 It could have been possible for the Messianic Kingdom to have been established at the time of the restoration, and these temple prophecies would fit perfectly into this context. Thus Ezekiel emphasised that the sons of Zadok were to organize priestly work in the temple (see too 43:19; 44:15; 48:11); Ezra, the leader of the initial restoration, was one of the sons of Zadok (Ezra 7:2). He was in a position to fulfill those prophecies, although the bulk of his brethren seem to have precluded this. Ezra was enabled to beautify the temple (Ezra 7:27), the very same Hebrew word used in Is. 60:7,9,13 about how God would “glorify” His temple with merchandise from throughout the Babylonian empire – all of which was willingly offered by Cyrus and Darius. Ez. 40-48 stress the “gates” dozens of times; and Nehemiah’s account likewise stresses many times the attention he paid to setting up the “gates”, as if he saw his work as fulfilling Ezekiel’s words. 42 speaks of the vessels to be used in the temple with the same Hebrew word used for the temple vessels which were brought out of Babylon back to Judah, in fulfillment of several of Isaiah’s ‘Kingdom’ passages (Ezra 1:6-11; 8:25-33 ep. Is. 52:11; 66:20).

The keepers of the charge – Judah were to keep the charges of God relating to His house. Nehemiah, seeking for Israel’s obedience to Ezekiel’s vision, tried to get them to “keep the charges” (s.w. Neh. 7:3; 12:9,45; 13:20). But soon, Judah complained that there was no benefit to them from having kept the charges (Mal. 3:14 s.w.). Partial obedience discouraged them from any further effort, because the fullness of blessing can only come from a way of life conformed to God’s Kingdom vision and life. This is why people get disillusioned with religion and lose even the true faith – because they seek for immediate benefit as a result of keeping a few highly specific aspects of God’s law, rather than willingly devoting their way of life to the realisation of His vision.
entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits. He measured its length, twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple. He said to me, This is the most holy place. Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every side room, four cubits, all around the house on every side. The side rooms were in three floors, one over another, and thirty on each floor. The outer wall on each floor was thinner than on the floor below, so that the rooms could rest on the wall without being anchored into it. The walls of the house, when seen from the outside, seemed to have the same thickness all the way to the top. Against the house’s outer wall, on the outside of the rooms, two wide stairways were built, so that it was possible to go from the lower story to the middle and the upper stories. I saw also that the house had a raised base all around: the foundations of the side rooms were a full reed of six great cubits. The thickness of the wall, which was for the side rooms, on the outside, was five cubits: and that which was left was the place of the side rooms that belonged to the house. Between the rooms was a breadth of twenty cubits around the house on every side. The doors of the side rooms were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of the free space that was left was five cubits all around. The building that was before the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick all around, and its length ninety cubits. So he measured the house, one hundred cubits long; and the separate place, and the building, with its walls, one hundred cubits long; also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, one hundred cubits. He measured the length of the building before the separate place which was at its back, and its galleries on the one side and on the other side, one hundred cubits; and the inner temple, and the porches of the court; the thresholds, and the closed windows, and the galleries around on their three stories, over against the threshold, with wood ceilings all around, and from the ground up to the windows, (now the windows were covered), to the space above the door, even to the inner house, and outside, and by all the wall all around inside and outside, by measure. It was made with cherubim and palm trees; and a palm tree was between cherub and cherub, and each cherub had two fac-

41:5 These rooms around the temple were in Christ’s mind when He spoke of how in God’s house or temple, there are many rooms; and He has prepared one for each of us by His death on the cross (Jn. 14:2). It could be that He understood the temple as a spiritual house, and that the vision of 40-48 was going to be fulfilled in a more abstract, spiritual manner.

es; 19 so that there was the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side. Thus was it made through all the house all around: 20 from the ground to above the door were cherubim and palm trees made; thus was the wall of the temple. 21 As for the temple, the door posts were squared; and as for the face of the sanctuary, the appearance of it was as the appearance of the temple. 22 The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and its length two cubits; and its corners, and its length, and its walls, were of wood: and he said to me, This is the table that is before Yahweh. 23 The temple and the sanctuary had two doors. 24 The doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves: two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other. 25 There were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm trees, like as were made on the walls; and there was a threshold of wood on the face of the porch outside. 26 There were closed windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch: thus were the side rooms of the house, and the thresholds.

More on the Priests’ Rooms

Then he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north: and he brought me into the room that was opposite the separate place, and which was opposite the building toward the north. 2 The length of the building whose door faced north was a hundred cubits, and the breadth was fifty cubits. 3 Over against the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner court, and over against the pavement which belonged to the outer court, was gallery against gallery in the third story. 4 Before the rooms was a walk of ten cubits’ breadth inward, a way of one cubit; and their doors were toward the north. 5 Now the upper rooms were shorter; for the galleries took away from these, more than from the lower and the middle, in the building. 6 For they were in three stories, and they had no pillars like the pillars of the courts. Thus the upper chambers were set back from the 41:26 There are many links between Solomon’s temple and that described by Ezekiel. The repeated stress on the cherubim / palm tree decor in both the records of Solomon’s temple and also Ezekiel’s encourages the idea that the prophesied temple was to be seen as a re-establishment of Solomon’s (1 Kings 6:29,32,35; 7:36 cp. Ez. 40:16,22,26,31,34,37; 41:18-20, 25,26). There were “thick planks” upon the porch of Solomon’s temple; and the same word is only used elsewhere in describing how this would feature in Ezekiel’s temple too (1 Kings 7:6 cp. Ez. 41:25,26). Even the “windows of narrow lights” (1 Kings 6:4) were to be replicated (Ez. 40:16; 41:16,26). Solomon’s system of “chambers” was likewise copied (1 Kings 6:5,8,16 cp. Ez. 41:5-11 same Hebrew word). The glory of Yahweh was to fill Ezekiel’s temple as it had done Solomon’s (Ez. 43:5 cp. 1 Kings 8:10). Both temples were to be ready for operation on “the eighth day” after their consecration (Ez. 43:27 cp. 1 Kings 8:66). Ezekiel’s temple was to be of a similar size to that of Solomon’s; see on 45:1. ground more than the lower and the middle ones. 7 The wall that was outside by the side of the rooms, toward the outer court before the rooms, its length was fifty cubits. 8 For the length of the rooms that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and see, before the temple were one hundred cubits. 9 From under these rooms was the entry on the east side, as one goes into them from the outer court. 10 In the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, before the separate place, and before the building, there were rooms. 11 The way before them was like the appearance of the way of the rooms which were toward the north; according to their length so was their breadth: and all their exits were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors. 12 According to the doors of the rooms that were toward the south was a door at the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one enters into them. 13 Then he said to me, The north rooms and the south rooms, which are before the separate place, they are the holy rooms, where the priests who are near to Yahweh shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; for the place is holy. 14 When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments in which they minister; for they are holy: and they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to those things which are for the people. 15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it all around. 16 He measured on the east side with the measuring reed five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed all around. 17 He measured on the north side five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. 18 He measured on the south side five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. 19 He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. 20 He measured it on the four sides: it had a wall around it, the length five hundred, and the breadth five hundred, to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common.

The Return of the Glory of God

A fterward he brought me to the gate that looks toward the east. 2 Behold, the glory of the God of 42:16 Reeds – The problem is that the length of the reed isn’t specified. See on 45:1.

42:20 The new temple was “to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common” – alluding back to Ezekiel’s earlier lament that Judah had not made that very separation (22:26). Time and again, the new system is described in terms which allude to the bad practices in the old system – e.g. the stress of 42:4 etc. that the doors of the new chambers were “toward the north” connects with how Ezekiel had earlier seen women weeping for Tammuz “towards the north” in the temple (8:14; 9:2).
Israel came from the east: and His voice was like the sound of many waters; and the earth shined with His glory. 3 It was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar; and I fell on my face. 4 The glory of Yahweh came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east. 5 The Spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of Yahweh filled the house. 6 I heard one speaking to me out of the house; and a man stood by me. 7 He said to me, Son of man, this is the place of My throne, and the place of the soles of My feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel forever. The house of Israel shall no more defile My holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their prostitution, and by the dead bodies of their kings in their high places; 8 in their setting of their threshold by My threshold, and their doorpost beside My doorpost, and there was but the wall between Me and them; and they have defiled My holy name by their abominations which they have committed: therefore I have consumed them in My anger. 9 Now let them put away their prostitution, and the dead bodies of their kings, far from Me; and I will dwell in their midst forever. 10 You, son of man, show the house to the people of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities; and let them measure 43:5 The glory would have entered the house of God’s glory as it did at the inauguration of the first temple (2 Chron. 7:1-3). Ezekiel prophesied that ultimately the glory would fill the temple as it had done then (:4,5). But God’s prophesy of this in Is. 60:7, that He would glorify His house, meant that He was prepared to work through men to glorify it. The fulfilment of Ezekiel’s vision of the cloud of glory entering the temple again could have been fulfilled if the exiles had done what Cyrus empowered them to do – to glorify the house of glory. And so the fulfilment was delayed. The glory of the temple the exiles built was tragically less than the glory of the first temple; and so it would only be in the last day of Messiah’s second coming that the house shall truly be filled with glory (Hag. 2:3,7,9). And the lesson ought to be clear for us, in the various projects and callings of our lives: it becomes crucial for us to discern God’s specific purposes for us, and insofar as we follow His leading, we will feel a blessing and power which is clearly Divine.

43:8 How close God was ought to have made them quit their idolatry. But their cognizance of the closeness of God was merely theoretical. They didn’t feel nor respond to the wonder of it. And truly, He is not far from every one of us.

43:10 Ezekiel showed Judah the general picture of the temple; if they were obedient, then God promised to give them more details so they could build it in reality. There is a congruence between the style of address found in Ez. 40-48 and the earlier part of the prophecy. This is because Ezekiel is addressing the same audience – those who had heard his criticisms and appeals for repentance were the same group who were now being commanded to build a temple according to the dimensions given. Thus “You shall tell the rebellious house of Israel...” (44:6) is the same rubric used earlier (2:5; 3:26; 12:2,25; 17:12; 24:3). The new temple was “to make a separation
If they be ashamed of all that they have done, make known to them the form of the house, and its fashion, and its exits, and its entrances, and all its forms, and all its ordinances, and all its forms, and all its laws; and write it in their sight; that they may keep the whole form of it, and all its ordinances, and do them.

This is the law of the house: on the top of the mountain the whole limit around it shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

Details of the Altar

These are the measures of the altar by cubits (the cubit is a cubit and a handbreadth): the bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and its border around its edge a span; and this shall be the base of the altar.

From the bottom on the ground to the lower ledge shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser ledge to the greater ledge shall be four cubits, and the breadth a cubit. The upper altar shall be four cubits; and from the altar hearth and upward there shall be four horns. The altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, square in the four sides of it. The ledge shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides of it; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and its bottom shall be a cubit around; and its steps shall look toward the east.

He said to me, Son of man, thus says the Lord Yahweh: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon. You shall give to the priests the Levites between that which was holy and that which was common (42:20) – alluding back to Ezekiel’s earlier lament that Judah had not made that very separation (22:26). Time and again, the new system is described in terms which allude to the bad practices in the old system – e.g. the stress of 42:4 etc. that the doors of the new chambers were “toward the north” connects with how Ezekiel had earlier seen women weeping for Tammuz “towards the north” in the temple (8:14; 9:2). Ezekiel himself was to provide the sons of Zadok with a bullock for a sin offering (43:19), as if he himself could have been present in the work of the building and dedication of this temple. Ezekiel himself, as a priest, was to inaugurate the altar by sprinkling blood upon it and making an offering (43:20-25). Ezekiel’s temple prophecies are described as “the law of the house” (43:12). They were a law, a commandment to be fulfilled. This explains the commandment style of the instructions, e.g. 44:2: “This gate shall be shut; it shall not be opened”. The description of Ezekiel’s Temple was to be given to the captives in Babylon by Ezekiel, to lead them to repentance and to assure them of what could be if they repented. Then when the invitation to leave Babylon and return came in the time of Ezra, they ought to have been motivated to return to the land and build the temple which Ezekiel had explained to them. But sadly most of them weren’t very deeply motivated at all; they wanted to build a temple, but not to the extent Ezekiel had outlined. The intention was that then, when the temple was built (:11), they were to be obedient in all the ways in which they hadn’t been obedient in the past, with the result that they were now sitting in captivity (44:24).

This suggests the temple could have been built within Ezekiel’s lifetime, for he who are of the seed of Zadok, who are near to Me, to minister to Me, says the Lord Yahweh, a young bull for a sin offering. 20 You shall take of its blood, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the ledge, and on the border all around: thus you shall cleanse it and make atonement for it. 21 You shall also take the bull of the sin offering, and it shall be burnt in the appointed place of the house, outside of the sanctuary. 22 On the second day you shall offer a male goat without blemish for a sin offering; and they shall cleanse the altar, as they cleansed it with the bull. 23 When you have finished cleansing it, you shall offer a young bull without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish. 24 You shall bring them near to Yahweh, and the priests shall cast salt on them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering to Yahweh.

25 Seven days you shall prepare every day a goat for a sin offering; they shall also prepare a young bull, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish. 26 Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it; so shall they consecrate it. 27 When they have accomplished the days, it shall be that on the eighth day, and onwards, the priests shall make your burnt offerings on the altar and your peace offerings; and I will accept you, says the Lord Yahweh.

The Prince and the Officials of the Temple

Then he brought me back by the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, which looks toward the

was to give the animals to the sons of Zadok to offer in the temple; Ezekiel was to prepare the daily sacrifice (46:13). But due to the Jews’ selfishness and lack of spirituality, it didn’t happen. This accounts for the many links between the Ezekiel prophecies and prophets like Haggai, Zechariah and Malachi. What was theoretically possible, what potentially could have been, simply wasn’t – because of their self-centredness and lack of effort. The prophecy of Ezekiel 40-48 was therefore primarily command rather than prediction. This was how it should have been, but the Jews failed to obey it all. They were minimalists, satisficers, rather than rising up to their full potential.

43:21 Nehemiah built ‘Miphkad’, “the Muster Gate” (Neh. 3:31 RSV), the “appointed place” [same Hebrew word]; he really tried to fulfil this command of 43:21. See on 40:29; 48:31. But one man’s obedience couldn’t in this case count for the whole people. 43:27 See on 20:40. If Judah resumed building the temple according to Ezekiel’s plan, “I will take pleasure” in it, God offered (Hag. 1:8). They should be more committed to building the temple “that I may appear in my glory” (RSV). The glory of Yahweh as described at the end of Ezekiel could have appeared in Haggai’s time – but this wonderful possibility was held back by Israel’s petty minded, self-satisfying laziness. The same word is used here in 43:27 – then, when the temple of Ezekiel was built, Yahweh would “accept / take pleasure in” His people and temple. But because they built and served Him with such a mean spirit, He did not “accept” them at that time (Mal. 1:10,13 s.w.).

I will accept you – This is to be connected with the prophecy of 20:41, that God would accept His people when they had been regathered from Babylon.
east; and it was shut. 2 Yahweh said to me, This gate shall be shut; it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it; for Yahweh, the God of Israel, has entered in by it; therefore it shall be shut. 3 As for the prince, he shall sit therein as prince to eat bread before Yahweh; he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 Then he brought me by the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked, and behold, the glory of Yahweh filled the house of Yahweh: and I fell on my face. 5 Yahweh said to me, Son of man, mark well, and see with your eyes, and hear with your ears all that I tell you concerning all the ordinances of the house of Yahweh, and all its laws; and mark well the entrance of the house, with every exit of the sanctuary. 6 You shall tell the rebellious house of Israel, Thus says the Lord Yahweh: you house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations, in that you have brought in foreigners, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in My sanctuary, to profane it, even My house, when you offer My bread, the fat and the blood; and they have broken My covenant, to add to all your abominations. 7 You have not performed the duty of My holy things; but you have set performers of My duty in My sanctuary for yourselves. 8 Thus says the Lord Yahweh, No foreigner, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into My sanctuary.

44:2 The priests were to shut the gates (44:2; 46:2,12); but the returned exiles in practice refused to do this unless they were paid for it (Mal. 1:10). The potential set up simply wasn’t realized because of petty selfishness.

44:6 Let it suffice you – These words are picked up from the LXX by Peter, and applied to all of us in 1 Pet. 4:3: “For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles” (Gk.). The temple vision should have made them ashamed of their sins (43:10,11). It should have motivated them to live the Kingdom life in their lives. Ezekiel’s prophecies should have been an inspiration to Israel to be obedient and live out these things as a reality before them, and thereby see other prophecies come true in their own experience. They could have entered upon an upward spiral of spirituality. The form of the house, the very description of it by Ezekiel, should have inspired them to feel that they had had enough of sin.

44:7 The house was not to be profaned, the covenant wasn’t to be broken. Judah returned from exile, built a temple, but profaned the Sabbath (Neh. 13:17,18), and profaned the temple by their marriage with Gentiles and their “weariness” with the temple ordinances (Mal. 1:12; 2:10,11). They got bored with the things of the Kingdom, and so they had no part in it. Judah broke covenant [s.w.] with Yahweh at the time of the restoration by marrying Gentiles and worshipping their gods (Ezra 9:1,14). We can externally appear obedient, as Judah did by building a temple, but our hearts can be far from the things of God’s covenant. By doing this, Judah precluded the possibility of all that is spoken in Ez. 40-48 from being fulfilled at that time.

44:9 The temple was primarily for the worship of Israel, “the people of the land” (45:22; 46:3,9), not for the whole world – no uncircumcised were allowed to worship in it.
of any foreigners who are among the people of Israel. 10 But the Levites who went far from Me, when Israel went astray, who went astray from Me after their idols, they shall bear their iniquity. 11 Yet now they are to be ministers in My sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall kill the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister to them. 12 Because they ministered to them before their idols, and became a stumbling block of iniquity to the house of Israel; therefore have I lifted up My hand against them, says the Lord Yahweh, and they shall bear their iniquity. 13 They shall not come near to Me, to execute the office of priest to Me, nor to come near to any of My holy things, to the things that are most holy; but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. 14 Yet will I make them performers of the duty of the house, for all its service, and for all that shall be done therein. 15 But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, who performed the duty of My sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from Me, they shall come near to Me to minister to Me; and they shall stand before Me to offer to Me the fat and the blood, says the Lord Yahweh: 16 they shall enter into My sanctuary, and they shall come near to My table, to minister to Me, and they shall keep My instructions. 17 It shall be that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come on them, while they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within. 18 They shall have linen headware on their heads, and shall have linen breeches on their waists; they shall not clothe themselves with anything that causes sweat. 19 When they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments in which they minister, and lay them in the holy rooms; and they shall put on other garments, that they not sanctify the people with unclean garments. 20 Neither shall they shave their heads, nor allow their locks to grow long; they shall only cut off the hair of their heads. 21 Neither shall any of the priests drink wine when they enter into the inner court. 22 Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her who is divorced; but they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow who is the widow of a priest. 23 They shall teach My people the difference between the holy and the common, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. 24 In a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to My ordinances shall they judge it: and they shall keep My laws and My statutes in all My appointed feasts; and they shall make My Sabbaths holy. 25 They shall not go near a dead person to defile themselves; but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister who has had no husband, they may defile themselves. 26 After he is cleansed, they shall reckon to him seven days. 27 In the day that he goes into the sanctuary, into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering, says the Lord Yahweh. 28 They shall have an inheritance: I am their inheritance; and you shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. 29 They shall eat the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; and every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. 30 The first of all the first fruits of every thing, and every offering of everything, of all your offerings, shall be for the priest: you shall also give to the priests the first of your dough, to cause a blessing to rest on your house. 31 The priests shall not eat of anything that dies of itself, or is torn, whether it be bird or animal.

CHAPTER 45 Oct. 19
How the Land Was to Be Divided
Moreover, when you shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, you shall offer an offering to Yahweh, a holy portion of the land; the 44:31 There are many details in Ez. 40-48 which seem very hard to apply to a future Kingdom under the rulership of Jesus. The offering of animal sacrifices in order to gain forgiveness seems to flatly contradict the teaching of Hebrews concerning the one time nature of Christ’s offering. The existence of animals who will have been “torn” by other animals seems hard to square with the Kingdom prophecies of Isaiah 9 and 11 about the animals living at peace with each other. The language used about “the prince” also seems impossible to understand about an immortal being. The whole prophecy was a command for the returning exiles from Babylon rather than prediction of the future. If we insist that every part of Ez. 40-48 is going to have a literal fulfilment in the Millennium, then we have to accept that Jesus will accept divorce and remarriage in His Kingdom – it’s just that the priests won’t be able to marry divorcees, but others will (44:22).

45:1 The problem is that the Hebrew text strangely omits the measurement unit. The “oblation” would be about 60 miles square if we measure it in “reeds” as some Bibles assume, although this term isn’t in the Hebrew text here; if the “reed” is “six great cubits” as defined in 41:8, then this area would encroach either upon the Mediterranean or the Dead Sea, and it seems contextually more likely that a smaller area measured in cubits is intended, which would make the temple similar in dimension to Solomon’s temple (see on 41:26). If measured in reeds, this large area somewhat disrupts the distribution of land amongst the tribes as detailed later in Ezekiel. If the missing measurement unit here is cubits and not reeds, it is likely that it is in the dimensions of the temple itself. The are described here in 45:1 is to be “the length of twenty five thousand”. The following verse speaks of cubits as the measurement unit. Only the context can decide whether cubits or reeds is meant in many of the Ezekiel passages. If it is going to be thousands of reeds, then it would be over one mile square. However, Jer. 30:18 RSV prophesies that “the city shall be builded upon her own heap, and the palace shall be where it used to be”. And passages as varied as Zech. 1, Ps. 68 and Micah 4 all insist that the temple of the restored Kingdom was to built within the city of Jerusalem. If the temple is 500 reeds square, there will be no room for a city, assuming the city will be of the same size as the previous old city of Jerusalem.
length shall be the length of twenty-five thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand: it shall be holy in all its border all around. 2 Of this there shall be for the holy place five hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square all around; and fifty cubits for its suburbs all around. 3 Of this measure you shall measure a length of twenty-five thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the sanctuary, which is most holy. 4 It is a holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, who come near to minister to Yahweh; and it shall be a place for their houses, and a holy place for the sanctuary. 5 Twenty-five thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall be to the Levites, the ministers of the house, for a possession to themselves, as places to live in. 6 You shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and twenty-five thousand long, side by side with the offering of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel. 7 Whatever is for the prince shall be on the one side and on the other side of the holy offering and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy offering and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward; and in length answerable to one of the portions, from the west border to the east border. 8 In the land it shall be to him for a possession in Israel: and My princes shall no more oppress My people; but they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes. 9 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: Let it suffice you, princes of Israel: remove violence and spoil, and execute justice and righteousness instead of dispossessioning My people, says the Lord Yahweh. 10 You shall have just balances, a just ephah and a just bath. 11 The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of a homer, and the ephah the tenth part of a homer: its measure shall be after the homer. 12 The shekel shall be twenty gerahs. Twenty shekels plus twenty-five shekels plus fifteen shekels shall be your mina.

Offerings and Feast Days

13 This is the offering that you shall offer: the sixth part of an ephah from a homer of wheat; and you shall give the sixth part of an ephah from a homer of barley; 14 and the set portion of oil, of the bath of oil, the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is ten baths, even a homer (for ten baths are a homer); 15 and one lamb of the flock, out of two hundred, from the flock.
well-watered pastures of Israel—for a meal offering, and for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, to make atonement for them, says the Lord Yahweh. 16 All the people of the land shall give to this offering for the prince in Israel. 17 It shall be the prince’s part to give the burnt offerings, and the meal offerings, and the drink offerings, in the feasts, and on the new moons, and on the Sabbaths, in all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin offering and the meal offering and the burnt offering and the peace offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel. 18 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: In the first month, in the first day of the month, you shall take a young bull without blemish; and you shall cleanse the sanctuary. 19 The priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it on the door posts of the house and on the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and on the posts of the gate of the inner court. 20 So you shall do on the seventh day of the month for everyone who errs, and for him who is ignorant: so you shall make atonement for the house. 21 In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, you shall have the Passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. 22 On that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bull for a sin offering. 23 The seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to Yahweh, seven bulls and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; and a male goat daily for a sin offering. 24 He shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah for a bull, and an ephah for a ram, and a hin of oil to an ephah. 25 In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meal offering, and according to the oil.

The Prince and His Offerings
Thus says the Lord Yahweh: The gate of the inner court that looks toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the Sabbath day it shall be opened, and on the day of the new moon it shall be opened. 2 The prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate outside, and shall stand by the post of 45:16 “The people of the land” were to have a part in the new system of things (45:16,22; 46:3,9), and yet this very phrase is repeatedly used concerning the Samaritan people who lived in the land at the time of the restoration with whom Judah intermarried and whose gods and language they accepted (Ezra 4:4; 10:2,11; Neh. 9:24; 10:30,31). God’s intention was that they should eventually be converted unto Him; it was His intention that Ezekiel’s temple be built at the time of the restoration under Ezra. And yet Zech. 7:10; Mal. 3:5 criticize the Jews who returned and built the temple for continuing to oppress these strangers / Gentiles. So much was made possible potentially that never happened, because of Judah’s short sightedness and failure to grasp it. The same is true in the lives of God’s people today.
the gate; and the priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate: then he shall go forth; but the gate shall not be shut until the evening. 3 The people of the land shall worship at the door of that gate before Yahweh on the Sabbaths and on the new moons. 4 The burnt offering that the prince shall offer to Yahweh shall be on the Sabbath day six lambs without blemish and a ram without blemish; 5 and the meal offering shall be an ephah for the ram, and the meal offering for the lambs as he is able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah. 6 On the day of the new moon it shall be a young bull without blemish, and six lambs, and a ram; they shall be without blemish: 7 and he shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah for the bull, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs according as he is able, and a hin of oil to an ephah. 8 When the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall go out by its way. 9 But when the people of the land shall come before Yahweh in the appointed feasts, he who enters by the way of the north gate to worship shall go out by the way of the south gate; and he who enters by the way of the south gate shall go out by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate by which he came in, but shall go out straight before him. 10 The prince, when they go in, shall go in with them; and when they go out, he shall go out. 11 In the feasts and in the solemnities the meal offering shall be an ephah for a bull and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs as he is able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

46:11 “The prince” of 21:27 was Judah’s last ruler – so “the prince” later in Ezekiel would appear to be a promise of a restored monarchy. Yet tragically, the royal family chose to remain in Babylon. “The prince” offers as He is able (:11) – hard to apply to the Almighty Lord Jesus. He offers sacrifice for his own sin, and has children, to whom He will pass an inheritance. And he has to be warned not to oppress the people (:18). It is a more comfortable interpretation to see him as primarily referring to Zerubbabel or Joshua the High Priest (44:3). It is evident from 46:3 and 44:3 that the promised Messiah figure was to be both a king and a priest – which would fit Joshua. Those men could have been so much; but their dysfunctions meant that what had been potentially prepared for them didn’t come true. The very same happens in the lives of so many of God’s people. We must pray for wisdom to understand what God intends for us, and have the faith to realize that we really can realize it in our lives. Zechariah concluded his prophecy about this Messiah figure with the comment that it would come to pass, if he would diligently obey the voice of the Lord (Zech. 6:10-15). Joshua-Jesus didn’t live up to it. And Zerubbabel never ruled in Jerusalem – he returned to the soft life in Babylon after the temple was rebuilt. But the prophecies suffered a deferral. They will in a broad sense be fulfilled in Jesus Christ, the branch, although the specific details were the commands which God intended the Messiah figure of Ezekiel’s time to fulfil and as such may not have to be literally fulfilled in any future reapplication of this prophecy.
freewill offering, a burnt offering or peace offerings as a freewill offering to Yahweh, one shall open for him the gate that looks toward the east; and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he does on the Sabbath day: then he shall go out; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate. 13 You shall prepare a lamb a year old without blemish for a burnt offering to Yahweh daily: morning by morning you shall prepare it. 14 You shall prepare a meal offering with it morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of a hin of oil, to moisten the fine flour; a meal offering to Yahweh continually by a perpetual ordinance. 15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meal offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for a continual burnt offering. 16 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: If the prince give a gift to any of his sons, it is his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons; it is their possession by inheritance. 17 But if he gives of his inheritance as a gift to one of his servants, it shall be his to the year of liberty; then it shall return to the prince; but as for his inheritance, it shall be for his sons. 18 Moreover the prince shall not take of the people’s inheritance by thrusting them out of their possession; he shall give an inheritance to his sons out of his own possession, that My people not be scattered every man from his possession. 19 Then he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy rooms for the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the hinder part westward. 20 He said to me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass offering and the sin offering, and where they shall bake the meal offering; so that they do not bring them into the outer court, to sanctify the people. 21 Then he brought me into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was another court. 22 In the four corners of the court there were enclosed courts, forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four in the corners were of liberty; then it shall return to the prince; but as for his inheritance, it shall be for his sons. 18 Moreover the prince shall not take of the people’s inheritance by thrusting them out of their possession; he shall give an inheritance to his sons out of his own possession, that My people not be scattered every man from his possession. 19 Then he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy rooms for the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the hinder part westward. 20 He said to me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass offering and the sin offering, and where they shall bake the meal offering; 46:12 One shall open for him the gate – David in his humility aspired to be such an anonymous gatekeeper in God’s temple (Ps. 84:10). And yet “the prince” is defined as being “David” (34:24; 37:25). He was the prince exactly because he wished merely to the anonymous gatekeeper who would open the doors for the prince. In this we see the classic illustration of Christ’s teaching that true greatness is in humility; He will be the highest in the Kingdom because in this life He debased Himself lowest (Mt. 23:12; Mk. 9:35; 10:44).

46:18 They had gone into captivity for these kinds of abuses, and they were to return and rebuild the temple after the pattern of Solomon’s, repent of their sins and live righteously, and then they would have the possibility of bringing in the Messianic Kingdom. But they chose to be satisfied with a semi-revival, a quasi repentance – just as we can be so easily. And Nehemiah records how the princes did oppress the people, taking their land / possessions away from them.
of one measure. 23 There was a wall around in them, around the four, and boiling places were made under the walls all around. 24 Then he said to me, These are the boiling houses, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifices of the people.

The River

He brought me back to the door of the house; and see, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward (for the front of the house was toward the east); and the waters came down from under the right side of the house, on the south of the altar. 2 Then he brought me out by the way of the north gate, and led me round by the way outside to the outer gate, to the gate that looks toward the east; and, there ran out waters on the right side. 3 When the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured one thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. 4 Again he measured one thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured one thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the waist. 5 Afterward he measured one thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through; for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. 6 He said to me, Son of man, have you seen this? Then he brought me and caused me to return to the bank of the river. 7 Now when I had returned, see, on the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other. 8 Then he said to me, These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into the Salt Sea Arabah; and the waters of the sea shall be healed. 9 It shall happen, that every living creature which swarms, in every place where the rivers come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish; for these waters have come there, and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and everything shall live wherever the river comes. 10 It shall happen, that fishermen shall stand by it: from En Gedi even to En Eglaim shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their species, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many. 11 But its muddy places and its marshes shall not be healed; they shall be given over to salt. 12 By the river on its banks, on this side and on that side, shall grow every tree for food whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall its fruit fail: it shall bear new fruit every month, because its waters issue out of the sanctuary; and its fruit shall be for food, and its leaf for healing.

47:12 This is alluded to in Rev. 22:2,14, where the future Kingdom of God on earth is spoken of as having a tree or forest of trees of life, giving healing to the nations each month. Again we see that the essence of Ezekiel’s vision will come true, but maybe not the exact details, which were tailored to Judah’s possible experience on return from captivity.
The Borders of the Land of the Inheritance

13 Thus says the Lord Yahweh: This shall be the border, by which you shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions. 14 You shall inherit it, one as well as another; for I swore to give it to your fathers: and this land shall fall to you for inheritance. 15 This shall be the border of the land: On the north side, from the great sea, by the road to Hethlon, to the entrance of Zedad; 16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath; Hazer Hatticon, which is by the border of Hauran. 17 The border from the sea, shall be from the sea to Hazar Enon at the border of Damascus; and on the north northward is the border of Hamath. This is the north side. 18 The east side, between Hauran and Damascus and Gilead, and the land of Israel, shall be the Jordan; from the north border to the east sea you shall measure. This is the east side. 19 The south side southward shall be from Tamar as far as the waters of Meriboth Kadesh, to the brook of Egypt, to the great sea. This is the south side southward. 20 The west side shall be the great sea, from the south border as far as over against the entrance of Hamath. This is the west side. 21 So you shall divide this land to you according to the tribes of Israel. 22 It shall happen, that you shall divide it by lot for an inheritance to you and to the aliens who live among you, who shall father children among you; and they shall be to you as the native-born among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. 23 It shall happen, that in what tribe the foreigner lives, there you shall give him his inheritance, says the Lord Yahweh.

The Final Division of the Land

Now these are the names of the tribes: From the north end, beside the way of Hethlon to the entrance of Hamath, Hazar Enan at the border of Damascus, northward beside Hamath, (and they shall have their sides east and west), Dan, one portion. 2 By the border of Dan, from the east side to the west side, Asher, one portion. 3 By the border of Asher, from the east side even to the west side, Naphtali, one portion. 4 By the border of Naphtali, from the east side to the west side, Manasseh, one portion. 5 By the border of Manasseh, from the east side to the west side, Ephraim, one portion. 6 By the border of Ephraim, from the east side even to the west side, Reuben, one portion. 7 By the border of Reuben, from the east side to the west side, Judah, one portion. 8 By the border of Judah, from the east side to the west side, shall be the district which you shall set apart, twenty-five thousand cubits in breadth, and in length as one of the portions, from the east side to the west side: and the sanctuary shall be in its midst. 9 The district that you shall offer to Yahweh shall be twenty-five thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth. 10 This holy district shall be for the priests: toward the north twenty-five thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south twenty-five thousand in length: and the sanctuary of Yahweh shall be in its midst. 11 It shall be for the priests who are sanctified of the sons of Zadok, who have kept My instruction, who didn’t go astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray. 12 It shall be to them an offering from the offering of the land, a thing most holy, by the border of the Levites. 13 Opposite the border of the priests, the Levites shall have an area twenty-five thousand cubits in length, and ten thousand in breadth: the entire length shall be twenty-five thousand, and the breadth ten thousand. 14 They shall sell none of it, nor exchange it, nor shall the first fruits of the land be separated; for it is holy to Yahweh. 15 The five thousand that are left in the breadth, in front of the twenty-five thousand, shall be for common use, for the city, for dwellings and for suburbs; and the city shall be in its midst. 16 These shall be its measures: the north side four thousand five hundred, and the south side four thousand five hundred, and on the east side four thousand five hundred, and the west side four thousand five hundred. 17 The city shall have suburbs: toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty. 18 The remainder in the length, alongside the holy district, shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward; and it shall be adjacent to the holy district; and its increase shall be for food to those who labour in the city. 19 Those who labour in the city, out... of all the tribes of Israel, shall cultivate it. 20 The entire district shall be twenty-five thousand by twenty-five thousand: you shall offer the holy district foursquare, with the possession of the city. 21 The residue shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy offering and of the possession of the city; in front of the twenty-five thousand of the offering toward the east border, and westward in front of the twenty-five thousand toward the west border, answerable to the portions, it shall be for the prince: and the holy offering and the sanctuary of the house shall be in its midst. 22 Moreover from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince’s, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, it shall be for the prince. 23 As for the rest of the tribes: from the east side to the west side, Benjamin, one portion. 24 By the border of Benjamin, from the east side to the west side, Simeon, one portion. 25 By the border of Simeon, from the east side to the west side, Issachar, one portion. 26 By the border of Issachar, from the east side to the west side, Zebulun, one portion. 27 By the border of Zebulun, from the east side to the west side, Gad, one portion. 28 By the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from Tamar to the waters of Meribath Kadesh, to the brook of Egypt, to the great sea. 29 This is the land which you shall divide by lot to the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their individual portions, says the Lord Yahweh.

The City Gates
30 These are the exits of the city: On the north side four thousand five hundred reeds by measure; 31 and the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel, three gates northward: the gate of Reuben, one; the gate of Judah, one; the gate of Levi, one. 32 At the east side four

48:29 It was Ezekiel, as he sat with the exiles in Babylon, who was to divide the land by lot unto the various tribes. The tragedy of all the details recorded in Ezekiel 40-48, and the very reason for their being preserved to this day, is to show us to what great extent God has prepared potential things for His people, and yet they can be totally wasted if we don’t respond. In fact according to Mic. 4:10, it was God’s purpose to exile His people to Babylon, and there to deliver them from their enemies. And yet they preferred to side with their enemies and to prefer non-deliverance from Babylon. The tragedy of it all is almost unthinkable, and yet this is what we do if day by day we choose the things of this world against the deliverance from this world which there is in Christ.

48:31 Nehemiah arranged for 12 gates to be built in the wall, as Ez. 48:31-34 had commanded there to be. See on 40:29; 43:21. This verse is alluded to in Rev. 21:12, where it appears to be given a more symbolic application to the people of God, the new Jerusalem. Judah failed to build the new Jerusalem as intended, and so the essence of the vision was reapplied in a more abstract sense, and in this form will have its fulfilment in essence.
thousand five hundred reeds, and three gates: even the gate of Joseph, one; the gate of Benjamin, one; the gate of Dan, one. 33 At the south side four thousand five hundred reeds by measure, and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, one; the gate of Zebulun, one. 34 At the west side four thousand five hundred reeds, with their three gates: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, one. 35 It shall be eighteen thousand reeds around: and the name of the city from that day shall be, Yahweh is there.

48:35 See on 35:10.
In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to Jerusalem, and besieged it.

The Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God; and he carried them into the land of Shinar to the house of his god: and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god.

The king spoke to Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring in some of the Israelites, those of the seed royal and of the nobles; youths in whom was no blemish, but handsome, well educated, knowledgeable, understanding science, and such as had the ability to stand in the king’s palace; that he should teach them the learning and the language of the Chaldeans.

The king appointed for them a daily portion of the king’s dainties, and of the wine which he drank, and that they should be trained for three years; that at its end they should stand before the king.

Now among these were, of the Judeans, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

The prince of the eunuchs gave names to them: to Daniel he gave the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abednego.

8 But Daniel determined not to defile himself with the king’s dainties, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

9 Now God made Daniel to find kindness and compassion with the prince of the eunuchs.

10 The prince of the eunuchs said to Daniel, I fear my lord the king who has appointed your food and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse looking than the youths who are of your own age? Do you really want to endanger my head with the king?

11 Then Daniel said to the steward whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah:

12 Test your servants, I beg you, for ten days; let them give us vegetables to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our faces be looked on before you, and the faces of the youths who eat of the king’s dainties; and as you see, deal with your servants.

14 So he listened to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 At the end of ten days their faces appeared fairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths who ate of the king’s dainties.

16 So the steward took away their dainties, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them vegetables.

17 Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in the learning and in the sciences.
in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. 18 At the end of the days which the king had appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. 19 The king talked with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore they served the king. 20 In every matter of wisdom and understanding about which the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters who were in all his kingdom. 21 Daniel continued up to the first year of king Cyrus.

King Nebuchadnezzar’s Dream

In the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams; and his spirit was troubled, and his sleep went from him. 2 Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the enchanters, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. 3 The king said to them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream. 4 Then the Chaldeans spoke to the king in the Syrian language, O king, live forever: tell your servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation. 5 The king answered the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me: if you don’t make known to me the dream and its interpretation, you shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a compost heap. 6 But if you show the dream and its interpretation, you shall receive from me gifts and rewards and great honour: therefore show me the dream and its interpretation. 7 They answered the second time and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation. 8 The king answered, I know of a certainty that you would gain time, because you see the thing is gone from me. 9 But if you don’t tell me the dream, there is but one law for you; for you have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, until the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that you can show me its interpretation. 10 The Chaldeans answered before the king and said, There is not a man on the earth who can show the king’s matter, because no king, lord or ruler has asked such a thing of any magician, enchanter or Chaldean. 11 It is an unusual thing that the king requires, and there is no other who can show it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh. 12 Therefore the king was angry and very furious, and he commanded that all the wise men of Babylon be destroyed. 13 So the decree went forth that all the wise men were to be slain; and they sought Daniel and his companions to be slain.

Daniel Offers to Interpret the Dream

14 Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to Arioch the captain of the king’s guard, who was gone forth to kill the wise men of Babylon; 15 he answered Arioch the king’s captain, Why is the decree so urgent from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. 16 Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would appoint him a time, and he would show the king the interpretation. 17 Then Daniel went to his house, and told Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions: 8 that they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret; so that Daniel and his companions should not die with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. 19 Then was the secret revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven. 20 Daniel responded, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever; for wisdom and might are His. 21 He changes the times and the seasons; He removes kings, and sets up kings; He gives wisdom to the wise, and knowledge to those who have understanding; 22 He reveals the deep and secret things; He knows what is in the darkness, and the light dwells with Him. 23 I thank You, and praise You, You God of my fathers, who has given me wisdom and might, and has now made known to me what we desired of You; for You have made known to us the king’s matter. 24 Therefore Daniel went in to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon and said this: Don’t destroy the wise men of Babylon; bring me in before the king, and I will show to the king the interpretation. 25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said: I have found a man among the captives of Judah who will make known to the king the interpretation. 26 The king answered Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Are you able to make known to me the dream which I have seen, and its interpretation? 27 Daniel answered before the king, and said, The secret which the king has demanded can neither wise men, enchanters, magicians, nor soothsayers, show to the king; 28 but there is a God in heaven who reveals secrets, and He has made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Your dream, and the visions of your head on your bed, are these:

2:19 Given the urgency of the situation, Daniel would’ve been tempted to rush in to the King with the interpretation, knowing that every second counted to save the lives of his friends and himself. But firstly he takes time to thank God; we should do the same in life’s crises.

2:21 Wisdom to the wise, and knowledge to those who have understanding – God confirms people in their wisdom and understanding. God gives more to the one who already has obtained some more (Lk. 19:25). There is an upward spiral in spiritual growth, which has God’s word as the dynamic within it.

2:23 Made known to us – Notice how selfless Daniel was, in feeling that the interpretation had been made known to “us”, not just to him personally, because he recognized that there had been prayers of others involved, not just his – hence he later says that we will make known the interpretation (:36).
The Dream Revealed

29 As for you, O king, your thoughts came into your mind on your bed, what should happen in the future; and He who reveals secrets has made known to you what shall happen.

30 But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your heart.

31 You, O king, saw, and behold, a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before you; and its aspect was awesome.

32 As for this image, its head was of fine gold, its breast and its arms of silver, its belly and its thighs of brass, its legs of iron, its feet part of iron and part of clay.

34 You saw until a stone was cut out without hands, which struck the image on its feet that were of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken in pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors; and the wind carried them away, so that no place was found for them: and the stone that struck the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

The Interpretation Presented

37 You, O king, are a king of kings, to whom the God of heaven has given the kingdom, the power, and the strength, and the glory.

38 Whichever the children of men dwell, the animals of the field and the birds of the sky has He given into your hand, and has made you to rule over them all: you are the head of gold.

39 After you shall arise another kingdom inferior to yours, and a third kingdom of政-Perisan empire, the thighs of brass to the Greeks, and the two legs of iron to the Roman empire, the two legs possibly referring to the Eastern and Western parts of the empire. After that, Israel ceased to be a nation, until in the 20th century the Jews returned and established the state of Israel. The mixture of nations represented by the feet of iron and clay will dominate Israel for a short time – in decorum with the fact that the feet of the statue were not a very large part of its total height. This may refer to a union of nations dominating Israel in the time just prior to Christ’s return. He is the stone cut out without hands (:45) – He was born of a virgin with no human hand involved. At His return He will destroy all human kingdoms and establish God’s eternal Kingdom on this earth, which shall last eternally.
rior to you; and then a third kingdom of brass, which shall rule over all the land. 40 The fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron, because iron breaks in pieces and subdues all things; and as iron that crushes all these, shall it break in pieces and crush. 41 Then you saw the feet and toes, part of potters’ clay, and part of iron, that shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, because you saw the iron mixed with miry clay. 42 As the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly broken. 43 Whereas you saw the iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men; but they shall not cling to one another, even as iron does not mingle with clay. 44 In the days of those kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed, nor shall its sovereignty be left to another people; it shall crush to powder and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever. 45 As you saw that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God has made known to the king what shall happen hereafter: and the dream is certain, and its interpretation sure. 46 Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell on his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an offering and sweet incense to him. 47 The king responded to Daniel and said, Of a truth your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, since you have been able to reveal this secret. 48 Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and

Crush to powder – Alluded to by Jesus when He taught that He is the stone upon whom we either fall and are broken, or He will fall upon us and grind us to powder (Mt. 21:44). The choice we have is to fall upon Christ and become broken people, limping like Jacob by grace into His Kingdom; or to be ground to powder by Christ at His return, in that we will share the judgments of this present world system. Hence Paul speaks of how the rejected amongst the people of God will be “condemned with the world” (1 Cor. 11:32). The crucial separation between us and the world must be made now.

2:45 The whole image stands complete in the last days; there will be a latter day Nebuchadnezzar who has beneath him a system comprising all the elements of Israel’s previous dominators.

2:48 Daniel went through a yo-yo pattern of being promoted into the limelight, and then (in an unrecorded manner) slipping out of the limelight into relative obscurity, from which he was promoted again. Thus in 2:48 Daniel is made Prime Minister, in the events of Chapter 3 he seems to be strangely absent, in 4:8 Daniel is brought in to interpret Nebuchadnezzar’s second dream almost as an afterthought, implying he was out of the limelight; by 5:11 King Belshazzar was unaware of Daniel, but promoted him to be third ruler in the Kingdom (5:29). Daniel was made master of the magi-made him to rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. 49 Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel was in the gate of the king.

The Burning Fiery Furnace

Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was sixty cubits, and its breadth six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon. 2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the councilors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 3 Then the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the councilors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together to the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. 4 Then the herald called aloud, To you it is commanded, peoples, nations, and languages, 5 that whenever you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipe, and all kinds of music, you fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king has set up; 6 and whoever doesn’t fall down and worship shall immediately be cast cians by Nebuchadnezzar; but by the time his son was reigning, this had largely been forgotten (5:12) – because Daniel evidently was nowhere near that job to which he’d been promoted. Why did Daniel slip out of the limelight? Was it not for the sake of his conscience? As a member of the Jewish community, it would have been so easy for Daniel to stay where he was, reasoning that holding down a job like that would enable him to do so much for the Truth. But he realized that his personal conscience and devotion to the spiritual life must be given number one priority if he was to help his people. There is an exact correspondence between the mind of Daniel here and the fervent believer who refuses promotion, jumps out of a career that is rubbing too strongly against the conscience...

3:1 The image of the Daniel 2 vision had described Nebuchadnezzar as the head of gold, who would soon be replaced by other world empires. Nebuchadnezzar didn’t like the sound of this – and so he blasphemously made an entire image of gold, as if to imply that he would in fact never come to an end. Believing in the coming of God’s eternal Kingdom means we recognize our own frailty and mortality, and however small our ‘kingdom’ is in this world, it will quickly come to an end. Our focus will be on that Kingdom which is to come, rather than upon our ‘kingdom’ in this life, that very limited circle of things over which we have some power and control. Nebuchadnezzar didn’t want to accept this; he like many unbelievers tried to live within the assumption, and create the impression, that his life and ‘kingdom’ would continue for ever. See on 4:3.

3:6 Rev. 13:14,15 speaks of the beast creating an image in the last days before Christ returns, and persecuting all those who refuse to bow down to it. This is clearly allud-
into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 7 Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipe, and all kinds of music, all the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 8 Therefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and brought accusation against the Jews. 9 They answered Nebuchadnezzar the king, O king, live for ever. 10 You, O king, have made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipe, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image; 11 and whoever doesn’t fall down and worship shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 12 There are certain Jews whom you have appointed over the affairs of the province of Babylon: Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego; these men, O king, have not respected you. They don’t serve your gods, nor worship the golden image which you have set up. 13 Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. Then they brought these men before the king. 14 Nebuchadnezzar said to them, Is it on purpose, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, that you don’t serve my gods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up? 15 Now if you are ready whenever you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipe, and all kinds of music to fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if you don’t worship, you shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and who is that god that shall deliver you out of my hands? 16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered the king, Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer you in this matter. 17 If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and He will deliver us out of your hand, O king. 18 But if not, be it

3:8 Chaldeans – The very astrologers (4:7) whose lives Daniel had saved (2:12). When we do good to others, very often they aren’t merely ungrateful but positively resent us and seek to hurt us. This is a sad tendency of human nature, exemplified throughout history. If it happens to us, we must remember that it is in fact normal, and Biblical history is full of such examples, coming to their ultimate term in the Jewish hatred of their Saviour, Jesus.

3:18 Even if God didn’t preserve them, they would still serve Him alone. Perhaps they had Job’s words going round in their minds: “Though He slay me, yet will I trust in...
known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods, nor worship the golden image which you have set up. 19 Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and his face changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: therefore he commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was usually heated. 20 He commanded mighty men who were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to throw them into the burning fiery furnace. 21 Then these men were bound in their trousers, their tunics, and their mantles, and their other garments, and were thrown into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. 22 Therefore because the king’s commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire killed those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. 23 These three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. 24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste: he spoke and said to his counsellors, Didn’t we throw three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered the king, True, O king. 25 He answered, Look, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they are unharmed; and the appearance of the fourth is like a son of the gods. 26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace: he spoke and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, you servants of the Most High God, come out, and come here. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out of the midst of the fire. 27 The satraps, the deputies, and the governors, and the king’s counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power on their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their clothes changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them. 28 Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who has sent His angel, and delivered His servants who trusted in Him, these who have set aside the king’s command, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God. 29 Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speak anything evil against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a compost heap; because there is no other god who is able to deliver after this sort. 30 Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the province of Babylon.

3:28 Yielded their bodies – Alluded to in Rom. 6:13,19, where we are told that at baptism we yield our bodies in service to God as our true King and Master.
3:30 Where was Daniel at this time? Sick? Weak in faith? Away on business?
Another Dream for Nebuchadnezzar

Nebuchadnezzar the king, to all the peoples, nations, and languages, who dwell in all the earth: Peace be multiplied to you. 2 It has seemed good to me to show the signs and wonders that the Most High God has worked toward me. 3 How great are His signs! How mighty are His wonders! His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and His dominion is from generation to generation. 4 I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace. 5 I saw a dream which made me afraid; and the thoughts on my bed and the visions of my head troubled me. 6 Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might explain to me the interpretation of the dream. 7 Then came in the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers; and I told the dream before them; but they did not explain to me its interpretation. 8 But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods: and I told the dream before him, saying, 9 Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you, and no secret troubles you, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and its interpretation. 10 Thus were the visions of my head on my bed: I saw, and behold, a tree in the midst of the earth; and its height was great. 11 The tree grew, and was strong, and its height reached to the sky, and its sight to the end of all the earth. 12 The leaves of it were beautiful, and its fruit much, and in it was food for all: the animals of the field had their shadow under it, and the birds of the sky lived in its branches, and all flesh was fed from it. 13 I saw in the visions of my head on my bed, and behold, a watcher and a holy one came down from Heaven. 14 He cried aloud, and said thus: Cut down the tree, and cut off its branches, shake off its leaves, and scatter its fruit: let the animals get away from under it, and the birds from its branches. 15 Nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of the sky: and let his portion be with the animals in the grass of the earth: 16 let his heart be changed from man's, and let an animal's heart be given to him; and let seven times pass over him. 17 The sentence is by the decree of the watchers, and the judgment decision by the word of the holy ones; to the intent that

4:3 From generation to generation – Nebuchadnezzar learnt from his mistake of wanting his kingdom to last for ever – see on 3:1. He now recognizes the truth of the vision of chapter 2; that his kingdom and life were so very brief, and only God’s Kingdom will be eternal.

4:17 The Chaldee words translated “sentence”, “decree” and “judgment decision” are all legal terms. This is an insight into the court of Heaven – presumably the matter in the living may know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomsoever He will, and sets up over it the most abased of men. 18 This dream I, king Nebuchadnezzar, have seen; and you, Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, because all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known to me the interpretation; but you are able; for the spirit of the holy gods is in you.

The Dream’s Interpretation

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was stricken mute for a while, and his thoughts troubled him. The king answered, Belteshazzar, don’t let the dream, or the interpretation, trouble you. Belteshazzar answered, My lord, the dream is to the side of those who hate you, and its interpretation to your adversaries. 20 The tree that you saw, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached to the sky, and its view to all the earth; 21 whose leaves were beautiful, and its fruit much, and in it was food for all; under which the animals of the field lived, and under whose branches the birds of the sky had their habitation: 22 it is you, O king, that question was Nebuchadnezzar’s pride and his position on the Jews (Daniel’s advice in 4:27 to shew mercy to the poor may be a reference to what the King should’ve been doing to the Jews – perhaps by enabling their return to their land?). And a ‘judicial decision’ was made and “a watcher and a Holy One came down from Heaven” to operationalize it (:13). If this is the extent of Angelic attention to the heart of a Gentile king – how much more earnestly are they debating the states of our hearts and our actions, and issuing decrees for action accordingly? God doesn’t respond to the issues in our lives on autopilot, He doesn’t use standard form responses; there is real, live, active discussion about little you and me in the court of Heaven itself, with Angels sent hither and thither in response.

The kingdom of men – Whilst God is ultimately the King of His entire creation even now, He has given man freewill to rule the world and his own life as he wishes. Thus at present the world is comprised of “the kingdom of men”. At Christ’s return, “the kingdoms of the world (will) become the kingdom of our Lord, and of His Christ; and He shall reign for ever and ever” (Rev. 11:15). Then God’s will and desires will be completely and openly performed in this earth. Hence Jesus’ command for us to pray: “Your kingdom come (that) Your will be done on earth, as it is (now) in heaven” (Mt. 6:10).

The most abased – That most abased man was a reference to the Lord Jesus. He humbled Himself on the cross, that He might be exalted – to be King of God’s Kingdom. The equivalent Hebrew word is used in Is. 53:3 about Christ’s ultimate abasement on the cross.

4:19 Daniel in those moments must have been sorely tempted not to speak forth God’s word, suspecting it might cost him his life if he did. We too have those moments when we struggle whether or not to open our mouth and testify as we should.

4:21 A spreading tree giving much fruit to all who took refuge under it is the very idea used by the contemporary prophet Ezekiel (Ez. 17:23) in describing the true Kingdom of God. This was to point up the choice available to Israel: a part in the Kingdom of
Daniel has grown and become strong; for your greatness is grown, and reaches to the sky, and your dominion to the end of the earth. 23 Whereas the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from Heaven and saying, Cut down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of the sky: and let his portion be with the animals of the field, and let his portion be with the animals of the field, until seven times pass over him; 24 this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which has come on my lord the king: 25 that you shall be driven from men, and your dwelling shall be with the animals of the field, and you shall be made to eat grass as oxen, and shall be wet with the dew of the sky, and seven times shall pass over you; until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomsoever He will. 26 Whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree; your kingdom shall be sure to you, after that you shall have known that the Heavens do rule. 27 Therefore, O king, let my advice be acceptable to you, and break off your sins by righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; if there may be a lengthening of your prosperity.

The Interpretation Is Fulfilled
28 All this came on the king Nebuchadnezzar. 29 At the end of twelve months he was walking in the royal palace of Babylon. 30 The king spoke and said, Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the royal dwelling place, by the might of my power and for the glory of my majesty? 31 While the word was in the king’s mouth, there fell a voice from Heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to you it is spoken: The kingdom has

God, or that pseudo-Kingdom of this world. We have the same choice today, living as we do in spiritual Babylon.

4:25 Until you know – The King was still struggling to accept the truth of the chapter 2 vision, that his kingdom and life were very limited, and he must refocus himself upon God’s eternal Kingdom rather than upon his own life and kingdom. He theoretically had accepted the truth of this in 2:47 and 3:29; but he didn’t accept it in his heart until after his humiliation (:34). We may likewise struggle to really accept the Gospel of God’s coming Kingdom as we should; for believing in it requires a radical refocus of our lives today, right away from ourselves and our own lives and ‘kingdoms’.

Gives it to whoever He will – The fact God gives the kingdoms of this world to whoever He chooses should overarch our decision making when it comes to voting in elections and being involved in politics.

4:27 Daniel prophesied in clear enough language that Nebuchadnezzar would surely be driven away from among men and live as an animal. But he goes on to plead: “Let my advice be acceptable to you, and break off your sins by righteousness” – as if to say that no matter how definite and categoric the prophecy of punishment, it was after all conditional, even though the conditions weren’t even hinted at within the actual prophecy. God is so sensitive to human repentance.
departed from you: 32 and you shall be driven from men; and your dwelling shall be with the animals of the field; you shall be made to eat grass as oxen; and seven times shall pass over you; until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomsoever He will. 33 The same hour was the thing fulfilled on Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and ate grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the sky, until his hair was grown like eagles’ feathers, and his nails like birds’ claws. 34 At the end of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted up my eyes to heaven, and my understanding returned to me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured Him who lives forever; for His dominion is an everlasting dominion, and His kingdom from generation to generation. 35 All the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing; and He does according to His will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth; and none can stay His hand, or ask Him, What are You doing? 36 At the same time my understanding returned to me; and the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and brightness returned to me; and my officials and my lords sought to me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was added to me. 37 Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honour the King of heaven; for all His works are truth, and His ways justice; and those who walk in pride He is able to abase.

4:32 The world is under God’s control, not that of demons or supposed evil beings in Heaven.

CHAPTER 5 Oct. 27

Writing on the Wall

Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand. 2 Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, might drink from them. 3 Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of God’s house which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, drank from them. 4 They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone. 5 In the same hour came forth the fingers of a man’s hand, and wrote opposite the lampstand on the plaster of the wall of the king’s palace: and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote. 6 Then the king’s appearance changed, and his thoughts alarmed him; the joints of his thighs were loosened, and his knees struck one against another. 7 The king cried aloud to bring in the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. The king spoke and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whoever shall read this writing, and show me its interpretation, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom. 8 Then came in all the king’s wise men; but they could not read the writing, nor reveal to the king the interpretation. 9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his appearance was changed, and his lords were perplexed. 10 Now the queen because of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house: the queen spoke and said, O king, live forever; don’t let your thoughts trouble you, nor let your appearance be changed. 11 There is a man in your kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of your father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, were found in him. The king Nebuchadnezzar your father, the king, I say, your father, made him master of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and soothsayers; 12 because an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, the interpreting of dreams, and revealing of strange messages, solving of problems and dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will show the interpretation.

Daniel Interprets the Words

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spoke and said to Daniel, Are you that Daniel, who are of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? 14 I have heard of you, that the spirit of the gods is in you, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom are found in you. 15 Now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and tell me its interpretation; but they could not show the interpretation of the thing. 16 But I have heard of you, that you can give interpretations, and dissolve problems; now if you can read the writing, and tell me its interpretation, you shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about your neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom. 17 Then Daniel answered before the king, Let your gifts be to yourself, and give your rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing to the king, and tell him the interpretation. 18 As for you, O king, the Most High

5:13 This incident is so similar to Joseph being suddenly summoned to come in to the mighty king and explain a dream which was worrying him, on the recommendation of another who remembered his previous ability in interpreting dreams; and they were both rewarded by the king in similar ways (Gen. 41:14,40-42). The fact circumstances repeat within the lives of God’s children and also between people, one believer experiencing strangely similar situations to what another one has experienced, is all a sign that our lives are under God’s control, and they develop according to patterns which He uses and has used with others. This means that we can feel great fellowship with Bible characters, and also with other believers of our own age. Daniel must have immediately thought of Joseph as he received the command to come before the king, and would’ve been strengthened by it. Likewise the scene here in Daniel 5 of Gentiles praising their gods, mocking Yahweh, and then suddenly being destroyed was a repeat of that in Jud. 16:24.
God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty: and because of the greatness that He gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: whom he would he killed, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down. But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened so that he became proud, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him: and he was driven from men, and his heart was made like an animal’s’, and his dwelling was with the wild donkeys; he was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the sky; until he knew that the Most High God rules in the kingdom of men, and that He sets up over it whomsoever He will. You, his son, Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart, though you knew all this, but have lifted up yourself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of His house before you, and you and your lords, your wives and your concubines, have drunk wine from them; and you have praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which don’t see, nor hear, nor know; and the God in whose hand your breath is, and whose are all your ways, you have not glorified.

Then was the part of the hand sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed: MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSHIN. This is the interpretation of it: MENE; God has numbered your kingdom, and brought it to an end; TEKEL; you are weighed in the balances, and are found wanting. PERES; your kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians. Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom. In that night Belshazzar the king of the Chaldees was slain. Darius the Mede received the kingdom, being about sixty-two years old.

5:20 His spirit was hardened – The hardening was done by God. He confirmed Nebuchadnezzar in the mental position he chose to adopt. The language is similar to how God hardened Pharaoh’s heart, after Pharaoh had hardened his own heart.

5:22 Though you knew all this – A classic example of how knowledge brings responsibility to God’s judgment (Lk. 12:48; Jn. 15:22).

You, his son, Belshazzar – Triple emphasis is given to the fact that God was watching and speaking so directly and personally to this man, whose name He knew.

5:26 Numbered – God allows things to happen and permits nations to prosper for specific periods of time. The number of our days is likewise numbered (Job 7:1; 14:5; 38:21). God isn’t absent from our world; everything is under amazingly tight observation and control.

5:27 Judgment is in a sense ongoing in this life; it’s not that God is indifferent now, and will weigh our case only at the last day. Right now, human lives are weighed before God.
Daniel in the Lions’ Den

It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom one hundred and twenty satraps, who should be throughout the whole kingdom; 2 and over them three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; so that these satraps might give account to them, and that the king should have no loss. 3 Then Daniel was promoted above the presidents and the satraps, because an excellently wise spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole kingdom. 4 Then the presidents and the satraps sought to find occasion against Daniel regarding the things of the kingdom; but they could find no case nor fault, because he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him. 5 Then these men said, We shall not find any occasion against Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God. 6 Then these presidents and satraps assembled together to the king, and said to him, King Darius, live forever. 7 All the presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the counsellors and the governors, have consulted together in order to establish a royal statute, and to make an enforced decree, that whoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, except of you, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. 8 Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it cannot be changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which doesn’t alter. 9 Therefore king Darius signed the writing and the decree. 10 When Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he still went into his house (now his windows in his room were open toward Jerusalem) and he kneeled on his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did previously. 11 Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. 12 Then they came near, and spoke before the king concerning the king’s decree: Haven’t you signed a decree, that every man who shall make petition to any god or man within thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered, That is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which doesn’t alter. 13 Then they responded and said to the king, That Daniel, who is of the captives of Judah, doesn’t respect you, O king, nor the decree that you have signed, but makes his petition three times a day. 14 Then 6:10 Daniel could have just prayed privately, in his heart. Many other Jews probably did this. But he chose to continue to openly pray. He was prepared to give his life for what was only a conscience issue. We too must establish and be prepared to live by our conscience, no matter what others think. Note that Daniel and other faithful believers like David (Ps. 55:17; 119:164) prayed regularly, just as the incense (cp. prayer) was offered regularly. Regular prayer is a good discipline in the life of the believer, rather than praying only when we have the mood or in emergencies. Daniel was willing to die in justification of his habit of open, unashamed, regular prayer.

the king, when he heard these words, was very displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to save him; and he struggled until the going down of the sun to save him. 15 Then these men assembled together to the king, and said to the king, Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no decree nor statute which the king establishes may be changed. 16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spoke and said to Daniel, Your God whom you serve continually, He will deliver you. 17 A stone was brought, and laid on the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet ring, and with the signet ring of his lords; so that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. 18 Then the king went to his palace, and spent the night fasting; no musical instruments were brought before him: and his sleep fled from him. 19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in urgency to the den of lions. 20 When he came near to the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice; the king spoke and said to Daniel: Daniel, servant of the living God, is your God, whom you serve continually, able to deliver you from the lions? 21 Then Daniel said to the king, O king, live forever. 22 My God has sent His angel, and has shut the lions’ mouths, and they have not destroyed me; because before Him innocence was found in me; and also before you, O king, have I done nothing wrong. 23 Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no kind of harm was found on him, because he had trusted in his God. 24 The king commanded, and they brought those men who had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions mauled them, and broke all their bones in pieces, before they came to the bottom of the den. 25 Then king Darius wrote to all the peoples, nations, and languages, who dwell in 6:20 You serve continually – Darius was referring to Daniel’s continual prayer. Prayer is a service to God; something we can do even if we incapable of doing any more physical, external service to Him.

6:22 The mouths of the lions were closed so that they did not “destroy” Daniel; and because of this, Darius praises God, saying that His Kingdom would never be ‘destroyed’ (:26, same original word). Daniel was not destroyed; and thus Darius came to believe that God’s Kingdom would not be destroyed. Daniel was set up as a living part and foretaste of that Kingdom, just as we too are to exemplify the life of the future Kingdom in our lives today; in this sense we ‘have eternal life’ in that we live the kind of lives which we will eternally live in God’s future Kingdom. To a far greater extent, “the Kingdom of God” is a title given to the Lord Jesus – because He in His mortal life was the essence of that Kingdom, the embodiment of the life which shall then be lived.

6:25 Note how Daniel is presented as a type of Christ in this chapter. :14 The ruler labouring not to kill a righteous man, manipulated by his own underlings = Pilate; :17
all the earth: Peace be multiplied to you. 26 I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel; for He is the living God, and steadfast forever, His kingdom that which shall not be destroyed; and His dominion shall remain to the end. 27 He delivers and rescues, and He works signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, He who has delivered Daniel from the power of the lions. 28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

CHAPTER 7 Oct. 29
Daniel’s Dream – Four Beasts

n the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream on his bed: then he wrote the dream and told the conclusion of the matters. 2 Daniel spoke and said, I saw in my dream and, behold, the four winds of Heaven broke forth upon the great sea. 3 Four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another. 4 The first was like a lion, and had eagle’s wings: I saw until its wings were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand on two feet as a man; and a man’s heart was given to it. 5 Behold, another beast, a second, like a bear; and it was raised up on one side, and three ribs were in its mouth between its teeth: and they said thus to it. Arise, devour much flesh. 6 After this I saw, and behold, another, like a leopard, which had on its back four wings of a bird; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it. 7 After this I saw in the night visions, and, behold, a fourth beast, awesome and powerful, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth; it devoured and broke in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet:

Den of lions – den s.w. pit Is. 14:15, where it is paralleled with the grave. :17 Stone sealed and put on the mouth of the cave [den]= Mt. 27:66; :17 the purpose could not be changed regarding Daniel’s death= Jesus died by the determinate counsel of God, Acts 2:23; :22 An Angel sent; :22 ‘resurrection’ early in the morning; :22 Daniel not hurt because innocency found in him = Acts 2:24; :23 Daniel taken up out of the den = resurrection and ascension, s.w. Ps. 139:8 who shall ascend to Heaven; :23 no damage was found on Daniel implies they examined his body= Lk. 24:39; :25,26 decree = great commission to spread the knowledge of God’s Kingdom which we must fulfill after the Lord’s resurrection.

7:7 Note the emphasis in Dan.7 that the fourth beast is totally different from all other beasts. The Roman empire was not so completely different from the preceding empires to warrant this description. 7:7,19 imply that the vision of the fourth beast and little horn was separate from his vision of the four beasts (:2). The first vision was of four beasts and therefore included some reference to the fourth beast, in its manifestation as the Roman empire. But “after this” (:7) there was the more detailed vision of the fourth beast and little horn. This alone implies that they were to have a special manifestation in the last days. The awesome power and strength of this system amazed Daniel, despite what he had already seen. In Daniel’s first vision of the four beasts he says that they were “different one from another” (:3). But in the second vision he realized that the fourth beast “was different from all beasts that were before it” (:7), as if it was diverse from all the beasts that preceded it; and it had ten horns. 8 I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things.

9 I saw until thrones were placed, and One who was the ancient of days sat: his clothing was white as snow, and the hair of His head like pure wool; His throne was fiery flames, and its wheels burning fire. 10 A fiery stream came forth from before Him: thousands of thousands ministered to Him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before Him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened. 11 I saw at that time because of the voice of the great words which the horn spoke; I saw even until the beast was slain, and its body destroyed, and it was given to be burned with fire.

12 As for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. 13 I saw in the night visions, and behold, there came with the clouds of the sky One like a son of man, and he came up to the ancient of days, and they brought him near before Him. 14 There was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

The Interpretation

15 As for me Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me. 16 I came near to one of those who stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things. 17 These great animals, which are four, are four kings, who shall arise out of the land. 18 But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom forever, even forever and ever.

19 Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth beast, which was so different from all of them, exceedingly terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and its nails of brass; which devoured, broke in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet; 20 and concerning the ten horns that they were all relatively similar. The persecuting power we are about to see revealed will thus not be a political or religious power of the type previously seen in history. It is therefore almost beyond our conception of exactly how large and strong this power will be: a world superpower directing its venom against Jews and true Christians.

were on its head, and the other horn which came up, and before whom three fell, even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spoke great things, whose appearance was more aggressive than its fellows. 21 I saw, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; 22 until the ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High, and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom. 23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom on the land, which shall be different from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole land, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces. 24 As for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be different from the former, and he shall put down three kings. 25 He shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear down the saints of the Most High; and he shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time. 26 But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it to the end. 27 The kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole Heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High: His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey Him. 28 Here is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my thoughts much troubled me, and my appearance was changed: but I kept the matter in my heart.

7:22 The metals of the image in Daniel 2 have their counterpart in the vision of the beasts in Daniel 7. The little stone (Christ) hits the image on the feet and then destroys all the metals together. This means that in some sense the image must stand complete in the last days. The various beasts and metals must all be in existence at the time of Christ’s return in order for Him to destroy them by his coming. The little stone hits the image on its ten toes – corresponding to the ten horns of the fourth beast of Dan.7. The ten horns must in a sense be in existence at the time of Christ’s coming. Amongst the horns there develops a “little horn” (:8) which persecutes the saints, but is destroyed by Christ’s return (:8-11). This horn “made war with the saints... until the ancient of days came” (:21,22). Thus the saints will in some way be under persecution when Christ comes. This may be yet future; or it could be that the colossal moral pressure upon true Christians from every angle which we now experience is in fact effectively persecution.

7:25 “A time (a year), times (two years) and an half”, i.e. 3.5 years (7:25; 12:7; Rev.12:14). The New Testament speaks of a similar period of 1,260 days -also 3.5 years (Rev.12:6; 11:3); 42 months (3.5 years) (Rev.11:2; 13:5). It seems fair to assume that they are all speaking of an identical or associated period of time. See 9:26.

8:1 There are few Bible characters who use their own name so much – but Daniel is me, even to me, I Daniel, after that which appeared to me at the first.
2 I saw in the vision; now it was so, that when I saw, I was in the citadel of Susa, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in the vision, and I was by the river Ulai.
3 Then I lifted up my eyes and looked, and behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last.
4 I saw the ram pushing westward, northward, and southward; and no beasts could stand before him, neither was there any who could deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and magnified himself.
5 As I was considering, behold, a male goat came from the west over the surface of the whole land, and didn’t touch the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes.
6 He came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran on him in the fury of his power.
7 I saw him come close to the ram, and he was moved with anger against him, and struck the ram, and broke his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him; but he cast him down to the ground, and trampled on him; and there was none who could deliver the ram out of his hand.
8 The male goat magnified himself exceedingly: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and in the place of it there came up four notable horns toward the four winds of the sky.
9 Out of one of them came forth a little horn, which grew exceedingly great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the glorious land.
10 It grew great, even to the army of Heaven; and some of the army and of the stars it cast down to the ground, and trampled on them.
11 Yes, it magnified itself, even to the prince of the army; and it took away from him the continual burnt offering, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.
12 The army was given over to it along with the continual burnt offering on account of disobedience; and it cast down the truth to the ground, and it did according to its will and prospered.
13 Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said to that certain always calling himself “I, Daniel” (7:28; 8:1,15,27; 9:2; 10:2,7; 12:5), despite having been given a Babylonian name. His self-perception was very clearly that he was a Hebrew, and a witness to God’s justice / judgment. Daniel has much to teach the man or woman caught up in the corporate life, the engrossing pull of business, education or social contact. His self-perception was that he was not of his surrounding world, even though those around him wanted to see him as one of them. And further, God Himself frequently addresses Daniel by his name – “Daniel”. Daniel realized that this was how God perceived him; and he wished to perceive himself as God perceived him. And he didn’t show one face to the world, and one to God. He openly showed himself to the world as he perceived himself, and he perceived himself as God perceived him. We too should show no shadow self to this world, no appearance; but the person whom we essentially are, and whom God perceives us as being. His children, His witnesses, His people.
one who spoke, How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt offering, and the abomination that makes desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the army to be trodden under foot? 14 He said to me, To two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed. 15 It happened when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, that I sought to understand it; and behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man. 16 I heard a man’s voice between the banks of the Ulai which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision. 17 So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was frightened, and fell on my face: but he said to me, Understand, son of man; for the vision concerns the time of the end. 18 Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground; but he touched me, and set me upright. 19 He said, See, I will make you know what shall be in the latter time of the indignation; for it concerns the appointed time of the end. 20 The ram which you saw, that had the two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia. 21 The rough male goat is the king of Greece: and the great horn that is between his eyes is the first king. 22 As for that which was broken, in the place where four stood up, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not with his power. 23 In the latter time of their kingdom, when the wicked have come to the full, a king of fierce appearance and understanding mysteries shall stand up. 24 His power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; he shall be very destructive, and shall prosper and do his own will; and he shall destroy the mighty ones and the holy people. 25 Through his policy he shall cause deceit to prosper; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and in their security shall he destroy many: he shall also stand up against the prince of princes; but he shall be broken without human hand. 26 The vision of the evenings and mornings which has been told is true: but seal up the vision; for it belongs to many days to come.

8:15 Daniel sought to understand the meaning of a vision; but two verses earlier, an Angel had asked another Angel for understanding of the same vision. Here we have the practical meaning, in Angelic terms, of God knowing our prayers and arranging the answers before we even ask them. Perhaps it was Daniel’s guardian Angel who asked a more senior Angel for the interpretation of the vision, knowing Daniel was going to be asking for it. Yet it was the second Angel who actually gave the answer to Daniel (:14). Verse 16 describes the one Angel standing at the Ulai river calling out: “Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision”. Yet at this time, Daniel himself was in vision at the Ulai river (:2). His guardian Angel was there, right in front of him. And He had foreknown Daniel’s feelings and arranged for another Angel to respond to them... and so the second Angel (Gabriel) also comes near where Daniel was standing (:17). His guardian Angel had literally called Gabriel to come over to Daniel... And all this kind of thing is going on for us hourly in the court of Heaven!
In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans, 2 in the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by the books the number of the years about which the word of Yahweh had come to Jeremiah the prophet for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years. 3 I set my face to the Lord God, to seek by prayer and petitions, with fasting and sackcloth and ashes. 4 I prayed to Yahweh my God, and made confession, and said, Oh Lord, the great and dreadful God, who keeps covenant and loving kindness with those who love Him and keep His commandments, 5 we have sinned and have dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even turning aside from Your precepts and from Your ordinances; 6 neither have we listened to Your servants the prophets, who spoke in Your name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. 7 Lord, righteousness belongs to You, but to us shame of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, who are near and who are far off, through all the countries where You have driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against You. 8 Lord, to us belongs shame of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against You. 9 To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgiveness; for we have rebelled against Him; 10 neither have we obeyed the voice of Yahweh our God to walk in His laws, which He set before us by His servants the prophets. 11 Yes, all Israel have transgressed Your law, turning aside, that they should not obey Your voice: therefore the curse and the oath written in the law of Moses the servant of God has been poured out on us; for we have sinned against Him. 12 He has confirmed His words which He spoke against us, and against our judges who judged us, by bringing on us a great evil; for under the whole Heaven such has not been done as has been done to Jerusalem. 13 As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil has come on us: yet have we not entreated the favour of Yahweh our God, that we should turn from our iniquities, and accept Your truth. 14 Therefore has Yahweh watched over the evil, and brought it on us; for Yahweh our God is righteous in all His works which He does, and we have not obeyed His voice. 15 Now, Lord our God, You who brought Your people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and has

9:12 God brought the “evil” or disaster (:14); there is no personal Satan who does this, God creates both good and evil in a judicial sense (Is. 45:5-7).

9:15 We have sinned – So often in this prayer, Daniel associates himself with his sinful people. No matter how weak we perceive our fellow believers to be, we are part of gotten Yourself renown, as at this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly. 16 Lord, according to all Your righteousness, please let Your anger and Your wrath be turned away from Your city Jerusalem, Your holy mountain; because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and Your people have become a reproach to all who are around us. 17 Now therefore, our God, listen to the prayer of Your servant, and to his petitions, and cause Your face to shine on Your sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord’s sake. 18 My God, turn Your ear, and hear; open Your eyes, and see our desolations, and the city which is called by Your name: for we do not present our petitions before You for our righteousness, but for Your great mercies’ sake. 19 Lord, hear; Lord, forgive; Lord, listen and do; don’t defer, for Your own sake, my God, because Your city and Your people are called by Your name.

The Seventy Weeks
20 While I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before Yahweh my God for the holy mountain of my God; 21 yes, while I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening offering. 22 He instructed me, and talked with me, and said, Daniel, I am now come forth to give you wisdom and understanding. 23 At the beginning of your petitions the commandment went forth, and I have come to tell you; for you are greatly beloved: therefore consider the matter, and understand the vision. 24 Seventy weeks are decreed on your people and on your holy city, to finish disobedience, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most holy. 25 Know therefore and discern, that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem to the Anointed One, the prince, shall be seven weeks, and sixty-two weeks: it shall be built again, with street and moat, even in troubled times. 26 After the sixty-two weeks the Anointed One shall be cut off, and shall have the body of Christ as they are, and we cannot in this sense disassociate ourselves from them. When we see their sins, we should feel shame for the fact that the body of God’s people behave like this, and ask God to forgive us.

9:23 See on 10:2.

9:26 69 weeks is 483 days. On the basis of a day for a year, this would make 483 years. However, Jewish time is often reckoned in Lunar cycles rather than Solar, as Europeans are accustomed to. The decree of Artaxerxes to rebuild Jerusalem was given BC457. On the basis of Lunar time, 69 weeks of years comes out at 486.5 Lunar years. Allowing for a BC/AD calendar inaccuracy of 4 years, this brings us to AD33.5 for the time of Messiah being cut off; which is exactly when Jesus was crucified, 33.5 years after his birth. The 69 weeks being split into 7 weeks and 62 weeks is under-nothing: and the people of the prince who shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and its end shall be with a flood, and even to the end shall be war; desolations are determined. 27 He shall make a firm covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week He shall cause the sacrifice and the offering to cease; and on the wing of abominations shall come desolation even to the full end, and the wrath that is determined shall be poured out on the one who makes desolate.

A Vision of a Man

In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia something was revealed to Daniel, whose name was called Beltshazzar; and it was true, even a great warfare: and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision. 2 In those days I Daniel was standable once it is appreciated that most Bible prophecy has some immediate reference to the period around which it was given. 7 weeks of years would come to around 50 years. According to the records of the rebuilding of Jerusalem in Ezra, Nehemiah and Haggai it would appear that the bulk of the work was done in the 50 years after the issuing of the decree for rebuilding. This mini time period would doubtless have been of great encouragement to the Jews of the time as they laboured in the rebuilding work amidst so much opposition. The final week of tribulation is hard to interpret, perhaps because if Israel had accepted Christ as Messiah as intended, it could have been fulfilled without the delay which was necessitated. One possibility is that the 3.5 year tribulation of Jerusalem at the hands of the Romans between AD67 and AD70 was the half week in which the sacrifices ceased to be offered in the Jerusalem temple (:27). The remaining half week would be fulfilled in the final 3.5 year tribulation before Christ’s return (see 7:25). The jump in fulfilment from AD33 to AD70 and then to the last days is the same kind of hiatus found in the gap between the legs and the feet of the image in Dan. 2, and between the succession of beasts and then the terrible beast and the little horn in Dan. 7. These are but suggestions for the interpretation of some of the hardest words in the Bible.

10:2 Verses 2 and 3 show Daniel praying for three weeks – presumably for the fortunes of Israel to be restored. As the days went by, it would have seemed natural to assume that the prayer was going unanswered. However, the Angel told him that “from the first day... your words were heard” (:12), but the delay was because “the prince of the Kingdom of Persia withstood me (the Angel) twenty-one days” – i.e. three weeks. So his first prayer was heard, but it took the Angel three weeks to work out the answer in practice. How many of our prayers are like that! The Angel then describes how he confirmed and strengthened Darius (11:1) to the same end to enable the prayer to be answered – as if when our Angel sees someone set in a course of action which will lead to the answer of our prayer, they are confirmed and strengthened in it. The same idea is found in 9:23; a command being given from God to answer a prayer as soon as it’s prayed, but there being a delay to the answer due to the Angels effecting the answer. The wonder of all this needs some reflection. Our words, the thoughts within human braincells, call forth the Angels from the court of Heaven. Our prayers may be answered immediately, but it takes time for the answers to be worked out.
mourning three whole weeks. 3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine into my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, until three whole weeks were fulfilled. 4 In the twenty fourth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river which is Hiddekel, 5 I lifted up my eyes, and looked, and behold, a man clothed in linen, whose thighs were adorned with pure gold of Uphaz: 6 his body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as flaming torches, and his arms and his feet like burnished brass, and his voice like the voice of a multitude. 7 I Daniel alone saw the vision; for the men who were with me didn’t see the vision; but a great trembling fell on them, and they fled to hide themselves. 8 So I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me; for my moisture was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength. 9 Yet heard I the voice of his words; and at the time I heard the voice of his words, I had fallen into a deep sleep on my face, with my face toward the ground. 10 Behold, a hand touched me, which set me on my knees and on the palms of my hands. 11 He said to me, Daniel, you man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak to you, and stand upright; for I am now sent to you. When he had spoken this word to me, I stood trembling. 12 Then he said to me, Don’t be afraid, Daniel; for from the first day that you set your heart to understand, and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard: and I have come for your words’ sake. 13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me twenty-one days; but, behold, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me: and I remained there with the kings of Persia. 14 Now I have come to make you understand what shall happen to your people in the latter days; for the vision is yet for many days. 15 And when he had spoken to me according to these words, I set my face toward the ground, and was mute. 16 Then behold, one in the likeness of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spoke and said to him who stood before me: My lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows are turned on me, and I retain no strength. 17 For how can my Lord’s servant talk with my lord? For as for me, immediately there remained no strength in me, neither was there breath left in me. 18 Then there touched me again one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me. 19 He said, Greatly beloved man, don’t be afraid: peace be to you, be strong, yes, be 10:12 An Angel is sent from Heaven to earth for the sake of human words… The prayers of a man standing at a bus stop on earth can call forth cosmic action. This is the power of prayer, and the extent of God’s sensitivity to us. 10:19 Whenever Angels appear to people on earth, the people are afraid, but the Angel comforts them not to fear. It will be the same when the Angel appears to gather us to meet Christ at His return.

strong. When he spoke to me, I was strengthened and said, Let my lord speak; for you have strengthened me. 20 Then he said, Do you know why I have come to you? Now I will return to fight with the prince of Persia. When I go forth, behold, the prince of Greece shall come. 21 But I will tell you that which is inscribed in the writing of truth: and there is none who holds with me against these, but Michael your prince.

CHAPTER 11

Nov. 2

The King of the South and the King of the North

As for me, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him. 2 Now will I show you the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and when he has grown strong through his riches, he shall stir up all against the realm of Greece. 3 A mighty king shall stand up, who shall rule with great power, and do according to his will. 4 When he has arisen, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of the sky, but not to his posterity, nor according to his power with which he ruled; for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others besides these. 5 The king of the south shall be strong, and also one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion. 6 At the end of years they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make an agreement: but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and those who brought her, and he who became the father of her, and he who strengthened her in those times. 7 But out of a shoot from her roots shall one stand up in his place, who shall come to the army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail. 8 Also their gods, with their molten images, and with their attractive vessels of silver and of gold, shall he carry captive into Egypt; and he shall refrain some years from the king of the north. 9 He shall come into the realm of the king of the south, but he shall return into his own land. 10 His sons shall war, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces, which shall come on, and overflow, and pass through; and they shall return and war, even to his fortress. 11 The king of the south shall be moved with anger, and shall come forth and 11:3 The “mighty king” is Alexander the Great; as soon as he arose to great power, he died and his empire was split amongst his generals (:4). This is confirmation of the prophecy in Daniel 2 that the Greek empire would also pass off the scene. The rest of the chapter describes how the situation after his death developed in relation to those nations who had domination over Israel; how the mighty powers fought with each other, their fortunes ebbed and faded according to the amount of time God had assigned them.

fight with him, even with the king of the north; and he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be given into his hand. 12 The multitude shall be lifted up, and his heart shall be exalted; and he shall cast down tens of thousands, but he shall not prevail. 13 The king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former; and he shall come on at the end of the times, even of years, with a great army and with much substance. 14 In those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also the children of the violent among your people shall lift themselves up to establish the vision; but they shall fall. 15 So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mound, and take a well-fortified city: and the forces of the south shall not stand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to stand. 16 But he who comes against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him; and he shall stand in the glorious land, and in his hand shall be destruction. 17 He shall set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, and he shall bring terms of an agreement and perform them. He shall give him the daughter of women, to corrupt her; but she shall not stand, neither be for him. 18 After this shall he turn his face to the islands, and shall take many: but a commander shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease; yes, moreover, he shall cause his insolence to return upon him. 19 Then he shall turn his face toward the fortresses of his own land; but he shall stumble and fall, and shall not be found. 20 Then shall stand up in his place one who shall cause a tax collector to pass through the kingdom to maintain its glory; but within a few days he shall be destroyed, neither in anger, nor in battle. 21 In his place shall arise a contemptible person, to whom they had not given the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in time of security, and shall obtain the kingdom by flatteries. 22 The overwhelming forces shall be overwhelmed from before him, and shall be broken; even the prince of the covenant. 23 After the treaty made with him he shall work deceitfully; for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people. 24 Without warning he shall come into the richest parts of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers’ fathers; he shall scatter among them prey and spoil and substance: moreover, he shall devise his devices against the strongholds, but only for a time. 25 He shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall war in battle with an exceeding great and mighty army; but he shall not stand; for they

11:25 Not stand – This is typical of the language found in this chapter. The rival kingdoms of men appear so powerful and stable, and are so confident – for a time. Chapter 2 has explained how human empires all pass off the scene, they cannot ‘stand’ for ever, they last only for a time, and will be finally replaced by God’s eternal Kingdom shall devise devices against him. Yes, they who eat of his dainties shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow; and many shall fall down slain. As for both these kings, their hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table: but it shall not prosper; for yet the end shall be at the time appointed. Then shall he return into his land with great riches; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do his pleasure, and return to his own land. At the time appointed he shall return, and come into the south; but it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the former. For ships of Kittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be afraid and shall withdraw, and have indignation against the holy covenant, and shall do his pleasure: he shall even return, and pay attention to those who forsake the holy covenant. Forces from him shall appear, and they shall profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and shall take away the continual burnt offering, and they shall set up the abomination that makes desolate. Such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he pervert by flatteries; but the people who know their God shall be strong, and do exploits. Those who are wise among the people shall instruct many; yet they shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. Now when they shall fall, they shall be helped with a little help; but many shall join themselves to them with flattery. Some of those who are wise shall stumble, to refine them, and to purify, and to make them white, until the time of the end; because it is yet for the time appointed. The king shall do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods; and he shall prosper until the indignation be accomplished; for that which is decreed shall be done. Neither shall he regard the gods of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god; for he shall magnify himself above all. But instead he shall honour the god of fortresses; and a god whom his fathers didn’t know shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things. He shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a foreign god: whoever acknowledges him he will increase with glory; and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for a price.

when Christ returns. Regardless of the exact details of fulfilment, the chapter gives us the general impression of the vanity of human strength, how all human beauty fades to grey, earth’s proud empires pass away, and only the things and people of God’s eternal future Kingdom will ultimately stand for ever.

11:31-36 This describes the situation at the time of the Maccabees. However, Jesus speaks of the abomination as also being set up in the last days before His return (Mt. 24:15; Mk. 13:14). So whatever fulfilments these words had in the time e.g. of Antiochus, they were only precursors of the main fulfilment in our last days.
The Time of the End

40 At the time of the end shall the king of the south contend with him; and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass through. 41 He shall also come into the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown; but these shall be delivered out of his hand: Edom, and Moab, and the chief leader of the children of Ammon. 42 He shall stretch out his hand also on the countries; and the land of Egypt shall not escape. 43 But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt; and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps. 44 But news out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him; and he shall go forth with great fury to destroy and to devote many to destruction. 45 He shall plant the tents of his palace between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

The Faithful in the Last Days

At that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince who stands for the children of your people; and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time your people shall be delivered, everyone who shall be found written in the book. 2 Many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. 3 Those who are wise shall shine as the brightness of the expanse; and those who turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever. 4 But you, Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book until the time of its fulfilment: many shall run back and forth, and knowledge shall be increased. 5 Then I Daniel looked, and behold, two others stood, one on the river bank on this side, and the other on the river bank on that side. 6 One said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders? 7 I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand to heaven, and swore by Him who lives forever that it shall be for a time, times, and a half; and when they have made an end of breaking in pieces the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished. 8 I heard, but I didn’t understand: then I said, my lord, what shall be the issue of these things? 9 He said, Go your way, Daniel; for the words are shut up and sealed until the time of the end. 10 Many shall purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be refined; but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand; but those who are wise shall understand. 11 From the time that the continual burnt offering shall be taken away, and the abomination that makes desolate set up, there shall be one thousand two hundred and ninety days. 12 Blessed is he who waits, and comes to the one thousand three hundred and thirty-five days. 13 But go you your way until the end; for you shall rest, and shall stand in your lot, at the end of the days.

this knowledge powerfully. The purpose of prophecy isn’t to predict the future, but so that the generation who live at the time of its fulfilment will understand (as in Jn. 13:19; 14:29).

12:7 Time, times... See on 7:25.

12:10 In the last days, “the wise shall understand” (12:10). Wisdom and Daniel are clearly associated, at least eight times (Dan. 1:17; 2:13,14,18,24,27,48; Ez. 28:3); as are Daniel and a desire to understand. Yet Daniel did not fully understand his latter day prophecies; “the wise shall understand” in the last days, Daniel was comforted. In other words, there will be a ‘Daniel’ category in the last days who will share his wisdom, sharing the character of Daniel, and who will be given the understanding he so earnestly sought.

12:13 A promise to Daniel of personal resurrection and receiving a specific place or “lot” in God’s future Kingdom on earth.
CHAPTER 1

The beginning of the word of Yahweh that came to Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

Hosea’s Family

2 When Yahweh spoke at first by Hosea, Yahweh said to Hosea, Go, take for yourself a wife of prostitution and children of unfaithfulness; for the land commits great adultery, forsaking Yahweh. 3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and bore him a son. 4 Yahweh said to him, call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel on the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease. 5 It will happen in that day that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel. 6 She conceived again, and bore a daughter. Then he said to him, Call her name Lo-Ruhamah; for I will no longer have mercy on the house of Israel, that I should in any way pardon them. 7 But I will have mercy on the house of Judah, and will save them by Yahweh their God, and will not save them by bow, sword, battle, horses, or horsemen. 8 Now when she had weaned Lo-Ruhamah, she conceived, and bore a son. 9 He said, Call his name Lo-Ammi; for you are not My people, and I will not be yours. 10 Yet the number of the children of Israel will be as the sand of the sea, which can’t be measured nor numbered; and it will come to pass that, in the place where it was said to them, ‘You are not My people’, they will be called ‘sons of the living.

1:2 The first three chapters of Hosea are about his marriage to a prostitute, who had children by other men and who were therefore not his children. Yet Hosea loved her, and oscillates between anger and passionate pleading with her. He fantasizes about how wonderful it would be to have her committed to him, and speculates as to how he might bring her to this. His relationship with her represented God’s with Israel, and chapter 4 onwards speaks of God’s situation with Israel in the language of marriage and intimate relationship. It may be possible to reason back from some of these chapters to understand other aspects of the Hosea: Gomer relationship. The beginning – He’d have been tempted to just ignore it, to think he’d been dreaming something, to run away from it. But to his credit, he obeyed. According to the Mosaic Law, a whore should be burnt, not married. Hosea was told to break the letter of the Law, and marry a prostitute; thus he began what was to be quite a theme in both his life and his prophecy – that in the face of sin, God shows His grace. We’ve likely all seen this in our own lives – at our very weakest moments, the kindness and care of God for us is revealed.

1:10 Yet the number – “Yet” is the challenging word. In the face of all Israel’s sin, in the face of the inevitable judgment which this attracted, in the very moment when it is declared, God goes on to speak of His loving salvation. This is so hard for humans to God’. 11 The children of Judah and the children of Israel will be gathered together, and they will appoint themselves one head, and will go up from the land; for great will be the day of Jezreel.

CHAPTER 2

Punishment and Restoration

Say to your brothers, ‘Ammi! [My people]!’ and to your sisters, ‘Ruhamah! [I will have mercy!]’.

2 Contend with your mother! Contend, for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband; and let her therefore put away her prostitution from her face, and her adulteries from between her breasts; 3 lest I strip her naked, and make her bare as in the day that she was born, and make her like a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and kill her with thirst.

take on board, called as we are to manifest this same grace of God. In the heat of the moment of others’ sin against us, we rarely find it in us to think let alone speak of their ultimate hope of salvation by grace. But this is the challenge of Hosea.

2:3 Lest I strip her naked... and kill her – The punishment for a prostitute, a punishment which she should’ve had at the start. But instead of this punishment, Hosea had married her. We are perhaps nervous to equate our sinfulness, our rebellion, our unfaithfulness, with Gomer’s prostitution. But this, surely, is what we are intended to do, and to thereby perceive the extent of God’s patient love toward us, to the end that that grace and goodness might lead us to repentance. Because Hosea had so loved this woman, he had legitimate feelings of anger – as does God, having loved us so much. Hosea was the wounded lover, the betrayed man. And these are exactly the feelings of God over the unfaithfulness of His people. The threat to strip her naked was what was done in the case of divorce for adultery. “She is not my wife, neither am I her husband” (2:2) is a quotation from a Jewish divorce formula. Likewise the threat to withdraw her clothing, her “wool and linen” (2:9) likely refers to the obligation a husband had to his wife. Yet for all this talk of divorce, Hosea keeps wanting Gomer to return to him; in his heart he keeps coming back to her. This was an exact reflection of God’s feelings for His people. Hosea did everything for this worthless woman. He gave her “the grain, the new wine, and the oil, and multiplied to her silver and gold, which they used for Baal” (2:8). He was a wealthy man, and yet gave it all to his wife, who in turn blew it all with her boyfriends on Baal worship. It’s like the millionaire marrying a worthless woman who manipulates him into giving her his money, which she blows down at the casino day by day, and sleeps with the guys she hangs out with down there. But “she did not recognize that it was Me who gave her” all these things (2:8) – i.e. she didn’t appreciate it. And so Hosea decides that he will withdraw this generosity from her, and then, he surmises, “she will say, ‘I will go and return to my first husband’” (2:7). This was Hosea’s hope, and in his own mind, he put these words in her mouth. The hopefulness of Hosea was a reflection of the love he had for her. And all this speaks eloquently of the hopefulness of the Almighty Father who thought “surely they will reverence My Son” when He sent Him. And the purposeful anti-climax of the parable is that no, they don’t and won’t reverence His Son, and even worse, they kill Him. In the same way as Hosea had this plan to get Gomer to “return” to him, so God likewise planned that “afterward the children of Israel shall return, and seek Yahweh” (3:5). Both God and Hosea thought that their beloved would return if Indeed, on her children I will have no mercy; for they are children of unfaithfulness; 5 for their mother has played the prostitute. She who conceived them has done shamefully; for she said, ‘I will go after my lovers, who give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, my oil and my drink’. 6 Therefore behold, I will hedge up your way with thorns, and I will build a wall against her, that she can’t find her way. 7 She will follow after her lovers, but she won’t overtake them; and she will seek them, but won’t find them. Then she will say, ‘I will go and return to my first husband; for then was it better with me than now’. 8 For she did not recognize that it was I who gave her the grain, the new wine, and the oil, and multiplied to her silver and gold, which they used for Baal. 9 Therefore I will take back My grain in its time, and My new wine in its season, and will pluck away My wool and My linen which should have covered her nakedness. 10 Now I will uncover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and no one will deliver her out of My hand. 11 I will also cause all her celebrations to cease: her feasts, her new moons, her Sabbaths, and all her solemn assemblies. 12 I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, about which she has said, ‘These are my wages that my lovers have given me; and I will make them a forest’, and the animals of the field shall eat them. 13 I will visit on her the days of the Baals, to which she burned incense, when she decked herself with her earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers, and forgot Me, says Yahweh. 14 Therefore behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak tenderly to her. 15 I will give her vineyards from there, and the valley of Achor for a door of hope; and she will respond there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt. 16 It will be in that day, says Yahweh, that you will call Me ‘my husband’, and no longer call Me ‘my master’. 17 For I will take away the names of the Baals out of her mouth, and they will no longer be mentioned by name. 18 In that day I will make a covenant for them with the animals of the field, and with the birds of the sky, and with the creeping things of the ground. I will break the bow, the sword, and the battle out of the land, and will make them lie down safely. 19 I will betroth you to Me forever. Yes, I will they distanced themselves from her (5:15). But it didn’t work out like this. Both God with Israel and Hosea with Gomer ended up pleading with her to return (14:1); “yet they do not return to Yahweh their God, nor seek Him, for all this” (7:10). It was and is a tragedy. In our preaching to Israel and to humanity generally, we are pleading with them to accept this most unusual love. The pain of God, the way He is left as it were standing there as a tragic figure, like Hosea was, of itself inspires us to plead with people all the more passionately; and to respond ourselves, to be the loving woman to Him the ultimately faithful man.
betroth you to Me in righteousness, in justice, in loving kindness, and in compassion. 20 I will even betroth you to Me in faithfulness; and you shall know Yahweh. 21 It will happen in that day, I will respond, says Yahweh, I will respond to the heavens, and they will echo down to the earth; 22 and the earth will respond to the grain, and the new wine, and the oil; and they will respond to Jezreel. 23 I will sow her to Me in the earth; and I will have mercy on her who had not obtained mercy; and I will tell those who were not My people, ‘You are My people;’ and they will say, ‘You are my God!’.

The Marriage Reconciled

Yahweh said to me, Go again, love a woman loved by another, and an adulteress, even as Yahweh loves the children of Israel, though they turn to other gods, and love cakes of raisins. 2 So I bought her for myself for fifteen pieces of silver and a homer and a half of barley. 3 I said to her, You shall stay with me many days. You shall not play the prostitute, and you shall not be with any other man. I will also be so toward you. 4 For the children of Israel shall live many days without king, and without prince, and without sacrifice, and without sacred stone, and without ephod or idols. 5 Afterward the children of Israel shall return, and seek Yahweh their God, and David their king, and shall come with trembling to Yahweh and to His blessings in the last days.

Against the Children of Israel

Hear the word of Yahweh, you children of Israel; for Yahweh has a charge against the inhabitants of the land: Indeed there is no truth, nor goodness, nor knowledge of God in the land. 2 There is cursing, lying, murder, stealing, and committing adultery; they break boundaries, and bloodshed causes bloodshed. 3 Therefore the land will mourn, and everyone who dwells therein will waste away. All living things in her, even the animals of the field and the birds of the sky; yes, the fish of the sea also die. 4 Yet let no man bring a case, neither let any man accuse; for Your people are like those who bring charges against a priest. 5 You will stumble in the day, and the prophet will also stumble with you in the night; and I will destroy your mother. 6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge. Because you have rejected knowledge, I will also reject you, that you may be no priest to Me. Because you have forgotten the law of your God, I will also forget your children. 7 As they were multiplied, so they sinned against Me. I will change their glory into shame. 8 They feed on the sin of My people, and set their heart on their iniquity. 9 It will be, like people, like priest; and I will punish them for their ways, and will repay them for their deeds. 10 They will eat, and not feel satisfied. They will play the prostitute, and will not increase; because they have abandoned giving to Yahweh. 11 Prostitution, wine, and new wine take away the heart. 12 My people consult with their wooden idol, and answer to a stick of wood. Indeed the spirit of prostitution has led them astray, and they have been unfaithful to their God. 13 They sacrifice on the tops of the mountains, and burn incense on the hills, under oaks and poplars and terebinths, because its shade is good. Therefore your daughters play the prostitute, and your brides commit adultery. 14 I will not punish your daughters when they play the prostitute, nor your brides when they commit adultery; because the men consort with prostitutes, and they sacrifice with the shrine prostitutes; so the people without understanding will come to ruin themselves. 15 Though you, Israel, play the prostitute, yet don’t let Judah offend; and don’t go up to Beth Aven, nor swear, ‘As Yahweh lives’. 16 For Israel has behaved extremely stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer. Then how will Yahweh feed them like a lamb in a meadow! 17 Ephraim is joined to idols. Leave him alone! 18 Their drink has become sour. They play the prostitute continually. Their rulers dearly love their shameful way. 19 The wind has wrapped her up in its wings; and they shall be unfulfilled in the offering of their sacrifices.

CHAPTER 5 Nov. 8 Judgments against the Priests and the House of Israel

Listen to this, you priests! Listen, house of Israel, and give ear, house of the king! For the judgment is against you; for you have been a snare at Mizpah, and a net spread on Tabor. 2 The rebels are deep in slaughter; but I discipline all of them. 3 I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hidden from Me; for now, Ephraim, you have played the prostitute; Israel is defiled. 4 Their deeds won’t allow them to turn to their God; for the spirit of prostitution is within them, and they don’t know Yahweh. 5 The pride of Israel testifies to his face. Therefore Israel and Ephraim will stumble in their iniquity, Judah also will stumble with them. 6 They will go with their flocks and with their herds to seek Yahweh; but they won’t find Him- He has withdrawn Himself from them. 7 They are unfaithful to Yahweh; for they have be-

4:12 The spirit of prostitution – Gomer’s sexual addiction was reflected in Israel’s chronic unfaithfulness to Yahweh. The very process of sinning has a tendency to push people into a downwards spiritual spiral from which there is no easy exit (see 5:4).

4:15 Gilgal and Beth Aven were border towns between Judah and Israel. The nominally faithful people of Judah were slipping over the border to do quick idol worship and then returning, protesting their loyalty to Yahweh. This kind of hypocrisy can so easily be slipped into.

5:7 The way Hosea’s final child is called Lo-ammi was because “you are not My people” (1:9). This suggests that although Hosea did presumably have sexual relations with Gomer, these children were not actually conceived from him – i.e. she was continuing her relations with other men; her conception of the children is said to have been “shameful” (2:5) because they were the result of her prostitution (2:4). He calls gotten foreign children. Now the new moon will devour them with their fields. 8 Blow the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah! Sound a battle cry at Beth Aven, behind you, Benjamin! 9 Ephraim will become a desolation in the day of rebuke. Among the tribes of Israel, I have made known that which will certainly be. 10 The princes of Judah are like those who remove a landmark. I will pour out My wrath on them like water. 11 Ephraim is oppressed, he is crushed in judgment; because he is obsessed in his pursuit of idols. 12 Therefore I am to Ephraim like a moth, and to the house of Judah like rottenness. 13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah his wound, then Ephraim went to Assyria, and sent to king Jareb: but he is not able to heal you, neither will he cure you of your wound. 14 For I will be to Ephraim like a lion, and like a young lion to the house of Judah. I myself will tear in pieces and go away; I will carry off, and there will be no one to deliver. 15 I will go and return to My place, until they acknowledge their offence, and seek My face. In their affliction they will seek Me earnestly.

Unrepentant

Come, and let us return to Yahweh; for He has torn us to pieces, and He will heal us; He has injured us, and He will bind up our wounds. 2 After two days He will revive us. On the third day He will raise us up, and we will live before Him. 3 Let us acknowledge Yahweh. Let us press on to know Yahweh. As surely as the sun rises, Yahweh will appear. He will come to us like the rain, like the spring rain that waters the earth. 4 Ephraim, what shall I do to you? Judah, what shall I do to you? For your love is like a morning cloud, and like the dew that disappears early. 5 Therefore I have cut them to pieces with the prophets; I slew them with the words of My mouth. Your judgments are like a flash of lightning. 6 For I desire mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. 7 But they, like Adam, have them “her children”. Gomer appears to reason in 2:4 that the children were her lovers’ payment to her for her sexual services. And in the parallel relationship between God and Israel, Israel were unfaithful to Yahweh and “begotten foreign children”, whilst at the same time claiming to keep the sacrifices and Sabbaths of the Law (:6,7; 2:11). This would confirm that Gomer acted as Hosea’s wife, assuring him of her faithfulness, in the same way as the sacrifices and Sabbaths were intended to reflect Israel’s exclusive faithfulness to Yahweh. Our unfaithfulness to God is this painful for Him.

6:6 I desire... the knowledge of God – Israel and Gomer were “destroyed for lack of knowledge” (4:6). Yet they cried out that “My God, how we know You!” (8:2). Israel’s attitude to the Law can so easily be our attitude to the principles of the Gospel, the New Covenant, in which we stand. We can ‘know’ it all, and externally keep it… but in reality not know it at all, focusing on the external sacrifices whilst knowing nothing of the God we supposedly worship. All this was exemplified by Gomer being an observant Jewess, whilst worshipping Baal and living a shameful life.
broken the covenant. They were unfaithful to Me, there. 8 Gilead is a city of those who work iniquity; it is stained with blood. 9 As gangs of robbers wait to ambush a man, so the company of priests murder in the way toward Shechem, committing shameful crimes. 10 In the house of Israel I have seen a horrible thing. There is prostitution in Ephraim. Israel is defiled. 11 Also, Judah, there is a harvest appointed for you, when I restore the fortunes of My people.

When I would heal Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim is uncovered, also the wickedness of Samaria; for they commit falsehood, and the thief enters in, and the gang of robbers ravages outside. 2 They don’t consider in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness. Now their own deeds have engulfed them; they are ever before My face. 3 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies. 4 They are all adulterers. They are burning like an oven that the baker stops stirring, from the kneading of the dough, until it is leavened. 5 On the day of our king, the princes made him sick with the heat of wine so that he joined his hand with mockers. 6 For they have prepared their heart like an oven, while they lie in wait. Their baker sleeps all the night- in the morning it burns as a flaming fire. 7 They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges. All their kings have fallen. There is no one among them who calls to Me. 8 Ephraim, he mixes himself among the nations, Ephraim is a pancake not turned over. 9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he doesn’t realize it. Indeed, gray hairs are here and there on him, and he doesn’t realize it. 10 The pride of Israel testifies to his face; yet they do not return to Yahweh their God, nor seek Him, for all this. 11 Ephraim is like an easily deceived dove, without understanding. They call to Egypt; they hop to Assyria. 12 When they go, I will spread My net on them. I will bring them down like the birds of the sky. I will chastise them, as their congregation has heard. 13 Woe to them! For they have wandered from Me. Destruction to them! For they have trespassed against Me. Though I would redeem them, yet they have spoken lies against Me. 14 They haven’t cried to Me with their heart, but they howl on their beds. They assemble themselves for grain and new wine. They turn away from Me. 15 Though

6:10 God’s realization of Israel’s prostitution, committed as it was amidst protestations of love for God (:4), was mirrored in Hosea’s tragic and heartbreaking relationship with his prostitute wife Gomer.

7:2 I remember... ever before My face – Sensitive Hosea remembered every unfaithfulness of Gomer; and in this sense God too remembered every sin of His people. This is what makes His patience and grace all the more remarkable, given that He doesn’t mentally function as human beings do, forgetting sins against us just because of the nature of our fading memory rather than because we have forgiven them.
I have taught and strengthened their arms, yet they plot evil against Me. 15 They return, but not to the Most High. They are like a faulty bow. Their princes will fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue. This will be their derision in the land of Egypt.

Sowing the Wind, Reaping the Whirlwind

Put the trumpet to your lips! Something like an eagle is over Yahweh’s house, because they have broken My covenant, and rebelled against My law. 2 They cry to Me, ‘My God, how we know You!’ 3 Israel has cast off that which is good. The enemy will pursue him. 4 They have set up kings, but not by Me. They have made princes, and I didn’t approve. Of their silver and their gold they have made themselves idols, that they may be cut off. 5 Let Samaria throw out his calf idol! My anger burns against them! How long will it be until they are capable of purity? 6 For this is even made in Israel! The workman made it, and it is no God; indeed, the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces. 7 For they sow the wind, and they will reap the whirlwind. He has no standing grain; the stalk will yield no head of grain. If it does yield, strangers will swallow it up. 8 Israel is swallowed up. Now they are among the nations like a worthless thing. 9 For they have gone up to Assyria, like a wild donkey wandering alone. Ephraim has hired lovers for himself. 10 But although they sold themselves among the nations, I will now gather them; and they begin to waste away because of the oppression of the king of mighty ones. 11 Because Ephraim has multiplied altars for sinning, they became for him altars for sinning. 12 I wrote for him the many things of My law; but they were regarded as a strange thing. 13 As for the sacrifices of My offerings, they sacrifice flesh and eat it; But Yahweh doesn’t accept them. Now He will remember their iniquity, and punish their sins. They will return to Egypt. 14 For Israel has forgotten his Maker and built palaces; and Judah has multiplied fortified cities; but I will send

8:2 As in 7:14,16, the pain of God was that Israel’s words of devotion to Him were meaningless. This was the pain Hosea would’ve had as Gomer protested her faithfulness to him, whilst sleeping with and getting pregnant by other men. We must ensure that the words we say in prayer and sing in song to God are really meant sincerely by us, and that we realistically live according to them.

8:13 They will return to Egypt – This is repeated in 9:3 and yet God says the very opposite in 11:5. We have God showing His extreme emotion, just as a betrayed and angry husband would – shouting threats one minute and then cancelling them out in expressions of deep love the next. The most hurt man on earth would, however, be nowhere near the pain and hurt felt by God Almighty at the unfaithfulness of His people. The huge extent of His love for Israel is reflected in the depth of His pain and the emotional nature of His outbursts. God has emotion and passion – for us, we who are but water, calcium and complex chemicals, specs of dust on the earth…
a fire on his cities, and it will devour its fortresses.

The Wrath of Love

Don’t rejoice in jubilation, Israel, like the other nations; for you were unfaithful to your God. You love the wages of a prostitute at every grain threshing floor. 2 The threshing floor and the winepress won’t feed them, and the new wine will fail her. 3 They won’t dwell in Yahweh’s land; but Ephraim will return to Egypt, and they will eat unclean food in Assyria. 4 They won’t pour out wine offerings to Yahweh, neither will they be pleasing to Him. Their sacrifices will be to them like the bread of mourners; all who eat of it will be polluted. Their bread will merely be for their hunger, it will not come with acceptance as an offering into the house of Yahweh. 5 What will you do in the day of solemn assembly, and in the day of the feast of Yahweh? 6 For, behold, they have marched off to destruction; Egypt will gather them up, Memphis will bury them. Nettles will possess their pleasant things of silver, thorns will come up in their tents. 7 The days of visitation have come, the days of reckoning have come. Israel will consider the prophet to be a fool, and the inspired man to be insane, because of the abundance of your sins, and because your hostility is great. 8 A prophet watches over Ephraim with my God. A fowler’s snare is on all of his paths, and hostility in the house of his God. 9 They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of Gibeah. He will remember their iniquity, He will punish them for their sins. 10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the fig tree at its first season; but they came to Baal Peor, and consecrated themselves to the shameful thing, and became abominable like that thing which they so loved. 11 As for Ephraim, their glory will fly away like a bird. There will be no birth, none with child, and no conception. 12 Though they bring up their children, yet I will bereave them, so that not a man shall be left. Indeed, woe also to them when I depart from them! 13 I have seen Ephraim, like Tyre, planted in a pleasant place; but Ephraim will bring out his chil-

9:1 You love the wages of a prostitute – Israel are presented as sexually addicted, even paying men to sleep with her (8:9). It’s one thing to sin and hate ourselves for it; it’s another to love and revel in sin as Israel did.

9:4 Their offering of wine and bread to God would make them yet more unclean, just as it is possible to keep the breaking of bread service to our condemnation rather than to our blessing (1 Cor. 11:29). This stark reality means that the memorial meeting brings us to a T intersection in our lives; either we are drinking to our blessing (1 Cor. 10:16) or to our condemnation.

9:10 I saw... as – God looked upon Israel as if they were perfect when they left Egypt (Num. 23:21), even though they were not. He was in love with them, as He is with us, having counted His righteousness to us as we emerge from our Red Sea / baptism into Christ.
dren to the murderer. 14 Give them—Yahweh, what will you give them? Give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts. 15 All their wickedness is in Gilgal; for there I hated them. Because of the wickedness of their deeds I will drive them out of My house! I will love them no more. All their princes are rebels. 16 Ephraim is struck. Their root has dried up. They will bear no fruit. Even though they bring forth, yet I will kill the beloved ones of their womb. 17 My God will cast them away, because they did not listen to Him; and they will be wanderers among the nations.

Israel is a luxuriant vine that puts forth his fruit. According to the abundance of his fruit he has multiplied his altars. As their land has prospered, they have adorned their sacred stones. 2 Their heart is divided, and so now they will be found guilty. He will demolish their altars, He will destroy their sacred stones. 3 Surely now they will say, We have no king; for we don’t fear Yahweh; and the king we have, what can he do for us? 4 They make promises, swearing falsely in making covenants. Therefore judgment springs up like poisonous weeds in the furrows of the field. 5 The inhabitants of Samaria will be in terror because of the calves of Beth Aven; for its people will mourn over it, along with its priests who rejoiced over it; because its glory has departed from it. 6 It also will be carried to Assyria for a present to a great king. Ephraim will receive shame, and Israel will be ashamed of his own counsel. 7 Samaria and her king will float away, like a twig on the water. 8 The high places also of Aven, the sin of Israel, will be destroyed. The thorn and the thistle will come up on their altars. They will tell the mountains, Cover us! and the hills, Fall on us! 9 Israel, you have sinned from the days of Gibeah, there they remained. The battle against the children of iniquity doesn’t overtake them in Gibeah. 10 When it is my desire, I will chastise them; and the nations will be gathered against them, when they are bound to their two transgressions. 11 Ephraim is a trained heifer that loves to thresh; so I will put a yoke on her beautiful neck. I will set a rider on Ephraim, Judah will plough, Jacob will break his clods. 12 Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap according to kindness. Break up your fallow ground; for it is time to seek Yahweh, until He comes and rains righteousness on you.

9:15 I hated them... will love them no more – And yet God protests His eternal and free love for Israel (14:4). See on 8:13.

10:11 Her beautiful neck – This isn’t sarcasm, rather is it God recognizing the beauty of the woman He was having to judge. Such is His love even for those He has to reject.
arise among your people, and all your fortresses will be destroyed, as Shalman destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of battle. The mother was dashed in pieces with her children. 15 So Bethel will do to you because of your great wickedness. At daybreak the king of Israel will be destroyed.

CHAPTER 11  Nov. 14
God’s Love for His People

When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called My son out of Egypt. 2 The more I called to them, so they went away from Me.
They sacrificed to the Baals, and burned incense to engraved images.
3 Yet I taught Ephraim to walk. I took them by his arms; but they didn’t know that it was I who healed them.
4 I drew them with cords of a man, with ties of love; and I was to them like those who lift off the yoke on their necks; and I bent down to him and I fed him. 5 They won’t return into the land of Egypt; but the Assyrian will be their king, because they refused to repent. 6 The sword will fall on their cities, and will destroy the bars of their gates, and will put an end to their plans. 7 My people are determined to turn from Me. Though they call to the Most High, they certainly won’t exalt Him. 8 How can I give you up, Ephraim? How can I hand you over, Israel? How can I make you like Admah? How can I make you like Zeboiim? My heart is turned within Me, My compassion is aroused. 9 I will not execute the fierceness of My anger. I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the Holy One in the midst of you; and I will not come in wrath. 10 They will walk after Yahweh, who will roar like a lion; for He will roar, and the children will come trembling from the west. 11 They will come trembling like a bird out of Egypt, and like a dove out of the land of Assyria; and I will settle them in their houses, says Yahweh.
12 Ephraim surrounds Me with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit.
Judah still remains with God, and is faithful to the Holy One.

CHAPTER 12  Nov. 15
Jacob to Be Israel’s Example

Ephraim feeds on wind, and chases the east wind. He daily lies more and more and multiplies his desolation. They make a covenant with Assyria, and oil is carried into 11:8, 9 Here we have one of the deepest windows onto the extent of God’s hurt and variation of thought within Himself as He considers the behaviour of His people. His changes of mind are as it were ethically allowable exactly because He is God and not man; they are driven by the passion of the deepest love ever known in all existence.

11:12 Ephraim surrounds Me with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit – Gomer must have lied to Hosea so much. Israel are criticized throughout his prophecy for just the same (see 7:13 too). The untruthfulness became compulsive and obsessive: “he daily lies more and more” (12:1). Gomer would’ve lied about where she was going, about how she spent Hosea’s money, about whose the children were… The key proof of our spiritual sincerity is whether we are in the core of our beings truthful, both with our God and with ourselves.
Egypt. 2 Yahweh also has a controversy with Judah, and will punish Jacob according to his ways; according to his deeds He will repay him.

3 In the womb he took his brother by the heel; and in his maturity he had power with God. 4 Indeed, he struggled with the angel, and prevailed; he wept, and made supplication to him. He found him at Bethel, and there He spoke with us, 5 even Yahweh, the God of Armies; Yahweh is His name of renown! 6 Therefore you also turn to your God. Keep grace and justice, and wait continually for your God.

7 A merchant has dishonest scales in his hand. He loves to defraud. 8 Ephraim said, Surely I have become rich, I have found myself wealth. In all my wealth they won’t find in me any iniquity that is sin.

9 But I am Yahweh your God from the land of Egypt. I will yet again make you dwell in tents, as in the days of the solemn feast.

10 I have also spoken to the prophets, and I have multiplied visions; and by the ministry of the prophets I have used parables. 11 If Gilead is wicked, surely they are worthless. In Gilgal they sacrifice bulls. Indeed, their altars are like heaps in the furrows of the field. 12 Jacob fled into the country of Aram, and Israel served to get a wife, and for a wife he tended flocks and herds. 13 By a prophet Yahweh brought Israel up out of Egypt, and by a prophet he was preserved. 14 Ephraim has bitterly provoked anger, therefore his blood will be left on him, and his Lord will repay his contempt.

God’s Anger against His People

When Ephraim spoke with trembling, he exalted himself in Israel; but when he became guilty in Baal, he died. 2 Now they sin more and more, and have made themselves molten images of their silver, even idols according to their own understanding, all of them the work of the craftsmen. They say of them, ‘They offer human sacrifice and kiss the calves’. 3 Therefore they will be like the morning mist, and like the dew that passes away early in the morning, like the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing floor, and like the smoke out of the chimney.

12:3 In his maturity he had power with God – This suggests that Jacob reached spiritual maturity that night he wrestled with the Angel. To be that familiar with God that we can reason with Him, struggle with Him in prayer, seek to change His will over an illness or situation... this is spiritual maturity. It was by his prayer and tears that he had this “power with God” and in a sense prevailed over God’s intention to slay him (:4). This whole characteristic of striving with God was memorialized in his new name: Israel, implying ‘striver and prevailer with God and men’. And this must be the characteristic of Israel after the Spirit too. There is a confusion in the Hebrew between ‘striver’ and ‘prince’ – for the struggle comes before the crown. Our relationship with Him, our attaining of salvation, is a struggle, a wrestling, a desperate clinging on, a pleading with tears. Yet Jacob that night really is a type of us all, for we are to turn to God as Jacob did then (:6).
God from the land of Egypt; and you shall acknowledge no god but Me, and besides Me there is no saviour. 5 I knew you in the wilderness, in the land of great drought. 6 According to their pasture, so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted. Therefore they have forgotten Me. 7 Therefore I will be like a lion to them, like a leopard I will lurk by the path. 8 I will meet them like a bear that is bereaved of her cubs, and will tear the covering of their heart. There I will devour them like a lioness, tear them like a wild animal. 9 You are destroyed, Israel, because you are against Me, against the One who is your help. 10 Where is your king now, that he may save you in all your cities? And your judges, of whom you said, ‘Give me a king and princes?’. 11 I gave you a king in My anger, and have taken him away in My wrath. 12 The guilt of Ephraim is stored up, his sin is stored up. 13 The sorrows of a travailing woman will come on him. He is an unwise son; for when it is time, he doesn’t come to the opening of the womb. 14 I will ransom them from the power of Sheol, I will redeem them from death! Death, where are your plagues? Sheol, where is your destruction? Compassion will be hidden from my eyes. 15 Though he is fruitful among his brothers, an east wind will come, the breath of Yahweh coming up from the wilderness; and his spring will become dry, and his fountain will be dried up. He will plunder the storehouse of treasure. 16 Samaria will bear her guilt; for she has rebelled against her God. They will fall by the sword. Their infants will be dashed in pieces, and their pregnant women will be ripped open.

Nov. 17

Repentance and Blessing

Israel, return to Yahweh your God; for you have fallen because of your sin. 2 Take words with you, and return to Yahweh. Tell him, forgive all our sins, and accept that which is good: so we offer our lips like bulls. 3 Assyria can’t save us. We won’t ride on horses; neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, ‘You are... our gods!’; for in You the fatherless finds mercy. 4 I will heal their waywardness. I will love them freely; for My anger is turned away from him. 5 I will be like the dew to Israel. He will blossom like the lily, and send down his roots like Lebanon. 6 His branches will spread, and his beauty will be like the olive tree, and his fragrance like Lebanon. 7 Men will dwell in his shade. They will revive like the grain, and blossom like the vine. Their fragrance will be like the wine of Lebanon. 8 Ephraim, what have I to do any more with idols? I will answer, and will take care of him. I am like a green fir tree; from Me you will acquire fruit. 9 Who is wise, that he may understand these things? Who is prudent, that he may know them? For the ways of Yahweh are right, and the righteous walk in them; but the rebellious will stumble in them.

[a reference to Gomer’s illegitimate children] would find mercy in being accepted into the family (14:3). Hosea died with his dream unfulfilled. We are left with the question as to whether this similar loving intention of God for Israel will in fact be fulfilled, or whether it was what was potentially possible for Israel; or whether His fantasy for them will be fulfilled through a new Israel. If the latter, and we are that new Israel, then we can imagine what passionate joy the Father finds in our bumbling attempts to respond to Him and be His loyal and faithful wife. Whatever, the simple fact is that it all reflects an amazing grace, an ineffable love… and this God is our God, and Hosea who reflected all this is truly a pattern for ourselves in daily life. The very existence of such passionate love for us, love beyond reason, carries with it an inevitable warning as to our responsibilities.
The Word of Yahweh that came to Joel, the son of Pethuel. 2 Hear this, you elders, and listen, all of you inhabitants of the land. Has this ever happened in your days, or in the days of your fathers? 3 Tell your children about it, and have your children tell their children, and their children tell another generation. 4 What the swarming locust has left, the great locust has eaten. What the great locust has left, the grasshopper has eaten. What the grasshopper has left, the caterpillar has eaten. 5 Wake up, you drunkards, and weep! Wail, all you drinkers of wine, because of the sweet wine; for it is cut off from your mouth. 6 For a nation has come up on my land, strong, and without number. His teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he has the fangs of a lioness. 7 He has laid My vine waste, and stripped My fig tree. He has stripped its bark, and thrown it away. Its branches are made white. 8 Mourn like a virgin dressed in sackcloth for the husband of her youth! The meal offering and the drink offering are cut off from Yahweh’s house; the priests, Yahweh’s ministers, mourn. 10 The field is laid waste, the land mourns, because the grain is destroyed, the new wine has dried up and the oil wastes away. 11 Be confounded, you farmers! Wail, you vineyard keepers; for the wheat and for the barley and the harvest of the field has perished. 12 The vine has dried up, and the fig tree withered; the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all of the trees of the field are withered away; for joy is withered away from the sons of men.

Repent!

13 Put on sackcloth and mourn, you priests! Wail, you ministers of the altar. Come, lie all night in sackcloth, you ministers of my God, for the meal offering and the drink offering are withheld from your God’s house. 14 Sanctify a fast. Call a solemn assembly. Gather the elders and all the inhabitants of the land to the house

1:2 Elders... all of you – Often the Bible brackets the elders with all the ordinary people, thus emphasizing that God relates with individuals; His appeal isn’t merely to religious specialists or leaders, but to all of us.

1:12 If we lose joy, we have lost our faith. It was the same with Israel. “The vine [of Israel is] withered... for joy is withered”; the people of God were to be a people of joy, and when their joy was no more, they were no longer God’s people; for “joy and gladness” were cut off from the house of God (:16). The experience of joy is the litmus test for a community of God’s people. This thought gives rise to some sober self-examination, especially for those who may have come to feel that ‘holding the faith’ is a matter of glumly trudging onwards through this evil world, grimly gripping hold of our faith as we bemoan the state of those around us. To hold on to the Faith is described as holding on to the rejoicing of the hope unto the end (Heb. 3:6).
of Yahweh your God, and cry to Yahweh. 15 Alas for the day! For the day of Yahweh is at hand, and it will come as a destruction from the Almighty. 16 Isn’t the food cut off before our eyes, joy and gladness from the house of our God? 17 The seeds rot under their clods. The granaries are laid desolate. The barns are broken down, for the grain has withered. 18 How the animals groan! The herds of livestock are confused because they have no pasture. Yes, the flocks of sheep are made desolate. 19 Yahweh, I cry to you because the fire has devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame has burned up all the trees of the field. 20 Yes, the animals of the field pant to You, for the water brooks have dried up, and the fire has devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

More Locusts

Blow the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in My holy mountain! Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble, for the day of Yahweh comes, for it is near at hand: 2 a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, like the dawn spreading on the mountains. A great and strong people! There has never been the like, neither will there be any more after them, even to the years of many generations. 3 A fire devours before them, and behind them a flame burns. The land is as the garden of Eden before them, and after them—like a desolate wilderness. Yes, and no one has escaped them. 4 Their appearance is as the appearance of horses, and as horsemen, so do they run. 5 Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains do they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devours the stubble, as a strong people set in battle array. 6 At their presence the people are in anguish. All faces have grown pale. 7 They run like mighty men, they climb the wall like warriors. They each march in his line, and they don’t swerve off course. 8 Neither does one jostle another; they march each one in his path, and they burst through the defenses, and don’t break ranks. 9 They rush on the city, they run on the wall, they climb up into the houses, they enter in at the windows like thieves. 10 The earth quakes before them, the skies tremble, the sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining. 11 Yahweh thunders His voice before His army; for His forces are very great; for he is strong who obeys His command; for the day of Yahweh is great and very awesome, and who can endure it?

A Fast Is Proclaimed

12 Yet even now, says Yahweh, turn to Me with all your heart, and with fasting and with weeping and with mourning. 13 Tear your heart, and not your garments, and turn to Yahweh, your God; for He is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness, and relents from sending calamity. 14 Who knows? He may turn and relent, and leave a blessing behind him, even a meal offering and a drink offering to Yahweh, your God. 15 Blow the trumpet in Zion! Sanctify a fast. Call a solemn assembly. 16 Gather the people. Sanctify the assembly. Assemble the elders. Gather the children, and those who nurse from the breasts. Let the bridegroom go forth from his room, and the bride out of her room. 17 Let the priests, the ministers of Yahweh, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare Your people, Yahweh, and don’t give Your heritage to reproach, that the pagan nations should rule over them. Why should they say among the peoples, ‘Where is their God?’.

Yahweh Answered His People
18 Then Yahweh was jealous for His land, and had pity on His people. 19 Yahweh answered His people, Behold, I will send you grain, new wine, and oil, and you will be satisfied with them; and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations. 20 But I will remove the northern army far away from you, and will drive it into a barren and desolate land, its front into the eastern sea, and its back into the western sea; and its stench will come up, and its bad smell will rise. Surely He has done great things!

2:13 Relents – Despite having spoken as if God’s judgment was inevitably going to come, Joel knew that God can state things and then change His planned judgments because He is so sensitive to human repentance. And so Joel calls for a fast, and for absolutely everyone in the community to repent and beg God for mercy. Even those in the process of marriage were to break off the ceremony (:16) and come to a special assembly (:15) to beg God to change His mind. Joel was so certain that God’s prophetic word would be fulfilled that he appealed to people with such urgency and insistence to repent, so that the prophesied judgments wouldn’t happen to them. Our belief in God’s word will likewise motivate our witness and impart a spirit of urgency to it which we couldn’t have if we weren’t so convinced that the prophecies will come true.

2:20 Northern army – Babylon and Assyria are spoken of in the Bible as the ‘northern’ invader, although they were situated to the East of Israel. This was because there was no easy way through the desert separating them from Israel, and travel was typically up the Fertile Crescent and then down into Israel from the north. Joel is quoted and alluded to in the New Testament as if these things will come true in the last days before Christ returns. Dan. 11:40-44 speak of a latter day “King of the north” invading Israel just before Christ’s coming. Geographically, Babylon and Assyria refer to what is today Iran and Iraq.
measure, and He causes the rain to come down for you, the former rains and the latter rains, as before. 24 The threshing floors will be full of wheat, and the vats will overflow with new wine and oil. 25 I will restore to you the years that the swarming locust has eaten, the great locust, the grasshopper, and the caterpillar, My great army, which I sent among you. 26 You will have plenty to eat and will be satisfied, and will praise the name of Yahweh your God who has dealt wondrously with you; and My people will never again be ashamed. 27 You will know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am Yahweh your God, and there is no one else; and My people will never again be ashamed.

The Day of the Lord

28 It will happen in the last days, that I will pour out My Spirit on all flesh; and your sons and your daughters will prophesy. Your old men will dream dreams, your young men will see visions. 29 And also on the servants and on the handmaids I will pour out My Spirit in those days. 30 I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth: blood, fire, and pillars of smoke. 31 The sun will be turned into darkness and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day of Yahweh comes. 32 It will happen that whoever will call on the name of Yahweh shall be saved; for in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there will be those who escape, as Yahweh has said, and among the remnant, those whom Yahweh calls.

Judgment on the Nations

For behold, in those days, and in that time, when I restore the fortunes of Judah and Jerusalem, I will gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat; and I will execute judgment on them there for My people and for My heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations. They have divided My land, and have cast lots for My people, and have given a boy for a prostitute, and sold a girl for wine, that they may drink. Yes, and what are you to Me, Tyre, Sidon and all the regions of Philistia? Will you repay Me? And if you repay Me, I will swiftly and speedily return your repayment on your own head. Because you have taken My silver and 2:32 This passage is quoted in Acts 2:21-41 and interpreted as meaning that whoever calls upon themselves the Name of the Lord by baptism into His Name will be saved. People from many nations were baptized into the Name just before the ‘last day’ of Judah’s destruction in AD70 (.28). It would seem that this was but a primary fulfilment of what will happen just before the final ‘last day’ of Christ’s return. There will be a special preaching of the Gospel to all nations just before Christ returns (Mt. 24:14).

3:2 Judgment on them there for My people – The basis of judgment will be how individuals have treated God’s people, both natural and spiritual Israel. Jesus was very clear that how we treat the least of His brothers or sisters is how we treat Him, and He will judge people on this basis (Mt. 25:40).
My gold, and have carried My finest treasures into your temples, 6 and have sold the children of Judah and the children of Jerusalem to the sons of the Greeks, that you may remove them far from their border. 7 Behold, I will stir them up out of the place where you have sold them, and will return your repayment on your own head; 8 and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hands of the children of Judah, and they will sell them to the men of Sheba, to a distant nation; for Yahweh has spoken it. 9 Proclaim this among the nations: Sanctify war! Stir up the mighty men. Let all the warriors draw near. Let them come up. 10 Beat your plough-shares into swords, and your pruning hooks into spears. Let the weak say, ‘I am strong!’. 11 Hurry and come, all you surrounding nations, and gather yourselves together. Cause Your mighty ones to come down there, Yahweh. 12 Let the nations arouse themselves, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat; for there will I sit to judge all the surrounding nations. 13 Put in the sickle; for the harvest is ripe. Come, tread, for the winepress is full, the vats overflow, for their wickedness is great. 14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision!

For the day of Yahweh is near, in the valley of decision. 15 The sun and the moon will be darkened, and the stars will withdraw their shining. 16 Yahweh will roar from Zion, and thunder from Jerusalem; the heavens and the earth will shake, but Yahweh will be a refuge for His people, and a stronghold to the children of Israel.

God’s People to Be Blessed
17 So you will know that I am Yahweh your God, dwelling in Zion, My holy mountain. Then Jerusalem will be holy, and no strangers will pass through her any more. 18 It will happen in that day, that the mountains will drop down sweet wine, the hills will flow with milk, all the brooks of Judah will flow with waters, and a fountain will come forth from the house of Yahweh and will water the valley of Shittim. 19 Egypt will be a desolation, and Edom will be a desolate wilderness, because of the violence done to the children of Judah; because they have shed innocent blood in their land. 20 But Judah will be inhabited for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation. 21 I will cleanse their blood that I have not so far cleansed: for Yahweh dwells in Zion.

3:9 Sanctify war – Declaring a holy war against Israel sounds like Islamic jihad.
3:12-14 These verses seem to describe an invasion of Israel by many nations, resulting in them being destroyed in a valley in Israel; these verses are applied to the last days in the description of the battle of Armageddon in Rev. 16:16. God will be suddenly revealed in the Jerusalem area (:16), associated with His “mighty ones” “coming down” there (:11). Obadiah 21 speaks of the same situation. This surely refers to the return of Christ to earth from Heaven with His Angels with Him, and also the resurrection of His people, who will then also be His “mighty ones” with Him (1 Thess. 4:14; 2 Thess. 1:7). Jesus ascended to Heaven from Olivet, near Jerusalem, and the Angels promised that He would return to earth in the same way (Acts 1:11).
The words of Amos, who was among the herdsmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake. He said: Yahweh will roar from Zion, and utter His voice from Jerusalem; and the pastures of the shepherds will mourn, and the top of Carmel will wither.

Judgment on the Nations around Israel

Thus says Yahweh: For three transgressions of Damascus, yes, for four, I will not turn away its punishment; because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron; but I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it will eat up the palaces of Ben Hadad. I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the valley of Aven, and him who holds the sceptre from the house of Eden; and the people of Syria shall go into captivity to Kir, says Yahweh. Thus says Yahweh: For three transgressions of Gaza, yes, for four, I will not turn away its punishment; because they carried away captive the whole community, to deliver them up to Edom; but I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, and it will devour its palaces. I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him who holds the sceptre from Ashkelon; and I will turn My hand against Ekron; and the remnant of the Philistines will perish, says the Lord Yahweh. Thus says Yahweh: For three transgressions of Tyre, yes, for four, I will not relent on its punishment; because they delivered up the whole community to Edom, and didn’t remember the brotherly covenant; but I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre, and it will destroy its palaces. Thus says Yahweh: For three transgressions of Edom, yes, for four, I will not turn away its

1:6 Notice that the reasons for the judgments are all because of what people did to other people. Human treatment of others is the basis for God’s judgment. We also learn from this chapter that God noticed how Gentiles treated other Gentiles. He doesn’t just ignore the unbelievers, zoning out on their actions and issues with each other. His sensitivity to human sin, and His total knowledge of all that goes on in this world, His reading of every motive behind every action, is simply colossal. It should encourage us that we are not alone in this world; the amazing knowledge of God means we can thereby feel His presence. The reference to “For three transgressions… and for four” can be read as meaning that God doesn’t switch off, as it were, after the third sin; He is sensitive also to the fourth. He doesn’t simply write people off as ‘sinners’ after a certain amount of sin; He keeps noticing their behaviour and the hurt of their sin continues growing within Him.

1:11 His anger raged continually, and he kept his wrath forever – The implication could be that anger is an acceptable emotion, but not if it becomes a continual state of mind.
punishment; because he pursued his brother with the sword, and cast off all pity, and his anger raged continually, and he kept his anger forever; but I will send a fire on Teman, and it will devour the palaces of Bozrah. Thus says Yahweh: For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, yes, for four, I will not turn away its punishment; because they have ripped open the pregnant women of Gilead, that they may enlarge their border. But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it will devour its palaces, with shouting in the day of battle, with a storm in the day of the whirlwind; and their king will go into captivity, he and his princes together, says Yahweh.

2:1 I will not turn away its punishment – A tacit recognition that God can state a punishment or destiny against a person or group, and yet turn away from doing it in the light of their repentance, as happened with Israel at the time of Moses, or with Nin-eveh in the book of Jonah. However there is a point where such changes are no longer possible; a change of mind is no longer a possibility (Hos. 13:14).

2:2 The “fire” promised here and throughout chapter 1 is not so much literal fire as symbolic of God’s anger and condemnation (see too Jer. 17:27; Jude 7). When Jesus spoke of fire as the punishment of the wicked and used the metaphor of Gehenna, the ever burning garbage site near Jerusalem, He too wasn’t speaking literally but in harmony with His Father’s figurative usage of “fire” in the Old Testament as a metaphor for judgment.

2:7 To profane My holy name – In our context, we have been baptized into the same Name. We can likewise profane that Name by our behaviour. This is the essence of the meaning of blaspheming God’s Name.

2:8 Drink the wine of the condemned – Under the New Covenant, we too run the risk of drinking the wine of that covenant to our own condemnation (1 Cor. 11:29). As in the house of their God they drink the wine of the condemned. 9 Yet I destroyed the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath. 10 Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and led you forty years in the wilderness to possess the land of the Amorite. 11 I raised up some of your sons for prophets, and some of your young men for Nazirites. Isn’t this true, you children of Israel? says Yahweh. 12 But you gave the Nazirites wine to drink, and commanded the prophets, saying, ‘Don’t prophesy!’ 13 See, I will crush you in your place, as a cart crushes that is full of grain. 14 Flight will flee from the swift; and the strong won’t strengthen his force; neither shall the mighty deliver himself; 15 neither shall he stand who handles the bow; and he who is swift of foot won’t escape; neither shall he who rides the horse deliver himself; 16 and he who is courageous among the mighty will flee away naked in that day, says Yahweh.

The Inevitability of Judgment

Hear this word that Yahweh has spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying: 2 You only have I chosen of all the families of the earth. Therefore I will punish you for all of your sins. 3 Do two walk together, unless they have agreed where to meet? 4 Will a lion roar in the thicket, when he has no prey? Does a young lion cry out of his den, if he has caught nothing? 5 Can a bird fall in a trap on the earth, where no snare is set for him? Does a snare spring up from the ground, when there is nothing to catch? 6 Does the trumpet alarm sound in a city without the people being afraid? Does evil happen to a city and Yahweh hasn’t done it? 7 Surely the Lord Yahweh will do we hold that cup, we realize we are at a T-junction; we shall either be saved or condemned, and we should live life in the intensity of that knowledge.

2:11 I raised up... Nazirites – Becoming a Nazirite was totally voluntary. Yet God works through our freewill.

2:12 You gave the Nazirites wine to drink – Nazirites weren’t allowed to drink wine (Num. 6:3). To lead others into sin, or discourage them from the spiritual commitments they have made, is reckoned by God as worthy of the strongest condemnation. We should be positive and supportive of others’ spirituality rather than destructive of it. Jesus therefore had so much anger with the Pharisees and Jewish leadership for the very same reason.

3:2 We whom God has chosen in Christ are therefore more responsible for our sins than others in the world; they sin with far less accountability than we have. We must remember this when we are tempted to sin as they do.

3:6 A classic proof of the fact that God rather than any sinful Satan figure brings “evil” in the sense of disaster on earth (Is. 45:5-7).

nothing, unless He first reveals His secret to His servants the prophets. 8 The lion has roared— who will not fear? The Lord Yahweh has spoken— who can but speak it forth? 9 Proclaim in the palaces at Ashdod and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves on the mountains of Samaria, and see what unrest is in her, and what oppression is among them. 10 Indeed they don’t know how to do right, says Yahweh, who hoard plunder and loot in their palaces. 11 Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: An adversary will overrun the land; and he will pull down your strongholds, and your fortresses will be plundered. 12 Thus says Yahweh: As the shepherd rescues out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear, so shall the children of Israel be rescued who sit in Samaria on the corner of a couch, and on the silken cushions of a bed. 13 Listen, and testify against the house of Jacob, says the Lord Yahweh, the God of Armies. 14 For in the day that I visit the transgressions of Israel on him, I will also visit the altars of Bethel; and the horns of the altar will be cut off, and fall to the ground. 15 I will strike the winter house with the summer house; and the houses of ivory will perish, and the great houses will have an end, says Yahweh.

Nov. 24
God Tries to Make His People Return to Him

Listen to this word you cows of Bashan who are on the mountain of Samaria, who oppress the poor, who crush the needy, who tell their husbands, Bring us drinks! 2 The Lord Yahweh has sworn by His holiness that, behold, the days shall come on you that they will take you away with hooks, and the last of you with fish hooks. 3 You will go out at the breaks in the wall, each one straight before her; and you will cast yourselves into Harmon, says Yahweh. 4 Go to Bethel, and sin; to Gilgal, and sin more. Bring your sacrifices every morning, your tithes

3:9 Hebrew poetry rhymes according to the ideas presented rather than the assonance of the words. However, this doesn’t mean that in a couplet, the first part is directly equal to the second part. Subtle differences are set up in order to make a point. The lion has roared: who shall not fear? God has spoken: who can but speak forth? If a lion roars, so a man naturally fears as a result of it. God speaks, and just as naturally we can do nothing but speak it forth. Hence the hearers are to publish God’s purpose to the Gentile nations around them. The lion roars, and man fears; and we are set up to expect: God speaks, and man should fear. But there is an intended dashing of this expectation. God has spoken, just as the lion may roar; but we are not to fear but rather to speak it forth to others. If we believe that the Bible is indeed the inspired word of God, if we hear that voice of Yahweh, we will inevitably speak it forth to others. Hence Peter says that he could never agree not to speak forth God’s word, because to do so is a natural process for the believer (Acts 4:20).

4:4, 5 God as it were encourages sinful people in their sin; there’s a downward and an upward spiral, we never remain in a neutral position in our spiritual journey.
every three days, offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened, and proclaim freewill offerings and brag about them: for this pleases you, you children of Israel, says the Lord Yahweh. I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and lack of bread in every town; yet you haven’t returned to Me, says Yahweh. I also have withheld the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest; and I caused it to rain on one city, and caused it not to rain on another city. One place was rained on, and the piece where it didn’t rain withered. So two or three cities staggered to one city to drink water, and were not satisfied: yet you haven’t returned to Me, says Yahweh. I struck you with blight and mildew many times in your gardens and your vineyards; and your fig trees and your olive trees have the swarming locust devoured: yet you haven’t returned to Me, says Yahweh. I sent plagues among you like I did upon Egypt. I have slain your young men with the sword, and have carried away your horses; and I filled your nostrils with the stench of your camps, yet you haven’t returned to Me, says Yahweh. I have overthrown some of you, as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and you were like a burning stick plucked out of the fire; yet you haven’t returned to Me, says Yahweh. Therefore this is what I will do to you, Israel; and because I will do this to you, prepare to meet your God, O Israel. For, behold, He who forms the mountains, and creates the wind, and declares to man what is his thought; who makes the morning darkness, and treads on the high places of the earth: Yahweh, the God of Armies, is His name.

Nov. 25

A Call to Repentance

Listen to this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel. The virgin of Israel has fallen; she shall rise no more. She is cast down on her land; there is no one to raise her up. For thus says the Lord Yahweh: The city that went forth a thousand shall have a hundred left, and that which went forth one hundred shall have ten left to the house of Israel. For thus says Yahweh to the house of Israel: Seek Me, and you will live; but don’t seek Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and don’t pass to Beersheba: for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Bethel shall come to nothing. Seek Yahweh, and you will live; lest He

4:10 The stench of your camps – These words have a strange relevance to the death camps of Europe in the 1940s. The tragedy of Israel’s history, and of so many individual lives, is that despite suffering so much, people refuse to return to their God. Their pain is therefore in vain.

4:13 He who forms the mountains – Nothing in the natural creation is static; although the mountains may appear so permanent and lifeless, God is forming them in an ongoing sense. God’s ongoing, unceasing work in the natural creation is the constant comfort that we are not alone.
break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and it devour, and there be no one to quench it in Bethel. 7 You who turn justice to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth: 8 seek Him who made the Pleiades and Orion, He who turns the shadow of death into the morning, and makes the day dark with night; who calls for the waters of the sea, and pours them out on the surface of the earth, Yahweh is His name; 9 He who brings sudden destruction on the strong, so that destruction comes on the fortress. 10 They hate him who reproves in the gate, and they detest him who speaks blamelessly. 11 Forasmuch therefore as you trample on the poor, and take taxes of wheat from him- therefore you who have built houses of cut stone will not dwell in them. You who have planted pleasant vineyards shall not drink their wine. 12 For I know how many are your offences, and how great are your sins— you who afflict the just, who take a bribe, and who turn aside the needy in the courts. 13 Therefore a prudent person keeps silent in such a time, for it is an evil time. 14 Seek good, and not evil, that you may live; and so Yahweh, the God of Armies, will be with you, as you say. 15 Hate evil, love good, and establish justice in the courts. It may be that Yahweh, the God of Armies, will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph. 16 Therefore thus says Yahweh the God of Armies, the Lord: Wailing will be in all the boulevards; and they will say in all the streets, ‘Alas! Alas!’; and they will call the farmer to mourning, and those who are skillful in lamentation to wailing. 17 In all vineyards there will be wailing; for I will pass through the midst of you, says Yahweh.

The Day of Yahweh

18 Woe to you who desire the day of Yahweh! Why do you long for the day of Yahweh? It will be darkness for you, and not light. 19 As if a man fled from a lion, and a bear met him; or he went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a snake bit him. 20 Won’t the day of Yahweh be darkness for you, and not light? Even very dark, and no brightness in it? 21 I hate, I despise your feasts, and I can’t tolerate your solemn assemblies. 22 Yes, though you offer Me your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them; neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat animals. 23 Take away from evil, love good, and establish justice in the courts. It may be that Yahweh, the God of Armies, will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph. 16 Therefore thus says Yahweh the God of Armies, the Lord: Wailing will be in all the boulevards; and they will say in all the streets, ‘Alas! Alas!’; and they will call the farmer to mourning, and those who are skillful in lamentation to wailing. 17 In all vineyards there will be wailing; for I will pass through the midst of you, says Yahweh.

Me the noise of your songs! I will not listen to the music of your harps. 24 But let justice roll on like rivers, and righteousness like a mighty stream. 25 Did you really bring to Me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness for forty years, O house of Israel? 26 You also carried the tent of your king and the shrine of your images, the star of your god, which you made for yourselves. 27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, says Yahweh, whose name is the God of Armies.

Woe to Those Who Are at Ease

Woe to those who are at ease in Zion, and to those who are secure on the mountain of Samaria, the notable men of the chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come! 2 Go to Calneh, and see; and from there go to Hamath the great; then go down to Gath of the Philistines. Are they better than these kingdoms? Or is their border greater than your border? 3 Those who put far away the evil day, and cause the seat of violence to come near; 4 who lie on beds of ivory, and stretch themselves on their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall; 5 who strum on the strings of a harp; who invent for themselves instruments of music, like David did; 6 who drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the best oils; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph. 7 Therefore they will now go into captivity with the first who go captive; and the feasting and lounging will end. 8 The Lord Yahweh has sworn by Himself, says Yahweh, the God of Armies, that I hate the pride of Jacob, and detest his fortresses. Therefore I will deliver up the city with all that is in it. 9 It will happen, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die. 10 When a man’s relative carries his body out of the house to burn it, he will ask him who is in the innermost parts of the house: ‘Is there yet any with you?’. And if he says, ‘No’, then he will say, ‘Hush! Indeed we must not mention the name of Yahweh’. 11 For behold, Yahweh says it, and the great house will be smashed to pieces, and the little house into bits. 12 Do horses run on the rocky crags? Does one plough there with 5:26 In addition to carrying Yahweh’s tent or tabernacle through the wilderness, the Israelites took with them the gods of Egypt and carried their tent with them too. Leaving Egypt through the Red Sea is like baptism into Christ (1 Cor. 10:1,2); Israel’s wilderness journey is analogous to our lives now as we travel towards the promised land of God’s Kingdom. We mustn’t take with us the gods of this world (cp. Egypt); God’s claim on us is total and exclusive.

6:1-6 The situation described here before the “day of the Lord” in those days is exactly the situation today. Self-indulgence, laziness, over sleeping, over eating, brainwashed by music and ignoring the needs of others, whilst psychologically putting the reality of God’s judgment far away (:3) – this is the spirit of our age, and it heralds the final day of the Lord.
oxen? But you have turned justice into poison, and the fruit of righteousness into bitterness; 13 you who rejoice in a thing of nothing, who say, ‘Haven’t we taken for ourselves horns by our own strength?’. 14 For, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, says Yahweh, the God of Armies; and they will afflict you from the entrance of Hamath to the brook of the Arabah.

Locusts

Thus the Lord Yahweh showed me: and behold, He formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and behold, it was the latter growth after the king’s harvest. 2 It happened that when they made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, Lord Yahweh, forgive, I beseech You! How could Jacob stand? For he is so small. 3 Yahweh relented concerning this. It shall not be, says Yahweh. 4 Thus the Lord Yahweh showed me and behold, the Lord Yahweh called for judgment by fire; and it dried up the great deep, and would have devoured the land. 5 Then I said, Lord Yahweh, cease, I beg You! How could Jacob stand? For he is small. 6 Yahweh relented concerning this. This also shall not be, says the Lord Yahweh.

A Plumb-Line

7 Thus he showed me: Behold, the Lord stood beside a wall made by a plumb line, with a plumb line in His hand. 8 Yahweh said to me, Amos, what do you see? I said, A plumb line.

7:1-6 God reveals His intention regarding Israel, but then Amos makes a case against this and is heard. In fact, these and other examples suggest that this is almost a pattern with God – to devise His purpose, and then in the ‘gap’ until its fulfilment, be open to the persuasion of His covenant people to change or amend those plans. This could be what 3:7 is speaking of: “Surely the Lord Yahweh will do nothing, unless He first reveals His secret to His servants the prophets”. It’s as if He reveals His plans to them so that they can then comment upon them in prayer.

7:2 God is open to changing His stated plan due to the mediation of others. It would even appear that Amos believed God could forgive the sins of others because of his prayers rather than their repentance. For Amos doesn’t merely ask God not to execute His judgments, but to actually forgive Israel. There’s an obvious similarity with the intercession of Moses; the only other person to pray “Forgive, I beseech You” is Moses – the same Hebrew words are found on his lips twice (Ex. 34:9; Num. 14:19). Moses’ amazing example had been meditated upon by Amos as he did his agricultural work – and he rose up to the same level. He prayed the same prayer. We too should be motivated in our prayer lives by Biblical examples, even using the same words. So many Biblical prayers use the words of previous Scripture. God leads us to see the similarities between our situations and those of Biblical figures – e.g. by giving Amos a vision of judgment upon Israel in terms of a locust plague, which was intended to lead Amos to see Israel as Egypt and himself as Moses in making intercession to end the plague. Amos gets into the spirit of Moses by asking God to “cease” (7:5), using the same word used to describe how the plagues “ceased” as a result of Moses’ intercession (Ex. 9:29,33,34).
Then the Lord said, Behold, I will set a plumb line in the midst of My people Israel. I will not again change My mind about punishing them. 9 The high places of Isaac will be desolate, the sanctuaries of Israel will be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword. 10 Then Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos has conspired against you in the midst of the house of Israel. The land is not able to bear all his words. 11 For Amos says, ‘Jeroboam will die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land’. 12 Amaziah also said to Amos, You prophet, go, flee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there: 13 but don’t prophesy again any more at Bethel; for it is the king’s sanctuary, and it is a royal house! 14 Then Amos answered Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet’s son; but I was a herdsman, and a gatherer of sycamore figs; 15 and Yahweh took me from following the flock, and Yahweh said to me, ‘Go, prophesy to My people Israel’. 16 Now therefore listen to the word of Yahweh: ‘You say, Don’t prophesy against Israel, and don’t preach against the house of Isaac’. 17 Therefore thus says Yahweh: ‘Your wife shall be a prostitute in the city, and your sons and your daughters shall fall by the sword, and your land shall be divided by line; and you yourself shall die in a land that is unclean, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land’.

CHAP.ER 8 Nov. 28

A Basket of Summer Fruit

Thus the Lord Yahweh showed me: Behold, a basket of summer fruit. 2 He said, Amos, what do you see? I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then Yahweh said to me, The end has come on My people Israel. I will not again change My mind about them any more. 3 The songs of the temple will be wailings in that day, says the Lord Yahweh. The dead bodies will be many. In every place they will throw them out in silence. 4 Hear this, you who desire to swal-

7:14 Amos stresses that speaking forth God’s word wasn’t at all what he wished to do or was cut out for. Likewise Paul says that because preaching God’s word was against his natural inclination, therefore a calling to preach the Gospel had indeed been given to him (1 Cor. 9:17). Paul was sent to the Gentiles and not the Jews as he might naturally have preferred; the disciples were unlearned and ignorant men called to preach to the Jewish intelligentsia; women weren’t accepted as legal witnesses and yet the Lord asks women to be the first witnesses of His resurrection; always in the preaching of His word does God use those who humanly aren’t qualified to do so. He doesn’t use slick presentation, but rather human weakness in order to convert others. Amos doubtless alludes to himself in 3:8 where he says that a prophet cannot but speak out God’s word – and this is alluded to by the apostles when they say they cannot but speak out what they have seen and heard of Christ. Note how Amos doesn’t actually answer the serious false allegation against him personally, but gets on with speaking forth God’s word – for this was his life’s focus.
low up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail, saying, ‘Oh when will the new moon be gone, that we may sell grain? And the Sabbath end, that we may market wheat, making the ephah small, and the shekel large, and dealing falsely with balances of deceit; that we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell the sweepings along with the wheat?’ 7 Yahweh has sworn by the pride of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works. 8 Won’t the land tremble for this, and everyone mourn who dwells in it? Yes, it will rise up wholly like the River; and it will be stirred up and sink again, like the River of Egypt. 9 It will happen in that day, says the Lord Yahweh, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the day time. 10 I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will make you wear sackcloth on all your bodies, and baldness on every head. I will make it like the mourning for an only son, and its end like a bitter day. 11 Behold, the days come, says the Lord Yahweh, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the day time. 10 I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will make you wear sackcloth on all your bodies, and baldness on every head. I will make it like the mourning for an only son, and its end like a bitter day. 11 Behold, the days come, says the Lord Yahweh, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of Yahweh. 12 They will wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they will run back and forth to seek the word of Yahweh, and will not find it. 13 In that day the beautiful virgins and the young men will faint for thirst. 14 Those who swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, ‘As your god, Dan, lives;’ and, ‘As the way of Beersheba lives;’ they will fall, and never rise up again.

CHAPTER 9 Nov. 29
God’s People to Be Destroyed

I saw the Lord standing beside the altar, and He said, Strike the tops of the pillars, that the thresholds may shake; and break them in pieces on the head of all of them; and I will kill the last of them with the sword: there shall not one of them flee away, and there shall not one of them escape. 2 Though they dig into Sheol, there My hand will take them; and though they climb up to the sky, I will bring them down from there. 3 Though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out from there; and though they be hidden from My sight in the bottom of the sea, there I will command the serpent, and it will bite them. 4 Though they go into captivity before their enemies, there I will command the sword, and it will kill them. I will set My eyes on them for evil, and not for good. 5 For the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, is He who touches the land and it melts, and all who dwell in it will mourn; and it will rise up wholly like the River, and will sink again, like the River of Egypt. 6 It is He who builds His chambers in the heavens, and has founded His vault on the earth; He who calls for the waters of the sea, and pours them out on the surface of the earth; Yahweh is His name. 7 Are you not like the children of the Ethiopians to Me, you children of Israel?, says Yahweh. Haven’t I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir? 8 See, the eyes of the Lord Yahweh are on the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the surface of the earth; except that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, says Yahweh. 9 For, see, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations, as grain is sifted in a sieve, yet not the least kernel will fall to the earth. 10 All the sinners of My people will die by the sword, those who say, ‘Evil won’t overtake us nor meet us’.

Rebuilding
11 After this I will return, and I will rebuild the tent of David that has fallen down; I will rebuild its ruins, and I will restore it as in the days of old; 12 that the remnant of mankind may seek the Lord, and all the Gentiles who are called by My name, says the Lord who makes these things known from of old. 13 See, the days come, says Yahweh, that the ploughman shall overtake the reaper, and the one treading grapes him who sows seed; and sweet wine will drip from the mountains, and flow from the hills. 14 I will bring My people Israel back from captivity, and they will rebuild the ruined cities, and inhabit them; and they will plant vineyards, and drink wine from them. They shall also make gardens, and eat their fruit. 15 I will plant them in their land, and they will no more be plucked up out of their land which I have given them, says Yahweh your God.

9:11, 12 We have used the Septuagint version of these verses, because this is the form which is quoted under inspiration in Acts 15:14-18. There, James quotes these verses to prove that Gentiles could become called by God’s Name through being baptized into the Name of His Son, the Lord Jesus; and that this process was not predicated upon circumcision. We see, therefore, the huge weight given by the early Christians to every Old Testament word of God. Note that Acts 15:14 speaks of God visiting the Gentiles, and quotes :12 about the Gentiles seeking the Lord as proof of this. God is in search of man, and some men are in search of Him. They meet in that moment of baptism into His Name as it is in His Son, and the union is a wonderful and eternal one.
Obadiah’s Vision against Edom

The vision of Obadiah. This is what the Lord Yahweh says about Edom. We have heard news from Yahweh, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Arise, and let’s rise up against her in battle. 2 Behold, I have made you small among the nations. You are greatly despised.

3 The pride of your heart has deceived you, you who dwell in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high, who says in his heart, ‘Who will bring me down to the ground?’.

4 Though you mount on high as the eagle, and though your nest is set among the stars, I will bring you down from there, says Yahweh. 5 If thieves came to you, if robbers by night—oh, what disaster awaits you!—wouldn’t they only steal until they had enough? If grape pickers came to you, wouldn’t they leave some gleaning grapes? 6 How are the men of Esau searched out! How are his hidden things searched through!

7 All the men of your alliance have brought you on your way, even to the border. The men who were at peace with you have deceived you, and prevailed against you. Friends who eat your bread lay a snare under you. There is no understanding in him.

8 Won’t I in that day, says Yahweh, destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mountain of Esau? 9 Your mighty men, Teman, will be dismayed, to the end that everyone may be cut off from the mountain of Esau by slaughter.

10 For the violence done to your brother Jacob, shame will cover you, and you will be cut off forever.

11 In the day that you stood on the other side, in the day that strangers carried away his substance:

5 This could imply that Esau / Edom’s anger with Jacob / Israel was justified to some extent – they were condemned because they took it too far. Unless we control our anger, we will soon go too far and slip into sin. Hence we shouldn’t let the sun go down over our anger (Eph. 4:26).

6 Every past day of judgment reveals something of the future. Edom’s day of judgment is described as his hidden, secret things being searched through. This may be alluded to by Paul when he speaks of how “the hidden things” of our hearts will be revealed in the final searching of the day of judgment (1 Cor. 4:5).

7 Friends who eat your bread – To eat bread together was a sign of friendship and fellowship. The breaking of bread service is therefore a sign of our personal friendship with God; it’s a great honour to be invited there.

10 The nation of Edom is judged for the same thing as the historical Esau – hatred of their brother. Our attitude to our brethren will be a major factor in determining our eternal future (Mt. 25:40).

10-14 Pride, indifference to others’ pain even though it is a judgment for their sins, resentment, feelings of superiority… These mental attitudes, rather than the many other sins of Edom, were what so angered God.
and foreigners entered into his gates, and cast lots for Jerusalem, even you were like one of them. 12 But don’t look down on your brother in the day of his disaster, and don’t rejoice over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction. Don’t speak proudly in the day of distress. 13 Don’t enter into the gate of My people in the day of their calamity. Don’t look down on their affliction in the day of their calamity, neither seize their wealth on the day of their calamity. 14 Don’t stand in the crossroads to cut off those of his who escape. Don’t deliver up those of his who remain in the day of distress. 15 For the day of Yahweh is nearly upon all the nations! As you have done, it will be done to you. Your deeds will return upon your own head. 16 For as you have drunk on My holy mountain, so will all the nations drink continually. Yes, they will drink, swallow down, and will be as though they had not been. 17 But in Mount Zion, there will be those who escape, and it will be holy. The house of Jacob will possess their inheritances. 18 The house of Jacob will be a fire, the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble. They will burn among them and consume them. There will not be anyone remaining to the house of Esau. Truly Yahweh has spoken. 19 Those of the South will possess the mountain of Esau, and those of the lowland, the Philistines. They will possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of Samaria. Benjamin will possess Gilead. 20 The captives of this army of the children of Israel, who are among the Canaanites, will possess even to Zarephath; and the captives of Jerusalem, who are in Sepharad, will possess the cities of the Negev. 21 Saviours will come up on Mount Zion to judge the mountains of Esau, and the kingdom will be Yahweh’s.

Jonah Tries to Flee from God

Now the word of Yahweh came to Jonah the son of Amittai saying, 2 Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach against it; for their wickedness has come up before Me. 3 But Jonah rose up to flee to Tarshish from the presence of Yahweh. He went down to Joppa, and found a ship going down to Tarshish; so he paid its fare, and went down into it, in order to go with them to Tarshish from the presence of Yahweh. 4 But Yahweh sent out a great wind on the sea and there was a mighty storm on the sea, so that the ship was likely to break up. 5 Then the sailors were afraid, and every man cried to his god. They threw the cargo that was in the ship into the sea to lighten the ship. But Jonah had gone down into the lowest parts of the ship and he was laying down, deeply asleep. 6 So the captain came to him and said to him, What do you mean, you sleeper? Arise, call on your God! Maybe your God will look to us so that we won’t perish. 7 They all said to each other, Come, let’s cast lots, that we may know who is responsible for this evil that is on us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah. 8 Then they asked him, Tell us, please, for whose cause this evil is on us. What is your occupation? Where do you come from? What is your country? Of what people are you? 9 He said to them, I am a Hebrew, and I fear Yahweh the God of heaven, who has made the sea and the dry land. 10 Then were the men extremely afraid and said to him, What is this that you have done? For the men knew that he was fleeing from the presence of Yahweh, because he had told them. 11 Then they said to him, What shall we do to you, that the sea may be calm to us? For the sea grew more and more stormy. 12 He said to them, Take me up, and throw me into the sea. Then the sea will be calm for you; for I know that because of me this great storm is on you. 13 Nevertheless the men rowed

1:3 Jonah is described as going progressively ‘down’ – down to Joppa, down into the ship, down into the hold of the ship, and then down into the depths of the sea (1:3,5; 2:6). This was the depth of his degradation. Yet he was brought up from it. Jonah was like Nineveh – the “wickedness” of Nineveh (1:2; 3:8) is the same Hebrew word used in 4:1 where Jonah was displeased “exceedingly”, i.e. ‘wickedly’. Their wickedness was paralleled with the wickedness of his hard heartedness towards them. When the sailors awoke him with the words “Get up and call …”, they were using the very words which God had used perhaps just days earlier to call him with. We can’t escape the call – God will repeat it to us through life’s circumstances, even through our very efforts to avoid the call. The obvious lesson is to willingly and in love respond to the calls we receive, rather than go through the agonies of seeking to avoid them. Jonah’s response: “I am an Hebrew…” was basically his response to God… he didn’t want to give Nineveh a chance of salvation because he was a patriotic Jew. God does these complex things with us many times daily… if we will perceive them.
hard to get them back to the land; but they could not, for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. Therefore they cried to Yahweh and said, We beg you Yahweh, we beg you, don’t let us die for the sake of this man’s life, and don’t lay on us innocent blood; for you, Yahweh, have done as it pleased You. So they took up Jonah, and threw him into the sea; and the sea ceased its raging. Then the men feared Yahweh exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice to Yahweh and made vows. Yahweh prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah, and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

Jonah Prays from inside the Fish
Then Jonah prayed to Yahweh his God out of the great fish’s belly. He said, I called because of my affliction to Yahweh and He answered me. Out of the belly of Sheol I cried. You heard my voice, for You threw me into the depths, into the heart of the seas. The water was all around me. All Your waves and Your breakers passed over me. I said, ‘I have been banished from Your sight; yet I will look again toward Your holy temple’. The waters surrounded me, even to the soul. The deep was around me, the weeds were wrapped around my head. I went down to the bottoms of the mountains; the earth barred me in forever: yet have You brought up my life from the pit, Yahweh my God. When my soul ebbed away within me, I remembered Yahweh. My prayer came in to You, into Your holy temple. Those who regard lying vanities forsake their own mercy. But I will sacrifice to You with the voice of thanksgiving, I will pay that which I have vowed. Salvation belongs to Yahweh. Yahweh spoke to the fish, and it vomited out Jonah on the dry land.

To Nineveh after All
The word of Yahweh came to Jonah the second time saying, Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach to it the message that I give you. So Jonah arose and went to Nineveh, according to the word of Yahweh. Now Nineveh was an exceedingly great city, three days’ journey across. 4 Jonah began to enter into the city a day’s journey, and he cried out and said, In forty days, Nineveh will be overthrown! 5 The people of Nineveh believed God; and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from their greatest even to their least. 6 The news reached the king of Nineveh and he arose from his throne, took off his royal robe, covered himself with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. 7 He made a proclamation and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor animal, herd nor flock, taste anything; let them not feed, nor drink water; but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and animal, and let them cry mightily to God. Yes, let them turn each one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in his hands. 9 Who knows whether God will not turn and relent, and turn away from His fierce anger, so that we might not perish? 10 God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way. God relented of the disaster which He said He would do to them, and He didn’t do it.

Jonah Angry Because of God’s Compassion on Nineveh

But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry. 2 He prayed to Yahweh and said, Please, Yahweh, wasn’t this what I said when I was still in my own country? Therefore I hurried to flee away to Tarshish, for I knew that You are a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness, and You relent of doing harm. 3 Therefore now Yahweh, take, I beg You, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live. 4 Yahweh said, Is it right for you to be angry? 5 Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made himself a shelter, and sat under it in the shade, until he might see what would become of the city. 6 Yahweh God prepared a vine, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head to deliver him from his discomfort. So Jonah was very glad because of the vine. 7 But God prepared a worm at dawn the next day, and it chewed on the vine so that it withered. 8 It experience for all to see, as Christ did. Being inside the fish for that period may have made his flesh change colour or bear some other physical mark so that he could be a sign to them of what had happened. Doubtless he recounted his story to them – so that they were encouraged by the fact of God’s love to the resurrected Jonah to repent and likewise throw themselves on God’s mercy. In all this we see Jonah as a type of Christ. They would have looked upon that man as we look upon Jesus, to see the love of God manifested in him; they responded by repenting in sackcloth, casting off their materialism, and living in a way that showed their complete belief that “the judge stands before the door”. What is our response to Jonah/Jesus?

3:4 No conditions were given; but God changed His stated purpose because He is so sensitive to human repentance.

4:8 God created a great wind with which He brought Jonah and his fellows to their knees in 1:4. God here creates another great wind with which to teach Jonah some-happened that when the sun arose, God prepared a hot east wind; and the sun beat on Jonah’s head, so that he fainted and requested for himself that he might die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live. 9 God said to Jonah, Is it right for you to be angry about the vine? He said, I am right to be angry, even to death. 10 Yahweh said, You have been concerned for the vine, for which you have not laboured, neither made it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night. 11 Shouldn’t I be concerned for Nineveh, that great city, in which are more than one hundred and twenty thousand persons who can’t discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

thing else. Jonah ought to have perceived the same hand of the same God at work with him. Jonah’s life “ebbed away” inside the fish (2:7) – and a very similar word is used here in 4:8 about his experience as he sat under the vine. In the fish, Jonah prayed that God would save his life, and was heard. But when he was made to feel the same again, he instead prayed God to take away his life. Perhaps this shows that even when we respond well to circumstances, those same circumstances may repeat in order to test us as to whether we will continue to make that right response.

Dec. 4

Against Samaria and Jerusalem

The word of Yahweh that came to Micah the Morashtite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

Against Samaria and Jerusalem

2 Hear, you peoples, all of you. Listen, O earth, and all that is therein: and let the Lord Yahweh be witness against you, the Lord from His holy temple. 3 For behold, Yahweh comes forth out of His place, and will come down and tread on the high places of the earth. 4 The mountains melt under him, and the valleys split apart, like wax before the fire, like waters that are poured down a steep place. 5 All this is because of the disobedience of Jacob, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the disobedience of Jacob? Isn’t it Samaria? And what are the high places of Judah? Aren’t they Jerusalem? 6 Therefore I will make Samaria like a rubble heap of the field, like places for planting vineyards; and I will pour down its stones into the valley, and I will uncover its foundations. 7 All her idols will be beaten to pieces, and all her temple gifts will be burned with fire, and all her images will be destroyed; for as the hire of a prostitute has she obtained them, and to the hire of a prostitute shall they return.

Lamentation and Wailing

8 For this I will lament and wail; I will go stripped and naked; I will howl like the jackals, and moan like the daughters of owls. 9 For her wounds are incurable; and it has come even to Judah. It reaches to the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem. 10 Don’t tell it in Gath. Don’t weep at all. At Beth Ophrah I have rolled myself in the dust. 11 Pass on, inhabitant of Shaphir, in nakedness

1:8 Micah didn’t just mindlessly transmit God’s word to God’s people. He perceived the truth of the words he was repeating, and believed absolutely that they would come true; and so he wept and rolled himself in the dust (:10). This may have been from grief, but it may also be that he thought that his repentance and prayer could avert the judgment upon God’s people which he was prophesying.

1:10 Rolling naked in the dust… this was the extent of Micah’s passion for the repentance of his audience. Our preaching isn’t to be an emotionless publicity campaign for our denomination or local church, but a passionate appeal for real response. Indifference, lack of passion, is the besetting tragedy of our age. When did you last really shed tears? When were you moved, really wrenched in your gut, by the suffering of others, by the sin of this world, your own sin, your part in humanity’s tragic rejection of God… when did you last feel for God in His pain, as He sees His beloved children and creation walk away from Him day after day, second after second? When did you last feel ecstatic joy, deep sadness… in this post-modern world of surface level emotion? It’s in all this that the words of the prophets and their personal nature as people challenge us – and their spirit is to be the spirit of our testimony to Jesus in this world (Rev. 19:10).

and shame. The inhabitant of Zaanan won’t come out. When you hear the wailing of Beth Ezel, you will know there is no protection there. 12 For the inhabitant of Maroth waits anxiously hoping for good, but evil has come down from Yahweh to the gate of Jerusalem. 13 Harness the chariot to the swift steed, inhabitant of Lachish. She was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; For the transgressions of Israel were found in you. 14 Therefore you will give a parting gift to Moresheth Gath. The houses of Achzib will be a deceitful thing to the kings of Israel. 15 I will yet hand you over to your enemy, inhabitant of Mareshah. The leader who is the glory of Israel will come to hide in the Adullam cave. 16 Shave your heads, and cut off your hair for the children of your delight. Enlarge your baldness like the vulture; for they have gone into captivity from you!

CHAPTER 2 Dec. 5
The Plans of Man and the Plans of God

Woe to those who devise iniquity and work evil on their beds!

1:12 Evil has come down – Evil in the sense of calamity and disaster comes from God (Is. 45:5-7); it’s not true that there is a personal Satan figure who brings evil, and God brings only good. Both good and evil ultimately come from God; He is in control of our lives, and has total power in the cosmos.

2:1 What people think about as they lay on their beds is known by God and is the basis of His judgment of them.

2:6 The apostles were likewise ordered not to preach, but their response was that it was impossible for them to keep quiet about God’s word as it was in Christ (Acts 5:28). We cannot but share God’s word with others if it really has a place in our hearts (Am. 3:8).

2:7 Spirit... restrained? – The prophets didn’t speak their own words but God’s words, because they spoke as they were moved by God’s Spirit (2 Tim. 3:16; 1 Pet. 1:21). For enemy. You strip the robe and clothing from those who pass by, confidently assuming that they aren’t in danger. 9 You drive the women of My people out from their pleasant houses; from their young children you take away My blessing forever. 10 Arise, and depart! For this is not your resting place, because of your uncleanness that destroys, even with a grievous destruction. 11 If a man walking in a spirit of falsehood lies: I will prophesy to you of wine and of strong drink; he would be the prophet of this people.

The Promise of Deliverance
12 I will surely assemble, Jacob, all of you; I will surely gather the remnant of Israel; I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah, as a flock in the midst of their pasture; they will swarm with people. 13 He who opens the breach goes up before them. They break through and pass the gate, and go out. And their king passes on before them, with Yahweh at their head.

God’s Rebuke of the People’s Leaders
I said, Please listen, you heads of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel: Isn’t it for you to know justice? 2 You who hate the good, and love the evil; who tear off their skin, and their flesh from off their bones; 3 who also eat the flesh of My people, and flay their skin from off them, and break their bones, and chop them in pieces for the pot, and as flesh within the cauldron. 4 Then they will cry to Yahweh, but He will not answer them. Yes, He will hide His face from them at that time, because they made their deeds evil. 5 Thus says Yahweh concerning the prophets who lead My people astray; for those who proclaim, Peace! to those who feed them; and whoever doesn’t provide for their mouths, they prepare war against Him: 6 Therefore night is over you, with no vision, and it is dark to you, that you may not divine; and the sun will go down on the prophets, and the day will be black over them. 7 The seers shall be disappointed, and the diviners confounded. Yes, they shall all cover their lips; for there is no answer from God. 8 But as for me, I am full of power by the Spirit of Yahweh, and of judgment, and of might, to declare to Jacob his disobedience, and to Israel his sin. 9 Please listen to this, you heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, who hate justice, and pervert all right judgment. 10 They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. 11 Her leaders judge

My words do good – The early chapters of Proverbs emphasize how God’s words give strength to those who already obey them. There is an upward spiral in spiritual life, in which the Spirit and word of God is the dynamic. Exposure to God’s word confirms us in living a spiritual life. Hence the importance of daily Bible reading.
for bribes, and her priests teach for a price, and her prophets tell fortunes for money: yet they lean on Yahweh and say, Isn’t Yahweh in the midst of us? No disaster will come on us. 12 Therefore Zion for your sake will be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem will become heaps of rubble, and the mountain of the temple like the high places of a forest.

The Mountain of Yahweh’s Temple
But in the latter days, it will happen that the mountain of Yahweh’s temple will be established on the top of the mountains, and it will be exalted above the hills; and nations will stream to it. 2 Many nations will go and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of Yahweh, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and He will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in His paths. For out of Zion will go forth the law, and the word of Yahweh from Jerusalem; 3 and He will judge between many peoples, and will decide concerning strong nations afar off. They will beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation will not lift up sword against nation, neither will they learn war any more. 4 But they will sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and no one will make them afraid: for the mouth of Yahweh of Armies has spoken. 5 Indeed all the nations may walk in the name of their gods; but we will walk in the name of Yahweh our God for ever and ever. 6 In that day, says Yahweh, I will assemble that which is lame, and I will gather that which is driven away, and that which I have afflicted; 7 and I will make that which was lame a remnant, and that which was cast far off a strong nation: and Yahweh will reign over them on Mount Zion from then on, even forever. 8 You, tower of the flock, the hill of the daughter of Zion, to you it will

3:12 For your sake – Other people suffer because of the sins of others. However, when Hezekiah studied the words of Micah, he repented and begged God to change His mind about this very verse – and God changed His mind and didn’t bring this evil (Jer. 26:19). So God’s words of prophecy are open to renegotiation, according to prayer and repentance. This adds intensity and significance to our entreaties of God, knowing that others (e.g. Moses) have successfully reasoned with God and He has changed His stated intentions.

4:4 Vine... fig tree – These words were quoted by Rabshakeh, in offering the Jews this very situation in pagan Assyria (2 Kings 18:31,32). The world around us in its advertisements and glossy images is in fact a fake Kingdom of God, imitating the true Kingdom of God. And so the choice is highlighted for us – between the kingdoms of this world for today, and the eternal Kingdom of God tomorrow.

For the mouth – The wonder of the process of inspiration is that the black print we read on white paper in the Bible is the very mouth of God speaking to us.

4:8 The Kingdom of God which Jesus will establish at His return will in fact be a re-come, yes, the former kingdom will return, the kingdom will come to the daughter of Jerusalem. 9 Now why do you cry out aloud? Is there no king in you? Has your counsellor perished, that pains have taken hold of you as of a woman in travail? 10 Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail; for now you will go forth out of the city, and will dwell in the field, and will come even to Babylon. There you will be delivered. There Yahweh will redeem you from the hand of your enemies. 11 Now many nations have assembled against you, that say, Let her be raped, and let our eye gloat over Zion. 12 But they don’t know the thoughts of Yahweh, neither do they understand His counsel; for He has assembled them like the sheaves to the threshing floor. 13 Arise and thresh, daughter of Zion; for I will make your horn iron, and I will make your hoofs brass; and you will beat in pieces many peoples: and I will devote their gain to Yahweh, and their substance to the Lord of the whole earth.

Bethlehem the Birthplace of the Promised Ruler

Now you shall gather yourself in troops, daughter of troops. He has laid siege against us. They will strike the judge of Israel with a rod on the cheek. But you, Bethlehem establishment of the Kingdom which was earlier, when Yahweh was Israel’s Kingdom on earth (Ez. 21:25-27; 1 Chron. 29:23). This “former Kingdom” will be restored, again on earth, but to a far more glorious extent.

4:10 How was the travailing daughter of Zion to be delivered / rescued in Babylon after having been taken captive there from Jerusalem by the Babylonians? Surely in that there, God intended a spiritual revival of the people, there they would hear Ezekiel’s appeal to repent, which if responded to would enable them to build the temple which he had described (Ez. 43:10,11) and thus usher in a Messianic Kingdom. God had so many wonderful plans for His people which they didn’t allow to come true for them.

4:12 God assembles the nations to judge / thresh them, but they assemble themselves (:11). This is part of a large Biblical theme – that those who are judged in fact judge themselves. The only ones who will be rejected by God are those who themselves don’t wish to be in His Kingdom.

5:1 Mk. 14:65 (Gk.) says that Christ was hit with “strokes of rods”. Perhaps it was in this sense that the rod comforted Messiah (Ps. 23:4) in that He saw immediately that prophecy was being fulfilled in Him. Our darkest moments likewise can be our greatest encouragement if only we perceive them as we should. As men mocked Him and smote Him, thus they were treating their judge at the time of judgment. In His time of dying, the Lord Jesus was the judge of Israel. This explains why when we come before the cross, not only at the breaking of bread but whenever we reflect upon Him and His death, we are in some sense coming before Him in judgment.

5:2 A prophecy of Christ’s birth in Bethlehem (Mt. 2:6). This prophecy of His birth is prefaced by a statement that Messiah would be smitten with a rod (:1) – which happened at the end of His life. In our linear way of thinking, we’d expect this to be the other way around – Messiah is born, grows up, suffers, dies… but God doesn’t think Ephrathah, being small among the clans of Judah, out of you one will come forth to Me that is to be the ruler in Israel; whose goings forth are from of old, from everlasting.

3 Therefore He will abandon them until the time that she who is in labor gives birth. Then the rest of his brothers will return to the children of Israel. 4 He shall stand, and shall shepherd in the strength of Yahweh, in the majesty of the name of Yahweh his God: and they will live, for then he will be great to the ends of the earth. 5 He will be our peace when Assyria invades our land, and when he marches through our fortresses, then we will raise against him seven shepherds, and eight senior leaders of men.

Deliverance and Destruction

6 They will rule the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in its gates. He will deliver us from the Assyrian, when he invades our land, and when he marches within our border. 7 The remnant of Jacob will be in the midst of many peoples, like dew from Yahweh, like showers on the grass, that don’t wait for man, nor wait for the sons of men. 8 The remnant of Jacob will be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, like a lion among the animals of the forest, like a young lion among the flocks of sheep; who, if he goes through, treads down and tears in pieces, and there is no one to deliver. 9 Let your hand be lifted up above your adversaries, and let all of your enemies be cut off. 10 It will happen in that day, says Yahweh, That I will cut off your horses out of the midst of you, and will destroy your chariots. 11 I will cut off the cities of your land, and will tear down all your strongholds. 12 I will destroy witchcraft from your hand; and you shall have no soothsayers. 13 I will cut off your engraved images and your pillars out of your midst; and you shall no more worship the work of your hands. 14 I will uproot your Asherim out of your midst; and I will destroy your cities. 15 I will execute vengeance in anger, and wrath on the nations that didn’t listen.

Yahweh’s Case against His People

Listen now to what Yahweh says: Arise, plead your case before the mountains, and let the hills hear what you have to say. 2 Hear, you mountains, Yahweh’s controversy, and you enduring foundations of the earth; for Yahweh has a controversy with His people, and He will contend with Israel. 3 My people, what have I done to you? How have I burdened you? Answer me! 4 For I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed you out of the house of bondage. I sent before you Moses, Aaron, and Miriam. 5 My people, remember now what Balak king of Moab devised, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him from Shittim to Gilgal, that you may know and write like that; the prophecies often appear to ‘jump around’ in their chronological fulfilment.
the righteous acts of Yahweh. 6 How shall I come before Yahweh, and bow myself before the exalted God? Shall I come before Him with burnt offerings, with calves a year old? 7 Will Yahweh be pleased with thousands of rams? With tens of thousands of rivers of oil? Shall I give my firstborn for my disobedience? The fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? 8 He has shown you, O man, what is good. What does Yahweh require of you, but to act justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God?

The Guilt of the People
9 Yahweh’s voice calls to the city, and wisdom sees your name: Listen to the rod, and He who appointed it. 10 Are there yet treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and a short ephah that is accursed? 11 Shall I be pure with dishonest scales, and with a bag of deceitful weights? 12 Her rich men are full of violence, her inhabitants speak lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their speech. 13 Therefore I also have struck you with a grievous wound. I have made you desolate because of your sins. 14 You shall eat, but not be satisfied. Your humiliation will be in your midst. You will store up, but not save; and that which you save I will give up to the sword. 15 You will sow, but won’t reap. You will tread the olives, but won’t anoint yourself with oil; and crush grapes, but won’t drink the wine. 16 For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab. You live by their commands, that I may make you a ruin, and her inhabitants a hissing; and you will bear the reproach of my people.

The Misery of the People
Misery is mine! Indeed, I am like one who gathers the summer fruits, as gleanings of the vineyard: There is no cluster of grapes to eat. My soul desires to eat the early fig. 2 The Godly man has perished out of the land, and there is no one upright among men. They all lie in wait for blood; every man hunts his brother with a net. 3 Their hands are on that which is evil to do it diligently. The ruler and judge ask for a bribe; and the powerful man dictates the evil desire of his soul. Thus they conspire together. 4 The best of them is like a brier. The most upright is worse than a thorn hedge. The day of your watchmen, even your visitation, has come; now is the time of their confusion. 5 Don’t trust in a neighbour. Don’t put confidence in a friend. With the woman lying in your embrace, be careful of the words of your mouth! 6 For the son dishonours the father, the daughter rises up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; a man’s enemies are the men of his own house. 7 But as for me, I will look to Yahweh. I will wait for the God of my salvation. My God will hear me. 8 Don’t rejoice against me, my enemy. When I fall, I will arise. When I sit in darkness, Yahweh will be a light to me. 9 I will bear the indignation of Yahweh, because I have sinned against Him, until He pleads my case, and executes judgment for me. He will bring me forth to the light. I will see His righteousness. 10 Then my enemy will see it, and shame will cover her who said to me, where is Yahweh your God? Then my enemy will see me and will cover herself with shame. Now she will be trodden down like the mire of the streets. 11 A day to build your walls! In that day, He will extend your boundary. 12 In that day they will come to you from Assyria and the cities of Egypt, and from Egypt even to the River, and from sea to sea, and mountain to mountain. 13 Yet the land will be desolate because of those who dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings.

Prayer and Praises
14 Shepherd Your people with Your staff, the flock of Your heritage, who dwell by themselves in a forest, in the midst of fertile pasture land; let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old. 15 As in the days of your coming forth out of the land of Egypt, I will show them marvellous things. 16 The nations will see and be ashamed of all their might. They will lay their hand on their mouth. Their ears will be deaf. 17 They will lick the dust like a serpent. Like crawling things of the earth they shall come trembling out of their dens. They will come with fear to Yahweh our God, and will be afraid because of You. 18 Who is a God like You, who pardons iniquity, and passes over the disobedience of the remnant of His heritage? He doesn’t retain his anger forever, because He delights in loving kindness. 19 He will again have compassion on us. He will tread our iniquities under foot; and you will cast all their sins into the depths of the sea. 20 You will give truth to Jacob, and mercy to Abraham, as you have sworn to our fathers from the days of old.

7:16 Ashamed of all their might – In the day of judgment, people will be ashamed of the size of their bank accounts, the trust they put in investments, influential people, wealth, bodily strength. All human advantage will be despised – and we must live in that spirit today.
1:4 He rebukes – These verses are full of allusion to what God did at the Red Sea – but they are written in the present tense, as if God’s wonders are no less in our day too, even though they are expressed in a less visual way.

1:8 Pursue His enemies into darkness – The final day of judgment will feature the rejected being chased by Angels into darkness, where they will weep and bang their teeth in anger with themselves (Ps. 35:5,6; Job 18:18; Mt. 22:13).

1:15 The feet of him – This prophecy about Christ is quoted in Rom. 10:15 about our preaching, but with a subtle change of pronoun: “How beautiful are the feet of them that preach”. We are the Lord Jesus to this world, because we are brethren in Him. This alone is a powerful imperative as to who we are, how we speak, the men and women we show ourselves to be. The Nahum passage is in the context of preaching to form your vows, for the wicked one will no more pass through you. He is utterly cut off.

CHAPTER 2  Dec. 10
How Nineveh Is to Fall

He who dashes in pieces has come up against you. Keep the fortress! Watch the way! Strengthen your muscles! Fortify your power mightily! 2 For Yahweh restores the pride of Jacob, as the pride of Israel; for the destroyers have destroyed them, and ruined their vine branches. 3 The shield of his mighty men is made red, the valiant men are dressed in scarlet, the chariots flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and the pine spears are brandished. 4 The chariots rage in the streets, they rush back and forth in the broad highways. Their appearance is like torches, they run like lightning. 5 He summons his picked troops. They stumble on their way. They dash to protect its wall, and the protective shield is put in place. 6 The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace is dissolved. 7 It is decreed: she is uncovered, she is carried away; and her handmaids moan as with the voice of doves, beating on their breasts. 8 Like water from a burst dam the people rush away from Nineveh. Stop! Stop! they cry, but no one looks back. 9 Take the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold, for there is no end of the booty, the glory of all goodly jewels. 10 She is empty, void, and waste. The heart melts, the knees knock together, their bodies and faces have grown pale. 11 Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion and the lioness walked, the lion’s cubs, and no one made them afraid? 12 The lion tore in pieces enough for his cubs, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his caves with the kill, and his dens with prey.

CHAPTER 3  Dec. 11
A Woe to Nineveh

Woe to the city of blood! It is all full of lies and robbery- no end and much sexual sin is that it destroys families; and God is a family God who has created the family unit as His preferred method for His people.

3:5, 6 The language of these verses is extreme. This is the fully legitimate anger of God against those who abuse His people and sin against Him. The grace and kindness of God shouldn’t let us forget His wrath with sin which is also a part of His total character and personality.

3:7 Nineveh is laid waste – At the time Nahum was speaking, she was prosperous and powerful. But God’s word is so sure of fulfilment that He can speak in the present tense, speaking of things which haven’t yet happened as if they have (Rom. 4:17). We also, by faith, must view this world with the same eyes. It’s all over for this world, right here and now, so certain is it that Christ will return and establish His Kingdom upon the ruins of the kingdoms of men.

3:9 Infinite strength – Egypt is presented in the Bible as representative of human strength. It appeared that their strength was infinite, but only God has infinite strength. This is an example of how the Bible often speaks of situations as they appear to people on earth, even though this is not ultimately how things are. The language of demons in the New Testament is another example. God sometimes adopts a human perspective in reasoning with us, in order to connect with us; just as we do when trying to communicate with and explain things to those (e.g. children) who understand something far less than we do.

3:4 And families – One aspect of the sin of prostitution and much sexual sin is that it destroys families; and God is a family God who has created the family unit as His preferred method for His people.

troops in your midst are like women. The gates of your land are set wide open to your enemies. The fire has devoured your bars. 14 Draw water for the siege. Strengthen your fortresses. Go into the clay, and tread the mortar. Make the brick kiln strong. 15 There the fire will devour you. The sword will cut you off. It will devour you like the grasshopper. You have multiplied like grasshoppers, bred like the locust. 16 You have increased your merchants more than the stars of the skies. The grasshopper strips, and flees away. 17 Your guards are like the locusts, and your officials like the swarms of locusts, which settle on the walls on a cold day, but when the sun appears, they flee away, and their place is not known where they are. 18 Your shepherds slumber, king of Assyria. Your nobles lie down, your people are scattered on the mountains, and there is no one to gather them. 19 There is no healing for your wound, for your injury is fatal. All who hear the report of you clap their hands over you; for who hasn’t felt your endless cruelty?
HABAKKUK

Habakkuk Complains

The oracle which Habakkuk the prophet saw. 2 Yahweh, how long will I cry, and You will not hear? I cry out to you Violence! - and will You not save? 3 Why do You show me iniquity, and look at perversity? For destruction and violence are before me. There is strife, and contention rises up. 4 Therefore the law is paralyzed, and justice never goes forth; for the wicked surround the righteous, therefore justice is perverted.

God’s Reply

5 Look among the nations, watch, and wonder marvellously; for I am working a work in your days, which you will not believe though it is told you. 6 For, behold, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, that march through the breadth of the earth, to possess dwelling places that are not theirs. 7 They are feared and dreaded. Their judgment and their dignity proceed from themselves. 8 Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves. Their horsemen press proudly on. Yes, their horsemen come from afar, they fly as an eagle that hastens to devour. 9 All of them come for violence; their hordes face the desert; he gathers prisoners like sand. 10 Yes, he scoffs at kings, and princes are a derision to him. He laughs at every stronghold, for he builds up an earthen siege ramp, and takes it. 11 Then he sweeps by like the wind, and goes on further. He is indeed guilty; his strength is his god.

Habakkuk Complains again

12 Aren’t You from everlasting, Yahweh my God, my Holy One? We

1:2 The closer we are to God, the more we will be able like Habakkuk to question Him, to have dialogue with Him, rather than accepting the principles of the Bible as His cold word to us which we simply have to accept without any response from us back to Him.

1:5 Paul appropriates the words of Hab. 1:5 LXX to his work of preaching (Acts 13:2; 14:26). Even if people don’t believe our message, God is still using us to work His work. In the process of preaching the Gospel we feel God working with us; the exercise of preaching is therefore largely for our benefit, and it is not therefore ever a failure even if people disbelieve the Gospel we preach.

1:6 God ‘raised up’ evil people in order to fulfil His purpose. The temporary ‘rise and rise’ of the wicked shouldn’t discourage us – it is actually of God, and they are merely tools in His hands.

1:12 If we truly believe that we are His people, not those of this world, and that we are truly part of His eternal family, then God’s eternity becomes a guarantee of our eternal salvation. If He lives for ever, so shall we (this is true also of Christ – if we are connected with His resurrection to eternal life through baptism, we too shall live for ever with Him, Jn. 14:19; Rom. 6:8; 2 Cor. 13:4; 2 Tim. 2:11).
also will not die! Yahweh, you have appointed him for judgment. You, Rock, have established him to punish.

13 You who have purer eyes than to see evil, and who cannot look on perversity, why do You tolerate those who deal treacherously, and keep silent when the wicked swallows up the man who is more righteous than he,

14 and make men like the fish of the sea, like the creeping things, that have no ruler over them?

15 He takes up all of them with the hook; he catches them in his net, and gathers them in his dragnet. Therefore he rejoices and is glad.

16 Therefore he sacrifices to his net, and burns incense to his dragnet, because by them his life is luxurious, and his food is good.

17 Will he therefore continually empty his net, and kill the nations without mercy?

CHAPTER 2 Dec. 13

I will stand at my watch, and set myself on the ramparts, and will look out to know what He will say to me, and what answer I will get concerning my complaint.

God’s Reply

2 Yahweh answered me, Write the vision, and make it plain on tablets, that he who reads it may run.

3 For the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it speeds toward the end, and won’t prove false. Though it takes time, wait for it; because it will surely come. It won’t delay.

4 Behold, his soul is puffed up. It is not upright in him; but the justified one will live due to his faith.

5 Yes, moreover, wine is treacherous. A proud man who doesn’t stay at home, who enlarges his desire as Sheol, and he is like death, and can’t be satisfied, but gathers to himself all nations, and heaps to himself all peoples.

6 Won’t all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, ‘Woe to him who increases that which is not his, and who enriches himself by extortion! How long?’

7 Won’t your debtors rise up suddenly, and wake up those who now make you tremble, and you will be their victim?

8 Because you have plundered many nations, all the remnant of the peoples

2:2 May run – Running in response to God’s word is an idiom for obediently responding to it (Ps. 119:32,60; 147:15; Amos 8:11,12; 2 Thess. 3:1). The ‘plainer’ the word is made, the more clearly it is understood, the greater will be our response to it. Correct understanding of God’s word is therefore important because it is related to the extent of our ‘running’ in response to it.

2:3 The context is a prophecy concerning the coming Babylonian desolation of Jerusalem. There were some who felt that the fulfilment of these words of God was ‘tarrying’ so long that it would never come. We face the same temptation with regard to the prophecies of Christ’s return.

2:4 The justified – Much is made of this verse in the New Testament, to teach that we sinners are counted righteous, declared in the right as we stand in the dock before the judgment of God, on the basis of our faith in Christ – rather than our works (Rom. 1:17; Heb. 10:38). The context of this verse teaches that living by faith is the antithesis of being proud. The life of faith, trusting thereby in grace, is a life of humility.
will plunder you, because of men’s blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all who dwell in it. 9 Woe to him who gets an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil! 10 You have devised shame to your house, by cutting off many peoples, and have sinned against your soul. 11 For the stone will cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the woodwork will answer it. 12 Woe to him who builds a town with blood, and establishes a city by iniquity! 13 Behold, isn’t it of Yahweh of Armies that the peoples labour for the fire, and the nations weary themselves for vanity? 14 For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of Yahweh, as the waters cover the sea. 15 Woe to him who gives his neighbour drink, pouring your inflaming wine until they are drunk, so that you may gaze at their naked bodies! 16 You are filled with shame, and not glory. You will also drink, and be exposed! The cup of Yahweh’s right hand will come around to you, and disgrace will cover your glory. 17 For the violence done to Lebanon will overwhelm you, and the destruction of the animals, which made them afraid; because of men’s blood, and for the violence done to the land, to every city and to those who dwell in them. 18 What value does the engraved image have, that its maker has engraved it; the molten image, even the teacher of lies, that he who fashions its form trusts in it, to make mute idols? 19 Woe to him who says to the wood, ‘Awake!’ or to the mute stone, ‘Arise!’ Shall this teach? Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in its midst. 20 But Yahweh is in His holy temple. Let all the earth be silent before Him!

CHAPTER 3 Dec. 14

A Prayer of Habakkuk

A prayer of Habakkuk, the prophet, set to victorious music. 2 Yahweh, I have heard of Your fame. I stand in awe of Your deeds, Yahweh. Renew your work in the midst of the years. In the midst of the years make it known. In wrath, You remember mercy. 3 God came from Teman, the Holy One from Mount Paran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and His praise filled the earth. 4 His splendour is 2:14 A clear prediction of God’s Kingdom coming on earth.

2:16 Being given the cup of the Lord is a double symbol – of blessing (1 Cor. 10:16; 11:26); or, as here, a symbol of condemnation (Ps. 75:8; Jer. 51:7; Rev. 16:19). This adds some intensity to the cup we take at the memorial service. We are drinking that cup either to our condemnation (1 Cor. 11:29), or to our eternal blessing. Hence the breaking of bread meeting brings us up to a T-intersection in our lives.
3:2 In wrath, You remember mercy – God’s anger and judgments aren’t the wrath of an offended deity who is more powerful than us, as it were hitting back at us because we have upset Him. His judgments incorporate mercy, and are aimed at bringing good out of evil, teaching others His ways through them (Is. 26:9).
like the sunrise. Rays shine from His hand, where His power is hidden. 5 Plague went before Him, and pestilence followed His feet. 6 He stood, and shook the earth. He looked, and made the nations tremble. The ancient mountains crumbled. The age-old hills collapsed. His ways are eternal. 7 I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction. The dwellings of the land of Midian trembled. 8 Was Yahweh displeased with the rivers? Was Your anger against the rivers, or Your wrath against the sea, that You rode on Your horses, on Your chariots of salvation? 9 You removed the sheath from Your bow, You called for many arrows. Selah. You split the earth with rivers. 10 The mountains saw You, and were afraid. The storm of waters passed by, the deep sea roared and lifted up its hands on high. 11 The sun and moon stood still in the sky at the light of Your arrows as they went, at the shining of Your glittering spear. 12 You marched through the land in wrath. You threshed the nations in anger. 13 You went forth for the salvation of Your people, for the salvation of Your anointed. You crushed the head of the land of wickedness. You stripped them head to foot. Selah. 14 You pierced the heads of his warriors with their own spears. They came as a whirlwind to scatter me, gloating as if to devour the wretched in secret. 15 You trampled the sea with your horses, churning mighty waters. 16 I heard, and my body trembled. My lips quivered at the sound. Rottenness enters into my bones, and I tremble in my place, because I must wait quietly for the day of trouble, for the coming up of the people who invade us. 17 For though the fig tree doesn’t flourish, nor fruit be in the vines; the labour of the olive fails, the fields yield no food; the flocks are cut off from the fold, and there is no herd in the stalls: 18 yet I will rejoice in Yahweh. I will be joyful in the God of my salvation! 19 Yahweh, the Lord, is my strength. He makes my feet like deer’s feet, and enables me to go in high places. For the musical director, on my stringed instruments.

3:16 After twice approaching God with the question of “Why?”, and each time being given fresh insights into the awful nature of the judgment to come as a response, Habakkuk ends up with a trembling body and lips that ‘quivered at the sound’ of God’s word… and yet, at the very same time, feels that he still “will rejoice in the Lord” (:18), even though he doesn’t fully understand. Faith involves an element of acceptance that God is right, even though we don’t understand.

3:17 These were all the blessings promised for obedience. Habakkuk had been obedient, but didn’t seem to have received these blessings. Yet still he had the faith to rejoice in God’s grace, even though he didn’t understand the exact relationship between obedience and blessing in this life.

3:18 Yet will I – Even if others amongst God’s people turn away and are punished for it, yet we personally can still rejoice in our personal relationship with God.
ZEPHANIAH

Dec. 15

Coming Destruction

The word of Yahweh which came to Zephaniah, the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Josiah, the son of Amon, king of Judah. 2 I will utterly sweep away everything off of the surface of the earth, says Yahweh. 3 I will sweep away man and animal. I will sweep away the birds of the sky, the fish of the sea, and the idols along with the wicked. I will cut off man from the surface of the earth, says Yahweh.

Against Judah

4 I will stretch out My hand against Judah, and against all the inhabitants of Jerusalem. I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place: the name of the idolatrous and pagan priests, 5 those who worship the army of the sky on the housetops, those who worship and swear by Yahweh and also swear by Malcam, 6 those who have turned back from following Yahweh, and those who haven’t sought Yahweh nor inquired after Him. 7 Be silent at the presence of the Lord Yahweh, for the day of Yahweh is at hand. For Yahweh has prepared a sacrifice, He has consecrated His guests. 8 It will happen in the day of Yahweh’s sacrifice that I will punish the princes, the king’s sons, and all those who are clothed with foreign clothing. 9 In that day, I will punish all those who leap over the threshold, who fill their master’s house with violence and deceit. 10 In that day, says Yahweh, there will be the noise of a cry from the fish gate, a wailing from the second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. 11 Wail, you inhabitants of Maktesh, for all the people of Canaan are undone! All those who were loaded with silver are cut off. 12 It will happen at that time that I will search Jerusalem with candles, and I will punish the men who are settled on their dregs, who say in their heart, Yahweh will not do good, neither

1:5 And also swear – Repeatedly the Bible condemns the human tendency to worship both the true God and also idols (1 Cor. 10:21). Yahweh has loved us so much that He is rightfully jealous over us, and our loyalty must be to Him alone.

1:12 With candles – Alluding to the Jewish custom of searching their homes for yeast, representing sin, at Passover time.

In weak moments we all tend to assume that God is somehow in limbo, indifferent and not paying attention to our behaviour or situation here on earth. The temporary silence of God doesn’t mean that He is not watching intently. These people who thought that God was indifferent were themselves “settled on their dregs”, they hadn’t moved for a long time, and they thought God was like them. We must resist the temptation to think that God’s attitudes to things and people, our own selves included, are merely a reflection of our attitudes (Ps. 50:21). The Bible reveals to us God’s judgments, positions and emotions, and we must accept this revelation rather than assuming that God is somehow created in our own image.
will He do evil. 13 Their wealth will become a spoil, and their houses a desolation. Yes, they will build houses, but won’t inhabit them. They will plant vineyards, but won’t drink their wine.

The Great Day of Yahweh Is Near
14 The great day of Yahweh is near. It is near, and hurries greatly, the voice of the day of Yahweh. The mighty man cries there bitterly. 15 That day is a day of wrath, a day of distress and anguish, a day of trouble and ruin, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and blackness, 16 a day of the trumpet and alarm, against the fortified cities, and against the high battlements. 17 I will bring distress upon men, so that they will walk like blind men, because they have sinned against Yahweh; and their blood will be poured out like dust, and their flesh like dung. 18 Neither their silver nor their gold will be able to deliver them in the day of Yahweh’s wrath, but the whole land will be devoured by the fire of His jealousy; for He will make an end, yes, a terrible end, of all those who dwell in the land.

CHAPTER 2 Dec. 16

Gather yourselves together, yes, gather together, you nation that has no shame, 2 before the appointed time when the day passes as the chaff, before the fierce anger of Yahweh comes on you, before the day of Yahweh’s anger comes on you. 3 Seek Yahweh, all you humble of the land, who have kept His ordinances. Seek righteousness; seek humility. It may be that you will be hidden in the day of Yahweh’s anger.

Against the Land of the Philistines
4 For Gaza will be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation. They will drive out Ashdod at noonday, and Ekron will be rooted up. 5 Woe to the inhabitants of the sea coast, the nation of the Cherethites! The word of Yahweh is against you, Canaan, the land of the Philistines. I will destroy you, that there will be no inhabitant. 6 The sea coast will be pastures, with booths for shepherds and folds for flocks. 7 The coast will be for the remnant of the house of Judah. They will find pasture there. They will lie down in the evening in the houses of Ashkelon, for Yahweh their God will visit them, and restore them.

Against Moab and Ammon
8 I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the insults of the children of Ammon, with which they have reproached My people, and magnified themselves against their border. 9 Therefore as I live, says Yahweh of Armies, the God of Israel, surely

1:17, 18 These are a series of allusions to Sodom, showing that God’s sinful people were no better than the worst Gentiles. Mere association with God’s people and knowing truths about God doesn’t mean of themselves that we are any better than the worst sinners.

2:3 Humility is a height which we should aspire to. This is a complete inversion of human thinking and values.
Moab will be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, a possession of nettles and salt pits, and a perpetual desolation. The remnant of My people will plunder them, and the survivors of My nation will inherit them. 10 This they will have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of Yahweh of Armies. 11 Yahweh will leave them awestruck, for He will starve all the gods of the land. Men will worship Him, everyone from his place, even from every border of the nations.

Against Cush
12 You Cushites also, you will be killed by My sword.

Against Assyria
13 He will stretch out His hand against the north, destroy Assyria, and will make Nineveh a desolation, as dry as the wilderness. 14 Herds will lie down in the midst of her, all the animals of the nations. Both the pelican and the porcupine will lodge in its capitals. Their calls will echo through the windows. Desolation will be in the thresholds, for He has laid bare the cedar beams. 15 This is the joyous city that lived carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none besides me. How she has become a desolation, a place for animals to lie down in! Everyone who passes by her will hiss, and shake their fists.

CHAPTER 3 Dec. 17

Jerusalem’s Future

Woe to her who is rebellious and polluted, the oppressing city! 2 She didn’t obey the voice. She didn’t receive correction. She didn’t trust in Yahweh. She didn’t draw near to her God. 3 Her princes in the midst of her are as roaring lions, her judges are as evening wolves; they leave nothing until the next day. 4 Her prophets are arrogant and treacherous people, her priests have desecrated the sanctuary; they have done violence to the law. 5 Yahweh in the midst of her, He is righteous;
He will do no wrong. Every morning He brings His justice to light. He doesn’t fail, but the unjust know no shame. 6 I have cut off nations, their battlements are desolate; I have made their streets waste, so that no one passes by. Their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, so that there is no inhabitant. 7 I said, Just fear Me. Receive correction, so that her dwelling won’t be cut off, according to all that I have appointed concerning her. But they rose early and corrupted all their doings. 8 Therefore wait for Me, says Yahweh, until the day that I rise up to seize the prey; for My determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour on them My indignation, even all My fierce anger; for all the land will be devoured with the fire of My jealousy. 9 For then I will purify the lips of the peoples, that they may all call on the name of Yahweh, to serve Him with one neck. 10 From beyond the rivers of Cush, My worshippers, even the daughter of My dispersed people, will bring My offering. 11 In that day you will not be ashamed of all your doings in which you have transgressed against Me; for then I will take away out of the midst of you your proud exulting ones, and you will no more be arrogant in My holy mountain. 12 But I will leave in the midst of you an afflicted and humbled people, and they will take refuge in the name of Yahweh. 13 The remnant of Israel will not do iniquity, nor speak lies, neither will a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth, for they will feed and lie down, and no one will make them afraid. 14 Sing, daughter of Zion! Shout, Israel! Be glad and rejoice with all your heart, daughter of Jerusalem. 15 Yahweh has taken away your judgments. He has thrown out your enemy. The King of Israel, Yahweh, is in the midst of you. You will not be afraid of evil any more. 16 In that day it will be said to Jerusalem, Don’t be afraid, Zion. Don’t let your hands be weak. 17 Yahweh your God is in the midst of you, a mighty one who will save. He will rejoice over you with joy, He will calm you in His love, He will rejoice over you with singing. 18 I will gather those who mourn with longing for the appointed feasts, you will no longer suffer reproach. 19 Behold, at that time I will deal with all those who afflict you, and I will save those who are lame, and gather those who were driven away. I will give them praise and honour, those whose shame was once in all the earth. 20 At that time will I bring you in, and at that time will I gather you; for I will give you honour and praise among all the peoples of the earth, when I return your captives before your eyes, says Yahweh.

The Apocryphal book of Baruch 6:2 records how Baruch changes the prophecy of Jer. 29:10, that Israel were to be 70 years in Babylon and then return: “When you reach Babylon you will be there many years, a period seven generations long, after which I will bring you back”. The 70 years are turned into seven generations. This was precisely the mindset spoken against in Haggai 1:2, whereby the Jews reasoned that the time had not yet come to rebuild the temple. “The time” referred to the time spoken of by Jeremiah – but Baruch had re-interpreted the 70 years as meaning seven generations. And yet all this was done with a surface-level reverence for God’s word – the exiles considered themselves blessed because they had God’s law (Baruch 4:4). Indeed, much of Baruch is a condemnation of idols and a demand to worship Yahweh. Human nature seeks to defer serving God until later – we’re quick to find excuses. But the Bible stresses how God’s true servants rise up and serve Him immediately.

1:9 Looked for much – The Jews in Babylon for the most part chose to remain there rather than return to rebuild God’s land and house. Many of those who did return did so, it seems, motivated by the hope of personal gain. They were more interested in building houses for themselves than in restoring God’s house, and therefore God sent famine – they didn’t get the “much” benefit and blessing for themselves which they had expected. We too can leave ‘Babylon’, the world, and sign up to God’s work from the motive of personal benefit, rather than a genuine desire to see God’s glory and His work and cause progressed.
grain, on the new wine, on the oil, on that which the ground brings forth, on men, on livestock, and on all the labour of the hands. 12 Then Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of Yahweh, their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as Yahweh, their God, had sent him; and the people feared Yahweh. 13 Then Haggai, Yahweh’s messenger, spoke Yahweh’s message to the people, saying, I am with you, says Yahweh. 14 Yahweh stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remainder of the people; and they came and worked on the house of Yahweh of Armies, their God, in the twenty-fourth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

CHAPTER 2 Dec. 18

The Glory of the New House of God

In the seventh month, in the twenty-first day of the month, the word of Yahweh came by Haggai the prophet, saying, 2 Speak now to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remainder of the people, saying, 3 ‘Who is left among you who saw this house in its former glory? How do you see it now? Isn’t it in your eyes as nothing? 4 Yet now be strong, Zerubbabel!’ says Yahweh. ‘Be strong, Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest! Be strong, all you people of the land’, says Yahweh, ‘and work, for I am with you’, says Yahweh of Armies. 5 This is the word that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt, and My Spirit dwelt among you. ‘Don’t be afraid’. 6 For this is what Yahweh of Armies says: ‘Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, the earth, the sea, and the dry land; 7 and I will shake all nations. The precious things of all nations will come, and I will fill this house with glory, says Yahweh of Armies. 8 The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine’, says Yahweh of Armies. 9 ‘The latter glory of this house will be greater than the former’, says Yahweh of Armies; ‘and in this place will I give peace’, says Yahweh of Armies.

Blessings

10 In the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, the Word of Yahweh came by Haggai the prophet, saying, 11 Thus says Yahweh of Armies: Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying, 12 ‘If someone carries holy food in the fold of his garment, and the garment touches bread, stew, wine, oil, or any food, will it too become holy?’. The priests answered, No. 13 Then Haggai said, If one who is unclean by reason of a dead body touch any of these, will it be unclean? The priests answered, It will be unclean. 14 Then Haggai answered, ‘So is this people, and so is this nation before Me’, says Yahweh; ‘and so is every work of their hands. That which they offer there is unclean. 15 Now, please consider from this day and backward, before a stone was laid on a stone in Yahweh’s temple. 16 Through all that time, when one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were only ten. When one came to the wine vat to draw out fifty, there were only twenty. 17 I struck you with blight, mildew, and hail in all the work of your hands; yet you didn’t turn to Me’, says Yahweh. 18 ‘Consider, please, from this day and backward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of Yahweh’s temple was laid, consider it. 19 Is the seed still in the barn? Yes, the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree haven’t brought forth. From this day on I will bless you’.

Zerubbabel Is a Chosen Signet Ring

20 The Word of Yahweh came the second time to Haggai in the twenty-fourth day of the month, saying, 21 Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, ‘I will shake the heavens and the earth. 22 I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms. I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations. I will overthrow the chariots, and those who ride in them. The horses and their riders will come down, everyone by the sword of his brother. 23 In that day, says Yahweh of Armies, will I take you, Zerubbabel, My servant, the son of Shealtiel’, says Yahweh, ‘and will make you as a signet ring, for I have chosen you’, says Yahweh of Armies.

2:12, 13 Unholiness spreads easier than holiness does. In spiritual things, it’s easier to slip into a downward spiral than into an upward spiral. The Jews thought that mere vague association with holy things would somehow make them holy. Our attendance at meetings, identification on a social level with God’s people, breaking bread etc. will not of itself make us holy.

2:17 One of the saddest things to observe is people suffering from situations which God uses to try to bring them back to Him, and them still refusing to return to Him. So much tragic human suffering is in vain because people won’t perceive the spiritual intention behind it.
ZECHARIAH

CHAPTER 1 Dec. 19

Return to the Lord

In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of Yahweh came to Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, 2 Yahweh was very displeased with your fathers. 3 Therefore tell them: Thus says Yahweh of Armies: ‘Return to me’, says Yahweh of Armies, ‘and I will return to you’, says Yahweh of Armies. 4 Don’t you be like your fathers, to whom the former prophets proclaimed, saying: Thus says Yahweh of Armies, ‘Return now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings;’ but they did not hear, nor listen to me, says Yahweh. 5 Your fathers, where are they? And the prophets, do they live forever? 6 But My words and My decrees, which I commanded My servants the prophets, didn’t they influence your fathers? Then they repented and said, ‘Just as Yahweh of Armies determined to do to us, according to our ways, and according to our practices, so He has done with us’.

A Man on a Red Horse

7 On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, the word of Yahweh came to Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, 8 I had a vision in the night, and behold, a man riding on a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in a ravine; and behind him there were red, brown, and white horses. 9 Then I asked, ‘My lord, what are these?’ The angel who talked with me said to me, I will show you what these are. 10 The man who stood among the myrtle trees answered, They are the ones Yahweh has sent to go back and forth through the earth. 11 They reported to the angel of Yahweh who stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked back and forth through the earth, and behold, all the earth is at rest and in peace. 12 Then the angel of Yahweh replied, O Yahweh of Armies, how long will You not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which You have had indignation those seventy years? 13 Yahweh answered the angel who talked with me with kind and comforting words. 14 So the angel who talked with me said to me, Proclaim, saying, ‘Thus says Yahweh of Armies: I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. 15 I am very angry with the nations that are at ease; for I was but a little displeased, but they added to

1:2 God is frequently called “Yahweh of Armies” in Zechariah because the prophecy is seeking to assure the Jews that although everything seemed quiet on earth and in the land of Judah (:11), God’s invisible armies of Angels were very actively working. We need to also be aware of this.

1:12 The Angel didn’t understand – Angels don’t sin, they have God’s nature, but they still don’t know everything (Mt. 24:36).
the calamity. 16 Therefore thus says Yahweh: I have returned to Jerusalem with mercy. My house shall be built in it, says Yahweh of Armies, and a builders’ line shall be stretched forth over Jerusalem’. 17 Proclaim further, saying, ‘Thus says Yahweh of Armies: My cities will again overflow with prosperity, and Yahweh will again comfort Zion, and will again choose Jerusalem’.

Four Horns and Four Carpenters
18 I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold, four horns. 19 I asked the angel who talked with me, What are these? He answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem. 20 Yahweh showed me four carpenters. 21 Then I asked, What are these coming to do? He said, These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man lifted up his head; but these have come to saw them off, to cast down the horns of the nations, which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

1:16 God had returned to Jerusalem; through the prophets, He had called for the Jews to leave Babylon and also return to Jerusalem. But most of them preferred to stay in the soft life there. Those who returned were following where God led. The call to repentance in :3 was in terms of ‘returning’ to God – and the Jews could’ve demonstrated this by returning to Jerusalem from Babylon. God had already returned to them; they had to return to Him. God takes the initiative with us, time and again.

1:21 A horn can be understood as a symbol of power.

2:7 God urged the Jews to leave Babylon. But as the book of Esther explains, they were quite comfortable there, Jews were in high places, they didn’t stay weeping by the rivers of Babylon for long; and there’s archaeological evidence they were involved in banking and commerce. But God told them to escape from it – for spiritually, it would kill them. Their position was urgent. But most preferred to remain there, rather than leave it all behind and make the long and uncertain journey to a land in ruins.

2:8 Apple of His eye – The most sensitive spot on the human body. God is so sensitive of His eye. 9 For, behold, I will shake My hand over them, and they will be a spoil to those who served them; and you will know that Yahweh of Armies has sent me. 10 Sing and rejoice, daughter of Zion; for, behold, I come, and I will dwell in the middle of you’, says Yahweh. 11 Many nations shall join themselves to Yahweh in that day, and shall be My people; and I will dwell in the middle of you; and you shall know that Yahweh of Armies has sent me to you. 12 Yahweh will inherit Judah as His portion in the holy land, and will again choose Jerusalem. 13 Be silent, all flesh, before Yahweh; for He has roused Himself from His holy habitation!

CHAPTER 3 Dec. 20
Rich Clothing to Replace Filthy Garments

He showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of Yahweh, and Satan standing at his right hand to be his adversary. 2 Yahweh said to Satan, Yahweh rebuke you, Satan! Yes, Yahweh who has chosen Jerusalem rebuke you! Isn’t this a burning stick plucked out of the fire? 3 Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and was standing before the angel. 4 He answered and spoke to those who stood before him, saying, Take the filthy garments from him. To him he said, Behold, I have caused your iniquity to pass to us His people; His love for us is so great that He will be highly sensitive to everything done bad to us, and every pain we experience.

3:1 The context in Zechariah 3 was that of the restoration of the Jews to Jerusalem from Babylon under Ezra and Nehemiah. That situation was reflected in the Heavenly court. The Jews were trying to rebuild the temple and re-establish a system of worship there. However, “the people of the land” acted as a satan [‘Satan’ means ‘adversary’] to the Jews. They are actually called “the adversaries of Judah” in Ezra 4:1. They wrote an accusation against the (new) inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem to the king of Persia (Ezra 4:6). The Hebrew word for “accusation” is related to that translated “satan”. 3:8 tells us that the characters of verses 1 and 2 are ‘men of sign’ i.e. we have to interpret them. So the satans – the adversaries – stood before the angel along with Joshua the High Priest, who “was clothed with filthy garments” (:3) – without a mitre on his head (:5 implies). The inhabitants of the land, the satan, were complaining to God, manifested in the angel, that the new Jewish high priest was not really valid, as he did not wear the proper clothes (they had probably been lost during the captivity). The angel rebukes the satan, and proceeds to clothe Joshua with a set of priestly clothes and a mitre (:4,5), thus showing God’s acceptance of him. The inference behind the complaint was that God had not really chosen Jerusalem for the Jews to rebuild, and that therefore they were going ahead with their plans without God behind them. But the angel says that the Lord has chosen Jerusalem, in the same way as He had chosen Joshua to be high priest. Thus Joshua represented Jerusalem. “Isn’t this a burning stick plucked out of the fire?” the angel asks satan concerning Jerusalem. This is quoted in Jude 23 concerning saving repentant sinners. Thus the angel is in effect saying, ‘Jerusalem has repented, therefore I have plucked them out of the fire of judgment and destruction; you should not therefore be implying that Jerusalem and the Jews are so sinful that they cannot be restored to their land with Me behind them’.
4:6 The prophets continually criticize human strength. In our terms, this may translate into situations like what we do when we feel the first onset of an illness; when a car won’t start... do we trust in human strength, on the pretensions of science, and only turn to God if all else fails? In prophetic terms, this is awful! That we don’t first and totally turn to our God.

Lampstand of Gold and Two Olive Trees

The angel who talked with me came again, and awoke me, as a man who is awaken out of his sleep. 2 He said to me, What do you see? I said, I have seen, and behold, a lampstand all of gold, with its bowl on the top of it, and its seven lamps thereon; there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, which are on the top of it; 3 and two olive trees by it, one on the right side of the bowl, and the other on the left side of it. 4 I answered and spoke to the angel who talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord?

5 Then the angel who talked with me answered me, Don’t you know what these are? I said, No, my lord. 6 Then he answered and spoke to me, saying, This is the word of Yahweh to Zerubbabel, saying, ‘Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit’, says Yahweh of Armies. 7 Who are you, great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you are a plain; and he will bring out the capstone with shouts of ‘Grace, grace, to it!’.

8 Moreover the word of Yahweh came to me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house. His hands shall also finish it; and you will know that Yahweh of Armies has sent me to you. 10 Indeed, who despises the day of small things? For these seven shall rejoice, and shall see the plumb line in the hand of Zerubbabel. These are the eyes of Yahweh, which run back and forth through the whole earth. 11 Then I asked him, What are these two olive trees on the right side of the lampstand and on the left side of it? 12 I asked him the second time, What are these two olive branches, which are beside the two golden spouts, that pour the golden oil out of themselves? 13 He answered me, Don’t you know what these are? I said, No, my lord. 14 Then he said, These are the two anointed ones who stand by the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAPTER 5 Dec. 21

A Flying Scroll

Then again I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold, a flying scroll. 2 He said to me, What do you see? I answered, I see a flying scroll; its length is twenty cubits, and its breadth ten cubits. 3 Then he said to me, This is the curse that goes out over the surface of the whole land; for everyone who steals shall be cut off according to it on the one side; and everyone who swears falsely shall be cut off according to it on the other side. 4 I will cause it to go out, says Yahweh of Armies, and it will enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him who swears falsely by My name; and it will remain in the midst of his house, and will destroy it with its timber and its stones.

Wickedness in the Ephah Basket

5 Then the angel who talked with me came forward, and said to me, Lift up now your eyes, and see what is this that is appearing. 6 I said, What is it? He said, This is the ephah basket that is appearing. He said moreover, This is their appearance in all the land 7 (and behold, a talent of lead was lifted up); and this is a woman sitting in the midst of the ephah basket. 8 He said, This is Wickedness!; and he threw her down into the midst of the ephah basket; and he put the weight of lead on its mouth. 9 Then lifted I up my eyes, and saw, and behold, there were two women, and the wind was in their wings. Now they had wings like the wings of a stork, and they lifted up the ephah basket between earth and the sky. 10 Then I said to the angel who talked with me, Where are these carrying the ephah basket to? 11 He said to me, To build her a house in the land of Shinar. When it is prepared, she will be set there in her own place.

Four Chariots from between Mountains of Brass

Again I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold, four chariots came out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of brass. 2 In the first chariot were red horses; in the second chariot black horses; 3 in the third chariot white horses; and in the fourth chariot dappled horses, all of them... powerful. 4 Then I asked the angel who talked with me, What are these, my lord? 5 The angel answered me, These are the four spirits of the sky, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth. 6 The one with the black horses goes out toward the north country; and the white went out after them; and the dappled went forth toward the south country. 7 The strong went out, and sought to go that they might walk back and forth through the earth: and he said, Go around and through the earth! So they walked back and forth through the earth. 8 Then he called to me, and spoke to me, saying, Behold, those who go toward the north country have quieted My spirit in the north country.

Silver and Gold Crowns for Joshua

9 The word of Yahweh came to me, saying, 10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah; and come the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, where they have come from Babylon. 11 Yes, take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them on the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest; 12 and speak to him, saying, ‘Thus says Yahweh of Armies, Behold, the man whose name is the Branch: and he shall grow up out of his place; and he shall build Yahweh’s temple; 13 even he shall build Yahweh’s temple; and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule on His throne; and he shall be a priest on His throne; and the counsel of peace shall be between them both. 14 The crowns shall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in Yahweh’s temple. 15 Those who are far off shall come and build in Yahweh’s temple; and you shall know that Yahweh of Armies has sent me to you. This will happen, if you will diligently obey the voice of Yahweh your God’.

Justice and Mercy

It happened in the fourth year of king Darius that the word of Yahweh came to Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, the month of Chislev. 2 The people of Bethel sent Sharezer and Regem Melech, and their men, to entreat Yahweh’s favour, 3 and to speak to the priests of the house of Yahweh of Armies, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years? 4 Then the word of Yahweh of Armies came to me, saying, 5 Speak to all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, ‘When you fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month for these seventy years, did you actually fast to Me, really to Me? 6 When you eat, and when you drink, don’t you eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves? 7 Aren’t these the words which Yahweh proclaimed by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and its cities around her, and the South and the lowland were inhabited?’ 8 The word of Yahweh came to Zechariah, saying, 9 Thus has Yahweh of Armies spoken, saying, ‘Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother. 10 Don’t oppress the widow, nor the fatherless, the foreigner, nor the poor; and let none of you devise evil against his brother in your heart’. 11 But they refused to listen, and turned their backs, and stopped their ears, that they might not hear. 12 Yes, they made their hearts as hard as flint, in case they might hear the law, and the words which Yahweh of Armies had sent by His Spirit in the previous prophets. Therefore great wrath came from Yahweh of Armies. 13 It has come to pass that, as He called, and they refused to listen, so they will call, and I will not listen, said Yahweh of Armies; 14 but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations which they have not known. Thus the land was desolate after them, so that no man passed through nor returned: for they made the pleasant land desolate.

CHAPTER 8 Dec. 23

Yahweh Promises to Bless Jerusalem

The word of Yahweh of Armies came to me. 2 Thus says Yahweh of Armies: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great wrath. 3 Thus says Yahweh: I have returned to Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem.

7:5 We can do religious exercises such as fasting and other things which involve physical loss and discomfort for us, and yet our heart may still be far from God. Indeed, we can do these things as it were unto ourselves and not to God; but this isn’t the same as true spirituality (cp. Col. 2:21-23).

7:12 His Spirit in the previous prophets – The prophets, whose words are now in written form in the Bible, were inspired by God. His Spirit was in them, and was articulated through their words which we now read on paper. In this sense God’s words are Spirit and life (Jn. 6:63); and the prophets spoke not just their own words, but the words which God’s Spirit inspired (2 Tim. 3:16; 2 Pet. 1:21). Through absorbing God’s word into our lives, His Spirit and life will be active in us.

8:2 God’s enormous love for us His people explains why He is also so jealous over us, and why at times He has so much anger relating to us. Every thought or action of unfaithfulness or denial of Him is indescribably painful to Him.
Jerusalem shall be called ‘The City of Truth;’ and the mountain of Yahweh of Armies, ‘The Holy Mountain’. 4
Thus says Yahweh of Armies: Old men and old women will again dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand for very age. 5 The streets of the city will be full of boys and girls playing in its streets. 6
Thus says Yahweh of Armies: If it is too hard in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be too hard in My eyes? says Yahweh of Armies. 7
Thus says Yahweh of Armies: Behold, I will save My people from the east country, and from the west country; 8 and I will bring them, and they will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they will be My people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness. 9
Thus says Yahweh of Armies: Let your hands be strong, you who hear in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets who were in the day that the foundation of the house of Yahweh of Armies was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. 10 For before those days there were no wages for man, nor any wages for an animal; neither was there any peace to him who went out or came in, because of the adversary. For I set all men everyone against his neighbour. 11 But now I will not be to the remnant of this people as in the former days, says Yahweh of Armies. 12 For they will sow their seed in peace and the vine will yield its fruit, and the ground will give its increase, and the skies will give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. 13 It shall come to pass that, as you were a curse among the nations, house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and you shall be a blessing. Don’t be afraid. Let your hands be strong. 14 For thus says Yahweh of Armies: As I thought to do evil to you, when your fathers provoked Me to wrath, says Yahweh of Armies, and I didn’t repent; 15 so again have I thought in these days to do good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. Don’t be afraid. 16
These are the things that you shall do: speak every man the truth with his neighbour. Execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates, 17 and let none of you devise evil in your hearts against his neighbour, and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, says Yahweh.

18 The word of Yahweh of Armies came to me. 19 Thus says Yahweh of Armies: The fasts of the fourth, fifth, seventh and tenth months shall be for the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts. Therefore love truth and peace. 20 Thus says Yahweh of Armies: Many peoples, and the inhabitants of many cities will yet come; 21 and the inhabitants of one shall go to another, saying, ‘Let us go speedily to entreat the favour of Yahweh, and to seek Yahweh of Armies. I will go also’. 22 Yes, many peoples and strong nations will come to seek Yahweh of Armies in Jerusalem, and to entreat the favour of Yahweh. 23 Thus says Yahweh of Armies: In those days, ten men will take hold, out of all the languages of the nations, they will take hold of the skirt of him who is a Jew, saying, ‘We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you’.

Condemnation on the Enemies of God’s People

A n oracle. The word of Yahweh is against the land of Hadrach, and will rest upon Damascus; for the eye of man and of all the tribes of Israel is toward Yahweh; 2 and Hamath, also, which borders on it; Tyre and Sidon, because they are very wise. 3 Tyre built herself a stronghold, and heaped up silver like the dust, and fine gold like the mire of the streets. 4 Behold, the Lord will dispossess her, and He will strike her power in the sea; and she will be devoured with fire. 5 Ashkelon will see it, and fear; Gaza also, and will writhe in agony; as will Ekron, for her expectation will be disappointed; and the king will perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon will not be inhabited. 6 Foreigners will dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines. 7 I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth; and he also will be a remnant for our God; and he will be as a chieftain in Judah, and Ekron as a Jebusite. 8 I will encamp around My house against the army, so that none pass through or return; and no oppressor will pass through them any more: for now I have seen with My eyes.

The Coming of the King

9 Rejoice greatly, daughter of Zion! Shout, daughter of Jerusalem! Be-sus fulfilled this prophecy by entering Jerusalem sitting on a young donkey which hadn’t been broken in (Lk. 19:30). It would’ve stopped and started and wandered rather than striding purposefully. It’s rather like a new victorious president entering his capital city in a spluttering old car, rather than in a fleet of shining, powerful, quietly purring Mercedes. The point was that in God’s Kingdom, true greatness is in humility. The mighty horse and chariot which human strength prefers is to be brought to nothing (:10; 10:5).

10:1 We shouldn’t presume upon God’s blessings; even in the time of rain, we are to ask for it. Even if we have food in the fridge and in the cupboard, we are to ask God to give us the food of today (Mt. 6:11).

10:3 Because – This implies that because Yahweh had visited His people and (potentially) made them a strong flock capable of doing His work, therefore the priests were at fault for not enabling Judah’s spiritual revival. God is angry with those who don’t play their part in enabling His potential plans for others to come true for them.

The Lord Will Appear

14 Yahweh will be seen over them; and His arrow will go flashing like lightning; and the Lord Yahweh will blow the trumpet, and will go with whirlwinds of the south. 15 Yahweh of Armies will defend them; and they will destroy and overcome with sling stones; and they will drink, and roar as through wine; and they will be filled like bowls, like the corners of the altar. 16 Yahweh their God will save them in that day as the flock of His people; for they are like the jewels of a crown, lifted on high over His land. 17 For how great is His goodness, and how great is His beauty! Grain will make the young men flourish, and new wine the virgins.

CHAPTER 10 Dec. 25

God’s Care for Judah

Ask of Yahweh rain in the time of the spring rains; Yahweh will make storm clouds, He will give rain showers to everyone for the plants in the field. 2 For the teraphim have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie; and they have told false dreams. They comfort in vain. Therefore they go their way like sheep. They are oppressed, because there is no shepherd. 3 My anger is kindled against the shepherds, and I will punish the male goats; because Yahweh of Armies has visited His flock, the house of Judah, and will make them as His majestic horse in the battle. 4 From Him will come forth the cornerstone, from Him the nail, from Him the battle bow, from Him every ruler together. 5 They shall be as mighty men, treading down muddy streets in the battle; and they shall fight, because Yahweh is with them; and the riders on horses will be confounded. 6 I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them back; for I have mercy on them; and they will be as though I had not cast them off: for I am Yahweh their God, and I will hear them. 7 Ephraim will be like a mighty man, and their heart will rejoice as through wine; yes, their children will see it, and rejoice. Their heart will be glad in Yahweh. 8 I will signal for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them; and they will increase as they have increased. 9 I will sow them among the peoples; and they will remember Me in far countries; and they will live with their children, and will return. 10 I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and there won’t be room enough for them. 11 He will pass through the sea of affliction, and will strike the waves in the sea, and all the depths of the Nile will dry up; and the pride of Assyria will be brought down, and the scepter of Egypt will depart. 12 I will strengthen them in Yahweh; and they will walk up and down in His name, says Yahweh.

CHAPTER 11 Dec. 26
Open your doors, Lebanon, that the fire may devour your cedars. 2 Wail, fir tree, for the cedar has fallen, because the stately ones are destroyed. Wail, you oaks of Bashan, for the strong forest has come down. 3 A voice of the wailing of the shepherds! For their glory is destroyed: a voice of the roaring of young lions! For the pride of the Jordan is ruined.

The Breaking of the Covenants
4 Thus says Yahweh my God: Feed the flock of slaughter. 5 Their buyers slaughter them, and go unpunished. Those who sell them say, ‘Blessed be Yahweh, for I am rich;’ and their own shepherds don’t pity them. 6 For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, says Yahweh; but, behold, I will deliver the men, every one of them, into his neighbour’s hand, and into the hand of his king. They will strike the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them. 7 So I fed the flock of slaughter, especially the oppressed of the flock. I took for myself two staves. The one I called Grace, and the other I called Union, and I fed the flock.

10:11 Repeatedly Zechariah emphasizes that it is the pride of these nations more than anything else which is the basis for their condemnation. The Nile was the pride of the Egyptians just as the Jordan was Judah’s pride (11:3).
also loathed me. 9 Then I said, I will not feed you. That which dies, let it die; and that which is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let those who are left eat each other’s flesh. 10 I took my staff Grace, and cut it apart, ‘That I might break My covenant that I had made with all the people’. 11 It was broken in that day; and thus the poor of the flock that listened to me knew that it was the word of Yahweh. 12 I said to them, If you think it best, give me my value; and if not, keep it. So they weighed for my wages thirty pieces of silver. 13 Yahweh said to me, Throw it to the potter, the handsome price that I was valued at by them! I took the thirty pieces of silver, and threw them to the potter, in the house of Yahweh. 14 Then I cut apart my other staff, even Union, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel. 15 Yahweh said to me, Take for yourself yet again the equipment of a foolish shepherd. 16 For, behold, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, who will not visit those who are cut off, neither will seek those who are scattered, nor heal that which is broken, nor feed that which is sound; but he will eat the flesh of the fat sheep, and will tear their hoofs in pieces. 17 Woe to the worthless shepherd who leaves the flock! The sword will be on his arm, and on his right eye. His arm will be completely withered, and his right eye will be totally blinded!

CHAPTER 12 Dec. 27

Destruction for Jerusalem’s Enemies

A n oracle. The word of Yahweh concerning Israel. Yahweh, who stretches out the heavens, and lays the foundation of the earth, and forms the spirit of man within him says: 2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of reeling to all the surrounding peoples, and on Judah also will it be in the siege against Jerusalem. 3 It will happen in that day, that I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all the peoples. All who trample upon it will be severely wounded, and all the nations of the earth will be gathered together against it. 4 In that day, says Yahweh, I will strike every horse with terror, and his rider with madness; and I will open My eyes on the house of Judah, and will strike every horse of the peoples with blindness. 5 The chieftains of Judah will say in their heart, ‘The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in Yahweh of Armies their God’. 6 In that day I will make the chieftains of Judah like a pan of fire among wood, and like a flaming torch among sheaves; and they will devour all the surrounding peoples, on the right hand and on the left; and Jerusalem will yet again dwell in their own place, even in Jerusalem. 7 Yahweh also will save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified above Judah. 8 In that day Yahweh will defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem. He who is feeble among them at that day will be like David, and the house of David will be like God, like the angel of Yahweh before them. 9 It will happen in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

Look on Me Whom They Have Pierced

10 I will pour on the house of David, and on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplication; and they will look to Me whom they have pierced; and they shall mourn for him, as one mourns for his only son, and will grieve bitterly for him, as one grieves for his 12:3 Trample upon it – The LXX of this verse is quoted in Lk. 21:24 as having a specific fulfilment in the last days before Christ returns.

12:10 This states that men would look upon the pierced (i.e. crucified) Saviour, and mourn in recognition of their own sinfulness. This verse is quoted as having fulfilment both at the crucifixion (Jn. 19:37) and also at the final judgment (Rev. 1:7). There is strong connection between these two events. The cross was “the judgment of this world” (Jn. 12:31). The cross divided men into two categories: The repentant thief and the bitter one; the soldiers who mocked and the Centurion who believed; the Sanhedrin members who believed and those who mocked; the women who lamented but didn’t obey His word, and those whose weeping isn’t recorded, but who stood and watched and believed. As we come before the cross in our minds, we are naturally driven to self-examination. There our thoughts are revealed (Lk. 2:35). This is why self-examination should occur naturally if we break bread properly, i.e. with our minds focused upon Him as He hung there.

Only son... firstborn – The Jews will come to understand something of God’s grief at the death of His only Son.

Pierced – It’s possible that the Lord Jesus still has marks in His hands and side where He was crucified – 13:6 may imply that the Jews of the last days will look upon them. He had them after His resurrection (Jn. 20:27), and marks of death were visible in the vision of Jesus which John saw (Rev. 5:6). Perhaps for absolute eternity He will carry these marks as a constant reminder to us all of the price paid for our redemption.
firstborn. 11 In that day there will be a great mourning in Jerusalem, like the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon. 12 The land will mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; 13 the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of the Shimeites apart, and their wives apart; 14 all the families who remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

CHAPTER 13  Dec. 28  Forgiveness of Sins

In that day there will be a spring opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. 2 It will come to pass in that day, says Yahweh of Armies, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they will be remembered no more. I will also cause the prophets and the spirit of impurity to pass out of the land. 3 It will happen that, when anyone still prophesies, then his father and his mother who bore him will tell him, ‘You must die, because you speak lies in the name of Yahweh;’ and his father and his mother who bore him will stab him when he prophesies. 4 It will happen in that day, that the prophets will each be ashamed of his vision, when he prophesies; neither will they wear a hairy mantle to deceive: 5 but he will say, ‘I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondservant from my youth’. 6 One will say to him, ‘What are these wounds in your hands?’. Then he will answer, ‘Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends’.

The Refining of God’s People

7 Awake, sword, against My shepherd, and against the man who is close to Me, says Yahweh of Armies. Strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered; and I will turn My hand against the little ones. 8 It shall happen that in all the land, says Yahweh, two parts in it will be cut off and die; but the third will be left in it. 9 I will bring the third part into the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will test them like gold is tested. They will call on My name,
Behold, the day of Yahweh comes, when your spoil will be divided in your midst. 2 For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city will be taken, the houses pillaged, and the women raped. Half of the city will go out into captivity, and the rest of the people will not be cut off from the city. 3 Then Yahweh will go out and fight against those nations, as when He fought in the day of battle. 4 His feet will stand in that day on the Mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east; and the Mount of Olives will be split in two, from east to west, making a very great valley. Half of the mountain will move toward the north, and half of it toward the south. 5 You shall flee by the valley of My mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach to Azel; yes, you shall flee, just like you fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah. Yahweh my God will come, and all the holy ones with you. 6 It will happen in that day, that there will not be light, cold, or frost. 7 It will be a unique day which is known to Yahweh; not day, and not night; but it will come to pass, that at evening time there will be light. 8 It will happen in that day, that living waters will go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the western sea; in summer and in winter will it be. 9 Yahweh will be King over all the earth. In that day Yahweh will be declared as the one and only, and His name unified. 10 All the land will be made like the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem; and she will be lifted up, and will dwell in her place, from Benjamin’s gate to the place of the first gate, to the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananel to the king’s winepresses. 11 Men will dwell therein, and there will be no more curse; but Jerusalem will dwell safely. 12 This will be the plague with which Yahweh 14:4 This must connect with Christ’s ascension from Heaven from the Mount of Olives, with the Angels promising that He would return in the same way (Acts 1:11). Immediately prior to Christ’s second coming, Jerusalem will have been captured by her enemies; Christ comes when the remnant of Jews left alive repent and cry out to Him; see on 13:9.

14:7 This may suggest that the meaning of time collapses around the time of Christ’s coming. This would provide the answer to many practical questions – e.g. how shall we each stand before Christ’s judgment seat individually and have some time in discussion about our lives; why can’t we fit all the prophecies of the last days into some chronological order?

14:11 No more curse – Quoted in Rev. 22:3 about the future Kingdom of God on earth. God will be literally King over all the planet (:9); and there will be topographical changes around Jerusalem (:8).
will strike all the peoples who have warred against Jerusalem: their flesh will consume away while they stand on their feet, and their eyes will consume away in their sockets, and their tongue will consume away in their mouth. 13 It will happen in that day, that a great panic from Yahweh will be among them; and they, each of them, will lay hold on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand will rise up against the hand of his neighbour. 14 Judah also will fight at Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the surrounding nations will be gathered together: gold, and silver, and clothing, in great abundance. 15 So will be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the donkey, and of all the animals that will be in those camps, as that plague. 16 It will happen that everyone who is left of all the nations that came against Jerusalem will go up from year to year to worship the King, Yahweh of Armies, and to keep the feast of tabernacles. 17 It will be, that whoever of all the families of the earth doesn’t go up to Jerusalem to worship the King, Yahweh of Armies, on them there will be no rain. 18 If the family of Egypt doesn’t go up, and doesn’t come, neither will it rain on them. This will be the plague with which Yahweh will strike the nations that don’t go up to keep the feast of tents. 19 This will be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that don’t go up to keep the feast of tabernacles. 20 In that day there will be on the bells of the horses, HOLY TO YAHWEH; and the pots in Yahweh’s house will be like the bowls before the altar. 21 Yes, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah will be holy to Yahweh of Armies; and all those who sacrifice will come and take of them, and cook in them. In that day there will no longer be a Canaanite in the house of Yahweh of Armies.

14:12 Could this refer to nuclear warfare, used by God to punish those who use it? God will destroy Israel’s enemies by turning them against each other (:13).

14:21 A Canaanite – This apparently strange ending reflects Zechariah’s sadness that in his day, there had been unbelievers and even enemies allowed by God’s people to have rooms right in the temple of Yahweh itself (Neh. 13:7,8). He looked forward, as all God’s children do, to the time of God’s Kingdom when the sheep and goats will finally be divided from each other for ever.
Edom (Esau) was zealous to return and rebuild the ravaged land which God had once given him, whereas Israel wasn’t, for the most part, zealous to return from Babylon to rebuild the land God had given them. And yet God still loved Israel above Edom, by pure grace. So often those who aren’t God’s people are more zealous for their causes than God’s people are for His.

The table of the Lord refers to the altar. At the breaking of bread service, we eat of “the table of the Lord” (1 Cor. 10:21), the same phrase used here in the Septuagint. By breaking bread we are therefore like the priests of Israel eating at the altar. His work hasn’t been delegated out to a group of specialists; we are all the priesthood (1 Pet. 2:5,9).

One doesn’t give sub-standard service to their employer. One didn’t bring him a defective animal as a gift. And yet Israel gave their God the lame and the blind animals, they only served Him as far as it didn’t hurt them. They gave Him what cost them nothing. And yet they should not only have served Him as they served their earthly masters; but, because He is the “great God”, they should have given Him even more. And so we must ask: the time we give to our careers and development in them, Yahweh of Armies, neither will I accept an offering at your hand. 11 For from the rising of the sun even to the going down of the same, My name is great among the nations, and in every place incense will be offered to My name, and a pure offering: for My name is great among the nations, says Yahweh of Armies. 12 But you profane it, in that you say, ‘Yahweh’s table is polluted, and its fruit, even its food, is contemptible’. 13 You say also, ‘Behold, what a weariness it is!’ and you have sniffed at it, says Yahweh of Armies; and you have brought that which was taken by violence, the lame, and the sick; thus you bring the offering. Should I accept this at your hand? says Yahweh.

CHAPTER 2 Dec. 30
The Priests Admonished

Now, you priests, this commandment is for you. 2 If you will not listen, and if you will not lay it to heart, to give glory to My name, says Yahweh of Armies, then will I send the curse on you, and I will curse your blessings. Indeed, I have cursed them already, because you do not lay it to heart. 3 Behold, I will rebuke your seed, and will spread dung on your faces, even the dung of your feasts; and you will be taken away with it. 4 You will know that I have sent this commandment to you, that My covenant may be with Levi, says Yahweh of Armies. 5 My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him that he might be reverent toward Me; and he was reverent toward Me, and stood in awe of My name. 6 The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips. He walked with Me in peace and uprightness, and turned many away from iniquity. 7 For the priest’s lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth; for he is the messenger of Yahweh of Armies. 8 But you have turned aside out of the way. You have caused many to stumble in the law. You have corrupted the covenant.

the thought we give to our secular lives, the respect we pay it… how does this compare to our attitude to Divine things?

1:10 There was nobody to even shut the doors of the temple; there was nobody willing to fulfil Ezekiel’s prophecy / command about the temple doors being shut (Ez. 44:1,2; 46:1,2,12), and so the potential situation prophesied by Ezekiel didn’t come true because God’s people in Malachi’s time just couldn’t be bothered. So much potential was wasted at the return of Judah from Babylon, and it is in our age too.

1:13 Weariness – The repetitive nature of priestly work led them to treat it as “a weariness”. They got bored with the things of the Kingdom, as in 2:10,11. Familiarity can so easily lead to our not grasping the awe of being in relationship with God.

2:7 The duty of the priests under the Old Covenant was to maintain true understanding of God’s word, witness this to the world around them, and teach it to their brothers and sisters in Israel. Although there was a special priesthood, it was clearly God’s
The intention that all Israel should be like priests; they were to be a “Kingdom of priests” (Ex. 19:6), and we are to be likewise (1 Pet. 2:5,9), not assuming others will care for us spiritually, but each of us taking real responsibility.

2:10, 11 This may be a reference to how at the time of the restoration from Babylon, the Jews married unbelievers. This is described in the same terms used here – a breaking covenant with God (Ezra 10:2,10; Neh. 13:27,29). Their marriage to unbelievers led them to accept the gods of their wives – and in this lay the sin of what they did.

2:15 Make you one – a reference to how God joins together husband and wife in the course of their married life, not just on their wedding day. The intention is that our children will be “Godly”. If we are not united, not companions with each other, or if our partner is an unbeliever, it will be so much harder for us to raise Godly children.

3:6 God does change, as witnessed by men like Moses changing His stated intentions through prayer and intercession. What is unchangeable about Him is His grace to His sinful people.
fore Me; and the Lord, whom you seek, will suddenly come to His temple; and the messenger of the covenant, whom you desire, behold, He comes! says Yahweh of Armies. 2 But who can endure the day of His coming? And who will stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner’s fire, and like launderer’s soap; 3 and He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and He will purify the sons of Levi, and refine them as gold and silver; and they shall offer to Yahweh offerings in righteousness. 4 Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem will be pleasant to Yahweh, as in the days of old, and as in ancient years. 5 I will come near to you in judgment; and I will be an alert witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against the perjurers, and against those who oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow and the fatherless, and who deprive the foreigner of justice, and don’t fear Me, says Yahweh of Armies.

Will a Man Rob God?
6 For I, Yahweh, don’t change; therefore you sons of Jacob are not consumed. 7 From the days of your fathers you have turned aside from My ordinances, and have not kept them. Return to Me, and I will return to you, says Yahweh of Armies. But you say, ‘How shall we return?’. 8 Will a man rob God? Yet you rob Me! But you say, ‘How have we robbed You?’. In tithes and offerings. 9 You are cursed with the curse; for you rob Me, even this whole nation. 10 Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in My house, and test Me now in this, says Yahweh of Armies, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough for. 11 I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast its fruit before its time in the field, says Yahweh of Armies. 12 All nations shall call you blessed, for you will be a delightful land, says Yahweh of Armies. 13 Your words have been stout against Me, says Yahweh. Yet you say, ‘What have we spoken against You?’. 14 You have said, ‘It is vain to serve God;' and ‘What profit is it that we have followed His instructions, and that we have walked mournfully before Yahweh of Armies? 15 Now we call the proud happy; yes, those who work wickedness are built up; yes, they put God to the test and escape’.
16 Then those who feared Yahweh spoke frequently one with another; and Yahweh listened, and heard, and a book of memory was written before Him, for those who feared Yahweh, and who honoured His name.
17 They shall be Mine, says Yahweh of Armies, My very own possession in the day when I make up My jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spares his own son who serves him.
18 Then you shall return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him who serves God and him who doesn’t serve Him.

CHAPTER 4
Dec. 31
The Day of the Lord is Coming

For, behold, the day comes, it burns as a furnace; and all the proud, and all who work wickedness, will be stubble; and the day that comes will burn them up, says Yahweh of Armies, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.
2 But to you who fear My name shall the sun of righteousness arise with healing in his rays. You will go out, and leap like calves of the stall.
3 You shall tread down the wicked; for they will be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I make, says Yahweh of Armies.
4 Remember the law of Moses My servant, which I commanded to him in Horeb for all Israel, even statutes and ordinances.
5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and terrible day of Yahweh comes.
6 He will turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the earth with a curse.

3:16 If we truly love God, we will naturally want to find and communicate with others who also do.
3:17 We are so very valuable to God – His jewels, His “very own”. We can take comfort that we are not alone in this world, He is so intensely with us.
4:2 The sun – A prophecy of Christ’s return. He will be like the dawn, chasing away the darkness which is now on the earth.
4:5 It seems that ‘Elijah’ will come to convert some in Israel to Christ before His second coming. John the Baptist was an Elijah prophet (Mt. 11:14); this prophecy of ‘Elijah’ may therefore not necessarily require literal Elijah to appear on earth, but the work of converting some in Israel could be fulfilled by others.
THE NEW TESTAMENT
The book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham. 2 Abraham begot Isaac, Isaac begot Jacob, Jacob begot Judah and his brothers. 3 Judah begot Perez and Zerah of Tamar and Perez begot Hezron, Hezron begot Ram. 4 Ram begot Amminadab, Amminadab begot Nahshon, Nahshon begot Salmon. 5 Salmon begot Boaz of Rahab and Boaz begot Obed of Ruth and Obed begot Jesse. 6 Jesse begot David the king. And David begot Solomon of her that had been the wife of Uriah. 7 And Solomon begot Rehoboam, Rehoboam begot Abijah, Abijah begot Asa. 8 Asa begot Jehoshaphat, Jehoshaphat begot Joram, Joram begot Uzziah. 9 Uzziah begot Jotham, Jotham begot Ahaz, Ahaz begot Hezekiah. 10 Hezekiah begot Manasseh, Manasseh begot Amon, Amon begot Josiah. 11 Josiah begot Jechoniah and his brothers, at the time of the captivity in Babylon. 12 And after the captivity in Babylon, Jechoniah begot Shealtiel, Shealtiel begot Zerubbabel. 13 Zerubbabel begot Abiud, Abiud begot Eliakim, Eliakim begot Azor. 14 Azor begot Sadoc, Sadoc begot Achim, Achim begot Eliud. 15 Eliud begot Eleazar, Eleazar begot Mathan, Mathan begot Jacob. 16 Jacob begot Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ. 17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations and from David to the captivity in Babylon fourteen generations and from the captivity in Babylon to the Christ fourteen generations.

The Birth of Jesus
18 Now the birth of Jesus Christ was as follows. When his mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Spirit. 19 And Joseph her husband, being a righteous man and not willing to make her a public example, decided to send her away secretly. 20 But as he thought on these things, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying: Joseph you son of David, do not be afraid to take Mary as your wife, for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Spirit. 21 And she shall give birth to a son, and you shall call his name Jesus; for it is he that shall save his people from their sins. 22 Now all this happened so what was spoken by the Lord through the prophet might be fulfilled, saying: 23 The virgin shall be with child and shall give birth to a son; and they shall call his name Immanuel, which means God with us. 24 And Joseph woke from his sleep and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took Mary as his wife. 25 But he did not have sexual intercourse with her until she had given birth to a son; and he called his name Jesus.

Jan. 1 Jul. 2

Wise Men Visit Baby Jesus

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem in Judea in the days of Herod the king, astrologers from the east came to Jerusalem, saying: 2 Where is he that is born King of the Jews? For we saw his star in the east and have come to worship him. 3 And when Herod the king heard it, he was disturbed and all Jerusalem with him. 4 And gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ should be born. 5 And they said to him: In Bethlehem of Judaea. For thus it is written through the prophet: 6 And you Bethlehem, land of Judah, are in no way least among the princes of Judah. For out of you shall come forth a Ruler, who shall be shepherd of My people Israel. 7 Then Herod secretly called the Magi and learned from them exactly what time the star appeared. 8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said: Go and search carefully for the young child, and when you have found him, bring me word, that I may also come and worship him. 9 And they, having heard the king, went their way; and the star which they saw in the east went before them until it came and stood over where the young child was. 10 And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceedingly great joy. 11 And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mary his mother; and they fell down and worshipped him, and opening their treasures they offered to him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh. 12 And being warned in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed for their own country by another route. 13 Now when they had departed, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying:

2:5 Through the prophet – The prophets wrote the words of God, not just their own words. Hence the significance of through. The Bible is the inspired word of God.
2:6 Jesus came forth “out of” Bethlehem – He didn’t come down from Heaven as a person. Note how Matthew so often shows that Jesus fulfilled Old Testament prophecies.
2:8 The astrologers didn’t obey the King, because God told them not to (:12). We shouldn’t always do what those in authority tell us, if it contradicts God’s word (Acts 4:19).
Arise and take the young child and his mother and flee into Egypt and stay there until I tell you, for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. 14 And he arose and took the young child and his mother by night and departed into Egypt, 15 and stayed there until the death of Herod, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying: Out of Egypt did I call My son. 16 Then Herod, when he saw that he was deceived by the astrologers, was furious and sent out soldiers and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem and in all the borders of it aged two years and under, according to the time which he had determined from the Magi. 17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken through Jeremiah the prophet, saying: 18 A voice was heard in Ramah, weeping and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children; and she would not be comforted, because they are not. 19 But when Herod was dead, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying: 20 Arise and take the young child and his mother and go into the land of Israel, for they are dead that sought the young child’s life. 21 And he arose and took the young child and his mother and came into the land of Israel. 22 But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judea instead of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there. And being warned by God in a dream, he withdrew into the region of Galilee, 23 and he went and dwelt in a city called Nazareth. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophets, that he should be called a Nazarene.

John the Baptist Baptizes Jesus

And in those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea, saying: 2 Repent! For the kingdom of heaven is at hand. 3 For this is he that was spoken of through Isaiah the prophet, saying: The voice of one crying in the wilderness — Make ready the way of the Lord. Make his paths straight. 4 Now John wore a garment of camel’s hair and a leather girdle about his loins and his food was locusts and wild honey. 5 Then Jerusalem, all Judea, and all the region around the Jordan went out to him. 6 And they were baptized by him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins. 7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said to them: You offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the anger to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of repentance. 9 And think not to say within yourselves: We have Abraham as our father, for I say to you, that God is able from these stones to raise up children to Abraham. 10 And even now the axe lies at the root of the trees. Therefore, every tree that does not bring forth good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. 11 I indeed baptize you in water to repentance, but he that comes after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to carry. He shall baptize you in the Holy Spirit and fire; 12 whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing-floor and he will gather his wheat into the barn; but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire. 13 Then Jesus went from Galilee to the Jordan, to John, to be baptized by him. 14 But John would have stopped him, saying: I need to be baptized by you, and yet you come to me? 15 But Jesus answering said to him: Permit it now, for thus it becomes us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he permitted him. 16 And Jesus when he was baptized immediately came up out of the water, and the heavens were opened to him and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove and coming to rest on him. 17 And a voice came from the heavens, saying: This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAPTER 4

Jesus is Tempted

Then was Jesus led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the Devil. 2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, afterwards he hungered. 3 And the tempter came and said to him: If you are the Son of God, command that these stones become bread. 4 But he answered and said: It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone but by every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God. 5 Then the Devil took him into the holy city and set him on woman, and the descendants of the snake. We will be temporarily wounded by them, but we will triumph in the end.

3:9 Within yourselves – The Bible is aware of how we are likely to respond. God’s concern is with our state of mind, how we think within. For this is the ultimate source of human sin.

3:15 Jesus was baptized as an adult by immersion – as an example to us. We should also be baptized.

4:1-8 ‘The Devil’ doesn’t exist as a fallen Angel or evil cosmic being – see Bible Basics.

Jesus was “tempted in all things like as we are” (Heb. 4:15), and: “each man is tempted... by his own lust, and enticed” (James 1:14). We are tempted by the “devil” of our own mind, and so was Jesus. We are not tempted by an evil being prompting us to sin – sin and temptation come “from within, out of the heart of men” (Mk. 7:21).

The temptations cannot be literal:
MATTHEW 4:5–4:21

the pinnacle of the temple, 6 and said to him: If you are the Son of God, cast yourself down. For it is written, He shall give His angels charge concerning you, and on their hands they shall carry you up, lest you dash your foot against a stone. 7 Jesus said to him: Again it is written, You shall not make trial of the Lord your God. 8 Again, the Devil took him to an exceeding high mountain and showed him all the kingdoms of the world and the glory of them. 9 And he said to him: All these things will I give you, if you will fall down and worship me. 10 Then said Jesus to him: Away with you Satan! For it is written, You shall worship the Lord your God and Him only shall you serve. 11 Then the Devil left him, and angels came and ministered to him.

Jesus Begins to Preach

12 Now when he heard that John was imprisoned, he withdrew into Galilee. 13 And leaving Nazareth, he went and dwelt in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali. 14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying:

15 The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, toward the sea, on the other side of the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles. 16 the people dwelling in darkness have seen a great light, and for those dwelling in the region and the shadow of death, on them a light has dawned. 17 From that time began Jesus to preach and to say: Repent! For the kingdom of heaven is at hand. 18 And walking by the sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon who is called Peter and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. 19 And he said to them: Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men. 20 And they immediately left the nets and followed him. 21 And going on from there he

4:8 implies that Jesus was led up a high mountain to see all the kingdoms of the world in their future glory “in a moment of time” (Mk. 4:5). There is no mountain high enough to see all the world – the earth is a sphere.

- Comparison with Luke 4 shows that the temptations are described in a different order. Mk. 1:13 says that Jesus was “in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Satan”, whilst Mt. 4:2-3 says that “when he had fasted forty days... the tempter (Satan) came to Him...”. Thus these same temptations kept repeating themselves – e.g. to turn stones into bread.

- It’s unlikely the devil led Jesus through the wilderness and streets of Jerusalem and then they scaled a pinnacle of the temple together, all in view of the inquisitive Jews.

- If the devil is a physical person who has no respect for God’s Word and is interested in making people sin, then why would Jesus quote Scripture to overcome him? According to the popular view, this would not send the devil away. Jesus quoted a Bible passage each time. Ps. 119:11: "Your word have I hid in my heart, that I might not sin".

- Jesus was “led of the spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil”. How could the Spirit of God lead Jesus to be tempted by a superhuman being existing in opposition to God. He had just received the power of the Spirit (3:16). Now He was tempted to use it to turn stones into bread, jump off buildings unharmed etc.
saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them. 22 And they immediately left the boat and their father and followed him.

Jesus Heals Many

23 And Jesus went about in all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people. 24 Then his fame went throughout all Syria; and they brought to him all sick people who were afflicted with various diseases and torments, and those who were demon possessed, epileptics, and paralytics; and he healed them.

25 And great crowds followed him, those from Galilee and Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judea and from the other side of the Jordan.

CHAPTER 5

Jan. 3  Jul. 4

Jesus Preaches About Kingdom Life

And seeing the crowds, he went into the mountain and when he had sat down, his disciples came to him. 2 And he opened his mouth and taught them, saying: 3 Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 4 Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted. 5 Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth. 6 Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled. 7 Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy. 8 Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God. 9 Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God. 10 Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness’ sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 11 Blessed are you when men reproach you because of me, and persecute you and falsely accuse you of all sorts of evil. 12 Rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven; for likewise they persecuted the prophets that preceded you. 13 You are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost its savour, with what shall it be salted? It becomes good for nothing but to be thrown out and trodden under the feet of men. 14 You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. 15 Neither do men light a lamp and put it under a basket but on the stand; and it shines for all that are in the house. 16 Likewise, let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

5:5 Inherit the earth – The Kingdom of God will be established here on earth at the return of Christ. ‘Inheritance’ refers to the promises to Abraham that his children would inherit the earth. Eternity on earth and not Heaven is promised to those “in Christ” and thus Abraham’s children.

5:15 If a candle is put under a basket, it will go out. If we don’t publically witness to our faith, we will lose it. We can’t be secret Christians.
Jesus Interprets the Law of Moses

17 Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets. I came not to destroy but to fulfil. 18 For truly I say to you, until heaven and earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle shall in any way pass from the law, until all things be accomplished. 19 Whoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments and shall teach men to do so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. 20 For I say to you, that unless your righteousness shall exceed that of the scribes and Pharisees, you shall in no way enter into the kingdom of heaven. 21 You have heard that it was said to those of old: You shall not kill, and whoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment. 22 But I say to you, that everyone who is angry with his brother shall be in danger of the judgment, and whoever shall say to his brother Raca shall be in danger of the council, and whoever shall say Moros shall be in danger of the fire of Gehenna.

23 If therefore you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, 24 leave your gift before the altar and go your way. First be reconciled to your brother and then come and offer your gift. 25 Agree with your adversary quickly, while you are with him in the street. Lest the adversary deliver you to the judge and the judge deliver you to the officer and you be thrown into prison. 26 Truly I say to you, you will never get out until you have paid the last penny. 27 You have heard that it was said: You shall not commit adultery. 28 But I say to you, that everyone that looks on a woman lusting for her, has already committed adultery with her in his heart. 29 And if your right eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out and throw it away, for it is profitable for you that one of your members should perish and not your whole body be thrown into Gehenna. 30 And if your right hand causes you to stumble, cut it off and throw it away, for it is profitable for you that one of your members should perish and not your whole body go into Gehenna.

31 It was also said: Whoever shall send away his wife, let him give her a contract of divorce. 32 But I say to you, that everyone that divorces his wife, except for the cause of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery; and whoever shall marry a divorced woman commits adultery. 33 Again, you have heard that it was said to them of old: You shall not swear falsely, but shall perform your oaths to the Lord. 34 But I say to you: Swear not at all, neither by the heaven, for it is the throne of God, 35 nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of His feet. Nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. 36 Neither shall you swear by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black. 37 But let your Yes mean Yes, and your No, No. For whatever is more
5:45 Makes His sun — God hasn’t wound the world up and left it ticking. Every action within creation is consciously from Him. We are therefore never far from Him – just feel Him acting in nature.

6:3 Left hand know — Don’t be conscious of your good works. Do them and forget them. Those accepted into God’s Kingdom will honestly not remember the times they fed the hungry (Mt. 25:37).

6:4 Shall reward — when Jesus returns to establish God’s Kingdom on earth. “I come quickly and my reward is with me” (Rev. 22:12).
heaven, let Your Name be glorified.
10 Your kingdom come. Your will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.
11 Give us this day our daily bread.
12 And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.
13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. 14 For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. 15 But if you do not forgive men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

More About Hypocrisy
16 Moreover when you fast, do not look gloomy like the hypocrites. For they disfigure their faces, so that their fasting may be seen by men. Truly I say to you, they have received their reward. 17 But you, when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face, 18 so you will not be seen by men to fast, but by your Father who sees in secret, shall reward you.

Jesus Teaches About Treasure in Heaven
19 Do not store up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust consume, and where thieves break in and steal. 20 But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumes, and where thieves cannot break in or steal. 21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

Jesus Teaches About Light and Darkness
22 The lamp of the body is the eye. If therefore your eye is healthy, your whole body shall be full of light. 23 But if your eye is bad, your whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

Jesus Teaches About Money and Possessions
24 No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will be loyal to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. 25 Therefore I say to you: Do not be anxious for your life; what you shall eat, or what you shall drink. Nor for your body; what you shall wear. Is not the life more than the food, and the body more than the garment? 26 Look at the birds in the sky; they do not sow, nor do they reap or gather crops into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of much more value than they?

6:10 On earth – We pray for the Kingdom of God to come on earth, i.e. for Jesus to return soon.
6:18 Not be seen – We must consciously try to conceal our good works so that other people do not notice them. When was the last time you did this?
6:24 Few would say they “hate” God. But if we love wealth [“mammon”], then in His eyes, we do.
6:26 Father feeds them – As 5:45, God is consciously in contact with His creation, and has some kind of relationship with the animals (Job 41:1-5). 7:1 Judge not – The 27 Which of you by worrying can add one cubit to his stature? 28 So why do you worry about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin! 29 Yet I say to you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 30 Now if God so clothes the grass of the field, which is here today but tomorrow is thrown into the furnace, will He not more surely care for you, O you of little faith! 31 Therefore, do not be anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, How shall we be clothed? 32 For the Gentiles clamour for all these things; even though your heavenly Father knows you have need of them all. 33 So seek first His kingdom, and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you. 34 Therefore do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will care for itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.

Jesus Teaches About Pre-judging

Judge not, that you be not judged. 2 For with what judgment you judge, you shall be judged, and with what measure you use, it shall be applied to you. 3 And why do you see the splinter that is in your brother’s eye but ignore the plank that is in your own eye? 4 Or how will you say to your brother: Let me remove the splinter in your eye, when you have a plank in your own eye? 5 You hypocrite, first remove the plank from your own eye and then shall you see clearly to remove the splinter in your brother’s eye. 6 Do not give that which is holy to the dogs, nor cast your pearls before the pigs, lest they trample them under their feet and turn and tear you to pieces.

Jesus Teaches About His Generous Father

7 Ask and it shall be given you. Seek and you shall find. Knock and it shall be opened to you. 8 For everyone that asks receives, and he that seeks finds, and to him that knocks it shall be opened. 9 Which one of you, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone? 10 Or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent? 11 If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more shall your Father who is in heaven give good things to them that ask Him. 12 Therefore, whatever you want men to do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets.

Jesus Teaches How to Test for Good and Evil

13 Enter in by the narrow gate, for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leads to destruction, and many are they that enter in thereby. 14 For narrow is the gate and straight the road that leads to life, but few are

Greek word translated “judge” can mean both to condemn, and to make a judgment of right and wrong. We must not condemn others, but we must judge between right and wrong.

7:14 The majority are usually wrong in spiritual matters.
they that find it. 15 Beware of false prophets who come to you in sheep’s clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves. 16 By their fruits you shall know them. Do men gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles? 17 Even so every good tree brings forth good fruit but the corrupt tree brings forth evil fruit. 18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. 19 Every tree that does not bring forth good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. 20 Therefore by their fruits you shall know them. 21 Not everyone that says to me: Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that pleases my Father who is in heaven. 22 Many will say to me in that day: Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name and in your name cast out demons and in your name do many mighty works? 23 And then will I tell them: I never knew you. Depart from me, you that work iniquity. 24 Everyone therefore that hears these words of mine and does them, shall be like a wise man who built his house upon the rock. 25 And the rain descended and the floods came and the winds blew and beat upon that house; and it did not collapse, for it was founded upon the rock. 26 And everyone that hears these words of mine and does not obey them, shall be like a foolish man who built his house upon the sand. 27 And the rain descended and the floods came and the winds blew and slammed against that house; and it collapsed, and great was its collapse. 28 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these words that the crowds were astonished at his teaching. 29 For he taught them as one having authority and not as their scribes.

Jesus Heals a Leper

And when he had come down from the mountain, great crowds followed him. 2 And a leper came to him and knelt before him, saying: Lord, if you desire, you can make me clean. 3 And he stretched out his hand and touched him, saying: I do desire. Be made clean! And immediately his leprosy was cleansed. 4 And Jesus said to him: See you tell no one, but go show yourself to the priests and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony to them.

7:22 Lord, Lord – There will be people who called Jesus “Lord” and who thought they did miracles in His Name who will be rejected at the last day. They actually did “iniquity”. Possessing the gifts of God is no guarantee of salvation.

7:25 Floods came – The day of judgment will be like a storm which shakes us to the core and reveals who we really are. True spiritual progress is slow – like bashing away at the rock of our hard hearts. Quick spiritual progress is likely to be a building upon sand.

8:3 Touched him – All would’ve been shocked. Touching a leper made a person ritually unclean, and risked contracting the illness. Jesus did this to show the extent to which He did not believe in “guilt by association”.

CHAPTER 8
Jesus Commends a Roman Soldier

5 And when he was entering into Capernaum, there came to him a centurion, begging him, 6 saying: Lord, my servant lies in the house paralysed, grievously tormented. 7 And he said to him: I will come and heal him. 8 And the centurion answered and said: Lord, I am not worthy that you should come under my roof, but only say the word and my servant shall be healed. 9 For I also am a man under authority, having under myself soldiers and I say to one: Go! And he goes. And to another: Come! And he comes. And to my servant: Do this! And he does it. 10 When Jesus heard this, he was astonished and said to those following him: Truly I say to you, I have not found anyone in Israel with such great faith. 11 And I say to you, that many shall come from the east and the west and shall sit down with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven, 12 but the sons of the kingdom shall be cast into the outer darkness. There shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth. 13 And Jesus said to the centurion: Go your way. As you have believed, so it is done for you. And the servant was healed in that hour.

Jesus Heals Many Sick People

14 And when Jesus had entered Peter’s house, he saw his wife’s mother lying sick with a fever. 15 And he touched her hand and the fever left her, and she arose and ministered to him. 16 And when evening had come, they brought to him many possessed with demons, and he cast out the spirits with a word and healed all that were sick, 17 so that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying: He took our infirmities and bore our diseases.

Jesus Calms a Great Storm at Sea

18 Now when Jesus saw great crowds about him, he gave commandment to depart to the other side. 19 And there came a scribe and said to him: Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go. 20 And Jesus said to him: The foxes have holes and the birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head. 21 And another of the disciples said to him: Lord, permit me first to go and bury my father. 22 But Jesus said to him: Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead. 23 And when he had boarded a boat, his disciples followed him. 24 And without warning, a furious storm arose on the sea, so much so that the boat was covered with the waves; but he slept.
25 And they came to him and awoke him, saying: Save us Lord! We perish! 26 And he said to them: Why are you fearful? O you of little faith!
Then he arose and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm. 27 And the men marvelled, saying: What manner of man is this,
that even the winds and the sea obey him?

Jesus Heals a Mad Man 28 And when he had arrived on the other side, in the country of the Gadarennes, there met him two possessed with demons, coming out of the tombs, exceedingly fierce, so that no one could go that way. 29 And they cried out, saying: What have we to do with you, you Son of God? Have you come here to torment us before the time? 30 Now there was afar off from them a herd of many pigs feeding. 31 And the demons begged him, saying: If you cast us out, send us away into the herd of pigs. 32 And he said to them: Go. And they came out and went into the pigs, and the whole herd rushed down the hill into the sea and perished in the waters. 33 And they that fed them fled, and went away into the city and told everything, including what had happened to them that had been possessed with demons. 34 And all in the city came out to meet Jesus, and when they saw him they begged him to depart from their borders.

CHAPTER 9

Jesus Heals and Forgives a Paralysed Man
And he entered into a boat and crossed over and came into his own city. 2 And they brought to him a paralysed man, lying on a bed; and Jesus seeing their faith said to the paralysed man: Son, be of good courage. Your sins are forgiven. 3 And certain of the scribes said within 8:25 Awoke Him — Jesus surely only appeared to be sleeping, in a small boat about to sink. But as in our lives, He appears silent only to bring us to the point of realizing our desperation for Him.

8:26 O you of little faith! — Remember the Gospel records were written by the disciples. They are transcripts of their preaching to others. They appealed for others to believe in Christ by pointing out how they had themselves been of such weak belief in Christ. Such humility, recounting our failures to others, is what makes our witness powerful rather than pretending we are perfect. Self-righteousness turns people off.
8:32 Jesus agreed to the mad man’s request in order to provide him with a visual aide memoire for the rest of his life. Mental illness is usually intermittent, and the man needed assurance that this time the cure was total. His illness may have been caused from eating pig meat.
9:2 Jesus seeing their faith — He cured and forgave a person because of the faith of third parties. If our faith can influence the eternal destiny and wellbeing of others, then we should be making every effort for them, in prayer and practically. Either our efforts and prayers can be a factor in others’ salvation and blessing, or they are not. They are.
So we should give our lives to prayer and care for others.
And Jesus knowing their thoughts, said: Why do you think evil in your hearts? For which is easier to say, Your sins are forgiven, or, Arise and walk? But so you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins, he then said to the paralytic: Arise, take up your bed and go to your house. And he arose and departed to his house. But when the crowds saw it they were afraid and glorified God, who had given such authority to men.

Jesus Mixes with Social Outcasts
And as Jesus left there he saw a man called Matthew sitting at the tax office, and he said to him: Follow me. And he arose and followed him. And it came to pass, as he sat eating in the house, many tax collectors and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples. And when the Pharisees saw it, they said to his disciples: Why does your Teacher eat with the tax collectors and sinners? But when he heard it, he said: They that are sick need a doctor, not they that are healthy. Go and learn what this means: I desire mercy and not sacrifice. I come not to call the righteous but sinners. Then the disciples of John came to him, saying: Why do we and the Pharisees often fast but your disciples do not fast? And Jesus said to them: Can the sons of the bride chamber mourn while the bridegroom is with them? But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then they will fast. No one puts a piece of unshrunk cloth onto an old garment, for the patch tears away from the garment, and a worse tear is made. Neither do men pour new wine into old wineskins. If they do, the skins will burst, the wine will run out and the wineskins will be ruined. No, they pour new wine into new wineskins, and both are preserved.

Jesus Raises a Dead Girl Back to Life
While he spoke these things to them, a ruler came and knelt before him, saying: My daughter is even now dead, but come and lay your hand upon her that she shall live. And Jesus rose and followed him, as did his disciples. And a woman who had an issue of blood for twelve years, came behind him and touched the border of his garment. For she said within herself: If I only touch his garment I shall be healed. But Jesus turning and seeing her, said: Daughter, be of good courage. Your faith has healed you. And the woman was healed at that moment. And when Jesus came into the ruler’s... house and saw the flute-players and the crowd making a tumult, 24 he said: Leave! For the little girl is not dead but sleeps. And they Laughed at him in scorn. 25 But when the crowd had been put outside, he entered in and took her by the hand, and the little girl arose. 26 And the fame thereof went into all that land.

Jesus Heals Two Blind Men and a Dumb Man
27 And as Jesus passed on from there, two blind men followed him, crying out, and saying: Have mercy on us, son of David! 28 And when he had arrived into the house, the blind men came to him, and Jesus said to them: Do you believe that I am able to do this? They say to him: Yes Lord. 29 Then he touched their eyes, saying: According to your faith be it done to you. 30 And their eyes were opened. And Jesus strictly ordered them, saying: See that no one knows it! 31 But they went and spread abroad his fame in all that land. 32 And as they were leaving, a dumb man who was possessed with a demon was brought to him. 33 And when the demon was cast out, the dumb man spoke and the crowds marvelled, saying: Such a thing has never been seen in Israel! 34 But the Pharisees said: By the prince of the demons he casts out demons.

Jesus Preaches with Compassion
35 And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness. 36 But when he saw the crowds, he was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, as sheep not having a shepherd. 37 Then said he to his disciples: The harvest indeed is plentiful, but the labourers are few. 38 Therefore ask the Lord of the harvest to send out workers into His harvest.

CHAPTER 10

Jesus Authorises His Disciples to Preach and Heal
A nd he called to him his twelve disciples and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out and to heal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness. 2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these. The first Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother. James the son of Zebedee, and John his

9:35 The theme of Christ’s preaching was “the gospel of the Kingdom”, the good news [‘Gospel’] of having God as our King now, and looking forward to the return of His Son to establish God’s Kingdom physically here on earth for ever.

9:37 The symbols suggest that the harvest is lost and spoilt because there aren’t enough workers to harvest it. The harvest refers to converts, spiritual fruit being given to God, the owner of all. God in some ways chooses to be limited by us. There will be some who will not be harvested for God because the church didn’t make enough effort for them, or there were simply not enough of us to reach them. “Few” in Greek can also imply weak, as well as numerically few.
be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city. 16 I am sending you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore be wise as serpents and harmless as doves. 17 But beware of men, for they will deliver you up to councils and in their synagogues they will scourge you. 18 Yes and before governors and kings you shall be brought for my sake, for a testimony to them, and to the Gentiles. 19 But when they deliver you up, do not be anxious how or what you shall speak, for it shall be given to you at that time what to speak. 20 For it is not you that speaks, but the Spirit of your Father that speaks in you. 21 And brother shall deliver up brother to death and the father his child, and children shall rise up against parents and cause them to be put to death. 22 And you shall be hated of all men for my name’s sake; but he that endures to the end, the same shall be saved. 23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee into the next. For truly I say to you, you shall not have gone through the cities of Israel, until the Son of Man comes. 24 A disciple is not above his teacher, nor a servant above his lord.

10:11 Until you go – Jesus wished to focus upon families and homes, which later developed into the house churches of the later New Testament. His focus is still very much on the family unit as the foundation for His church.

10:15 More tolerable – There will be degrees of reward and punishment at the day of judgment when Jesus returns. All our behaviour in this life will be judged sensitively, nothing will be overlooked and everything will receive an appropriate response.

10:16 Wise as serpents – We are not asked to be naive; but the opposite.

10:23 Gone through the cities of Israel – This may imply there will be persecution of believers and also a strong witness to the Jews in Israel immediately prior to Christ’s return. We should be prepared.
25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his teacher, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more them of his household!
26 Therefore fear them not. For there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed, and nothing hid that shall not be known. 27 What I tell you in the darkness, speak in the light, and what you hear in the ear, proclaim upon the housetops. 28 And do not be afraid of those that kill the body but are not able to kill the soul, but rather fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in Gehenna. 29 Are not two sparrows sold for a very small coin? And not one of them shall fall on the ground without your Father. 30 But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. 31 Therefore, fear not. You are of more value than many sparrows. 32 Therefore, everyone who shall confess me before men, I will also confess him before my Father who is in heaven. 33 But whoever shall deny me before men I will also deny him before my Father who is in heaven. 34 Think not that I came to send peace on the earth. I came not to send peace but a sword. 35 For I came to set a man at variance against his father and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law. 36 And a man’s foes shall be they of his own household. 37 He that loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and he that loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. 38 And he that does not take his cross and follow after me, is not worthy of me. 39 He that finds his life shall lose it, and he that loses his life for my sake shall find it. 40 He that receives you receives me, and he that receives me receives him that sent me. 41 He that receives a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet’s reward, and he that receives a right-

10:25 We should therefore not be surprised to be persecuted; in fact we should expect it, because if this world treated Jesus as they did, they will treat us the same.
10:26 Revealed – at the day of judgment (1 Cor. 3:13). If we will be revealed for who we really are eternally, there’s no point in acting out a false image to our brothers and sisters in this life.
10:27 Proclaim upon the housetops – This is alluding to 1 Sam. 9:15,25, where God speaks “the word of the Kingdom” in Samuel’s ear, and then he speaks that word to Saul on the housetop. The Lord is saying that in essence, we are all in Samuel’s position; we hear the word of this world’s salvation, the word about “the Kingdom” as it was for Saul, and that very fact is in itself the imperative to overcome our natural reservations and share it with those for whom it is intended – even if, as with Saul, we consider them unlikely and unspiritual hearers.
10:28 Gehenna was the rubbish dump outside Jerusalem. The fires were always burning there because new garbage was always being thrown onto it. It became a symbol of complete destruction. Some Bibles translate it [wrongly] as “hell”.
10:40 Peoples’ attitude to us is their attitude to Jesus. This means that we, as baptized into the body of Christ, are Him to this world. Our behaviour should be appropriate to this.
mous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man’s reward. 42 And whoever gives one of these little ones even a cup of cold water because he is a disciple; truly I say to you, he will by no means lose his reward.

CHAPTER 11

And it came to pass when Jesus had finished commanding his twelve disciples, he departed from there to teach and preach in their cities.

Jesus Talks About John the Baptist

2 Now when John heard about the works of the Christ while in prison, he sent word by his disciples 3 and said to him: Are you he that comes, or look we for another? 4 And Jesus answered and said to them: Go and tell John the things which you hear and see. 5 The blind receive their sight and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed and the deaf hear and the dead are raised up; and the poor have good tidings preached to them. 6 And blessed is he, whoever shall find no cause to stumble over me. 7 And as these went their way, Jesus began to say to the crowds concerning John: What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind? 8 But what did you go out to see? A man clothed in soft garments? Those that wear soft garments are in king’s houses. 9 But what did you go out to see? To see a prophet? Yes! And I say to you, much more than a prophet! 10 This is he, of whom it is written: Listen, I send my messenger before your face; he shall prepare your way before you. 11 Truly I say to you, among those that are born of women there has not arisen a greater than John the Baptist. Yet he that is the least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. 12 And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffers violence and men of violence take it by force. 13 For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. 14 And if you are willing to receive it, this was Elijah that has to come. 15 He that has ears to hear, let him hear. 16 But unto what shall I liken this genera-

11:1 Their cities – Jesus encouraged people to preach to their network of friends and relatives, in their home areas; He visited those places to back up their witness. Witnessing to friends and family is the most difficult yet most important witness we make.

11:11 Whoever is least in the Kingdom of God in the future will be greater, spiritually, than John the Baptist was in his human life. We learn from this that there will be degrees of reward in God’s Kingdom – one star will shine brighter than another (1 Cor. 15:41), some will rule over ten cities, others over five (Lk. 19:17-19). Do we have the spiritual ambition to want to shine then as much as possible? If we love and seek God’s glory, then we will want to extend it as far as possible, reflecting it as far as we can.

11:12 Men of violence – The image is of commandos storming a city. Whatever our position in life, we now have a cause to totally give ourselves to – to enter and take the Kingdom of God for ourselves.
Reading the Bible alone will not reveal the Father to us. There’s also an element of grace – Jesus reveals His Father to those whom He chooses.

The heavy weight remains, but Jesus is a yoke, binding us together with many others, and so the weight seems far lighter to us. The purpose of the body and person of Christ is to bind us together with other believers – with all the personal problems and conflicts this can create. Christianity isn’t intended to be lived in isolation from others.

Jesus and the disciples were prefigured by David and those who followed him (12:3). Those who followed David were those in debt and ‘distressed’ (1 Sam. 22:2). It is the desperate and broken who follow Jesus today.
The man who had only one sheep was poor; that was why he was so concerned to rescue his only sheep. Yet he represents God and Jesus in their constant search for us. They therefore identify themselves with the very poorest of society. God is in search of man; and we search for Him. Hence the joy of our meeting with Him in baptism.

They therefore identify themselves with the very poorest of society. God is in search of man; and we search for Him. Hence the joy of our meeting with Him in baptism.

12:13, 14 Then – The pure grace and love of Jesus often produces a harsh reaction and rejection from those who refuse to be moved by it. We can’t be passive to it.

12:16 Jesus sometimes did ask people to tell others about what He had done for them. Maybe He asked the extroverts to be quiet, and the introverts to tell others? The preaching of the Gospel in the right spirit is something done against our will; it’s difficult (1 Cor. 9:17).

12:20 Jesus tries to fan into life whatever weak spirituality a person has, rather than expecting perfection at His first encounter with them. We should treat people likewise.
Jesus Heals and is Slandered by the Pharisees

22 Then was brought to him one possessed with a demon, blind and dumb, and he healed him, so much so that the dumb man spoke and saw. 23 And all the crowds were amazed, and said: Can this be the son of David? 24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said: This man does not cast out demons but by Beelzebub the prince of the demons. 25 And knowing their thoughts, he said to them: Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand. 26 And if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then shall his kingdom stand? 27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out demons, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore shall they be your judges. 28 But if I by the Spirit of God cast out demons, then is the kingdom of God come upon you. 29 Or how can one enter into the house of the strong man and ruin his goods, except he first bind the strong man? And then he will ruin his house. 30 He that is not with me is against me, and he that does not gather with me scatters. 31 Therefore I say to you: Every sin and blasphe-my shall be forgiven to men, but the blasphemy against the Holy Spirit shall not be forgiven. 32 And whoever shall speak a word against the Son of Man, it shall be forgiven him; but whoever shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this age, nor in the age to come. 33 Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree corrupt and its fruit corrupt; for the tree is known by its fruit. 34 You offspring of vipers, how can you being evil speak good things? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks. 35 The good man out of his good treasure brings forth good things, and the evil man out of his evil treasure brings forth evil things. 36 And I say to you, that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account of it in the day of judgment. 37 For by your words you shall be justified and by your words you shall be condemned.

Jesus Speaks of Signs, Unspiritual Attitudes and His True Family

38 Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered him, saying: Teacher, we would see a sign from
Not everyone has the capacity to hear and understand the Gospel; not all have faith (2 Thess. 3:2). But those of us who do should use the potential we’ve been given.

The parables weren’t stories with an obvious, easy to understand meaning. Jesus wanted his audience to reflect on what they heard. He knew that not everyone could understand the Gospel’s meaning, so he used stories to convey his message.

Jesus answered his mother and relatives by saying that he had a new family: the disciples who were interested in hearing the wisdom of God. He was emphasizing that his mission was more important than any personal connection.

On that day Jesus went out of the house and sat by the sea side. And great crowds gathered about him, so that he got into a boat and sat down, and the whole crowd stood on the beach. Jesus spoke many things to them in parables, saying: Listen, the sower went out to sow.

As he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side and the birds came and devoured them. Others fell upon the rocky places where they had not much earth, and immediately they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth. When the sun had risen, they were scorched, and because they had no root, they withered away. Others fell upon the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them. Others fell upon the good ground and yielded fruit, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

He that has ears, let him hear. And the disciples came and said to him: Why do you speak to them in parables? And he answered and said to them: To you you.
it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. 12 For whoever has, to him shall be given and he shall have abundance, but whoever has not, from him shall be taken away even what he has. 13 Therefore I speak to them in parables, because seeing, they see not, and hearing, they hear not, neither do they understand. 14 And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which said: By hearing you shall hear and shall in no wise understand, and seeing you shall see and shall in no wise perceive. 15 For this people’s heart has grown dull, and with their ears they can barely hear, and their eyes they have closed, lest they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart and repent, so that I should heal them. 16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. 17 For truly I say to you, that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which you see and saw them not, and to hear the things which you hear and heard them not. 18 Hear then the parable of the sower. 19 When anyone hears the word of the kingdom and understands it not, then comes the evil one and snatches away that which has been sown in his heart. This is he that was sown by the way side. 20 And he that was sown upon the rocky places, this is he that hears the word and immediately with joy receives it. 21 Yet he does not have root in himself, but endures for a while, and when tribulation or persecution arises because of the word, immediately he stumbles. 22 And he that was sown among the thorns, this is he that hears the word, and the care of the world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and he becomes unfruitful. 23 And he that was sown upon the good ground, this is he that hears the word and understands it- who truly carries fruit and brings it forth, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

Other Parables of the Kingdom

24 He set another parable before them, saying: The kingdom of heaven is likened to a man that sowed good seed in his field. 25 But while his men slept, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and then went away. 26 But when the plants sprang up and brought forth fruit, then the weeds appeared also.
27 And the servants of the householder came and said to him: Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then has it weeds? 28 And he said to them: An enemy has done this! And the servants said to him: Then do you want us to go and gather them up? 29 But he said: No. Lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. 30 Let both grow together until the harvest, and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather up the weeds first and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn. 31 He set another parable before them, saying: The kingdom of heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field. 32 Which indeed is smaller than all seeds, but when it is grown it is greater than the herbs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the sky come and lodge in its branches. 33 He told them another parable: The kingdom of heaven is like the yeast which a woman took and hid in three measures of flour until it was all raised. 34 All these things spoke Jesus in parables to the crowds, and without a parable he said nothing to them. 35 This was to fulfil what was spoken by the prophet: I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world. 36 Then he left the crowds and went into the house. And his disciples came to him, saying: Explain to us the parable of the weeds of the field. 37 And he answered and said: He that sows the good seed is the Son of Man. 38 The field is the world and the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom; and the weeds are the sons of the evil one. 39 The enemy that sowed them is the Devil, the harvest is the end of the world, and the reapers are angels. 40 As therefore the weeds are gathered up and burned with fire, so shall it be at the end of the world. 41 The Son of Man shall send forth his angels and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that cause stumbling and them that do iniquity, 42 and shall cast them into the fiery furnace. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. 43 Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear. 44 The kingdom of heaven is like a treasure hidden in the field, which a man found and hid, and in his joy he went and sold all that he

13:28 Jesus foresaw that His followers would have a tendency towards trying to do God’s judgment for Him; He explains (v.29) that it’s not possible for us to judge who is who. It’s therefore a fact that there will be insincere people growing within the field of the church, next to those who are sincere. They have an appearance of growth. But we must leave them until harvest – the return of Jesus.

13:32 From tiny beginnings – reading a Bible, noticing an advertisement, meeting someone ‘by chance’ – we will come to eternity. We will be a refuge for others then. We will look back on this life and it will seem so disproportionate – that we got ‘there’ from ‘here’.

13:39 Angels – First we will know that Jesus has returned is that our Angel will be standing next to us and inviting us to go meet Him.
had and bought that field. 45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like to a man that is a merchant seeking fine pearls. 46 And having found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had and bought it. 47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net that was cast into the sea and gathered fish of every kind. 48 When it was full, men drew it ashore and sat down and sorted the good into containers but threw away the bad. 49 So shall it be in the end of the world. The angels shall come forth and separate the wicked from among the righteous, 50 and shall cast them into the fiery furnace. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. 51 Have you understood all these things? They said to him: Yes. 52 And he said to them: Therefore every scribe who has been made a disciple of the kingdom of heaven is like a man who is a householder, who brings out from his treasure things new and old.

Jesus Visits His Home Town
53 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed from there. 54 And coming into his hometown he taught them in their synagogue, so much so that they were astonished, and said: From where has this man received this wisdom and these mighty works? 55 Is this not the carpenter’s son? Is not his mother called Mary? And his brothers, James and Joseph and Simon and Judas? 56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? From where then did this man get all these things? 57 And they were offended by him. But Jesus said to them: A prophet is not without honour, except in his hometown and in his own house. 58 And he did not do many mighty works there, because of their unbelief.

CHAPTER 14
Jan. 12 Jul. 13

Herod Murders John the Baptist
At that time Herod the tetrarch heard the report concerning Jesus, 2 and said to his servants: This is John the Baptist! He has risen from the dead and therefore do these powers work in him. 3 For Herod had arrested John and bound him and put him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip’s wife. 4 For John had said to him: It is not lawful for you to have her. 5 And though he wanted to put him to death, he feared the people, because they held him to be a prophet. 6 But at Herod’s birthday party, the daughter of Herodias danced before all and pleased Herod. 7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatever she should ask. 8 And she, being encouraged by her mother, said: Give me here the head of John the Baptist on a platter. 9 And the king was grieved, but for the sake of his oaths and of his dinner guests, he commanded it to be given. 10 He sent word and had John beheaded in the prison. 11 And his head was brought on a platter and given to the girl, and she brought it to her mother. 12 And his disciples came and took away the corpse and buried him, and they went and told Jesus.

Jesus Feeds 5000 Men Plus Their Families

13 Now when Jesus heard this, he withdrew from there in a boat to a deserted place to be alone; but when the crowds heard, they followed him on foot from the cities. 14 When he went ashore he saw a great crowd, and he had compassion on them and healed their sick. 15 And when evening had come, the disciples came to him, saying: This place is deserted and the day is now over. Send the crowds away, that they may go into the villages and buy for themselves food. 16 But Jesus said to them: They need not go away. You give them something to eat. 17 And they say to him: We have here only five loaves and two fishes. 18 And he said: Bring them here to me. 19 And he commanded the crowds to sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves and the two fishes and looking up to heaven, he blessed and broke and gave the loaves to the disciples and the disciples to the crowds. 20 And they all ate and were filled, and they collected what was left over of the broken pieces- twelve baskets full! 21 And they that ate, besides women and children, were about five thousand men.

Jesus Walks on Water

22 Immediately he made the disciples get into the boat and go ahead of him to the other side of the sea, while he dismissed the crowds. 23 And after he had dismissed the crowds, he went up the mountain by himself to pray. When evening came, he was 14:16 Jesus knew this was impossible for them to do. But He asks them to do it, in order they might learn that whatever little we have can be used by Him; and He challenges our faith and horizons likewise.

14:19 The food was mediated through the disciples; just as His salvation of others is mediated to them through our hands. Note the similarities with how Jesus ‘broke bread’ at the communion service. The way Jesus prayed with open eyes looking up to Heaven reflects His good conscience with God. Can we do that?

14:23 The way Jesus sent the people away is a window into the power of His personality, the strength of His will and mind.
there alone. 24 But the boat was now in the middle of the sea, beaten by the waves, for the wind was against them. 25 And in the fourth watch of the night he came to them, walking upon the sea. 26 And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were disturbed, saying: It is a ghost! And they cried out for fear. 27 But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying: Be of good cheer. It is I! Be not afraid. 28 And Peter answered, and said: Lord, if it is you, command me to come to you by walking on the water. 29 And he said: Come. And Peter got out of the boat and walked upon the water to go to Jesus. 30 But when he saw the wind was strong, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying: Lord, save me! 31 And immediately Jesus stretched out his hand and took hold of him and said to him: O you of little faith, why did you doubt?

CHAPTER 15

Jesus Criticises Traditions

Then there came to Jesus Pharisees and scribes from Jerusalem, saying: 2 Why do your disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? For they do not wash their hands when they eat bread. 3 And he answered and said to them: Why do you also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition? 4 For God said: Honour your father and your mother, and he that speaks evil of father or mother must surely die. 5 But you say: Whoever shall say to his father or his mother: That with which you might have been profited by me is given to God- 6 he shall not honour his father. Thus you have made void the word of God because of your tradition. 7 You hypocrites, well did Isaiah prophesy of you, saying: 8 This people honours me with their lips but their heart is far from me. 9 But in vain do they worship me, teaching doctrines which are the precepts of men.

Jesus Teaches About the Source of Evil

10 And he called to himself the crowd, and said to them: Hear and understand. 11 It is not what enters into the mouth which defiles the man, but what proceeds out of the mouth, this defiles the man. 12 Then came the disciples, and said to him: Do you know that the Pharisees were offended when they heard this saying? 13 But he answered and said: Every plant which my heavenly Father did not plant shall be rooted up. 14 Let them alone. They are blind guides. And if the blind are guided by the blind, both shall fall into a pit. 15 And Peter answered and said to him: Explain to us the parable. 16 And he said: Are you still without understanding? 17 Do you not understand, that whatever goes into the mouth passes into the belly and is expelled? 18 But the things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart, and it is they that defile the man. 19 For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, sexual immorality, thefts, false witness and slander. 20 These are the things which defile the man — but to eat with unwashed hands does not defile the man.

Jesus Goes to Other Countries He Heals a Gentile Girl

21 And Jesus went away from there and withdrew to the district of Tyre and Sidon. 22 And a Canaanite woman from that region came out and was crying: Have mercy on me, O Lord, Son of David; my daughter is severely oppressed by a demon. 23 But he did not answer her. And his disciples came and begged him, saying: Send her away, for she cries out after us. 24 But he answered and said: I was only sent to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. 25 But she came and knelt before him, saying: Lord! Help me! 26 And he answered and said: It is not right to take the children’s bread and cast it to the dogs. 27 But she said: Yes, Lord. But even the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from your table.

15:16 We feel Jesus’ frustration with the disciples. He expected them to have reached a higher point of perception than they had. He may set similar benchmarks for us, as any good teacher does, and be disappointed at the slowness of our growth. Matthew was telling his hearers that he too, and all the founders of the early church, had been terribly slow to understand, and had been a great disappointment to Jesus. He preached the Gospel with humility and an awareness of his own weakness.

15:19 Sin comes from within; nothing outside of us, e.g. demons or spirits, can enter us and possess us, thereby making us sin. The source of sin is internal and not external. The real battle is for self control and spiritual mindedness. See notes about Satan.

15:27 The dogs were the Gentiles; crumbs were the miracles; the masters were the Jews; the meal or table was Jesus’ fellowship and ministry to the Jews. She showed humility and faith by saying this; she knew that even the miracle she so sought was a mere crumb of what Jesus was offering Israel. They refused so much.

Then Jesus answered and said to her: O woman, great is your faith. Be it done to you even as you wish. And her daughter was healed from that moment.

Jesus Heals and Feeds Many Gentiles

And Jesus departed from there and came near to the Sea of Galilee; and he went up the mountain and sat there. And there came to him great crowds, having with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed and many others; and they put them down at his feet, and he healed them; so much so that the crowd wondered, when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed whole, the lame walking and the blind seeing. And they glorified the God of Israel.

Then Jesus called his disciples to him, and said: I have compassion on the crowd because they have been with me now three days and have nothing to eat. I am unwilling to send them away hungry, lest they faint on the way. And the disciples said to him: Where can we get so many loaves in this deserted place to fill so great a crowd? And Jesus said to them: How many loaves have you? And they said: Seven, and a few small fish. And he commanded the crowd to sit down on the ground. He took the seven loaves and the fish; and he gave thanks and broke the bread and gave it to the disciples, and the disciples gave them to the crowds. And they all ate and were filled, and they collected what was left over of the broken pieces—seven baskets full! And besides women and children, they that had eaten were four thousand men. And he sent away the crowds, boarded the boat and went into the region of Magdalla.

CHAPTER 16

Jesus Describes Pharisees and Sadducees as Evil

And the Pharisees and Sadducees came to test him, and asked him to show them a sign from heaven. But he answered and said to them: When it is evening, you say: It will be fair weather, for the sky is red. And in the morning: It will be foul weather today, for the sky is red and threatening. You know how to interpret the appearance of the sky, but you cannot interpret the signs of the times. An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and there shall be no sign given to it except the sign of Jonah. And he left them and departed.

Jesus Teaches the Meaning of Yeast

When the disciples reached the other side, they had forgotten to bring any bread. And Jesus said to them: Take heed and beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees. And they discussed this among themselves, saying: We did not bring any bread. 8 And Jesus, aware of it, said: O you of little faith! Why do you discuss among yourselves that you have no bread? 9 Do you still not understand? Do you not remember the five loaves for the five thousand, and how many baskets you gathered 10 nor the seven loaves of the four thousand and how many baskets you took up? 11 How is it that you fail to understand that I did not speak about bread? Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees. 12 Then they understood that he told them not to be careful concerning the yeast in bread but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

Jesus Leaves Israel Again and Tests His Disciples’ Understanding
13 Now when Jesus came into the region of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying: Who do men say that the Son of Man is? 14 And they said: Some say John the Baptist, some Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets. 15 He said to them: But who do you say that I am? 16 And Simon Peter answered and said: You are the Christ, the Son of the living God. 17 And Jesus answered and said to him: Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah, for flesh and blood has not revealed it to you but my Father who is in heaven. 18 And I also say to you, you are Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of the grave shall not prevail against it. 19 I will give to you the keys of the kingdom of heaven; whatever you shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 20 Then he ordered the disciples to tell no one that he was the Christ.

Jesus Teaches His Disciples about His Forthcoming Death and Resurrection
21 From that time Jesus began to explain to his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things from the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and on the third day be raised 22 And Peter took him and began to rebuke him, saying: Be it far from you, Lord. This

16:11 Again note Jesus’ frustration with His followers’ lack of understanding. We should so seek to understand Him, for clearly it’s pleasing to anyone who loves us that we understand them. See on 15:16.
16:12 Doctrine is compared to yeast; it influences a large mass of dough, out of proportion to its own volume. This is the power and importance of doctrine. We must understand correctly.
16:18 The rock was the rock of Peter’s belief that Jesus was God’s Son (:16), and Peter’s personal preaching of it. ‘Peter’ means ‘rock’; it was a nickname, something like ‘Rocky’.
16:19 This was promised to all the disciples – Mt. 18:18. The Roman Catholics misuse this verse to claim that Peter and therefore the Pope has this power. But there’s no reason to think that any authority was passed on from Peter, nor the other disciples, to any subsequent generation.
shall never happen to you! 23 But he turned, and said to Peter: Get behind me, Satan. You are a hindrance to me, for you are not setting your mind on the things of God, but on the things of man. 24 Then said Jesus to his disciples: If anyone wants to be my follower, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. 25 For whoever would save his life shall lose it, and whoever shall lose his life for my sake shall find it. 26 For what shall a man be profited if he shall gain the whole world and forfeit his life? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his life? 27 For the Son of Man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels, and then shall he repay every man according to his deeds. 28 Truly I say to you: There are some standing here who will not taste death until they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom.

Jesus is Transfigured

And after six days Jesus took with him Peter and James and John his brother, and led them up a high mountain by themselves. 2 And he was transfigured before them, and his face shone as the sun and his garments became white as the light. 3 And there appeared before them Moses and Elijah talking with Jesus. 4 And Peter said to Jesus: Lord, it is good for us to be here. If it pleases you, I will make here three tabernacles- one for you and one for Moses and one for Elijah. 5 While he was yet speaking, a bright cloud overshadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloud, saying: This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Hear him! 6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face and were terrified. 7 And Jesus came and touched them, and said: Arise and be not afraid. 8 And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jesus only. 9 And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying: Tell the vision to no one, until the Son of Man be risen from the dead. 10 And his disciples asked him: Why do the scribes say that Elijah must first come? 11 And he answered and said: Elijah indeed comes and shall restore all things.
But I say unto you, that Elijah came already and they knew him not, but did to him whatever they would. Likewise shall the Son of Man suffer by their hands. Then understood the disciples that he spoke to them of John the Baptist.

Jesus Heals an Epileptic

And when they came to the crowd, a man came up to him and knelt before him, saying: Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is epileptic and suffers terribly. For often he falls into the fire and often into the water. So I brought him to your disciples but they could not cure him. And Jesus answered and said: O faithless and perverse generation! How long shall I be with you? How long must I tolerate you? Bring him here to me. And Jesus rebuked him; and the demon went out of him and the boy was cured from that moment. Then came the disciples to Jesus privately, and said: Why could we not cast it out? And he said to them: Because of your little faith. For truly I say to you: If you have faith as small as a mustard seed, you shall say to this mountain, move from here to there, and it will move. Nothing shall be impossible for you. But this kind will not go out except by prayer and fasting. And while they stayed in Galilee, Jesus said to them: The Son of Man shall be delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised up. And they were greatly distressed.

Jesus Teaches About the True Freedom of Sons of God

And when they arrived in Capernaum, they that collected the tribute money came to Peter, and said: Does not your teacher pay the tribute money? He said: Yes. And when he came into the house, Jesus spoke to him first of all, saying: Simon. What return of Christ, just as John the Baptist tried to prepare them for His first coming [see Malachi 4:5,6].

12 But I say unto you, that Elijah came already and they knew him not, but did to him whatever they would. Likewise shall the Son of Man suffer by their hands. 13 Then understood the disciples that he spoke to them of John the Baptist.

17:15 Epileptic – Or ‘lunatic’ [Gk.] – someone struck by the moon. The belief that the moon struck people at night causing them to go mad was a wrong understanding. But Jesus didn’t explicitly correct this. He showed by the magnitude of His miracle that such beliefs, whether or not they had any truth in them, were irrelevant compared to God’s power. Hence references to demon possession decrease throughout the Gospels and New Testament – it became apparent that they don’t exist, or if they do, they are irrelevant compared to God’s power.

17:17 Again Jesus shows His frustration with their lack of spiritual perception – see on 15:16; 16:11. To be frustrated isn’t sinful – for Jesus never sinned. If He so desires understanding from us – let’s give ourselves to trying to understand. And surely He will help us if we ask Him.

17:20 Just a small amount of real faith is very powerful. Faith is so powerful that you don’t need much of it – just a little of the real thing is quite enough.

17:25 Jesus paid tribute tax even when He didn’t have to and when the reasoning behind the demand for it was wrong. We should do the same. We cannot change geopolitics now; we must wait for His return and the coming of God’s Kingdom.
do you think? The kings of the earth, from whom do they receive toll or tribute? From their own children, or from strangers? 26 And when he said ‘From strangers’, Jesus said to him: Therefore the children are free. 27 However, not to give offence to them, go to the sea, cast a hook and take the first fish that comes up, and when you open its mouth you will find a coin. Take that and give it to them for me and for yourself.

Jesus Teaches About Greatness and Humility

At that time the disciples came to Jesus, saying: Who then is greatest in the kingdom of heaven? 2 And he called to himself a little child and set him in the midst of them, 3 and said: Truly I say to you, except you turn and become as little children, you shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven. 4 Whoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. 5 And whoever shall receive one such little child in my name receives me. 6 But whoever shall cause one of these little ones that believe in me to stumble, it would be better for him that a great millstone should be hung about his neck and that he should be drowned in the depths of the sea. 7 Woe to the world because of temptations to stumble! For it is necessary that the temptations occur, but woe to that man through whom the temptation comes! 8 And if your hand or your foot causes you to stumble, cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to enter into life maimed or lame, rather than having two hands or two feet to be thrown into the perpetual fire. 9 And if your eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out and throw it away. It is better for you to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be thrown into Gehenna. 10 See you do not despise one of these little ones. For I say to you, that in heaven their angels do always see the presence of my Father who is in heaven. 11 For the Son of Man came to save those which were lost.

17:27 Jesus was very sensitive to not making people spiritually stumble. Even people whom we would consider as disinterested in His Gospel.

18:3 Conversion has various levels. The disciples had been converted, but there was a higher level of conversion – to become like children. Baptism isn’t the end of our conversion – it’s part of the process.

18:5 Jesus invites us to see Him as represented by the child. In the 1st Century world, children and women were considered as non-persons. But Jesus paid great attention to them and showed how He valued them as persons.

18:6 Such drowning in the sea as a millstone is Babylon’s judgment (Rev. 18:21). Those who make others sin or stumble will share in Babylon’s punishment at the last day – they will be “condemned with the world” (1 Cor. 11:32). Those rejected by Jesus will be sent back into the world they so loved – and share its judgment.

18:8 Everlasting fire is symbolic of total destruction. Jerusalem was punished with this (Jer. 17:27) – but there is no eternal fire there today. Don’t read ‘eternal fire’ literally.
Jesus Teaches About Sin and Forgiveness

12 What do you think? If a man has a hundred sheep and one of them has gone astray, does he not leave the ninety-nine on the mountains and go in search of the one that went astray? 13 And if he finds it, truly I say to you, he rejoices over it more than over the ninety-nine that never went astray. 14 So it is not the wish of your Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish. 15 And if your brother sins against you, go show him his fault, between you and him alone. If he hears you, you have gained your brother. 16 But if he does not hear you, take with you one or two others, that at the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. 17 And if he refuses to hear them, tell it to the church, and if he refuses to hear the church also, let him be to you as the Gentile and the tax collector. 18 Truly I say to you: Whatever things you shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever things you shall release on earth shall be released in heaven. 19 Again I say to you, that if two of you shall agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them by my Father who is in heaven. 20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them. 21 Then Peter came and said to him: Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me and I forgive him? Until seven times? 22 Jesus said to him: I do not say to you until seven times, but until seventy times seven. 23 Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened to a certain king who would make a reckoning with his servants. 24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents. 25 And since he could not pay, his master ordered that

18:17 To you – you singular [Gk.]. This passage speaks about personal disagreements. If you follow this process, the end result is that you personally will treat the other person as a Gentile and tax collector – both of which groups Jesus especially sought to minister to and win for Him. It doesn’t speak about a church disfellowshipping an individual.

18:20 Jesus is with us all the time individually, but He is especially with us when we gather together. Hence the importance of believers meeting together rather than believing in isolation.

18:21, 22 Sin against – Peter refers back to :15. Jesus seems to be saying that we can go through the process He outlines in :15-17. But the higher level is to forgive unconditionally. If somebody sins against us 490 times / day and claims each time to have repented, it’s clear their repentance is insincere. Jesus is saying we should forgive people without trying to assess nor believe the sincerity of their repentance. For the nature of the forgiveness we show others is what we will be shown.

18:24 There’s an element of unreality in this story. How could a person amass such a huge debt? Only because the King kept on and on lending to him, knowing the man could never repay. This speaks of God’s forgiveness of us and the enormity of our debt to Him. Realizing our sinfulness will motivate us to forgive others.
he be sold with his wife and children and all that he had, and payment to be made. 26 The servant therefore fell on his knees, saying: Lord, have patience with me and I will pay you all that I owe. 27 And the lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him and forgave him the debt. 28 But that servant went out and found one of his fellow-servants, who owed him a hundred denarii, and he laid hold on him and took him by the throat, saying: Pay what you owe. 29 So his fellow-servant fell down and begged him, saying: Have patience with me and I will pay you. 30 But he refused and had him cast into prison, until he should pay that which was due. 31 When his fellow servants saw what had taken place, they were greatly distressed, and they went and reported to their master all that had taken place. 32 Then his lord summoned him and said to him: You wicked servant; because you pleaded with me I forgave you all that debt. 33 Should not you also have had mercy on your fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on you? 34 And his lord was angry and delivered him to the jailors, until he should pay all that was due. 35 So also my heavenly Father will do to every one of you, if you do not forgive your brother from your heart.

Divorce

And it came to pass when Jesus had finished these words, he departed from Galilee and came into the region of Judea on the other side of the Jordan. 2 And great crowds followed him; and he healed them there. 3 And Pharisees came up to him and tested him, by asking: Is it lawful to divorce one’s wife for any cause? 4 And he answered and said: Have you not read, that He who made them from the beginning made them male and female, 5 and said: For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother and shall cleave to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh? 6 So they are no more two but one flesh. What therefore God has joined together, do not let man separate. 7 They said to him: Why then did Moses command to give a certificate of divorce and to put her away? 8 He said to them: Moses for your hardness of heart allowed you 18:31 When we see unreasonable behaviour from our brethren, the response is to tell it to the Lord. He knows about it already, but it’s good for us psychologically to tell the story to Him in prayer.

19:5, 6 Often partners don’t psychologically ‘leave’ their parents, and only when this is done can they cleave to their partner. As they try to do this, so God will confirm them in ‘joining’ them. Partners are glued together [Gk.] by God in His own way – often through life circumstances overruled by Him. Adultery is therefore so wrong. It’s a fighting against God’s work in a couples’ life.

19:8 God makes concessions to human weakness. He knows the mind of those He has created. He sets an ideal standard but is willing to accept a lower achievement from us in practice. But this is no reason to abuse this. If we love God we will try to live life on the higher levels rather than be minimalists.
to send away your wives, but from the beginning it has not been so. 9 And I say to you, whoever shall send his wife away, except for “porneia” and shall marry another, commits adultery; and he that marries a divorced woman, commits adultery. 10 The disciples said to him: If such is the case of a man with his wife, it is better not to marry. 11 But he said to them: Not all men can receive this saying, but they to whom it is given. 12 For there are eunuchs that were born so from their mother’s womb, and there are eunuchs that were made eunuchs by men, and there are eunuchs that made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven’s sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

Jesus Teaches the Cost of True Discipleship
13 Then little children were brought to him, so that he should lay his hands on them and pray; but the disciples rebuked them. 14 But Jesus said: Let the little children come to me and do not prevent them, for to such belongs the kingdom of heaven. 15 And he laid his hands on them and departed from there. 16 And someone came to him and said: Teacher, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life? 17 And he said to him: Why do you ask me about what is good? There is only One who is good. If you would enter life, keep the commandments. 18 He said to him: Which? And Jesus said: You shall not kill, you shall not commit adultery, you shall not steal, you shall not bear false witness, 19 honour your father and mother and, you shall love your neighbour as yourself. 20 The young man said to him: All these things have I observed from my youth. What do I still lack? 21 Jesus said to him: If you would be perfect, go sell your possessions and give to the poor, and you shall have treasure in heaven, and come follow me. 22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away...
The needle gate was the small gate in a city wall through which only people could walk. For a camel to pass through it, it had to kneel down and have all its baggage unloaded — and even then it could only just squeeze through. We must shed our wealth and humble ourselves if we are to enter the Kingdom.

The disciples held the common but wrong idea that wealthy people were wealthy because God had blessed them. Jesus here totally deconstructs the ‘prosperity Gospel’.

The small coin represents salvation.

Those who don’t serve Christ are standing around doing nothing — no matter their intellect and full diaries. It was only the old and weak who were not taken by anyone to work. But they wanted to work — so they stood there all day in the hope someone might be desperate enough for workers that he would take them. God is desperate for workers, and we who are called to Christ in these last days are those weak workers. Like those called at the last moment in Lk. 14:23 are the street people and desperate. That’s us.

We are ‘called’ by the Angel appearing when Christ returns to gather us to judgment.
when evening came, the owner of the vineyard said to his steward: Call the labourers and pay them their wages, beginning from the last to the first. 9 And when they who were hired about the eleventh hour came, they each received a denarius. 10 And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more, but likewise each received a denarius. 11 And when they received it, they grumbled at the master of the house, saying: 12 These last have spent only one hour but you have made them equal to us, who have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat. 13 And he answered and said to one of them: Friend, I do you no wrong. Did you not agree with me for a denarius? 14 Take that which is yours and go your way. It is my wish to give to this last even as I gave to you. 15 Is it not lawful for me to do what I wish with my own money? Or is your eye evil, because I am good? 16 So the last shall be first and the first last.

The Importance Of Being A Servant
17 And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem he took the twelve disciples aside, and on the way he said to them: 18 Listen, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man shall be delivered to the chief priests and scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, 19 and shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock and to scourge and to crucify; and the third day he shall be raised up. 20 Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee came to him with her sons, kneeling before him and asking a certain thing of him. 21 And he said to her: What do you desire? She said to him: Command that in your kingdom these my two sons may sit, one on your right hand, and one on your left hand. 22 But Jesus answered and said: You do not know what you ask. Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They said to him: We are able. 23 He said to them: You shall drink my cup indeed - but to sit on my right hand and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared by my Father. 24 And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two brothers. 25 But Jesus called them to himself, and said: You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them and their great ones exercise authority over them. 26 It shall not be so among you. But whoever would be great among you- must be your servant. 27 And whoever would be first among you shall be your slave. 28 Even as the Son of Man came not to be ministered to, but to minister, and to give his life as a ransom for many.

20:14 The implication could be that this man is ‘fired’ – he must go his way, away from Jesus, because he thought that he was more worthy than the weak, sick, old or lazy workers who had also been hired. Such spiritual snobbism is so repellent to Jesus. 20:28 A radical inversion of human values. We are here to serve, to give; not to be served, get wealthy or receive some benefit for ourselves. The very opposite of the ‘prosperity Gospel’.
Jesus Heals Two Determined Blind Men

29 And as they went out from Jericho, a great crowd followed him. 30 And two blind men who were sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying: Lord, have mercy on us, you Son of David. 31 And the crowd rebuked them, that they should hold their peace; but they cried out the more, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, you Son of David! 32 And Jesus stood still and called them, and said: What do you desire I do for you? 33 They said to him: Lord, that our eyes may be opened. 34 And Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes; and immediately they received their sight and followed him.

CHAPTER 21

Jesus Enters Jerusalem

And when they drew near to Jerusalem and came to Bethphage, to the mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples, 2 saying to them: Go into the village in front of you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied, and a colt with her. Untie them and bring them to me. 3 And if anyone says something to you, you shall say: The Lord has need of them. And immediately he will send them. 4 Now this happened so that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying: 5 Tell the daughter of Zion: Look, your King comes to you, meek and riding upon an ass and upon a colt the foal of an ass. 6 And the disciples went and did as Jesus directed them. 7 and brought the ass and the colt and put on them their garments; and he sat thereon. 8 Most of the crowd spread their cloaks on the road, and others cut branches from the trees and spread them on the road. 9 And the crowds that went before him and that followed shouted: Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is he that comes in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest! 10 And when he had arrived in Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying: Who is this? 11 And the crowds said: This is the prophet Jesus from Nazareth of Galilee.

Jesus Clears the Temple

12 And Jesus entered into the temple of God and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple. and overthrew the tables of the money-changers and the seats of them that sold the doves. 13 And he said to them: It is written, my house shall be called a
The blind and lame had been banned from the temple due to a Jewish misapplication of 2 Sam. 5:8. But Jesus welcomed into God’s house those whom man had banned from it.

21:18 He hungered for spiritual fruit on Israel, the fig tree. He was prepared to eat even the unripe fruit which the leaves promised to be there. He cursed it because there was an appearance of fruit, i.e. it had leaves, but in reality there wasn’t even the beginnings of spiritual fruit. He is satisfied with even our immature spirituality – if we do at least something (Mt. 25:27).

21:22 We should visualize the answer to our prayers and act and feel as if they have been answered. But this verse is only part of the overall Bible teaching about prayer – we can only pray with such confidence if we know it is according to God’s will (1 Jn. 5:14).
Jesus’ Parable of the Two Sons
28 But what do you think? A man had two sons, and he came to the first, and said: Son, today go and work in the vineyard. 29 And he answered and said: I will not; but afterward he repented and went. 30 And he came to the second and said likewise. And he answered and said: I go sir; but did not go. 31 Which of the two did the will of his father? They replied: The first. Jesus said to them: Truly I say to you, that the tax collectors and the prostitutes go into the kingdom of God before you. 32 For John came to you in the way of righteousness and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him; and afterwards when you saw it, you still did not repent and believe him.

Jesus’ Parable of the Vineyard and the Husbandmen
33 Hear another parable. There was a man that was master of a house, who planted a vineyard and set a hedge about it and dug a winepress in it and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen; and went into another country. 34 And when the harvest season drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, to get his fruit. 35 And the husbandmen took his servants and beat one and killed another and stoned another. 36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first, and they did the same to them. 37 And last of all he sent his son to them, saying: They will respect my son. 38 But the husbandmen, when they saw the son, said among themselves: This is the heir. Come, let us kill him and take his inheritance. 39 And they took him and threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. 40 When therefore the owner of the vineyard shall come, what will he do to those husbandmen? 41 They said to him: He will miserably destroy those miserable men and will let out the vineyard to other husbandmen, who shall pay him the fruits in their seasons. 42 Jesus said to them: Did you never read in the scriptures: The stone which the builders rejected, the same was made the head of the corner. This was the Lord’s doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes. 43 Therefore say I to you: The kingdom of God shall be taken away from you and shall be given to a nation bringing forth the fruits of it. 44 And he that falls on this stone shall be broken to pieces, but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will scatter him as dust. 45 And when the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he spoke of them. 46 And although they were seeking to arrest him, they feared the crowds, because they held him to be a prophet.

Jesus’ Parable About the Wedding Feast

And Jesus answered and spoke again in parables to them, saying: 2 The kingdom of heaven is likened to a certain king, who made a marriage feast for his son, and sent out his servants to call them that were invited to the marriage feast, but they would not come. 4 Again he sent other servants, saying: Tell them that were invited: Look, I have made ready my dinner. My oxen and my fatlings are killed and all things are ready. Come to the marriage feast! 5 But they made light of it and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his business, while the rest seized his servants, treated them shamefully, and killed them. 7 The king was angry, and he sent his armies and destroyed those murderers and burnt their city. 8 Then he said to his servants: The wedding is ready, but they that were invited were not worthy. 9 Therefore, go to the main roads and as many as you shall find, invite them to the marriage feast. 10 And those servants went out into the highways and gathered together as many as they found, both bad and good; and the wedding was filled with guests. 11 But when the king 21:44 This refers to how the image of Daniel 2, representing the kingdoms of men, is to be ground to powder by the return of Christ to the earth. He will judge those who reject Him along with the world whose ways they so loved (1 Cor. 11:32). We either fall upon Christ and are broken, through recognizing our sins (1 Pet. 2:8); or He will fall upon us and break us at the last day. So there is a logic to all this – we must be broken people now, or we will be broken then. The true community of believers is one of broken men and women.

22:4 Everything was ‘ready’ for God’s Kingdom in the first century, but the Jews rejected it.

22:5 Just as people today allow the busyness of their lives to stop them from responding to the Gospel.

22:7 Jerusalem was burnt by the Roman armies in AD70. They were God’s armies in the sense that He controlled and used them. Those who persecute us are also in a sense directly under God’s control.

22:10 There will be both bad and good people who accept the invitation; just as the weeds grow together with the wheat in the field of the church (Mt. 13:29). We shouldn’t be surprised at the sense that this is the case; but it’s not a reason to leave the church. We will not find any pure church.

22:11 The wedding garment represents the righteousness of God which is given to us when we are clothed with Christ in baptism. In weddings of those days, the white entered to see the guests, he saw there a man who was not wearing a wedding-garment. 12 And he said to him: Friend, how did you come in here without a wedding-garment? And he was speechless. 13 Then the king said to the servants: Bind him hand and foot and throw him outside into the darkness, where there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth. 14 For many are called but few chosen.

The Pharisees Try to Trap Jesus – Tribute Money to Caesar
15 Then the Pharisees went and plotted how they might trap him in his talk. 16 And they sent to him their disciples, along with the Herodians, saying: Teacher. We know that you are true and teach the way of God in truth and care not for anyone, for you regard not the person of men. 17 Tell us therefore, what you think. Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not? 18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness and said: Why do you test me? You hypocrites! 19 Show me the tribute money. And they brought to him a denarius. 20 And he said to them: Whose is this image and superscription? 21 They said to him: Caesar’s. He then said to them: Therefore give to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s. 22 And when they heard it, they marvelled and left him and went away.

The Sadducees Try to Trap Jesus – Resurrection
23 The same day Sadducees, that say that there is no resurrection, came to him; and they asked him: 24 Teacher. Moses said that if a man dies having had no children, his brother shall marry his wife and raise up seed to his brother. 25 Now there were with us seven brothers; and the first married and died having no seed, and thus left his wife to his brother. 26 In like manner the second also and the third, to the seventh. 27 And after them all, the woman died. 28 In the resurrection therefore, whose wife shall she be of the seven? For they all had her. 29 But Jesus answered and said to them: You are mistaken, as you neither know the scriptures, nor the power of God. 30 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are like the angels in heaven. 31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have you not read what was spoken to you by God, saying: 32 I am the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob? He is not God of wedding garment was given to the guests as they entered the feast. To refuse it was arrogant – presumably the person thought that his own clothes were better than the wedding garment offered by the host.

22:21 The coin had Caesar’s image on it and therefore should be given to him. Our bodies are what has God’s image on it, and we should give them to God.

22:30 We are to be made as the Angels; we will be eternal and unable to sin, therefore the Angels are like that today. There are no sinful Angels in Heaven.

22:32 Those men are dead and unconscious, but their memory lives on with God, to the extent that when He says “I am [still, now, today] the God of... Jacob”, He means the dead, but of the living. 33 And when the crowds heard it, they were astonished at his teaching.

A Pharisee Lawyer Tries to Trap Jesus – The Greatest Commandment

34 But when the Pharisees heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they gathered together. 35 And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question, testing him: 36 Teacher, which is the greatest commandment in the law? 37 And he said to him: You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. 38 This is the great and first commandment. 39 And the second is like it: You shall love your neighbour as yourself. 40 On these two commandments hang the whole law and the prophets.

Jesus Tests the Pharisees – Who is the Son of David?

41 Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, saying: 42 What do you think of the Christ? Whose son is he? They said to him: The son of David. 43 He said to them: How then does David in the Spirit call him Lord, saying: 44 The Lord said to my Lord, sit at my right hand until I put your enemies underneath your feet. 45 If David then calls him Lord, how is he his son? 46 And no one could say a word in reply. From that day nobody dared to ask him any other questions.

Jesus Warns About Hypocrisy

Then Jesus spoke to the crowds and to his disciples, saying: 2 The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses seat. 3 Therefore all things whatever they tell you, do and observe; but do not you copy their works, for they say and do not. 4 Yes, they bind heavy burdens and lay them on men’s shoulders; but they will not move them with their finger. 5 But they do all their works to be seen by men. For they make their phylacteries wide and the tassels on their garments long, 6 and they love the chief place at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues, 7 and the salutations in the marketplaces, and to be called of men, Rabbi. 8 But you are not to be called Rabbi- for one is your teacher, and all you are brothers. 9 And call no one on the earth your father- for one that He visualizes Jacob as actually alive. Jacob will be resurrected and given eternal life when Jesus returns; but God speaks about those things which are not yet as if they are, because the future is totally assured from His perspective (Rom. 4:17).

22:39 The Jews were always arguing about which commandment was most important. Jesus answers by saying that there are two commandments which are in fact one – to love God and to love our neighbour. His point is that these two can’t be separated. We can’t be Christians in isolation from people; we can’t love God and be indifferent to our neighbour.

22:45 The Jews thought that David was greater than Messiah; Jesus is saying that it’s the other way around.

23:9 The practice of calling a priest ‘Father’ is therefore totally wrong.
is your Father, He who is in heaven. 10 Neither be called masters - for one is your master, the Christ. 11 But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant. 12 And whoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled, and whoever shall humble himself shall be exalted. 13 But woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees. Hypocrites! You shut the kingdom of heaven in people’s faces. For you neither enter yourselves nor allow those who would enter to go in. 14 Woe to you Scribes and Pharisees. Hypocrites! For you devour widows’ houses, while for a pretence you make long prayers. Therefore you shall receive greater condemnation. 15 Woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees. Hypocrites! For you compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he has become so, you make him two-fold more a son of Gehenna than yourselves. 16 Woe to you, you blind guides, who say: Whoever swears by the temple, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gold of the temple, he is bound by his oath. 17 You blind fools! For which is greater, the gold, or the temple that has made the gold sacred? 18 And, Whoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing! But whoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it, he is bound by his oath. 19 You blind men! For which is greater: the gift, or the altar that makes the gift sacred? 20 He therefore that swears by the altar, swears by it and by all things on it. 21 And he that swears by the temple, swears by it and by Him that dwells in it. 22 And he that swears by heaven, swears by the throne of God and by Him that sits on it. 23 Woe to you Scribes and Pharisees. Hypocrites! For you tithe mint and anise and cumin, yet have left undone the weightier matters of the law, justice, mercy and faith. These you ought to have done, and not to have left the other undone. 24 You blind guides, that strain out the gnat and swallow the camel! 25 Woe to you Scribes and Pharisees. Hypocrites! For you cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess. 26 You blind Pharisee! Cleanse first the inside of the cup and of the plate, that the outside of it may become clean also. 27 Woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees. Hypocrites! For you are like whitewashed tombs, which outwardly appear beautiful but inwardly are full of dead men’s bones and of all uncleanness. 28 Even so you also outwardly appear righteous to men, but inwardly you are full of hypocrisy and iniquity. 29 Woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees. Hypocrites! For you build the tombs of the prophets and garnish the tombs of the righteous, 30 and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partners with them in shedding the blood of the prophets. 31 Therefore you witness to yourselves, you are the sons of them that slew the prophets. 32 Fill up then the measure of your fathers’ iniquity. 33 You serpents, you offspring of vipers, how shall you escape the judgment of Gehenna? 34 Therefore, look, I send to you prophets and wise men and scribes. Some of them you shall kill and crucify, and some of them you shall scourge in your synagogues and persecute from city to city. 35 That upon you may fall the guilt for all the righteous blood shed on the land, from the blood of Abel the righteous to the blood of Zachariah son of Barachiah, whom you slew between the sanctuary and the altar. 36 Truly I say to you, all these things shall come upon this generation.

23:13 We can both enable and hinder others from entering God’s Kingdom. Causing others not to enter the Kingdom by our words, actions or example is one of the most serious sins. The Pharisees were a very small group, but the Gospel records give much time to describing Christ’s interaction with them – for legalism and discouraging others from entering the Kingdom is such a serious sin, which we can so easily commit. 23:22 God is a personal being, located in Heaven – not a whisp of ‘spirit’ nor an abstraction.

Jesus Laments Over Jerusalem
37 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which kills the prophets and stones those sent to her! How often would I have gathered your children together, even as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings- but you were not willing! 38 Behold, your house is left to you desolate. 39 For I say to you, you shall not see me from this time forward, until you shall say: Blessed is he that comes in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER 24
Jan. 22 Jul. 23
Jesus Predicts the Temple Destruction, His Return and the End of the Age

And Jesus came out of the temple and was going on his way when his disciples came to him to show him the buildings of the temple. 2 But he answered and said to them: Do you not see all these things? Truly I say to you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, which shall not be thrown down. 3 And as he sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to him privately, saying: Tell us, when shall these things be? And what is the sign of your coming and of the end of the age? 4 And Jesus answered and said to them: Take heed that no one lead you astray. 5 For many shall come in my name, saying: I am the Christ, and shall lead many astray. 6 And you shall hear of wars and rumours of wars. Ensure you are not alarmed, for this must happen but the end is not yet. 7 For nation shall rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom, and there shall be famines and earthquakes in various places. 8 But all these things are the beginning of the birth pains. 9 Then shall they deliver you up to tribulation, and shall kill you; and you shall be hated by all the nations for my name’s sake. 10 And then shall many stumble and shall deliver up one another, and shall hate one another. 11 And many false prophets shall arise and shall lead many astray. 12 And because iniquity shall be multiplied, the love of the majority shall grow cold. 13 But he that endures to the end, the same shall be saved. 14 And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the whole world for a testimony to all the nations- and then shall the end come. 15 Therefore, when you see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of through Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place (let him that reads understand), 16 then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. 17 Let him that is on the housetop not go down to take out things that are in his house. 18 And let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloak. 19 But woe to them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! 20 And pray that your flight is not in the winter, nor on a Sabbath. 21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as has not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be. 22 And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved but for the elect’s sake those days shall be shortened. 23 Then if anyone shall say to you, Here is the Christ, or another, Here is the Christ- do not believe them! 24 For there shall arise false Christs and false prophets, which shall show great signs and wonders so as to lead astray- if possible- even the elect. 25 Listen, I have told you beforehand. 26 Therefore, if they shall say to you: Look, he is in the wilderness! Do not go. Look, he is in the inner chambers! Do not believe it. 27 For as the lightning comes from the east and is seen even to the west, so shall the coming of the Son of Man be. 28 Wherever the carcasse is, there will the eagles gather together. 29 But immediately after the tribulation of 24:14 This implies that the return of Christ to some extent depends upon our taking the Gospel to all the world. It must be preached for a witness to the world – not all will respond, but all nations will hear. The advent of the internet has enabled this.

24:22 Although there are some stated conditions for the return of Christ to return (see :14), God will shorten the days. 2 Peter 3 says that there is also a delay, so that more may believe. So there are various apparently conflicting factors at work in determining the actual date for Christ to return. The shortening of the days will be because of the prayers of the faithful for Christ to return soon; or in order to save the faithful from falling away, so great will be the temptations and pressure of the last days.
those days, the sun shall be darkened and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. And then the sign of the Son of Man shall appear in heaven. Then all the tribes of the earth shall mourn, and they shall see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. And he shall send forth his angels with a great sound of a trumpet and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. Now from the fig tree learn her parable. When her branch has become tender and puts forth its leaves, you know that the summer is near. Even so you also, when you see all these things, know that he is near— at the doors. Therefore, stay awake! For you do not know on what day your Lord comes. But of that day and hour no one knows, not even the Angels of heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father. And as were the days of Noah, so shall the coming of the Son of Man be. Then two men shall be in the field. One shall be taken and one left. Two women shall be grinding at the mill. One shall be taken and one left. Therefore, stay awake! For you do not know on what day your Lord comes. Truly I say to you, This generation shall not pass away until all these things are accomplished. Heaven and earth may pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

Jesus Warns that the Time of the End is Only Known to God

But of that day and hour no one knows, not even the Angels of heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father. And as were the days of Noah, so shall be the coming of the Son of Man. For as in those days which were before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and they did not realize until the flood came and took them all away. So shall the coming of the Son of Man be. Then two men shall be in the field. One shall be taken and one left. Two women shall be grinding at the mill. One shall be taken and one left. Therefore, stay awake! For you do not know on what day your Lord comes. But know this! That if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and would not have let his house be broken into. Therefore you also must be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.

Jesus Describes the Wise Servant

Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom his lord has set over his household to give them their food in due time? Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he comes shall find so doing. Truly I say to you, that he will set him over all that he has. But if that evil servant

24:31 The Angels will gather us from all over the world – there will be true believers world-wide, as a result of the witness of v. 14.
24:32 The fig tree represents Israel; fruit on the fig tree speaks of the spiritual fruit of repentance. When at least some Jews repent and accept Christ – which is already happening – this will be a sign that we are in the last generation.
24:40, 41 As often in His teaching, Jesus balances examples from the worlds of both men and women. Such was His valuing of all people.
24:48 The Lord does delay His coming – the same Greek word is found in 25:5 describing how the bridegroom [Jesus] delays His coming. See on 24:14.
shall say in his heart: My lord’s coming is delayed, 49 and shall begin to beat his fellow-servants and shall eat and drink with the drunkards, 50 the lord of that servant shall come in a day when he does not expect him and in an hour when he does not know, 51 and will cut him in pieces and put him with the hypocrites. There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Jesus’ Parable of Ten Virgins

Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened to ten virgins who took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom. 2 And five of them were foolish and five were wise; 3 for the foolish, when they took their lamps, took no oil with them, 4 but the wise took flasks of oil along with their lamps. 5 Now while the bridegroom was delayed they all became drowsy and slept. 6 But at midnight there was a cry: Look! The bridegroom! Come out to meet him. 7 Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps. 8 And the foolish said to the wise: Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out. 9 But the wise answered: Perhaps there will not be enough for us and you. Instead, you should go to them that sell oil and buy some for yourselves. 10 And while they went away to buy, the bridegroom came— and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was shut. 11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying: Lord, Lord, open to us. 12 But he answered and said: Truly I say to you, I do not know you. 13 Therefore, stay awake! For you do not know the day nor the hour.

Jesus’ Parable About the Servants and the Talents

14 For it is as when a man, going into another country, called his own servants and delivered to them his goods. 15 And to one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one—to each according to his abilities; and he went on his journey. 16 Immediately he that received the five talents went and traded with them and made another five talents. 17 In like manner

25:4 Again there are two groups in the parable – the weak, who knew their weakness and took extra oil with them, knowing they’d likely not stay awake; and the arrogant self-assured, who didn’t think they would fail.
25:5 There is a delay in Christ’s return – see on 24:14. They all fell asleep – but we should be awake and watching when Christ returns (1 Thess. 5:6-8). The last generation before Christ returns will be spiritually weak and sleepy saved only by their recognition of their weakness and lack of oil [a symbol of spirituality?].
25:6 Midnight – an element of unreality in the parable. The bridegroom comes at a most unlikely time – as Christ will.
25:11 Some who call Jesus “Lord” will be rejected. Nobody will be passive in that day – all will wish to be accepted by Jesus.
25:15 Each of us have different abilities given us to use in His service. We all have something. Pray that God shows you what abilities He has given you, what is His hope and expectation for you.
he also that received the two gained other two. But he that received the one went away and dug in the earth and hid his lord’s money. Now after a long time the lord of those servants came and made a reckoning with them. And he that received the five talents came and brought another five talents, saying: Lord, you gave me five talents. Look, I have gained another five talents. His lord said to him: Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a few things, so I will set you over many things. Enter into the joy of your lord! And also he that had received the two talents came and said: Lord, you gave me two talents. Look, I have gained another two talents. His lord said to him: Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a few things, so I will set you over many things. Enter into the joy of your lord! And also he that had received the one talent came and said: Lord, I knew you are a hard man, reaping where you did not sow, and gathering where you did not scatter seed. And I was afraid and went away and hid your talent in the earth. Here, have what is yours. But his lord answered and said to him: You wicked and slothful servant, you knew that I reap where I did not sow and gather where I did not scatter seed. You should have deposited my money with the bankers, so that on my return I would have collected my own money with interest. So take the talent from him and give it to him who has the ten talents. For to everyone that has shall be given, and he shall have abundance, but from him that has not, even what he has shall be taken away. And cast out the unprofitable servant into the outer darkness. There, shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

Jesus’ Parable About Sheep and Goats

But when the Son of Man shall come in his glory and all the Angels with him, then he shall sit on the throne of his glory. And before him shall be gathered all the nations, and he shall separate them one from another, as the shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. And he shall set the sheep on his right hand and the goats on the left. Then the King shall say to those on his right hand: Come, blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

25:22 The Greek word translated “gained” is elsewhere used about gaining people for Christ.

25:27 Under the Law of Moses, Jews weren’t supposed to lend their money for interest. But Jesus is saying that the man should’ve done at least something, even if it wasn’t the best. He will explain to the rejected how they could’ve entered His Kingdom – but it will be too late. Hence the gnashing of teeth.

25:31 The throne of Jesus is the throne which God promised to give David’s great descendant, i.e. Jesus. This throne or place of rulership was literally in Jerusalem, on this earth (Lk. 1:32).
For I was hungry and you gave me to eat. I was thirsty and you gave me drink. I was a stranger and you welcomed me. Naked and you clothed me. I was sick and you visited me. I was in prison and you came to me.

Then the righteous shall answer him, saying: Lord, when did we see you hungry and fed you? Or thirsty and gave you drink? And when did we see you as a stranger and welcome you? Or naked and clothed you? And when did we see you sick, or in prison and came to you? And the King shall answer and say to them: Truly I say to you, inasmuch as you did it to one of these my brothers, even the least, you did it to me.

Then he shall also say to them on the left hand: You who are cursed, depart from me, to the perpetual fire which is prepared for the Devil and his messengers. For I was hungry and you did not give me anything to eat. I was thirsty and you gave me nothing to drink. I was a stranger and you did not welcome me. Naked and you did not clothe me. Sick and in prison and you did not visit me. Then they shall also answer, saying: Lord, when did we see you hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister to you? Then he shall answer them, saying: Truly I say to you, inasmuch as you did not do it to one of these least, you did not do it to me. And these shall go away into eternal punishment; but the righteous into eternal life.

Jesus Predicts Two Days to His Death

And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these words, he said to his disciples: You know that after two days the Passover comes, and the Son of Man will be delivered up to be crucified. Then the chief priests and the elders of the people gathered at the court of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas. And they plotted together how they might seize Jesus using trickery and kill him. But they said: Not during the feast, lest a riot arise among the people.

Jesus is Anointed

Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, a woman came up to him with an alabaster flask of very expensive ointment, and she poured it on his head as he reclined at table. But when the disciples saw it, they were indignant, saying: To what purpose

25:37 The righteous did their good works unconsciously, and so totally can’t remember them that they disagree with Jesus about these things – they really will be genuinely persuaded they hadn’t done them!

25:40 The least of Christ’s brethren may refer to the spiritually weakest. Our attitude to them is our attitude to Christ – see too 1 Cor. 12:23.

26:5 The crowds were very pro Jesus, but soon shouted “Crucify Him!”. We must try not to be so fickle, even though it’s how we tend to be by nature.

26:8 Disciples – the other records say that Judas said this. One person can so easily negatively influence a whole group of believers.
is this waste? 9 For this might have been sold for much and given to the poor. 10 But Jesus perceiving it, said to them: Why do you trouble the woman? For she has done a good work upon me. 11 For you always have the poor with you, but you will not always have me with you. 12 For in that she poured this ointment upon my body, she did it to prepare me for burial. 13 Truly I say to you: Wherever in the whole world this gospel is preached, what this woman has done shall also be spoken of as a memorial to her. 14 Then one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests, 15 and said: What are you willing to give me if I will deliver him to you? And they paid him thirty pieces of silver. 16 And from that time onward he sought opportunity to betray him.

Jesus’ Last Supper

17 Now on the first day of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying: Where do you want us to prepare the Passover for you to eat? 18 And he said: Go into the city to a certain man, and say to him: The Teacher said, My time is at hand. I will keep the Passover at your house with my disciples. 19 And the disciples did as Jesus directed them, and they prepared the Passover. 20 Now when evening had come, he was dining with the twelve disciples. 21 And as they were eating, he said: Truly I say to you: One of you shall betray me. 22 And they were exceedingly sorrowful, and all began to say to him: Is it I, Lord? 23 And he answered and said: He that dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me. 24 The Son of Man goes, even as it is written of him, but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would have been better if that man had not been born. 25 And Judas, who betrayed him, answered and said: Is it I, Rabbi? He said to him: You have said it. 26 And as they were eating, Jesus took bread and blessed and broke it, and he gave it to the disciples, saying: Take, eat. This is my body. 27 And he took a cup and gave thanks and gave it to them, saying: All of you, drink it. 28 For this is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the remission of sins. 29 But I say to you, I shall not drink of this fruit of the vine from this time forward, until that day when I drink it

26:13 This incident is mentioned in all the Gospel records, confirming our thesis that the Gospels are transcripts of the actual Gospel message which the authors usually preached.

26:15 This suggests that Judas’ motivation was largely financial. Hence his throwing down of the pieces of silver in disgust at himself. So many have betrayed Christ for the passing wealth of this world.

26:26 The original breaking of bread was part of a meal.

26:29 Alluding to how the priest on duty wasn’t allowed to drink alcohol. Jesus intended us to understand that He will literally drink wine again with us when He returns, at the marriage supper of the Lamb.
anew with you in my Father’s kingdom. 30 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives. 31 Then Jesus said to them: You will all fall away because of me this night. For it is written: I will smite the shepherd and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad. 32 But after I am raised up, I will go ahead of you into Galilee. 33 But Peter answered and said to him: If they all fall away because of you, I will never fall away. 34 Jesus said to him: Truly I say to you, that this night, before the cock crows, you shall deny me three times. 35 Peter said to him: Even if I must die with you, I will not deny you. Likewise said all the disciples.

Jesus Prays in Gethsemane

36 Then Jesus went with them to a place called Gethsemane; and he said to his disciples: Sit here, while I go yonder and pray. 37 And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee and began to be sorrowful and deeply distressed. 38 Then he said to them: My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even to death. Stay here and watch with me. 39 And he went forward a little and fell on his face and prayed, saying: My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass away from me. Nevertheless, not as I will but as You will. 40 And he came to the disciples and found them sleeping, and said to Peter: What! Could you not watch with me for one hour? 41 Watch and pray that you may not enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. 42 Again a second time he went away and prayed, saying: My Father, if this cup cannot pass, except I drink it, Your will be done. 43 And he came again and found them sleeping, for their eyes were heavy. 44 And he left them again and went away and prayed a third time, saying again the same words. 45 Then he came to the disciples and said to them: Sleep on now and take your rest.

Jesus is Arrested

The hour is at hand and the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 46 Arise! Let us be going. He that betrays me is nearby. 47 And while he yet spoke, Judas, one of the twelve, came; and with him a great crowd with swords and staves, from the chief priest and elders of the people. 48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying: Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he. Take him. 49 And immediately he came to Jesus, and said, Greetings, Rabbi; and kissed him. 50 And Jesus said to him: Friend, do what you came to 26:38 Jesus almost died from sorrow, sorrow that Israel had rejected God’s salvation. His heart so bled for others’ response to the Gospel, as should ours.

26:39 How long did it take Jesus to pray these words? Were there minutes between each word or clause? Our salvation hung in the balance as He struggled. The will of God was clearly not the same as the will of Jesus in all things – Jesus was certainly not God in person.
26:45 Jesus said this to them as they slept, as if talking to His own sleeping children.
do. Then they came and laid hands on Jesus and took him. And one of those with Jesus stretched out his hand and drew his sword, and struck the servant of the high priest and cut off his ear. Then said Jesus to him: Put away your sword into its place, for all that take the sword shall perish with the sword. Do you think I cannot ask my Father and He shall, even now, send me more than twelve legions of Angels? But how then will the Scriptures be fulfilled, which say that it must happen this way? In that hour Jesus said to the mob: Have you come out as against a robber with swords and staves to seize me? I sat daily in the temple teaching and you did not take me. But all this is happening so that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples left him and fled. And they that had taken Jesus led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. But Peter followed him afar off, to the court of the high priest; and entered in and sat with the officers, to see the end. Now the chief priests and the whole council sought false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death. And they did not find any, though many false witnesses came. But afterwards came two, and said: This man said, I am able to destroy the temple of God and to build it in three days. And the high priest stood up and said to him: Do you answer nothing? What is it that these testify against you? But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest said to him: I bind you under oath to the living God, tell us whether you are the Christ, the Son of God. Jesus said to him: You have said it; nevertheless I say to you, from this time forward you shall see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of power and coming on the clouds of heaven. Then the high priest tore his garments, saying: He has spoken blasphemy. What further need have we of witnesses? You have now heard the blasphemy. What is your judgment? They answered and said: He is worthy of death. Then they spat in his face and beat him with their fists, and some slapped him with the palms of their hands, saying: Prophesy to us, you Christ! Who is he that struck you?

Peter Denies he Knows Jesus

Now Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard, and a maid came to him, saying: You also were with Jesus the Galilean. But he denied before them all, saying: I do not know what you say. And when he went out to the entrance, another maid saw him and said to the bystanders: This man was with Jesus of Nazareth. And again he denied with an oath: I do not know the man. And after a little while they that stood by came 26:52 A solid argument against Christians taking weapons.

26:60 The Jews had a strange desire to still keep the Law and to be legally correct – whilst destroying the innocent Son of God. This kind of paradox and gross internal contradiction is so often seen in religious people.
and said to Peter: Of a truth you also are one of them, for your dialect makes you known. 74 Then he began to curse and to swear: I do not know the man! And immediately the cock crowed. 75 And Peter remembered the words which Jesus had said: Before the cock crows, you shall deny me three times. And he went out and wept bitterly.

CHAPTER 27

Jesus is Brought to Pilate

Now when morning had arrived, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death.
2 And they bound him and led him away, and delivered him up to Pilate the governor. 3 Then Judas, who betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, changed his mind and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and the elders, saying: I have sinned in that I betrayed innocent blood. But they said:
What is that to us? See it yourself.
5 And he threw the pieces of silver into the sanctuary and departed, and he went away and hanged himself.
6 And the chief priests took the pieces of silver and said: It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is the price of blood. 7 And they took counsel and bought with them the potter’s field, to bury strangers in.
8 Therefore that field is called to this day, The field of blood. 9 Then was fulfilled what was spoken through Jeremiah the prophet, saying: And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him on whom a price had been set by some of the sons of Israel. 10 And they gave them for the potter’s field, as the Lord directed me.
11 Now Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor asked him: Are you the King of the Jews? And Jesus said to him: You say it. 12 And when he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he said nothing. 13 Then Pilate said to him: Do you not hear how many things they testify against you? 14 And he gave him no answer, not even one word, so much so that the governor was astonished. 15 Now

26:73 Jesus and His followers were distinguished by their Galilean accents. Another window into the humanity of Jesus.
26:74 These oaths weren’t expletives. They were calling down various types of Divine condemnation upon himself if he had ever known Jesus. Peter’s bitter weeping in v. 75 is similar to the weeping which Jesus often predicted would be experienced by those whom He rejects at the last day. Peter condemned himself in this life – but repented and was saved. We either go through that process now, in contrition for our sins – or then at the day of judgment when it’s too late to change the verdict.
27:3 Judas realized his condemnation and had a change of mind; parallel with Peter (see on 26:74). The difference was that Peter believed in God’s grace but Judas wouldn’t.
27:5 The way Judas threw down the money suggests he now despised those few coins, for which he had betrayed Jesus and lost his eternal salvation.
27:14 The self controlled silence of Jesus was amazing. May it be our inspiration in times of provocation.
at the feast the governor was accustomed to release for the crowd any one prisoner whom they wanted. 16 And they had then a notable prisoner called Barabbas. 17 Therefore, when they were gathered together, Pilate said to them: Who do you want me to release to you? Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ? 18 For he knew that they had delivered him up out of envy. 19 And while he was sitting on the judgment seat, his wife sent a message to him, saying: Have nothing to do with that righteous man, for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.

Jesus is Condemned 20 Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the crowds that they should ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. 21 But the governor answered and said to them: Which of the two do you want me to release to you? And they said: Barabbas! 22 Pilate said to them: What then shall I do to Jesus who is called Christ? They all said: Let him be crucified! 23 And he said: Why, what evil has he done?

But they cried out exceedingly, saying: Let him be crucified! 24 So when Pilate saw that he was gaining nothing, but rather that a riot was beginning, he took water and washed his hands before the crowd, saying: I am innocent of this man’s blood. See to it yourselves. 25 And all the people answered and said: His blood is on us and on our children. 26 Then he released Barabbas to them, but Jesus he scourged and delivered to be crucified. 27 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the Praetorium, and the whole battalion gathered around him. 28 And they stripped him and put on him a scarlet robe. 29 And they plaited a crown of thorns and put it upon his head and a reed in his right hand, and they knelt down before him and mocked him, saying: Hail, King of the Jews! 30 And they spat upon him and took the reed and struck him on the head. 31 And when they had mocked him, they took the robe from him and dressed him in his own garments, and led him away to crucify him. 32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name, whom they forced to carry the cross.

Jesus is Crucified

33 And when they came to a place called Golgotha, that is to say, the place of a skull, they gave him wine to drink mingled with gall. And when he had tasted it, he would not drink it. And when they had crucified him, they divided his garments among them by casting lots. And they sat there and watched him. And over his head they put the written accusation against him, which read: This is Jesus, the King of the Jews. Two robbers were crucified with him, one on his right hand and one on his left. And they that passed by derided him, wagging their heads, and saying: You that would destroy the temple and rebuild it in three days, save yourself. If you are the Son of God, come down from the cross. In like manner also the chief priests with the Scribes and elders mocked him, saying: He saved others; he cannot save himself. If he is the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe in him. He trusts in God, let Him deliver him now- if He desires him. For he said: I am the Son of God. And the robbers also that were crucified with him cast upon him the same reproach. Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour. And about the ninth hour, Jesus cried with a loud voice: Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? That is, My God, my God, why have you forsaken me? And some of them standing there, when they heard it, said: This man calls Elijah. And immediately one of them ran and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar and put it on a reed and gave it to him to drink. And the rest said: Let him be. Let us see whether Elijah comes to save him. And Jesus cried again with a loud voice and yielded up his spirit. And the veil of the temple was torn in two from the top to the bot-

27:34 Because He wanted to share completely in our feelings; nobody, therefore, can say that Jesus doesn’t know how they feel. Maybe nobody on earth does; but He knows.

27:44 The one thief’s repentance was therefore literally a last minute repentance just before he died.

27:46 The Old Testament is clear that God will not forsake those faithful to Him, but will forsake those who sin. Jesus felt forsaken by God. He felt as if He had sinned, even though He hadn’t. This was because of the intensity of His association with us who have sinned, just as men like Daniel and Nehemiah spoke and felt to God as if they had sinned Israel’s sin. So even when we fail, Jesus still knows how we feel in the separation from God which sin brings. He never sinned, but in His final horror of aloneness He felt as if He had.

27:48 The reeds in that area aren’t very long. Therefore Jesus’ cross was not that large. The Catholic impressions of a cross towering far above us is wrong. His feet would’ve been only a metre above the ground; remember how He communicated with Mary and John.
tom; and the earth quaked and the rocks were split. 52 And the tombs were opened and many bodies of the saints that had fallen asleep were raised, 53 and coming forth out of the tombs after his resurrection they entered into the holy city and appeared to many. 54 Now the centurion and those that were with him watching Jesus, when they saw the earthquake and the things that happened, were terrified, saying: Truly this was the Son of God. 55 And many women were there watching from afar, those who had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering to him. 56 Among whom were Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

Jesus is Buried
57 And when evening had come, there came a rich man from Arimathaea, named Joseph, who also was a disciple of Jesus. 58 This man went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded it to be given him. 59 And Joseph took the body and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock; and he rolled a great stone as the door of the tomb, and departed. 61 And Mary Magdalene was there and the other Mary, sitting opposite the tomb. 62 Now the next day, which is the day after the Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered together before Pilate, 63 saying: Sir, we remember that that deceiver said when he was still alive, After three days I will rise again. 64 Therefore, command that the tomb be made secure until the third day, lest his disciples come and steal him away and say to the people, He is risen from the dead; and so the last error will be worse than the first. 65 Pilate said to them: You have a guard. Go make it as secure as you can. 66 So they went and made the tomb secure by sealing the stone and setting a guard.

CHAPTER 28

Jesus is Resurrected

Now after the Sabbath, toward the dawn of the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary went to see the tomb. 2 And there was a great earthquake, for an Angel of the Lord descended from heaven and came and rolled away the stone and sat upon it. 3 His appear-

27:55 From Galilee – The idea is that they didn’t just follow Him when the going was good, amidst the crowds of Galilean peasants who thronged Him; but also followed to the cross. We too are to follow the Lamb wherever He leads.
27:56 Mary the mother of James – A reference to Mary the mother of Jesus; for He had two half brothers called James and Joses (Mt. 13:55).
27:58 Only close relatives could beg the body of the crucified. But this was how Joseph felt. He wanted to associate the dead body of Jesus with his own dead body, laying Jesus where his body should lay. This was the essence of baptism, whereby we identify ourselves with the death of the body of Christ (Rom. 6:3-5).
28:1 The other Mary is surely a reference to Mary the mother of Jesus – see on 27:56.
ance was as lightning and his garment white as snow, 4 and for fear of him the guards trembled and became like dead men. 5 And the angel said to the women: Do not be fearful, for I know you seek Jesus, who has been crucified. 6 He is not here, for he is risen, even as he said. Come see the place where the Lord lay. 7 And go quickly and tell his disciples that he has risen from the dead, and that he goes ahead of you into Galilee. There you shall see him. Look, I have told you. 8 And they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring this message to his disciples. 9 And Jesus met them, saying: Greetings! And they came and took hold of his feet and worshipped him. 10 Then Jesus said to them: Fear not. Go tell my brothers to go to Galilee and there shall they see me. 11 Now while they were going, some of the guard came into the city and told the chief priests all the things that had happened. 12 And when they were assembled with the elders and had taken counsel, they gave much money to the soldiers, 13 saying: You are to say that his disciples came by night and stole him away while we slept. 14 And if this comes to the governor’s ears, we will appease him and keep you out of trouble. 15 So they took the money and did as they were told; and this story has been spread among the Jews to this day.

Jesus Commissions His Disciples
16 But the eleven disciples went into Galilee, to the mountain where Jesus had told them to go. 17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him; but some doubted. 18 And Jesus came to them and spoke to them, saying: All authority has been given to me in heaven and on earth. 19 Therefore go and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all things whatever I commanded you; and I am with you always, even to the end of the age.

28:7 The Lord’s original intention to meet His followers in Galilee (as in 28:10) seems to have been changed. Presumably because even in Divine nature, He was simply so excited and eager to get together with His brethren.
28:8 Women weren’t valid witnesses in first century legal circles. But Jesus chose women to be the primary and initial witnesses of His resurrection.
28:17 The doubt and unbelief of the disciples is a strong theme in all the resurrection accounts. Yet these are transcripts of the preaching of the Gospel by the apostles. They were emphasizing how they had had difficulty believing these things, and had been incredibly slow and dumb to grasp what had happened. And on this basis their appeal for others to believe had more power to it.
28:19 As the good news of the Lord’s resurrection had been spread from the women to the disciples, now it was to be spread by all the disciples worldwide. The Gospel preaching of Matthew concludes with an appeal for baptism. Acts records how people were baptized into the name of Jesus – for the Name of the Father has been given to Him.
28:20 After baptism there was to be a teaching of the baptized person.
The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God. 2 Just as it is written in Isaiah the prophet: Look, I send My messenger before your face, he will prepare your way. 3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness: Make ready the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. 4 John came and baptized in the wilderness, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins. 5 And there went out to him all the country of Judea and all they of Jerusalem: and they were baptized by him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins. 6 And John was clothed with camel’s hair and had a leather girdle about his waist, and ate locusts and wild honey. 7 He preached, saying: There comes after me he that is mightier than I, whose shoelaces I am not worthy to stoop down and untie. 8 I baptized you in water, but he shall baptize you in the Holy Spirit. 9 And it came to pass in those days that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee and was baptized by John in the river Jordan. 10 And immediately coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens open and the Spirit as a dove descending upon him. 11 And a voice came out of the heavens: You are my beloved Son; in you I am well pleased. 12 And the Spirit immediately drove him into the wilderness. 13 And he was in the wilderness forty days tempted by Satan, and he was with the wild beasts; and the angels took care of him.

Calling the Disciples
14 Now after John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of God, 15 and saying: The time is fulfilled and the kingdom of God is at hand. Repent and believe in the gospel. 16 And passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew the brother of Simon casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. 17 And Jesus said to them: Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men. 18 And immediately they left the nets and followed Him.
The authority and credibility of Jesus’ teaching was given by His works. And so with us. Teaching people ideas about God will have little power nor conviction until they see them lived out in our lives.

This regular quiet time with God at the start of busy days was the key to the Lord’s spiritual success, as it can be for ours.

And immediately he called them; and they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants and went after him. And they went into Capernaum; and immediately on the Sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and taught. And they were astonished at his teaching, for he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes. And immediately there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, saying: What have we to do with you, Jesus, you Nazarene? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are—the Holy One of God. And Jesus rebuked him, saying: Hold your peace and come out of him. And the unclean spirit, tearing him and crying with a loud voice, came out of him. And they were all amazed, so much so they questioned each other, saying: What is this? What a new teaching! With authority he commands even the unclean spirits and they obey him!

And the report of him went out immediately everywhere into all the region of Galilee and thereabout.

At Simon’s Home
And immediately, when they had come out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

Now Simon’s wife’s mother lay sick of a fever, and immediately they told him about her. And he came and took her by the hand and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she served them. When evening came, and when the sun had set, they brought to him all that were sick and those possessed with demons. And all the city was gathered together at the door. And he healed many that were sick with various diseases and cast out many demons; and he did not permit the demons to speak, because they knew him. And in the morning, a great while before daybreak, he rose up and went out, and departed into a deserted place; and there prayed. And Simon and they that were with him followed after him. And they found him, and said to him: All are seeking you. And he said to them: Let us go elsewhere, into the next towns, so that I may preach there also; for this is why I came. And throughout all Galilee he went into their synagogues, preaching and casting out demons.

Healing a Leper
And a leper came to him, begging him as he knelt down before him, saying to him: If you will, you can make me clean. And being moved with compassion, he stretched out...
1:41 Touching the leper would’ve been a very radical thing to do. The man had probably not been touched by a human being for many years. We too should be unafraid to be associated with those whom others are scared of and have rejected.

1:44 Nobody was cleansed of leprosy and so the priests would’ve been amazed that someone was bringing them the offering proscribed in the Law for a cleansed leper. Jesus would’ve appeared unrealistically hopeful in thinking that the priests might respond; as they were the very class who were opposed to Him and later killed Him. But His hopefulness for people worked – many of the priests did later repent and accept Him (Acts 6:7).

2:5 The man was healed because of the faith of his friends. To some extent we can save others, obtain their forgiveness or bring about their betterment in this life. As this is the case, we should give ourselves to prayer and caring practical effort for others; for we really can make a difference to the salvation of others.

2:8 Was this ability to read others’ minds given to Jesus as a blast of insight from the Holy Spirit? Or was there a process of perception going on, whereby His intense sensitivity to others, even His enemies, enabled Him to know their minds?
The Call of Levi
13 And he went out again by the sea side; and all the crowd went to him and he taught them. 14 And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the tax office; and he said to him: Follow me. And he arose and followed him. 15 And it came to pass, that as he was dining in Levi’s house, many tax collectors and sinners sat down with Jesus and his disciples. For there were many, and they followed him. 16 And the scribes of the Pharisees, when they saw that he was eating with the sinners and tax collectors, said to his disciples: How is it that he eats and drinks with tax collectors and sinners? 17 And when Jesus heard it, he said to them: They that are whole have no need of a doctor, but they that are sick. I came not to call the righteous but sinners to repentance.

Old and New Wine
18 And John’s disciples and the Pharisees were fasting; and they came, and said to him: Why do John’s disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but your disciples do not fast? 19 And Jesus said to them: Can the sons of the bride chamber fast while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them they cannot fast. 20 But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them. In that day, they will fast. 21 Nobody sews a piece of unshrunk cloth onto an old garment; or else the new piece pulls away from the old, and the tear is made worse. 22 And no one puts new wine into old wineskins, otherwise the new wine bursts the wineskins, the wine is spilled, and the wineskins are ruined. New wine must be put into new wineskins. 23 And it came to pass, that he was going on the Sabbath day through the grain fields; and his disciples began, as they went, to pluck the ears of grain. 24 And the Pharisees said to him: Look, why do they do on the Sabbath day what is not lawful? 25 And he said to them: Have you never read what David did when he had need and was hungry- he and they that were with him? 26 How he entered into the house of God when Abiathar was high priest and ate the showbread, which it is not lawful to eat except for the priests, and gave also to those that were with him? 27 And he said to them: The Sabbath was designed for man, and not man for the Sabbath. 28 Therefore the Son of Man is lord even of the Sabbath.

CHAPTER 3  Feb. 7  Aug. 8

Healing a Withered Hand

A nd he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there who had a withered hand. 2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the Sabbath day- so that they would have an excuse to accuse him. 3 And he said to the man that had the withered hand: Come here. 4 And he said to them: Is it lawful on the Sabbath day to do good, or to do evil? To save a life, or to kill? But they remained quiet. 5 And he looked around at them with anger, grieved at their hardness of heart, and said to the man: Stretch out your hand. He stretched it out, and his hand was restored. 6 And the Pharisees went out and immediately took counsel against him with the Herodians, how they might destroy him.

Establishing a Core Group of Disciples

7 And Jesus with his disciples withdrew to the sea; and a great crowd from Galilee and from Judea followed, 8 and from Jerusalem and from Idumaea and on the other side of the Jordan and about Tyre and Sidon, a great crowd, hearing what great things he did, came to him. 9 And he told his disciples to have a boat ready for him because of the crowd, in case they crushed him. 10 For he had healed many; so much so that as many as had illnesses pressed upon him that they might touch him. 11 And whenever the unclean spirits saw him, they fell down before him and cried, saying: You are the Son of God! 12 And he strictly ordered them not to make him known. 13 And he went up into the mountain and called to himself whomever he would; and they came

2:28 Jesus is greater than the Sabbath; we don’t need to keep the Sabbath today (Col. 2:14-17) because Jesus has fulfilled all the Jewish regulations.

3:2 Jesus appears to have intentionally sought controversy over the Sabbath issue. On some things (e.g. the popular belief in demons) He didn’t challenge His audience; but on issues of legalism, He did.

3:10 The desire to touch Jesus and His desire to touch people comes out frequently in the Gospels. People believed that through touching a holy man, they would receive blessing; rather like Catholics and Orthodox travel far to touch relics. Jesus went along with this, but always emphasized that it was faith in Him, and His Father’s power, which were responsible for the miracle, and not the touching in itself.

3:13 He alone went up into the mountain and then sent word to His followers to come to Him. They had to make quite some effort to come to Him. He thus filtered out those who really wanted to come to Him from those who were merely inquisitive. He does the same with people today.
to him. 14 And he appointed twelve, that they might be with him, and that he might send them out to preach, and to have authority to cast out demons. 15 And Simon he surnamed Peter. 16 And James the son of Zebedee and John the brother of James he surnamed Boanerges, which means, sons of thunder. 18 And Andrew and Philip and Bartholomew and Matthew and Thomas and James the son of Alphaeus and Thaddaeus and Simon the Cananaean, 19 and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him. And then he went home. 20 And the crowd gathered again, so many people that they could not so much as eat bread. 21 And when his family heard it, they went out to seize him, for they were saying: He is out of his mind.

False Allegations from the Scribes

22 And the scribes that came down from Jerusalem said: He has Beelzebub, and by the prince of the demons he casts out the demons. 23 And he called them to him, and said to them in parables: How can Satan cast out Satan? 24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. 25 And if a family be divided against itself, that family will not be able to stand. 26 And if Satan has risen up against himself and is divided, he cannot stand, but has an end. 27 But no one can enter into the home of a strong man and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his home. 28 Truly I say to you: All the sins of the sons of men shall be forgiven and their blasphemies with which they shall blaspheme. 29 But whoever shall blaspheme against the Holy Spirit is never forgiven but is guilty of an eternal sin. 30 He said this because they had said: He has an unclean spirit. 31 And then came his mother and his brothers and standing outside, they sent a message to him, calling him. 32 And a crowd was sitting about him, and they said to him: Look, your mother and your brothers are outside looking for you. 33 And he answered them, saying: Who is my mother and my brothers? 34 And looking round on them that sat round about him, he said: Behold my mother and my brothers! 35 For whoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother and sister and mother.

The Parable of the Sower

And again he began to teach by the sea side. There gathered to him a very great crowd, so he entered into a boat and sat in the sea, and all the crowd were gathered along the shore. 2 And he taught them many things in parables, and said to them in his teaching: 3 Listen! Behold, the sower went forth to sow. 4 And it came to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell by the wayside and the birds came and devoured it. 5 And other fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of soil. 6 And when the sun had risen, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away. 7 And other fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it yielded no fruit. 8 And others fell into the good ground and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and brought forth, thirtyfold and sixtyfold and a hundredfold. 9 And he said: Who has ears to hear, let him hear. 10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked him about the parables. 11 And he said to them: To you is given the mystery of the kingdom of God; but to those that are without, all things are done in parables- 12 that seeing, they may see and not perceive, and hearing they may hear and not understand; lest they should turn again and it should be forgiven them. 13 And he said to them: Do you not understand this parable? And how will you understand all the parables? 14 The sower, sows the word. 15 And these by the way side, where the word is sown, represent those who, when they have heard, have Satan immediately come and take away the word which has been sown in them. 16 And these in like manner are they that are sown upon the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with joy. 17 But they have no root in themselves and only endure for a while. Then, when tribulation or persecution arises because of the word, immediately they stumble. 18 Others are represented by those that are sown among the thorns. These are they that have heard the word, 19 and the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word and it becomes unfruitful. 20 And these are they that were sown upon the good ground: such as hear the word and accept it and bear fruit, thirtyfold and sixtyfold and a hundredfold.

The Purpose of the Parables
21 And he said to them: Is a lamp brought in to be put under a basket, or under a bed, and not on a lamp stand? 22 For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested; neither was anything made secret but that it should come to light. 23 If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear. 24 And he said to them: Pay attention to what you hear. What measure you use shall be applied to you, and more shall be given to you. 25 For he that has, to him shall be given. And he that has not, from him shall be taken away even that which he has. 26 And he said: So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the earth. 27 He sleeps and rises, night and day, and the seed sprouts and grows; he does not know how. 28 The earth produces by itself, first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear. 29 But when the grain is ripe, immediately he puts forth the sickle, because the harvest comes. 30 And he said: To what shall we compare the kingdom of God? Or in what parable shall we set it forth? 31 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it is smaller than all the seeds that are upon the earth, 32 yet when it is sown, grows up and becomes greater than all the herbs, and puts out great branches so that the birds of the sky can lodge under the shadow of it. 33 And with many such parables he spoke the word to them, according as they were able to understand it. 34 Without a parable he did not speak to them, but in private he explained all things to his own disciples.

Jesus Calms the Storm

35 And on that day, when evening had come, he said to them: Let us go over to the other side of the lake. 36 And leaving the crowd, they took him with them in the boat, just as he was. And other boats were with him. 37 And there arose a great wind storm and the waves slammed into the boat, so much so that the boat was now filling. 38 And he was in the stern, asleep on the cushion; and they awoke him, and said to him: Teacher, do you not care that we perish? 39 And he awoke and rebuked the wind, and said to the sea: Peace! Be still. And the wind ceased and there was a great calm. 40 And he said to them: Why are you fearful? Do you still not have faith? 41 And they feared exceedingly, and said to each other: Who then is this? Even the wind and the sea obey him!

4:22 If throughout eternity we will be shown to be who we really are, it’s senseless to be hypocritical now.
4:24 The measure we apply to God’s word will have a recompense. If we pay little attention to it, we will be given little; if we give our mind and life to it, then we will receive an appropriately large recompense.
4:29 As soon as the harvest is ripe, it’s harvested. This could mean that once the body of Christ has matured to the level God expects, Jesus will return, and the harvest of judgment will begin.
4:33 Jesus spoke to people as they were able to hear it, not as He was able to expound to them. The fact we know more than some other people doesn’t mean we must tell them all we know. We should be sensitive to them and at times restrain our superior knowledge, because our end aim is their spiritual growth to the glory of God.
The man's illness had bad episodes, it was intermittent. He had thought many times that he was cured of it, that he could be restrained – but then it broke out again. So the herd of pigs were sent over the cliff as a dramatic aide memoire which he would never forget, showing how permanent and total was his cure.

The sick man worshipped Jesus by recognizing Him as Son of God (v.7). And yet, in his illness, he also spoke aggressively to Jesus. But God understands mental illness and focused on the positive, accepting the correct parts of his understanding as “worship”. Men other than Jesus are described as being ‘worshipped’; the fact Jesus also was worshipped doesn’t mean He was God Himself.

My name... We are many – The man was schizophrenic, thinking he was possessed by multiple personalities. The language of demon possession is used to describe mental illness; demons don’t ultimately exist.
done for you and how he had mercy on you. 20 And he went his way and began to publish in Decapolis the great things Jesus had done for him, and all men marvelled.

Jesus Heals Jairus’ Daughter

21 And when Jesus had crossed over again by boat to the other side, a great crowd was gathered to him; and he was by the sea. 22 And there came one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and seeing him, he fell at his feet, 23 and implored him earnestly, saying: My little daughter is at the point of death. I beg you to come and lay your hands on her, that she may be made whole and live. 24 And Jesus went with him; and a great crowd followed him, and they pressed upon him. 25 And a woman, who for twelve years had an issue of blood, 26 and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had and was nothing bettered but rather grew worse, 27 having heard the things about Jesus, came from the crowd behind him, and touched his garment. 28 For she said: If I touch but his garments, I shall be made whole. 29 And immediately the fountain of her blood was dried up, and she felt in her body that she was healed of her illness. 30 And immediately Jesus, perceiving in himself that the power proceeding from him had gone forth, turned towards the crowd and said: Who touched my garments? 31 And his disciples said to him: You saw the crowd pressing upon you and you ask, Who touched me? 32 And he looked around to see who had done this thing. 33 But the woman, fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him and told him all the truth. 34 And he said to her: Daughter, your faith has made you whole. Go in peace and be free of your illness. 35 While he was still speaking, some came from the ruler of the synagogue’s house, saying: Your daughter is dead. Why do you trouble the Teacher any further? 36 But Jesus, not heeding the word spoken, said

5:20 The man was told to go and witness to his family, but instead he went around the 10 cities of the Decapolis preaching. Often when a command is given to preach, God’s people don’t obey it fully. The command to go and teach the Gentiles wasn’t obeyed by the apostles initially – they only went to the Jews. Those told not to tell others of their healing often did. And do we obey the call we have received to share the good news as God wishes?

5:28 The woman had the common idea that merely touching a holy man would give her healing. Jesus didn’t refuse her because she understood wrongly; but He explained that it was her faith and not the touch in itself which had cured her (v. 34). See on 7:33.

5:31 The disciples are almost ridiculing Jesus. Yet Mark’s account of the Gospel includes this, as if to say to his audience: ‘Look how badly we treated the Lord Jesus, how we misunderstood Him, what a low level we were on compared to Him!’. And this integrity, humility and human honesty was what made their message so attractive and credible to their hearers.
to the ruler of the synagogue: Fear not, only believe. And he permitted no one to follow him, save Peter, James and John the brother of James. And they came to the house of the ruler of the synagogue; and he saw a tumult, and many weeping and wailing greatly. And when he had entered, he said to them: Why make you a tumult and weep? The child is not dead but sleeps. And they laughed him to scorn. But he, having put them outside, took the father of the child and her mother and those that were with him, and went to where the child was. And taking the child by the hand, he said to her: Talitha cumi, which means, little girl, I say to you, rise! And immediately the girl got up and began walking (for she was twelve years of age), and they were immediately overcome with amazement.

And he strictly ordered them that no one should know about this, and told them to give her something to eat.

CHAPTER 6
Feb. 10  Aug. 11
Jesus in Nazareth

And he left there and went to his own country; and his disciples followed him. And on the Sabbath he began to teach in the synagogue; and many who heard him were astonished, saying: Where did this man get all this? What is this wisdom given to him? What mighty works are done by his hands? Is this not the carpenter, the son of Mary and brother of James, Joses, Judas and Simon? And are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended by him. And Jesus said to them: A prophet is not without honour, save in his hometown, and among his own kin, and in his own family. And there he could not do his mighty work, except that he laid his hands upon a few sick people and healed them. And he marvelled because of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages teaching.

Jesus Sends Out the Disciples

And he called the twelve and began to send them out in pairs; and he gave them authority over the unclean spirits. And he instructed them that they should take nothing for their journey, except a staff. No bread, no wallet, no money in their purse; but to go wearing sandals, and not to wear two coats. And he said to them: Whenever you enter into a Repentance means ‘a change of mind’. It doesn’t as a word necessarily refer to stopping sinning – God is described as ‘repenting’. We may be simply too weak to stop sinning; but we can repent in that we change our mind, we strongly repudiate our sins, we try not to do them, our deepest heart is with the Lord and not with the flesh.

Herod and John the Baptist

And king Herod heard of it, for Jesus’ name had become well known; and he said: John the Baptist has risen from the dead, and that is why these powers work in him. But others said: It is Elijah; and others said: It is a prophet, even as one of the prophets. But Herod, when he heard of it, said: It is John, whom I beheaded; he is risen. For Herod himself had had John arrested and thrown into prison to please Herodias, his brother Philip’s wife; for he had married her. For John said to Herod: It is not lawful for you to have your brother’s wife. And Herodias set herself against him, and desired to kill him; but she could not, for Herod feared John, knowing that he was a righteous and holy man, and kept him safe. And when he heard him, he was much perplexed; and he heard him gladly. But an opportunity came when Herod on his birthday gave a banquet for his nobles, military commanders and the leading men of Galilee. And when the daughter of Herodias came in and danced, she pleased Herod and his dinner guests, and so the king said to the girl: Ask of me whatever you will, and I will give it to you. And he made an oath to her: Whatever you shall ask of me, I will give it to you, to the half of my kingdom. And she went out and said to her mother: What shall I ask? And she said: The head of John the Baptist. And she rushed to the king and asked, saying: Here and now, I want you to give me on a platter the head of John the Baptist. And the king was exceeding sorry; but for the sake of his oaths and his dinner guests, he could not reject her request. And immediately the king sent a soldier of his guard and commanded that he bring John’s head. And the soldier went to the prison and beheaded John, and brought his head on a platter and gave it to the girl; and the girl gave it to her mother. When his disciples heard of it, they went and took his corpse and laid it in a tomb.

Jesus Feeds 5000 Men

The apostles returned to Jesus and told him all that they had done and taught. And he said to them: Come, we shall depart for a deserted place and rest for a while. For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure time, even to eat. 32 And they went away in the boat to a deserted place. 33 Now many saw them going and recognised them, and they ran there on foot from all the towns and got there ahead of them. 34 And when Jesus came ashore, he saw a great crowd; and he had compassion on them, because they were as sheep without a shepherd. And he began to teach them many things. 35 And when the day was far spent, his disciples came to him and said: The place is deserted and the day is now far spent. 36 Send them away, that they may go into the country and villages round about and buy themselves something to eat. 37 But he answered and said to them: You give them something to eat. And they said to him: Shall we go and buy two hundred denarii worth of bread and give it to them to eat? 38 And he said to them: How many loaves have you? Go and see. And when they knew, they reported: Five loaves and two fishes. 39 And he commanded that all should sit down in groups upon the green grass. 40 And they sat down in groups of hundreds or of fifties. 41 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed and broke the loaves; and he gave them to the disciples to set before them; and the two fish he divided among them all. 42 And they all ate and were filled. 43 And they collected twelve basketsfuls of leftovers, and also of the fish. 44 There were five thousand men that ate the loaves.

Jesus Stills a Storm
45 And immediately he made his disciples get into the boat and to go without him to the other side to Bethsaida, while he sent the crowd away. 46 And after he had taken leave of them, he departed into the mountain to pray. 47 And when evening had come, the boat was in the midst of the sea and he was alone on the land. 48 And seeing they were having difficulty rowing, for the wind was against them, about the fourth watch of the night he went to them, walking on the sea; and he would have passed by them. 49 But they, when they saw him walking on the sea, supposed that it was a ghost and cried out.

6:37 Jesus asks the question to try to elicit faith and spiritual ambition from the disciples. But they couldn’t see beyond the immediate problems. The possibility that Jesus could do a miracle and multiply what little bread they had... just didn’t occur to them. All they could think of was the cost of buying the bread.

6:41 Blessing and breaking bread, then giving it to the disciples, is so similar to the last supper. Through the breaking of bread, we show our faith in the fact that Jesus provides for our needs.

6:48 Jesus made as if He would walk past them in order to make them cry out to Him for help. Because so far they’d not thought of praying to Jesus for help, because He wasn’t with them. He works like that with us today, bringing us into situations which have no human way out, and appears to ignore us – only so that we will pray and call out to Him the more fervently. This is one reason for the apparent silence of God which we find so difficult to accept.
50 For they all saw him and were disturbed. But he immediately spoke to them and said to them: Be of good courage! It is I! Be not afraid. 51 And he got into the boat with them, and the wind ceased. And they were utterly amazed, 52 because they did not understand the miracle of the loaves; their heart was hardened. 53 And when they had crossed over, they landed at Gennesaret and anchored there. 54 And when they got out of the boat, the people immediately recognised him, 55 ran through that whole surrounding region, and began to carry about on beds those who were sick to wherever they heard he was. 56 And wherever he went, into villages, or into cities, or into the country, they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and pleaded with him that they be allowed to touch the fringe of his garment. And as many as touched him were cured.

Controversy with the Pharisees

The Pharisees and some of the teachers of the law who had come from Jerusalem gathered around Jesus; 2 and they saw that some of his disciples ate with unclean hands, that is, unwashed. 3 The Pharisees, and all the Jews, do not eat unless they first wash their hands, observing the tradition of the elders; 4 and when they come from the market place, they do not eat unless they first purify themselves; and there are many other traditions which they observe, the washing of cups and pots and vessels of bronze. 5 And the Pharisees and the scribes asked him: Why don't your disciples walk according to the tradition of the elders, but eat their bread with unclean hands? 6 And he said to them: Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written: This people honour me with their lips but their heart is far from me. 7 But in vain do they worship me, teaching as their doctrines the precepts of men. 8 You leave the commandment of God and cling to the tradition of men. 9 And he said to them: You are good at rejecting the commandment of God so that you can establish your

6:52 They didn’t reflect upon the miracle, and so they lacked faith to face the next trial which came along in their lives. The incidents in our lives are arranged by God in a certain order. We are intended to reflect upon the great things He has done in our experience, not just benefit from them and go onwards in life without remembering them or thinking about them. Ingratitude and lack of reflection on life’s events are typical of human beings; and we must try to do better.

6:56 They thought that by touching a holy man they would be cured. This is a wrong idea, but Jesus went along with it. See on 5:28.

7:6 Isaiah spoke to the people of his generation, but Jesus says he spoke about those of the first century. God’s word is living and relevant and speaks to each of us. Thus the Old Testament ceases to be mere history – it is speaking to us today.

7:7 The fact people worship God doesn’t mean they are therefore with God – there’s such a thing as worshipping Him in vain, if we have the wrong understanding of Him.

7:9 The Jews would’ve been shocked to hear that they rejected God’s commandments.
The Source of Sin

14 And again he called to him the crowd, and said to them: Hear me all of you, and understand. 15 There is nothing from outside the man that going into him can defile him; but the things which proceed out of the man are those that defile the man. 16 If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear. 17 When he had entered a house away from the crowd, his disciples asked him about the parable. 18 And he said to them: Are you without understanding also? Do you not perceive that whatever from without goes into the man, it cannot defile him; 19 because it does not go into his heart but into his belly and is eliminated [this he said, thus making all foods clean].

Jesus Responds to Requests for Healing

24 From there he arose and went to the region of Tyre and Sidon. And he entered a house and wanted no one to know it; but he could not be hidden. 25 But immediately a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell down at his feet. 26 Now the woman was a Greek, a Syrophoenician by race. And she pleaded with him to cast out the demon from her daughter. 27 And he said to her: Let the children first be filled, for it is not right to take the children’s bread and cast it to the dogs. 28 But she answered and said to him: Indeed, Lord. But even the dogs under the table eat of the children’s crumbs. 29 And he said to her: For this saying go your way. The demon is gone out of your

Jesus’ generation were one of the most Torah observant there has been in Israel’s history. But to follow human tradition as well as God’s commandments is to effectively reject them. The Bible presents human failure in very stark terms.

7:11 We shouldn’t try to get around God’s intentions by legalistic interpretations.
7:18 It’s good to try to imagine the tone of voice with which Jesus said these written words. Was it with frustration, anger, sadness or disappointment?
7:19-21 Sin comes from within. The human mind is a constant source of temptation. This is the real ‘Satan’ or adversary which we face.
7:29 Jesus is so thrilled when people understand correctly.
daughter. 30 And when she had come to her house, she found the demon gone out, and her daughter lying on the bed. 31 And again he left from the borders of Tyre and came through Sidon to the Sea of Galilee, through the midst of the borders of Decapolis. 32 And they brought to him one that was deaf and had an impediment in his speech; and they begged him to lay his hand upon him. 33 And he took him aside from the crowd, and in private put his fingers into his ears, and he spat, and touched his tongue; 34 and looking up to heaven, he sighed, and said to him: Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. 35 And his ears were opened, and the impediment of his tongue was loosed, and he spoke plainly. 36 And he ordered them that they should tell no one. But the more he ordered them, the more widely they proclaimed it. 37 And they were astonished beyond measure, saying: He has done all things well. He even makes the deaf hear and the dumb speak.

In those days, when again a great crowd had gathered and they had nothing to eat, he called his disciples to him, and said to them: 2 I pity the crowd, because they have continued with me for three days and have nothing to eat. 3 And if I send them away to their homes without food, they will faint on the way; for some of them have come from far away. 4 And his disciples answered him: Where shall one be able to find bread for these men here in such a desolate place? 5 And he asked them: How many loaves have you? And they said: Seven. 6 And he commanded the crowd to sit down on the ground, and he took the seven loaves and having given thanks, he broke them and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and they set them before the crowd. 7 And they had a few small fishes; and having blessed them, he commanded to set these also before them. 8 And they ate and were filled, and they gathered seven baskets of broken pieces that remained over. 9 And they were about four thousand; and he sent them away. 10 And immediately he got into the boat with his disciples and went into the region of Dalmanutha. 11 And the Pharisees came and began to question him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, testing him. 12 And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and said: Why do you so reason, because you have no bread? Do you not yet perceive nor understand? Is your heart so hardened? 18 Having eyes, can’t you see? And having ears, can’t you hear? And do you not remember? 19 When I broke the five loaves among the five thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces did you gather? They said to him: Twelve. 20 And when the seven among the four thousand, how many basketfuls of broken pieces did you gather? And they said to him: Seven. 21 And he said to them: How is it that you do not yet understand?

The Identity of Jesus

22 And they went to Bethsaida. And they brought to him a blind man, and begged him to touch him. 23 And he took hold of the blind man by the hand and brought him out of the village; and when he had spat on his eyes and laid his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw anything. 24 And he looked up, and said: I see men. But I see them as trees, walking. 25 Then Jesus put his hands on his eyes again and made him look up. And his sight was restored, and he saw everyone clearly. 26 And he

8:12 No sign – The four Gospels are parallel accounts of the same incidents. In Matthew’s record, we read that Jesus said they would be given no sign except the sign of Jonah (Mt. 12:39; 16:4). This shows that we have to read the whole Bible to get the complete message. We have to make some effort to understand. God wants us to read His word carefully, just as we appreciate it when someone listens to us carefully rather than assumes they understand what we’re saying when they don’t.

8:17 Jesus had twice taught them in the feeding miracles that physical bread is no issue to Him. He was disappointed they hadn’t reflected further about this – for they were still thinking about bread on the literal, physical level.

8:23, 25 The two stage healing process was for the man’s benefit, not because Jesus was limited in power. The man was given sight, but he had never seen trees nor people before – and so he confused them. He needed to have the gift of understanding / inter-sent him away to his home, saying: Do not even enter into the village.
27 And Jesus went with his disciples into the villages of Caesarea Philippi, and on the way he questioned his disciples, saying to them: Who do men say that I am? 28 And they told him, saying: John the Baptist, and others, Elijah; but others, one of the prophets. 29 And he asked them: But who do you say that I am? Peter answered and said to him: You are the Christ! 30 And he ordered them that they should tell no one about him. 31 And he began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and the chief priests and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again. 32 And he spoke these things openly. And Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him. 33 But he, turning about and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and said to him: Get behind me, Satan! For you are mindful of the things of men instead of the things of God. 34 And he called to him the crowd with his disciples, and said to them: If any of you wants to be my follower, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. 35 For whoever would save his life shall lose it, and whoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel’s, he shall save it! 36 For what does it profit a man to gain the whole world, and forfeit his life? 37 For what should a man give in exchange for his life? 38 For whoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man also shall be ashamed of him, when he comes in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.

Feb. 13 Aug. 14
The Transfiguration

And he said to them: Truly I say to you: There are some standing here, who shall in no way taste death, before they see the kingdom of God come with power. 2 And after six days Jesus took with him Peter, James and John and brought them to a high mountain where they could be alone; and he was transfigured before them. 3 And his garments became radiant, exceedingly white, whiter than any launderer could whiten them. 4 And there appeared to them Elijah with Moses; and they pretation also. The man was taught by this that even if we are given the one thing we so desire, this isn’t enough. We need Jesus to give us understanding.

8:31 This is one of the clearest predictions of Christ’s sufferings. Why then did He ask for the cup of suffering to be removed from Him in Gethsemane? He understood from Old Testament examples that God’s intended program for a person can be changed by their prayers, and it seems that He tried this. But it also shows that even if we know something in theory, in the heat of the moment our understanding becomes clouded. Jesus was human, but never sinned. Therefore this kind of intellectual failure, even panic, isn’t always sinful. It’s just part of being human.
8:35 The sake of the Gospel – i.e. preaching the Gospel?
8:38 Jesus even after His resurrection still has the capacity to feel ashamed. We are made in God’s image, and so shame on behalf of another is an emotion He also has.
were talking with Jesus. 5 And Peter said to Jesus: Rabbi, it is good that we are here! Let us make three tents, one for you and one for Moses and one for Elijah. 6 For he did not know what to say, for they were greatly afraid. 7 And there came a cloud overshadowing them, and there came a voice out of the cloud: This is My beloved Son. Hear him. 8 And suddenly, looking round about, they no longer saw anyone with them, except Jesus. 9 And as they came down from the mountain, he ordered them that they should tell no one about the things they had seen, until the Son of Man should have risen from the dead. 10 So they kept these words to themselves, questioning what the rising from the dead meant. 11 And they asked him: Why do the scribes say that Elijah must first come? 12 And he said to them: Elijah indeed comes first and restores all things. And how is it written of the Son of Man, that he should suffer many things and be set at nothing? 13 But I say to you, that Elijah came, and they have also done to him whatever they wanted, even as it is written of him. 14 And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great crowd about them, and scribes arguing with them. 15 And immediately all the crowd, when they saw him, were greatly amazed; and running to him saluted him. 16 And he asked them: What are you arguing about with them? 17 And one of the crowd answered him: Teacher, I brought to you my son, who has a dumb spirit. 18 And wherever it takes him, it dashes him down and he foams and grinds his teeth and pines away: and I spoke to your disciples that they should cast it out, and they were not able. 19 And he answered them saying: O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I tolerate you? Bring him to me. 20 And they brought him to him, and when he saw him, immediately the spirit tore at him grievously and he fell on the ground and rolled about, foaming at the mouth. 21 And he asked his father: How long has this been happening to him? And he said: From a child. 22 And often it has cast him both into the fire and into the waters to destroy him; but if you can do anything, have compassion on us and help us. 23 And Jesus said to him: Rather, if you can! All things are possible to him that believes. 24 Immediately the father of the child

9:7 Hear Him – Judaism so venerates Moses [symbol of the law] and Elijah [symbol of the prophets]. Peter wanted to build booths so that Moses and Elijah would stay; but God tells him of the need to listen to His Son. The cloud and the voice out of the cloud is similar to what happened to Moses in Ex. 34. The Divine voice in the cloud proclaimed the Name and characteristics of Yahweh; now God proclaims His Son. Because Jesus had a perfect character, He manifested the Name of God completely.

9:22 If you can – The man was unsure about the total abilities of Jesus. ‘Do what’s in your power to do’ was his idea. Jesus replies by saying that God’s action in our lives doesn’t depend upon Him, it depends upon us. If we can believe, then everything’s possible. It is us and not God who have our finger as it were on the volume control.

9:24 We both believe and disbelieve at the same time. We don’t have complete faith.
cried out, and said: I believe! Help my disbelief! 25 And when Jesus saw that a crowd came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it: You dumb and deaf spirit, I command you, come out of him and enter no more into him. 26 And having cried out and torn him much, it came out; and the boy became as one dead. So much so that the many said: He is dead. 27 But Jesus took him by the hand and raised him up, and he arose. 28 And when he had come into the house, his disciples privately asked him: Why could we not cast it out? 29 And he said to them: This kind can come out by nothing except by prayer and fasting.

The Importance of Humility
30 And they went from there and passed through Galilee; and he did not want anyone to know it. 31 For he taught his disciples, and said to them: The Son of Man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, and when he is killed, after three days he shall rise again. 32 But they did not understand the saying and were afraid to ask him. 33 And they went to Capernaum, and when he was in the house he asked them: What were you reasoning about on the way here? 34 But they kept quiet. For they had disputed one with another on the way about who was the greatest. 35 And he sat down and called the twelve; and he said to them: If anyone would be first, he shall be last of all and servant of all. 36 And he took a little child and set him in the midst of them, and taking him in his arms, he said to them: 37 Whoever shall receive one of such little children in my name, receives me. And whoever receives me, receives not me but Him that sent me. 38 John said to him: Teacher, we saw one casting out demons in your name and we forbade him, because he does not follow with us. 39 But Jesus said: Do not forbid him. For there is no one who shall do a mighty work in my name and then be able straight afterwards to immediately speak evil of me. 40 For he that is not against us, is for us. 41 For whoever shall give you a cup of water to drink, because

The man’s humility and honesty are impressive. There is no personal Satan figure out in the cosmos; God is in control 100%. But within the human mind, there are desires to do both good and evil. Paul speaks of this in Romans 7. The man here realized this too, by recognizing his belief and disbelief within him. We should recognize it within us, too; and not be phased when we perceive it within others too.

9:34 They argued about who should be the greatest immediately after Jesus had told them of His upcoming death (v. 31). Whenever Jesus told the disciples about His death, they started arguing amongst themselves. They had a psychological barrier to the message of the cross. We tend to also; we would rather become inward looking, compare ourselves against ourselves, rather than against the standard set in the crucifixion of Jesus.

9:38 In your name – A disciple of John the Baptist who for some reason didn’t want to associate with the Jesus’ disciples.

9:40 Here Jesus makes it clear for all time that we should not be exclusive against you are Christ’s—truly I say to you, he shall in no way lose his reward.

Teaching About Offences

42 And whoever shall cause one of these little ones that believe in me to stumble, it would be better for him if a great millstone were hung around his neck and he were thrown into the sea. 43 And if your hand causes you to stumble, cut it off. It is good for you to enter into life maimed, rather than having your two hands and to go into Gehenna—into the unquenched fire, 44 where their worm does not die and the fire is not put out. 45 And if your foot causes you to stumble, cut it off. It is good for you to enter into life lame, rather than having your two feet and to be cast into Gehenna, 46 where their worm does not die and the fire is not put out. 47 And if your eye causes you to stumble, gouge it out. It is good for you to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having two eyes and to be cast into Gehenna, 48 where their worm does not die and the fire is not put out. 49 For everyone shall be salted with fire. 50 Salt is good; but if the salt has lost its saltiness, with what will you season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace with one another.

Teaching About Divorce

And he left there and went into the regions of Judea on the other side of the Jordan. Crowds gathered around him again, and as was his custom he taught them. 2 And there came to him Pharisees, who asked him: Is it lawful for a man to send away his wife? They asked this to test him. 3 And he answered and said to them: What did Moses command you? 4 And they said: Moses permit—those who in truth bear His Name (v. 39). If they exclude us, they have made the decision. But we shouldn’t exclude them.

9:43 Whatever causes us to stumble on our path to God’s Kingdom we must cut out of our lives, although this will be very painful and demands an unusual self-possession and strong will.

9:45 Gehenna was the rubbish dump outside Jerusalem, where the fires were always burning because fresh garbage was always being put onto it. But the individual items thrown onto it were destroyed and turned into dust. Likewise Jerusalem was threatened with the eternal fire of God’s anger, due to the sins of Israel: “Then I will kindle a fire in its gates, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched” (Jer. 17:27). Jerusalem being the prophesied capital of the future Kingdom (Is. 2:2-4; Ps. 48:2), God did not mean us to read this literally. The houses of the great men in Jerusalem were burnt down with fire (2 Kings 25:9), but that fire did not continue eternally. Fire represents the anger/punishment of God against sin, but His anger is not eternal (Jer. 3:12). Fire turns what it burns to dust; and we know that the ultimate wages of sin is death, a turning back to dust. This perhaps is why fire is used as a figure for punishment for sin.

9:47 Who we will eternally be in God’s Kingdom is a function of the efforts we have made in this life to cut off our sources of temptation and stumbling.
Husbands and wives can divide what God has joined together in their marriage by arguing, insisting upon their way, criticizing, attachment to other things or partners. But other people can also divide them by things like manipulating one partner against another, poisoning the mind of one against the other etc.

The Rich Young Man

And as he was proceeding along the road, a man ran to him and kneeled before him, and asked him: Good Teacher, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life? And Jesus said to him: Why do you call me good? None is good save one-God. You know the commandments: Do not kill. Do not commit adultery. Do not steal. Do not bear false witness. Do not defraud. Honour your father and mother. And he said to him: Teacher, all these things have I observed from my youth. And Jesus observing him, loved him; and said to him: One thing you lack. Go, sell whatever you have and give it to the poor, and you shall have treasure in heaven. And come, follow me. But this teaching saddened him, and he went away sorrowful. For he was one that had great possessions. 23 And Jesus looked around, and said to his disciples: How difficult it will be for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God! 24 And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus continued and said to them: Children! How hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God! 25 It is easier for a camel to go through a needle’s eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. 26 And they were astonished exceedingly, saying to him: Then who can be saved? 27 Jesus, observing them, said: With men it is impossible, but not with God. For all things are possible with God. 28 Peter began to say to him: We have left all, and have followed you. 29 Jesus said: Truly I say to you. Whoever leaves house, or brothers, or sisters, or mother, or father, or children, or lands for my sake and for the gospel’s sake, will receive in return, in this present season, a hundredfold houses and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and lands, and with them persecutions; but in the age to come, eternal life. 31 But many that are first shall be last and the last, first.

Jesus Talks About His Death
32 And they were on the road heading up to Jerusalem; and Jesus was walking ahead of them. And they were amazed, and those who followed were afraid. And taking the twelve aside, he began to tell them what was to happen to him: 33 We will go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man shall be delivered to the chief priests and the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death and shall deliver him to the Gentiles. 34 And they shall mock him and shall spit upon him and shall scourge him, and shall kill him; and after three days he shall rise again. 35 And there came near to him James and John, the sons of Zebedee, saying to him: Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we shall ask of you. 36 And he said to them: What would you wish that

10:24 Trusting in riches is paralleled with having riches (v. 23). Having them is the same as trusting in them because this is the very nature of wealth. It’s impossible to have it without trusting in it. Yet despite these grave warnings about the spiritual dangers of wealth, many Christians earnestly desire to have it!
10:30 We receive these blessings in the church now, in fellowshipping with our brothers and sisters there. If we chose not to fellowship with others, or if the church is dysfunctional, then these promised blessings won’t come true.
10:31 Our society is like an elevator; once you get into it, the thrust is always upwards. People want to be upwardly socially mobile, to improve their position, to get ahead in the race. But the further we get ahead now, the further back we will be eternally.
10:35 Again, straight after the prediction of Christ’s death, the disciples start arguing. The message of the cross was so lost on them at that time. And Mark is telling this story to an audience, showing them that the preachers themselves ‘didn’t get it’ initially, and on that humble basis appealing for the hearers to do better than their teachers and ‘get it’ more quickly.
I should do for you? 37 And they said to him: Grant to us that we may sit, one on your right hand and one on your left hand, in your glory. 38 But Jesus said to them: You do not know what you ask. Are you able to drink the cup that I drink? Or to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? 39 And they said to him: We are able! And Jesus said to them: The cup that I drink you will drink, and with the baptism with which I am baptized, you will be baptized. 40 But to sit on my right hand or on my left hand is not mine to give; but it will be given to them for whom it has been prepared. 41 And when the ten heard it, they began to be moved with indignation concerning James and John. 42 And Jesus called them to him, and said to them: You know that they who are considered rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. 43 But it is not to be so among you; but whoever would become great among you shall be your servant. 44 And whoever would be first among you, shall be servant of all; 45 for the Son of Man came not to be served by others, but to serve— and to give his life as a ransom for many.

Jesus Heals Bartimaeus
46 And they arrived in Jericho. And as he was leaving Jericho with his disciples and a great crowd, Bartimaeus the son of Timaeus, a blind beggar, was sitting by the roadside. 47 And when he heard that it was Jesus the Nazarene, he began to cry out, and say: Jesus! You Son of David, have mercy on me! 48 And many rebuked him, saying that he should hold his peace. But he cried out more zealously: You, Son of David, have mercy on me! 49 And Jesus stood still and said: Call him. And they called to the blind man, saying to him: Be of good courage! Rise, he calls for you! 50 And he, casting away his garment, sprang up and came to Jesus. 51 And Jesus said: What will you have me do for you? And the blind man said to him: Rabbi— that I may receive my sight. 52 And Jesus said to him: Go your way. Your faith has made you whole. And immediately he received his sight and followed him in the way.

CHAPTER 11
Feb. 15 Aug. 16
Jesus Enters Jerusalem
And when they drew near to Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, 2 instructing them: Go into the village in front of you, and just as you enter it, you will find a colt tied there, on which no one has ever sat. Untie it and bring it here. 3 And if anyone says

10:40 Not mine – Again we see the subjection of Jesus to the Father.
10:43 So we should be looking for opportunities to serve others every day. “Brother, sister, let me serve you” should be the heartbeat of our daily lives.
10:47 Son of David – He recognized that the promises to David of a future descendant of David who would also be God’s Son had come true in Jesus (2 Sam. 7:12-16).
10:50 His garment was probably his only possession.
to you: Why are you doing this? You are to say: The Lord has need of him; and immediately he will send him back here. 4 And they went away and found a colt tied at a door outside in the street, and they untied it. 5 And those that stood there said to them: What are you doing, untying the colt? 6 And they said to them just as Jesus had said, and they let them go. 7 And they brought the colt to Jesus, and put on it their garments; and he sat upon it. 8 And many spread their garments upon the road, and others spread branches which they had cut from the fields. 9 And they that went ahead and they that followed, cried, Hosanna! Blessed is he that comes in the name of the Lord! 10 Blessed is the coming kingdom of our father David! Hosanna in the highest! 11 And he entered into Jerusalem and went into the temple, and when he had looked at everything, it being now evening, he went out to Bethany with the twelve.

Jesus and the Fig Tree
12 And the next day, when they left Bethany, he felt hungry. 13 And seeing in the distance a fig tree in leaf, he went to see if he could find anything on it. When he came to it, he found nothing but leaves- for it was not the season for figs. 14 Jesus addressed it: Henceforth, no one will eat fruit from you again. And his disciples heard it. 15 And they came to Jerusalem, and he entered into the temple and began to throw out those that sold and those that bought in the temple, and overturned the tables of the money exchangers and the seats of those that sold the doves. 16 And he would not permit anyone to carry any merchandise through the temple. 17 And he taught and said to them: Is it not written: My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations? But you have made it a den of thieves! 18 And the chief priests and the scribes heard it, and sought a way to destroy him. For they feared him, for all the crowd were astonished at his teaching. 19 And every evening he left the city. 20 And as they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away from the roots. 21 And Peter, remembering, said to him: Rabbi, look at the fig tree which you cursed. It is withered away! 22 And Jesus answering said... to them: Have faith in God. 23 Truly I say to you, Whoever shall say to this mountain: Be removed and thrown into the sea, and shall not doubt in his heart but shall believe that what he said will happen- he shall have it. 24 Therefore I say to you: All things, whatever you pray and ask for, believe that you will receive them- and you shall have them. 25 And whenever you stand praying, forgive those you have something against; so that your Father who is in heaven may also forgive you your trespasses. 26 But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father who is in heaven forgive your trespasses.

The Question of Authority
27 And they arrived in Jerusalem. And as he was walking into the temple, there came to him the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. 28 They said to him: By what authority do you do these things? Who gave you authority to do these things? 29 And Jesus said to them: I will ask you one question. Answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. 30 The baptism of John, was it from Heaven, or from men? Answer me. 31 And they reasoned among themselves, saying: If we shall say: From Heaven- he will say: Why then did you not believe him? 32 But if we say: From men-they were in fear of the people. For all truly held John to be a prophet. 33 And they answered Jesus, saying: We do not know. And Jesus said to them: Neither shall I tell you by what authority I do these things.

The Parable of the Vineyard
And he began to speak to them in parables. A man planted a vineyard and set a hedge about it, and dug a pit for the winepress and built a tower; and rented it to husbandmen. Then he went into another country. 2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, so he might receive from the husbandmen the fruits of the vineyard. 3 And they took him and beat him, and sent him away empty handed. 4 And again he sent to them another servant- and him they wounded in the head and handled shamefully. 5 And he sent another — and him they killed; and many others, beating some and killing some. 6 He had one other, a beloved son. He sent him last to them, saying: They will reverence my son. 7 But those husbandmen said among themselves: This is the heir! Come, let us kill him and the inheritance shall be ours. 8 And they took him and killed him, and threw him out of the vineyard. 9 What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard to others. 10 Have you not read in the scripture: The stone which the builders rejected, the same was made the head of the corner? 11 This was from the Lord and it is marvellous in our eyes? 12 And they sought to arrest him; but they feared the crowd. For they perceived that he had spoken that parable against them; and they left him and went away.

The Jews Try to Trap Jesus with Trick Questions
13 And they sent to him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, that they might catch him out in his teaching. 14 And when they arrived, they said to him: Teacher, we know you are truthful and do not care about anyone’s opinion. For you are not swayed by appearances, but truly teach the way of God. Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not? 15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said to them: Why do you test me? Bring me a denarius, that I may look at it. 16 And they brought it. And he said to them: Whose is this image and inscription? And they said to him: Caesar’s. 17 And Jesus said to them: Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s. And they marvelled greatly at him. 18 And there came to him Sadducees (these say that there is no resurrection) and they asked him: 19 Teacher, Moses wrote to us: If a man’s brother dies and leaves a wife behind him and leaves no children, then his brother should take his wife and raise up seed to his brother. 20 There were seven brothers; and the first took a wife and died leaving no seed. 21 And the second took her, and died leaving no seed behind him, and the third likewise. 22 And the seven left no seed. Last of all the woman also died. 23 In the resurrection, whose wife shall she be? For the seven had her as wife. 24 Jesus said to them: Is not the reason you err that you do not know the scriptures, nor the power of God? 25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels in heaven. 26 But concerning the dead, that they are raised, have you not read in the book of Moses, in the passage about the bush, how God spoke to him, saying: I am the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob? 27 He is not the God of the dead but of the living. You do err greatly. 28 And one of the scribes came and heard them arguing; and knowing that he had answered them well, he asked him: What commandment is the first of all? 29 Jesus answered: The first is, Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God, the Lord is one. 30 And you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength. 31 The second is this: You shall love your neighbour as yourself. There is no other commandment greater than these. 32 And the scribe said to him: Well said, Teacher. You have spoken the truth, that He is one and there is no other but He. 33 And to love Him with all the heart and with all the understanding and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is much more than all whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices. 34 And when Jesus saw that he answered wisely, he said to him: You are not far from the kingdom of God. And after that no one dared to ask him any more questions. 35 And Jesus asked, as he taught in the temple: Why do the scribes say that the Christ is the son of David? 36 David himself said in the Holy Spirit: The Lord said to my Lord, Sit on My right hand until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet. 37 David himself calls him Lord; and how is he therefore his son? And the common people heard him gladly. 38 And in his teaching he said: Beware of the scribes, who desire to walk in long robes and to have salutations in the marketplaces, and the chief seats in the synagogues and chief places at feasts. 39 They that devour widows’ houses and for a pretence make long prayers, these shall receive greater condemnation. 40 And he sat down over against the treasury, and watched how the crowd threw money into the treasury; and many that were rich threw in a lot. 41 And there came a poor widow, and she threw in two small copper coins, which make a penny. 43 And he gathered his disciples, and said to them: Truly I say to you, this poor widow threw in more than all they that are throwing money into the treasury. 44 For they threw in money they didn’t need, but she though needy threw in all that she had- all her livelihood.

Jesus Predicts the Destruction of the Temple

And as he left the temple, one of his disciples said to him: Teacher, look what wonderful stones and what wonderful buildings! 2 And Jesus said to him: Do you see these great buildings? There will not be left here one stone upon another. All will be thrown down. 3 And as he sat on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him privately: 4 Tell us, when will these things occur, and what shall be the sign when these things are about to happen? 5 And Jesus began to say to them: Take heed that no one lead you astray. 6 Many shall come in my name, saying, I am he; and shall lead many astray. 7 And when you shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, do not be disturbed. These things must take place, but the end is not yet. 8 For nation shall rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom, there shall be earthquakes in various places, there shall be famines. These things are the beginning of the birth pains. 9 But be warned. For they shall deliver you up to councils, and in synagogues they shall beat you, and before governors and kings shall you stand for my sake, to bear witness before them. 10 And the gospel must first be preached to all the nations. 11 Whenever you are arrested and brought to trial, do not worry beforehand about what to say. Say whatever shall be given you in that hour, for it is not you that will speak but the Holy Spirit. 12 And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child, and children shall rise up against parents and cause them to be put to death. 13 And you

12:43 Jesus was very observant to notice those two coins going into the box. He is the same today – He notices the quiet devotion and sacrifice for Him which nobody else does. This is why He teaches against doing good deeds which others see, and was so against how the Scribes behaved (12:39).
13:2 This chapter, known as the Olivet prophecy, gives signs which were fulfilled immediately before the destruction of the temple by the Romans in AD70. However it is clear that Jesus was also thinking about the signs which would be seen in Israel and the world leading up to His return. We can therefore say that what happened in AD70 is a type of our last days.
13:8 Birth pains – The bringing to birth will be when Jesus returns and we are fully ‘born again’ and enter His Kingdom with immortal nature (Jn. 3:3-5). Living in the last days just before He returns will therefore be a painful and frightening time for the believers.
13:10 The quicker we preach the Gospel to all nations, the quicker the end will come.
13:13 It seems the believers will be persecuted in the last days.
shall be hated by all for my name’s sake; but he that endures to the end, the same shall be saved. 14 But when you see the abomination of desolation standing where it should not (let him that reads understand), then let them that are in Judea flee to the mountains. 15 And let him that is on the housetop not go down, nor enter in to take anything out his house. 16 And let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloak. 17 But alas for women who are pregnant, and for those who are nursing infants in those days! 18 And pray that it is not in the winter. 19 For those days shall cause distress, such as there has never been similar, from the beginning of the creation which God created until now, and never shall be again. 20 And except the Lord had shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved; but for the elect’s sake, which He chose, He shortened the days. 21 And then if anyone shall say to you: Look, here is the Christ! or Look! There he is!- do not believe them. 22 For false Christs and false prophets will arise, and will show signs and wonders, in order to lead astray (if possible) the elect. 23 But be warned, I have told you all things beforehand. 24 But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened and the moon shall not give her light, 25 and the stars shall fall from heaven and the powers that are in the heavens shall be shaken. 26 And then shall they see the Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. 27 And then shall he send the angels and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven. 28 Now from the fig tree learn its lesson. When its branch becomes tender and puts forth its leaves, you know that the summer is near. 29 So you also, when you see these things happening, you will know that he is near- at the doors. 30 Truly I say to you: This generation shall not pass away, until all these things happen. 31 Heaven and earth may pass away, but my words shall not pass away. 32 But of that day or that hour knows no one except the Father, neither the angels in heaven nor the Son. 33 Be warned, watch and pray. For you do not know

13:18 The actual timing of events in both AD70 and in the last days can be affected by our prayers.
13:19 This alludes to Dan. 12:1, which speaks of a “time of trouble such as never was” for Israel. This means that a situation worse than the Nazi holocaust must yet happen to Israel. We can therefore expect world opinion to increasingly turn against the Jews.
13:24,25 Sun, moon and stars are used in the Bible as symbols for the rulers of a nation, especially Israel (Gen. 37:9).
13:32 If God knows something which Jesus doesn’t, then Jesus can’t be God Himself.
13:33 We cannot know the exact time when Jesus will return; therefore we must watch [be alert] and pray. Ignore the various claims that we can work out from Bible prophecy which year Jesus will return in.
when the time is. 34 Like a man going on a journey; on leaving his house, he puts his servants in charge, each according to his assigned tasks. He also commands the gatekeeper to stay awake. 35 Therefore stay awake. For you do not know when the lord of the house comes, whether in the evening, or at midnight, or at cock-crow, or in the morning. 36 In case he comes suddenly finding you asleep—37 what I say to you I say to all: Stay awake!

The Anointing of Jesus

Now it was two days before the Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread; and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might arrest him using trickery and kill him. 2 For they said: Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar from the people. 3 And while he was in Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at the table, there came a woman with an alabaster vial of pure nard—very expensive. She broke the vial and poured it over his head. 4 But there were some that had indignation among themselves, saying: For what purpose has this waste of the ointment been made? 5 For this ointment might have been sold for above three hundred denarii and given to the poor. And they scolded her. 6 But Jesus said: Leave her alone. Why do you trouble her? She has done a good work upon me. 7 For you have the poor always with you, and whenever you want you can do them good, but me you do not have always. 8 She has done what she could. She has anointed my body beforehand for the burying. 9 And truly I say to you: Wherever in the whole world the gospel shall be preached, what this woman has done shall be spoken of as a memorial to her. 10 And Judas Iscariot, he that was one of the twelve, went to the chief priests, that he might betray him to them. 11 And they, when they heard it, were glad; and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

Jesus Prepares to Eat the Passover

12 And on the first day of unleavened bread, when they sacrificed the Passover, his disciples said to him: Where will you have us prepare for you the Passover to eat? 13 And he sent two of his disciples and said to them: Go into the city and there you shall meet a man bearing a pitcher of water. Follow him. 14 And wherever he enters, say to the master of the house: The teacher asks, where is the guest room in which I can eat the Passover with my disciples? 15 And he will show you a large upper room furnished and ready; there prepare it for us. 16 And the disciples went into the city and found as he had said to them. And they made ready the Passover. 17 And when it was evening he came with the twelve. 18 And as they sat and were eating, Jesus said: Truly I say to you, one of you shall betray me- even he that eats with me. 19 They began to be sorrowful, and to say to him one by one: Is it I? 20 And he said to them: It is one of the twelve. He that dipped in the dish at the same time with me. 21 For the Son of Man goes, even as it is written of him, but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would be better for that man if he had not been born.

The Last Supper
22 And as they were eating, he took bread and when he had blessed it, he broke it and gave it to them, and said: Take, eat, this is my body. 23 And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them and they all drank from it. 24 And he said to them: This is my blood of the new covenant, which is poured out for many. 25 Truly I say to you: I shall no more drink of the fruit of the vine, until the day when I drink it anew in the kingdom of God. 26 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives. 27 And Jesus said to them: All of you shall fall away. For it is written: I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered abroad. 28 However, after I am raised up, I will go ahead of you into Galilee. 29 But Peter said to him: Although all shall fall away, I will not! 30 And Jesus said to him: Truly I say to you, yes to you today, that this night, before the cock crows twice, you shall deny me three times. 31 But Peter said emphatically: Even if I must die with you, I will not deny you. And they all said the same.
Jesus in Gethsemane

32 And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane; and he said to his disciples: Sit here while I pray. 33 And he took with him Peter and James and John, and began to be greatly distressed and troubled. 34 And he said to them: My soul is exceeding sorrowful even to death. Stay here and watch. 35 And he went forward a little and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass away from him. 36 And he said: Abba, Father, all things are possible for You; remove this cup from me. However, not as I will but what You will. 37 And he returned and found them sleeping, and said to Peter: Simon, why do you sleep? Could you not watch one hour? 38 Watch and pray so that you do not fall into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing but the flesh is weak. 39 And again he went away and prayed, saying the same words. 40 And again he returned and found them sleeping. Their eyes were very heavy; and they did not know what to answer him. 41 And he returned a third time and said to them: Sleep on now and take your rest. It is enough. The hour comes, the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 42 Arise! Let us be going. He that betrays me is nearby. 43 And immediately, while he yet spoke, Judas came, one of the twelve, and with him a crowd from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders bearing swords and staves. 44 Now he that betrayed him had given them a signal, saying: Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he. Take him and lead him away safely. 45 And when he arrived, immediately he came to him and said: Master, Master; and kissed him. 46 And they arrested him and took him away. 47 But one of the disciples that was standing nearby drew his sword and struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear. 48 And Jesus said to them: Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs to capture me? 49 I was daily with you in the temple teaching and you did not arrest me; but this is done that the scriptures might be fulfilled. 50 And all the disciples left him and fled. 51 And a young man followed him, with nothing but a linen cloth about his body. And they seized him. 52 But he left the linen cloth and fled naked.

The Trial of Jesus

53 And they led Jesus away to the high priest; and there came together all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes. 54 And Peter had followed him at a distance, right into the courtyard of the high priest. And he was sitting with the guards and 14:36 ‘Abba’ has been interpreted as meaning ‘Daddy’. This is how close Jesus felt to God; and we can also.

14:37 One hour – His brief prayer of 14:36 took one hour to pray. We read those words too quickly.
14:51 Was this young man Peter (see v. 54)? Jesus speaks of him as “young” in Jn. 21:18.
warming himself at the fire. 55 Now the chief priests and the whole council sought evidence against Jesus to put him to death, and did not find it. 56 For many bore false witness against him, but their testimony did not agree. 57 And some stood up and bore false witness against him, saying: 58 We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another made without hands. 59 But not even then did their testimony agree. 60 And the high priest stood up in their midst and asked Jesus: Do you answer nothing? What is this that these witnesses say against you? 61 But he held his peace and said nothing. Again the high priest questioned him, saying: Are you the Christ, the Son of the Blessed? 62 And Jesus said: I am, and you shall see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of Power and coming with the clouds of heaven. 63 And the high priest tore his clothes and said: What further need have we of witnesses? 64 You have heard the blasphemy. What think you? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death. 65 And some began to spit on him and to cover his face, striking him and saying to him: Prophesy! And the guards took him and beat him with their hands.

Peter’s Denials

66 And as Peter was downstairs in the courtyard, there came one of the maids of the high priest. 67 And seeing Peter warming himself, she looked at him and said: You also were with the Nazarene, Jesus! 68 But he denied it, saying: I neither know, nor understand what you say; and he went out into the porch; and the cock crew. 69 And the maid saw him and began again to say to them that stood by: This is one of them! 70 But he again denied it. And after a little while, again they that stood by said to Peter: Of a truth you are one of them; for you are a Galilean. 71 But he began to curse and to swear

14:68 The cock crew – Peter should’ve seen the warning sign. Did he psychologically ignore it; or did he resolve that next time he would not fail? He should’ve removed himself from temptation; but like us so often, he didn’t. He, like us, thought he was stronger than he was.

14:68 He “went out” from the Lord. “Went out” is the language of Judas going out (Jn. 13:30 – in essence, Peter and Judas did the same thing at the same time). Other prototypes of the rejected likewise had gone out from the Lord. Cain “went out” (Gen. 4:16), as did Zedekiah in the judgment of Jerusalem (Jer. 39:4; 52:7). Esau went out from the land of Canaan into Edom, slinking away from the face of his brother Jacob, sensing his righteousness and his own carnality (Gen. 36:2-8). Yet Peter in this life “went out” from the Lord and then some minutes later further “went out and wept bitterly” (Lk. 22:62), living out the very figure of condemnation – and yet was able to repent and come back. In this life we can be judged, condemned, weep...but still repent of it and thereby change our eternal destiny. But at the final judgment: it will be just too late. That ‘judgment’ will be a detailed statement of the outcome of the ongoing investigative judgment which is going on right now.
under oath: I do not know this man of whom you speak. 72 And immediately the second time the cock crew. And Peter remembered what Jesus had said to him: Before the cock crows twice, you shall deny me three times. And as he thought upon it, he wept.

Feb. 19 Aug. 20

The Trial Before Pilate

And immediately in the morning the chief priests with the elders and scribes and the whole council, made their decision and bound Jesus and took him away and delivered him up to Pilate. 2 And Pilate asked him: Are you the King of the Jews? And he answering said to him: So you say. 3 And the chief priests accused him of many things. 4 And Pilate again asked him: Have you no answer to make? See how many accusations they make against you. 5 But Jesus made no further answer; so that Pilate marvelled. 6 Now at the feast he was accustomed to releasing one prisoner to them, whomever they requested. 7 And among the rebels in prison, who had committed murder in the insurrection, there was a man named Barabbas. 8 And the crowd came up and began to ask Pilate to do as he usually did for them. 9 And Pilate answered them saying: Will you have me release to you the King of the Jews? 10 For he knew that because of envy the chief priests had delivered him up. 11 But the chief priests stirred up the crowd, that instead he should release Barabbas to them. 12 And Pilate again an-

14:72 Three times – Mark’s record of the Lord’s trial is not merely a historical account. It’s framed in terms of our need to testify for our faith too. The Lord’s example in His time of suffering was and is intended to be our example and inspiration, in that we are to in a very practical sense enter into His sufferings. Mark records the Lord’s prediction that His people would have to witness before both Jewish and Gentile authorities (Mk. 13:9-13) – and then Mark goes on in the next chapter to describe Jesus doing just this. The Lord asked His suffering followers not to prepare speeches of self-defence – perhaps exemplified and patterned for us in the way that He remained silent before His accusers. Peter is recorded as denying Christ three times – just as the Romans interrogated Christians and asked them to three times deny Christ. The Christians were also asked to curse, or anathematizein, Jesus. And when we read of Peter’s cursing, the same word is used. We’re left with the impression that Peter actually cursed Christ. And so Mark, who was likely writing the Gospel on Peter’s behalf, is showing that Peter, the leader of the church, actually pathetically failed to follow his Lord at this time. And yet the Gospel of Mark was being distributed to Christians who were being dragged before Jewish and Roman courts. The idea was surely to give them an example and encouragement from Peter’s failure, rather than portray a positive example of a man overcoming the temptation to curse and deny Christ. But this was how the Lord used Peter – as an example from failure for all of us.

15:10 Envy and jealousy were the real reasons why Jesus was killed. Every time we suffer from them, we are fellowshipping the sufferings of Jesus. If we suffer with Him, we will also reign with Him. This is what the symbol of baptism shows – we go under the water, but come up out of it with Christ.
The moment of the Lord being delivered over by Pilate is so emphasized. There are few details in the record which are recorded verbatim by all the writers (Mt. 27:26; Mk. 15:15; Lk. 23:25; Jn. 19:16). The Lord had prophesied this moment of handing over, as if this was something which He dreaded (Mk. 9:31; 10:33); that point when He was outside the legal process, and must now face His destruction. The Angels reminded the disciples: “Remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee, saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men” (Lk. 24:6,7). The emphasis is on “How”, with what passion and emphasis. Rom. 4:25 makes this moment of handing over equivalent to His actual death: “Who was delivered (s.w.) for our offences, and raised again for our justification”. So much stress is put on this moment of being delivered over to crucifixion. The Gospel records stress that Pilate delivered Him up; but in fact God did (Rom. 8:32); indeed, the Lord delivered Himself up (Gal. 2:20; Eph. 5:2,25). Always the same word is used. These passages also stress that He delivered Himself up, and was delivered up, for us. It was our salvation which motivated Him at the moment of being delivered up. Perhaps it was at that moment that He had the greatest temptation to walk through the midst of them and back to Galilee. As the crowd surged forward and cheered, knowing they’d won the battle of wills with Pilate...” take ye him and crucify him” ringing in His mind...this was it. This was the end.

15:22 John says that the Lord went out bearing His cross. Luke says that Simon was asked to carry the hinder part of the cross behind Him. Matthew and Mark say Simon carried the cross. Mk. 15:22 (Gk.) says that the soldiers carried Jesus to Golgotha. J.B. Phillips renders it: “They got him to a place Golgotha”. It would seem that the Lord collapsed, perhaps fainting. If He was crucified on an olive tree (excavations of crucified men suggest this is what was used), it would not have been simply because of the weight of the stake. Take a picture of Him lying there, with the face that was marred more than the children of men pressed into the hot dust of that Jerusalem street. And they offered him wine mingled with myrrh; but he did not accept it. 24 And they crucify him and part his garments among themselves, casting lots for them to determine what every man should take. 25 And it was the third hour when they crucified him. 26 And the inscription of the charge against him read: The King of the Jews. 27 And with him they crucified two robbers, one on his right hand and one on his left. 28 And the scripture was fulfilled, which said: And he was numbered with the transgressors. 29 And those who passed by derided him, wagging their heads and saying: Ha! You that would destroy the temple and build it in three days, 30 save yourself and come down from the cross! 31 In like manner also the chief priests mocked among themselves and the scribes, saying: He saved others. Himself he cannot save! 32 Let the Christ, the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, so we may see and believe! And they that were crucified with him ridiculed him. 33 And when the sixth hour had come, darkness came over the whole land until the ninth hour. 34 And at the ninth hour, Jesus cried with a loud voice: Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? Which means: My God, my God, why have some human fool probably said something like ‘Come on, get up’ (doubtless with embellishments). If indeed He did faint, there would have been that sense of ‘coming round’, the “Where am I?” , the memory and consciousness flooding back. “Have I died and been resurrected?” No, as some nameless soldier kicked Him and told Him to get up.

15:23 Significantly, very few actual details are given by the Gospel writers of both the scourging and the crucifixion. It could be that they felt it impossible to dwell upon these things; or it could be that they and their readers knew what was involved in these practices, and we are left to dwell upon them in our own imagination. We are intended to reconstruct in our own minds what may have happened… We have a solemn duty towards Him to do this. This is perhaps why the tenses change so dramatically in the records. Take just Mk. 15:23-26: “They offered…they crucify…and part…casting lots…crucified…was written”. These arresting changes are surely to encourage us to re-live it all. Mark speaks of “they crucify him”, going on to say that “then are there two crucified with him” (Mk. 15:25 RV), whereas Luke records the act in the past tense. Mark’s present tenses are arresting: “plaiting…they clothe him…they smote…” (Mk. 15:17,19 RV). Perhaps Mark is seeking consciously to make us imagine it all as going on before our eyes.

15:34 Mt. 27:46 says that at “about the ninth hour, Jesus cried” those words about being forsaken. Mark says it was at the ninth hour, and we know it was at the ninth hour that Christ uttered His final words of victory. Yet it must have been only a few minutes before the ninth hour when Christ faltered; hence Matthew says that it was “about the ninth hour”. What is a few minutes? Only a few hundred seconds, only moments. Only moments before the sweetness of the final victory, “It is finished” or accomplished, the Son of God was faltering. The conclusion is that at the very last moment our Lord faltered. It was 11:59, into injury time, and He faltered. Enter, please, into the sense of crisis and intensity. This is the only time that he prays to God as “God” rather than you forsaken me? And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said: Look, he calls Elijah. And one ran and filling a sponge full of vinegar, put it on a rod and gave it to him to drink, saying: Leave him be. Let us see if Elijah will come to take Him down. And Jesus cried out with a loud voice, and breathed his last. And the veil of the temple was torn in two- from the top to the bottom. And when the centurion, who stood facing him, saw how he breathed his last breathe, he said: Truly this man was the Son of God.

The Burial of Jesus
And there were also women watching from afar, among whom were both Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of James the less and of Joses, and Salome; who, when he was in Galilee, had also followed him and ministered to him; and many other women that also had come with him up to Jerusalem. And when evening had come, because it was the Preparation day, that is, the day before the Sabbath, Joseph of Arimathaea, a councillor of honourable rank, who also was looking for the kingdom of God, went boldly to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. And Pilate wondered if he were already dead, and called the centurion. He asked him whether he was already dead. And when it was confirmed by the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph. And Joseph bought a linen shroud, and taking him down, wrapped him in the linen shroud and laid him in a tomb that had been cut out of the rock. And he rolled a stone against the entrance of the tomb. And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses observed where he was laid.

The Resurrection
And when the Sabbath was over, Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of James and Salome, bought spices, so that they might go and anoint him. And very early on the first day of the week, when the sun was risen, they went to the tomb. And they were talking among themselves: Who shall roll away the stone from the door of the tomb for us? And looking up, they saw that the stone, which was very large, had been rolled aside. And entering into the tomb, they saw a young man dressed in a white robe sitting on the right side, and they were alarmed. And he said to them: Do not be alarmed. You seek Jesus the Nazarene who was crucified. He is risen! He is not here! See the place where they laid him! 7 Go tell his disciples, and Peter, that he goes ahead of you into Galilee. There shall you see him, just as he told you. 8 And they went out and ran from the tomb. Trembling and astonishment had come upon them, and they said nothing to anyone. For they were afraid. 9 Now when he had risen from the dead early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he had cast out seven demons. 10 She went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept. 11 And they, when they heard that he was alive and had been seen by her, disbelieved. 12 And after these things he was manifested in another guise to two of them as they walked on their way into the countryside. 13 And they went away, and told it to the rest, who did not believe them either. 14 And later he was manifested to the eleven themselves as they were eating; and he rebuked them for their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they did not believe those that had seen him after he had risen. 15 And he said to them: You are to go into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation. 16 He that believes and is baptized shall be saved, but he that disbelieves shall be condemned. 17 And these signs shall accompany them that believe-in my name shall they cast out demons, they shall speak with new tongues, 18 they shall pick up snakes, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall in no way hurt them. They shall lay hands on the sick and they shall recover. 19 So then the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken to them, was received up into heaven, and sat down at the right hand of God. 20 And they went and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming the word by the signs that followed. Amen.

16:7 Jesus was so concerned for the spiritual welfare of Peter, the one who had denied Him. The risen Lord especially wanted the women to tell Peter that He was ‘going before him’ to Galilee – with the implication that even in his weakness and dejection, He wanted Peter to still try to follow Him and re-live the cross in his life. We who also deny Jesus can take comfort from this loving concern He has even for us. And we can learn to treat others who fail likewise.

16:16 Baptism is therefore very important if we wish to be saved.

16:17 The miraculous gifts of the Holy Spirit were given in the first century, but they were later withdrawn (1 Cor. 13:8).

Mar. 10 Sep. 9

Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which have been fulfilled among us, even as they delivered them to us, who from the beginning were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word, it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write to you in order, most excellent Theophilus, that you may have certainty concerning the things you have been taught.

The Conception of John the Baptist

There was in the days of Herod, king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the division of Abijah, and he had a wife of the daughters of Aaron and her name was Elisabeth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. And they had no child, because Elisabeth was barren and they both were now well stricken in years. Now it came to pass, while he executed the priest’s office before God in the order of his division, according to the custom of the priest’s office, his lot was to enter into the temple of the Lord and burn incense.

And the whole crowd of the people were praying outside in the hour of incense. And there appeared to him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. Zacharias was disturbed when he saw him, and fear fell upon him. But the angel said to him: Fear not, Zacharias, because your prayer is heard; your wife Elisabeth shall carry a son and you shall call his name John. And you shall have joy and gladness, and many shall rejoice at his birth, for he shall be great in the sight of the Lord. And he shall drink no wine nor strong drink, and he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother’s womb. And many of the children of Israel shall be turned to the Lord their God, and he will go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

And Zacharias said to the angel: How shall I know this? For I am an old man and my wife well stricken in years. And the angel answering said to him: I am Gabriel who stands in the presence of God to make ready his people of Jacob, and fear not, Zacharias, because your prayer is heard; your wife Elisabeth shall carry a son and you shall call his name John, and he will be great in the sight of the Lord. And he shall drink no wine nor strong drink, and he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother’s womb. And many of the children of Israel shall be turned to the Lord their God, and he will go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.
in the presence of God, and I was sent to speak to you and to bring you these good tidings. 20 And you shall be dumb and not able to speak until the day that these things shall come to pass, because you did not believe my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. 21 And the people were waiting for Zechariah, and they were wondering at his delay in the temple. 22 And when he came out, he could not speak to them; and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple, and he continued making signs to them and remained dumb. 23 And it came to pass, when his time of service was ended, he went to his home. 24 And after these days Elizabeth his wife conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying: 25 Thus has the Lord done to me in the days wherein he looked upon me, to take away my reproach among men.

The Conception of Jesus
26 Now in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin’s name was Mary. 28 And he came in to her and said: Greetings, you that are highly favoured, the Lord is with you! 29 But she was greatly disturbed at the saying, and cast in her mind what manner of greeting this might be. 30 And the angel said to her: Fear not, Mary. For you have found favour with God. 31 And you shall conceive in your womb and bring forth a son, and shall call his name Jesus. 32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Most High, and the Lord God shall give to him the throne of his ancestor David. 33 And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever, and of his kingdom there shall be no end. 34 And Mary said to the angel: How shall this be, seeing I do not know a man? 35 And the angel answered and said to her: The Holy Spirit shall come upon you, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow prayers. A guy standing at a bus stop praying to God can call forth an Angel to be sent to earth in answer to his prayers.

1:30 Found favour – She had the spiritual ambition to ask to be the mother of Messiah. Hence her reaction was joy rather than “Oh no! I’m pregnant without a husband!”. And she was likely an illiterate, barefoot teenager. She was of low social status (:48,53).

1:32 Shall be – Note all the future tenses. Jesus didn’t pre-exist as a person before His birth. Jesus was “conceived” within Mary (v. 31). He didn’t literally come down from Heaven as a person. He began inside Mary. David was his father or ancestor because Mary too was an ordinary woman, who was in the line of David. Jesus only became God’s Son when He was born (v. 35). The Son of God therefore didn’t exist from creation, as the false doctrine of the Trinity requires.

1:35 The Holy Spirit is paralleled with the power of “the Most High”. The Holy Spirit refers to God’s power; it isn’t a person. God is “the highest”, and therefore neither Jesus nor the Holy Spirit are equal to Him; they are lower than Him as He is the highest.
you. Therefore also the holy thing which is begotten within you shall be called the Son of God. 36 And Elisabeth your kinswoman, she who was called barren, has in her old age also conceived a son; and this is the sixth month of her pregnancy. 37 For no word from God shall be void of power. 38 And Mary said: Behold the handmaid of the Lord! Be it unto me according to your word! And the angel departed from her. 39 And Mary arose in these days and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Judah, 40 and entered into the house of Zacharias and greeted Elisabeth. 41 And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the greeting of Mary, that the baby jumped within her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit. 42 And she lifted up her voice with a loud cry and said: Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb! 43 But why is this granted to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? 44 For when the voice of your greeting came into my ears, the baby jumped in my womb for joy. 45 And blessed is she that believed; for there shall be a fulfilment of the things which have been spoken to her from the Lord. 46 And Mary said: My soul does magnify the Lord, 47 and my spirit has rejoiced in God my Saviour, 48 because He has looked upon the low estate of His handmaid. For from this time forward all generations shall call me blessed. 49 For He that is mighty has done to me great things, and holy is His name, 50 and His mercy is to generations and generations on them that fear Him. 51 He has shown strength with His arm, He has scattered the proud in the imagination of their heart, 52 He has put down princes from their thrones and has exalted them of low station in life. 53 The hungry He has filled with good things and the rich He has sent away empty. 54 He has given help to Israel His servant, that He might remember mercy 55 (as He spoke to our fathers) toward Abraham and his seed for ever. 56 And Mary stayed with her about three months and then returned home.

The Birth of John
57 Now the time came for Elizabeth to give birth, and she gave birth to a son. 58 And her neighbours and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord had magnified His mercy towards her; and they rejoiced with her. 59 And it came to pass on the eighth day, that

1:36 Often God arranges that someone else, e.g. a family member, has a similar experience to us – so that by fellowship with them we can find comfort and encouragement.

1:46 Mary’s song is full of allusion to the song of Hannah when she was enabled to conceive Samuel (1 Sam. 2). Although she was illiterate, she knew her Bible well. She had memorized it and felt herself into it. She saw the similarities between herself and Hannah. We too should ponder Scripture and see the similarities between ourselves and others we read of there, so that they become our heroes and inspirations.

1:53 The rich Jewish women no doubt wanted to be mother of Messiah. But God delights to work through the low, poor and humble who love His word.
they came to circumcise the child, and they would have called him Zacharias, after the name of the father, but his mother answered and said: No, he shall be called John. And they said to her: There are none of your kindred that are called by this name. And they made signs to his father, what he wanted him called. And he asked for a writing tablet and wrote, saying: His name is John. And they all marvelled. And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed and he spoke, blessing God. And fear came on all their neighbours. And all these things were talked about through all the hill country of Judea. And all that heard them laid them up in their heart, saying: What then shall this child be? For the hand of the Lord was with him. And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Spirit and prophesied, saying: Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, for He has visited and redeemed His people, and has raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of His servant David (as He spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets that have been since the world began), salvation from our enemies and from the hand of all that hate us, to show mercy towards our fathers, and to remember His holy covenant. The oath which He spoke to Abraham our father, to grant to us, that we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, should serve Him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before Him all our days. Yes, and you, child, shall be called the prophet of the Most High. For you shall go before the presence of the Lord to make ready His ways, to give knowledge of salvation to His people in the remission of their sins, because of the tender mercy of our God, when the sunrise shall dawn upon us, to shine upon them that sit in darkness and the shadow of death; to guide our feet into the way of peace. And the child grew and became strong in spirit, and was in the desert until the day he appeared publicly to Israel.

The Birth of Jesus

Now it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be registered. This census first took place when Quirinius was governor of Syria. And all went to register themselves, everyone to his own city. And Joseph also went from Galilee out of the city of Nazareth into Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (because

1:74 Zacharias shared the common Jewish misunderstanding of Messiah as the One who would bring salvation from the Romans. But it’s also possible to understand his words spiritually, in terms of our freedom from sin. A faithful man can still hold misunderstandings, and God didn’t reject him because of it.

1:77 If we really feel God’s forgiveness, then we know salvation; but such wonderful experience comes from appreciating the seriousness of our sins. The proud and self-righteous have no feeling for the wonder of God’s forgiveness.
he was of the house and family of David) to enrol himself with Mary, who was engaged to him, being great with child. And it came to pass, while they were there, the time came that she should give birth. And she brought forth her firstborn son; and she wrapped him in cloths and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn. And there were shepherds in the same region staying in the field and keeping watch at night over their flock. And an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were terrified. And the angel said to them: Be not afraid. For I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. For there is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord. And this will be a sign to you: You shall find a baby wrapped in birth clothes and lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a crowd of the heavenly host praising God, and saying: Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among those in whom He is well pleased. And it came to pass, when the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said to each other: Let us now go to Bethlehem and see this thing that has come to pass, which the Lord has made known to us. And they went with haste, and found Mary and Joseph and the baby lying in the manger. And when they saw it, they told people about the saying which was spoken to them about this child. And all that heard it wondered at the things which were spoken to them by the shepherds. And Mary treasured up all these sayings, pondering them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, just as it had been spoken to them. And after eight days, when he was circumcised, his name was called Jesus, which name was given by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

Simeon and Anna Meet Jesus

And when the days of their purification according to the law of Moses were completed, they brought him up to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord (as it is written in the law of the Lord: Every male that opens the womb shall be called holy to the Lord), and to offer a sacrifice according to what is said in the law of... the Lord: A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons. 25 And there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon; and this man was righteous and devout, looking for the consolation of Israel. And the Holy Spirit was upon him. 26 And it had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not see death before he had seen the Lord’s Christ. 27 And he came in the Spirit into the temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, that they might do concerning him after the custom of the law, 28 then he took him into his arms and blessed God, and said: 29 Lord, now let Your servant depart in peace, according to Your word. 30 For my eyes have seen Your salvation, 31 which You have prepared before the presence of all peoples; 32 a light for revelation to the Gentiles, and the glory of Your people Israel. 33 And his father and his mother were marvelling at the things which were spoken concerning him. 34 And Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary his mother: Behold, this child is set for the falling and the rising again of many in Israel, and for a sign which will be spoken against. 35 Yes, and a sword shall pierce through your own soul also, that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed. 36 And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. She was of a great age, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity, 37 and she had been a widow eighty four years. She departed not from the temple, worshiping with fasting and prayer night and day. 38 And coming up to worship at that very same hour, she gave thanks to God, and spoke of him to all those that were looking for redemption in Jerusalem. 39 And when they had accomplished all things that were according to the law of the Lord, they returned to Galilee, to their own city Nazareth. 40 And the child grew and became strong, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon him.

Jesus at Twelve Years Old
41 And his parents went up every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the Passover. 42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up according to the tradition of the feast. 43 And when they had finished the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem; and his parents knew it not. 44 Supposing him to be in the company, they went a day’s journey; and then they looked for him among their relatives and acquaintances. 45 And when they did not find him, they

2:32 A light for revelation – The Gentiles will only see that light if we reveal Him to them in our witness.

2:35 When the spear pierced the side of Jesus, the heart of Mary was pierced too as she watched. Our reaction to the cross is that the thoughts of our hearts are revealed. Hence the breaking of bread service, when we remember the death and resurrection of Jesus, is a time for self-examination because quite naturally the thoughts of our hearts are revealed as we stand before the cross (1 Cor. 11:28).
returned to Jerusalem, seeking him.

And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them and asking them questions. And all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. And when they saw him, they were astonished, and his mother said to him: Son, why have you done this to us? Your father and I have been anxiously searching for you. And he said to them: How is it you searched for me? Did you not know that I would be in my Father’s house? And they did not understand what he spoke to them. And he left with them and went to Nazareth, and was subject to them; and his mother treasured all these sayings in her heart.

And Jesus developed both in wisdom and body, and in favour with God and men.

CHAPTER 3

The Preaching of John the Baptist

Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, in the highpriesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came to John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness. And he came into all the region round about the Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins. As it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet: The voice of one crying, In the wilderness make ready the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. Every valley shall be filled and every mountain and hill shall be brought low, and the crooked paths shall become straight, and the rough

2:47 Jesus would’ve had a natural aptitude for His Father’s words. He would’ve searched for His Father just as any child does for the father they have never seen. As God’s Son, His intellect would’ve been surpassing. His exposition of Scripture at 12 would’ve been very mature. Note His humility, though, in asking questions – of the men who later would hate and murder Him.

2:48 Your father... Jesus rebukes her by saying that she should’ve guessed that He was to be found in the house of God, His true Father (v. 49). Mary had become so used to the idea of Joseph being the father of Jesus that she had perhaps lost the intensity of persuasion she had when the Angel visited her 13 years ago – that Jesus’ Father was God. Time and the incorrect views of others about Jesus and God can likewise make us view them as the world around us does.

2:52 The growth of Jesus in favour with God makes a nonsense of Trinitarian claims. Likewise His growth in wisdom and knowledge is understood quite naturally if we accept Him as God’s begotten Son. “God the son” and “Trinity” aren’t found in the Bible.

3:5 The leveling of the wilderness is symbolic. Those who were proud like the mountains were brought down low, and those with too negative a view of themselves, as low as the valleys, were lifted up to a higher level. The key in all this was repentance and acceptance of the reality of God’s forgiveness and acceptance.
Luke 3:8–3:20

3:8 Repentance isn’t a matter of words so much as actions, or “fruit”. Baptism is part of our process of repentance and forgiveness; but we must attempt to change in practice too.

3:8 To say within yourselves – The Bible focuses upon and addresses our internal and very private thought processes. Verse 15 also talks about how people reasoned within themselves. This is the essence of Christianity – to change our spirit, the way we think deep within. The real ‘Satan’ or adversary is our own innermost mind, and not any external cosmic being.

3:14 John didn’t tell the soldiers to stop being soldiers, but to act within moral principles. God meets us where we are, calls different people in different states, and asks them within their contexts to act accordingly. But the military shouldn’t be the occupation of choice for a Christian.

3:17 The idea of gathering wheat and destroying the chaff is the language of the final judgment, when Jesus returns. But Jesus was ready to begin that at His first coming. All believers down the centuries have therefore lived in the expectation of His imminent judgment coming; we should live constantly with the awareness that Jesus may return today.
The Genealogy of Jesus

21 Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, that Jesus also having been baptized and praying, the heaven was opened, 22 and the Holy Spirit descended upon him in a bodily form as a dove, and a voice came out of heaven: You are My beloved Son. In you I am well pleased. 23 And Jesus, when he began to teach, was about thirty years of age, being the son (as was legally reckoned) of Joseph, the son of Heli, 24 the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Jannai, the son of Joseph, 25 the son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Nahum, the son of Esli, the son of Naggai, 26 the son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Semein, the son of Josech, the son of Joda, 27 the son of Joanan, the son of Rhesa, the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the son of Neri, 28 the son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam, the son of Elnadam, the son of Er, 29 the son of Jesus, the son of Eliezer, the son of Jorim, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, 30 the son of Symeon, the son of Judas, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonam, the son of Eliakim, the son of Melea, the son of Menna, the son of Mattatha, the son of Nathan, the son of David, 32 the son of Jesse, the son of Obed, the son of Boaz, the son of Salmon, the son of Nahshon, 33 the son of Amminadab, the son of Arni, the son of Hezron, the son of Perez, the son of Judah, 34 the son of Jacob, the son of Isaac, the son of Abraham, the son of Terah, the son of Nahor, 35 the son of Serug, the son of Reu, the son of Peleg, the son of Eber, the son of Shelah, 36 the son of Cainan, the son of Arphaxad, the son of Shem, the son of Noah, the son of Lamech, 37 the son of Methuselah, the son of Enoch, the son of Jared, the son of Mahalaleel, the son of Cainan, 38 the son of Enos, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God.

CHAPTER 4

The Wilderness Temptations

And Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness, 2 being tempted by the Devil for forty days. And he ate nothing in those days; and when they were completed, he was hungry. 3 And the Devil said to him: If you are the Son of God, command these stones that they become bread. 4 And Jesus answered him: It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone. 5 And he led him up and showed him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. 6 And the Devil said to him: To you will I give all this authority and the glory of them. For it has been delivered to me, and to whomsoever I will, I give it. 7 Therefore, if you will worship me, it shall all be yours. 8 And Jesus answered and said to him: It is written, you shall worship the Lord your God and Him only shall you serve. 9 And he led him to Jerusalem, set him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said to him: If you are the Son of God, cast yourself down from here. 10 For it is written: He shall give His angels charge concerning you, to guard you, 11 and on their hands they shall carry you up, lest you dash your foot against a stone. 12 And Jesus answering said to him: It is said, you shall not test the Lord your God. 13 And when the Devil had completed every temptation, he departed from him for a time.

Jesus in Nazareth

14 And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee, and the news about him went out throughout all the region. 15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified by all. 16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up, and he entered, as his custom was, into the synagogue on the Sabbath day and stood up to read. 17 And there was delivered to him the book of the prophet Isaiah. And he opened the book, and found the place where it was written: 18 The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He anointed me to preach good tidings to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives, and the recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those that are bruised, 19 to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord. 20 And he closed the book and gave it back to the attendant and sat down, and the eyes of all in the synagogue were fixed on him. 21 And he began to say to them: Today has this scripture been fulfilled in your hearing. 22 And all bore him witness, and wondered at the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth; and they said:

led by “the Spirit” (v. 1) as Israel were led by an Angel. We too should look for the similarities between our positions and those of others we read about in the Bible. The more we are familiar with the Bible text, the more easily in times of crisis will we find strength and find warning and encouragement directly for us. This is why we should persevere in Bible reading even if at the time we don’t understand or feel any immediate benefit. Slowly, God’s word becomes a living word, speaking directly to us.

4:15 The popularity of Jesus was huge. But He knew what people were like (Jn. 2:25) and so He avoided the pitfalls of success and popularity. We should handle any popularity or success in the way He did. His focus was upon glorifying God, getting that job done, and whether we stand with our backs to the world or have adulation of men, that must be our focus.
Is this not Joseph’s son? 23 And he said to them: Doubtless you will say to me this proverb: Physician, heal yourself. Whatever we have heard done at Capernaum, do also here in your hometown. 24 And he said: Truly I say to you, no prophet is acceptable in his own hometown. 25 But of a truth I say to you, there were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great famine over all the land. 26 And to none of them was Elijah sent, but only to Zarephath, in the land of Sidon, to a woman that was a widow. 27 And there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet, and none of them were cleansed, but only Naaman the Syrian. 28 And they were all filled with anger in the synagogue as they heard these things. 29 And they rose up and threw him out of the city, and led him to the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might throw him down headlong. 30 But he passing through the midst of them went his way.

Jesus in Capernaum
31 And he came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee. And he was teaching them on the Sabbath day. 32 And they were astonished at his teaching; for his word was with authority. 33 And in the synagogue, there was a man that had a spirit of an unclean demon, and he cried out with a loud voice: 34 Leave us alone! What have we to do with you, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are! The Holy One of God! 35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying: Hold your peace and come out of him. And when the demon had thrown him down in the midst, he came out of him, having done him no hurt. 36 And amazement came upon all, and they spoke together, one with another, saying: What is this word? For with authority and power he commands the unclean spirits and they come out. 37 And there went a rumour concerning him into every place of the region round about. 38 And he rose up from the synagogue and entered into the house of Simon. And Simon’s wife’s mother was sick with a high fever, and they made request of him concerning her. 39 And he stood over her and rebuked the fever; and it left her, and immediately she rose up and served them. 40 And when the sun was setting, they brought to him all people.
that were sick with various diseases; and he laid his hands on everyone of them and healed them. 41 And demons also came out from many, crying out and saying: You are the Son of God! But he rebuked them and would not allow them to speak, because they knew that he was the Christ. 42 Now when it was day, he departed and went into a deserted place. And the crowd sought him and came to him, and tried to keep him from leaving them. 43 But he said to them: I must preach the good tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also; for this is why I was sent.

And he was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.

CHAPTER 5

The Call of the Disciples

Now it came to pass, while the crowd pressed upon him and heard the word of God, that he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret. 2 And he saw two boats standing by the lake; but the fishermen had gone out of them and were washing their nets. 3 And he entered into one of the boats, which was Simon’s, and asked him to put out a little from the shore. And he sat down and taught the crowds out of the boat. 4 And when he had finished speaking, he said to Simon: Put out into the deep water and let down your nets for a catch.

5 And Simon answered and said: Master, we toiled all night and took nothing, but at your word I will let down the nets. 6 And when they had done this, they caught a great many fishes; and their nets were breaking. 7 And they beckoned to their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. And they came and filled both the boats, so that they began to sink. 8 But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus’ knees, saying: Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord. 9 For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the catch of fish which they had taken. 10 And so were also James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said to Simon: Fear not. From this time forward you shall catch men. 11 And when they had brought their boats to land, they left all and followed him.

Jesus Cures a Leper and a Paralyzed Man

12 And it came to pass, while he was in one of the cities, that there was a man full of leprosy. When he saw Jesus, he fell on his face and begged him, saying: Lord, if you will, you can make me clean. 13 And he stretched forth his hand and touched him, saying: I will. Be made clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him, 14 and he ordered...
LUKE 5:14–5:33

5:16 If Jesus needed to make time to be alone with God, so do we. It may require us to set the alarm clock 10 minutes earlier each morning.

5:20 Jesus knew they wanted a healing. But first He forgave the man’s sins – to show that physical benefit from association with Him is secondary to the forgiveness of our sins. That is our primary and greatest need.

5:31 We are the sick, in need of healing. We will therefore never be ready or good enough for God. We shouldn’t delay being baptized or not serve God because we feel we are spiritually sick. It is for us that He died.

5:21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying: Who is this that speaks blasphemies? Who can forgive sins but God alone? 22 But Jesus, perceiving their reasoning, answered and said to them: Why reason you so in your hearts? 23 Which is easier to say: Your sins are forgiven; or to say: Arise and walk? 24 But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins (he said to him who was paralyzed): I say to you, arise and take up your bedding and go to your house. 25 And immediately, he stood up before them, picked up what he had been lying on and went home, glorifying God. 26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God; and they were filled with fear, saying: We have seen strange things today.

The Need for Change

27 And after these things he went and saw a tax collector named Levi sitting at the tax office, and said to him: Follow me. 28 And he forsook all, and rose up and followed him. 29 And Levi made him a great feast in his house; and there was a great crowd of tax collectors and of others that were dining with them. 30 And the Pharisees and their scribes murmured against his disciples, saying: Why do you eat and drink with the tax collectors and sinners? 31 And Jesus answering said to them: They that are in health have no need of a doctor, but they that are sick. 32 I have not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance. 33 And they said to him: The disciples of John fast often and make supplications, likewise also the disciples of the Pharisees; but your disciples eat and drink. 34 And Jesus said to them: Can you make the wedding guests fast, while the bridegroom is with them? 35 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them; then will they fast, in those days. 36 And he spoke also a parable to them: No one tears a piece from a new garment and puts it upon an old garment, else he will tear the new, and also the piece from the new will not agree with the old. 37 And no one puts new wine into old wine-skins, or else the new wine will burst the skins and it will be spilt, and the skins will perish. 38 But new wine must be put into fresh wine-skins. 39 And no one having drunk old wine immediately then desires new wine; for he says: The old is good.

Sabbath Controversies

Now it came to pass on a Sabbath that he was going through the grain fields; and his disciples plucked the ears and ate, rubbing them in their hands. 2 But certain of the Pharisees said: Why do you do what is unlawful on the Sabbath day? 3 And Jesus answered them, saying: Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, he and they that were with him? 4 How he entered the house of God, and took and ate the consecrated bread, which is not lawful for any but the priests to eat, and also gave it to those with him? 5 And he said to them: The Son of Man is lord of the Sabbath. 6 And it came to pass on another Sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught; and there was a man there whose right hand was withered. 7 And the scribes and Pharisees watched him closely, whether he would heal on the Sabbath, that they might find an accusation against him. 8 But he knew their thoughts, and he said to the man that had his hand withered: Rise up and stand in the midst. And he arose and stood. 9 And Jesus said to them: I ask you, is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good, or to do harm? To save a life,

5:35 Are we fasting because we want Jesus, the bridegroom, to return? Fasting doesn’t only mean abstaining from food; fasting means forgiving people and trying to ease the weight of the burdens they carry (Is. 58:6).
5:39 Jesus here recognizes the basic conservatism of human nature; real change is so hard for us.
6:4 Jesus compared those who follow Him to the priests. We are all priests within the new community Jesus has established (1 Pet. 2:9). We all have responsibility for the spiritual welfare of each other; we are not to leave it to a class of specialists to care for them.
6:7 Do you feel in some contexts that everything you do is being watched critically by someone? Jesus knows how you feel.
6:9 Jesus speaks of omitting to do good (in this case, healing the man) as doing harm and destroying life. Sins of commission aren’t the only sins; sins of omission are as bad as proactively murdering or harming someone.
or to destroy it? 10 And he looked round about on them all, and then said to him: Stretch out your hand. And he did so, and his hand was restored. 11 But they were filled with rage, and discussed with one another what they might do to Jesus.

Jesus Calls and Teaches His Disciples
12 And it came to pass in these days that he went out into the mountain to pray; and he continued all night in prayer to God. 13 And when it was day, he called his disciples, and he chose from them twelve, whom also he named apostles. 14 Simon, whom he also named Peter, and Andrew his brother, and James, and John, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon who was called the Zealot, and Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot, who became the betrayer. 15 And he came down with them and stood on a level place; and a great crowd of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judea and Jerusalem and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, came to hear him and to be healed of their diseases. 16 And they that were disturbed with unclean spirits were healed. 17 And all the crowd sought to touch him, for power went out from him and healed them all. 18 Then he lifted up his eyes toward his disciples, and said: Blessed are you poor; for yours is the kingdom of God. 19 Blessed are you that hunger now; for you shall be filled. Blessed are you that weep now; for you shall laugh. 20 Blessed are you, when men shall hate you, and when they shall reject you, and reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of Man’s sake. 21 Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy; for your reward is great in heaven. For in the same manner did their fathers treat the prophets. 22 But woe to you that are rich! For you have received your consolation. 23 Woe to you, you that are full now! For you shall hunger. Woe to you that laugh now! For you shall mourn and weep. 24 Woe to you, when all men shall speak well of you! For in the same manner did their fathers do to the false prophets. 25 But I say to you that hear: Love

6:11 Rage – Often acts of goodness provoke anger in others; they look at us with an evil eye because we have done good. This often happened to Jesus (Mt. 20:15). This kind of spiritual jealousy led to His death, and we will face it too.

6:19 Healing people was so demanding upon Jesus; He felt the power going out of Him (as in 8:46). If we feel exhausted by serving others – Jesus has ‘been there’.

6:20-22 It’s paradoxical that Christians want to be happy, wealthy, popular and well fed. We may take a second job or a very demanding one which leaves us no time or energy for Divine things – just because we want to ‘buy’ those very things which we are blessed if we don’t have. This is a huge inversion of values.

6:23 Is great – God is watching our lives closely, and sacrificing things for His sake means we accrue some ‘reward’ immediately with Him. Salvation is a gift, by grace. But the nature of who we will eternally be is a function of the degree of sacrifice and service we have achieved in this life.
When Jesus was struck on the cheek He asked “Why do you smite me?” (Jn. 18:23). He didn’t literally offer His other cheek. So we must interpret this in principle rather than literally.

Let’s think what acts of love we can do today to those who do not love us and will not recompense us.

For if you love those that love you, what praise do you have? For even sinners love those that love them. And if you do good to those that do good to you, what praise do you have? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those of whom you hope to receive, what praise do you have? Even sinners lend to sinners, to receive again as much. But love your enemies, and do good and lend, never despairing, and your reward shall be great, and you shall be sons of the Most High. For He is kind toward the unthankful and evil. Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful. Judge not, and you shall not be judged; condemn not, and you shall not be condemned. Forgive, and you shall be forgiven. Give; and it shall be given to you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, shall they pour into your lap. For with what measure you use, it shall be measured to you again.

And he spoke also a parable to them: Can the blind guide the blind? Shall they not both fall into a pit? The disciple is not above his teacher, but everyone when he is perfected, shall be as his teacher. And why do you see the splinter that is in your brother’s eye, but do not consider the beam that is in your own eye? Or how can you say to your brother: Brother, let me cast out the splinter that is in your eye- when you yourself do not perceive the beam that is in your own eye? You hypocrite! Cast out first the beam out of your own eye, and then shall you see clearly to cast out the splinter that is in your brother’s eye. For there is no good tree that brings forth corrupt fruit, nor a corrupt tree that brings forth good fruit. For each tree is known by its own fruit. For from thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush do you enemies, do good to them that hate you, bless those that curse you, pray for those that mistreat you. To him that hits you on the cheek offer also the other, and from him that takes away your cloak- withhold not your coat also. Give to everyone who asks of you, from him who takes away your goods do not ask them back; and as you would that men should do to you, do you also to them likewise. For if you love those that love you, what praise do you have? For even sinners love those that love them. And if you do good to those that do good to you, what praise do you have? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those of whom you hope to receive, what praise do you have? Even sinners lend to sinners, to receive again as much. 6:38 They – The Angels at the day of judgment. For this doesn’t come true in this life.

6:40 We will be “perfected” when Jesus returns and we are given God’s nature (Heb. 11:40). Then, we will be like Jesus. ‘We shall be like Him’ (1 Jn. 3:2). The wonder of the Kingdom will not simply be that we won’t die – but that we will be like Jesus, with His love, sensitivity, authority, ability to talk with God with no barriers between… Oh how rich the promise.

6:41 If Jesus was a carpenter, He may have thought up this idea one day whilst working, with His mind always on the things of God.
they gather grapes. 45 The good man out of the good treasure of his heart brings forth that which is good, and the evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart brings forth that which is evil. For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks. 46 And why do you call me ‘Lord, Lord’ and not do the things which I say? 47 Everyone that comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you to whom he is like. 48 He is like a man building a house, who dug and went deep, and laid a foundation upon the rock; and when the flood arose, the stream broke against that house and could not shake it; because it had been founded upon a rock. 49 But he that hears and does not do is like a man that built a house upon the earth without a foundation, against which the stream broke and immediately it fell. And the ruin of that house was great.

Mar. 16 Sep. 15

A Centurion’s Servant Cured

fter he had ended all his sayings in the ears of the people, he entered into Capernaum. 2 And a certain centurion’s servant, who was dear to him, was sick and at the point of death. 3 And when he heard about Jesus, he sent to him elders of the Jews, pleading with him to come and heal his servant. 4 And they, when they came to Jesus, pleaded earnestly, saying: He is worthy to have you do this for him, 5 for he loves our nation and he built our synagogue. 6 And Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying to him: Lord, trouble not yourself. For I am not worthy that you should come under my roof; 7 therefore I did not even think myself worthy to come to you. But just say the word, and my servant will be healed. 8 For I also am a man under authority, having under myself soldiers; and I say to one: Go! And he goes. And to another: Come! And he comes. And to my servant: Do this. And he does it. 9 And when Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned and said to the crowd that followed him: I say to you, I have not found so great a faith, not even in Israel. 10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant healed.

Jesus Raises a Dead Man

11 And it came to pass soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain, and his disciples and a great crowd went with him. 12 Now when he came near to the gate of the city, there was carried out one that was dead, the only son of his mother, and

6:45 We may think that we’re clever enough to think evil of a person but say nice things to their face. The culture of nicespeak is no more than hypocrisy, and God will judge it. Our thoughts will eventually be reflected in our words. We must change our hearts and not our outward appearances.

7:6 I am not worthy – But the people said openly that he was “worthy” (v. 4). Even if others think and speak well of us, let us not think that we are worthy of Jesus; but always maintain our sense of sinfulness and humility before Him.
she was a widow; and many people of the city were with her. 13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said to her: Weep not. 14 And he came near and touched the coffin; and the bearers stood still. And he said: Young man, I say to you, arise. 15 And he that was dead sat up and began to speak. And he gave him to his mother. 16 And fear took hold of all, and they glorified God, saying: A great prophet has arisen among us, and God has visited His people! 17 And this report about him went throughout all Judea and all the surrounding region.

Jesus Gives His Opinion About John

18 And the disciples of John told him of all these things. 19 And John calling to himself two of his disciples, sent them to Jesus, asking: Are you he that comes, or look we for another? 20 And when the men came to him, they said: John the Baptist has sent us to you to ask: Are you he that comes, or do we look for another? 21 In that hour he cured many of diseases and illnesses and evil spirits, and on many that were blind he bestowed sight. 22 And he answered and said to them: Go and tell John the things which you have seen and heard. The blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have the good news preached to them. 23 And blessed is he, whoever shall find no occasion of stumbling in me. 24 And when the messengers of John had departed, he began to say to the crowds concerning John: What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind? 25 But what went you out to see? A man clothed in soft clothing? Look, they that are gorgeously apparelled and live delicately, are in kings’ courts. 26 But what went you out to see? A prophet? Yes, I say to you, and much more than a prophet. 27 This is he of whom it is written: Look, I send My messenger before your face, who shall prepare your way before you. 28 I say to you, among those that are born of women- there is none greater than John. Yet he that is but little in the kingdom of God is greater than he. 29 When all the people and the tax collectors heard this, they ac-

7:14 To touch coffins or dead bodies made a person unclean under Jewish law; but Jesus touched lepers and now touched the coffin to show His identification with the unclean. Those who realize they too are unclean will be comforted by this.

7:19 This could imply a collapse of faith in John. He doubted whether his cousin Jesus really was Messiah as he had earlier taught; because Jesus wasn’t acting as he had expected Messiah to act. God and Jesus are not to be defined by our expectations of them; but we are to accept them for who they present themselves to be in reality. Hence Jesus sent a message back to John warning him that blessed is that man who doesn’t stumble over Jesus (v. 23). The Bible records the failings of great men of faith. There are no white faced saints. Although John was weak at this point, Jesus goes on to speak very positively of him in v. 28. We should also be positive about each other despite being aware of each others’ weaknesses.
if we refuse to be baptized, this is what we are doing.

The children invited other children to play sad funerals, and they refused; so they asked them to play happy weddings, and they still refused. God appealed to all kinds of people through the different style of Jesus and John; but the Jews refused to really respond.

All her children – Both the converts of Jesus and of John.

The point is that we are all sinners and so the amount we owe is really the degree to which we perceive our sinfulness. The more we realize our sins, the more we will love Jesus for forgiving us.

Jesus therefore spoke with His back to Simon. He was being intentionally rude to His host to emphasize the degree to which He accepted and respected that repentant woman.
my feet. 46 My head with oil you did not anoint, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. 47 Therefore I say to you, that her sins, which are many, are forgiven (for she loved much). But to whom little is forgiven, the same loves little. 48 And he said to her: Your sins are forgiven. 49 And they that sat at food with him began to say within themselves: Who is this that even forgives sins? 50 And he said to the woman: Your faith has saved you. Go into peace.

CHAPTER 8 Mar. 17 Sep.16
The Parable of the Sower

And it came to pass soon afterwards, that he went about through cities and villages, preaching and bringing the good tidings of the kingdom of God; and companying with him were the twelve, 2 and certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities: Mary that was called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out, 3 and Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod’s steward, and Susanna, and many others, who ministered to them out of their means. 4 And when a great crowd came together, and they of every city had come to him, he spoke by a parable: 5 The sower went to sow his seed; and as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and it was trodden under foot, and the birds of the air devoured it. 6 And other fell on the rock; and as soon as it grew, it withered away, because it had no moisture. 7 And other fell amidst the thorns; and the thorns grew with it and choked it. 8 And other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit a hundredfold. As he said these things, he cried: He that has ears to hear, let him hear. 9 And his disciples asked him what this parable meant. 10 And he said: To you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God, but to the rest the parables remain as parables; so that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand. 11 Now the parable is this. The seed is the word of God. 12 Those by the way side are they that have heard; then comes the Devil and takes away the word from their heart, that they may not believe and be saved. 13 And those on the rock are they who, when they have heard, receive the word with joy; but these have no root, they for a while believe, but in time of temptation fall away. 14 And that which fell among 7:48 She already knew this, without Jesus having told her, because she loved Him so much. And He observed that her love was because she had been forgiven so much. When we are forgiven, we’re not always told so directly by Jesus; but we feel it, as she did.

8:3 Jesus attracted a group of poor men and wealthy women. He calls very different people into contact with Him and therefore each other, making the true church of Jesus an example of extraordinary unity; it’s not composed of just one psychological type, one social class, colour, race or gender. It’s a wonderful mixture. It’s the very opposite of a social club, which attracts the same types together.

8:8 He cried – Jesus so desperately wanted – and wants – people to understand His teaching.
the thorns, these are those that have heard, but as they go on their way, they are choked with cares and riches and the pleasures of life, and bring no fruit to maturity. 15 And that in the good ground are those with an honest and good heart, who having heard the word, hold it fast and bring forth fruit with patience. 16 Nobody, when he has lit a lamp, covers it with a vessel, or puts it under a bed; but puts it on a stand, so that they that enter may see the light. 17 For nothing is hid, that shall not be revealed; nor anything secret, that shall not be known and come to light. 18 Take heed therefore how you hear. For whoever has, to him shall be given; and whoever has not, from him shall be taken away even that which he thinks he has.

Jesus Calms the Storm
19 And there came to him his mother and relatives; and they could not come to him because of the crowd. 20 And it was told him: Your mother and your relatives stand outside, desiring to see you. 21 But he answered and said to them: My mother and my relatives are these that hear the word of God and do it. 22 Now it came to pass on one of those days that he boarded a boat, he and his disciples, and he said to them: Let us go over to the other side of the lake. And they cast off. 23 But as they sailed, he fell asleep; and there came down a storm of wind on the lake, and they were filling with water; and were in danger for their lives. 24 And they came to him and woke him, saying: Master, master, we perish! And he awoke, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water; and they ceased, and there was a calm. 25 And he said to them: Where is your faith? And being afraid they marvelled, saying to each other: Who then is this, that he commands even the winds and the water, and they obey him?

The Healing of Legion
26 And they arrived in the region of the Gerasenes, which is opposite Galilee. 27 And when he had arrived upon the land, there met him a certain man out of the city, who had demons, and for a long time he had worn no clothes and abode not in any house, but in the tombs. 28 And when he saw Jesus, he cried out and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said: What have I to do with you, Jesus, you Son of the Most High God? I beg you, do not torment me. 29 For he was commanding the unclean spirit to come out from the man. For oftentimes it had seized him, and he was kept under guard and bound with chains and fetters; and breaking the chains

8:16 If we hide our spiritual light, it will go out. Witnessing to our faith is for our benefit as well as that of those who receive our preaching. 8:21 Do we perceive our spiritual family as even more significant for us than our natural family? This is very hard to do, as hard as it was for Jesus to speak as He did here. 8:28 If Jesus is Son of the Most High God, then He cannot be equal to God in a Trinitarian sense; for God is the most high.
Keeping pigs was illegal for Jews as pigs were unclean animals.

Often we have been rushing to do something very important, and then somebody or something else demands our attention. The phone rings as we are rushing out of the door; a child insists upon having our attention as we are in the middle of an important conversation. In those moments of frustration, remember Jesus here. How calm He was, never flustered; how caring for people, to the point that He never ultimately ignored anyone’s genuine need.

Jesus knew who had touched Him. But He wanted the woman to come out openly in front of the crowd and declare her faith. Jesus works in our lives to ensure that we openly declare our faith before the world, even when we try not to.
Fear is the opposite of faith.

8:54 Taking her by the hand – Jesus knew the girl would be scared when she woke up alive, without any human touch. We see His total faith that the miracle would happen; and also His extreme sensitivity to people, how He thought ahead to how they were going to feel. Likewise with His command to get her something to eat. May His sensitive spirit be ours, always thinking ahead to how others will be feeling in response to events.

9:2 The frequent connection between preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom and healing was because the healings were foretastes of how things would be when the Kingdom of God is established upon earth.

9:5 Jews were supposed to shake off the dust of Gentile areas from their feet. Jesus is saying that the Jews who didn’t accept Him were no better than Gentiles. If we reject Christ, we will be “condemned with the world” (1 Cor. 11:28).
prophets had arisen. And Herod said: John I beheaded, but who is this, about whom I hear such things? And he sought to see him.

Jesus Feeds 5000 Men

10 And the apostles, when they had returned, declared to him what things they had done. And he took them and withdrew to a city called Bethsaida. 11 But the crowds knew it, and they followed him; and he welcomed them, and spoke to them of the kingdom of God, and those that had need of healing he cured. 12 And the day began to wear away; and the twelve came and said to him: Send the crowd away, that they may go into the villages and countryside and lodge and get provisions. For we are here in a deserted place. 13 But he said to them: You give them something to eat. And they said: We have no more than five loaves and two fishes, unless we go and buy food for all these people. 14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples: Make them sit down in groups, about fifty in each. 15 And they did so, and made them all sit down. 16 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them and broke them, and gave them to the disciples to set before the crowd. 17 And they ate and were all filled, and there was taken up of the leftovers twelve baskets.

Jesus Talks Privately with the Disciples

18 And it came to pass, as he was praying alone, that his disciples joined him; and he asked them, saying: Who do the crowds say that I am? 19 And they answering said: John the Baptist, but others Elijah, and others, that one of the old prophets has risen. 20 And he said to them: But who do you say that I am? And Peter answering said: The Christ of God. 21 And he ordered and commanded them to tell this to no one, 22 saying: The Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes and be killed, and the third day be raised up. 23 And he said to all: If anyone would follow me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me. 24 For whoever would save his life shall lose it, but whoever shall lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it. 25 For what does it profit a man if he gain the whole world, but lose or forfeit his life? 26 For whoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of Man be ashamed.
when he comes in his own glory and in the glory of the Father and of the holy angels. But I tell you a truth: There are some that stand here, who shall in no way taste death, until they see the kingdom of God.

The Transfiguration

And it came to pass about eight days after these sayings, that he took with him Peter, John and James and went up into the mountain to pray. And as he was praying, the appearance of his face was altered and his garment became white and dazzling. And talking with him were two men, who were Moses and Elijah, who appeared in glory and spoke of his departure which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem. Now Peter and they that were with him were heavy with sleep, but when they were fully awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him. And it came to pass, as they were parting from him, Peter said to Jesus: Master, it is good for us to be here! Let us make three booths, one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah. Not knowing what he said. And while he said these things, there came a cloud that overshadowed them; and they were fearful as they entered into the cloud. And a voice came out of the cloud, saying: This is My Son, My chosen. Hear him. And when the voice came, Jesus was found alone. And they kept quiet and told no one in those days any of the things which they had seen. And it came to pass, the next day, when they had come down from the mountain, a great crowd met him. And a man from the crowd cried, saying: Teacher, I beg you to look upon my son; for he is my only child. And a spirit seizes him, and he suddenly cries out; it convulses him so that he foams at the mouth; and it departs from him with great difficulty, bruising him. And I begged your disciples to cast it out, but they could not. And Jesus answered and said: O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall...
I be with you and put up with you? Bring your son here. 42 And as he was coming, the demon dashed him down and convulsed him. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit and healed the boy, and gave him back to his father. 43 And they were all astonished at the majesty of God. But while all were marvelling at all the things which he did, he said to his disciples: 44 Let these words sink into your ears. For the Son of Man shall be delivered up into the hands of men. 45 But they did not understand this saying, and it was hidden from them so that they did not perceive it, and they were afraid to ask Him about this saying.

Who is the Greatest?
46 And there arose a dispute among them, which of them was the greatest. 47 But when Jesus saw the reasoning of their heart, he took a little child and set him by his side, 48 and said to them: Whoever shall receive this little child in my name receives me, and whoever shall receive me, receives Him that sent me. For he that is least among you all, the same is great. 49 And John answered and said: Master, we saw one casting out demons in your name and we forbade him, because he follows not with us. 50 But Jesus said to him: Forbid not. For he that is not against you is for you.

The Challenge of the Cross
51 Now it came to pass, when the time had come for him to be received up, that he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem, 52 and sent messengers before his face; and they went and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him. 53 But they did not receive him, because his face was set for the journey to Jerusalem. 54 And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said: Lord, do you want us to command fire to come down from heaven and consume them, just as Elijah did? 55 But he turned and rebuked them, saying: You know what kind of Spirit you have. 56 And they went to another village. 57 And as they were going along the road, someone said to him: I will follow you wherever you go. 58 And Jesus said to him: The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head. 59 And he said to another: Follow me. But he said: Lord, permit me first to go and bury my father. 60 But he said to him: Leave the dead to bury their own dead, but you go and publish the kingdom of God. 61 And another also said: I will follow you Lord, but first permit me to bid farewell to them that are at my house. 62 But Jesus said to him: No one, having put his hand to the plough and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

9:51 In Luke, Jesus is described as always ‘going up to Jerusalem’ even when He was going geographically away from it. We too may take two steps backwards at times, but our overall direction is ultimately towards God’s Kingdom.
9:60 At times, Jesus is very demanding. To bury your father was seen as a Jew’s greatest domestic obligation. But Jesus and His work must come first.

The Sending of the 70

Now after these things the Lord appointed seventy others, and sent them two by two ahead of him into every city and place, where he was about to go. 2 And he said to them: The harvest indeed is plentiful, but the labourers are few. Therefore pray to the Lord of the harvest, that He send out labourers into His harvest. 3 Go your way. See, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves. 4 Carry no purse, no wallet, no shoes; and greet no one on the way. 5 And into whatever house you shall enter, first say: Peace to this house. 6 And if a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it, but if not, it shall return to you. 7 And in that same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give. For the labourer is worthy of his wages. Do not go from house to house. 8 And into whatever city you enter, if they welcome you, eat such things as are set before you. 9 Heal the sick that are therein, and say to them: The kingdom of God comes near to you. 10 But into whatever city you shall enter and they do not welcome you, go out into the streets of it and say: 11 Even the dust from your city, that clings to our feet, we wipe off against you. Nevertheless know this, that the kingdom of God comes near. 12 I say to you, it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that city. 13 Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. 14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgment, than for you. 15 And you, Capernaum, shall you be exalted to heaven? You shall be brought down to Hades. 16 He that hears you hears me; and he that rejects you rejects me, and he that rejects me rejects Him that sent me. 17 And the seventy returned with joy, saying: Lord, even the demons are subject to us in your name! 18 And he said to us.
them: I saw Satan fall like lightning from heaven. 19 See, I have given you authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall in any way hurt you. 20 Nevertheless, rejoice not that the spirits are subject to you, but rejoice that your names are written in heaven. 21 In that same hour he rejoiced in spirit, and said: I thank You, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that You hid these things from the wise and understanding, and revealed them to babes. Yes, Father. For so it was pleasing in Your sight. 22 All things have been delivered to me by my Father, and no one knows who the Son is except the Father, and who the Father is, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son wills to reveal Him. 23 And turning to the disciples, he said privately: Blessed are the eyes which see the things you see. 24 For I say to you, that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which you see, and did not see them, and to hear the things which you hear, and did not hear them.

The Parable of the Good Samaritan

25 And a certain lawyer stood up, and to test him, asked: Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? 26 And he said to him: What is written in the law? How do you read it? 27 And he answered saying: You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength, and with all your mind, and your neighbour as yourself. 28 And he said to him: You have answered correctly. This do and you shall live. 29 But he, desiring to justify himself, said to Jesus: And who is my neighbour? 30 Jesus answered and said: A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and he encountered robbers who both stripped him and beat him, and departed leaving him half dead. 31 And by chance a certain priest was going down that road; and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. 32 And in like manner a Levite also, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. 33 But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came to where he was, and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion, 34 and came to him and bound up his wounds, pouring on them oil and wine, and he put him on his own animal and brought him to an inn and took care of him. 35 And the next day he took out two denarii and gave them to the host, and said: Take care of him, and if you spend to lose power, and shouldn’t be read literally. The power of the adversary [‘Satan’ is a Hebrew word meaning ‘adversary’] had been taken away.

10:20 Our names are written in God’s book of life, but they can be removed from it if we fall away (Rev. 3:5).

10:35 Two denarii – The wage for one day’s work was one denarius (Mt. 20:2). Maybe the implication was that the Samaritan would “come again” after two days. If a day with God is as a thousand years, it could be that Jesus, the Samaritan, will return after 2000 years from when He first bound up wounded humanity and put us in the “inn” of the church.
more, I, when I come back again, will repay you. 36 Which of these three, do you think, proved a neighbour to him that encountered the robbers? 37 And he said: The one who showed him mercy. And Jesus said to him: Go and do likewise. 38 Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village, and a certain woman named Martha welcomed him into her house. 39 And she had a sister called Mary, who also sat at the Lord’s feet and heard his word. 40 But Martha was distracted with much serving. And she went up to him and said: Lord, do you not care that my sister has left me to serve alone? Tell her then to help me. 41 But the Lord answered and said to her: Martha, Martha, you are anxious and disturbed about many things. 42 But one thing is needful. For Mary has chosen the good portion, which shall not be taken away from her.

Teaching about Prayer

And it came to pass, as he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said to him: Lord, teach us to pray, even as John also taught his disciples. 2 And he said to them: When you pray, say, Father, hallowed be your name. Your kingdom come. 3 Give us day by day our daily bread. 4 And forgive us our sins. For we ourselves also forgive everyone that is indebted to us. And bring us not into temptation. 5 And he said to them: Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go to him at midnight and say to him: Friend, lend me three loaves, 6 for a friend of mine has arrived from a journey and I have nothing to set before him. 7 And he from within shall answer and say: Do not trouble me! The door is now shut and my children are with me in bed, I cannot rise.
and give anything to you? 8 I say to you, though he will not want to rise and give anything to him, yet because he is his friend, and because of the man’s persistence, he will get up and give him as much as he needs.

9 And I say to you: Ask and it shall be given you, seek and you shall find, knock and it shall be opened to you. 10 For everyone that asks receives, and he that seeks finds, and to him that knocks it shall be opened.

11 What father among you, if his son asks for a fish, will instead of a fish give him a snake? 12 Or if he shall ask for an egg, will he give him a scorpion? 13 If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask Him?

The Controversy About Beelzebub

14 And he was casting out a demon that was dumb. And it came to pass, when the demon had gone out, the dumb man spoke and the crowds marvelled. 15 But some of them said: By Beelzebub the prince of the demons he casts out demons. 16 And others, testing him, sought from him a sign from heaven. 17 But he, knowing their thoughts, said to them: Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and a family divided against a family falls apart. 18 And if Satan also is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? Because you say that I cast out demons by Beelzebub.

19 And even if I by Beelzebub cast out demons, by whom do your sons cast them out? Therefore shall they be your judges. 20 But if I by the finger of God cast out demons, then is the kingdom of God come upon you. 21 When a strong man, fully armed, guards his own palace, his goods are safe. 22 But when one stronger than he comes upon him and overcomes him, he takes from him his whole armour in which he had trusted, and divides his spoils. 23 He that is not with me is against me, and he that does not gather with me scatters. 24 When the unclean spirit has gone out of a person, it passes through waterless places seeking rest, and finding none it says: I will return to my house from which I came. 25 And when he comes, he finds it swept and put in order. 26 Then he goes and takes with him seven other spirits more evil than himself, and they enter in and dwell there; and the last state of that man becomes worse than the first. 27 And it came to pass, as he said these things, that a certain woman out of the crowd lifted up her voice and said to him: Blessed is the womb that bore you, and the breasts which you did suck. 28 But he said: Blessed rather are those who hear the word of God and keep it.

Jesus Criticizes the Jews
29 And when the crowds were gathering together to him, he began to say: This generation is an evil generation. It seeks after a sign, but there shall no sign be given to it, except the sign of Jonah. 30 For even as Jonah became a sign to the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of Man be to this generation. 31 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them. For she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, a greater than Solomon is here. 32 The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgment with this generation and shall condemn it; for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, a greater than Jonah is here. 33 No one when he has lit a lamp puts it in a cellar, neither under a bucket, but on the lightstand, so that they who enter in may see the light. 34 The lamp of your body is your eye. When your eye is single, your whole body also is full of light; but when it is evil, your body also is full of darkness. 35 Look therefore whether the light that is in you is not darkness. 36 If therefore your whole body is full of light, having no part dark, it shall be wholly full of light, as when the lamp with its bright shining gives you light. 37 Now as he spoke, a Pharisee asked him to dine with him, and he went in and sat down to eat. 38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner. 39 And the Lord said to him: Now you the Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and plate, but your inward part is full of extortion and wickedness. 40 You foolish ones, did not He that made the outside make the inside also? 41 But give for alms those things which are within, and behold, all things are clean to you.

11:28 Mary, mother of Jesus, did hear God’s word and kept it in her heart (Lk. 2:19). This was the side of Mary that Jesus wanted people to honour, rather than her physically having been His mother. 11:32 At the day of judgment, we will be judged in full view of others. The Ninevites will watch the judgment process of the first century Jews. We therefore shouldn’t be hypocritical in front of others now, because in the end they will see us revealed at judgment day for who we really are. 11:34 Our perceptions, our filtering process which we apply to life, are so important.
42 But woe to you Pharisees! For you tithe mint, rue and every herb, and neglect justice and the love of God; but these you should have done and not to leave the other undone. 43 Woe to you Pharisees! For you love the chief seats in the synagogues and the greetings in the marketplaces. 44 Woe to you! For you are like unmarked graves, and people walk over them without knowing it. 45 And one of the lawyers answering said to him: Teacher, in saying this you reproach us also. 46 And he said: Woe to you lawyers also! For you load people with burdens hard to bear, and you yourselves do not touch the burdens with one of your fingers. 47 Woe to you! For you build the tombs of the prophets whom your fathers killed. 48 So you are witnesses and consent to the works of your fathers; for they killed them and you build their tombs. 49 Therefore also the Wisdom of God said: I will send them prophets and apostles, some of whom they will kill and persecute, 50 so that the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be charged against this generation: 51 from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zachariah, who perished between the altar and the sanctuary. Yes, I say to you, it shall be required of this generation. 52 Woe to you lawyers! For you took away the key of knowledge. You did not enter in yourselves, and those that were entering in, you hindered. 53 And when he got out from there, the scribes and the Pharisees began to press upon him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things, 54 lying in wait for him, to catch him in something he might say.

CHAPTER 12

Jesus Repeats the Teaching of the Sermon on the Mount

In the mean time, when the many thousands of the crowd were gathered together, so much so that they trod one upon another, he began to say to his disciples first of all: Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. 2 But there is nothing covered up that shall not be revealed, and hid that shall not be known. 3 Therefore whatever you have said in the darkness shall be heard in the light, and what you have whispered behind closed doors shall be proclaimed upon the housetops. 4 And I say to you my friends, do not be afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can 11:52 We can hinder or stumble people from entering the Kingdom. This is perhaps the greatest sin. We therefore need to be so careful how we treat people, so that we do nothing which may lead them to turn away from the hope of the Kingdom because of our actions, exclusion of them or hypocrisy.

12:1 Hypocrisy is like leaven (yeast). Once one person starts being hypocritical, others tend to be; it spreads easily and has a huge effect, just as leaven does on bread. Jesus taught “first of all”, most importantly, to beware of hypocrisy. We need to ask ourselves daily whether we are being hypocritical; because it’s so important not to be. All will be revealed anyway (:2,3) – at the day of judgment.
12:7 God sees and knows absolutely everything – even within the animal creation. Let’s live with that awareness, that He is so intensely watching. Knowing this shouldn’t frighten us but rather encourage us – “fear not!”.

12:19 The ‘soul’ here refers to the self; Jesus piercingly analyzes the self-talk of materialistic people. It’s our self-talk that we need to watch; what are the conversations that we carry on with ourselves as we walk, travel, prepare food…? The words “I”, “my” and “soul” occur often in this story – circle them in your Bible. The man was totally self-centred.
of his life? 26 If then you are not able to do even that which is least, why are you anxious concerning the rest? 27 Consider the lilies, how they grow. They do not toil, nor do they spin. Yet I say to you, even Solomon in all his glory was not dressed like one of these. 28 But if God does so clothe the grass in the field, which today is and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, how much more shall he clothe you, O you of little faith? 29 And do not seek what you shall eat and what you shall drink, neither be of doubtful mind. 30 For all these things the nations of the world seek after, but your Father knows you have need of these things. 31 Seek His kingdom, and these things shall be added to you. 32 Fear not little flock. For it is your Father’s good pleasure to give you the kingdom. 33 Sell that which you have and give alms. Make for yourselves purses which do not grow old, a treasure in the heavens that does not fail, where no thief draws near nor moth destroys. 34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

Readiness for Christ’s Return
35 Let your loins be girded and your lamps burning, 36 and be like men who are waiting for their master to come home from the wedding feast, so that they may open the door to him at once when he comes and knocks. 37 Blessed are those servants, whom the master when he comes shall find awake. Truly I say to you, that he shall dress himself for service and make them sit down to eat, and shall come and serve them. 38 And if he shall come in the second watch and if in the third and find them waiting, so blessed

12:30 God knows our basic need for food and clothing and will provide, as He did for Israel after their ‘baptism’ in the Red Sea and journey through the wilderness. Their shoes didn’t get worn out, and He gave them bread and water daily. David says he never saw the children of the righteous begging bread (Ps. 37:25). We must really believe this promise.

12:33 Jesus was speaking to poor people when He said this. The poor can easily assume that all Christ’s teaching about wealth and generosity are for the attention of rich Christians only. But this is not the case. The poor, too, are asked to be radically generous.

12:35 An allusion to the night of Israel’s Passover exodus from Egypt. We are to have that same intensity, aware that Jesus could return at any moment.

12:36 How immediately we respond to the knowledge that Christ has returned will affect our eternal future, as in Mt. 25:10. If we are longing for His return and have a light hold on our material life, we will be ready to go immediately with joy and no regrets. The more we possess, the harder this will be.

12:37 Another unreal element in the parables – the Master would never come and serve His servants. But Jesus will do so – because He will be so pleased that they were watching and eager for His return. At the marriage supper of the Lamb, when Jesus again will eat and drink with us (Mt. 26:29), He will come and serve us. His loving servanthood is a characteristic that He has even now; it wasn’t just how He was when on earth. He will always be the same as He was then (Heb. 13:8).
The judgment of God is likened to fire; but that fire is kindled, the match is set to it, by human beings. God’s judgment is only confirming sinful people in what they themselves have chosen.

Jesus ‘came’ to send judgment (v. 49); and He came to send division within families. Such division is therefore His judgment upon them; but they will have kindled that fire themselves by their own rejection of His message of peace.
13:3 Sin and suffering aren’t necessarily related in this life. The book of Job is all about this. Indeed, the wicked prosper. But sin will have its recompense – which creates the necessity for the coming of the day of judgment when Jesus returns.

13:7 The “man” who owned the vineyard [Israel] is God; the “vinedresser” is Jesus. The three years are the three years of Christ’s ministry. Jesus knew God so well that He asked Him to delay His plan to destroy Israel, to give them yet more opportunity to give spiritual fruit (v. 8). Moses and other Bible characters showed us that we can reason with God, and in some cases He is prepared to change His stated intentions. Prayer is so powerful! Earlier, Israel were the vine and the Lord Jesus the vinedresser (Jn. 15:1). We are in good hands; and the Father and Son who through Biblical history showed themselves so sensitive to spiritual fruit are the very same ones who will meet us in the last day.

59 I say to you, you shall never get out, until you have paid the very last coin.

CHAPTER 13  Mar. 22  Sep. 21

The Problem of Suffering

Now there were some present at that very time who told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. And he answered and said to them: Do you think that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they have suffered these things? I tell you no, but unless you repent, you shall all in like manner perish. Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them. Do you think that they were offenders above all the men that dwell in Jerusalem? I tell you no, but unless you repent, you shall all likewise perish. And he spoke this parable: A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit thereon and found none. And he said to the vinedresser: Behold, these three years I came seeking fruit on this fig tree and find none. Cut it down. Why should it use up the ground? And he answering said to him: Master, leave it alone this year also, I shall dig about it and fertilize it. Then if it should bear fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you shall cut it down. And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath day. And a woman was there who had had a disabling spirit for eighteen years; she was bent over and could in no way straighten herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her and said to her: Woman, you are free from your infirmity. And he laid his hands upon her, and immediately she was made straight, and she glorified God.
eighteen years, to have been freed from this bond on the Sabbath day?
17 And as he said these things, all his adversaries were put to shame, and all the crowd rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

The Last Judgment
18 He replied: To what is the kingdom of God like? And unto what shall I liken it? 19 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and threw into his own garden, and it grew and became a tree, and the birds of the sky lodged in the branches of it. 20 And again he said: Unto what shall I liken the kingdom of God? 21 It is like the yeast which a woman took and hid in three measures of flour, until it was all raised. 22 And he went on his way through cities and villages, teaching and journeying on to Jerusalem. 23 And one said to him: Lord, are they few that are saved? And he said to them: 24 Strive to enter in by the narrow door. For I say to you, many shall seek to enter in, and shall not be able. 25 When the master of the house is risen and has shut the door, and you begin to stand without and to knock at the door, saying: Lord, open to us!- he shall answer and say to you: I do not know who you are. 26 Then shall you begin to say: We did eat and drink in your presence, and you did teach in our streets. 27 And he shall say: I tell you, I do not know from where you are. Depart from me, all you workers of iniquity. 28 There shall be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth, when you shall see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, and yourselves cast out. 29 And they shall come from the east and the west, and from the north and the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God. 30 And behold, some are last who will be first, and some are first who will be last.

13:21 The Gospel is like leaven [yeast]. It can influence a huge amount of flour. The Gospel we preach has more power and potential to radically change people than we realize.
13:23 We all tend to wonder about such questions of Divine ‘fairness’. Jesus gives no answer but says that we should focus instead upon our own salvation (v. 24) – rather than dabble in questions which are God’s concern and beyond our comprehension.
13:25 The ideas of standing at the door and knocking are all found in Rev. 3:20, where Jesus says that He does this to us. If we’ve not opened to Him, not responded to His promptings in this life, then He will not open the door to eternity to us when He comes again.
13:26 Eat and drink in your presence – A reference to the fact they had participated in the communion service? There will be some who break bread who will not be saved ultimately. We must ask “Lord, is it I?”.
13:28 You shall see... yourselves – The purpose of the judgment process will be for our benefit, to help people see themselves from outside of themselves, to see themselves as they really are. It’s not in order for God to gather information and make a verdict; He knows all things. In this sense, “judgment” is a metaphor not to be pushed too far.
Sorrow for Jerusalem

31 In that very hour certain Pharisees came warning him: Get out and leave here. For Herod wants to kill you. 32 And he said to them: Go and say to that fox, Behold, I cast out demons and perform cures today and tomorrow; and on the third day I shall reach my goal. 33 Nevertheless I must go on my way today and tomorrow and the day following. For it cannot be possible that a prophet can die anywhere except Jerusalem. 34 O Jerusalem! Jerusalem that kills the prophets and stones them that are sent to her! How often would I have gathered your children together, even as a hen gathers her own brood under her wings, and you were not willing! 35 Look, your house is left to you desolate; and I say to you, you shall not see me, until you shall say: Blessed is he that comes in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER 14

And it came to pass, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a Sabbath to eat bread, that they were watching him. 2 And before him was a certain man that had the dropsy. 3 And Jesus answering spoke to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying: Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath, or not? 4 But they held their peace. And he took him and healed him, and let him go. 5 And he said to them: Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fall into a well, and will not immediately draw him up on a Sabbath day? 6 And they could not answer these things.

Teaching About Humility

7 And when he noted how they chose out the chief seats, he told a parable to those that were invited, saying to them: 8 When you are invited by anyone to a marriage feast, do not sit in the chief seat; lest a more honourable man than you be invited by him, 9 and he that invited you shall come and say to you: Give this man your place. Then you shall be shamed into taking the lowest place. 10 But when you are invited, go and sit down in the lowest place; that when he that has invited you comes, he may say to you: Friend, go up higher. Then shall you have glory in the presence of all that sit to eat with you. 11 For everyone that exalts himself shall be humbled, and he that humbles himself shall be exalted. 12 And he also said to him that had invited him: When you make a dinner or a supper, call not your friends, nor your brothers and sisters, nor your kinsmen, nor rich neighbours, unless they also invite you and repay you. 13 But when 14:10 We are to take the lowest place in the ecclesia / church. Jesus is the one who invited us (v. 9), and He will “come” and inspect us at His return. And He will rearrange the order at which we sit at table. Our breaking of bread services are foretastes of our eating with Jesus at His return. We should take the lowest place in those meetings, at least in our hearts; aware of our own failings, and seeing our brothers and sisters positively and with grace.

14:13 The poor, maimed, lame and blind are the very ones whom God invites to His you make a feast, invite the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind, and you shall be blessed; because they do not have anything to repay you with. For you shall be recompensed in the resurrection of the just.

The Parable of the Great Supper

15 And when one of his dinner guests heard these things, he said to him: Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God! 16 But he said to him: A certain man made a great supper and he invited many. 17 And he sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were invited: Come. For everything is now ready. 18 And they all began to make similar excuses. The first said to him: I have bought a field and I need to go out and see it; I pray you excuse me. 19 And another said: I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to test them. I pray you, have me excused. 20 And another said: I have married a wife, and therefore, I cannot come. 21 And the servant came and told his master these things. Then the master of the house, being angry, said to his servant: Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city and bring in here the poor and maimed and blind and lame. 22 And the servant said: Master, what you did command is done, and still there is room. 23 And the master said to the servant: Go out into the highways and hedges and compel them to come, that my house may be filled. 24 For I say to you, that none of those men that were invited shall taste my supper.

Radical Demands

25 Now there went with him great crowds; and he turned and said to them: 26 If anyone comes to me, and hates not his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, yes and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. 27 Whoever does not bear his own cross and come after me, cannot be my disciple. 28 For which of you, desiring to build a tower, does not first sit down and count the cost, whether he have enough to complete it? 29 Unless, when he has laid a foundation and is not able to finish it, all that watch begin to mock him, saying: 30 This man began to build, and was not able to finish. 31 Or what king, as he goes to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and take counsel, whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him that comes against him with twenty thousand? 32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sends an ambassador and asks conditions of peace. 33 So therefore whoever of you does not renounce all that he has, cannot be my disciple.

Salt therefore is good, but if the salt has lost its taste, with what shall it be seasoned? 35 It is useful neither for the soil nor for the manure heap, it is thrown away. He that has ears to hear, let him hear.

CHAPTER 15

Mar. 23  Sep. 22

The Lost Sheep

Now all the tax collectors and sinners were drawing near to him to hear him teach. 2 And both the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying: This man receives sinners and eats with them. 3 And he spoke to them this parable, saying: 4 What man of you, having a hundred sheep and having lost one of them, does not leave the other ninety nine in the wilderness and go after that which is lost, until he finds it? 5 And when he has found it, he lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing. 6 And when he comes home, he calls together his friends and his neighbours, saying to them: Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost! 7 I say to you, that even so there shall be more joy in heaven over one sinner that repents, than over ninety nine righteous persons, who need no repentance.

The Lost Coin

8 Or what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she loses one piece, does not light a lamp and sweeps the house and seeks diligently until she finds it? 9 And when she has found it, she calls together her friends and neighbours, saying: Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I had lost. 10 Even so, I say to you, there is

14:31 The King who comes against us with far more strength is God; coming in judgment of our sins. Sin is serious, and isn’t just ignored by God with a grin. It is a felt offence against Him, that provokes His wrath. We make peace with Him, we are reconciled, through the work and sacrifice of Jesus.

15:4 The answer is: No shepherd does this, nor does he throw a party for the sake of that sheep (v. 6). The point of unreality in these parables would’ve been immediately noticed by the first century hearers. The point of unreality is what teaches the lesson – in this case, that God is exceptionally concerned about the lost. As we should be too.

15:8 Her dowry was all that a woman possessed; even her body wasn’t hers. To lose a dowry coin was therefore to lose part of herself; this is how hard God takes when He loses one of His people. She searched “until she finds it” – God, and we too, should search for the lost with the attitude that we will search until we find them. We certainly joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repents.

The Lost Sons

11 And he said: A certain man had two sons. 12 And the younger of them said to his father: Father, give me the inheritance of property that is coming to me. And he divided his property between them. 13 Not many days later, the younger son gathered into money all he had, and took a journey into a far country; and there he squandered his inheritance in reckless living. 14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that country, and he began to be in want. 15 And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed pigs. 16 And he would gladly have filled his belly with the husks that the pigs ate, but no one gave him anything. 17 But when he came to his senses he said: How many of my father’s hired servants have bread enough to spare, but I perish here with hunger! 18 I will rise and go to my father, and will say to him: Father, I have sinned against heaven and in your sight. I am no more worthy to be called your son. 19 Make me as one of your hired servants. 20 And he rose and went to his father. But while he was yet far away, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran and embraced and kissed him. 21 And the son said to him: Father, I have sinned against heaven and in your sight. I am no more worthy to be called your son. 22 But the father said to his servants: Bring quickly the best robe and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand and shoes on his feet. 23 And bring the fatted calf, kill it and let us eat and make merry. 24 For this my son who was dead, is alive again! He was lost and is found! And they began to be merry. 25 Now his elder son was in the field; and as he came and drew near to the house, he heard music and dancing. 26 And he called one of the servants, and inquired what these things might mean. 27 And he said to him: Your brother came, and your father has killed the fatted calf, because he has received him safe and sound. 28 But he was angry and would not go in; and his father came out and encouraged him. 29 But he answered and said to his father: Look! For so many years I have served you, and I never transgressed a commandment of yours, and yet you never gave me a kid that I might make merry with my friends. 30 But when this your son came, who should not exclude any of God’s people from His house; we should search passionately for any who leave.

15:12 This request was equivalent to saying ‘I wish you were dead’.
15:20 For an old man to run publically was seen as undignified. This unreal feature of the story shows just how much he was delighted his son was returning; it speaks of the radical joy of God when we return to Him. When a prodigal returned to a village, they would’ve been badly mocked by everyone who knew them. The father therefore ran to the son to shield him from the name calling and stone throwing of children. We should seek to shield from shame those who ‘come back’.
15:32 The vital point of Jesus’ parables is often at the end. This story isn’t so much about a sinner coming home, but about self-righteous people within the house of God who say “If he’s coming back, I’m out of here”.

16:10 All that we have been given by God, spiritually and materially, is “a very little”. Only a small portion of God is known by us (Job 26:14). So because we may correctly understand the Bible on some points, let’s not think that we have 100% truth about God or ‘know it all’.

16:11 How we handle wealth [whether we have to manage much or little of it] is proportionate to how we will eternally be in God’s Kingdom.
For what is exalted among men is an abomination in the sight of God. 16 The law and the prophets were until John. From that time the gospel of the kingdom of God is preached, and every man enters violently into it. 17 But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tittle of the law to fall. 18 Everyone that puts away his wife and marries another commits adultery, and he that marries one that is put away from a husband commits adultery.

The Parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus
19 Now there was a certain rich man who was clothed in purple and fine linen, dining sumptuously every day. 20 And a certain beggar named Lazarus was laid at his gate, full of sores, desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man’s table. Yes, even the dogs came and licked his sores. 22 And it came to pass, that the beggar died; and he was carried away by the angels into Abraham’s breast, and the rich man also died and was buried. 23 And in Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his breast. 24 And he cried and said: Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue; for I am in anguish in this flame. 25 But Abraham said: Son, remember how you in your lifetime received your good things and Lazarus in like manner evil things, but now here he is comforted, and you are in anguish. 26 And besides all this, between us and you there is fixed a great gulf, so that they that would pass from here to you cannot, and none may cross over from there to us. 27 And he said: Therefore I beg you father that you would send him to my father’s house. 28 For I have five brothers. That he may testify to them, lest they also come into this place of torment. 29 But Abraham said: They have Moses and the prophets. Let them hear them. 30 And he said: No father Abraham; but if one goes to them from the dead, they will repent. 31 And he said to him: If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, even if one rises from the dead.

CHAPTER 17  Mar. 25  Sep. 24
Jesus Teaches About Faith and Forgiveness
And he said to his disciples: Stumbling blocks are sure to come, but woe to the one through whom they come! 2 It would be better for him if a millstone was hung about his neck and he was thrown into the sea, than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble. 3 Pay attention to yourselves! If your brother sins, rebuke him; and if he repents, forgive him. 4 And if he sins against you seven times in the day and seven times turns again to you, saying: I repent: You shall forgive him. 5 And the apostles said to the Lord: Increase our faith. 6 And the Lord said: If you had faith the size of a mustard seed, you would say to this sycamore tree: Be rooted up and be planted in the sea- and it would obey you. 7 But who is there of you, having a servant ploughing or keeping sheep, that will say to him when he comes in from the field: Come immediately and sit down to eat. 8 Instead will he not say to him: Make ready my supper and dress yourself and serve me, and after I have eaten and drunk, then you shall eat and drink? 9 Does he thank the servant because he did the things that were commanded? I think not. 10 Even so you also, when you shall have done all the things that are commanded of you, say: We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.

Jesus Heals Ten Lepers

11 And it came to pass, as they were on their way to Jerusalem, that he was passing along the borders of Samaria and Galilee. 12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men who were lepers, who stood far away. 13 And they lifted up their voices, saying: Jesus, master, have mercy on us! 14 And when he saw them, he said to them: Go and show yourselves to the priests. And it came to pass, as they went, as they went... were cleansed. 15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, glorifying God in a loud voice. 16 And he fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks—though he was a Samaritan. 17 And Jesus responded: Were not ten cleansed? Where are the other nine? 18 Were there none found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger? 19 And he said to him: Arise and go your way. Your faith has made you whole.

The Coming of Messiah

20 And being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God comes, he answered them and said: The kingdom of God comes not with observation. 21 Neither shall they say, Here it is, or, There it is! For the kingdom of God is among you. 22 And he said to the disciples: The days will come, when you shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of Man and you shall not see it. 23 And they shall say to you, Look there, or, Look here. Do not go, nor follow after them.

24 For as the lightning shines from one part under the heaven to the other part under heaven, so shall the Son of Man be in his day. 25 But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected by this generation. 26 And as it was in the days of Noah, even so shall it also be in the days of the Son of Man. 27 They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark and the flood came and destroyed them all. 28 Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of Lot they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built. 29 But in the day that Lot went out from Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven and destroyed them all. 30 After the same manner shall it be in the day that the Son of Man is revealed. 31 In that day, he that shall be on the housetop with his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away, and let him that is in the field likewise not return back. 32 Remember Lot’s wife! 33 Whoever shall seek to gain his life.
shall lose it, but whoever shall lose it shall preserve it. 34 I say to you: In that night there shall be two men in one bed. One shall be taken, and the other shall be left. 35 There shall be two women grinding together at the mill; one shall be taken and the other shall be left. 36 There shall be two men in the field; one shall be taken and the other shall be left. 37 And they answered and said to him: Where, Lord? And he said to them: Where the body is, there will also the eagles gather together.

Jesus Teaches About Prayer

And he spoke a parable to them, that they should always pray and not lose heart, saying: 2 There was in a city a judge, who did not fear God and had no regard for man. 3 And there was a widow in that city; and she came often to him, saying: Give me justice against my adversary. 4 And for a while he would not, but afterward he said to himself: Though I neither fear God, nor regard man, 5 yet because this widow troubles me, I will give her justice, lest she wear me out by her continual coming. 6 And the Lord said: Hear what the unrighteous judge says. 7 And shall not God give justice to His chosen, who cry to Him day and night? Will He be slow to help them? 8 I say to you, that He will give justice to them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, shall he find faith on the earth? 9 And he spoke also this parable to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and treated others with contempt. 10 Two men went into the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. 11 The Pharisee stood and prayed thus: God, I thank you that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this tax collector. 12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I get.

17:37 Don’t worry where the judgment seat will be, or how we will get there. We will get there as naturally as God makes the eagles go into the air and come down where the carcass is.

18:3 The element of unreality in this parable is that a widow woman, with no male to advocate for her, went directly to the judge. This speaks of the spiritual ambition which we should have in daring to continually pray to God; and perhaps also indicates how approachable God is, even if prayer to God Himself initially seems too wonderful an idea for us.

18:7 The apparent silence of God to our prayers is because of His patience with us, not His deafness or indifference.

18:8 Shall He find faith on the earth? – It’s an open question. The context speaks of how God answers prayer. The fact He does this should inspire faith. But will there be such faith in the earth [maybe “land”, of Israel] on the eve of Christ’s return?
13 But the tax collector, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes to heaven, but struck his breast, saying: God, be merciful to me, the sinner. 14 I say to you, this man went home rendered righteous rather than the other. For everyone that exalts himself shall be humbled, but he that humbles himself shall be exalted. 15 And they were bringing to him even their babies, that he should touch them; but when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them. 16 But Jesus called them to him, saying: Permit the little children to come to me, and do not forbid them. For to such belongs the kingdom of God. 17 Truly I say to you, Whoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no way enter into it.

The Rich Ruler
18 And a certain ruler asked him, saying: Good Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? 19 And Jesus said to him: Why do you call me good? None is good, save one- God! 20 You know the commandments: Do not commit adultery. Do not kill. Do not steal. Do not bear false witness. Honour your father and mother. 21 And he said: All these things have I observed from my youth. 22 And when Jesus heard it, he said to him: One thing you lack yet. Sell all you have and distribute to the poor, and you shall have treasure in heaven; and come follow me. 23 But when he heard these things, he became exceedingly sorrowful. For he was very rich. 24 And Jesus looking at him, said: How hard it shall be for those that have riches to enter into the kingdom of God! 25 For it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle’s eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. 26 And they that heard it said: Then who can be saved? 27 But he said: The things which are impossible with men are possible with God. 28 And Peter said: We have left our own and followed you. 29 And he said to them: Truly I say to you: There is no one that has left house, or wife, or brothers, or parents, or children, for the kingdom of God’s sake, who shall not receive many times more in this time, and in the age to come, eternal life.

18:13 Struck his breast – The same Greek phrase is found only in the account of how those who watched the crucifixion of Jesus struck their breasts (Lk. 23:48). Here in 18:13, striking the breast means contrition and repentance. So it probably means the same in 23:48. Watching the death of Jesus brought people to repentance. This is why when we remember the death of Jesus at the breaking of bread service, we are naturally led to self-examination and repentance (1 Cor. 11:28).

18:14 Rendered righteous – We are not righteous in ourselves; but we are counted righteous by God through our being “in Christ” by baptism and continued faith in Him.

18:30 In this time – We receive these things in the church of God, through our relationships with others in Christ. Christianity isn’t intended to be lived in isolation from other believers.
The Way to Jerusalem

31 And he took aside the twelve, and said to them: We will go up to Jerusalem, and all the things that are written through the prophets about the Son of Man shall be accomplished. 32 For he shall be delivered up to the Gentiles, and shall be mocked and shamefully treated, and spat upon. 33 And they shall scourge and kill him, and on the third day he shall rise again. 34 And they understood none of these things, and this saying was hid from them, and they did not understand the things that were said. 35 And it came to pass, as he drew near to Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging. 36 And hearing a crowd going by, he inquired what this meant. 37 And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passes by. 38 And he cried, saying: Jesus, you son of David, have mercy on me! 39 And those who led the way rebuked him, saying that he should be quiet; but he cried out all the more: You son of David, have mercy on me! 40 And Jesus stopped and commanded him to be brought to him; and when he came near, he asked him: 41 What do you want me to do for you? And he said: Lord, that I may receive my sight. 42 And Jesus said to him: Receive your sight; your faith has made you whole. 43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God; and when all the people saw it, they gave praise to God.

CHAPTER 19

And he entered Jericho and was passing through. 2 And a man named Zacchaeus, who was a chief tax collector, and rich, 3 was seeking to see who Jesus was; but on account of the crowd he could not, because he was small of stature. 4 And he ran ahead and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him, for he was to pass that way. 5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up and said to him: Zacchaeus, make haste and come down, for today I must stay at your house. 6 And he made haste and came down, and received him joyfully. 7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying: He is gone in to lodge with a man that is a sinner. 8 And Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord: Behold Lord, half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have wrongfully exacted something from anyone, I restore fourfold. 9 And Jesus said to him: Today salvation has come to this house, as he said to him: Receive your sight; your faith has made you whole.

18:34  Note the repetition of the fact they didn’t understand. They had a psychological barrier to the cross, just as we do in some ways – to share in the cross of Jesus is so demanding.

19:7  Fellowshipping with sinners through eating with them was seen as very wrong; the faithful Jew only fellowshipped with those who were “clean” and apparently not associated with sin. Jesus’ open table policy showed the very opposite. There is no ‘guilt by association’; He fellowshipped with people in order to bring them to Him, rather than only eating His bread with those who had reached a certain standard.

19:9  He was a Jew (“son of Abraham”), but worked for the Romans collecting taxes also is a son of Abraham. 10 For the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost.

The Parable of the Minas

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spoke a parable, because he was near to Jerusalem, and because they supposed that the kingdom of God was immediately to appear. 12 He therefore said: A certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a kingdom and then return. 13 And he called ten servants of his, gave them ten minas and said to them: Trade with this until I return. 14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a delegation after him, saying: We do not want this man to reign over us. 15 And it came to pass, when he had returned, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these servants to whom he had given the money to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by trading. 16 And the first came before him, saying: Lord, your minas have made ten minas more. 17 And he said to him: Well done, you good servant. Because you were found faithful in a very little, have authority over ten cities. 18 And the second came, saying: Your minas, Lord, have made five minas. 19 And he said to him: And you are to be over five cities. 20 And another came, saying: Lord, behold, here is your mina, I kept it laid away in a piece of cloth, 21 for I feared you, because you are a hard man. You demand what you did not deposit, and reap that which you did not sow. 22 He said to him: Out of your own mouth will I judge you, you wicked servant. You thought that I am a hard man, demanding back what I did not deposit, and reaping that which I did not sow? 23 Why then did you not from the Jews. He would’ve been a very lonely, despised and rejected person. These are the kinds of people who respond to Jesus.

19:17 Ten cities – There is an element of unreality in the parable of the pounds: wise use of a few coins results in power over several cities. We are left to imagine the men marvelling in disbelief at the reward given to them. They expected at most just a few pounds to be given to them. And in their response we see a picture of the almost disbelief of the faithful at their rewards.

19:20 He justifies himself by saying that he has “kept” the money, using the word elsewhere used about the need to keep or hold on to the doctrines of the One Faith (1 Tim. 1:19; 3:9; 2 Tim. 1:13; Rev. 6:9). He had done this, he had held on, he hadn’t left the faith. And he thought this was enough to bring him to the Kingdom. But we must creatively use the basic gift of the Gospel which we have been given.

19:23 Jesus will explain to the rejected how they might have entered eternity. This will be quite enough mental torment and punishment. The Law of Moses forbade Jews to lend money to other Jews for interest. Jesus was telling His parables to Jews in a Jewish context. He’s saying: “Even if you had done what was not the best, not the most obedient; but if you had done at least something, I would’ve accepted you’. But the man thought Jesus was a hard, grace-less man. Alternatively, Jesus may have meant: ‘You could at least have given the Gospel to the Gentiles’.
Jesus Enters Jerusalem

28 And when he had said these things, he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem. 29 And it came to pass, when he drew near to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount that is called Olivet, he sent two of the disciples, 30 saying: Go into the village in front of you, where on entering you will find a colt tied, on which no one has ever yet sat. Untie it and bring it here. 31 And if anyone asks you: Why do you untie him? You are to say: The Lord has need of him. 32 And they that were sent went away and found as he had said to them. 33 And as they were untying the colt, the owners of it said to them: Why do you untie the colt? 34 And they said: The Lord has need of him. 35 And they brought it to Jesus, and they threw their garments upon the colt and sat Jesus on it. 36 And as he went, they spread their garments on the road. 37 And as he was now drawing near, at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole crowd of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works which they had seen, saying: 38 Blessed is the King that comes in the name of the Lord! Peace in heaven and glory in the highest! 39 And some of the Pharisees from the crowd said to him: Teacher, rebuke your disciples. 40 And he answered and said: I tell you, that if these shall hold their peace, the stones will cry out. 41 And when he drew near, he saw the city and wept over it, 42 saying: If you had known in this day, even you, the things which belong to your peace! But now they are hid from your eyes. 43 For the days shall come upon you, when your enemies shall set up a barricade around you, and surround you, and hem you in on every side, 44 and... shall dash you to the ground, and your children within you; and they shall not leave in you one stone upon another. All this will happen because you did not perceive the time of your visitation. 45 And he entered into the temple, and began to throw out those that were selling there, 46 saying to them: It is written: My house shall be a house of prayer. But you have made it a den of thieves! 47 And he was teaching daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes and the leading men of the people sought to destroy him. 48 But they could not figure out what they might do, because all the people so hung upon his words.

The Question of Authority

And it came to pass, on one of the days he was teaching the people in the temple and preaching the gospel, there came to him the chief priests and the scribes with the elders. 2 And they spoke, saying to him: Tell us. By what authority do you do these things? Or, who is he that gave you this authority? 3 And he answered and said to them: I also will ask you a question. Now tell me, 4 the baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men? 5 And they discussed it among themselves, saying: If we shall say from heaven, he will say, why did you not believe him? 6 But if we shall say, from men, all the people will stone us, for they are persuaded that John was a prophet. 7 And they answered that they did not know. 8 And Jesus said to them: Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things.

9 And he began to speak to the people this parable: A man planted a vineyard and rented it to husbandmen, and went into another country for a long time. 10 And when the time came, he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard; but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty handed. 11 And he sent yet another servant, and him also they beat, and handled him shamefully, and sent him away empty handed. 12 And he sent yet a third, and him also they wounded and threw him out. 13 And the lord of the vineyard said: What shall I do? I will send my beloved son. It may be they will respect him. 14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned... one with another, saying: This is the heir! Let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours. 15 And they threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do to them? 16 He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said: God forbid. 17 But he looked upon them, and said: What then is this that is written: The stone which the builders rejected, the same was made the headstone of the corner? 18 Everyone that falls on that stone shall be broken to pieces, but on whoever it shall fall, it will grind him to dust.

The Jews Try to Catch Out Jesus

19 And the scribes and the chief priests sought to arrest him in that very hour, but they feared the people. For they perceived that he spoke this parable against them. 20 And they watched him and sent out spies, who pretended to be sincere, so that they might catch him in something he said; so as to deliver him up to the authority and jurisdiction of the Roman governor. 21 And they asked him, saying: Teacher, we know you say and teach rightly, and show no favouritism to any person, but in truth teach the way of God. 22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute to Caesar, or not? 23 But he perceived their craftiness, and said to them: 24 Show me a denarius. Whose image and superscription has it? And they said: Caesar’s. 25 And he said to them: Then render to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s. 26 And they were not able to catch him in what he said in the presence of the people, so they marvelled at his answer and held their peace. 27 And there came to him certain of the Sadducees, they that say that there is no resurrection. 28 And they asked him, saying: Teacher, Moses wrote to us, that if a man’s brother dies, having a wife but he is childless, his brother should take the wife and raise up seed to his brother. 29 There were therefore seven brothers; and the first took a wife and died childless. 30 And the second, and the third took her, and likewise the seventh also left no children, and died. 32 Afterward the woman also died. 33 In the resurrection, whose wife of these shall she be? For the seven had her as wife. 34 And Jesus said to them: The children of this world marry and are given in marriage. 35 But they that are accounted worthy to attain to that world and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage. 36 Neither can they die any more; for they are equal to the angels, and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. 37 But that the dead are raised, even Moses showed, in the passage about the bush, when he called the Lord: The God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob. 38 Now He is not the God of the dead, but of the living. For all live to Him. 39 And certain of the scribes answering said: Teacher, you have said well. 40 And after that they dared not question him anymore. 41 And he said to them: Why do they say that the Christ is David’s son? 42 For David himself said in the book of Psalms: The Lord said to my Lord: Sit on My right hand, 43 until 20:36 Angels cannot die: “Death...does not lay hold of angels” (Heb. 2:16 Diaglott margin). If angels could sin, then those who are found worthy of reward at Christ’s return will also still be able to sin. And seeing that sin brings death (Rom. 6:23), they will therefore not have eternal life; if we have a possibility of sinning, we have the capability of dying. Thus to say angels can sin makes God’s promise of eternal life meaningless, seeing that our reward is to share the nature of the angels. The reference to “the angels” shows that there is no categorization of angels as good or sinful; there is only one category of angels. Dan. 12:3 says that the faithful will shine as the stars; and stars are associated with the Angels (Job 38:7). We will be made like Angels; and yet we will be given immortal, sinless nature. Therefore, Angels can’t sin. Our hope is to enter into the wonderful freedom of nature which the “Sons of God”, i.e. the Angels, now share (Rom. 8:19).

20:37, 38 God is the God of Abraham here and now, even though Abraham is dead and unconscious. Because the dead are unconscious, because our memories of them fade and distort, we tend to think subconsciously that this is how God too sees the dead believers. But “all live to him”, the souls under the altar cry out to Him for vengeance; in other words, His constant, detailed awareness of their characters provokes Him to act in world affairs even now (Rev. 6:9; 20:4). The Heavenly Jerusalem with which we are associated in Christ is composed of “the spirits (characters) of just men made perfect” (Heb. 12:23). As we strive to develop a spiritual character now, our spirit becomes associated with those pleasing characters (“spirits”) who reached a level of spiritual completion (“perfection”).
I make your enemies the footstool of your feet. 44 David therefore calls him Lord, so, how is he his son? 45 And in the hearing of all the people, he said to his disciples: 46 Beware of the scribes, who desire to walk in long robes and love greetings in the marketplaces, and chief seats in the synagogues, and chief places at feasts, 47 who devour widows’ houses and for a pretence make long prayers. These shall receive greater condemnation.

CHAPTER 21

And he looked up and saw the rich men that were casting their gifts into the treasury. 2 And he saw a certain poor widow throwing in there two small coins. 3 And he said: Of a truth I say to you: This poor widow threw in more than all of them. 4 For all these out of their abundance have put in offerings, but she out of her poverty put in all she had to live on.

5 And as some spoke of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and offerings, he said: 6 As for these things which you behold, the days will come, in which there shall not be left here one stone upon another; all shall be thrown down. 7 And they asked him, saying: Teacher, when shall these things be? And what shall be the sign when these things are about to happen? 8 And he said: Take heed you are not led astray. For many shall come in my name, saying: I am he, and, The time is at hand. Do not be led astray by them. 9 And when you shall hear of wars and revolutions, do not be terrified. For these things are necessary and must happen first, but the end will not be immediately. 10 Then said he to them: Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, 11 and there shall be great earthquakes, and in various places famines and pestilences, and there shall be terrors and great signs from heaven. 12 But more significantly than all these things, they shall lay their hands on you and shall persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues and prisons, bringing you before kings and governors for my name’s sake. 13 It shall turn out to be your opportunity to give a witness. 14 Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate beforehand how to answer. 15 For I will give you the words and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to withstand or to contradict. 16 But you shall be delivered up even by your parents and brothers and relatives and friends, and they shall kill some of you. 17 And you shall be hated of... all men for my name’s sake. 18 But not a hair of your head shall perish. 19 In your patience, you shall win your souls. 20 But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then know that her desolation is at hand. 21 Then let them that are in Judea flee to the mountains, and let them that are in the midst of her depart, and do not let them that are in the countryside enter therein. 22 For these are days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled. 23 Woe to them that are with child in those days, and to those nursing babies! For there shall be great distress upon the land, and wrath upon this people. 24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led captive into all the nations, and Jerusalem shall be trodden under foot by the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. 25 And there shall be signs in sun, moon and stars, and upon the earth distress of nations, in perplexity for the roaring of the sea and the waves. 26 Men will be fainting for fear in expectation of the things which are coming on the world; for the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. 27 And then shall they see the Son of Man coming in a cloud, with power and great glory. 28 But when these things begin to happen, look up, lift up your heads, because your redemption draws near. 29 And he told them a parable: Behold the fig tree and all the trees. 30 When they shoot forth, you see it, and know of yourselves that the summer is now near. 31 Even so, you also, when you see these things happening, know that the kingdom of God is near. 32 Truly I say to you: This generation shall not pass away until all things are accomplished. 33 Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. 34 But take heed to yourselves, lest your hearts be weighed down with partying, drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that day come on you unexpectedly. 35 For so shall it come upon all those that dwell on the face of all the earth. 36 But watch continually, praying that you may have strength to prevail against all these things that are going to take place, and to stand before the Son of Man. 37 And every day he was teaching in the temple, and every night he went and stayed on the mount that is called Olivet. 38 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him.

CHAPTER 22  Mar. 30  Sep. 29
The Last Passover

Now the feast of unleavened bread drew near, which is called the Passover. 2 And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might put him to death, for they feared the people. 3 And Satan entered into Judas who was called Iscariot, who was one of the twelve. 4 And he went away, and discussed with the chief priests and captains how he might betray him to them. 5 And they were glad, and agreed to give him money. 6 And he consented, and looked for an opportunity to betray him to them in the absence of the crowd. 7 And the day of unleavened bread came, on which the Passover must be sacrificed. 8 And he sent Peter and John on an errand, saying: Go and make preparations for us to eat the Passover. 9 And they asked him: Where do you want us to prepare for it? 10 And he said to them: When you enter into the city, there you shall meet a man carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him into the house to which he goes. 11 And you shall say to the master of the house: The Teacher says to you: Where is the guest room, in which I shall eat the Passover with my disciples? 12 And he will show you a large furnished upper room. There make ready. 13 And they went and found as he had said to them, and they made ready the Passover. 14 And when the hour had arrived, he sat down with the apostles. 15 And he said to them: I have eagerly desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer. 16 For I say to you, I shall not eat it again until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God. 17 And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks, he said: Take this and share it among yourselves. 18 For I say to you, I shall not drink of the fruit of the vine from this time forward, until the kingdom of God shall come. 19 And he took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and gave it to them, saying: This is my body which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me. 20 And after the cup, he took the bread, and when he had given thanks, he said: Take this, and divide it among yourselves. 21 For I say to you, I shall not eat this fruit of the vine from this time forward, until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God. 22 And when he had given thanks, he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he said: Take this, and give it to the disciples, saying: Drink from it, all of you. 23 For this is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins. 24 And I tell you, I shall not drink of this fruit of the vine from this time forward, until the kingdom of God comes. 25 And he took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and gave it to them, saying: This is my body which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me. 26 And after the cup, he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he said: Take this, and give it to the disciples, saying: Drink from it, all of you. 27 For this is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins. 28 I tell you, I shall not drink of this fruit of the vine from this time forward, until the kingdom of God comes.

22:10 Carrying water was women’s work. Jesus seemed to take special pleasure in challenging the 1st century gender roles.

22:16 When we break bread, we remember that we shall by grace do this again with Jesus when He returns.
brance of me. 20 And the cup in like manner after supper, saying: This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you. 21 But behold, the hand of him that betrays me is with me at this table. 22 For the Son of Man indeed goes, as it has been determined, but woe to that man through whom he is betrayed! 23 And they began to question among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing. 24 And there arose also a dispute among them, as to which of them would be counted as greatest. 25 And he said to them: The kings of the Gentiles have lordship over them, and they that have authority over them are called Benefactors. 26 But you shall not be so, but he that is the elder among you, let him become as the younger, and he that is chief, as he that does serve. 27 For which is greater, he that sits at the table, or he that serves? Is not he that sits at the table? But among you, I am he that serves. 28 But you are those who have stayed with me in my time of trial. 29 And I appoint to you a kingdom, even as my Father appointed me, so that you may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom; and you shall sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel. 31 And the Lord said: Simon, Simon, Satan has asked for you that he might sift you as wheat. 32 But I prayed for you, that your faith should not fail; and when you have been converted, strengthen your brothers. 33 And he said to him: Lord, with you I am ready to go both to prison and to death. 34 And he said: I tell you Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, until you shall deny three times that you know me. 35 And he said to them: When I sent you out without purse and wallet and shoes, did you lack anything? And they said: Nothing. 36 And he said to them: But now, he that has a purse, let him take it, and likewise a wallet, and he that has none, let him sell his cloak and buy a sword. 37 For I tell you that this Scripture must be fulfilled in me: And he was numbered with the transgressors. For what is written about me must have its fulfillment. 38 And they said: Lord, look, here are two swords. And he said to them: That is quite enough.

The Prayer and Arrest of Jesus
39 And he came out and went, as his custom was, to the mount of Olives; and the disciples followed him. 40 And when he came to the place, he said to them: So that you do not enter into temptation, pray. 41 And he withdrew from them about a stone’s throw away, and knelt down and prayed, 42 saying: Father, if You be willing, remove this cup from me. Nevertheless let not my will, but Yours be done. 43 And there appeared to him an angel from heaven, strengthening him. 44 And being in anguish he prayed more earnestly, and his sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground. 45 And when he rose up from his prayer, he went to the disciples, and found them sleeping from sorrow, 46 and said to them: Why do you sleep? Get up and pray, so that you will not enter into temptation. 47 While he was still speaking, there came a crowd, and the man called Judas, one of the twelve, was leading them. He drew near to Jesus to kiss him. 48 But Jesus said to him: Judas, do you betray the Son of Man with a kiss? 49 And when they that were about him saw what would follow, they said: Lord, shall we strike with the sword? 50 And a certain one of them struck the servant of the high priest and cut off his right ear. 51 But Jesus said: No more of this! And he touched his ear and healed him. 52 And Jesus said to the chief priests and captains of the temple and elders that had come against him: Have you come as against a robber, with swords and staves? 53 When I was with you daily in the temple, you did not lay hands on me. But this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

Peter Denies Jesus
54 And they seized him and led him away, and brought him into the high

22:40 Prayer is our strength against temptation.
22:42 The wills of the Father and Son were different; therefore Jesus was not God Himself in a Trinitarian sense.
22:44 This condition indicates Jesus was at the limits of nervous endurance. He prayed to God at this time “with strong crying and tears” (Heb. 5:7). But even now, Jesus intercedes for us in Heaven, praying to God with intense groanings which cannot be uttered (Rom. 8:26). If He is so intensely praying for and with us, and offers our prayers to God with this intensity; then our prayers should also be intense and focused. Be careful not to rattle off the same old phrases in your prayers; put meaning into words; don’t let your mind wander in prayer; pray out loud if necessary; and beware of only praying at night, warm in bed and drifting into sleep.
22:54 High Priest’s house – About seven weeks later, Peter was standing maybe 100 meters from this spot and powerfully persuading people to believe in Christ. He con-offerings. And Peter sat among them. And when they had kindled a fire in the middle of the courtyard and had sat down together, Peter sat among them. And a certain maid seeing him as he sat in the light of the fire and looking earnestly upon him, said: This man also was with him. But he denied it, saying: Woman, I do not know him. And after a little while another person saw him and said: You also are one of them. But Peter said: Man, I am not. And after the space of about one hour another confidently affirmed, saying: Of a truth, this man also was with him. For he is a Galilean. But Peter said: Man, I do not know what you say. And immediately, as he spoke, the cock crew. And the Lord turned and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord that he had said to him: Before the cock crow this day, you shall deny me three times. And he went out and wept bitterly. And the men that held Jesus mocked him and beat him. And they blindfolded him and questioned him, saying: Prophesy— who is he that struck you? And many other things they spoke against him, reviling him. And as soon as it was day, the assembly of the elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes; and they led him away into their council, saying: If you are the Christ, tell us. But he said to them: If I tell you, you will not believe. And if I ask you, you will not answer. But from this time forward shall the Son of Man be seated at the right hand of the power of God. And they all said: Are you then the Son of God? And he said to them: You say that I am. And they said: What further testimony do we need? For we ourselves have heard it from his own mouth.

CHAPTER 23

Jesus Before Pilate and Herod

And the whole company of them rose and brought him before Pilate. And they began to accuse him, saying: We found this man perverting our nation and forbidding giving tribute to Caesar, and saying that he is Christ a king. And Pilate asked him, saying: Are you the King of the Jews? And he answered them and said: You say it. And Pilate said to the chief priest’s house. And Peter followed from a distance. And when they had kindled a fire in the middle of the courtyard and had sat down together, Peter sat among them. And a certain maid seeing him as he sat in the light of the fire and looking earnestly upon him, said: This man also was with him. But he denied it, saying: Woman, I do not know him. And after a little while another person saw him and said: You also are one of them. But Peter said: Man, I am not. And after the space of about one hour another confidently affirmed, saying: Of a truth, this man also was with him. For he is a Galilean. But Peter said: Man, I do not know what you say. And immediately, as he spoke, the cock crew. And the Lord turned and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord that he had said to him: Before the cock crow this day, you shall deny me three times. And he went out and wept bitterly. And the men that held Jesus mocked him and beat him. And they blindfolded him and questioned him, saying: Prophesy— who is he that struck you? And many other things they spoke against him, reviling him. And as soon as it was day, the assembly of the elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes; and they led him away into their council, saying: If you are the Christ, tell us. But he said to them: If I tell you, you will not believe. And if I ask you, you will not answer. But from this time forward shall the Son of Man be seated at the right hand of the power of God. And they all said: Are you then the Son of God? And he said to them: You say that I am. And they said: What further testimony do we need? For we ourselves have heard it from his own mouth.

priests and the crowds: I find no fault in this man. 5 But they were the more urgent, saying: He stirs up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee even to this place. 6 But when Pilate heard it, he asked whether the man were a Galilean. 7 And when he knew that he was of Herod’s jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem in those days. 8 Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceedingly glad. For he had for a long time been desirous to see him, because he had heard about him, and he hoped to see some miracle done by him. 9 So he questioned him at some length, but he made no answer. 10 And the chief priests and the scribes stood by, vehemently accusing him. 11 And Herod with his soldiers treated him with contempt and mocked him, and dressing him in gorgeous apparel, sent him back to Pilate. 12 And Herod and Pilate became friends with each other that very day. For before they had been enemies. 13 And Pilate called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, 14 and said to them: You brought to me this man, as one that perverts the people; and I, having examined him before you, found no fault in this man concerning those things of which you accuse him. 15 Neither did Herod, for he sent him back to us. Look, nothing deserving death has been done by him. 16 I will therefore chastise him and release him (for it was necessary for him to release one to them at the feast). 17 But they cried out all together, saying, Away with this man, and release to us Barabbas 19 (one who had been cast into prison for an insurrection in the city, and for murder). 20 And Pilate spoke to them again, desiring to release Jesus. 21 But they shouted, saying: Crucify, crucify him! 22 And he said to them the third time: Why! What evil has this man done? I have found no cause of death in him. I will therefore punish him and release him. 23 But they were insistent with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. And their voices prevailed. 24 And Pilate gave sentence that what they asked for should be done. 25 And he released the man who had been thrown into prison for insurrection and murder, for whom they asked, but he delivered Jesus over to their will.

real life examples around of this, consider the Biblical case of Pilate. Jewish and Roman historians paint a very different picture of Pilate than what we see in the Biblical record. Philo describes him as “ruthless, stubborn and of cruel disposition”, famed for “frequent executions without trial”. Why then does he come over in the Gospels as a man desperately struggling with his conscience, to the extent that the Jewish crowds manipulate him to order the crucifixion of a man whom he genuinely believed to be innocent? Surely because the person of the Lord Jesus and the awfulness of putting the Son of God to death touched a conscience which appeared not to even exist. If the whole drama of the death of Jesus could touch the conscience and personality of even Pilate, it can touch each of us.

23:12 The forces of evil often unite against the righteous.
The Crucifixion

26 And when they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to carry it after Jesus. 27 And a great crowd of the people followed him, and women mourned and wailed for him. 28 But Jesus turning to them, said: Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children. 29 For the days are coming in which they shall say: Blessed are the barren, wombs that never bore, and breasts which never nursed! 30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountains: Fall on us, and to the hills: Cover us. 31 For if they do these things in the green tree, what shall be done in the dry? 32 And two others, both criminals, were led out with him to be executed. 33 And when they came to the place which is called The Skull, there they crucified him, and the criminals, one on the right hand and the other on the left. 34 And Jesus said: Father, forgive them. For they do not know what they do. And they divided up his clothes by casting lots. 35 And the people stood watching. And the rulers also scoffed at him, saying: He saved others. Let him save himself if he is the Christ of God, His chosen! 36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him offering vinegar, and saying: 37 If you are the King of the Jews, save yourself. 38 And there was also a written notice above him: This is the King of the Jews. 39 And one of the criminals that hung there hurled insults at him, saying: Are not you the Christ? Save yourself and us. 40 But the other answered, and rebuking him said: Do you not even fear God, seeing you have the same judgment? 41 But we indeed justly. For we receive the due reward of our deeds, but this man has done nothing wrong. 42 And he said: Jesus, remember me when you come in your kingdom. 43 And he said to him: Truly, I can say to you today right now, that you will indeed be with me in Paradise. 44 And it was now about the sixth hour; and a darkness came over the whole land until the ninth hour, 45 the sun’s light failing; and the veil of the temple was torn in the middle. 46 And Jesus, crying with a loud voice, said: Father, into your hands I commend my spirit. And having said this, he breathed his last. 47 And when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying: Certainly this was a righteous man. 48 And all the crowds that came together to this sight, when they saw the things that were done, returned, striking their breasts.

The Burial of Jesus

49 And all his acquaintances, and the women that had followed him from Galilee, stood at a distance watching these things. 50 And a man named Joseph, who was a member of the Council, a good and righteous man 51 (he had not consented to their decision and deed), a man of Arimathæa, a city of the Jews, who was looking for the kingdom of God, 52 this man went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. 53 And he took it down and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb that was hewn in stone, where never man had yet been laid. 54 And it was the day of the preparation; and the Sabbath drew on. 55 And the women, who had come with him out of Galilee, followed and saw the tomb, and how his body was laid. 56 And they returned and prepared spices and ointments. And on the Sabbath they rested according to the commandment.

The Resurrection

And on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they came to the tomb, bringing the spices which they had prepared. 2 And they found the
The Gospels emphasize the disciples’ disbelief and slowness to understand the clear predictions of Jesus about His death and resurrection. Yet the Gospel records are transcripts of the apostles’ preaching, and they climax in an appeal to believe the Gospel. This urgent appeal was made by the lips of men who had just confessed how slow they had themselves been to respond. But that integrity and humility was what gave their appeal such power and persuasion.

Jesus Appears to His Followers

And two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was sixty furlongs from Jerusalem. And they discussed with each other about all the things which had happened. And it came to pass, while they talked and questioned together, that Jesus himself drew near and went with them. But their eyes were kept from recognizing him. And he said to them: What communications are these you have one with another as you walk? And they stood still, looking sad. And one of them, named Cleopas, answering said to him: Do you live alone in Jerusalem, and therefore do not know the things which have happened there recently? And he said to them: What things? And they told him the things concerning Jesus the Nazarene, that he was a prophet, mighty in deed and word before God and all the people; and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death and crucified him. But we had hoped that it was he who should redeem Israel. Moreover besides all this, it is now the third day since these things came to pass. Further, certain women of our company amazed us, having been early at the tomb. And when they did not find his body, they came, saying that they had also seen a vision of angels, who said that he was alive. And some of them that were with us went to the tomb, and found it even as the women had stone rolled away from the tomb. And they entered in, and did not find the body of the Lord Jesus. And it came to pass, while they were wondering about this, two men stood by them in dazzling apparel. And as they were frightened and bowed their faces to the ground, the men said to them: Why do you seek the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen! Remember in what way he spoke to you when he was still in Galilee, saying that the Son of Man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again. And they remembered his words, and returned from the tomb and told all these things to the eleven, and to all the others. Now they were Mary Magdalene and Joanna and Mary the mother of James, and the other women with them, who told these things to the apostles. And these words appeared in their sight as idle talk, and they disbelieved them. But Peter rose and ran to the tomb; and stooping and looking in, he saw the linen cloths by themselves; and he departed to his home, wondering about what had happened.
said. But him they saw not. 25 And he said to them: O foolish men and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken! 26 Was it not necessary that the Christ suffer these things and so enter into his glory? 27 And beginning from Moses and all the prophets, he interpreted for them from all the scriptures, the things concerning himself. 28 And they drew near to the village where they were going, and he made as though he would go further. 29 And they urged him, saying: Stay with us, for it is toward evening and the day is now far spent. And he went in to stay with them. 30 And it came to pass, when he had sat down with them to eat, he took the bread, and blessing and breaking it, he gave to them. 31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight. 32 And they said to each other: Was not our heart burning within us, while he spoke to us on the road, while he opened up the scriptures to us? 33 And they rose up that very hour and returned to Jerusalem and found the eleven gathered together, and those that were with them, 34 saying: The Lord has indeed risen, and has appeared to Simon! 35 And they told the things that had happened on the road, and how he was known to them by the breaking of the bread. 36 And as they spoke these things, he stood in the midst of them, and said to them: Peace to you! 37 But they were terrified and afraid, and supposed that they saw a ghost. 38 And he said to them: Why are you disturbed? And why do questions arise in your heart? 39 See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself. Handle me and see! For a ghost has not flesh and bones, as you see me having. 40 And when he had said this, he showed them his hands and his feet. 41 And while they still disbelieved for joy and wondered, he said to them: Have you here anything to eat? 42 And they gave him a piece of a boiled fish. 43 And he took it and ate before them. 44 And he said to them: These are my words which I spoke to you while I was yet with you, that all things necessary be fulfilled which are written in the law of Moses and the prophets and the Psalms concerning me. 45 Then opened he their mind so that they might understand the scriptures. 46 And he said

24:31 God does open and close our understanding. Let’s be patient with those whose eyes are still closed. There was a time when we too ‘didn’t get it’.

24:35 By the breaking of the bread – Perhaps this means that the body language of Jesus as He broke bread after His resurrection was identical with that which He had in His human life before that. Resurrection and receiving Divine nature won’t change us unrecognizably; we will recognize each other. We personally shall be saved through resurrection; what died shall revive and be immortalized.

24:39 Ghosts and immortal souls don’t exist in reality. But Jesus reasoned with them on the basis of their wrong understanding, to lead them to the crucial conviction that He personally was alive.
to them: Thus it is written, that the Christ should suffer, and rise again from the dead the third day, 47 and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name to all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem. 48 You are witnesses of these things. 49 And I will send to you what my Father has promised; but stay in the city until you have been clothed with power from on high. 50 And he led them out until they were as far as Bethany, and he lifted up his hands and blessed them. 51 And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he parted from them and was carried up into heaven. 52 And they did homage to him and returned to Jerusalem with great joy, 53 and were continually in the temple, praising God.
In the beginning was the word {logos}, and the word was towards God, and the word was Divine. 2 This existed, in the beginning, with God. 3 All things created came into existence on account of it; and without it nothing created came into existence. 4 In it was life, and that life was the light of men. 5 This light

“The Word” cannot refer directly to a person, because a person cannot be “with God” and yet be God at the same time. The Greek word ‘logos’ which is translated “word” here, does not in itself mean ‘Jesus’. It is usually translated as “word”, but also as: –

- Account
- Cause
- Communication
- Doctrine
- Intent
- Preaching
- Reason
- Saying
- Tidings

‘Logos’ can strictly refer to the inner thought which is expressed outwardly in words. In the beginning God had this ‘logos’. This singular purpose was centred in Christ. Christ in person was not “the word”; it was God’s plan of salvation through Christ which was “the word”. ‘Logos’ (“the Word”) is very often used concerning the Gospel about Christ – e.g. “the word of Christ” (Col. 3:16; cp. Matt. 13:19; John 5:24; Acts 19:10; 1 Thess. 1:8). Notice that the ‘logos’ is about Christ, rather than him personally. When Christ was born, this “word” was turned into a flesh and blood form – “the word was made flesh” (John 1:14). Jesus personally was ‘the word made flesh’ rather than “the word”; he personally became “the word” through his birth of Mary, rather than at any time previously.

The plan, or message, about Christ was with God in the beginning, but was openly revealed in the person of Christ, and the preaching of the Gospel about him in the first century. Thus God spoke His word to us through Christ (Heb. 1:1,2); he thereby fulfilled the prophecy concerning himself, “I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world” (Matt. 13:35). It was in this sense that “the word was with God...in the beginning”, to be “made flesh” at Christ’s birth.

“The Word Was God”

Our plans and thoughts are fundamentally us. “As (a man) thinks in his heart, so is he” (Prov. 23:7), and as God thinks, so is He. Thus God’s word or thinking is God: “the word was God”. Because of this parallelisms like Ps.29:8 are common: “The voice of the Lord shakes the wilderness; the Lord shakes the wilderness”. Because of this, God’s Word is spoken of as if it is God Himself. Thus we are told concerning the Word, “All things were made by Him” (John 1:3). However “God created” all Footnote: “In the beginning was the Word” probably comments on the Jewish concept that the Torah (the five books of Moses) existed before creation. Jn. 1:1-3 is saying that the important thing to appreciate is that those words of God prophesied about Jesus; God’s plan about him existed before creation (cp. Lk. 1:70).

things by His word of command (Gen. 1:1). It is evident from Gen. 1 that God was the Creator, through His word, rather than Christ personally. It was the word which is described as making all things, rather than Christ personally (John 1:1-3). “By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them (i.e. the stars) by the breath of his mouth... he spake, and it was done” (Ps. 33:6,9).

God’s word being His creative power, He used it in the begettal of Jesus in Mary’s womb. The Word, God’s plan put into operation by His Holy Spirit (Luke 1:35), brought about Christ’s conception. Mary recognized this in her response to the news about her forthcoming conception of Christ: “Be it unto me according to Your word” (Luke 1:38). When Christ was born, all of God’s Word/Spirit was expressed in the person of Jesus Christ.

through Moses, but grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. 18 No one has seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he has made Him known.

The Ministry of John

19 And this is the witness of John, when the Jews sent from Jerusalem priests and Levites to ask him: Who are you? 20 He confessed, he did not deny, but confessed: I am not the Christ! 21 And they asked him: What then? Are you Elijah? And he said: I am not. Are you the prophet? And he answered: No. 22 They replied to him: Who are you? Give us an answer to take back to those who sent us. How do you describe yourself? 23 John replied in the words of Isaiah the prophet: I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness: Make straight the way of the Lord. 24 These priests and Levites had been sent from the Pharisees. 25 Again they asked him: Why then do you baptize, if you are not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the prophet? 26 John answered: I baptize in water; but in the midst of you stands one whom you do not know. 27 He that comes after me, his shoe-lace I am not worthy to untie. 28 This incident took place in Bethany on the other side of the Jordan, where John was baptizing. 29 The next day he saw Jesus coming towards him, and he said: Behold! The Lamb of God that takes away the sin of the world! 30 This is he of whom I said: After me comes a man who is ranked above me. For he was senior to me. 31 I did not perceive him, but so he should be made manifest to Israel, for this reason I come baptizing in water. 32 And John testified, saying: I have beheld the Spirit descending as a dove out of heaven, and it remained upon him. 33 I would not have perceived him except He that sent me to baptize in water, He had said to me: Upon whomsoever you shall see the Spirit descend and remain upon him, the same is he that baptizes in the Holy Spirit. 34 I have seen and have testified that this is the Son of God. 35 The next day John was standing with two of his disciples. 36 And he watched Jesus as he walked and said: Behold! The Lamb of God! 37 And the two disciples, hearing him speak, followed after Jesus. 38 Jesus turned around, and observing they were following him, said to them: What do you seek? And they replied: Rabbi (we would say Teacher). Where are you staying? 39 He said to them: Come, and you shall see. They went therefore, and saw where he stayed; and they stayed with him that day. It was about the tenth hour.

The Calling of the Disciples
40 One of the two that had heard John and had followed Jesus was Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother. 41 The first thing he did was to find his brother Simon; and he said to him: We have found the Messiah (we would say Christ). 42 He took him to Jesus. Jesus looked at him and said: You are Simon the son of John. You shall be called Cephas (we call him Peter). 43 The next day Jesus decided to go into Galilee; and he found Philip. Jesus said to him: Follow me. 44 Now Philip was from Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter. 45 Philip found Nathanael and said to him: We have found him, of whom Moses in the law and the prophets wrote! Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. 46 And Nathanael said to him: Can anything good come out of Nazareth? Philip said to him: Come and see. 47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming towards him, and said of him: Behold, a true Israelite in whom is no deceit! 48 Nathanael said to him: How is it you know me? Jesus answered: Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you. 49 Nathanael answered him: Rabbi, you are the Son of God. You are King of Israel. 50 Jesus replied: Because I said to you: I saw you underneath the fig tree- do you believe? You shall see greater things than these! 51 And he said to him: Truly, truly, I say to you. You shall see the heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man.

CHAPTER 2
Jesus Turns Water into Wine

On the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee. The mother of Jesus was there; 2 Jesus and his disciples were also invited to the marriage. 3 When they ran out of wine, the mother of Jesus said to him: They have no wine! 4 Jesus said to her: Woman, what have I to do with you? My hour is not yet come.
5 His mother said to the servants: Whatever he commands you, do it!
6 Nearby there were six stone waterpots, placed there for the Jewish custom of purifications, each holding 75 to 115 litres. 7 Jesus said to them: Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them to the brim. 8 And he said to them: Now draw some out and take it to the master of the feast. So they took it. 9 When the master of the feast tasted the water which had now become wine, and not knowing where it came from (but the servants that had drawn the water knew), he called to the bridegroom, 10 and said to him: Everyone serves good wine first, and when all have drunk freely, serves something inferior. But you have kept the good wine until now!
11 This, the first of his signs, Jesus did in Cana of Galilee, thereby revealing his glory; and his disciples believed in him.

Jesus Purges the Temple
12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he and his mother and brothers and disciples; and there they stayed for a few days. 13 The Passover of the Jews was at that time; and Jesus went to Jerusalem. 14 And he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the money changers sitting at their tables. 15 He made a whip out of cords and drove them all, with the sheep and oxen, out of the temple; and he poured out the coins of the money changers and overturned their tables. 16 To them that sold the doves he said: Take these things away! Do not make my Father’s house a market. 17 His disciples remembered that it was written: Zeal for Your house shall consume me. 18 The Jews therefore answered and said to him: What sign will you show us, seeing you do these things? 19 Jesus answered and said to them: Destroy this temple and in three days I will raise it up. 20 The Jews replied: Forty six years was this temple in building, and will you raise it up in three days? 21 But he spoke of the temple of his body. 22 When he was raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he spoke this, and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had spoken. 23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the Passover, during the feast, many believed in his name when they saw the signs which he did. 24 But Jesus would not entrust himself to them, for he understood mankind, 25 and because he did not need any testimony concerning himself from any human being. For he understood what was in man.

Now there was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews. 2 The same came to him by night, and said to him: Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher come from God. For no one can do the signs you do, except God be with him. 3 Jesus answered and said to him: Truly, truly, I say to you: Except one be born anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God. 4 Nicodemus said to him: How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother’s womb and be born? 5 Jesus answered: Truly, truly, I say to you: Except one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God! 6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. 8 The wind blows where it wills, and you hear its sound, but do not know from where it comes and where it goes. So is every one that is born of the Spirit. 9 Nicodemus answered and said to him: How can these things be? 10 Jesus answered and said to him: Are you the teacher of Israel and yet do not understand these things? 11 Truly, truly, I say to you: We speak that which we know and testify of that which we have seen; and you do not welcome our witness. 12 If I told you earthly things and you do not believe, how shall you believe if I tell you heavenly things? 13 No one has ascended into heaven, but he that descended from heaven, the Son of Man, who is in heaven. 14 As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up; 15 that whoever believes may in him have eternal life. 16 For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life. 17 For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world should be saved through him. 18 He that believes in him is not condemned. He that does not believe has been condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. 19 And this is the ground of condemnation.

If we feel sinners, we needn’t be depressed. This is a result of being in the light. For every one that does evil hates the light, and does not come to the light, in case his works should be reproved. But he that does the truth comes to the light, that his works may be revealed, that they have been done in God.

Jesus and John the Baptist

After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judea; and there he stayed with them and baptized. And John also was baptizing in Aenon near to Salim, because there was much water there; and people came to be baptized. For John had not then been thrown into prison. Then there arose a dispute between some of John’s disciples and the Jews about purification. And they came to John, and said to him: Rabbi, he that was with you on the other side of the Jordan, to whom you have testified, behold, the same baptizes, and all men come to him. John answered and said: A man can receive nothing unless it has been given to him from heaven. You yourselves can testify that I said: I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him. He that has the bride is the bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom, that stands by and hears him, rejoices greatly because of the bridegroom’s voice. In this my joy is made full. He must increase but I must decrease. He that comes from above is above all. He that is of the earth is of the earth, and of the earth he speaks. He that comes from heaven is above all. What he has seen and heard, of that he testifies; and no one receives his witness. He that has received his witness has certified that God is true. For he whom God has sent speaks the words of God; for He does not give him the Spirit by measure. The Father loves the Son and has given all things into his hand. He that believes on the Son has eternal life; but he that does not obey the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God remains upon him.

Jesus Converts a Samaritan Woman

When therefore the Lord knew that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and baptizing more disciples than John (although Jesus himself did not baptize but his disciples), he left Judea and departed again into Galilee. It was necessary for him to pass through Samaria. So he came to the city of Samaria called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground which Jacob gave his son Joseph. Jacob’s well was also there. Jesus, being tired from his journey, sat tired by the well. It was about the sixth hour. A woman of Samaria came to draw water, and 4:14 If we truly believe, we will become a well of water of life to other people. We can become the source of eternal life to people – in that we are the source of their contact with Christ. This means we should witness to people urgently and directly, knowing that we can give people the eternal life which otherwise they wouldn’t have.

4:22 People can go through the psychology and feeling of worship – but it’s not real worship.

4:24 God is Spirit in the sense that He is identified with His Spirit. God Himself is a personal being, not an abstract puff of ‘spirit’ blowing around. God “is” a consuming fire; He is revealed through the fire of His judgment, but this doesn’t mean that God equals fire and fire equals God. And the same with Him as Spirit.

4:27 Jewish religious leaders didn’t speak to women, nor Samaritans; nor did they...
disciples, and they marvelled that he was speaking with a woman. Yet no one said: What are you seeking? Or, Why do you speak with her? 28 So the woman left her waterpot and went away into the city, and said to the people: 29 Come, see a man who told me all things that I have ever done. Can this be the Christ? 30 They went out of the city and came to him. 31 In the meantime the disciples pleaded with him, saying: Rabbi, eat. 32 But he said to them: I have food to eat that you do not know. 33 The disciples queried each other: Has anyone brought him something to eat? 34 Jesus said to them: My food is to do the will of Him that sent me and to accomplish His work. 35 Do you not say: There are yet four months and then comes the harvest? Behold, I say to you, Lift up your eyes and look on the fields, that they are white, ready to harvest. 36 He that reaps receives wages, and gathers fruit to everlasting life; that he that sows and he that reaps may rejoice together. 37 For herein is the saying true: One sows and another reaps. 38 I sent you to harvest that upon which you have not laboured; others have laboured, and you are taking over their labour. 39 And from that city many of the Samaritans believed in him because of the word of the woman, who testified: He told me all things that I have ever done. 40 So when the Samaritans came to him, they pleaded with him to stay with them; and he stayed there two days. 41 And many more believed because of his word. 42 And they said to the woman: Now we believe, not because of your speaking; for we have heard for ourselves and know that this is indeed the Saviour of the world.

Jesus Returns to Galilee
43 And after two days he left for Galilee. 44 Jesus himself had testified that a prophet has no honour in his own country. 45 So when he came into Galilee, the Galileans welcomed him, having seen all the things that he had done in Jerusalem at the feast. For they also had gone up to the feast. 46 He came again to Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And teach the Bible to women; nor would they be alone in a woman’s company. Jesus was clearly not worried about gossip or His “image” – He intended to reach out to the marginal and despised.

4:29 It’s quite natural to tell others of our experience of Christ. The Gospels are full of people doing this.

4:32 Having a stimulating, unexpected conversation about the Lord with someone takes away our awareness of our tiredness and material problems. Preaching is for our benefit and blessing too.

4:39 All things – All her sins. On the basis of accepting her sinfulness she could witness to the people in a non-threatening way. Some people believe in Christ because of the word of a preacher; others believe in Him directly (v. 42). In some cases, therefore, we have the ability to bring a person to Christ; if we don’t do our part, they will not be saved. In this sense Paul can write to people and claim that they owed him their salvation.
there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum. 47 When he heard that Jesus had come out of Judea into Galilee, he went to him and pleaded that he would come to Capernaum and heal his son. For his son was at the point of death. 48 Jesus replied to him: Except you see signs and wonders, you will in no way believe. 49 The nobleman said to him: Sir, come before my child dies. 50 Jesus said to him: Go your way. Your son lives. The man believed the word that Jesus spoke to him, and he went his way. 51 And as he was going home, his servants met him, saying that his son lived. 52 So he inquired of them the hour when he began to get better. They replied to him: Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. 53 The father knew that that was the hour when Jesus had said to him: Your son lives. And so he and his household believed. 54 This was the second sign that Jesus did, when he had gone from Judea to Galilee.

_After these things there was a feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem._

2 Now there is in Jerusalem by the sheep gate a pool, which is called in Hebrew Bethesda, having five porches. 3 In these lay a crowd of those who were sick, blind, lame, paralysed, waiting for the moving of the water. 4 For an angel of the Lord went down at certain seasons into the pool and disturbed the water. Whoever was first to step into the pool, after the waters were disturbed, was healed of whatever disease he had. 5 One man there had been ill for thirty eight years. 6 When Jesus saw him lying there, knowing he had been there a long time, he said to him: Would you be made whole? 7 The sick man answered him: Sir, I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is disturbed. As I approach someone else steps in front of me. 8 Jesus said to him: Arise, take up your bed and walk. 9 And straightway the man was made whole and took up his bed and walked. Now it was the Sabbath on that day. 10 So the Jews said to him who had been cured: It is the Sabbath; it is not lawful for you to carry your bed. 11 But he answered them: He that made me whole, the same said to me: Take up your bed and walk. 12 They asked him: Who

4:53 Believed – But he is described as having “believed” the word of Jesus already, in v. 50. There are different levels of faith and conversion.

5:2 There is – Jerusalem was destroyed in AD70. The present tense indicates that John’s Gospel was written before AD70 – not generations after the events, as wrongly claimed by Bible critics.

5:8 Jesus didn’t criticize the man for believing in a myth about an Angel touching water. Instead, Jesus focused the man upon the simple reality – that God alone through His Son can heal. We need to be patient with those who have wrong understandings and believe groundless myths; and gently re-focus them upon the simple truths of the Gospel.
is the man that said to you: Take up your bed and walk? 13 But the man who was healed did not know who it was, for Jesus had slipped away while there was a crowd in that place 14 Afterwards, Jesus found him in the temple and said to him: Look, you are made whole. Sin no more, lest a worse thing befall you. 15 The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him whole.

Jesus Comments Upon His Relationship with God

16 And for this cause the Jews persecuted Jesus, because he did these things on the Sabbath. 17 But Jesus answered them: My Father works even until now and therefore I also work. 18 For this cause the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only broke the Sabbath law, but he called God his own Father, making himself seem like God. 19 Jesus therefore answered and said to them: Truly, truly, I say to you: The Son can do nothing of himself but only what he sees the Father doing.

For whatever works He does, these the Son does in like manner. 20 For the Father loves the Son and shows him all things that Himself does; and greater works than these will He show him, that you may marvel. 21 For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, even so the Son also gives life to whom he will. 22 For neither does the Father judge anyone, but He has given all judgment to the Son, 23 that all may honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that does not honour the Son does not honour the Father that sent him. 24 Truly, truly, I say to you: He that hears my word and believes Him that sent me has eternal life, and comes not into condemnation, but has passed out of death into life. 25 Truly, truly, I say to you: The hour comes and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live. 26 For as the Father has life in Himself, so He has given the Son life in himself. 27 And He has given him authority to execute judgment, because he is a Son of man.

5:13 Some of those Jesus cured didn’t have any faith in Jesus – this man didn’t even know Jesus’ Name. This shows what it means to really be able to do miracles by the Holy Spirit – even ignorant unbelievers could be healed. This contrasts with the false claims of many ‘faith healers’ in Christian churches today, who claim they have Holy Spirit gifts, but can only claim to heal those who have faith.

5:18, 19 Jesus answers their misunderstanding that He was claiming equality with God by making some statements that for all time end any question about whether Jesus is equal with God. He states clearly that He can do nothing of Himself, His power is only from God and not of Himself; and His will is not that of His Father (v. 30).

5:24 We have eternal life in the sense that we can live now the kind of life which we will eternally live in God’s Kingdom. We will die, be unconscious, but be raised to stand before Jesus at His return, and by His grace live eternally in God’s Kingdom on earth.

5:27 Because the Lord Jesus had our human nature He is therefore qualified to be our judge at the last day.
of Man. 28 Marvel not at this! For the hour comes, in which all that are in the tombs shall hear his voice, 29 and shall come forth; they that have done good, to the resurrection of life, and they that have done evil, to the resurrection of condemnation. 30 I can of myself do nothing. As I hear, I judge; and my judgment is righteous, because I seek not my own will, but the will of Him that sent me. 31 If I testify of myself, my witness is not true. 32 It is another that testifies of me; and I know that the witness which He testifies of me is true. 33 You asked John the Baptist, and he has testified to the truth. 34 Not that the testimony that I receive is from man; but I say these things so that you may be saved. 35 He was the lamp that burns and shines, and you were willing to rejoice for a period in his light. 36 But the witness which I have is greater than that of John. For the works which the Father has given me to accomplish, the very works that I do, testify that the Father has sent me. 37 And the Father that sent me, He has testified of me. You have neither heard His voice at any time, nor seen His shape. 38 And you do not have His word dwelling in you, for you do not believe the one whom He has sent. 39 You search the scriptures, because you think that in them you have eternal life; and these are they which testify of me; 40 but you will not come to me, so that you may have life. 41 I receive not glory from men. 42 But I know that you do not have the love of God in your hearts. 43 I come in my Father’s Name, and you do not accept me. If another shall come in his own name, you will accept him. 44 How can you believe, you who accept praise from each other, but do not seek the praise that comes from the only God? 45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one that accuses you, Moses, on whom you have set your hope. 46 For if you believed Moses, you would believe me. For he wrote of me. 47 But if you do not believe his writings, how shall you believe my words?

5:29 We receive eternal life at the resurrection, when Jesus returns. We don’t have immortality naturally within ourselves, in the form of some ‘immortal soul’. This isn’t a Biblical idea. The resurrection is very important in the process of salvation. Therefore it’s also important to identify ourselves with the death and resurrection of Jesus through baptism, so that we too will literally be resurrected and share in His eternal life at His return.

5:37 God sent Jesus. He that sends is superior to and different from Him that is sent (Jn. 13:16). Jesus isn’t God.

5:39, 40 It’s possible to read the Bible a lot but never truly come to Jesus. To study the Bible but not have the living word / voice of God abiding in us (v. 38). We should be Christ-centric more than Bible-centric.

5:43 Jesus as God’s Son carried His Father’s Name. The Name of God is essentially His attributes and character; and Jesus showed these to perfection. But we shouldn’t misunderstand this to mean that Jesus is God Himself in person, just because He carries His Father’s Name.
CHAPTER 6  Apr. 14 Oct. 14
Jesus Feeds 5000 Men

After these things Jesus went away to the other side of the Sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias. 2 And a great crowd followed him, because they saw the signs which he performed on those that were sick. 3 And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there he sat with his disciples. 4 Now the Passover, the feast of the Jews, was at hand. 5 Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great crowd came to him, said to Philip: Where are we to buy bread that these may eat? 6 And this he said to test him. For he knew what he would do. 7 Philip answered him: Two hundred denarii worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may take a little. 8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother, said to him: 9 There is a lad here, who has five barley loaves and two fishes; but what are these among so many? 10 Jesus said: Make the people sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. 11 Jesus therefore took the loaves and having given thanks, he distributed them to those that were sitting down. Likewise also the fishes, as much as they could eat. 12 And when they were filled, he said to his disciples: Gather up the broken pieces which remain over, so nothing goes to waste. 13 So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with fragments from the five barley loaves which were left over by those who had eaten. 14 When the people saw the sign which he did, they said: This is of a truth the prophet that comes into the world! 15 So Jesus, perceiving that they were intending to come and take him by force to make him king, withdrew again to the mountain by himself. 16 And when evening came, his disciples went down to the sea. 17 And they entered into a boat and were going over by sea to Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus had not yet come to them. 18 And the sea was rising because of a great wind that blew. 19 When therefore they had rowed about five or six kilometres, they saw Jesus walking on the sea and drawing near to the boat; and they were afraid. 20 But he said to them: It is I! Be not afraid! 21 Then they were willing to take him into the boat, and immediately the boat was at the land to which they were going. 22 On the next day the people who remained on the other side of the sea noticed that there had been only one boat there, and that Jesus had not entered the boat with his disciples, but that his disciples had gone away alone. 23 (Some boats from Tiberias landed near the place where the people had eaten the bread after the Lord had given thanks). 24 When the crowd saw that Jesus was not there, nor 6:14 The sign or miracle which Jesus did left people with no option but to believe. The miracles claimed by the Pentecostal movement today are highly disputable and therefore don’t have the same effect. Whatever phenomena their ‘healings’ reflect, it’s not proof they possess the Holy Spirit gifts.

his disciples, they got into the boats and went to Capernaum, seeking Jesus. 25 And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said to him: Rabbi, when did you come here? 26 Jesus answered them and said: Truly, truly, I say to you: You seek me, not because you saw signs, but because you ate of the loaves and were filled.

27 Do not labour for the food that perishes, but for the food that endures to eternal life, which the Son of Man will give to you. For on him God the Father has set His seal of approval. 28 They replied to him: What must we do, that we may work the works of God? 29 Jesus answered and said to them: This is the work of God- that you believe in him whom He has sent. 30 They replied to him: What then will you do for a sign, so that we may see and believe you? What work will you do? 31 Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness; as it is written: He gave them bread out of heaven to eat. 32 Jesus replied to them: Truly, truly, I say to you: It was not Moses that gave you the bread out of heaven, but my Father; who now gives you the true bread out of heaven. 33 For the bread of God is that which comes down out of heaven and gives life to the world. 34 They replied to him: Lord, always give us this bread. 35 Jesus said to them: I am the bread of life. He that comes to me shall not hunger, and he that believes on me shall never thirst. 36 But I say to you: That you have seen me, and still you do not believe. 37 All that the Father gives me shall come to me, and him that comes to me I will in no way reject. 38 For I came down from Heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of Him that sent me. 39 And this is the will of Him that sent me, that of all which He has given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up at the last day. 40 For this is the will of my Father: That every one that sees the Son and believes in him, should have eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day. 41 The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said: I am the bread which came down out of Heaven. 42 And they said: Is this not Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know?
does he now say, I came down out of Heaven? 43 Jesus answered and said to them: Murmur not among yourselves. 44 No one can come to me, except the Father that sent me draws him; and I will raise him up in the last day. 45 It is written in the prophets: And they shall all be taught by God. Everyone therefore who has heard and learned from the Father comes to me. 46 Not that anyone has seen the Father, save he that is from God, he has seen the Father. 47 Truly, truly, I say to you: He that believes has eternal life. 48 I am the bread of life. 49 Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. 50 This is the bread which comes down out of heaven, that a man may eat thereof and not die. 51 I am the living bread which came down out of Heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he shall live forever. Yes! The bread which I will give is my flesh – given for the life of the world. 52 The Jews therefore argued with each other, saying: How can this man give us his flesh to eat? 53 Jesus replied to them: Truly, truly, I say to you: Except you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you do not have life in yourselves. 54 He that eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. 55 For my flesh is the true food, and my blood is the true drink. 56 He that eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me and I in him. 57 As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he that eats me, he also shall live because of me. 58 This is the bread which came down out of Heaven. Not as the fathers ate and died; he that eats this bread shall live forever. 59 These things said he in the synagogue, while teaching in Capernaum. 60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard this, said: This is a hard saying; who can hear it? 61 But Jesus, knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said to them: Does this cause you to stumble? 62 What then if you should see the Son of Man ascending where he has ascended?
he was before? 63 It is the spirit that gives life. The flesh profits nothing. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit, and are life. 64 But there are some of you that do not believe. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that did not believe, and who it was that would betray him. 65 And he said: For this cause have I said to you, that no one can came to me, except it be given to him of the Father. 66 Upon this many of his disciples withdrew, and no longer walked with him. 67 Jesus asked the twelve: Would you also go away? 68 Simon Peter answered him: Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life. 69 And we have believed and know that you are the Holy One of God. 70 Jesus answered them: Did not I choose you the twelve, and one of you is a devil? 71 Now he spoke of Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot; for he was the one of those twelve who would betray him.

And after these things Jesus walked in Galilee; for he would not walk in Judea, because the Jews sought to kill him. 2 Now the feast of the Jews, the feast of tabernacles, was at hand. 3 His brothers said to him: Depart from here and go into Judea, so your disciples may also see the works you do. 4 For no one does anything in secret while he seeks to be known openly. If you do these things, manifest yourself to the world. 5 For even his brothers did not believe in him. 6 Jesus replied to them: My time is not yet come; but your time is always ready. 7 The world cannot hate you, but it hates me, because I testify of it, that its works are evil. 8 You go up to the feast. I will not be going up to this feast, because my time is not yet fulfilled. 9 And having said these things to them, he stayed in Galilee. 10 But when his brothers had gone to the feast, then he also went to it, not publicly but as it were in secret. 11 The Jews searched for him at the feast, and asked: Where is he? 12 And there was much murmuring among the crowds concerning him. Some said: He is a good man. Others said: Not so. He deceives the people. 13 Yet no one spoke openly about him for fear of the Jews.

Jesus Teaches at the Feast

14 When the feast was half way through, Jesus went into the temple and taught. 15 The Jews marvelled, saying: How is it that this man has learning, when he has never had an education? 16 Jesus answered them and said: My teaching is not mine, but His that sent me. 17 If anyone wills to do His will, he shall know of this teaching, whether it is of God, or I speak from myself. 18 He that speaks from himself seeks his own glory; but he that seeks the glory of Him that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. 19 Did not Moses give you the law and yet none of you does the law? Why do you seek to kill me? 20 The crowd answered: You are crazy! Who seeks to kill you? 21 Jesus answered and said to them: I did one work and you all marvel because of it! 22 Moses has given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses but of the fathers) and on the Sabbath you circumcise a man. 23 If a man receives circumcision on the Sabbath, so that the law of Moses may not be broken, are you angry with me, because I made a man completely whole on the Sabbath? 24 Judge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgment. 25 Therefore, some of those from Jerusalem asked: Is this not he whom they seek to kill? 26 And lo, he speaks openly and they say nothing to him. Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is the Christ? 27 However we know from where this man is; but when the Christ comes, no one knows from where he is. 28 Therefore Jesus cried out in the temple, teaching and saying: You both know me, and know from where I am, and that I have not come of myself. But He that sent me is true, whom you do not know. 29 I know Him, because I am from Him, and He sent me. 30 Therefore they sought to take him, but no one laid his hand on him- because his hour had not yet come. 31 But of the crowd many believed in him; and they said: When the Christ comes, will he do more signs than those which this man has done? 32 The Pharisees heard the crowd murmuring these things concerning him, and the chief priests destroyed. Our testimony also is more in our actions and personalities than in specific words of testimony.

7:20 Literally: “You have a demon!”– This was the language of the day for saying ‘You are mad!’, and should not be taken literally.

7:23 Sometimes we have to break one command or principle in order to keep another. God has arranged things in this way so that we think carefully about the meaning of our actions and the reason for our obedience to Him.
7:34 There’s a hard logic here – we either seek Him now when we can find Him, or we will seek Him like the foolish girls of Mt. 25:11 will do – when it’s all too late.

7:35, 36 It must’ve been so frustrating for Jesus to be so constantly misunderstood; His words and ideas were continually understood within different frames of reference and worldviews. When we experience the same, we know that He can empathize with us.

7:38 Living water – The Jewish hearers would’ve associated this with the Old Testament teaching that “living water” was to be used to cleanse lepers; and that “living water” would flow out of the temple to heal the world (Lev. 14:6; Ez. 47:1-9). We are to be the source of cleansing for others – which means we are intended to communicate our faith to them. And we, rather than any physical religious building, are to be the source of new life and cleansing for the world.

7:48 The fact the great and learned of this world haven’t believed in Christ is no reason not to. Fact is, the minority are in the right. “How can so many be wrong?” really begs the answer: “Quite easily, according to the Bible and also human experience”.

7:50 Nicodemus sets us a good example of speaking up for Jesus in the midst of secular society which has no time for Him, even if it means being mocked and despised.
If they caught her in the act, then where was the man? 52 They answered and said to him: Are you also of Galilee? Search the scrolls and you will see, that no prophet is to rise from Galilee. 53 At that, each of them went home.

CHAPTER 8
Apr. 16 Oct. 16
A Woman Taken in Adultery

Jesus went to the Mount of Olives. 2 And early in the morning he again went into the temple, and all the people came to him; and he sat down and taught them. 3 And the scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman caught in the act of adultery; and having placed her before him, 4 they said to him: Teacher. This woman has been caught in the very act of adultery! 5 Now, in the Law, Moses commanded us to stone such women. So what do you say? 6 And this they said to test him, so they might have some reason to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. 7 But when they continued asking him, he stood up and said to them: He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. 8 And again he stooped down and with his finger wrote on the ground. 9 And they, when they heard it, went out one by one, beginning from the eldest, to the last; and Jesus was left alone with the woman, with her still standing in the middle. 10 And Jesus stood up and said to her: Woman! Where are your accusers? Did no one condemn you? 11 And she said: No one, Lord. And Jesus said: Neither do I condemn you. Go your way. From this time forward, sin no more.

Controversy with the Jews
12 Again Jesus spoke to the crowd, saying: I am the light of the world. He that follows me shall not walk in the darkness but shall have the light of life. 13 The Pharisees replied to him: You testify of yourself. Your witness is not true. 14 Jesus answered and said to them: Even if I testify of myself, my witness is true. For I know from where I came and where I go; but you do not know where I come from, nor where I go to. 15 You judge after the flesh. I judge no one. 16 Yet even if I do judge, my judgment is true, for it is not I alone that judge, but I and He who sent me 17 Even in your law it is written, that the witness of two men is true. 18 I am he that testifies of myself; and the Father that sent me testifies of me. 19 They replied to him: Where is your Father? Jesus answered: You know

8:3 If they caught her in the act, then where was the man?
8:6 What did He write? Their sins? Or did He just doodle in the dust from sheer male embarrassment at being in the presence of a naked woman who clearly respected and loved Him?
8:12 Light – The Greek word can mean a torch, a burning flame held on a pole. There’s a similarity of ideas with crucifixion; Jesus was lifted up on the pole, and thus becomes the light of our world, we understand everything in the context of His death there and all it means for us and demands of us.
8:19 The Pharisees studied the Bible all the time and could recite much of the Old neither me, nor my Father. If you knew me, you would know my Father also. These words spoke he in the treasury, as he taught in the temple; and no one took him—because his hour had not yet come. He replied again to them: I go away, and you shall seek me, and shall die in your sins. Where I go, you cannot come. The Jews replied: Will he kill himself? Because he said: Where I go, you cannot come. And he said to them: You are from beneath. I am from above. You are of this world. I am not of this world. I replied to you, that you shall die in your sins. For unless you believe that I am he, you shall die in your sins. They replied to him: Who are you? Jesus said to them: Even that which I have spoken to you from the beginning.

I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you. However, He that sent me is true, and the things which I heard from Him, these I speak to the world. They did not understand that he spoke to them of the Father. Jesus continued: When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am he, and that I do nothing on my own authority, but speak just as the Father taught me. And He that sent me is with me. He has not left me alone. For I always do the things that are pleasing to Him.

As he spoke these things, many believed in him.

Controversy About Abraham

Jesus replied to those Jews that had believed him: If you abide in my word, then are you truly my disciples. And you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. They answered him: We are Abraham’s seed, and have never yet been in bondage to anyone. What do you mean, you shall be made free? Jesus answered them: Truly, truly, I say to you: Everyone who commits sin is the servant of sin. And the servant does not stay in the house for ever. The son stays forever. If therefore the Son shall make you free, you shall be free indeed. I know that you are Abraham’s seed. Yet you seek to kill me, because my word finds no place in you. I speak the things which I have seen with my Father, and you also do the things which you heard from your father. They answered and said to him: Our father is Abraham. Jesus said to them: If you were Abraham’s children, you would do the works of Abraham. But now you seek Testament. But Jesus said they didn’t know God. Knowing God is an experience, not head knowledge.

8:23 From above... not of this world — Doesn’t mean that Jesus existed in Heaven before His birth. He was not ‘of the world’ in the sense that we are not ‘of the world’ (Jn. 17:16). But He like us was born in this world; we are in the world but not “of” it (Jn. 17:15).

8:37 In one sense they were physically Abraham’s children; in another sense they weren’t (v. 39). All those who believe in Christ and have been baptized into Him are the true children of Abraham and thereby God’s people (Gal. 3:27-29).
to kill me, a man that has told you the truth, which I heard from God.
This Abraham did not do. 41 You do the works of your father. They said to him: We were not born of fornication. We have one Father, even
God. 42 Jesus said to them: If God were your Father, you would love me. For I came forth and am come from God. For neither have I come of myself, but He sent me. 43 Why do you not understand my speech?
Because you cannot hear my word!
44 You are of your father the Devil, and your will is to do your father’s desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks according to his own nature, for he is a liar and the father of lies. 45 But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. 46 Which of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? 47 He that is of God hears the words of God. For this cause you do not hear them, because you are not of God. 48 The Jews answered and said to him: Say we not well that you are a Samaritan and have a demon? 49 Jesus answered: I do not have a demon. I honour my Father, and you dishonour me. 50 I do not seek my own glory. There is One that seeks and judges. 51 Truly, truly, I say to you: If a man keeps my word, he shall never see death.
52 The Jews said to him: Now we know that you have a demon. Abraham died, and the prophets, but you say: If a man keep my word, he shall never taste of death. 53 Are you greater than our father Abraham, who died, and the prophets who died? Whom do you make yourself?
54 Jesus answered: If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing. It is my Father that glorifies me, whom you say is your God. 55 You have not known Him, but I know Him; and if I should say I know Him not, I shall be like you, a liar; but I know Him and keep His word. 56 Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day, and he saw it, and rejoiced. 57 The Jews replied to him: You are not yet fifty years old, and have you seen Abraham?
58 Jesus said to them: Truly, truly, I

8:44 “The devil” is a murderer. But “no murderer has eternal life abiding in him” (1 Jn. 3:15). The Devil must, therefore, die – but angels cannot die (Lk. 20:35-36) they are therefore immortal, and have eternal life abiding in them. “The devil” is therefore not an Angel. 1 Jn. 3:10 identifies the children of the Devil as those who obey their evil desires – the real Devil. Cain was the first murderer (Gen. 4:8,9). Cain was not a super-human person called the Devil, but an ordinary man, having the characteristics of the serpent and manifesting the flesh. “Deceit” – i.e. lies – proceed “from within, out of the heart of men” (Mk. 7:21,22).
8:56 The only time we read of Abraham rejoicing was when he laughed for joy at the promise that he would have a descendant (Gen. 17:17). He understood that the son he was having would be in the line from which God’s Son, Messiah, would be born.
8:58 As God’s Son, Jesus carried His Father’s Name. “I am” may be a reference to this – although the same Greek phrase is used by the healed blind man in Jn. 9:9. To the Jews, Abraham was the greatest man who would ever live. Jesus is saying “I am say to you: I am of higher status than Abraham ever was. Therefore they took up stones to cast at him; but Jesus hid himself and went out of the temple.

CHAPTER 9

Jesus Cures a Blind Man

And as he passed by, he saw a man blind from his birth. And his disciples asked him: Rabbi, who sinned, this man, or his parents, that he should be born blind? Jesus answered: Neither did this man sin, nor his parents; but that the works of God should be revealed in him. We must work the works of Him that sent me, while it is day. The night comes, when no one can work. While I am in the world, I am the light of the world. When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground and made clay of the spittle, and anointed his eyes with the clay, and said to him: Go, wash in the pool of Siloam (which means Sent). He went away therefore and washed, and went home seeing. His neighbours and those that had seen him previously, as a beggar, said: Is this now, as I stand here, more important than Abraham? As they stood there, Jesus was the one to be honoured rather than Abraham. He is saying ‘I am now, more important than Abraham ever was’. Jesus does not say ‘Before Abraham was, I was’.

9:3 Disease and suffering don’t come necessarily as a punishment for sin. In our case, they come so that God’s purpose may be manifested through them.

9:6 The word of Christ [His spittle] mixed with clay [human flesh] brings sight.

9:7 This may have looked forward to baptism, the washing we must do once we ‘see’.

9:11 The man – There was nothing in Jesus to give anyone the idea that He was God. This is a perversion of later human theology rather than the testimony of the Gospel records.

9:16 This man is not from God, because he keeps not the Sabbath – Sabbath keepers say the same today; but Jesus’ answer remains the same for them too.
blind and had received his sight, until they called his parents, and asked them: Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How then does he now see? His parents answered and said: We know that this is our son and that he was born blind. But how he now sees, we do not know. Or who opened his eyes, we do not know. Ask him! He is of age. He shall speak for himself. These things said his parents, because they feared the Jews. For the Jews had agreed already, that if anyone should confess him to be Christ, he should be thrown out of the synagogue. Therefore his parents replied: He is of age, ask him! So they questioned the man that was born blind a second time, and said to him: Give glory to God. We know that this man is a sinner. He answered: Whether he is a sinner, I do not know. One thing I know, whereas I was blind, now I see. They replied to him: What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes? He answered them: I told you already and you did not listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Would you also become his disciples? And they reviled him and said: You are his disciple, but we are disciples of Moses. We know that God has spoken to Moses, but as for this man, we do not know from where he came. The man answered and said to them: This is the marvel! You do not know from where he came, even though he opened my eyes. We know that God does not hear sinners; but if anyone be a worshiper of God and does His will, Him He hears! Since the world began it has never been heard of a man born blind having his eyes opened. If this man were not from God, he could do nothing. They answered and said to him: You were altogether born in sins, and you teach us! And they excommunicated him. Jesus heard that they had excommunicated him; and on finding him, he said: Do you believe on the Son of God? He answered and said: Who is he, Lord, that I may believe in him? Jesus said to him: You have both seen him, and he it is that speaks with you. And he said: Lord, I believe. And he worshiped him. And Jesus said: For judgment I came into this world, that they that cannot see may see, and that they that see may 9:21 Their fear of religious disfellowship is contrasted with the fearless attitude of their son. Excommunication is a practice much abused by many religious groups.

9:31 The man reasoned that Jesus must have prayed to God in order for God to do this miracle; and been pleasing to God, for God heard Him to an amazing extent. He came to a very accurate understanding of the nature of Jesus and His relationship with His Father.
9:34 They threw Him out of the synagogue for believing in Jesus and for having been cured by Him. Typical religious abuse.
9:38 The man believed after His healing; the real possession of the Holy Spirit gifts enabled miracles to be done upon unbelievers and people like this man who were ignorant of Jesus (v. 25).
become blind. 40 Those of the Pharisees who were with him heard these things, and said to him: Are we also blind? 41 Jesus said to them: If you were blind, you would have no sin; but now you say: We see, therefore your sin remains.

CHAPTER 10  Apr. 17  Oct. 17
Jesus as the Good Shepherd

Truly, truly, I say to you: He that enters not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbs up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. 2 But he that enters in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. 3 To him the gatekeeper opens the gate, and the sheep hear his voice, and he calls his sheep by name and leads them out. 4 When he brings out all his sheep, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice. 5 A stranger they will not follow, but will flee from him. For they do not know the voice of strangers. 6 This parable spoke Jesus to them, but they did not understand what he was saying to them. 7 Jesus then said to them: Again, truly, truly, I say to you: I am the door of the sheepfold. 8 All that came before me were thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not hear them. 9 I am the door. By me if anyone enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and go out, and shall find pasture. 10 The thief only comes so that he may steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have life, and may have it more abundantly. 11 I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. 12 He who is a hired hand and not a shepherd, who does not own the sheep, sees the wolf coming and leaves the sheep and flees, and the wolf snatches them and scatters them. 13 He flees because he is a hired hand and does not care about the sheep. 14 I am the good shepherd, and I know my own and my own know me. 15 Even as the Father knows me, and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep. 16 And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold. Them also I must bring, and they shall hear my 9:41 Knowledge / ‘seeing’ brings responsibility to Divine judgment.

10:5 There is something instinctively attractive to us about the words of Jesus. When we read the uninspired ‘gospels’, it’s clear almost instinctively to Christians that they aren’t the true words of Jesus.
10:9 The ‘entering in’ to the sheepfold [the church] is through baptism into Christ. There is no other way “in”.
10:12 This is an unusual shepherd – fighting with a wolf to the death for the sheep. Wolves don’t fight that desperately. But this one does. Sin appears a menace but something which can easily be overcome by a man – when in fact it can’t be overcome so easily, it is a bitter fight to the death.
10:15 Knows me, and I know the Father – The Greek verbs here are in the continuous tense. God grows in knowledge of Jesus, and Jesus grows in knowledge of God. It’s a dynamic relationship between them; eternity won’t be ‘the same old scene’ for us, we too will grow in knowing God – and even vice versa.
10:16 Other sheep – The Gentiles?
voice, and they shall become one flock with one shepherd. 17 For this reason the Father loves me, because I lay down my life so that I may take it again. 18 No one takes it away from me, but I lay it down myself. I have authority to lay it down and I have authority to take it again. This command I received from my Father. 19 Because of these words, again a division arose among the Jews. 20 And many of them said: He has a demon and is mad. Why do you listen to him? 21 Others said: These are not the sayings of one possessed with a demon. Can a demon possessed person open the eyes of the blind?

The Unity of the Father and Son
22 It was the feast of the dedication at Jerusalem. 23 It was winter, and Jesus was walking in the temple along Solomon’s porch. 24 The Jews surrounded him and said to him: How long do you hold us in suspense? If you are the Christ, tell us plainly. 25 Jesus answered them: I told you and you do not believe. The works that I do in my Father’s name, these testify of me. 26 But you do not believe, because you are not of my sheep. 27 My sheep hear my voice, and I know them and they follow me. 28 And I give to them eternal life; and they shall never perish, and no one shall snatch them out of my hand. 29 My Father, who has given them to me, is greater than all, and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father’s hand. 30 I and the Father are one. 31 Once again the Jews took up stones to stone him. 32 Jesus said to them: Many good works have I shown you from the Father. For which of those works do you stone me? 33 The Jews answered him: For a good work we do not stone you, but for blasphemy, and because you, being a man, make yourself as God! 34 Jesus answered them: Is it not written in your law: I said, you are gods? 35 If he called those men gods, to whom the word of God came (and the scripture cannot be broken), 36 do you say of him, whom the Father sanctified and sent into the world: You blaspheme, because I said: I am the Son of God? 37 If I do not do the works of my Father, believe me not. 38 But if I do them, though you do not believe me, believe the works; that you may know and understand, that the Father is in me and I in the Father. 39 Again they sought to arrest him, but he escaped from their hands. 40 He went away again across the Jordan to the place where John had been baptizing at first, and there he remained. 41 Many came to him. And they said: John did no miracle, but everything that John said about this man was true. 42 And many believed in him there.

CHAPTER 11  Apr. 18 Oct. 18
The Resurrection of Lazarus

Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of Mary and her sister Martha. 2 And it was that Mary who had anointed the Lord with ointment and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. 3 The sisters therefore sent to him, saying: Lord, he whom you love is sick. 4 But when Jesus heard it, he said: This sickness is not to death, but for the glory of God, that thereby the Son of God may be glorified. 5 Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. 6 When he heard that Lazarus was sick, he therefore stayed two days longer in the place where he was. 7 Then after this, he said to the disciples: Let us go into Judea again. 8 The disciples said to him: Rabbi, only a few days ago the Jews wanted to stone you; and you want to go there again? 9 Jesus answered: Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world. 10 But if a man walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him. 11 These things he spoke, and after this he said to them: Our friend Lazarus is fallen asleep, but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. 12 The disciples replied to him: Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will recover. 13 Now Jesus had spoken of Lazarus’ death; but they thought that he spoke of Lazarus taking rest in sleep. 14 Then Jesus said to them plainly: Lazarus is dead. 15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, so that you may believe. Nevertheless let us go to him. 16 Thomas therefore, who is called Didymus, said to his fellow disciples: Let us also go, that we may die with him. 17 So when Jesus came, he found that Lazarus had already been in his tomb for four days. 18 Now Bethany was near to Jerusalem, about three kilometres away. 19 And many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary to console them concerning their brother. 20 Martha, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him; but Mary stayed in the house. 21 Martha said to Jesus: Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died. 22 And even now, I know that whatever you shall ask of God, God will give you. 23 Jesus said to her: Your brother shall rise again. 24 Martha said to him: I know that 10:41 John did no miracles and preached a hard hitting message of repentance and preparation for the coming of Jesus. People flocked to hear him, accepting what he said, repented and were baptized. His own sincerity must therefore have been so obvious; it was this which gave him authority in the eyes and ears of his audiences. The same can be true in our preaching.

11:6 Lack of immediate answer to our requests doesn’t mean God or Jesus haven’t heard them. They have ‘answered’, but for various reasons, to glorify His Name the more, they may delay in ‘coming’ in response.
he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. 25 Jesus said to her: I am the resurrection and the life. He that believes on me, though he die, yet shall he live. 26 And whoever lives and believes on me shall never die. Do you believe this? 27 She said to him: Yes, Lord. I have believed you are the Christ, the Son of God, he that is to come into the world. 28 And when she had said this, she went away, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Teacher is here and calls you. 29 And she, when she heard it, arose quickly and went to him. 30 (Now Jesus had not yet entered the village, but was still in the place where Martha met him). 31 The Jews then who were with her in the house and were consoling her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going to the tomb to weep there. 32 Therefore, when Mary came to where Jesus was and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying to him: Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died. 33 When Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping who had come with her, he groaned in the spirit and was disturbed, and said: Where have you laid him? They said to him: Lord, come and see. 35 Jesus wept. 36 The Jews said: Look how he loved him! 37 But some of them said: Could not this man, who opened the eyes of him that was blind, have also caused that this man should not have died? 38 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself, came to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay across it. 39 Jesus said: Take away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, said to him: Lord, by this time the body stinks. For he has been dead four days. 40 Jesus said to her: Did I not say to you, that if you believed, you should see the glory of God? 41 So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said: Father, I thank you that you have heard me. 42 And I know you hear me always, but because of the crowd that stands around I said it, that they may believe you did send me. 43 And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice: Lazarus, come out! 44 He that was dead came out, bound hand and foot with grave clothes, and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus said to} 11:24 Nothing is said here about an immortal soul which goes to reward in Heaven after death. Instead the emphasis is upon the literal bodily resurrection of believers from the dead, when Christ returns. By baptism we identify with the death and resurrection of Jesus, and can share in this great hope (Rom. 6:3-5).

11:38 Groaning – In prayer to God. Likewise the ‘weeping’ of v. 35 was in prayer – Rom. 8:26 says that Jesus prays for us now with groaning. We should therefore take our prayer life seriously, knowing that there is such intense mediation going on for us in Heaven itself, before the throne of God.

11:41 Jesus thanked God for the answer to His prayers even before the answer had happened, i.e., before Lazarus had come forth. Jesus was no hypocrite – He was practicing what He had taught in Mk. 11:24: “When you pray and ask for something, believe that you have received it, and you will be given whatever you ask for”.

11:43-44 Then the Jews said to the Pharisees, “Now the time is fully come for the Messiah to be at hand. Find a place for him to lodge in the town and let us welcome him.” They went and prepared a place for him on the upper room, as he had said to them. Then Jesus sent to the city, saying, “Make ready a dinner for the disciples.” So when his disciples heard that, they were afraid, saying, “Whoever will eat bread with him will be considered to belong to him.” But he answered and said, “One who has eaten bread with me belongs to me.” Then Jesus said to them, “Amen, I say to you, unless you eat my flesh and drink my blood you have no life in you. He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, so I judge; and as the living Father has given me life, so I give life to the world. I do not receive glory from men, but do as I see the Father doing. For the Father is life to me. The words I say to you I do not speak from myself, but the Father who dwells in me is doing his works. Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father in me; or else believe me for the sake of the works themselves.” Then they said, “Now you are old and get no more courage.” He answered them, “Do not speak of courage, but of the Spirit that he will give you.” When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth.”
The miracle was not only of resurrection; but that a man with tied feet and hands could get out of graveclothes and walk across a cave to its entrance and out into the open air. The wonders which God does in our lives contain so many ‘smaller’ wonders, the more we analyze them.

Therefore, six days before the Passover, Jesus went to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus had raised from the dead. So they made him supper; and Martha served, but Lazarus was one of them that sat and ate with him. Then Mary took a pound of very costly oil of spikenard, anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair. And the house was filled with the fragrance of the oil. But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples, the one that would betray him, said: Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred dinarii and given to the poor? Now the country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim; and there he stayed with the disciples. Now the Passover of the Jews was at hand; and many from the countryside went to Jerusalem to purify themselves before the Passover. They looked for Jesus, and spoke one with another, as they stood in the temple: What do you think? That he will not come to the feast? Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given orders that if anyone knew where he was, they were to inform them, so that they might arrest him.

The cross should elicit unity between God’s children. This should be especially seen at the breaking of bread meeting, when we gather together to remember Christ’s death. This is not the place for division and exclusion of God’s children, but for celebrating our unity.

The Response of the Pharisees
47 The chief priests and the Pharisees gathered a council and said: What will we do? For this man does many miracles. If we leave him alone, all men will believe in him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation. But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said to them: You know nothing at all, nor do you take account that it is expedient for you that one man should die for the people, so that the whole nation does not perish. Now this he said not of himself, but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation. And not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. So from that day forward, they took advice how they might put him to death. Therefore Jesus no longer walked openly among the Jews, but departed from there into the country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim; and there he stayed with the disciples.

CHAPTER 12

Mary Anoints Jesus

Therefore, six days before the Passover, Jesus went to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus had raised from the dead. So they made him supper; and Martha served, but Lazarus was one of them that sat and ate with him. Then Mary took a pound of very costly oil of spikenard, anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair. And the house was filled with the fragrance of the oil. But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples, the one that would betray him, said: Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred dinarii and given to the poor? this he said, not because he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and having charge of the moneybag he used to help himself to what was put into it. 7 Jesus replied: Leave her alone, she intended to keep it for the day of my burial. 8 The poor you have always with you, but me you do not have always. 9 The common people of the Jews learned that he was there, and they came, not for Jesus’ sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. 10 But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death, 11 because on account of him many of the Jews were going away and believing in Jesus.

Jesus Enters Jerusalem
12 The next day, a great crowd that had come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13 took the branches of palm trees and went out to meet him, and cried out: Hosanna! Blessed is he that comes in the Name of the Lord, the King of Israel! 14 And Jesus, having found a young donkey, sat upon it- as it is written: 15 Fear not, daughter of Zion! Look, your King comes, sitting on an donkey’s colt. 16 These things his disciples did not understand at first; but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written about him, and that they had done these things to him. 17 The crowd that was with him, when he called Lazarus out of the tomb and raised him from the dead, made testimony. 18 For this cause also the crowd went and met him, for they heard that he had done this miracle. 19 The Pharisees complained to one another: You see that you can do nothing. Look, the world has gone after him.

Jesus Speaks of His death
20 Now there were certain Greeks among those that went to worship at the feast. 21 These went to Philip, who was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him: Sir, can we see Jesus? 22 Philip went and told Andrew, and then Andrew and Philip went and told Jesus. 23 Jesus told them: The hour comes that the Son of Man should be glorified. 24 Truly, truly, I say to you: Except a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it abides alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit. 25 He 12:6 Someone with the perception of Jesus surely knew what was going on. But He didn’t challenge Judas about it, in the hope he would repent. When we see the failures of others, it may not be wise to immediately challenge them.

12:7 Despite so clearly predicting His death, it seems only Mary really understood. In his preaching of the Gospel, John was saying that the male disciples – the public preachers of the Gospel – hadn’t understood the most basic part of it, i.e. the death of Christ, but one woman did. Thus John is holding up a woman as the role model for all his hearers and readers.
12:24 Jesus perceived the great potential, the fruit, in the awful experience He was about to go through. We can face our sufferings likewise.
12:25 We must die first in order to live eternally. This is the symbolism of baptism – going under the water is like death with Jesus, coming up out of the water is like that loves his life loses it, and he that hates his life in this world, shall keep it to everlasting life. If anyone desires to serve me, he must follow me. Where I am, there shall also my servant be. If anyone serves me, the Father will honour him. Now is my soul disturbed; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour? But for this cause came I to this hour. Father, glorify your name. Therefore, there came a voice out of Heaven: I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. The crowd that stood by and heard it said that it had thundered. Others said an angel had spoken to him. Jesus responded: This voice has not come for my sake, but for your sakes. Now is the judgment of this world. Now shall the prince of this world be cast out. And I, if I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to myself. But this he said to signify by what manner of death he should die. The crowd asked him: We have heard out of the law that the Christ abides forever; and how do you say: The Son of Man must be lifted up?

Who is this Son of Man? Jesus replied to them: Yet a little while is the light among you. Walk while you have the light, so that darkness does not overtake you. He that walks in the darkness does not know where he goes. While you have the light, believe in the light, so that you may become sons of light. Jesus spoke these things, then he departed and hid himself from them.

Belief in Jesus

But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they did not believe in him. So that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, when he spoke: Lord, who has believed our report? And to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed? Because of this they could not believe, because Isaiah also said: He has blinded their eyes and hardened their hearts, lest they should see with their eyes, lest they should understand with their hearts, and turn, so that I should heal them. These things said Isaiah, because he fore-saw his glory, and he spoke about resurrection with Him (Rom. 6:3-5). But we must live out this principle in daily life, sacrificing what we could have in this life so that we might live eternally.

12:27 This is a wonderful insight into the internal thought process of Jesus as He struggled with temptation. Because He endured temptation, He is able to support us when we are tempted (Heb. 4:15,16).

12:32 We need to reconstruct in our own minds the picture of Christ hanging crucified upon the cross. If we are God’s people, we will be drawn closer to Him by it. “All men” here doesn’t refer to every human being, but to those who draw near to Jesus on the cross. This group of people are ‘all things’ to God.

12:34 Son of man – This was Jesus’ favourite self-description. He thus emphasized His humanity, that He was one of us, of our nature.

12:40 God blinds the eyes of those who don’t want to see. We must be careful not to slip into the downward spiral, but remain instead in an upward spiral of belief and response to that belief.
Many people today ‘believe’ but will not openly admit it, because they are worried what people will think of them. God arranged circumstances so that rulers like Nicodemus and Joseph ‘came out’ openly; but others didn’t respond to that and because they hid their candle under a bucket, they lost their faith, their light went out.

If we believe and confess that faith, through baptism and an open life of commitment, then God glorifies us – in His own book, in His own way, even if the world doesn’t see it.

It’s as if Bible verses, the words of Jesus, will be quoted back to us at judgment day and we will be asked how we responded to them. There will be a process of judgment, not just a yes / no statement from our Judge.

To give your life for God’s people is ‘love to the end’. Jesus defined that for us in His crucifixion.

We sense in these verses the very definite sense of purpose which there was in Jesus. We who carry His cross should have the same. The stream of small decisions we face each day we will make in the context of the purpose-driven life which we have in Christ.

To wash the guests’ feet was the job of the lowest servant. Jesus showed us that true greatness is in humble service, being a “servant of all”. Even Peter struggled to
he was girded. 6 When he came to Simon Peter, Peter said to him: Lord, are you going to wash my feet? 7 Jesus answered and said to him: What I am doing you do not comprehend now, but later you shall understand. 8 Peter said to him: You shall never wash my feet! Jesus answered him: If I do not wash you, you have no part with me. 9 Simon Peter said to him: Lord, wash not only my feet but also my hands and my head. 10 Jesus said to him: He who has bathed does not need to wash, except for his feet, but he is clean all over; and you are clean, but not every one of you. 11 For he knew who was to betray him; that was why he said: Not all of you are clean. 12 So when he had washed their feet and put on his outer garments and sat down again, he said to them: Do you comprehend what I have done to you? 13 You call me teacher and lord, and you say well; for so I am. 14 If I then, your lord and teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another’s feet. 15 For I have given you an example, that you also should do as I have done to you. 16 Truly, truly, I say to you: A servant is not greater than his lord, neither is one sent greater than he that sent him. 17 If you know these things, and if you do them, you will be blessed. 18 I speak not of you all. I know whom I have chosen; but the scripture must be fulfilled: He that eats my bread lifted up his heel against me. 19 From this time forward I will tell you before it happens, so that when it happens, you may believe that I am he. 20 Truly, truly, I say to you: He that receives whoever I send receives me, and he that receives me, receives Him that sent me. 21 When Jesus had said this, he was disturbed in his spirit, and testified: Truly, truly, I say to you: One of you shall betray me. 22 The disciples looked at each other, wondering of whom he spoke. 23 There was at the table reclining on Jesus’ chest one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved. 24 Simon Peter motioned understand the huge extent of this principle (v. 7) and we also find it hard to grasp.

13:8 No part – This could be a reference to the vital importance of baptism in order to be “in Christ”; “he who believes and is baptized shall be saved” (Jn. 3:3-5); unless a person is born of water and spirit, they cannot enter God’s Kingdom (Jn. 3:3-5).

13:16 Jesus repeatedly describes Himself as “sent” by God; He therefore recognized that God was greater than Him, as He stated specifically in Jn. 14:28. He wasn’t therefore ‘God’ in a Trinitarian sense.

13:19 The purpose of prophecy / Biblical prediction is not to give us a road map of events in the future, but rather so that when events happen, we will be able to understand them in their Divine context.

13:20 We are the representatives of Jesus in this world, and our behaviour should be appropriate.

13:23 This other disciple was probably John. In preaching the Gospel, John de-emphasized himself. He describes himself as simply a disciple whom Jesus loved. We should have such self-effacement when preaching Christ, focusing upon Him rather than ourselves.
to him, and said to him: Tell us who it is of whom he speaks. 25 He leaning back, as he was on Jesus’ breast, said to him: Lord, who is it? 26 Jesus answered: It is he to whom I gave the morsel of bread after I dipped it. When he had dipped the morsel, he had given it to Judas the son of Simon Iscariot. 27 Then after Judas had taken the morsel, Satan entered into him. Jesus said to him: What you are about to do, do quickly. 28 Now no one at the table knew for what reason Jesus spoke this to Judas. 29 Some thought because Judas had the money bag, that Jesus said to him: Buy what things we have need of for the feast, or that he should give something to the poor. 30 He then having received the morsel went out immediately into the night.

Jesus Predicts Peter’s Denials
31 When he was gone, Jesus said: Now is the Son of Man glorified, and God is glorified in him. 32 And God shall glorify him in Himself, and will glorify him immediately. 33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. You shall seek me, but as I said to the Jews, where I go, you cannot come. So now I say to you. 34 A new commandment I give to you: Love one another. Even as I have loved you, you also love one another. 35 By this shall all men know you are my disciples - if you have love for one another. 36 Simon Peter said to him: Lord, where do you go? Jesus answered: Where I go, you cannot follow now, but you shall follow afterwards. 37 Peter said to him: Lord, why cannot I follow you even now? I will lay down my life for you! 38 Jesus answered: Will you lay down your life for me? Truly, truly, I say to you: The cock shall not crow, till you have denied me three times.

CHAPTER 14

Knowing the Father and Son

Do not let your heart be disturbed. Believe in God, believe also in me. 2 In my Father’s house are many dwelling places. If it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. 3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will receive you to myself; that where I am, there you may be also. 4 And where I go, you know the way. 5 Thomas said to him:

13:26 This was the sign of being the specially favoured guest. Realizing the greatness of Christ’s love for us leads us to either repent, or as Judas, go out into the darkness.
13:34 What’s “new” about this commandment is to love as Jesus has loved us. And He died for us, the just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God.
13:35 Our unusual love for others should be a startling witness which grabs the attention of those around us.
14:2 God’s house refers to His temple, His family – not to Heaven as a location. There is a specific place for each of us within His family and purpose. “I go” is in answer to Peter’s question of 13:36: ‘Where are you going?’. Jesus was going to the cross, and would ‘come again’ in His resurrection. These verses do not teach that we will go to Heaven.
Lord, we do not know where you go. How do we discern the way? 6 Jesus said to him: I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except by me. 7 If you had truly known me, you would have truly known my Father also. From this time forward you will truly know Him and will have seen Him. 8 Philip said to him: Lord, show us the Father, and it suffices us. 9 Jesus said to him: Philip, have I been with you such a long time, and still you do not truly know me? He that has seen me has seen the Father. How do you ask: Show us the Father? 10 Do you not believe that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? The words that I speak to you, I speak not from myself; but the Father abiding in me does His works. 11 Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father in me; or else believe me for the very works’ sake. 12 Truly, truly, I say to you: He that believes in me, the works that I do, shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do, because I go to the Father. 13 And whatever you shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. 14 If you shall ask anything in my name, that will I do.

The Comforter
15 If you love me, you will keep my commandments. 16 And I will ask the Father, and He shall give you another comforter, that he may be with you for ever- 17 the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive. For it neither sees him nor knows him. You truly know him, for he abides with you and shall be in you. 18 I will not leave you desolate as orphans. I will come to you. 19 Yet a little while, and the world sees me no more; but you will see me. Because I live, you shall live also. 20 In that day, you shall truly know that I am in my Father, and you in me and I in you. 21 He that has my commandments and keeps them, he it is that loves me; and he that loves me, shall be loved of my Father; and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him. 22 Judas (not Iscariot) said to him: Lord, how is it that you will manifest yourself to us, and not to the world? 23 Jesus answered and said to him: If a man loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him; and we will come to him and make our home with him. 24 He that does not love me, does not keep my words; and the word which you hear is not mine, but the Father’s who sent me. 25 These things have I spoken to you, while still with you. 26 But the comforter, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and cause you to remember all that I said to you. 27 Peace I leave with you. My peace I give to you. Not as the world gives, do I give it to you. Let not your heart be disturbed, neither let it be fearful. 28 You heard how I said to you: I go away and I come to you. If you loved me, you would have rejoiced because I go to the Father. For the Father is greater than I. 29 And now I have told you before it happens, so that when it happens, you may believe. 30 I will no longer say much to you. For the prince of the world comes; but he has no claim on me. 31 And he comes so that the world may know that I love the Father; and as the Father gave me commandment, thus I shall now do. Arise, let us leave here.

The True Vine

I am the true vine and my Father is the husbandman. 2 Every branch in me that carries no fruit, he prunes away; and every branch that carries fruit, he cleanses it, that it may bear more fruit. 3 Already you are clean because of the word which I have spoken to you. 4 Abide in me and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine, so neither can you, except you abide in me. 5 I am the vine, you are the branches. He that abides in me and I in him, the same carries much fruit. For severed from me you can do nothing. 6 If a man does not abide in me, he is thrown out as a branch and withers, and these are gathered and thrown into the fire, and they are burned. 7 If you abide in me and... my words abide in you, you shall ask whatever you will and it shall be done to you. 8 Herein is my Father glorified, that you bear much fruit; and so shall you be my disciples. 9 Even as the Father has loved me, I also have loved you. Abide in my love. 10 If you keep my commandments, you shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father’s commandments and abide in his love. 11 These things have I spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be made full. 12 This is my commandment: That you love one another, even as I have loved you. 13 Greater love has no one than this: That a man lay down his life for his friends. 14 You are my friends, if you do the things which I command you. 15 No longer do I call you servants. For the servant does not know what his lord does; but I have called you friends, for all things that I heard from my Father, I have made known to you. 16 You did not choose me, but I chose you, and appointed you to go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should remain. So that whatever you shall ask of the Father in my name, He may give it to you. 17 These things I command you, so that you may love one another.

The Believer and the World
18 If the world hates you, you know that it has hated me before it hated you. 19 If you were of the world, the world would love its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you. 20 Remember the word that I said to you: A servant is not greater than his lord. If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you. If they kept my word, they will keep yours also. 21 But all these things will they do to you for my name’s sake, because they do not truly know Him that sent me. 22 If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have sin, but now they have both seen and hated both me and my Father. 23 He that hates me hates my Father also. 24 If I had not done among them the works which no other man did, they would not have sin; but now they have both seen and hated both me and my Father. 25 All this happens so that the word may be fulfilled that is written in their law: They hated me without a cause. 26 And when the heard (1 Jn. 5:14). But if God’s word abides in us, then we will ask according to our will and be heard – because our will becomes God’s will if His word abides in us. We will not ask what we want but what God wills – His will shall become our will.

15:15 Islam and many other religious systems speak much of ‘submission’. But we are the friends of Jesus, not His slaves. Our work for Him is from a motive of love, and is performed in active co-operation with Him as we work together to the same end – the glorification of God.

15:16 The initiative was with God and Jesus – because we are saved by pure grace. We should take the initiative in showing love and grace to others, as God did to us.

15:18-20 We should therefore expect opposition from the world, as predicted in the opening promise of the Bible in Gen. 3:15.

15:22 Knowledge of God’s word brings responsibility.
Comforter comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth which proceeds from the Father, he shall testify of me. 27 And you also shall testify, because you have been with me from the beginning.

CHAPTER 16

These things have I spoken to you, so that you should not be made to stumble. 2 They shall put you out of the synagogues. Yes, the time is coming, when whoever kills you shall think that he offers service to God. 3 And these things will they do, because they have not known the Father nor me. 4 But these things have I spoken to you, so that when the time comes, you may remember what I told you. And these things I did not say to you from the beginning, because I was with you. 5 But now I go to Him that sent me; and none of you asks me, Where do you go? 6 But because I have spoken these things to you, sorrow has filled your heart. 7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth: It is expedient for you that I go away. For if I do not go away, the Comforter will not come to you. I will send him to you. 8 And he, when he comes, will convict the world in respect of sin and of righteousness and of judgment. 9 Of sin, because they do not believe in me. 10 Of righteousness, because I go to the Father and you see me no more. 11 Of judgment, because the prince of this world has been judged. 12 I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. 13 However, when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he shall guide you into all the truth. For he shall not speak from himself; but whatever he shall hear, these shall he speak; and he shall declare to you the things that are to come. 14 He shall glorify me; for he shall take what is mine and shall declare it to you. 15 All things, whatever the Father has, are mine. Therefore I said: that he shall take of mine and declare it to you.

Jesus Promises to See the Disciples Again

16 A little while, and you will see me no more; and then a little while, and you shall see me, because I go to...
17 Some of his disciples questioned each other: What is this that he said to us? A little while and you will see me no more; and then a little while and you shall see me, because I go to the Father? 18 They said: What is this that he said? A little while? We cannot decipher what he said. 19 Jesus perceived that they wanted to ask him, and he said to them: Do you inquire among yourselves what I said? A little while and you will see me no more, and then a little while and you shall see me? 20 Truly, truly, I say to you: You shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice. You shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy! 21 A woman when she is in labour has sorrow, because her hour comes; but when she has delivered the child, she does not remember her anguish, because of her joy that a child is born into the world. 22 You now have sorrow; but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one will take away from you. 23 And in that day, you shall ask me no questions. Truly, truly, I say to you: If you shall ask anything of the Father, He will give it you in my name. 24 So far you have asked nothing in my name. Ask and you shall receive, that your joy may be made full. 25 These things have I spoken to you in figurative language. The hour comes, when I shall no longer speak to you in figurative language, but shall show you plainly about the Father. 26 In that day you shall ask in my name; and I do not say to you that I will pray to the Father for you. 27 For the Father Himself loves you, because you have loved me, and have believed that I came from the Father. 28 I came from the Father and came into the world. Now I leave the world and go to the Father. 29 His disciples said: Now you speak plainly and not in figurative language! 30 Now we are sure that you know all things, and do not need anyone to question you. By this we believe you came from God. 31 Jesus answered them: Do you now believe? 32 Behold, the hour comes, yes, has come, when you shall be scattered, every man to his own home, and you shall leave me alone; and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. 33 These things have I spoken to you, so that in me you may have peace. In the world you will have tribulation; but be of good courage; I have overcome the world.

These things spoke Jesus, and lifting up his eyes to Heaven, he said: Father, the hour comes. Glorify Your son, that the son may glorify the Father.

16:17 This is a paradox – the believers would see Jesus when they could no longer see Him. The work of the Comforter is such that we can as it were see Jesus as realistically as the disciples did during His life on earth. But this is if we let the Comforter operate fully.

16:33 I have overcome – But He had not yet died and thereby overcome the world. He so believed that He would overcome that He spoke as if He already had.
you, 2 even as You gave him authority over all flesh, so that he should give eternal life to all whom You have given him. 3 And this is everlasting life, that they should know You, the only true God, and him whom You sent, Jesus Christ. 4 I glorified You on the earth, having accomplished the work which You gave me to do. 5 And now Father, glorify me with Your own self with the glory which I had with You before the world was. 6 I manifested Your Name to the men whom you gave me out of the world. Yours they were and You gave them to me, and they have kept Your word. 7 Now they know that all things, whatever You have given me, are from You. 8 For the words which You gave me I have given to them, and they received them, and knew as a truth that I came forth from You; and they believed that You did send me. 9 I pray for them. I pray not for the world, but for those whom You have given me; for they are Yours. 10 All things that are mine are Yours, and Yours are mine, and I am glorified in them. 11 I am no more in the world; but these are in the world, and I come to You. Holy Father, keep them whom You have given me in Your Name, that they may be one, even as we are one. 12 While I was with them, I kept them in Your Name which You have given me, and I guarded them; and not one of them perished except the son of perdition, so that the scripture might be fulfilled. 13 Now I come to You; and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy made full in themselves. 14 I have given them Your word, and the world hated me, 17:3 “Know” is in the Greek continuous tense. We will spend eternity growing to know God. This is what eternal life will be about. If we don’t want to know God now, then there will be no point giving us eternity in God’s Kingdom to do this. 17:5 We need to remember that the Lord was speaking, and John was writing, against a Jewish background. The language of ‘pre-existence’ was common in Jewish thinking and writing. To be ‘with God’ didn’t mean, in Jewish terms, to be up there in heaven with God literally. Mary had favour para God (Lk. 1:30) in the same way as Jesus had glory para God, but this doesn’t mean she pre-existed or was in Heaven with God with her “favour”. The Torah supposedly pre-existed, everything on earth was a pattern of the pre-existing ideas of those things which were held in the plan and mind of God in Heaven. John 17:5 has reference to these things: “And now, Father, glorify me in your own presence with the glory that I had with you before the world existed”. The Talmud and Genesis Rabbah speak of the “Throne of Glory” pre-existing before the world existed. And the Lord Jesus seems to be alluding to that. The Jewish mind wouldn’t have understood the Lord Jesus to be making any claim here to have bodily, physically existed before birth. Peter reflected Jewish thinking when he wrote (albeit under inspiration) that Jesus was “foreknown” before the foundation of the world (1 Pet. 1:20 ESV). Think through the implications of being “foreknown” – the Greek word used is the root of the English word ‘prognosis’. If God ‘foreknew’ His Son, the Son was not literally existent next to Him at the time of being ‘foreknown’. Otherwise the language of ‘foreknowing’ becomes meaningless. 17:14-18 We are to be “in” the world, but not “of” the spirit of this world.
The unity of believers was a major theme in the Lord’s mind as He faced His death. It should be of paramount importance to us too.

God’s Name refers to His characteristics. As the Angel declared these to Moses as he hid in a cave, humbled by God’s glory passing by (Ex. 34:4-6), so Jesus declared that Name to perfection in His death. He did this in the life He lived (“I made known to them your name”), but in a very special way at the crucifixion (“and will make it known”). The result of us perceiving this in the cross is that we shall love one another, with the love of Christ.

Knowing all... went forward – His bravery and sense of mission appears the greater when we realize that He ‘knew all’ that would come. We are to carry His cross, and have His spirit.

The “I am” was probably a reference to His Father’s Name which Jesus carried.
John 18:6–18:25

I am he, they drew back and fell to the ground. 7 Again he asked them: Whom do you seek? And they said: Jesus of Nazareth. 8 Jesus answered: I told you that I am he. If therefore you seek me, let these go their way-9 that the word might be fulfilled which he spoke: Of those whom you have given me I lost not one. 10 Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and struck the high priest’s servant and cut off his right ear. Now the servant’s name was Malchus. 11 Jesus said to Peter: Put the sword into its sheath. The cup which the Father has given me, shall I not drink it?

Jesus Before the High Priest

12 So the detachment of temple guards and their chief captain and the magistrates’ attendants of the Jews seized Jesus and bound him, 13 and led him to Annas first. For he was father in law of Caiaphas, who was high priest that year. 14 It was Caiaphas that had counselled the Jews that it was expedient that one man should die for the people. 15 Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. Now that disciple was known to the high priest; and he entered with Jesus into the court of the high priest. 16 But Peter was standing outside the door. So the other disciple, who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to the maid who kept watch at the door. 17 The maid keeping watch at the door said to Peter: Are you also one of this man’s disciples? He said: I am not! 18 Now the servants and the officers were standing there, having made a fire of coals. For it was cold, and they were warming themselves; and Peter also was with them, standing and warming himself. 19 The high priest asked Jesus about his disciples and his teaching. 20 Jesus answered him: I have spoken openly to the world. I often taught in the synagogues and in the temple, where all the Jews come together, and have never spoken in secret. 21 Why do you ask me? Ask those that have heard me what I spoke to them. Behold, these know the things which I said. 22 And when he had said this, one of the officers standing by struck Jesus with his hand, saying: Do you answer the high priest so? 23 Jesus answered him: If I have spoken evil, testify of the evil, but if well, why do you hit me? 24 Annas then sent him bound to Caiaphas the high priest. 25 Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said to him: Are you also one of his disci-

The fact He came in His Father’s Name (Jn. 5:43) is quite normal and to be expected, but it in no way suggests He was one and the same as His Father.

18:10, 11 This incident was a contradiction of Jesus’ stated principle that His servants did not fight, because His Kingdom is not yet (18:36). We can embarrass and shame Jesus even now by the contradiction between our lives and His life in the eyes of the world, to whom we are His representatives.

18:15 Another disciple – John, the author of the Gospel, doesn’t push himself nor his own name in the preaching of the Gospel. Neither should we.

18:22 Jesus did not literally turn the other cheek and invite more abuse; instead He challenged His abusers.
ples? He denied and said: I am not! 26 One of the servants of the high priest, being a relative of him whose ear Peter cut off, said: Did I not see you in the garden with him? 27 Peter denied again; and immediately the cock crew.

Jesus Before Pilate
28 They lead Jesus from Caiaphas to the Praetorium; but it was early, and so they did not enter into the Praetorium, that they might not be defiled and might eat the Passover. 29 Pilate went out to them, and said: What accusation do you bring against this man? 30 They answered and said to him: If this man were not an evildoer, we should not have delivered him up to you. 31 Pilate replied to them: Take him yourselves and judge him according to your law. The Jews said to him: It is not lawful for us to put anyone to death. 32 That the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spoke, signifying by what manner of death he should die. 33 Pilate therefore went into the Praetorium and called Jesus, and said to him: Are you the King of the Jews? 34 Jesus answered: Do you say this of yourself, or did others tell it to you concerning me? 35 Pilate answered: Am I a Jew? Your own nation and the chief priests delivered you to me. What have you done? 36 Jesus answered: My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight that I should not be delivered to the Jews, but my kingdom is not from here. 37 Pilate replied to him: Are you a king then? Jesus answered: You say that I am a king. To this end have I been born, and to this end I came into the world, that I should testify to the truth. Everyone that is of the truth hears my voice. 38 Pilate said to him: What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again to the Jews, and said to them: I find no crime in him! 39 But you have a custom, that I should release to you one prisoner at the Passover. Will you have me release to you the King of the Jews? 40 Therefore they cried out: Not this called Jesus, and said to him: Are you the King of the Jews? 34 Jesus answered: Do you say this of yourself, or did others tell it to you concerning me? 35 Pilate answered: Am I a Jew? Your own nation and the chief priests delivered you to me. What have you done? 36 Jesus answered: My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight that I should not be delivered to the Jews, but my kingdom is not from here. 37 Pilate replied to him: Are you a king then? Jesus answered: You say that I am a king. To this end have I been born, and to this end I came into the world, that I should testify to the truth. Everyone that is of the truth hears my voice. 38 Pilate said to him: What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again to the Jews, and said to them: I find no crime in him! 39 But you have a custom, that I should release to you one prisoner at the Passover. Will you have me release to you the King of the Jews? 40 Therefore they cried out: Not this man but Barabbas! (Now Barabbas was a bandit).

CHAPTER 19

So Pilate had Jesus scourged. 2 And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head and arrayed him in a purple garment. 3 And they came to him, and said: Hail, King of the Jews! And they struck him with their hands. 4 Pilate went out again to the Jews, and said: Look, I bring him out to you, so you may know that I find no crime in him. 5 Jesus came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple garment. And Pilate said to them: Behold the man! 6 When the chief priests and the servants saw him, they cried out: Crucify him! Crucify him! Pilate said to them: Take him yourselves and crucify him. For I find no crime in him. 7 The Jews answered him: We have a law, and by that law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God. 8 When Pilate heard this he was even more afraid. 9 And he went back into the Praetorium, and said to Jesus: Where are you from? But Jesus gave him no answer. 10 Pilate said to him: Why do you not speak to me? Do you not know that I have the power to release you and have the power to crucify you? 11 Jesus answered him: You would have no power against me unless it was given to you from above. So the man that delivered me to you has the greater sin. 12 Upon this, Pilate sought to release him, but the Jews cried out, saying: If you release this man, you are not Caesar’s friend. Everyone that makes himself a king speaks against Caesar! 13 When Pilate heard these words, he brought Jesus out, and sat down on the judgment seat at a place called The Pavement, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha. 14 Now it was the preparation of the Passover. It was about the sixth hour, and he said to the Jews: Behold, your King! 15 They cried out: Away with him! Away with him! Crucify him! Pilate said to them: Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered: We have no king but Caesar! 16 Therefore he delivered him to them to be crucified.

The Crucifixion

17 So they took Jesus, and he went out, bearing his own cross, to the place called the place of a skull, which in Hebrew is called Golgotha. 18 There they crucified him, and with him two others, on either side one and Jesus between them. 19 Pilate wrote a title and put it on the cross. And there was written: Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews. 20 This title many of the Jews read, for the place where Jesus was crucified was near to the city; and it was written 19:11 Let’s remember that all our abusers are ultimately in the hand of God. The power of evil men is ultimately from God, seeing that ‘Satan’ doesn’t exist.

19:15 No king – The Old Testament clearly taught that God was Israel’s King and they were therefore His Kingdom. Therefore by saying this, the Jews were declaring themselves no longer God’s Kingdom.
in Hebrew, in Latin and in Greek.

The chief priests of the Jews said to Pilate: Do not write, The King of the Jews; but that: He claimed, I am King of the Jews. Pilate answered: What I have written I have written.

The soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the coat. Now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. They said to each other, Let us not tear it but cast lots for it, to determine whose it shall be; that the scripture might be fulfilled, which said: They divided my garments among them, and for my robe they cast lots.

These things the soldiers did. There was standing by the cross of Jesus his mother and his mother’s sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus saw his mother and the disciple whom he loved standing by, he said to his mother: Woman, behold your son! Then he said to the disciple: Behold, your mother! And from that hour the disciple took her to his own home.

After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now finished, so that the scripture might be accomplished, said: I thirst.

Nearby was a vessel full of vinegar. So they put a sponge full of the vinegar upon a hyssop stick, and held it to his mouth. When Jesus had received the vinegar, he said: It is finished! And he bowed his head and gave up his spirit.

The Jews, because it was the preparation day, and so that the bodies should not remain on the cross upon the Sabbath (for the day of that Sabbath was a high day), asked of Pilate that their legs be broken so that they might be taken away. Therefore the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first and of the other that was crucified with him. But when they came to Jesus and saw that he was dead already, they did not break his legs.

However one of the soldiers pierced his side with a spear, and immediately blood and water came out of his side.

And he who has seen has testified, and his testimony is true; and he knows that he is telling the truth, so that you may believe.

For these things happened so that the scripture might be fulfilled: A bone of him shall not be broken.

And again another scripture says:

19:20 Written in Hebrew, in Latin, in Greek – This explains the slight differences between the Gospel records in the descriptions of the title on the cross.

19:26 Jesus would’ve motioned with His eyes towards John – Mary was to see John now as her son. But tragically and so painfully, when Mary first heard the words, she would likely have understood them to mean ‘Look at me here’. If we find our lives tragic, then think of Jesus crucified, with men gambling over His one valuable possession, i.e. His coat, which probably His mother had made – and she was watching it all.

19:29 Hyssop isn’t very long, therefore Jesus was not lifted up very high above the earth, contrary to the impression given by Catholic crosses and architecture.

19:36 We are the body of Christ, His bones (Eph. 5:30).

They shall look on him whom they pierced.

The Burial of Jesus

38 And after these things Joseph of Arimathaea, being a disciple of Jesus (but secretly for fear of the Jews), asked of Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus; and Pilate gave him permission. Therefore he came and took his body away. 39 And there came also Nicodemus, he who came to him at the first by night; but now he brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pounds {45 kg.} weight. 40 So they took the body of Jesus, and bound it in linen cloths with the spices, as it is the custom of the Jews to bury. 41 Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden, and in the garden a new tomb wherein no one had lain. 42 There, because of the Jews’ preparation day, they laid Jesus (for the tomb was nearby).

Chapter 20

Mary Magdalene Meets the Risen Jesus

Now on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene went to the tomb early, while it was still dark, and saw that the stone had been taken away from the tomb. 2 She ran to Simon Peter and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and said to them: They have taken the Lord out of the tomb, and we do not know where they have laid him! 3 Peter with the other disciple therefore went out and went to the tomb. 4 They ran there together, and the other disciple outran Peter and came first to the tomb. 5 Stooping and looking in, he saw the linen cloths lying there, but he did not enter. 6 Simon Peter arrived behind him and entered into the tomb, and he saw the linen cloths lying there, 7 and the napkin that had been upon his head, not lying with the linen cloths but rolled up in a place by itself. 8 Then the other disciple also entered, he who had arrived first to the tomb; and he saw and believed. 9 For as yet they did not understand the scripture that he must rise from the dead. 10 So the disciples went away again to their own home. 11 But Mary was standing outside the tomb weeping. So, as she wept, she stooped and looked into the tomb. 12 And she saw two angels in white sitting there, one at the head and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. 13 And they said to her: Woman, why do you weep? She said.

19:38 Only close relatives could ask for the corpse of the crucified. Beholding the cross motivated Joseph to ‘come out’ openly for Jesus, feeling as part of His family.
19:39 This is a huge amount, more than the Caesars were buried with. The cross motivated Nicodemus to spend his wealth to honour Christ.
20:7 After Jesus rose, it seems the first thing He did was to fold up His graveclothes. We sense a great calm about Him – the peace which comes to all those who have identified with His death and resurrection through baptism and living in Him.
20:13 Sometimes we can be so distracted by our immediate situation, sorrow or bitterness, that we fail to see the glorious answer and resolution of God is there right before our eyes.
of the Jews, the doors were locked where the disciples were; and Jesus came and stood in their midst, and said to them: Peace to you. 20 And when he had said this, he showed to them his hands and his side. The disciples therefore were glad, when they saw the Lord. 21 Jesus again said to them: Peace to you. As the Father has sent me, even so send I you. 22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and said to them: Receive the Holy Spirit. 23 If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven them; if you retain the sins of any, they are retained. 24 But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. 25 The other disciples told him: We have seen the Lord! But he said to them: Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe. 26 Eight days later, his disciples were inside again, and Thomas was with them. Although the doors were locked, Jesus came and stood among them, and said: Peace to you. 27 Then he said to Tho-

Jesus Appears to the Disciples

19 When it was evening, on that day, the first day of the week, and for fear to them: Because they have taken away my Lord, and I do not know where they have laid him. 14 When she had said this, she turned herself around and saw Jesus standing there; but did not know that it was Jesus. 15 Jesus said to her: Woman, why do you weep? Whom do you seek? She, supposing him to be the gardener, said to him: Sir, if you have taken him from here, tell me where you have laid him, and I will take him away. 16 Jesus said to her: Mary. She turned and said to him: Rabboni! Which is to say, teacher. 17 Jesus said to her: Don’t keep touching me; for I am not right now going to ascend to the Father; but go to my brothers and say to them: I ascend to my Father and your Father, and to my God and your God. 18 Mary Magdalene went and told the disciples: I have seen the Lord! And she told them that he had said these things to her.

20:17 Touch me not – The Greek means ‘Don’t keep grabbing hold of me’; she thought He was about to go to Heaven any moment and was trying to keep hold of Him so He didn’t; but He comforted her that she needn’t worry, He was not right then at that moment planning on ascending to Heaven.

20:17 My Father...Your Father... My God... Your God – Jesus didn’t want His exalted status post His resurrection to become a barrier between Him and His followers. He calls God “my God” even after His resurrection. This destroys the Trinitarian argument that Jesus was only less than God during His mortal life. No. Even after His resurrection He emphasizes that God is still “my God” and that He has an analogous relationship with God as God and Father as we can have also with the same God. He is our pattern to follow, rather than something to be gazed at like an icon.

20:20 Were glad – The Biblical record doesn’t use superlative language to record events such as the resurrection and crucifixion of the Lord. This is the mark of Divine inspiration.
mas: Reach here your finger and see my hands, and reach here your hand and put it into my side; and be not faithless but believing. 28 Thomas answered and said to him: My Lord and my God. 29 Jesus said to him: Because you have seen me, you have believed. Blessed are they that have not seen and have believed. 30 Many other signs Jesus did in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book. 31 But these are written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing you may have life in his name.

Apr. 24 Oct. 24
The Risen Jesus Appears in Galilee

After these things Jesus manifested himself again to the disciples at the Sea of Tiberias; and he manifested himself in this way:

2 There was together Simon Peter and Thomas called Didymus and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee and the sons of Zebedee and another two of his disciples. 3 Simon Peter said to them: I am going fishing. They said to him: We will go with you. They went out and entered into the boat, and that night they caught nothing. 4 But when day was breaking, Jesus stood on the beach. The disciples did not know that it was Jesus. 5 Jesus called to them: Boys, have you something to eat? They answered him: No. 6 And he said to them: Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and you shall find. There they cast their net; and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fish. 7 That disciple whom Jesus loved said to Peter: It is the Lord! So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he wrapped his coat about him (for he was naked) and threw himself into the sea. 8 But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from the land, only about 100 meters from shore), dragging the net full of fishes. 9 So when they reached the shore, they got out of the boat; and saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon and bread. 10 Jesus said to them: Bring some of the fish which you have now taken. 11 Simon Peter went up and dragged the net to land, full of large fish, one hundred and fifty three; and although there were so many, the net was not broken. 12 Jesus said to them: Come. Break your fast. And none of the disciples did inquire of him: Who are you? Knowing that it was the Lord. 13 Jesus took the bread and gave it to 20:27 The finger fitted the nail marks in His hands; the hand fitted the gash in His side made by the spear.

21:5 Children – The Greek word is a kind of slang, dynamically equivalent of “Fellas!” or “Guys!”. Jesus was at such pains to show the disciples that although He has been exalted, He is very much with them, quite aware of colloquial language, and comfortable using it. This isn’t only yet another nail in the coffin of Trinitarianism; it comforts us, that our Lord is so with us and understanding of us.
21:11 The net wasn’t broken – showing that in being “fishers of men”, somehow our resources will not fail. 153 is the numerical value of the phrase “Sons of God”.
them, and the fish likewise. 14 This was the third time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples, after he had risen from the dead.

Jesus Challenges Peter
15 So when they had broken their fast, Jesus said to Simon: Peter, Simon, son of John, do you love me more than these? He said to him: Yes, Lord. You know that I love you. He said to him: Feed my lambs. 16 He said to him, a second time: Simon, son of John, do you love me? He said to him: Yes, Lord. You know that I love you. He said to him: Tend my sheep. 17 He said to him the third time: Simon, son of John, do you love me? Peter was grieved because he asked him a third time: Do you love me? And he said to him: Lord, you know all things. You know that I love you. Jesus said to him: Feed my sheep. 18 Truly, truly, I say to you: When you were young, you girded yourself and walked where you wished; but when you shall be old, you shall stretch forth your hands, and another shall gird you, and carry you where you do not wish to go. 19 Now this he spoke, signifying by what manner of death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he said to him: Follow me. 20 Peter, turning about, saw the disciple whom Jesus loved following- he who had leaned back on his breast at the supper and asked: Lord, who is he that betrays you? 21 Peter therefore seeing him, said to Jesus: Lord, and what shall this man do? 22 Jesus said to him: If I will that he remains till I come, what is that to you? You follow me. 23 This saying therefore went forth among the brothers, that that disciple should not die. Yet Jesus did not say to him that he should not die, but: If I will that he remains till I come, what is that to you? 24 This is the disciple that testifies of these things and wrote these things; and we know that his witness is true. 25 And there are many other things which Jesus did, which if each one of them should be written down, I suppose that even the world itself would not contain the books that should be written.

21:15 These – The pile of huge fish lying there? Do we love our occupations, our working life, more than the Lord? 21:17 The three questions, asked again by a fire, were to undo Peter’s three denials. Our love for Jesus personally is revealed in our care for His sheep. 21:22 We are so easily distracted from following the Lord by our focus upon the discipleship of others. If they follow Him, if they shall be saved, how they follow Him…so easily distracts from the call to us to personally follow Him and not take our focus off Him.

The former account I made, O Theophilus, concerning all that Jesus began to do and to teach, until the day in which he was received up, after that he had given commandments through the Holy Spirit to the apostles whom he had chosen. To whom, after his suffering, he also showed by many convincing proofs that he was alive, being seen by them for forty days, and speaking about the kingdom of God. And, being assembled together with them, he ordered them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, which, he said, you heard from me: For John indeed baptized with water, but soon you shall be baptized in the Holy Spirit. Therefore, when they had come together, they asked him: Lord, will you at this time restore the kingdom to Israel? And he said to them: It is not for you to know times or seasons, which the Father has set within his own authority. But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and Samaria, and to the remotest part of the earth.

The Ascension of Jesus

And when he had said these things, as they were watching, he was taken up, and a cloud received him out of their sight. And while they were looking earnestly into heaven as he went, two men stood by them in white clothing, who also said: You men of Galilee, why do you stand looking up into heaven? This same Jesus, who was received up from you into heaven, shall return in like manner as you saw him going into heaven. Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is near to Jerusalem, a Sabbath day’s journey. And when they arrived, they went into the upper room where they were staying, Peter and John and James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus and Simon the Zealot and Judas the son of James. These all with one accord continued earnestly in prayer with

1:1 Former account – The Gospel of Luke. This was the record of what Jesus “began” to do. Jesus didn’t stop His activity when He ascended to Heaven – the book of Acts is the account of how He continues to work with His people on earth, and that work continues to this day.

1:7 Even after His resurrection, Jesus didn’t know the exact time of His return; only God knows (Mk. 13:32). This shows that Jesus wasn’t only ‘less than God’ during His mortal life; even after His resurrection, God the Father is still greater than and different to Jesus. Trinitarian theology is totally mistaken.

1:10 Two men – Angels.

1:11 In like manner – Jesus will literally return to earth, perhaps to the Mount of Olives from which He ascended (v. 12).
the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brothers.

A Replacement for Judas
15 And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the brothers (a gathering of about one hundred and twenty persons) and said: 16 Brothers, it was necessary that the Scripture should be fulfilled which the Holy Spirit spoke before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, who was guide to those that took Jesus. 17 For he was numbered among us and received his part in this ministry. 18 Now this man obtained a field with the reward of his iniquity, and falling headlong, he burst open in the middle and all his entrails gushed out. 19 And it became known to all the dwellers at Jerusalem, so much so that in their language that field was called Akeldama, that is, The field of blood. 20 For it is written in the book of Psalms: Let his habitation be made desolate and let no one dwell therein, and his office let another take. 21 Therefore, of the men that have been with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and went out among us, 22 beginning from the baptism of John, to the day that he was received up from us, of these must one become a witness with us of his resurrection. 23 And they put forward two, Joseph called Barsabbas, who was surnamed Justus; and Matthias. 24 And they prayed, and said: Lord, you who knows the hearts of all men, show us which of these two is the one whom you have chosen 25 to take the place in this ministry and apostleship from which Judas fell away, that he might go to his own place. 26 And they cast lots for them; and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

The Holy Spirit is Given
And when the day of Pentecost had come, they were all together in one place. 2 And suddenly there came from heaven a sound like the rushing of a mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. 3 And there appeared to them tongues like fire, separating and resting upon each one of them personally. 4 And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other languages, as the Spirit gave them to speak. 5 Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem devout men, Jews from every nation under heaven. 6 And at this sound the crowds came together, and they were bewildered, because each one was hearing them speak in his own language. 7 And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying: Look, are not all those who speak Galileans? 8 And how is it each of us heard in his own native language? 9 Parthians and Medes and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, in Judea and Cappadocia, in Pontus and Asia, 10 in Phrygia and Pamphylia, in Egypt and the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and sojourners from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, 11 Cretans and Arabians, we hear them speaking in our language the mighty works of God. 12 And they were all amazed and were perplexed, saying to each other: What does this mean? 13 But others mocking said: They are filled with new wine! 14 But Peter, standing with the eleven, lifted up his voice and addressed them: You men of Judea and all that dwell in Jerusalem, let this be understood by you, and listen to my words. 15 These are not drunk as you suppose, seeing it is only the third hour of the day. 16 But this is the fulfilment of that which has been spoken through the prophet Joel: 17 And it shall be in the last days, says God, I will pour out My Spirit upon all flesh, and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams. 18 Yes, and in those days will I pour out My Spirit on My servants and on My handmaids, and they shall prophesy. 19 And I will show wonders in the heaven above, and signs on the earth beneath: blood and fire and vapour of smoke. 20 The sun shall be turned into darkness and the moon into blood, before the day of the Lord comes, that great and notable day. 21 And it shall be that whoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

Peter Preaches About Jesus From the Old Testament

22 You men of Israel, hear these words. Jesus of Nazareth was a man attested to you by God, by mighty works and wonders and signs which God did through him in the midst of you, even as you yourselves know. 23 Him, being delivered up according to the definite plan and foreknowledge of God, you, by the hand of men outside the Law, did crucify and slay; 24 whom God raised up, having loosed the pangs of death;

2:17 The last days – This phrase refers to both the ‘last days’ of the Jewish state in the run up to the AD70 destruction of the temple, and it can also refer to the ‘last days’ around the return of Christ to earth. The miraculous gifts of the Holy Spirit will be used to re-establish God’s Kingdom on earth – they are “the powers of the age to come” (Heb. 6:5); they aren’t possessed today. They will be given to us when Jesus returns.

2:22 A man – Even after His ascension to Heaven, Peter and Paul still refer to Jesus as a “man” (1 Tim. 2:5).

2:23 Men outside the Law – The Romans, who were not under the Law of Moses. We cannot get others to do our ‘dirty work’ for us and still be innocent. We are judged according to our intentions more than our literal actions.
because it was not possible that he should be held by it. 25 For David said concerning him: I saw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved. 26 Therefore my heart was glad and my tongue rejoiced, moreover my flesh also shall dwell in hope; 27 because You will not leave my soul in the grave, neither will You allow Your Holy One to see corruption. 28 You made known to me the ways of life, you shall make me full of gladness with Your countenance. 29 Brothers, I may say to you freely about the patriarch David, that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is with us to this day. 30 Therefore, being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him that of the fruit of his body he would set one upon his throne; 31 he foreseeing this, spoke of the resurrection of the Christ, that neither was he left in the grave, nor did his flesh see corruption. 32 This Jesus did God raise up, of which we are all witnesses. 33 Therefore, being exalted by the right hand of God, and having received from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, he has poured out this which you see and hear. 34 For David did not ascend into Heaven, but he himself said: The Lord said to my Lord, sit on My right hand, 35 until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet. 36 Therefore, let all the house of Israel know for certain, that God has made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom you crucified.

3000 People are Baptized
37 Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart; and said to Peter and the rest of the apostles: Brothers, what shall we do? 38 And Peter said to them: Every one of you should repent and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ to the remission of your sins; and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. 39 For to you is the promise, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, as many as the Lord our God shall call to him. 40 And with many other words he testified and encouraged them, saying: Save yourselves from this crooked generation. 41 They that received his word were baptized, and there were added in that day about three thousand people. 42 And they continued earnestly in the apostles’ teaching and fellowship in the break-

2:27 Hades – Translated “hell” in some Bibles. ‘Hell’ or hades is simply the grave. Jesus went to the grave for three days and was resurrected by God from it. Therefore hades / hell / the grave isn’t a place of eternal punishment for wicked people.
2:34 David didn’t go to Heaven when he died; instead his hope was in the coming of the Messiah, his great descendant, Jesus – who would raise David from the dead. The Biblical hope is the resurrection from the dead when Jesus returns, and eternal life in God’s promised Kingdom on earth. The idea of a soul going to Heaven on death isn’t Biblical.
2:36 God made Jesus Lord – showing His difference to and superiority over Jesus.
2:41 Baptism is the natural sign that we have accepted the word of the Gospel.
2:42 The Greek can be read as “Fellowship in the breaking of bread”. Believing what the apostles did, praying together and breaking bread together are all signs of our fellowship. Fellowship isn’t limited to just breaking bread together.

3:10 The Holy Spirit gifts were possessed in the first century church to back up the verbal preaching of the Gospel. The healings were in public places and uncontestable; in contrast to the many claims to ‘healing’ made today. The miraculous gifts were withdrawn and will be poured out at Christ’s return.

3:16 By faith – The faith of Peter and John. The healed man didn’t seem to have any his name, his name has made this man strong, whom you see and know. Yes, the faith which is through him, has given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

Peter Appeals for People to Repent

17 And now, brothers, I know that in ignorance you did it, as did also your rulers. 18 But the things which God foretold by the mouth of all the prophets, that His Christ should suffer, He thus fulfilled. 19 Therefore, repent and be converted, so that your sins may be blotted out, so that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord; 20 and that He may send the Christ, who has been appointed for you, Jesus; 21 whom the heaven must receive until the time of the restoration of all things, of which God spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets, that have been since the world began. 22 Moses indeed said: A prophet like me shall the Lord God raise up for you from among your brothers; you shall listen to him in whatever he tells you. 23 And it shall be, that every soul that shall not listen to that prophet shall be utterly destroyed from among the people. 24 Yes, and all the prophets from Samuel, and those that followed after, as many as have spoken, they also told of these days. 25 You are the sons of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with your fathers, saying to Abraham: And in your descendant shall all the families of the earth be blessed. 26 To you first, God, having raised up His servant, sent him to bless you, in turning every one of you away from your sins.

Jewish Opposition to the Gospel

And as they spoke to the people, the priests and the captain of the temple guard and the Sadducees came upon them, 2 being greatly annoyed because they taught the people, and proclaimed in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. 3 And they arrested them and jailed them until the next day; for it was now evening. 4 But many of those that heard the word believed, and the number of faith or understanding. Modern ‘healings’ demand faith from the person being healed; but the Holy Spirit gifts enabled people to be healed who had no faith or understanding. Those kinds of gifts aren’t possessed today.

3:19 This could mean that when the Jewish people repent, then God will send Jesus back to earth.

3:21 The Kingdom of God on earth will be a “restoration”. Israel in the past were God’s Kingdom – God was their King (Ex. 19:6); but that Kingdom was overturned by God until His Son comes again (Ez. 21:25-27). The restoration of Israel and the return of Christ are paralleled in Acts 1:6-11.

3:22 From among your brothers – The humanity of the Lord Jesus is emphasized. He was “from among” us.

3:26 The blessing promised to Abraham was the blessing of forgiveness of sins. By baptism into Christ, those blessings become ours. In this way, the Gospel was preached to Abraham (Gal. 3:8,27-29).
the men came to be about five thousand. And it came to pass that the next day, their rulers and elders and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem; and Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander and as many as were of the family of the high priest. And when they had set them in their midst, they enquired: By what power, or in what name, have you done this? Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them: You rulers of the people and elders, if we are being examined today concerning a good deed done to a crippled man, by what means this man has been healed, be it known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you crucified, whom God raised from the dead, in him does this man stand here before you healed. He is the stone that was rejected by you the builders, which has become the cornerstone. And in no other is there salvation; for neither is there any other name that is given among men under heaven, wherein we must be saved. Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they realised that they had been with Jesus. And seeing the man that was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it. But when they had commanded them to leave the council, they took advice with one another, saying: What shall we do to these men? For indeed a notable miracle has been done through them. It is obvious to all that dwell in Jerusalem and we cannot deny it! But that it spread no further among the people, let us warn them, that from this time forward they are not to speak to anyone in this name. And they called them, and ordered them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. But Peter and John answered and said to them: Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to 4:12 Non-Christian religions therefore cannot be a way to salvation. We can be saved only “in” that name... “wherein” we shall be saved. This only becomes possible if we are baptized into Christ, in His Name.

4:13 Unlearned – Greek ‘a-grammatos’, ‘without grammar’; Ignorant – Greek ‘idiotes’. The early preachers and leaders of the church appeared as idiots, as men without even basic education. But God used their witness to confound the mighty of this world. Erudition and education aren’t qualifications for preaching the Gospel; we should never feel we’re not good enough, but just do what we can and let ourselves be used by God.

4:16 Even the enemies of Christianity couldn’t deny that the miracles done by the Holy Spirit were indeed real. Modern claims to possessing Holy Spirit gifts are debatable; whilst God hears prayer, the miraculous gifts of the Spirit aren’t available today. What is claimed to have been done by Pentecostals simply doesn’t compare with the usage of the miraculous Spirit gifts in the first century.

4:19 We must be obedient to state laws, until such time as they contradict the law of God and of Jesus. This is especially true of military service.
God, you must judge; 20 for we cannot but speak the things which we saw and heard. 21 And they, when they had threatened them further, let them go, finding no way to punish them, because of the people. For all men glorified God for what was done. 22 For the man was more than forty years old on whom this miracle of healing was done. 23 And being let go, they came to their friends, and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said to them. 24 And they, when they heard it, lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said: O Lord, you that made the heaven and the earth and the sea and all that are in them, 25 who by the Holy Spirit, and by the mouth of our father David your servant, did say: Why did the Gentiles rage and the peoples imagine vain things? 26 The kings of the earth took their stand, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord and against His Christ. 27 For truly in this city there were gathered together against Your holy servant Jesus, whom You anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, along with the Gentiles and the people of Israel, 28 to do whatever Your hand and Your counsel foreordained to happen. 29 And now Lord, look upon their threats, and grant to your servants to speak Your word with all boldness, 30 while You stretch out Your hand to heal, that signs and wonders may be done through the name of Your holy servant Jesus. 31 And when they had prayed, the place was shaken wherein they were gathered together, and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit; and they spoke the word of God with boldness.

Powerful Preaching by the Apostles

32 And the full number of those who believed were of one heart and soul, and not one of them said that anything of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common. 33 And with great power gave the apostles their witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and great grace was upon them all. 34 For neither were there among them any that lacked; for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the proceeds of the things that were sold, 35 and laid them at the apostles’ feet; and distribution was made to each, according to anyone’s need. 36 And Joseph, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas (we say Son of exhortation), a Levite, a man of Cyprus by race, 37 having a field, sold it; and brought the money and laid it at the apostles’ feet.
Barnabas converted to Christ, he realized that all such ‘getting around’ God’s laws is wrong; simple, loving obedience from the heart is what God wants.

5:3 Ananias could control whether or not ‘Satan’ filled his heart, and was condemned for not doing so. If we think that a being called ‘Satan’ irresistibly influences us to sin, filling us with the desire to sin against our will, then we are making the same fatal mistake as Ananias.

5:4 The sin was conceived within the mind of Ananias – sin begins within (Mk. 7:19-23). Yet v. 3 says that ‘Satan’, the adversary, filled the mind of Ananias. The real enemy or adversary is our own mind, from where sin is conceived.

5:7 Appearing zealous, spiritual and generous when we aren’t in our hearts is a terrible sin, and will be judged very hardly by God.

5:14 This growth in acceptance of the Gospel happened immediately after God had killed Ananias and Sapphira for the sin of hypocrisy (v. 11). The ‘harder side of God’, the fact He is serious about His demands upon us, is actually an attraction for genuine people, rather than a repulsion.
of them. 16 And there also gathered crowds from the cities round about Jerusalem, bringing sick people and those that were vexed with unclean spirits; and every one of them was healed. 17 But the high priest rose up and all they that were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees) and they were filled with jealousy, 18 and arrested the apostles and put them in prison. 19 But an angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors and brought them out, and said: 20 You go and stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life. 21 And when they heard this, in the morning they entered into the temple and taught. But the high priest came and they that were with him, and called the council together and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought. 22 But when the officers came, they did not find them in the prison, so they returned and reported, saying: 23 We found the prison shut in all safety, and the keepers standing at the doors, but when we had them opened, we found no one within. 24 Now when the captain of the temple, and the chief priests heard these things, they wondered what the upshot of all this would be. 25 And there came someone that told them: Behold, the men whom you put in the prison are in the temple standing and teaching the people. 26 Then went the captain with the officers and brought them, but without violence. For they feared the people, lest they should be stoned. 27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked them, saying: 28 We strictly ordered you not to teach in this name, and yet you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching and intend to bring this man’s blood upon us. 29 But Peter and the apostles answered and said: We must obey God rather than men. 30 The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom you slew, hanging him on a tree. 31 Him did God exalt with His right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, to give repentance to Israel and remission of sins. 32 And we are witnesses of these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, which God has given to those that obey Him.

Gamaliel’s Advice
33 But they, when they heard this, were cut to the heart and decided to kill them. 34 But a Pharisee in the council named Gamaliel, a teacher of the law held in honour by all the people, stood up and gave orders to put the men outside for a little while.

5:26 Feared the people – The crowd were so fickle. They initially believed Jesus, cheering Him as He entered Jerusalem; then they turned against Him and shouted “Crucify Him!”. And now they are again supportive of His cause. God wants stable, loyal hearts and not commitment which is blown about so easily because it has no root in His word.
5:30 You slew – The Jews got the Romans to do it, because they were not under the Mosaic Law (2:23). But God of course sees through such behaviour; we are responsible for our intentions, even if we get others to do the deeds for us.
35 And he said to them: You men of Israel, consider carefully what you intend to do to these men. 36 For before these days Theudas rose up, claiming to be somebody, and a number of men, about four hundred, joined him. He was killed, and all who followed him were dispersed and came to nothing. 37 After this man, there rose up Judas of Galilee, in the days of the census, and drew away some of the people after him. He also perished and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad. 38 And now I say to you, keep away from these men and leave them alone. For if this counsel or this work is of men, it will fail. 39 But if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow them. You might be found to be fighting against God. 40 They took his advice, and when they had called in the apostles, they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. 41 They therefore departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonour for the Name.

And every day, in the temple and at home, they did not cease to teach and to preach Jesus as the Christ.

CHAPTER 6

Administrative Problems

Now in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplying, there arose a murmuring amongst the Greek speaking Jews against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily distribution. 2 And the twelve summoned the full number of the disciples to them, and said: It is not fitting that we should forsake the teaching of the word of God and instead handle finances. 3 Therefore, brothers, choose from among you seven men of good repute, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we will appoint to this duty. 4 But we will continue earnestly in prayer and in the service of the word. 5 And the decision pleased the whole crowd; and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch. 6 They set them before the apostles, and when they had prayed, they laid their hands upon them. 7 And the word of God increased, and the number of the disciples multiplied greatly.
in Jerusalem, and a great many of the priests became obedient to the faith.

Stephen is Arrested

8 And Stephen, full of grace and power, did great wonders and signs among the people. 9 Then there arose some from what is called the Synagogue of the Freedmen (Cyrenians, Alexandrians, and those from Cilicia and Asia), disputing with Stephen. 10 And they were not able to withstand the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke. 11 Then they secretly induced men to say: We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses and God. 12 And they stirred up the people and the elders and the scribes, and came upon him and seized him, and brought him into the council, 13 and set up false witnesses, who said: This man does not cease to speak blasphemous words against this holy place and the law. 14 For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place and shall change the customs which Moses delivered to us. 15 And all that sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face as if it had been the face of an angel.

(Jn. 17:23). Our disunity will discourage people from joining Christ; because initially, the church of Jesus is all that people see of Jesus.

7:2 Brothers  – Stephen was willing to use this term about unbelievers. Neither he nor the early church were obsessed with ‘separation’ in an external sense from the unbelieving world.

7:2 Stephen’s point is that God had a relationship with Abraham when Abraham didn’t even live in the land of Israel; and without any temple building. That relationship was based around the promises God gave him, of eternal inheritance of the land in the Kingdom of God, due to the work of his “seed”, or descendant, who was to be Jesus.
the patriarchs, moved with jealousy against Joseph, sold him into Egypt; but God was with him, and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom before Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt, and all his house. Now there came a famine over all Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction; and all his found no sustenance. But when Jacob heard that there was grain in Egypt, he sent our fathers the first time. And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brothers, and Joseph's race became manifest to Pharaoh. And Joseph sent and called to himself Jacob his father and all his extended family, seventy five people. And Jacob went down into Egypt; and he died, he and our fathers. And they were carried back to Shechem, and laid in the tomb that Abraham bought for a price in silver from the sons of Hamor in Shechem. But as the time of the fulfilment of the promise which God made to Abraham drew near, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, until there arose another king over Egypt, who did not know Joseph. The same dealt craftily with our race and ill-treated our fathers, casting out their babies so that they might not live. At this time Moses was born, and was exceeding fair; and he was nourished three months in his father's house. And when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up and nourished him as her own son. And Moses was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and he was mighty in his words and works. But when he was nearly forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brothers the children of Israel. And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, striking the Egyptian. And he supposed that his brothers understood that God by his hand was giving them deliverance; but they did not understand. And the following day he appeared to two of them as they were fighting and tried to reconcile them, saying: Gentlemen, you are brothers! Why do you injure each other? But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying: Who made you a ruler and a judge over us? Would you kill me, as you killed the Egyptian yesterday? And Moses fled at this saying and went to live in the land of Mid-

7:9 The Jewish elders rejected the Saviour – Stephen was hoping that his audience would see the similarity with what they had done to Jesus.

7:20, 21 The repetition of the word “nourished” shows how Moses was under two distinctly different influences as he grew up – those of God, and of the world; of Israel and of Egypt. We, and our children, have the same tension; it took Moses a long time to shake off the influence of Egypt and decide openly for God.

7:25 Again Stephen hopes that his audience will perceive that Moses as Israel’s Saviour wasn’t initially understood by them and was rejected – and this was how they had treated Jesus.

7:29 Moses fled partly from fear, but partly in faith, because he didn’t fear the wrath
ian, where he begat two sons. 30 And when forty years were fulfilled, an angel appeared to him in the wilderness of Mount Sinai, in a flame of fire in a bush. 31 And when Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight; and as he drew near to observe, there came the voice of the Lord: 32 I am the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham and of Isaac and of Jacob. And Moses trembled and dared not look. 33 And the Lord said to him: Take off the shoes from your feet; for the place upon which you stand is holy ground. 34 I have surely seen the affliction of My people that is in Egypt, and have heard their groaning; and I have come down to deliver them; and now, come, I will send you into Egypt.

This Moses whom they refused, saying: Who made you a ruler and a judge? Him God sent to be both a ruler and a deliverer, by the hand of the angel that appeared to him in the bush. 36 This man led them out, having done wonders and signs in Egypt and in the Red Sea and in the wilderness for forty years.

This is that Moses, who said to the children of Israel: A prophet like me shall God raise up to you from among your brothers. 38 This is he that was in the congregation in the wilderness with the angel that spoke to him in Mount Sinai and with our fathers, who received living words to give to us. 39 Our fathers would not be obedient to him, but thrust him from them and turned back in their hearts to Egypt, 40 saying to Aaron: Make us gods that shall go before us. As for this Moses, who led us out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what has become of him. 41 And they made a calf in those days and brought a sacrifice to the idol and rejoiced in the works of their hands. 42 But God turned and gave them up to serve the host of heaven. As it is written in the book of the prophets: Did you offer to me slain beasts and sacrifices for forty years in the wilderness, O house of Israel? 43 You took up the tabernacle of Moloch and the star of the god Remphan, figures which you made to worship; and I will carry you away beyond Babylon. 44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of the testimony in the wilderness, even as He who spoke to Moses appointed, that he should make it according to the figure that he had seen. 45 Which also our fathers, in their turn, brought into the land with Joshua when they received possession of the nations that God thrust out before the presence of our fathers, to the days of David; 46 who found favour in the sight of God and asked to find a habitation for the God of Jacob. 47 But it was of Pharaoh (Heb. 11:27). Our motives are so often mixed, as it seems Moses’ were at this time.

7:43 Israel carried two tabernacles through the wilderness – that of God, and that of their idols. If the exodus through the Red Sea is symbolic of our baptism (1 Cor. 10:1,2), then the wilderness journey speaks of our journey after baptism towards the Kingdom of God. We must carry only one tabernacle with us, one worship system – that of God.
We don’t need to go into a church or religious building in order to worship God. God wishes to live in our hearts [i.e. our minds], and where two or three are gathered together in His worship (Mt. 18:20).

The last words of Stephen are very similar to those of Jesus just before He died. The crucifixion is therefore not something to merely look at and admire from a distance, as an icon or picture; it’s something which speaks to us personally and directly. We should be transformed by it; He there becomes a pattern for me here and now, today.

Fell asleep – For the believer, death is but an unconscious sleep. The next we will know will be the resurrection when Jesus returns.

They were “devout” because they were willing to risk shame and abuse for the sake of identifying with a Christian brother. We sometimes have to be brave in this way too.
lamentation over him. 3 But Saul treated the church shamefully, entering into every house, dragging out men and women and putting them into prison. 4 Therefore those who were scattered went about preaching the word. 5 And Philip went down to the city of Samaria and proclaimed to them the Christ. 6 And the crowds, when they heard and saw the signs which he did, gave heed with one accord to the things that were spoken by Philip. 7 For from many of those that had unclean spirits, the unclean spirits came out, crying with a loud voice; and many that were paralyzed or lame were healed. 8 And there was much joy in that city.

Simon the Sorcerer
9 But there was a certain man, Simon by name, who previously used sorcery in that city and amazed the people of Samaria, boasting that he himself was somebody great. 10 To him they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying: This man has that power of God which is called Great. 11 And they gave heed to him, because for a long time he had amazed them with his sorceries. 12 But when they believed Philip as he was preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, both men and women were baptized. 13 And Simon also himself believed, and being baptized, he continued with Philip; and seeing signs and great miracles done, he was amazed. 14 Now when the apostles that were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent Peter and John to them, 15 who came down and prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Spirit. 16 For as yet it had not fallen upon them. These had only been baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. 17 Then they laid their hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit. 18 Now when Simon saw that through the laying on of the apostles’ hands the Holy Spirit was given, he offered them money, saying: 19 Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay my hands, he may receive the Holy Spirit. 20 But Peter said to him: May your silver perish with you, because you have thought to obtain the gift of God with money. 21 You have neither part nor share in this matter because your heart is not right before God. 22 Therefore, repent of your wickedness and pray to the Lord, that perhaps the thought of your heart shall be forgiven you. 23 For I see you are poisoned by bitterness and held captive by iniquity. 24 And Simon answered and said: Pray for me to the

1808 ACTS 8:2–8:24

8:3 Paul’s conversion is a pattern for us all (1 Tim. 1:16); our position before baptism was as bad, in essence, as Paul’s. For this is how serious sin is.
8:12 Baptism follows naturally and immediately after believing the Gospel. Infants can’t be baptized because they’re not capable of believing the Gospel.
8:13 Simon’s motivation probably appeared suspect from the start (v. 18). But we can’t judge the motives of others, we must baptize all those who profess belief in the Gospel.
Lord, that none of the things which you have spoken come upon me. 25 Therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, they returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel to many villages of the Samaritans.

Philip and the Ethiopian Official

26 But an angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, saying: Arise and go toward the south, to the road that goes down from Jerusalem to Gaza. The same is desert. 27 And he arose and went, and a man from Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasure, had come to Jerusalem to worship. 28 And he was returning, and sitting in his chariot, was reading the prophet Isaiah. 29 And the Spirit said to Philip: Go near and join this chariot. 30 And Philip ran to him and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said: Do you understand what you read? 31 And he said: How can I, unless someone guides me? And he begged Philip to come up and sit with him. 32 Now the passage of the Scripture which he was reading was this: He was led as a sheep to the slaughter, and as a lamb before his shearer is dumb, so he did not open his mouth. 33 In his humiliation, justice was denied him. Who can declare his generation? For his life is taken away from the earth. 34 And the eunuch said to Philip: I beg you, of whom does the prophet speak? Of himself, or of somebody else? 35 And Philip opened his mouth, and beginning from this Scripture, preached Jesus to him. 36 And as they went along the road, they came upon some water; and the eunuch said: Look, water! What is stopping me from being baptized? 37 And Philip said: If you believe with all your heart, you may. And he answered and said: I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. 38 And he commanded the chariot to stop, and they both went down into the water, Philip and the eunuch, and he baptized him.

8:24 Pray for me – But Peter had told him to pray himself to God (v. 22). We often balk at the direct relationship with God which He asks of us. We’d rather someone else did it for us, just as Israel didn’t want God speaking direct to them, but asked Moses to listen to His voice and tell them what He said.

8:31 People cannot hear the Gospel without a preacher (Rom. 10:14). There are people out there waiting for us to explain the Bible to them. Let’s go to them.

8:33 Generation – His children. The Eunuch couldn’t have children, and so he was interested to read this prophecy about Jesus in Isaiah 53, which predicted He would die without having children. We each see in Jesus some direct similarity or point of contact with our life experience, and this attracts us to Him.

8:36 The initiative for baptism came from the person wishing to be baptized. The idea of infant sprinkling is wrong.

8:37 There was a simple statement of faith before the person was baptized; he was mature enough to understand, and was baptized as an adult not a child.

8:38,39 Went down into... came up out of the water – Nobody crosses a desert without water. They surely had a few drops of water to sprinkle with, if that’s what baptism is.
when they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, and the eunuch saw him no more; and he went on his way rejoicing. 40 But Philip was found at Azotus; and passing through that area, he preached the gospel to all the towns, until he came to Caesarea.

The Conversion of Saul

But Saul, yet breathing threats and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest, and asked from him letters to Damascus, to the synagogues, that if he found any that were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. 3 And as he journeyed, it came to pass, that he drew near to Damascus; and suddenly there shone round about him a light out of heaven. 4 And he fell upon the earth and heard a voice saying to him: Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me? 5 And he said: Who are you, Lord? And he said: I am Jesus, whom you persecute. 6 But rise and enter into the city, and you shall be told what you must do. 7 And the men that journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing the voice but seeing no one. 8 And Saul arose from the earth, and when his eyes were opened he saw nothing, and they led him by the hand and brought him into Damascus. 9 And he was three days without sight, and did neither eat nor drink. 10 Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus named Ananias; and the Lord said to him in a vision: Ananias. And he said: I am here, Lord. 11 And the Lord said to him: Arise and go to the street which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Judas for one named Saul, a man of Tarsus. For he prays, and he has seen a man named Ananias coming in and laying his hands on him, that he might receive his sight. 13 But Ananias answered: Lord, I have heard from many of this man, how much evil he did to your saints at Jerusalem, and here he has authority from the chief priests to bind all that call upon your name. 15 But the Lord said to him: Go your way. For he is a chosen vessel to me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel. 16 For I will show him how many things he must suffer for my name’s sake. 17 And Ananias departed, and entered into the house; and laying his hands on him, said: Brother Saul, the Lord Jesus who appeared to you on the road upon which you travelled, has sent me, that you may receive

But it isn’t. Baptism means a complete dipping in water, which is what we see done here.

9:3 Paul asks us to see his conversion as typical of that of us all (1 Tim. 1:16). The blinding light of Christ has also shined in the darkness of our hearts (2 Cor. 4:6).

9:5 Whom you persecute – Jesus is His church; we are baptized into the body of Christ. What is done to us is done to Him.

9:15 God calls the most unexpected people to Him; it’s not for us to judge whom He might call.
Baptism is the assumed immediate first step to be taken by someone who believes in Christ and has repented. And immediately there fell from his eyes something like scales, and he received his sight; and he arose and was baptized. And he took food and was strengthened, and was several days with the disciples that were at Damascus.

Saul Zealously Preaches the Gospel

And immediately in the synagogues he proclaimed Jesus, that he is the Son of God. And all that heard him were amazed, and said: Is this not he that in Jerusalem made havoc of those that called on this name? And he had come here for this intent, that he might bring them bound before the chief priests. But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews that dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is the real Christ. And when many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel together to kill him. But their plot became known to Saul; and they watched the gates day and night that they might kill him. But his disciples took him by night and lowered him down the wall in a basket. And when he came to Jerusalem, he decided to attach himself to the disciples; but they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared to them how he had seen the Lord on the road and that he had spoken to him, and how at Damascus he had preached boldly in the name of Jesus. And he was with them going in and going out at Jerusalem, preaching boldly in the name of the Lord; and he spoke and disputed against the Greek speaking Jews, and they that were seeking to kill him. And when the brothers knew it, they brought him down to Caesarea and sent him to Tarsus. So the church throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria had peace, being built up; and walking in the fear of the Lord and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit, it multiplied.

Peter Cures People

And it came to pass, as Peter went throughout all regions, he came also to the saints that dwelt at Lydda. And there he found a certain man named Aeneas, who had been bedridden for eight years, for he was paralyzed. And Peter said to him: Aeneas, Jesus Christ heals you. Arise and make your bed. And immediately he rose. And all that dwelt at 9:18 Baptism is the assumed immediate first step to be taken by someone who believes in Christ and has repented.

9:20 People typically expect a forgiven person to be quiet for some time before they openly serve God. But God’s forgiveness is immediate; He is quick and eager to forgive and work with people, and we should be likewise.
9:27 We must be open minded to how God may be working. We must allow people the chance of repentance, be prepared to accept that they really have changed, and that God is willing to use them. It may be that we have to persuade other believers of this, just as Barnabas did. Ananias also had to learn the same lesson.
Lydda and in Sharon saw him, and they turned to the Lord. 36 Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas. This woman was full of good works and charitable deeds. 37 And it came to pass in those days, that she fell sick and died, and when they had washed her, they laid her in an upper room. 38 And as Lydda was near to Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men to him, urging him: Come to us without delay. 39 And Peter rose and went with them. And when he had arrived, they brought him into the upper room; and all the widows stood by him, weeping and showing the coats and garments which Dorcas had made, while she was with them. 40 But Peter sent them out, and kneeling down and prayed; and turning to the body, he said: Tabitha, rise. And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she sat up. 41 And he gave her his hand and raised her up; and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. 42 And it became known throughout all Joppa; and many believed in the Lord. 43 And it came to pass, that he stayed many days in Joppa with Simon a tanner.

Now there was a certain man in Caesarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of what was known as the Italian Regiment, 2 a devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, who gave much charity to the Jewish people and prayed to God always. 3 About the ninth hour of the day he saw clearly in a vision an angel of God, who came to him and said: Cornelius. 4 And he, fastening his eyes upon him and being afraid, said: What is it, Lord? And he said to him: Your prayers and your charity have gone up as a memorial before God. 5 And now send men to Joppa and fetch one Simon, who is surnamed Peter. 6 He lodges with someone called Simon, a tanner...
ner, whose house is by the sea side. 7 And when the angel that spoke to him had departed, he called two of his household servants and a devout soldier of them that served him continually. 8 And having related all things to them, he sent them to Joppa. 9 Now the next day, as they were on their journey, and drew near to the city, about the sixth hour, Peter went upon the housetop to pray. 10 And he became hungry and desired to eat, but while they made the food ready, he fell into a trance. 11 And he saw the heaven open and a certain vessel descending, as if it were a great sheet, let down by four corners upon the earth, 12 wherein were all manner of fourfooted animals, and creeping things of the earth and birds of the sky. 13 And there came a voice to him: Rise, Peter. Kill and eat. 14 But Peter said: Not so, Lord. For I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean. 15 And a voice came to him again the second time: What God has cleansed, do not call common. 16 And this was done three times; and immediately the vessel was received up into heaven. 17 While Peter was wondering about the meaning of the vision, the men that had been sent by Cornelius, having made enquiry for Simon’s house, stood before the gate, 18 and called and asked whether Simon, who was surnamed Peter, were lodging there. 19 And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said to him: Look, three men seek you. 20 So, rise and get downstairs and go with them, without doubting. For I have sent them. 21 And Peter went down to the men and said: I am the one you seek. Why have you come? 22 And they said: Cornelius a centurion, a righteous man and one that fears God, and who is praised by all the nation of the Jews, was instructed by a holy angel of God to summon you to his house and to hear words from you. 23 So he called them in and lodged them. And the next day he arose and went with them, and some of the brothers from Joppa accompanied him. 24 And the next day they entered into Caesarea. And Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his relatives and his near friends. 25 And when it happened that Peter entered, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet and did

10:6 Tanners were a low class profession, who were so despised they had to live out of town, e.g. on the beach. Cornelius was humble enough to accept teaching and baptism from someone of a lower social class.

10:13 The unclean animals which Peter was to “kill and eat” [possibly a reference to sacrificing them] represented the Gentiles. Paul speaks of the conversion of the Gentiles as an acceptable offering to God (Rom. 15:16). Yet Jesus had previously told Peter to go into all the world and baptize people from all nations into Christ (Mk. 16:15,16). Peter had been very slow to understand this; just as we are slow to realize the extent to which we too are to preach the Gospel to all people.

10:15 The idea that Christians can only eat ‘clean’ food is therefore wrong. We aren’t any longer under the Law of Moses.
Good works alone will not justify us to God; we need to have the knowledge of the Gospel and baptism into Christ. The greatest thing we can give someone is the knowledge of God and Jesus – this is far more than any material gift.

Lord of all – Now Peter appreciated the significance of the little word “all” – it included not just all Jews, but all peoples. We too are often taught by God the huge implications of terms and phrases we are over familiar with.

God didn’t show the resurrected Jesus to everyone, but to just a few people, who would then go and testify this fact to the rest of the world. God always loves to work through people – rather like how Jesus multiplied the loaves and fishes, but insisted on distributing them to the crowd through the hands of the disciples. God is also eager to use you today as His witness in this world.
the dead. 43 To him all the prophets bear witness— that everyone who believes in him receives forgiveness of sins through his name. 44 While Peter was still speaking these words, the Holy Spirit fell on all them that heard the word. 45 And the believers from among the circumcised who had come with Peter were amazed, because the gift of the Holy Spirit was poured out even on the Gentiles. 46 For they heard them speak with tongues and magnify God. Then said Peter: 47 Can anyone withhold the water for baptizing these who have received the Holy Spirit just as we? 48 And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then they asked him to remain for some days.

CHAPTER 11  May 3  Nov. 2

Peter Explains his Conversion of Cornelius to the Jewish Brothers

Now the apostles and the brothers that were in Judea heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God. 2 And when Peter had arrived in Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision criticized him, saying: 3 You went in to men uncircumcised and ate with them! 4 But Peter began to explain it all to them in order. 5 I was in the city of Joppa praying, and in a trance I saw a vision, a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners; and it came down even to me. 6 Looking at it closely, I saw the fourfooted beasts of the earth and wild beasts and creeping things and birds of the sky. 7 And I heard a voice saying to me: Rise, Peter. Kill and eat. 8 But I said: Not so, Lord. For nothing common or unclean has ever entered into my mouth. 9 But a voice answered the second time out of heaven: What God has cleansed, do not make common. 10 And this was done three times, and all were drawn up again into heaven. 11 And then three men stood before the house in which we were, having been sent from Caesarea to me. 12 And the Spirit told me to go with them, making no distinction. These six brothers also accompanied me, and we entered the man’s house. 13 And he told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house and saying: Send to Joppa and fetch Simon, whose surname is Peter, 14 who shall speak to you words, whereby you shall be saved, you and all your household. 15 And as I began to speak, the Holy Spirit fell on them, even as on us at the beginning. 16 And I remembered the word of the 11:3 Considering that Jesus had clearly commanded to go and preach to the Gentiles (Mk. 16:15,16), the early believers [who were all Jews] were very slow to grasp the fact that in Christ, Jew and Gentile now meant nothing. We too are at times very slow to grasp the most basic teachings of Jesus, because our culture and background is so against those teachings.

11:14 Whereby – Faith and salvation are dependent to some degree upon the preaching of the word to people (1 Cor. 15:2,11). This is why sharing God’s word with others is so important, and why we should respect those who preached the Gospel to us.
Lord, how he said that John indeed baptized with water, but you shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit. 17 If then God gave to these the same gift as He also gave to us, when we believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, that I could oppose God? 18 And when they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying: Then to the Gentiles also has God granted repentance to life.

The Church in Antioch

19 Now those who were scattered because of the persecution that arose over Stephen travelled as far as Phoenicia and Cyprus and Antioch, speaking the word to no one except Jews. 20 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they reached Antioch, spoke to the Gentiles also, preaching the Lord Jesus. 21 And the hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number believed and turned to the Lord. 22 And the report concerning them came to the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem, and they sent Barnabas as far as Antioch. 23 Who, when he had arrived and had seen the grace of God, was glad; and he encouraged them all, that with purpose of heart they should cleave to the Lord. 24 For he was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit and of faith; and many people were added to the Lord. 25 And he went to Tarsus to seek out Saul. 26 And when he had found him, he brought him to Antioch. And it came to pass, that for a whole year they were gathered together with the church and taught many people; and there, in Antioch, the disciples were first called Christians. 27 Now in these days there came down prophets from Jerusalem to Antioch. 28 And one of them, named Agabus, stood up and foretold by the Spirit that there would be a great famine over all the world. This took place in the days of Claudius. 29 And the disciples, every man according to his ability, decided to send relief to the believers that lived in Judea. 30 Which also they did, sending it to the elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAPTER 12

Peter is Delivered from Prison

About that time, Herod the king laid violent hands on some who belonged to the church. 2 And he killed James the brother of John with the sword. 3 And when he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also. And those were the days of unleavened bread. 4 And Jesus was killed. We should always be looking for points of contact between His sufferings and our own experience.

12:10 The Angel actually went with Peter through every street he ever walked; it’s just that as he walked those two streets, he could see the Angel. We each have a guardian Angel who is constantly with us. If only we could see the Angel, we would feel so much differently about our lives and situations.

12:12 Holding a prayer meeting all night indicates the intense focus of mind which these early believers had. But when their prayer meeting was interrupted with the news that the prayers had been answered – they just didn’t believe it and even mocked the idea. We too can pray without real expectation that the answer will come, and may come sooner and more powerfully than we could ever imagine.

12:15 The Christians believed that we each have a guardian, representative Angel.
departed and went to another place. 18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small anxiety among the soldiers about what had become of Peter. 19 And when Herod had searched for him and not found him, he examined the guards, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to Caesarea and stayed there.

The Death of Herod

20 Now Herod was highly displeased with those at Tyre and Sidon. They came with one accord to him and having made Blastus the king’s chamberlain their friend, they asked for peace, because their country was fed from the king’s country. 21 And upon a set day, Herod dressed himself in royal apparel and sat on the throne and delivered an oration to them. 22 And the people shouted: The voice of a god and not of a man. 23 And immediately an angel of the Lord struck him, because he did not give God the glory; and he was eaten by worms and breathed his last. 24 But the word of God grew and multiplied. 25 And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had completed their service, taking with them John whose surname was Mark.

CHAPTER 13

May 4  Nov. 3

The First Missionary Journey

Now there were at Antioch, in the church that was there, prophets and teachers: Barnabas and Symeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene and Manaen the foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. 2 And as they ministered to the Lord and fasted, the Holy Spirit said: Set apart for me Barnabas and Saul for the work unto which I have called them. 3 Then, when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them, they sent them away. 4 So they, being sent forth by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia, and from there they sailed to Cyprus. 5 And when they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews; they had also John to assist them. 6 And when they had gone through the whole island to Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesus, 7 who was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. The same summoned Barnabas and Saul, and sought to hear the word of God. 8 But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) opposed them, seeking to turn the proconsul away from the faith. 9 But Saul, who is also called 12:23 God is so sensitive to pride – He hates it.

13:1 Niger – probably a black brother, who was an elder in the church on the same level as Paul.

13:2 As they ministered – It is in the course of daily service to God that He invites us further in His service. The calls to service don’t come dramatically out of the blue, they are within a context of what we already are doing for God.

13:9 Paul means “the little one”. There’s no record of any specific name change, but it seems that as he began his missionary preaching, Saul changed his name to “the little one”. Humility is vital if we are to preach the Gospel. Arrogant, proud evangelists are Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, fastened his eyes on him, \(^{10}\) and said: You son of the Devil, you enemy of all righteousness, full of all deceit and all villainy, will you not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord? \(^{11}\) And now, the hand of the Lord is upon you and you shall be blind, not seeing the sun for a time. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness, and he went about seeking someone to lead him by the hand. \(^{12}\) Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the teaching of the Lord. \(^{13}\) Now Paul and his company set sail from Paphos and came to Perga in Pamphylia; and John left them and returned to Jerusalem. \(^{14}\) But they, passing through from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia; and they went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day and sat down. \(^{15}\) And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent for them, saying: Brothers, if you have any word of encouragement for the people, speak. \(^{16}\) And Paul stood up and beckoning with the hand, said: Men of Israel and you that fear God, listen.

Paul’s Sermon at Antioch

\(^{17}\) The God of this people Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they sojourned in the land of Egypt, and with a high arm He led them out of it. \(^{18}\) For about the time of forty years, as a nursing father He carried them in the wilderness. \(^{19}\) And when He had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, He gave them their land for an inheritance, for about four hundred and fifty years. \(^{20}\) And after these things He gave them judges until Samuel the prophet. \(^{21}\) And afterwards they asked for a king; and God gave to them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for the space of forty years. \(^{22}\) And when He had removed him, He raised up David to be their king, to whom also He bare witness and said: I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after My own heart, who shall do all My will. \(^{23}\) Of this man’s seed has God according to His promise raised up to Israel a Saviour, Jesus; \(^{24}\) after John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel. \(^{25}\) And as John was fulfilling his ministry, he said: Who do an abomination to God. Saul, Israel’s first king, was only acceptable to God whilst he was “little in his own eyes” (1 Sam. 15:17). Paul seems to have thought on this carefully, and taken the implications to heart.

13:11 This is exactly what happened to Paul on the Damascus road. He wanted others to share his conversion path.

13:18 Nursing-father – We see here the gentleness of God as He lead His people through the wilderness. After baptism we pass through the wilderness of life towards God’s Kingdom... and God is so gentle in His leading.

13:21 God was Israel’s King, they were His Kingdom. So it grieved God that they wanted a human king, to be like the nations around them. But He made a concession to their weakness, and gave them a king. We should not be unbending, but also willing to make concessions to others’ weakness, even as God does to us.
you suppose I am? I am not he! But look, there comes one after me the shoes of whose feet I am not worthy to untie. 26 Brothers, children of the stock of Abraham, and those among you that fear God, to us is the word of this salvation sent. 27 For they that dwell in Jerusalem and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor the voices of the prophets which are read every Sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him. 28 And though they found no cause of death in him, they asked Pilate to have him slain. 29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written about him, they took him down from the tree and laid him in a tomb. 30 But God raised him from the dead. 31 And he was seen for many days by those that came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are now his witnesses to the people. 32 We bring you good news of the promise made to the fathers, 33 that God has fulfilled the same to our children, in that He resurrected Jesus. As also it is written in the second Psalm: You are My Son, this day have I begotten you. 34 And as for the fact that He raised him from the dead, no more to return to corruption, He has spoken in this way: I will give you the holy and sure blessings of David. 35 Because He said also in another Psalm: You will not allow Your Holy One to see corruption. 36 For David, after he had in his own generation served the will of God, fell asleep and was laid with his fathers, and saw corruption. 37 But he whom God raised up saw no corruption. 38 Therefore, be it known to you, brothers, that through this man is proclaimed to you the remission of sins. 39 And through him, everyone that believes is declared righteous in all things in which the law of Moses could not declare you righteous. 40 Therefore beware, lest that which is spoken in the prophets comes upon you: 41 Behold you despisers, wonder and perish. For I work a work in your days, a work which you shall in no way believe, even if someone declares it to you.

Paul Turns to the Gentiles
42 And as they went out, they pleaded that these words might be spoken to them the next Sabbath. 43 Now when the meeting of the synagogue was dismissed, many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas; who, speaking to them, urged them to continue in the grace of God. 44 And the next Sabbath almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of God.

13:25 To untie the sandals of a man was an idiom which meant ‘to be his messenger or herald’. John in this sense did untie the sandals of Jesus by preaching of His coming; but he said that he was unworthy to do that. Humility is vital for the preacher.
13:39 Declared righteous – If we are in Christ, and believe in God’s grace, then He counts us as if we are righteous, although we are not. We are clothed in His white garments at our baptism into Him. Keeping the Law of Moses [including the Sabbaths, food laws and feasts] doesn’t make us righteous; faith in Christ does.
13:45 Jealousy is a word and idea which keeps occurring in the Gospels and Acts.
45 But when the Jews saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul and blasphemed. 46 And Paul and Barnabas spoke out boldly, and said: It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you. Seeing you thrust it from you and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, behold, we turn to the Gentiles. 47 For so has the Lord commanded us: I have set you for a light of the Gentiles, that you should bring salvation to the uttermost part of the earth. 48 And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad and glorified the word of God; and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed. 49 And the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the region. 50 But the Jews incited the religious women of high standing and the leading men of the city, and stirred up persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and drove them out of their district. 51 But they shook off the dust of their feet against them and came to Iconium. 52 And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Spirit.

May 5 Nov. 4

Opposition to the Work of Preaching

Now at Iconium they entered together into the Jewish synagogue, and spoke in such a way that a great number of both Jews and Greeks believed. 2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and poisoned their minds against the brothers. 3 Therefore they stayed there for a long time speaking boldly in the Lord, who bore witness to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. 4 But the crowd of the city was divided; part held with the Jews and part with the apostles. 5 And when there was an attempt by the Gentiles and the Jews, with their rulers, to treat them shamefully and to stone them, 6 they became aware of it and fled to the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra and Derbe and the surrounding region. 7 And there they preached the gospel.

Opposition to us comes so often because people are jealous that we have something which they don’t have – even though they say they don’t want or need it.

13:46 Judge yourselves – The only people who will be condemned at the last day are those who have effectively condemned themselves. God’s judgment is only a confirmation of peoples’ own judgment of themselves.

13:47 Paul here quotes a prophecy about Jesus as the light of the world, and applies it to himself. All that is true of Jesus is to be true of us. If we imagine how He would be in our situation, then we have our life’s mission. He Himself taught that He personally was “the light of the world”, and yet He said that we also are “the light of the world”.

13:52 After such opposition, they were joyful! This is the unique ability of Christians, to perceive victory in defeat [the cross is the greatest example], to bring good out of bad.

14:1 In such a way – Their style of preaching resulted in the conversions. God has delegated the salvation of others into our hands; how far it prospers depends to some extent upon our efforts and attention to style.
pel. 8 Now at Lystra there was a man sitting who could not use his feet. He was crippled since birth and had never walked. 9 The same listened to Paul speaking. Paul looked at him intently and perceiving that he had faith to be made whole, 10 said with a loud voice: Stand upright on your feet! And he leaped up and walked. 11 And when the crowd saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the language of Lycaonia: The gods have come down to us in the likeness of men! 12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercury, because he was the chief speaker. 13 And the priest of Jupiter, whose temple was before the city, brought oxen and garlands to the gates and would have done sacrifice with the crowds. 14 But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they tore their clothes and ran in among the crowd, crying out and saying: 15 Sirs, why do you these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and bring you good news, that you should turn from these vain things to a living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea and all that is in them. 16 Who in the generations gone by allowed all the nations to walk in their own ways; 17 and yet He did not leave Himself without witness, in that He did good, and gave you rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and gladness. 18 Even with these words the people were scarcely restrained from offering sacrifice to them. 19 But there came Jews from Antioch and Iconium, and having persuaded the crowds, they stoned Paul and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead. 20 But as the disciples stood around him, he rose up and entered into the city, and the next day he went with Barnabas to Derbe. 21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch, 22 confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God. 23 So when they had appointed elders in every church, and prayed with fasting, they committed them to the Lord in whom they had believed. 24 And they passed through Pisidia and came to Pamphylia. 25 And when they had spoken the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia. 26 And from there they sailed to Antioch, from where they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they had 14:7 Again, persecution, opposition and slander campaigns against God’s people only resulted in the Gospel being spread yet further 14:17 The natural creation, e.g. the rain and seasons, is in fact a witness from God which thoughtful people will perceive.

14:22 Tribulations – We cannot expect Christianity to be an easy ride. Our salvation is through many traumas in this life, and God won’t always preserve us from them, but rather He works through them so that we might come to His Kingdom when Jesus returns.
fulfilled. 27 And when they had come and had gathered the church together, they reported all that God had done through them, and that He had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles. 28 And they stayed no little time with the disciples.

CHAPTER 15  May 5  Nov. 4
Controversy about Circumcision

But some men came down from Judea and taught the brothers: Unless you are circumcised after the custom of Moses, you cannot be saved. 2 And Paul and Barnabas argued and debated with them; consequently Paul and Barnabas and some of the others were appointed to go up to Jerusalem to the apostles and the elders to resolve this question. 3 Therefore, being sent on their way by the church, they passed through both Phoenicia and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles; and they caused great joy to all the believers. 4 And when they arrived in Jerusalem, they were welcomed by the church and the apostles and the elders, and they declared all things that God had done through them. 5 But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees who believed, saying: It is needful to circumcise them, and to charge them to keep the law of Moses. 6 And the apostles and the elders gathered together to consider this matter. 7 And when there had been much debate, Peter rose up and said to them: Brothers, you know that a good while ago God made a choice among you, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel and believe. 8 And God, who knows the heart, did bare them witness, giving them the Holy Spirit, even as He did to us. 9 And He made no distinction between us and them, cleansing their hearts by faith. 10 Therefore, why do you now put God to the test, putting a yoke upon the neck of the disciples which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear? 11 But we believe that we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, in the same way as them. 12 And all the crowd kept silent as they listened to Barnabas and Paul relating what signs and wonders

14:27 God opens doors to those who knock (Lk. 11:9). Maybe there had been Gentiles who had been begging for acceptance by God in His Messiah / Son, and so God worked through the persecution of the Jewish Christians, and in the life of Paul, to ensure that this happened.

15:1 There is always a desire amongst some Christians to seek justification by some form of works, often connected with obedience to the Law of Moses; the New Testament letters show how Paul strongly resisted this.

15:4 They felt they were being used by God, rather than giving the impression they had done their work in their own strength. Likewise in v. 7 Peter says that his preaching was merely being a mouthpiece for God.

15:10 The yoke we have is that of Jesus (Mt. 11:29,30). We can’t have two yokes upon us. We either accept salvation by faith in Christ, or we attempt to bring about our own salvation by obedience to the Mosaic Law. We can’t seek justification, therefore, by taking upon ourselves the yoke of Sabbath keeping and legal obedience.
God had done among the Gentiles through them. 13 And after they finished speaking, James replied, saying: Brothers. Listen to me. 14 Simeon has related how first God visited the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for His name. 15 And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written: 16 After these things I will return, and I will build again the tabernacle of David which is fallen, and I will raise it up; 17 so that the residue of mankind may seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles who are called by My name, 18 said the Lord, who makes these things known from of old. 19 Therefore my judgment is that we do not trouble those from among the Gentiles that turn to God, 20 but that we write to them, that they abstain from the pollutions of idols, from fornication, from what is strangled and from blood. 21 For Moses from generations of old has in every city those that preach him, he being read in the synagogues every Sabbath.

The Compromise Reached About the Gentile Converts
22 Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas: Judas called Barsabbas and Silas, leading men among the brothers. 23 With them they sent the following letter: The apostles and the elders, brothers, to the brothers who are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia, greeting. 24 Forasmuch as we have heard that some who went out from us have disturbed you with words, subverting you, to whom we gave no commandment, 25 it seemed good to us, having come to one accord, to select men and send them to you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, 26 men that have risked their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. 27 Therefore, we have sent Judas and Silas, who themselves also shall tell you the same things by word of mouth. 28 For it seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things: 29 that you abstain from things sacrificed to idols, from blood, from things strangled and from fornication. From which if you keep yourselves, it shall be well with you. Farewell. 30 So they, when they were sent off, went to Antioch; and having gathered the congregation together, they delivered the letter. And when they had read it, they rejoiced for the encouragement. And Judas and Silas, being themselves also prophets, encouraged and strengthened the believers with many words. And after they had spent some time there, they were sent off in peace by the brothers back to those that had sent them. But it seemed good to Silas to stay there. And Paul and Barnabas stayed in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

Another Missionary Journey
And after some days Paul said to Barnabas: Let us return now and visit the believers in every city wherein we proclaimed the word of the Lord, and see how they fare. And Barnabas wanted to take with them John also, who was called Mark. But Paul thought best not to take with them one who had withdrawn from them in Pamphylia, and had not gone with them to the work. They had such a sharp disagreement that they parted company. Barnabas took Mark with him and sailed away to Cyprus; but Paul chose Silas and departed, being commended by the brothers to the grace of the Lord. And he went through Antioch, strengthening the churches.

CHAPTER 16
And he went also to Derbe and to Lystra; and a certain disciple was there, named Timothy, the son of a Jewess that believed; but his father was a Greek. The same was well reported of by the believers that were at Lystra and Iconium. Paul wanted Timothy to accompany him, and he took him and circumcised him because of the Jews who were in those places, for they all knew that his father was a Greek. And as they went on their way through the cities, they delivered to them the decrees to keep, which had been determined by the apostles and elders at Jerusalem. So the churches were strengthened 15:36 If we bring someone to Christ, they are our lifelong responsibility – our spiritual child in Christ.

15:39 This doesn’t justify division within the church, nor does it mean that personal disagreement is inevitable. This incident indicates that Paul wasn’t perfect; and it comforts us that we are all human, and will never find the perfect church anywhere.
16:3 Paul often writes in his letter that circumcision is meaningless (e.g. 1 Cor. 7:19). But he was sensitive to the feelings of the Jews. There are times when we must try to take down the barriers which there are between us and our audience. We must at times give in on non-essentials.
16:5 The decree of chapter 15 was a series of concessions aimed at producing unity between Jewish and Gentile Christians. The unity achieved by these concessions meant that more people were attracted to the faith – because our unity is our greatest witness (Jn. 17:21-23). The churches increased “daily” because presumably they baptized people each day – they saw the crucial importance of it, and didn’t leave it until the weekends or some convenient time of year.
in the faith, and increased in number daily. 6 And they went through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, having been forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia. 7 And when they came to the border of Mysia, they attempted to go into Bithynia; but the Spirit of Jesus did not permit them. 8 So passing by Mysia, they came down to Troas. 9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night. There was a man of Macedonia standing, urging him and saying: Come into Macedonia and help us! 10 And when he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us to preach the gospel to them.

Preaching and an Earthquake in Philippi
11 Setting sail therefore from Troas, we made a straight course to Samothrace and the day following to Neapolis, 12 and from there to Philippi, which is a city of Macedonia, the first of the district, a Roman colony; and we stayed in this city for some days. 13 And on the Sabbath day we went outside the gate by a river, where we supposed there was a place of prayer, and we sat down and spoke to the women that had gathered. 14 And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple of the city of Thyatira, one that worshiped God, heard us; whose heart the Lord opened to give heed to the things which were spoken by Paul. 15 And when she was baptized, and her household, she urged us, saying: If you have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house and stay. So she persuaded us. 16 And it came to pass, as we were going to the place of prayer, that a certain slave girl met us, who had a spirit by which she predicted the future and who brought her masters much gain by fortune-telling. 17 The same following after Paul and us was crying out, saying: These men are servants of the Most High God, who proclaim to you the way of salvation! 18 And this she did for many days. But Paul, being greatly disturbed by it, turned and said to the spirit: I order you in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And it came out that very moment. 19 But when her masters saw that the hope of their gain was gone, they laid hold of Paul and Silas and dragged them into the marketplace before the rulers, 20 and when they had brought them to the magistrates, they said: These men, being Jews, are disturbing our city, and advocate customs which it is not lawful for us to receive, or to observe, being Romans. 22 And the crowd rose up together against them; and the magistrates ordered them to be stripped and beaten. 23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they threw them into 16:15 Again it is assumed that people who believe are immediately baptized. If we seriously believe, we must be baptized as Jesus commands (Mk. 16:16).

16:17 Mentally ill people often have great spiritual perception – hence the especial efforts of Jesus to cure them [the language of ‘unclean spirits’ and ‘demons’ refer to mentally ill people].
prison, ordering the jailor to guard them carefully. 24 Having received this order, he put them into the inner prison and fastened their feet in shackles. 25 But about midnight, Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God; and the prisoners were listening to them. 26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened and everyone’s bonds were unfastened. 27 And the jailor, being roused out of sleep and seeing the prison doors open, drew his sword and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. 28 But Paul cried out with a loud voice, saying: Do not harm yourself! For we are all here. 29 And he called for lights and rushed in, and trembling with fear, he fell down before Paul and Silas, 30 and brought them out and said: Sirs, what must I do to be saved? 31 And they said: Believe on the Lord Jesus and you shall be saved, you and your household. 32 And they spoke the word of the Lord to him, and to all that were in his household. 33 And at that hour of the night he took them and washed their wounds; then immediately he and all his family were baptized. 34 And he brought them into his house, set food before them, and rejoiced greatly with all his family, having believed in God. 35 But when it was day, the magistrates sent their officers, saying: Let those men go. 36 And the jailor reported the words to Paul, saying: The magistrates have sent word to let you go. Therefore come out and go in peace. 37 But Paul said to them: They have beaten us publicly, uncondemned men that are Roman citizens, and have thrown us into prison, and now they want to throw us out secretly? No! Let them come themselves and bring us out. 38 And the officers reported these words to the magistrates; and they feared when they heard that they were Romans. 39 And they came and pleaded with them, and when they had brought them out, they asked them to go away from the city. 40 And they went out of the prison and entered into the house of Lydia; and when they had seen the believers, they comforted them and departed.

16:25 Joy in the face of persecution and suffering is a theme of Acts.
16:33 The Acts record emphasizes how “immediately” people were baptized, the same day they heard and believed the Gospel. The content of the Gospel wouldn’t therefore have been presented in a very complicated nor lengthy manner. The vital importance of baptism is shown by how the family were baptized in the middle of the night, after an earthquake had struck, and with the prisoners able to escape. But they put God first; and all other things fell into place.
16:37 Why didn’t Paul declare his Roman citizenship earlier, so as to avoid a beating? Whatever the reason, there was a reason, and it was connected with the furtherance of the Gospel. There are times when we can take an easier way and it’s no sin; but the cause of the Gospel is better served by taking the harder way.
16:40 Paul and Silas comforted others! Despite having had so much distress themselves.
There was no other religion in the area which produced such profound unity between Jews and Gentiles, men and women, rich and poor. Today too, God calls very different people to faith in His Son, just as the disciples were a very diverse group. This means that the potential for both unity and division is very high in the church.

The Bereans are our example – to not just accept what we are taught, but to daily, systematically “search the Scriptures”. We should be in daily contact with the Bible.

Therefore – People believed because they searched the Scriptures daily (v. 11). Faith comes by hearing the word of God (Rom. 10:17).

We should also have hearts that bleed for the lostness and ignorance of this world.
We should walk through this world observant and sensitive, and use whatever we see around us as a springboard into sharing the Gospel with people. Likewise in v. 28 Paul quotes one of their poets to them, rather like we may quote a line from a popular song, in order to get over the content of the Gospel.

Doctrine has meaning in practice. If we believe that Jesus is returning and there will be a judgment day – then we ought to repent now rather than then!

There is emphasis throughout Acts 16 and 17 on how women believed; religion made with hands. Neither is He served by men’s hands, as though He needed anything, seeing He gives to all life and breath and all things. And He has made from one, every nation of men to dwell on all the face of the earth, and has determined the times set for them and the bounds of their habitation, that they should seek God; so that they might feel after Him and find Him, though He is not far from each one of us. For in Him we live and move and have our being- as some even of your own poets have said: For we are also his offspring. Being then the offspring of God, we should not think that the Divine is like gold, or silver, or stone, something crafted by art and the imagination of man. Therefore, the times of ignorance God overlooked, but now He commands men that they should all everywhere repent. Inasmuch as He has appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness by the man whom He has ordained; of which He has given assurance to all men, in that He has raised him from the dead. Now when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; but others said: We will hear you concerning this yet again. Thus Paul went out from among them. But some people joined him and believed, among

Paul Preaches at Corinth

After these things he departed from Athens and went to Corinth. 2 And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome; and he went to them. 3 And because he was of the same trade, he stayed with them and they worked together, for by trade they were tentmakers. 4 And he reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath, and persuaded Jews and Gentiles. 5 But when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was occupied with the word, testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ. 6 And when they opposed and reviled him, he shook out his garments and said to them: Your blood is on your own heads! I am innocent. From now on I will go to the Gentiles. 7 And he departed from there, and went into the house of a certain man named Titus Justus, one that worshiped God, whose house was attached to the synagogue. 8 And Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, believed in the Lord with all his family; and many of the Corinthians, hearing, believed and were baptized. 9 And during the night in a vision, the Lord said to Paul: Do not be afraid, but speak out and do not keep silent. 10 For I am with you, and no one shall attack or harm you. For I have many people in this city. 11 And he lived there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them. 12 But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul and brought him before the judgment seat, 13 saying: This man persuades men to worship God contrary to the law. 14 But when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews: If indeed it were a matter of wrong or of criminal villainy, O you Jews, it would be logical that I should bear with you. 15 But if they are questions about words and names and your own law, look to it yourselves. I refuse to be a judge of these matters. 16 And he drove them from the judgment seat. 17 And they all laid hold on Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment seat. And Gallio cared for none of these things. 18 And Paul, was largely a hobby for men, but Christianity was very much a woman’s religion because of the unusual meaning and value it attached to all people, including women.

18:6 As explained throughout Ezekiel 33:2-7, if we do not witness to people and they die in ignorance, then we must bear the responsibility for their loss of salvation.

18:8 Baptism always follows belief. Infant baptism can’t be right because the infant cannot understand or believe the Gospel.

18:10 Somehow, everything will work out all right for us if our focus is upon bringing people to be part of God’s people.

18:12 When this happened, Paul must have kept remembering the promise of verse 10, trying to reassure himself that God will not break His promises.
having stayed after this for many days, took his leave of the believers, and with Priscilla and Aquila sailed to Syria, having shorn his head in Cenchrea. For he had made a vow. 19 And they came to Ephesus; and he left them there, but he entered into the synagogue and reasoned with the Jews. 20 And when they asked him to stay a longer time, he did not consent but took his leave of them, saying: I will return again to you if God wills. He then set sail from Ephesus. 21 And when he had landed at Caesarea, he went and greeted the church, and then went down to Antioch. 22 And having spent some time there, he departed and went through the region of Galatia and Phrygia, in that order, strengthening all the disciples.

The Conversion of Apollos

24 Now a certain Jew named Apollos, an Alexandrian by race, an eloquent man, came to Ephesus; and he was mighty in the scriptures. 25 This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord, and being fervent in spirit, he spoke and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus, although he knew only the baptism of John. 26 And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him aside and explained to him the way of God more accurately. 27 And when he decided to go into Achaia, the brothers encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him; and when he arrived, he helped them who through grace had believed. 28 For he powerfully refuted the Jews publicly, showing by the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

Rebaptizing Some of John the Baptist’s Converts

And it came to pass, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper country, came to Ephesus and found some disciples. 2 And he said to them: Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed? And they said to him: No. We have not even heard that there is a Holy Spirit. 3 And he said: Into what then were you baptized? And they said: Into John’s baptism. 4 And Paul said: John baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying to the people that they should believe in him that should come after him, that is, on Jesus. 5 And when 18:26 More accurately – There are unbelievers and there are misbelievers. We mustn’t assume that everyone outside our circle of understanding is the enemy, not of God etc. There are misbelievers, who need correction and more teaching, but we cannot judge their standing with God.

18:27 We believe “through grace”. Salvation is of grace; we believe not only because we read the Bible and want to believe, but because God opened our hearts to believe (Acts 16:14; Ps. 119:18). If this factor wasn’t at work, then salvation would be by our own strength of will and understanding. Those factors are significant, but the “grace” element must never be lost sight of. It’s this which will keep us humble.

19:5 This could be used as an example of re-baptism. But the people who had been baptized by John were baptized before Jesus had died and resurrected — Christian baptism is into the death and resurrection of Jesus, and the command to be baptized was only given by Jesus after His resurrection. Re-baptism must be a personal choice. If we were baptized by sprinkling or as an infant, then that’s not real baptism. Re-baptism after we more accurately understand the things about Jesus is a very personal decision.

Paul Preaches at Ephesus

8 And he entered into the synagogue and spoke boldly for the space of three months, reasoning and persuading as to the things concerning the kingdom of God. 9 But when some were hardened and disobedient, speaking evil of the Way before the crowd, he departed from them and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus. 10 And this continued for the space of two years, so that all those who lived in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Gentiles. 11 And God did special miracles by the hands of Paul, so that even handkerchiefs or aprons that had touched his skin were carried away to the sick, and their diseases left them and their mental illnesses were cured. 13 Then some of the itinerant Jewish exorcists undertook to invoke the name of the Lord Jesus over those who had manic illnesses, saying: I command you in the name of Jesus, whom Paul proclaims. 14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, a chief priest, who did this. 15 And the maniac answered and said to them: Jesus I know and Paul I know, but who are you? 16 Then the man who had the mania jumped on them and subdued and overpowered all of them, so they fled out of that house naked and wounded. 17 And this became known to all that dwelt at Ephesus, both Jews and Gentiles; and fear fell upon them all. And the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. 18 Many also of those that had believed came, confessing and declaring their sinful

19:18 Those that had believed – After seeing what happened to the sons of Sceva, it would appear that some who had ‘believed’ went up to a higher level of commitment. This would seem to imply that despite having ‘believed’, perhaps with the same level of shallow conviction as some ‘believed’ in the teaching of Jesus during His ministry, their faith wasn’t so deep. They were taken up to an altogether higher level of commitment, resulting in ‘confessing and declaring’, and quitting their involvement with magic. There are levels up the ladder of faith and commitment. The language here seems to be intended to connect with the description of baptism in Mt. 3:6, where converts confessed and shewed their deeds at baptism. The way the Ephesians made their statement “before all men” again recalls the concept of baptism as a public declaration. Yet the Ephesians did all this after they had believed. It would seem that we are being invited to consider this as a re-conversion; and we can all go through such a process.
deeds. 19 And not a few of those that practised magical arts brought their books together and burned them in the sight of all; and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver. 20 So the word of the Lord spread widely and grew in power. 21 When these things were accomplished, Paul purposed in the Spirit to go up to Jerusalem after he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, saying: After I have been there, I must also see Rome. 22 And having sent into Macedonia two of those that assisted him, Timothy and Erastus, he stayed in Asia for a while. 23 And about that time there arose no small stir concerning the Way. 24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines of Diana, brought no little business to the craftsmen. 25 He gathered them together, with the workmen of similar occupation, and said: Sirs, you know that by this business we have our wealth, 26 and you see and hear, that not only at Ephesus but throughout most of Asia, this Paul has persuaded and led astray many people, saying that they are no gods that are made with hands. 27 And not only is there a danger that this our trade will come into disrepute, but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana will be made of no account, and that she whom all Asia and the world worships should even be deposed from her magnificence. 28 And when they heard this, they were filled with anger and cried out, saying: Great is Diana of Ephesus! 29 And the city was filled with confusion; and they rushed with one accord into the theatre, having seized Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul’s companions in travel. 30 But when Paul wished to go in among the crowd, the disciples would not let him. 31 And some also of the Asiarchs, being his friends, sent word to him, pleading that he not venture into the theatre. 32 Therefore, some cried one thing and some another. For the assembly was in confusion and most did not know why they had come together. 33 And they brought Alexander out of the crowd, the Jews putting him forward; and Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made a defence to the people; 34 but when they perceived that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out: Great is Diana of the Ephesians! 35 And when the town clerk had quieted the crowd, he said: You men of Ephesus, what man is there who does not know that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great Diana and of the

Paul at Troas

And after the uproar ceased, Paul sent for the disciples, and after encouraging them he said farewell and departed for Macedonia. And when he had gone through those regions and had given them much encouragement, he came into Greece. There he spent three months; but as he was about to set sail for Syria, he was informed that the Jews planned to ambush him, so he decided to return through Macedonia. Sopater of Berea, the son of Pyrrhus from Berea, accompanied him; and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy; and the Asians, Tychicus and Trophimus. These had gone ahead earlier, and were waiting for us at Troas. And we sailed away from Philippi after the days of unleavened bread; and in five days came to those at Troas, where we stayed seven days. And upon the first day of the week, when we were gathered together to break bread, Paul talked with them, intending to depart the next day; and prolonged his speech until midnight. And there were many lamps in the upper room where we were gathered together. And in a window sat a certain young man named Eutychus, who was sinking into a deep sleep. He was overcome by sleep, and as Paul continued speaking, he fell down from the third floor and was picked up dead. But Paul went down and bent over him, and embracing him, said: Don’t be alarmed. For his life is in him. Now when he had come up, had broken bread and eaten, and talked a long while, even till daybreak, he departed. And they brought the lad alive and were greatly comforted.

Paul’s Sermon at Miletus

But going ahead to the ship we set sail for Assos, there intending to pick up Paul. For so had he arranged, he intending to go by land. And when he met us at Assos, we took him aboard and came to Mitylene. And sailing from there, the following day we arrived off Kios, the next day we crossed over to Samos and the day after we came to Miletus. 16 For Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus, that he might not have to spend time in Asia. For he was in a hurry, hoping to be in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost. 17 And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus and called to him the elders of the church. 18 And when they had come to him, he said to them: You know, from the first day that I set foot in Asia, after what manner I was with you all the time, 19 serving the Lord with all lowliness of mind, and with tears and with trials which befell me by the plots of the Jews. 20 You know how I did not hesitate to declare to you anything that was helpful, and taught you in public, and from house to house, 21 testifying both to Jews and to Gentiles repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ. 22 And now I go bound in the Spirit to Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there. 23 Except that the Holy Spirit testifies to me in every city, saying that imprisonments and afflictions await me. 24 But I do not account my life of any value nor as precious to myself, if only I may finish my race, and the ministry that I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify to the gospel of the grace of God. 25 And now I know that none of you among whom I have gone about proclaiming the kingdom of God will see my face again. 26 Therefore I testify to you this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men. 27 For I did not hesitate to declare to you the whole counsel of God. 28 Take heed to yourselves and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit has made you bishops, to feed the church of the Lord which he purchased with his own blood. 29 I know that after my departing, fierce wolves shall enter in among you and will not spare the flock. 30 And from among you, men shall arise speaking twisted things, to draw away the disciples after themselves. 31 Therefore be alert, and remember that for three years I did not cease to warn every 20:20 House to house – Again we see the emphasis upon the home as the basis for organization of believers and spreading of the Gospel.

20:23 The Holy Spirit told Paul that he would suffer if he went to Jerusalem; but he also felt bound by the Spirit to go to Jerusalem (see v. 22 and 19:21; 21:4,11). Sometimes it seems God gives us contradictory guidance; this is so that we can work through the choices and come to a decision from the right motives, even if sometimes it doesn’t always matter what the decision is. In some matters it’s the process, not the product; the journey, not the destination... which is important.

20:26 Paul felt so truly and absolutely forgiven that he could say that he was “pure from the blood of all men”. Yet as he said that, he must surely have had the blood of Stephen on his mind, trickling out along the Palestinian dust, as the clothes of the men who murdered Stephen lay at Paul’s feet as a testimony that he was responsible for it. But he knew his forgiveness. He could confidently state that he was pure from that blood. Righteousness had been imputed, the sin covered – because he was in Christ.

20:31 Three years... night and day with tears – This is a huge statement. It reflects how major was and is the danger of false teaching and abuse entering the church. It one night and day with tears. 32 And now I commend you to God and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up and to give you the inheritance among all those that are sanctified. 33 I coveted no one’s silver, or gold, or apparel. 34 You yourselves know that these hands have provided for my necessities, and for those who were with me. 35 In all things I gave you an example, that so labouring you should help the weak, and to remember the words that the Lord Jesus spoke, saying: It is more blessed to give than to receive. 36 And when he had thus spoken, he knelt down and prayed with them all. 37 And they all wept freely, embraced Paul and kissed him, being sorrowful most of all because of his statement, that they would not see his face again. And they accompanied him to the ship.

The Journey to Jerusalem

And when we had parted from them and set sail, we came by a straight course to Cos, and the next day to Rhodes, and from there to Patara. 2 And having found a ship crossing over to Phoenicia, we went aboard and set sail. 3 When we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left we sailed to Syria and landed at Tyre, for there the ship was to unload its cargo. 4 And having found the disciples, we stayed there seven days; and these said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not set foot in Jerusalem. 5 When our time was up, we departed and went on our way, and they all accompanied us, with wives and children, until we were out of the city. And we knelt down on the shore and prayed. 6 And we went on board the ship, and they returned home. 7 And when we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais; and we greeted the believers and stayed with them one day. 8 And the next day we departed, and went to Caesarea, and entering into the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the seven, we stayed with him. 9 Now this man had four virgin daughters who prophesied. 10 And as we stayed there some days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named Agabus. 11 And coming to us and taking Paul’s belt, he bound his own feet shouldn’t therefore surprise us to conclude that ‘Christianity’ as a human religion is corrupted; but God has preserved His word the Bible, so that those who truly seek Him can still find Him. 20:32 The word of God’s grace has the power to build us up and lead us to the Kingdom. This isn’t to say that Bible reading alone guarantees salvation; but if we perceive within the Bible the word of grace, this will inevitably and naturally transform us into Kingdom people. 21:5 Women and children were often counted as non-persons in 1st century Mediterranean society. But Jesus gave special value to them, and the critics of Christianity mocked it as a religion largely comprised of women and children. 21:9 To ‘prophesy’ means to speak forth God’s word, not just to predict the future. Women as well as men (v:10) prophesied in the early church.
and hands, and said: Thus said the Holy Spirit: So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owns this belt, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles. 12 And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place pleaded with him not to go up to Jerusalem. 13 Then Paul answered: What are you doing, weeping and breaking my heart? For I am ready, not only to be bound, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus. 14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying: The will of the Lord be done. 15 And after these days we took up our baggage and went up to Jerusalem. 16 And there went with us also some of the disciples from Caesarea, bringing with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we should lodge. 17 And when we arrived in Jerusalem, the brothers received us gladly.

Paul in Jerusalem
18 And the following day Paul went with us to James; and all the elders were present. 19 And when he had greeted them, he related one by one the things which God had done among the Gentiles through his ministry. 20 And they, when they heard it, glorified God; and they said to him: You saw, brother, how many thousands there are among the Jews of those that have believed; and they are all zealous for the law. 21 And they have been informed concerning you, that you teach all the Jews who are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children nor to walk according to our customs. 22 What then? They will certainly hear you have come. 23 Therefore do what we tell you: We have four men who have taken a vow. 24 These take and purify yourself along with them, and pay their expenses, that they may shave their heads; and all shall know that there is no truth in the things of which they have been informed concerning you, but you yourself also walk orderly, keeping the law. 25 But concerning the Gentiles that have believed, we wrote, giving judgment that they should keep themselves from things sacrificed to idols and from blood and from what is strangled and from fornication. 26 Then Paul took the men, and the next day, purifying himself along with them, went into the temple, declaring the fulfilment of the days of purification, until the offering was offered for every one of them. 27 And when the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the crowd and laid hands on him, 28 crying out: Men of Israel, help! This is the man that teaches all men everywhere against the people and the law, and this place, and moreover he brought Gentiles also into the temple and has defiled this holy place. 29 For they had previously seen with him in the city Trophimus the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple. 30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together, laid hold on Paul and dragged him out of the temple; and immediately the doors were shut. 31 And as they were seeking to kill him, news came to the chief captain and the soldiers, stopped beating Paul. 33 Then the chief captain came near, laid hold of him and commanded him to be bound with two chains, and inquired who he was and what he had done. 34 And some among the mob shouted one thing, some another; and when he could not know the certainty because of the uproar, he commanded him to be brought into the fortress of Antonia. 35 When he reached the stairs, he had to be carried by the soldiers because of the violence of the mob. 36 For the mob followed after, crying out: Away with him! 37 And as Paul was about to be brought into the fortress, he said to the chief captain: May I say something to you? And he said: Do you know Greek? 38 Are you not that Egyptian, who some time ago stirred up sedition and led out into the wilderness four thousand men that were terrorists? 39 But Paul said: I am a Jew, of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city; and I beg you, please let me speak to the people. 40 And when he had given him leave, Paul, standing on the stairs, beckoned with the hand to the people; and when there was made a great silence, he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, saying:

Paul’s Defence to the Jerusalem Jews

Brothers and fathers, hear the defence which I now make to you. 2 And when they heard that he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, they were even more quiet;
and he said: 3 I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, instructed according to the strict manner of the law of our fathers, being zealous for God, even as you all are this day. 4 And I persecuted this Way to the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women, as also the high priest does bear me witness, and all the council of the elders. From whom also I received letters to the brothers and journeyed to Damascus, to bring them also that were there to Jerusalem in bonds to be punished. 6 And it came to pass, that as I made my journey and drew near to Damascus, about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. 7 And I fell to the ground and heard a voice saying to me: Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me? 8 And I answered: Who are you Lord? And he said to me: I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom you persecute. 9 And they that were with me saw indeed the light, but they did not understand the voice of him that spoke to me. 10 And I said: What shall I do Lord? And the Lord said to me: Arise and go into Damascus, and there you shall be told all things which are appointed for you to do. 11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand by those that were with me, I came into Damascus. 12 And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, well reported of by all the Jews that dwelt there, came to me; and standing by me, he said to me: Brother Saul, receive your sight. And in that very moment I looked upon him. 14 And he said: The God of our fathers has appointed you to know His will, and to see the Righteous One and to hear a voice from his mouth. 15 For you shall be a witness for him to all men of what you have seen and heard. 16 And now why do you delay? Arise and be baptized and wash away your sins, calling on his name. 17 And it came to pass, that when I had returned to Jerusalem and while I prayed in the temple, I fell into a trance, and saw him saying to me: Make haste and get out of Jerusalem quickly, because they will not welcome your testimony concerning me. 19 And I said: Lord, they know that in every synagogue I imprisoned and beat those that believed in you; 20 and when the blood of Stephen your witness was shed, I also was standing by and approved, and guarded the robes of those that slew him. 21 And he said to me: Depart! For I will send you far from here to the Gentiles.

Paul Uses his Roman Citizenship

22 And they listened until this word, and then they lifted up their voice and said: Away with such a fellow from the earth! For it is not fitting that he should live. 23 And as they cried out and threw off their cloaks and threw dust into the air, 24 the chief captain commanded him to be brought into the fortress, bidding that he should be examined by scourging, that he might know for what cause they so shouted against him. 25 And when they had tied him up with the thongs, Paul said to the centurion that stood by: Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman citizen and uncondemned? 26 And when the centurion heard it, he went to the chief captain and told him, saying: What are you about to do? For this man is a Roman. 27 And the chief captain came and said to him: Tell me, are you a Roman? And he said: Yes. 28 And the chief captain answered: With a great sum of money I obtained this citizenship. And Paul said: But I am Roman born. 29 Then those that were about to torture him withdrew from him immediately; and the chief captain also was afraid when he knew that he was a Roman, because he had bound him. 30 But the next day, desiring to know with certainty why he was accused by the Jews, he released him and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down and set him before them.

Paul’s Defence Before the High Priest

nd Paul looked straight at the council, and said: Brothers, I have lived before God in all good heard it, he went to the chief captain and told him, saying: What are you about to do? For this man is a Roman. 27 And the chief captain came and said to him: Tell me, are you a Roman? And he said: Yes. 28 And the chief captain answered: With a great sum of money I obtained this citizenship. And Paul said: But I am Roman born. 29 Then those that were about to torture him withdrew from him immediately; and the chief captain also was afraid when he knew that he was a Roman, because he had bound him. 30 But the next day, desiring to know with certainty why he was accused by the Jews, he released him and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down and set him before them.

22:26 Paul was a Roman citizen. But he invites all of us to see ourselves as a citizen of a Heavenly state (Phil. 3:20); he downplayed his Roman citizenship in his own mind, because he was so conscious of being a citizen of God’s Kingdom. We too should allow the wonder of our citizenship in Christ to lead us to despise all worldly advantage which we may have.

23:1 Can we say this? But the Lord Jesus Himself informs us that Paul kicked against the pricks of his own conscience before his conversion (Acts 9:5). Maybe Paul perceived his ‘life’ to have begun at his conversion? We have a conscience which in God’s eyes is cleansed of sin, knowing that our sin has been overcome once and for all, and that we have access to this through baptism. Our hearts were purified by that faith (Acts 15:9); we were cleansed from the conscience of sins (Heb. 9:14); all things became pure to us (Tit. 1:15; Rom. 14:20). This is a good conscience, Biblically defined. When Paul said he had a pure conscience before God, they smote him for blasphemy because there is an association between a clear conscience and perfection (Heb. 9:9; 10:14). A clear conscience therefore means an awareness that in God’s eyes, we have no sin. Whilst we may still have twinges of guilt, and sins to confess, from God’s viewpoint the slate is clean, and has been since our baptism. It is impossible to believe this without responding – we are purged in our conscience so that we might serve the living God (Heb. 9:14).

23:5 This can be read as Paul claiming that he didn’t recognize this high priest, as Christ was his high priest, therefore his cursing was justified.

23:6 The hope of the Gospel is that when Jesus returns, we who are in Christ by faith and baptism shall be resurrected from the dead and live eternally. Going to Heaven at death isn’t taught in the Bible; the focus is upon the return of Christ to earth and the literal resurrection of the dead to live eternally in God’s Kingdom on earth.

23:6 Paul says “I am a Pharisee”, not “I was a Pharisee and now repudiate their false doctrines and crucifixion of Jesus”. He didn’t have any sense of being guilty by association with them. Rather he sought to be ‘all things to all people’, to the Jews he became as a Jew, in order that he might win people to Christ (1 Cor. 9:20,21).
you, as though you would judge his case more exactly; and we, before he comes near, will be ready to slay him. 16 But Paul’s sister’s son heard of their ambush, and he went and entered into the fortress and told Paul. 17 And Paul summoned one of the centurions, and said: Take this young man to the chief captain; for he has something to tell him. 18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said: Paul the prisoner summoned me, and asked me to bring this young man, who has something to say to you. 19 And the chief captain took him by the hand, and taking him aside asked him privately: What is it you have to tell me? 20 He said: The Jews have agreed to ask that you bring Paul down to the council tomorrow, as though they were going to inquire more fully about him. 21 But do not yield to them, for more than forty of them lie in wait for him, men who have bound themselves by an oath that they will neither eat nor drink until they have killed him; and now they are ready, waiting for your consent to their request. 22 So the chief captain let the young man go, ordering him: Tell no one you have told these things to me. 23 And he summoned two of the centurions and said: Make ready two hundred soldiers to go as far as Caesarea, and seventy horsemen and two hundred spearmen, at the third hour of the night. 24 And provide mounts for Paul so that he may be taken safely to Felix the governor. 25 And he wrote a letter after this form: 26 Claudius Lysias to the most excellent governor Felix, greetings. 27 This man was seized by the Jews and was about to be slain by them, when I intervened with soldiers and rescued him, having learnt that he was a Roman. 28 And desiring to know the cause why they accused him, I brought him down to their council. 29 I found him to be accused about questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or imprisonment. 30 And when it was told that there would be a plot against the man, I sent him to you, ordering his accusers also to speak against him before you. 31 So the soldiers, as commanded, took Paul and brought him by night to Antipatris. 32 But the next day they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the fortress. 33 And they, when they came to Caesarea and delivered the letter to the governor, presented Paul also before him. 34 And when he had read it, he asked of what province he was; and when he understood that he was of Cilicia, he said: 35 I will hear you fully when your accusers also have come; and he commanded him to be kept in Herod’s palace.

CHAPTER 24 May 10 Nov. 9

Paul Before Felix

And after five days the high priest Ananias came down with some elders and a spokesman, one Tertullus; and these gave evidence to the governor against Paul. 2 And when he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying: Seeing that by you we enjoy much peace, and prosperity is being brought to this nation by your foresight, ³ we accept it in all ways and in all places, most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 But, not to be tedious to you any further, I beg you to hear, by your courtesy, a few words from us. ⁵ For we have found this man to be a plague, and a mover of insurrections among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes, ⁶ who moreover tried to profane the temple. We laid hold on him, and we would have judged him according to our law. ⁷ But the chief captain Lysias came and with great violence took him out of our hands, ⁸ commanding his accusers to come before you. You will be able, by examining him yourself, to gain knowledge of all these things of which we accuse him. ⁹ And the Jews also joined in the charge, affirming that these things were so. ¹⁰ And when the governor motioned for him to speak, Paul answered: Inasmuch as I do know you have been for many years a judge to this nation, I cheerfully make my defence. ¹¹ You can verify that it was no more than twelve days ago that I went up to Jerusalem to worship. ¹² And neither in the temple, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city did they find me disputing with anyone or stirring up a crowd. ¹³ Neither can they prove to you the things of which they now accuse me. ¹⁴ But this I confess to you, that after the Way, which they call a sect, I serve the God of our fathers, believing all things which are according to the law, and which are written in the prophets; ¹⁵ having hope toward God, which these people also look for, that there shall be a resurrection, both of the just and unjust. ¹⁶ Herein I also exercise myself to have a conscience void of offence toward God and men always. ¹⁷ Now after some years I came to bring alms and offerings to my nation. ¹⁸ Whilst doing this, they found me purified in the temple, with no crowd, nor with uproar; but there were certain Jews from Asia, ¹⁹ who should have been here before you and to make the accusation, if they had something against me. ²⁰ Or else let these men themselves say what wrongdoing they found when I stood before the council, ²¹ except it be for one statement that I cried standing among them: Concerning the resurrection of the just and unjust in the second death. ²² The same happens today.

24:5 The true church of God was called a “sect”, they were [falsely] accused of being divisive just because they followed Christ rather than existing human tradition (28:22). The same happens today.

24:15 The unjust will be resurrected, judged, and then die again and remain dead for ever – “the second death” (Rev. 2:11; 20:6,14). The punishment for sinners will be at the resurrection – not immediately after death. For death is unconsciousness; and there is no such thing as an ‘immortal soul’ which must go somewhere, either good or bad, immediately after death.

24:16 We need to realize keenly the self-discipline and self-sacrifice which following the man Jesus requires of us. Paul ‘exercised’ himself in his spiritual life, the Greek word asko being the source of the English word ascetic.
of the dead I am called in question before you this day. 22 But Felix, having more accurate knowledge concerning the Way, adjourned the proceedings, saying: When Lysias the chief captain shall come, I will decide your case. 23 Then he gave orders to the centurion, that he should be kept in custody but have some liberty; and that none of his friends should be prevented from attending to his needs. 24 But after some days, Felix came with Drusilla his wife, who was a Jewess, and sent for Paul and listened to him speak about faith in Christ Jesus. 25 And as he reasoned about righteousness, self control and the judgment to come, Felix was afraid, and answered: Go away for now. When I have a convenient time I will call for you. 26 He hoped meanwhile that money would be given to him by Paul. Therefore, he sent for him more often and conversed with him. 27 But after two years, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus; and desiring to gain favour with the Jews, Felix left Paul in prison.

May 11 Nov. 10
Paul Appeals to Caesar

Now three days after Festus had arrived in the province, he went to Jerusalem from Caesarea. 2 And the chief priests and the principal men of the Jews presented the charges against Paul; and they petitioned him, 3 asking a favour against Paul, that he would summon him to Jerusalem; for they were preparing an ambush to kill him along the way. 4 However Festus answered that Paul should be kept in custody at Caesarea, and that he intended to go there soon. 5 Therefore, said he, let those that have authority among you come with me, and if there is anything amiss in the man, let them accuse him. 6 And when he had stayed among them not more than eight or ten days, he went to Caesarea; and the next day he sat on the judgment seat and commanded Paul to be brought. 7 And when he had arrived, the Jews that had come from Jerusalem stood round him, bringing against him many and grievous charges which they could not prove; 8 while Paul said in his defence: Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Cæsar, have I sinned at all. 9 But Festus, desiring to gain favour with the Jews, answered Paul and said: Will you go up to Jerusalem and there be judged of these things before me? 10 But Paul said: I am standing before Caesar’s judgment seat, where I should be judged. To the Jews have I done no wrong, as you also very well

24:25 The very fact of judgment to come is in itself a demand for righteousness and temperance. Felix realized this and trembled, in anticipation of rejection at the judgment. As the Lord had explained in Jn. 5, when a man hears the word of the Gospel, he hears the call to go to judgment. And if he rejects it, he rejects himself from the Lord’s presence in the future. Likewise Acts 17:31 reasons that the very existence of the future judgment seat and the Lord ordained as judge of living and dead is a command to repent.
11 If then I am a wrongdoer and have committed anything worthy of death, I do not object to dying, but if none of these things are true of which these men accuse me, no one can deliver me to them. I appeal to Caesar. 12 Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered: You have appealed to Caesar. To Caesar shall you go. 13 Now when some days had passed, Agrippa the King and Bernice arrived at Caesarea and greeted Festus. 14 And as they stayed there many days, Festus laid Paul’s case before the King, saying: There is a certain man left as a prisoner by Felix, 15 about whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, asking for sentence against him. 16 To whom I answered that it is not the custom of the Romans to give up anyone, before the accused has the accusers face to face, and has had opportunity to make his defence concerning the matter charged against him. 17 Therefore, when they gathered here, I did not delay, and the next day sat on the judgment seat and commanded the man to be brought; 18 concerning whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no charge of such evil things as I supposed. 19 Rather they had certain questions against him of their own religion and of one Jesus, who was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive. 20 And I, being perplexed how to inquire concerning these things, asked whether he would go to Jerusalem and there be judged of these matters. 21 But when Paul had appealed to be kept for the decision of the Emperor, I commanded him to be kept until I should send him to Caesar. 22 And Agrippa said to Festus: I also would like to hear the man myself. Tomorrow, said he, you shall hear him. 23 So the next day, when Agrippa had arrived and Bernice, with great pomp, they entered into the place of hearing with the chief captains and principal men of the city; and at the command of Festus, Paul was brought in. 24 And Festus said: King Agrippa and all men who are here present with us, you see this man, about whom all the crowd of the Jews made appeal to me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying that he should not live any longer. 25 But I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death; and as he appealed to the emperor, I decided to send him. 26 But I have nothing certain to write to my lord concerning him. Therefore, I have brought him before you all, and especially before you.
King Agrippa, so that after the examination has taken place I may have something to write.

27 For it seems to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, without specifying the charges against him.

CHAPTER 26 May 11 Nov. 10

Paul’s Defence Before Agrippa

And Agrippa said to Paul: You are permitted to speak for yourself. Then Paul stretched out his hand and made his defence.

2 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, that I am to make my defence before you this day concerning all the things of which I am accused by the Jews;

3 especially because you are expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews. Therefore, I beg that you hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was from the beginning among my own nation and at Jerusalem, do all the Jews know;

5 having knowledge of me from the first (if they are willing to admit it) that after the strictest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee.

6 And now I stand here to be judged for the hope of the promise made by God to our fathers;

7 to which our twelve tribes earnestly serve night and day, hoping to attain the promises. And concerning this hope I am accused by the Jews, O king!

8 Why would any of you think it incredible that God raises the dead?

9 I truly thought that I should do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10 And this I did in Jerusalem, and I shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death I gave my vote against body to condemn us (Rom. 8:34). His letter from Rome to the Colossians has a similar message (Col. 1:22): “...to present you holy and blameless and unreproveable (Gk. ‘free from accusation’) in his sight”. This freedom from accusation explains why none of our bad deeds will be mentioned to us then. One wonders if Paul’s hearing in Acts 25 is described as it is in order to help us imagine this; he has no accusers, and therefore can be acquitted. We are in that same situation. We have been forgiven; there is no case against us before the judgment seat of Christ.

26:4 If Paul grew up in Jerusalem from his youth, he would surely have met Jesus and seen the miracles which He performed in Jerusalem at the feasts. He may even have seen the crucifixion.

26:6-8 The hope of resurrection from the dead is the hope which the Jewish fathers had. The promise that Abraham would personally inherit the land of Canaan and live there for ever required a resurrection of Abraham from the dead. The core of the Christian hope was taught to the Jewish fathers through the promises made to Abraham and David (Gal. 3:8). The New Testament Gospel of the Kingdom of God is in perfect harmony with the message of the Old Testament – see vv. 22,23.

26:8, 9 Note the connection between these verses. Paul is saying that the greatest proof that Christ had risen from the dead was the change in character which had occurred within him. This was “the power of his resurrection” (Phil. 3:10); and it works within us too. The death and resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth aren’t just facts we know; if they are truly believed, there is within them the power of ultimate transformation.
Paul’s progressive appreciation of his own sinfulness is reflected in how he describes what he did in persecuting Christians in ever more terrible terms, the older he gets. He describes his victims as “men and women” whom he ‘arrested’ (Acts 8:3; 22:4), then he admits he threatened and murdered them (Acts 9:3), then he persecuted “the way” unto death (Acts 22:4); then he speaks of them as “those who believe” (Acts 22:19) and finally, in a crescendo of shame with himself, he speaks of how he furiously persecuted, like a wild animal, unto the death, “many of the saints”, not only in Palestine but also “to foreign [Gentile] cities” (Acts 26:10,11). He came to be every more confident of his salvation, as he came to realize the more his own sinfulness. And this is surely a pattern for us all.
most persuade me to become a Christian. 29 And Paul said: I will pray to God, that whether in a little time or a longer time, not you only, but also all that hear me this day might become as I am (apart from these chains). 30 And the king rose up and the governor and Bernice and they that sat with them. 31 And when they had withdrawn, they spoke to each other, saying: This man does nothing worthy of death or of imprisonment. 32 And Agrippa said to Festus: This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed to Caesar.

May 12 Nov. 11

Paul’s Journey to Rome

And when it was determined that we should sail for Italy, they delivered Paul and some other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the Augustan Regiment. 2 And embarking in a ship from Adramyttium, which was about to sail to the places on the coast of Asia, we put to sea; Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us. 3 And the next day we landed at Sidon; and Julius treated Paul kindly, and gave him leave to go to his friends and refresh himself. 4 And putting to sea from there, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. 5 And when we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia. 6 And there the centurion found a ship from Alexandria sailing for Italy; and he put us onboard. 7 And when we had sailed slowly many days and had come with difficulty off Cnidus, the wind not permitting us to proceed, we sailed under the lee of Crete, opposite Sal-mone. 8 Passing it with difficulty, we came to a place called Fair Havens, near the city of Lasea. 9 Since much time had passed, and the voyage was now dangerous because even the Fast was already over, Paul advised them 10 and said to them: Gentlemen, I perceive that the voyage will be with injury and much loss, not only of the cargo and the ship, but also of our lives. 11 But the centurion gave more heed to the master and to the owner of the ship, than to those things which were spoken by Paul. 12 And because the harbour was not suitable to winter in, the majority advised to set sail from there also, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, a harbour of Crete opening toward the southwest and northwest, and to winter there. 13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close inshore.

The Shipwreck

14 But after a short time there beat down a tempestuous wind, which is called Euraquilo. 15 And when the ship was caught, and could not face the wind, we gave way to it, and were driven along. 16 And running under the lee of a small island called Cluda, we were able, with difficulty, to secure the skiff. 17 And when they had hoisted it up, they used supports to undergird the ship; and fearing that they would be cast upon the Syr-tis sandbar, they lowered the sail and so were driven by the wind. 18 The next day as we were being violently tossed by the storm, they began to jettison the cargo. 19 And the third day with their own hands they threw overboard the tackle of the ship. 20 And when neither sun nor stars shone upon us for many days, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was now taken away. 21 And after they had been without food for a long time, Paul stood in the midst of them and said: Gentlemen, you should have listened to me, and not have set sail from Crete and gained this injury and loss. 22 And now I encourage you to be of good courage. For there shall be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship. 23 For this night there stood by me an angel of the God whose I am, whom also I serve, 24 saying: Fear not Paul. You must stand before Caesar; and God has granted you the lives of all those who sail with you. 25 Therefore gentlemen, be of good courage. For I believe God, that it shall be even as it has been spoken to me. 26 But we must be cast upon a certain island. 27 But when the fourteenth night had arrived, as we were driven to and fro in the sea of Adria, about midnight, the sailors sensed that they were drawing near to some land. 28 And they sounded and found thirty meters; and after a little space, they sounded again and found twenty-five meters. 29 And fearing that we should run aground on the rocks, they let go four anchors from the stern and wished for daylight. 30 And as the sailors were seeking to abandon the ship and had lowered the skiff into the sea, under pretense that they would lay out anchors from the foreship, 31 Paul said to the centu-rion and to the soldiers: Except these stay in the ship, you cannot be saved. 32 Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the skiff and let it fall off. 33 And while the day was dawning, Paul pleaded with them all to take some food, saying: This day is the fourteenth day that you wait and con-tinue fasting, having eaten nothing. 34 Therefore, I beg you to take some food. For this is for your health; for 27:24 It often happens that those associated with us are blessed because of us, even if they are unbelievers. Especially is this true of our children and partners (1 Cor. 7:14). 27:31 The legalists in the early church taught that unless believers kept the circumcision laws, “you cannot be saved” (Acts 15:1). The very same Greek phrase is used by Paul when he calls out in urgency during the storm: “Except these stay in the ship, you cannot be saved”. Surely Luke’s record is making a connection; the legalists taught that it was time to quit the rest of the community unless they got their way, for the sake of their eternal future; and Paul responds by teaching that our salvation depends upon us pulling together against the desperate situation we find ourselves in. We should never walk out on our brethren or the body of Christ. Severed from Him, we can do and be “nothing” (Jn. 15:5); and He is His body, the church. 27:34 Paul is quoting here from Christ’s words of encouragement to the disciples that in the tribulation of the last days, they would survive (Lk. 21:18). The storm can therefore be seen as an allegory of our passing through the latter day tribulation.

27:35 The way Paul broke bread in v.35 is an echo of the way Christ did it. We get the impression that Paul was slowly, deliberately copying the example of how Jesus broke bread in the upper room. So it is as if Paul is seeing himself as typical of Christ, and those in the ship with him as typical of Christ’s followers. Paul twice encouraged them “be of good cheer” (vv.22,25) as they huddled together breaking bread – also quoting the very words of the Lord Jesus, in the same context (Jn. 16:33); and remember that Jesus also said those words when the disciples were struggling in another great storm (Mk. 6:50). The way the Angel appeared to Paul at night to strengthen him (v.23) also echoes the experience of Christ in the Garden. If Jesus is a living reality for us, if we are constantly reflecting upon His words, actions and experiences as they are recorded in the Gospels, then we will start to act in the same way. His Spirit will become ours; He will live in us and we in Him.

28:3 Paul, a relatively old man afflicted by a “thorn in the flesh”, was the one out there gathering firewood – a wonderful example of service.
28:20 The true Christian hope is “the hope of Israel”, based upon the promises made to Abraham which include the essence of the Gospel of the Kingdom (Gal. 3:8).

28:21 The Jewish synagogue system ‘disfellowshipped’ people and then acted as if they didn’t even exist; this would explain why nothing had been said about Paul. Some extreme Protestant groups behave similarly, but such behaviour shows a complete lack of appreciation of the value of the human person – even those with whom we disagree.
received letters from Judea concerning you, nor did any of the brothers come here and report or speak any evil of you. 22 But we desire to hear of you what you think. For as concerning this sect, it is known to us that everywhere it is spoken against. 23 And when they had appointed him a day, they came to him into his lodging in great number. To whom he expounded the matter, testifying of the kingdom of God, and persuading them concerning Jesus, both from the law of Moses and from the prophets, from morning until evening. 24 And some believed the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved. 25 So when they did not agree among themselves, they departed; after Paul had made this final statement: The Holy Spirit spoke rightly through Isaiah the prophet to our fathers, saying: 26 Go to this people and say, By hearing you shall hear and shall in no way understand, and seeing you shall see and shall in no way perceive. 27 For this people’s heart has grown dull, and their ears are hard of hearing and their eyes they have closed, lest they should perceive with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart; and should repent, and I should heal them. 28 Therefore, let it be known to you that this salvation of God is sent to the Gentiles; and they will hear. 29 When he had said these words, the Jews departed, having a great dispute among themselves. 30 And he stayed two whole years in his own hired dwelling, and welcomed all that visited him, 31 preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ with all boldness, no one forbidding him.

28:25 The Holy Spirit spoke... through Isaiah – The Bible writers were inspired by God, through the Holy Spirit (2 Tim. 3:16).

28:31 Paul preached ‘boldly’; but he had asked others to pray for him, that he would preach boldly (Eph. 6:19). We all find it hard to be bold in witness; Paul even asked others to pray for him, that he would be more bold; and the inspired record shows us that these prayers were heard, and Paul’s desire was granted. We probably need to pray for the same boldness.
CHAPTER 1

Greetings and Introduction

Paul, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, set apart for the gospel of God, which He promised beforehand through His prophets in the holy scriptures, concerning His Son, who was born of the seed of David according to the flesh, who was declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead: Jesus Christ our Lord, through whom we received grace and apostleship, to obedience of faith among all the nations, for his name’s sake. Among whom are you also called to be Jesus Christ’s. To all that are in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ. First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is proclaimed throughout the whole world. For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of His Son, how unceasingly I make mention of you, always in my prayers making request, if by any means now at length I may succeed by the will of God to come to you. For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift, to strengthen you. That is: that I with you may be comforted in you, each of us by the other’s faith, both yours and mine. And I would not have you ignorant, brothers, that oftentimes I intended to come to you (but have so far been hindered), that I might have some fruit in you also, even as in the rest of the Gentiles. I am debtor both to Greeks and to Barbarians, both to the wise and to the foolish. So I am eager to preach the gospel to you also who are in Rome. For I am not ashamed of the gospel. For it is the power of God to salvation to everyone that believes- to the Jew first and also to the Greek. For therein is revealed a righteousness of God from faith to faith. As it is written: But the righteous shall live by faith.

Humanity Without Excuse

For the anger of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hinder the truth in unrighteousness.

1:3 Jesus was the literal descendant of David; He therefore didn’t pre-exist as a person before His birth. Otherwise the promises to David about Jesus would have been meaningless – they spoke about a future descendant, who would be both God’s Son and David’s Son.

1:10 Paul kept praying that he could visit Rome; but he also did all he could humanly so that this would happen. This is surely why he appealed to Caesar to have his case heard, even though this wasn’t necessary and he would have been acquitted at the more local court (Acts 26:32).

1:16 Without the Gospel we cannot be saved. This is why there is no salvation in non-Christian religions; and why we must preach the Gospel as far as we can.
19 Because that which is known of God is manifest in them; for God manifested it to them. 20 For the invisible things of Him since the creation of the world are clearly seen, being perceived through the things that are made- even His everlasting power and Divinity- that they may be without excuse. 21 For although they knew God, they did not honour Him as God or give thanks to Him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. 22 Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the incorruptible God for the likeness of an image of corruptible man, and of birds, and fourfooted animals, and creeping things. 24 Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to uncleanness, that their bodies should be dishonoured among themselves, 25 because they exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshiped and served the created rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever. Amen. 26 For this cause God gave them up to vile passions. Their women changed the natural use into that which is against nature. 27 And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, men with men working unseemliness and receiving in themselves that reward of their error which was due. 28 And even as they refused to have God in their knowledge, God gave them up to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not appropriate, 29 being filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, malignity; 30 whisperers, backbiters, hateful to God, insolent, proud, boastful, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, 31 without understanding, covenant breakers, without natural affection, unmerciful. 32 Who, knowing the ordinance of God, that they that practise such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also give approval to them that practise them.

CHAPTER 2 Jan. 27 Jul. 28

The Just Judgment of God

Therefore you are without excuse, 0 man, whoever you are that judge; for wherein you judge another, you condemn yourself! For you that judge practise the same things. 2 And we know that the judgment of God is according to truth against those that practise such things. 3 And do you

1:24 Gave them up – As in verses 26 and 28. God confirmed them in the downward spiral they chose. He confirms people in the mental attitudes, the mindsets, which they choose.

1:26 Against nature – Lesbianism / homosexuality isn’t therefore natural. It’s a perversion, what God calls in v. 27 an “error” which He will punish.

1:32 We should not only try not to sin, but also not ‘approve’ sin when we encounter it. This principle affects what we watch, view and read. The list of sins in verses 29-31 are what much modern ‘entertainment’ is all about.

2:1 If we point a finger at another, we have three fingers pointing back at ourselves.
think (O man who judges those that practise such things and yet you do the same) that you shall escape the judgment of God? 4 Or do you despise the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leads you to repentance? 5 But after your hardness and impenitent heart you treasure up for yourself anger in the day of anger and revelation of the righteous judgment of God, 6 who will render to every man according to his works. 7 To them that by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honour and incorruption- eternal life. 8 But to them that are factious and do not obey the truth but obey unrighteousness, anger and indignation- 9 tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that works evil, of the Jew first and also of the Greek. 10 But glory and honour and peace to every man that works good, to the Jew first and also to the Greek. 11 For there is no respect of persons with God. 12 For as many as have sinned outside of law shall also perish without the law; and as many as have sinned under the law shall be judged by the law. 13 For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified. 14 For when Gentiles that do not have the law, do by nature the things of the law, these not having the law, are the law to themselves- 15 in that they show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness therewith, and their thoughts one with another accusing or else excusing them in the day when God shall judge the secrets of men, according to my gospel, by Jesus Christ.

2:8 Things like anger are the masters of many people. They think they are expressing their freedom by being angry; but the anger is in fact their master, and they are enslaved to it.

2:11 Just as God doesn’t distinguish between Jews and non-Jews, so we shouldn’t ‘respect persons’. As partakers of His grace, we shouldn’t judge people on the basis of their social status, skin colour, ethnicity etc.

2:12 Knowledge brings responsibility to judgment. Those who never knew God’s law will remain dead like the animals (Ps. 49:20). Those who knew God’s law will be resurrected and judged as to how far they responded to it.

2:13 The difference between hearing and doing is illustrated by the parable of the two builders; the one who built quickly upon the sand was the person who only hears the word of God; building slowly upon the rock is like hearing and doing. As we read the Bible, there’s a terrible temptation to merely read, to hear, but not to let this translate into action.

2:14 Romans was written to believers in Rome, who comprised both Jews and Gentiles. The “Gentiles” in this verse seem to refer to Gentile Christians. Likewise the ‘uncircumcised’ in v. 26 refers to the uncircumcised Christians in the church at Rome.
19 and are confident you yourself are a guide of the blind, a light to those that are in darkness, 20 a corrector of the foolish, a teacher of babes, having in the law the form of knowledge and of the truth- 21 you therefore that teach another, don’t you teach yourself? You that preach a man should not steal, do you steal? 22 You that say a man should not commit adultery, do you commit adultery? You that dread idols, do you rob temples? 23 You who boast in the law actually dishonour God through your transgression of the law. 24 For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you, even as it is written. 25 For circumcision indeed profits, if you be a doer of the law; but if you be a transgressor of the law, your circumcision has become uncircumcision. 26 If therefore the uncircumcision keep the ordinances of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision? 27 And shall not the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge you- who with the letter and circumcision are a transgressor of the law? 28 For he is not a Jew who is one outwardly, neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh. 29 But he is a Jew who is one inwardly, and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit not in the letter; whose praise is not of men but of God.

Jan. 28 Jul. 29

Both Jews and Gentiles Are All Sinners

What advantage then has the Jew? Or what is the profit of circumcision? 2 Much every way! First of all, that they were entrusted with the oracles of God. 3 For what if some were without faith? Shall their lack of faith make of no effect the faithfulness of God? 4 God forbid. Yes, let God be found true, but every man a liar. As it is written: You must be justified in Your words and must prevail when You come before judgment. 5 But if our unrighteousness commends the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who visits with anger? (I speak after the manner of men). 6 God forbid. For then how shall God judge the world? 7 But if the truth of God through my lie abounded to His glory, why am I also still judged as a sinner? 8 And why not do evil that good may come? (As some people slanderously charge us with saying. Their condemnation is just). 9 What then? Are we better than they? No, in no way. For we before laid to the charge both of Jews and Gentiles that they are all under sin. 10 As it is written: There is none righteous, no, not one. 11 There are none that understand. There are none that seek God. 12 They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable, there is none that does good, no, not so much as one. 13 Their throat is an open tomb, with their tongues they have used deceit, the poison of asps is under their lips, 14 whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness. 15 Their feet are swift to shed blood, 16 destruction and misery are in their ways 17 and the way of peace have they not known; 18 there is no fear of God before their eyes. 19 Now we know that whatever things the law said, it speaks to them that are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may be brought under the judgment of God. 20 Because by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified in His sight; for through the law comes the knowledge of sin.

A Righteousness Obtained by Faith
21 But now apart from the law, a righteousness of God has been mani-festated, being witnessed by the law and the prophets- 22 even the righteous- ness of God through faith in Jesus Christ to all them that believe. For there is no distinction. 23 For all have sinned, and all fall short of the glory of God; 24 but are justi- fied freely by His grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus. 25 Whom God set forth to be a propi- tiation, through faith in his blood, to show His righteousness in the pass- ing over of the sins done previously, in the forbearance of God, 26 for the showing of His righteousness at this present time; that He might Himself be just, and the justifier of him that has faith in Jesus. 27 Where then is the glorying? It is excluded. By what manner of law? Of works? No, but by a law of faith! 28 We reckon therefore that a man is justified by faith apart from the works of the law. 29 Or is God the God of Jews only? Is He not the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, 30 since God is one. He will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised by faith. 31 Do we then make the law of no effect through faith? God forbid. No, we establish the law.

3:19 The world – The Jewish world, who were under the Law of Moses.
3:20 For through the law comes...– This is why those who never knew God’s law will not be resurrected to judgment; they aren’t responsible to Him (2:12).
3:27 The fact that we are saved by faith rather than works, and that the law of God hasn’t been kept fully by any of us, is so that we shall be humble; giving glory to God’s grace alone. Humility and not glorying in our own achievements is so very important to God.
3:28 As keeping the Mosaic Law is irrelevant for salvation, it is quite wrong to insist that Christians keep the Sabbath or Jewish feasts in order to be saved.
3:31 Establish – The principles of the law weren’t wrong; the essence and spirit of it are confirmed in Christ.
CHAPTER 4

Abraham as Our Role Model

What then shall we say about Abraham, our forefather according to the flesh? If Abraham was justified by works, he has something to boast about, but not before God. What did the scripture say: And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned to him for righteousness. Now to him that works, the reward is not reckoned as of grace, but as of debt. But to him that works not, but believes in Him that justifies the ungodly, his faith is reckoned for righteousness. Even as David pronounces blessing upon the man to whom God reckons righteousness apart from works, saying: Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not count sin. Is this blessing then pronounced upon the circumcision, or upon the uncircumcision also? For we say, to Abraham his faith was counted as righteousness. How then was it counted? When he was in circumcision or in uncircumcision?

4:7 Blessed are they – The Psalm being quoted is David’s reflections about his sin with Bathsheba, and he is reflecting how he personally is blessed with the blessing of forgiveness by grace – seeing there was no sacrifice prescribed to cover the sins of adultery and murder which he had committed. The change of pronoun from “he” [referring to David personally] to “they” shows that David’s situation is typical of that of us all. He was ‘every man’; his forgiveness and salvation by grace, and his humble response in praise and zeal to God and people, becomes our pattern.

4:12 Abraham’s faith is our pattern; his faith was in the promises which were made to him. Those promises are effectively the same as the good news of the Kingdom which we also must believe – eternal life, inheritance of the earth, the blessing of forgiveness, and God as his personal God. In this sense the Christian Gospel was preached to Abraham (Gal. 3:8).

4:13 The promises to Abraham were that he would inherit “the land” of Canaan; but here they are extended to include the whole planet.

Not in circumcision but in uncircumcision. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision, that he might be the father of all those who believe, though they be in uncircumcision, that righteousness might be counted to them also. And the father of circumcision to those who are not only of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had whilst he was uncircumcised. For the promise to Abraham and his seed, that he should be heir of the world, did not come through the law- but through the righteousness of faith. For if they that are of the law are heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of no power. For the law works anger; but where there is no law, neither is there transgression. Therefore it is of faith, that it may be according to grace; to the end that the promise may be sure to all the seed. Not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the... father of us all 17 (as it is written, A father of many nations have I made you) before Him whom he believed, God, who gives life to the dead, and called things that are not, as though they were. 18 Who in hope believed against hope, to the end that he might become a father of many nations, according to what had been spoken: So shall your seed be. 19 And without being weakened in faith when he considered his own body, now as good as dead (he being about one hundred years old), and the deadness of Sarah’s womb; 20 but instead, looking to the promise of God, he did not waver through unbelief, but grew strong through faith, giving glory to God, 21 and became fully assured that what He had promised, He was able also to perform. 22 Therefore also it was counted to him for righteousness. 23 Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was counted to him; 24 but for our sake also, to whom it shall be counted, who believe in Him that raised Jesus our Lord from the dead. 25 Who was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised for our justification.

4:17 This is why the Bible often speaks of things which don’t yet exist as if they do; God in that sense is outside of linear time as we know it. Therefore we read of the believers and also of Jesus as if they existed at the beginning of the world, even though literally they didn’t.

4:19 Abraham was impotent yet he still believed that somehow he would produce a child.

5:1 We are counted as if we are righteous even though we are not – because we believe in God’s gracious offer to count as righteous all those who believe in Christ and are baptized into Him. This isn’t mere theology – it gives the baptized believer a real and felt peace with God, which is the most valuable thing we can have in this life. If God accepts us, all else is of little importance.

5:10 The steps of logic here are so powerful. If so much was achieved through Christ’s death, how much more through His resurrection? If so much grace was shown to us
Adam and Christ

12 So through one man sin entered into the world and death through sin; and so death passed to all men, for that all sinned. 13 For until the law sin was in the world, but sin is not imputed when there is no law! 14 Nevertheless, death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the likeness of Adam’s transgression, who is a figure of him that was to come. 15 But not as the trespass, so also is the free gift. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God and the gift by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abound to the many. 16 This gift is unlike the result of that one man’s sin. For the judgment came because of one man to condemnation; but the free gift came out of many trespasses to justification. 17 For if, by the trespass of the one man, death reigned on account of the one man; much more shall they that receive the abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life on account of the one man, Jesus Christ. 18 So then. As through one act of sin the judgment came to all men to condemnation, even so through one act of righteousness the free gift came to all men to justification of life. 19 For as through the one man’s disobedience the many were made sinners, even so through the obedience of the one man shall the many be made righteous. 20 Now the law was added to increase the trespass, but where sin increased, grace increased all the more, 21 so that as sin reigned with the result of death, even so might grace reign through righteousness with the result of eternal life—through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER 6

Jan. 29  Jul. 30

The Meaning of Baptism into Christ

What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? 2 God forbid! We who died to sin, how shall we any longer live in it? 3 Or are you ignorant of the fact that all of us who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized before we were born and whilst we were still living the sinful life – how much more now that we are repentant believers? If God gave us His Son, to die in shame and nakedness for us – it’s not hard for Him to give us anything else, including eternal life.

5:17 Reign in life – We will be king-priests in the future Kingdom of God which Jesus will establish on earth when He returns (Rev. 5:10).

5:19 The one man – Adam

6:3 Paul didn’t just decide to write about baptism in Romans 6; the classic exposition of baptism which we find there is within a context. And it’s not an appeal for people to be baptized – it’s written to baptized believers, appealing for them to live out in practice the “in Christ” status which they had been given as a result of their baptisms.
If we really feel the result of our baptism, we will not “continue in sin”. Martin Luther used to overcome temptation by taking a chalk and writing baptizatus sum – ‘I am baptized’. We simply cannot continue in servitude to sin.

6:5 Going under the water is like death or burial; death to the old life. Coming up out of the water is like resurrection with Christ, giving the sure hope of resurrection to eternal life when He returns to earth.

6:11 Count yourselves – We are not fully ‘dead to sin’, but God counts us as if we died with Christ and rose with Him, and He is now ‘dead to sin’. It’s hard, but we must try to have the same positive view of ourselves in Christ as God has of us.

6:18 We changed masters at baptism, from sin to righteousness. In this sense we are never totally ‘free’. The life of sin, doing what we want, isn’t freedom – it’s slavery to sin. So we are either slaves of sin or of God. But in His service we find freedom – this is the wonderful paradox.
which you are now ashamed? For the result of those things is death. 22 But now being made free from sin, and having become slaves of God, you have your fruit unto holiness— and the result is eternal life. 23 For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

CHAPTER 7
Jan. 30  Jul. 31
Freedom From the Law of Moses

Or are you ignorant brothers (for I speak to men who know the law), that the law has dominion over a man for as long as he lives? 2 For the woman that has a husband is bound by law to the husband while he lives; but if the husband dies, she is discharged from the law of the husband. 3 So then if, while the husband lives, she be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress; but if the husband dies, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she is joined to another man. 4 Therefore my brothers, you also were made dead to the law through the body of Christ; so that you should be joined to another, to him who was raised from the dead, that we might bring forth fruit to God. 5 For when we were in the flesh, the sinful passions, which were through the law, worked in our limbs to bring forth fruit to death. 6 But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that wherein we were held; so that we serve in newness of the spirit, and not in oldness of the letter. 7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid! However, I had not known sin, except through the law. For I had not known coveting, except the law had said: You shall not covet. 8 But sin, grabbing an opportunity through the commandment, worked in me all manner of coveting. For apart from the law, sin is dead and powerless. 9 And I once was alive apart from the law; but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died. 10 And the commandment, which was intended to life, this I found to be to death. 11 For sin, grabbing an opportunity through the commandment, deceived me, and through it— slew me. 12 Thus the law is holy and the commandment is holy, righteous and good. 13 Did then that which is good become death to me? God forbid! But sin was shown to be sin, by the way it worked death in me through that which is good; and thus through the commandment, sin became shown as indeed exceedingly sinful.
Paul’s Struggle with Sin

14 For we know that the law is spiritual; but I am carnal, sold unto sin. 15 For why I do what I do, I do not understand. For I do not do what I intend, but instead I do what I hate. 16 But if I do what I would rather not do, then I agree that the law is good. 17 So now it is not I that do it, but the sin which dwells in me. 18 For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwells no good thing. For the will to do good is present with me; but to actually do what is good is not present. 19 For the good which I would like to do I do not do, but the evil which I would not do, that I practice. 20 But if do what I would not wish to do, it is no more I that do it, but sin which dwells in me. 21 So I find then a principle, that evil is present, although I wish to do good. 22 For I delight in the law of God after the inward man; 23 but I see a different law in my limbs, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity under the law of sin which is in my limbs. 24 Wretched man that I am! Who shall deliver me out of the body of this death? 25 Thanks be to God-through Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, I myself serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin.

Flesh and Spirit

There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus. 2 For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has made me free from the law of sin and death. 3 For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for a sin offering, condemned sin, in the flesh. 4 That the just requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh but after the Spirit. 5 For they that are after the flesh mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit. 6 For the mind of the flesh is death, but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. 7 Because the mind of the flesh is enmity against God; for it is not subject to 7:17 Sin within is the real problem we face, not an external Satan figure. Paul emphasizes here that he sins because of an internal principle within him (verses 18,20,23). We sin because we have within us an internal source of temptation to sin. Because sin comes from within (Mark 7:15-23) we must struggle for control of our thinking and to develop a spiritual mind. This is the essence of practical Christianity.

7:24 Paul felt “wretched” and yet elsewhere he shows his confidence that he will be saved and live for ever when Jesus returns. We can take comfort from his words here, when we feel that we are making little progress in the spiritual struggle against sin.

8:1 We must give these wonderful words their true weight and not skim read them. If we are “in Christ” by faith and baptism into Him, then we will not be condemned at the day of judgment. This is a good news almost too good to be believed by many.

8:3 The identity of Jesus with human nature and sinners is clearly taught here. He wasn’t God in person, for God is Spirit and not flesh. Jesus condemned sin, in the flesh – because He had our nature yet didn’t sin, He overcame sin.
the law of God, neither indeed can it be. 8 And they that are in the flesh cannot please God. 9 But you are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if the Spirit of God dwells in you. But if anyone has not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. 10 And if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin, but the spirit is life because of righteousness. 11 But if the Spirit of Him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwells in you, He that raised up Christ Jesus from the dead shall give life also to your mortal bodies- through His Spirit that dwells in you. 12 So then brothers, we are debtors- but not to the flesh, to live after the flesh. 13 For if you live after the flesh, you must die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you shall live.

The Wonder of Being God’s Children

14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are children of God. 15 For you did not receive the spirit of bondage again to fear, but you received the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father. 16 The Spirit himself testifies with our spirit, that we are children of God. 17 And if children, then heirs- heirs of God and joint-heirs with Christ. If so be that we suffer with him, that we may also be glorified with him. 18 For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. 19 For the earnest expectation of the creation awaits the revealing of God’s children.

20 For the creation was subjected to vanity, not of its own will, but by reason of Him who subjected it in hope; 21 that the creation itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God. 22 For we know that the whole creation has been groaning together in the pains of childbirth until now. 23 And not only the creation, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for adoption as children and the redemption of our bodies. 24 For in hope were we saved; but hope that is seen is not hope. For who hopes for what he sees? 25 But if we hope for what we do not see, then we with patience wait for it.

8:11 If we are spiritually minded now, if Christ’s thinking dwells within us, then this is the basis upon which we will be resurrected to eternal life when Christ returns.

8:15 We have been adopted, and yet we await full adoption as God’s children when Jesus returns (v. 23). This is an example of the ‘Now but not yet’ paradox – we in one sense are saved, in another sense we await the physical revelation of that salvation when Christ returns.

8:17 The symbolism of baptism, dying and resurrecting with Christ (6:3-5), is lived out in our lives; insofar as we share in His sufferings, we will share in the joy and power of His new life, both now and at the resurrection of the body.

8:23 Bodies – Note the emphasis upon the salvation of the body in this chapter. The idea of an immortal soul going to Heaven isn’t Biblical. Instead, we hope for the resurrection of the body, just as Christ rose literally from the dead.
Amazing Encouragement

And in like manner the Spirit also helps our infirmity. For we do not know how to pray as we ought, but the Spirit himself makes intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. And he that searches the hearts knows what is the mind of the Spirit, because he makes intercession for the saints according to the will of God. And we know that to them that love God, to them that are called according to His purpose— all things work together for good. For whom He foreknew, He also foreordained to be conformed to the image of His Son, that he might be the firstborn among many other children. And whom He foreordained, those He also called, and whom He called, these He also justified, and who He justified, these He also glorified. What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who can be against us? He that spared not His own Son but delivered him up for us all, how shall He not also with him freely give us all things?

Who shall lay anything to the charge of God’s chosen ones? It is God that justifies. Who is he that condemns? It is Christ Jesus that died, yes rather, that was raised from the dead, who is at the right hand of God; who also makes intercession for us. Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? Even as it is written: For your sake we are killed all the day long, we were deemed sheep for the slaughter. No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us. For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

CHAPTER 9

God’s Love for Israel

I speak the truth in Christ, I do not lie, my conscience bearing witness with me in the Holy Spirit, that I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart. For I could wish that I myself were accursed from Christ for the sake of my brothers, my kinsmen according to the flesh; 4 who are Israelites, whose is the adoption, the glory, the covenants, the giving of the law, the service of God and the promises. 5 Whose are the fathers and of whom is Christ, as concerning the flesh, who is over all. God be praised forever! Amen. 6 But it is not as though the word of God has come to nothing. For they are not all Israel, that are of Israel. 7 Neither, because they are Abraham’s seed are they all children, but: In Isaac shall your seed be called. 8 That is: it is not the children of the flesh that are children of God, but the children of the promise who are counted as the seed. 9 For this is the word of promise: According to this season will I come and Sarah shall have a son.

Predestination and Foreknowledge
10 And not only so, but Rebecca also having conceived by one, by our father Isaac 11 (for the children being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works but of Him that calls), 12 it was said to her: The elder shall serve the younger. 13 Even as it is written: Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated. 14 What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid! 15 For He said to Moses: I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion. 16 So then it is not of him that wills, nor of him that runs, but of God that shows mercy. 17 For the scripture says of Pharaoh: For this very purpose did I raise you up, that I might show in you My power, and that My Name might be published abroad in all the earth. 18 So then He has mercy on whom He wishes to, and hardens who He wishes. 19 Then you will say to me: Why does He still find fault? For who withstands His will? 20 No, O man; who are you to answer back to God? Shall the thing formed say to Him that formed it: Why did you make me thus? 21 Or of their freewill identification with Messiah, i.e. Jesus, as the representative of God to man and man to God.

9:5 The fact that Christ was ethnically Jewish shows He was the literal descendant of Abraham and David, the special descendant whom they had been promised. He therefore didn’t exist before His birth, and was not God Himself; even though His status and glory is very great.

9:18 It is written in Exodus many times that Pharaoh hardened his own heart; and also, that God hardened his heart. So God confirms people in the attitudes and positions which they themselves choose from their own freewill.

9:20 The questions we ask about the justice of God aren’t appropriate for us to ask. We will only be concerned about them if we have failed to accept Bible teaching about our low status – for we are just dust, or clay, which God is working with. If we accept this is all we are, questions about His justice, let alone implied criticisms of Him, are inappropriate. Bible characters have argued with God and been angry with God, but ultimately the ‘answer’ is simply that it is not for us to know these answers, because we are but dust. It’s like a small child insisting that the workings of a car are explained has not the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make one part a vessel to honour, and another to dishonour? 22 And so what if God is willing to show His anger and to make His power known, enduring with longsuffering vessels of anger prepared for destruction; 23 and that He might make known the riches of His glory upon vessels of mercy, which He beforehand prepared for glory, even us, whom He also called, not from the Jews only, but also from the Gentiles? 25 As He said also in Hosea: I will call them My people, who were not My people; and she that was not beloved shall be called beloved. 26 And it shall be, that in the place where it was said to them: You are not My people, there shall they be called children of the living God. 27 And Isaiah cried out concerning Israel: Even if the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, it is only the remnant that shall be saved. 28 For the Lord will execute His word upon the earth, finishing it and cutting it short. 29 And, as Isaiah has said before: Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed, we had become as Sodom and had been made like Gomorrah. 30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, who followed not after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith. 31 But Israel, following after a law of righteousness, did not arrive at that law. 32 Therefore because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by works, they stumbled at the stone of stumbling. 33 Even as it is written: Look, I lay in Zion a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence; and he that believes in him shall not be put to shame.

CHAPTER 10

Feb. 1 Aug. 2

The Role of the Gospel in Saving Israel

Brothers, my heart’s desire and my supplication to God is for Israel, that they may be saved. 2 For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. 3 For being ignorant of God’s righteousness and seeking to establish their own, they did not subject themselves to the righteousness of God. 4 For Christ is the end of the law regarding righteousness to everyone that believes. 5 For Moses writes, that the man that does the righteousness which is of the law shall live thereby. 6 But the righteousness which is of faith says thus: Do not say in your heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down) 7 or, Who shall descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). 8 But what did it say? The word is near you, in your mouth to them. They wouldn’t understand even if they were told, the concepts are far beyond them.

9:27 God has always worked with a “remnant”, a minority. The majority are usually wrong when it comes to spiritual matters.

10:2 Zeal for God, a religious streak in our personality, isn’t enough; we need true knowledge of Him to have a relationship with Him.
and in your heart. That is, the word of faith, which we preach. 9 Because if you shall confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord, and shall believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you shall be saved. 10 For with the heart man believes to righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made to salvation. 11 For the scripture says: Whoever believes in him shall not be put to shame. 12 For there is no distinction between Jew and Gentile, for the same one who is Lord of all is rich to all that call upon him. 13 For whoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. 14 How then shall they call on him in whom they do not have belief? And how shall they believe in him about whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher? 15 And how shall they preach, unless they are sent? Even as it is written: How beautiful are the feet of them that bring glad tidings of good things! 16 But they did not all obey the glad tidings. For Isaiah said: Lord, who has believed our report? 17 So belief comes of hearing, and hearing by the word of God. 18 But I say: Did they not hear? Yes, truly, their sound went out into all the earth and their words to the ends of the world. 19 But I say: Did Israel not know? First Moses said: I will provoke you to jealousy with those who are no nation, with a nation void of understanding will I anger you. 20 And Isaiah is very bold, and said: I was found by those that did not seek Me; I showed myself to those who were not asking for Me. 21 But to Israel He said: All the day long did I spread out My hands to a disobedient and obstinate people.

Feb. 1 Aug. 2

God’s Plan for Israel

I say then, has God cast off His people? God forbid! For I also am an Israeliite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. 2 God did not cast off His people, whom He foreknew. Or do you not know what the scripture says of Elijah? How he pleads with God against Israel: 3 Lord, they have killed Your prophets, they have destroyed Your altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life. 4 But what was the answer of God to him? I have left for myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed their knee to Baal. 5 Even so then, at this present time also, there is a remnant, according to the calling of grace. 6 But if it is by grace, it is no more of works. Otherwise grace is no more grace. 7 What then? Israel failed to obtain what it was seeking. The chosen obtained it, but the rest were hardened. 8 According as it is written: God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, to this very day. 9 And David said: Let their table be made a snare and a trap and a stumblingblock and a recompense unto them. 10 Let their eyes be darkened that they may not see, and bend their back forever. 11 I say then, did they stumble that they might fall? God forbid! But by their fall, salvation came to the Gentiles, to provoke them to jealousy. 12 Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles, how much more their fulness? 13 But I speak to you who are Gentiles- inasmuch as I am an apostle of the Gentiles, I glorify my ministry, 14 if by any means I may provoke to jealousy them that are my flesh, and may save some of them. 15 For if the casting away of them is the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead? 16 And if the firstfruit is holy, so is the lump; and if the root is holy, so are the branches. 17 But if some of the branches were broken off, and you, being a wild olive, were grafted in among them and did become partaker with them of the root of the fatness of the olive tree- 18 do not boast over the broken branches, for you are but branches too. For if you boast, remember that it is not you that support the root, but the root supports you. 19 You will say then: Branches were broken off so that I might be grafted in. 20 Well. Because of their unbelief they were broken off, and you stand by your faith. Be not high-minded, but fear. 21 For if God spared not the natural branches, neither will He spare you. 22 Behold then the goodness and severity of God: Towards those that fell, severity: but toward you, God’s goodness, if you continue in His goodness. Otherwise you also shall be cut off. 23 And they also, if they do not continue in their unbelief, shall be grafted in. For God is able to graft them in again. 24 For if you were cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and were grafted contrary to nature into a good other 7000 – he didn’t consider them as genuine believers when in fact they were. We can make the same mistake; spiritual elitism leads us to despair and isolation, because we cut ourselves off from the fellowship of others.

11:5 God has ‘elected’ or chosen some people and not others; and this feature of His working is because salvation has to be by His grace and not of our works.

11:22 ‘Once saved always saved’ is simply not taught in the Bible; we must remain faithful to the end (Mt. 10:22).
olive tree, how much more appropriately shall these, who are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

The Ultimate Salvation of Israel

25 Brothers, I would not have you ignorant of this mystery, lest you be wise in your own conceits, that a hardening in part has befallen Israel, until the full number of the Gentiles is made up. 26 And so all Israel shall be saved. Even as it is written: There shall come out of Zion the deliverer, and he shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob. 27 And this is My covenant to them, when I shall take away their sins. 28 As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sake, but as touching their calling, they are beloved for the fathers' sake. 29 For the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable. 30 For as you in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy by their disobedience, 31 even so have these also now been disobedient, that by the mercy shown to you, they may also now obtain mercy. 32 For God has shut up all to disobedience, that He might have mercy upon all. 33 O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and the knowledge of God! How unsearchable are His judgments and His ways past tracing out! 34 For who has known the mind of the Lord? Or who has been His counsellor? 35 Or who has given a gift to Him, that he might be repaid? 36 For of Him and through Him and to Him, are all things. To Him be the glory for ever. Amen.

CHAPTER 12

Life Together in the Body of Christ

Therefore I urge you brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your logical service. 2 And do not conform to the mould of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may experience what is the good and acceptable and the perfect will of God. 3 For I say, through the grace that was given me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think soberly, accordingly as God has dealt to each man a measure of faith. 4 For even as we have many members in one body, and all the members do not have the same office, 5 so we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and although different, still members one of another. 6 And having gifts differing according to the grace that was given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophecy according to the proportion of our faith, 7 or ministry, let us give ourselves to our ministry. Or he that teaches, to his teaching, 8 or he that exhorts, to his exhorting; he that gives, let him do it with generosity. He that rules, with diligence. He that shows mercy, with cheerfulness. 9 Let love be without hypocrisy. Abhor that which is evil. Cling to that which is good. 10 Love one another with brotherly affection. Outdo one another in showing honour to others. 11 Be diligent, not lazy, fervent in spirit in your serving the Lord. 12 Rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation, continuing earnestly in prayer. 13 Responding to the necessities of the saints by sharing, accustomed to showing hospitality. 14 Bless them that persecute you; bless and curse not. 15 Rejoice with them that rejoice, weep with them that weep. 16 Be of the same mind one toward another. Do not be arrogant, but condescend to those who are lowly. Be not wise in your own conceits. 17 Render to no one evil for evil. Take thought to do things honourably in the sight of all men. 18 If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. 19 Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God; for it is written: Vengeance is Mine, I will repay, says the Lord. 20 But if your enemy is hungry, feed him. If he is thirsty, give him something to drink. For in so doing you shall heap coals of fire upon his head. 21 Be not overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

Our Attitude to Governments and Rulers

Let every one of you be in subjection to the governing authorities. For there is no power but by God, and the powers that be have been ordained by God. 2 Therefore whoever resists the authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment. 3 For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. If you wish to live 13:7 Tax evasion is clearly wrong for Christians.

13:10 Jesus fulfilled the Law of Moses by dying on the cross (Mt. 5:17; Lk. 24:44); but here Paul says that love fulfils the Law. The death of Jesus by crucifixion was therefore ‘love to the end’ (Jn. 13:1), the ultimate definition of love, in a very public, memorable and graphic display.

13:13 “The day” refers to the time of God’s future Kingdom in v. 12. We should live now as if we are in the Kingdom. In this sense we ‘have eternal life’ in that we live right now the kind of life which we will eternally live.

14:1 The spiritually weak, in understanding and practice (e.g. regarding things like the Jewish food laws and the Sabbath, which this chapter goes on to talk about) should be welcomed and not rejected.

Knowing the time, that already it is time for you to awake out of sleep. For now is our salvation nearer to us than when we first believed. 12 The night is far spent, and the day is at hand. Let us therefore cast off the works of darkness and let us put on the armour of light. 13 Let us behave decently, as in the day, not in reveling and drunkenness, not in sexual immorality and debauchery, not in strife and jealousy. 14 But put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to gratify its desires.

As for the one who is weak in faith, welcome him, but not so as to just quarrel with him over opinions. 2 One man has faith to eat all things, but he that is weak eats herbs. 3 Let not the one who eats despise the one who abstains, and let not the one who abstains pass judgment on the one who eats; for God has accepted him. 4 Who are you to judge the servant of another? To his own lord he stands or falls. Yes, he shall be made to stand up. For the Lord has power to make him stand. 5 One man esteems one day above another. Another esteems every day alike. Let each man be fully assured in his own mind. 6 He that regards the day, regards it to the Lord, and he that eats, eats to the Lord, for he gives God thanks; and he that eats not, to the Lord he eats not, and gives God thanks. 7 For none of us lives to himself, and none dies to himself. 8 For whether we live, we live to the Lord. Or whether we die, we die to the Lord. Whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord’s. 9 For this end Christ died and lived again, that he might be Lord of both the dead and the living. 10 But you, why do you judge your brother? Or you again, why do you set at nothing your brother? For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of God. 11 For it is written: As I live, says the Lord, to Me every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess to God. 12 So then each one of us shall give account of himself to God. 13 Therefore let us not pass judgment on one another any longer, but rather decide never to put a stumbling block or hindrance in the way of a brother. 14 I know, and I am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself. Save that to him who thinks anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean. 15 For if your brother is grieved by what you eat, you walk no longer in love. By what you eat, do not destroy the one for whom Christ died 16 So do not let what you regard as good be spoken of as evil. 17 For the kingdom of God is not about what we eat and drink, but about righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. 18 For he that herein serves Christ is well pleasing to God, and approved of by men. 19 So then let us follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may edify one another. 20 Do not overthrow the work of God for the mere sake of food. All things indeed are clean, however it is evil for that man who makes another stumble by what he eats. 21 It is good not to eat meat nor drink wine or do anything that causes your brother to stumble. 22 The faith which you have, keep between yourself and God. Happy is he that has no reason to pass judgment on himself for what he approves. 23 But he that doubts is condemned if he eats, because he eats not from faith. And whatever is not of faith is sin.

14:6 Since keeping the Sabbath is a matter of personal conscience, it is wrong to insist that a believer ‘must’ keep the Sabbath.
14:10 All stand – The Greek can mean ‘made to stand up’. In verse 11 we read of a scene we can well imagine – at the day of judgment we will be on our knees, begging for mercy, realizing our unworthiness. But we will be made to stand up (v. 4), to receive God’s gracious acceptance. So if this is what will happen to us, we should not condemn our brother now.
14:19 We need to examine our attitudes and positions, and watch our words, to ensure that we are trying to make peace rather than division.
Now we that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. Let each of us please his neighbour for his good, to encourage him. For Christ also did not please himself, but as it is written: The reproaches of them that reproached You fell upon me. For whatever things were written previously were written for our education, that through patience and through the comfort of the scriptures we might have hope. Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you to be of the same mind one with another, according to Christ Jesus. That with one accord you may with one mouth glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore receive one another, even as Christ also received you each one, to the glory of God. For I say that Christ has been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that he might confirm the promises given to the fathers, and that the Gentiles might glorify God for His mercy. As it is written: Therefore will I give praise to You among the Gentiles, and sing to Your Name. And again He says: Rejoice, you Gentiles, with His people. And again: Praise the Lord all you Gentiles, and let all the peoples praise Him. And again Isaiah said: There shall be the root of Jesse and he that arises to rule over the Gentiles. On him shall the Gentiles hope. Now may the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that you may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Spirit. And I myself also am persuaded about you, my brothers, that you yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to encourage one another. But I write the more boldly to you in some way, as if putting you again in remembrance, because of the grace that was given me by God, that I should be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Spirit.

Paul's Plans for Rome

17 I have therefore my boasting in Christ Jesus in things pertaining to God. For I will not dare to speak and sing to Your Name. And again He says: Rejoice, you Gentiles, with His people. And again: Praise the Lord all you Gentiles, and let all the peoples praise Him. And again Isaiah said: There shall be the root of Jesse and he that arises to rule over the Gentiles. On him shall the Gentiles hope. Now may the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that you may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Spirit. And I myself also am persuaded about you, my brothers, that you yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to encourage one another. But I write the more boldly to you in some way, as if putting you again in remembrance, because of the grace that was given me by God, that I should be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Spirit.

15:1 Jesus ‘carried our infirmities’ on the cross (Is. 53:4; Mt. 8:17). We are being asked to do for others what He did for us there. This makes the crucifixion far more than something to be gazed at from a distance. He there becomes the daily inspiration for us, here and now, in our lives. The spirit with which He met death is to be ours in life today.

15:5 The same mind – This doesn’t mean we are to be identical. Unity isn’t uniformity. We are each trying in our own way to have the same mind / attitude which Jesus had in His life. It’s this which creates unity between us; we are of the same mind in that we are all trying to be of His mind.

15:8 The death of Christ ended the Old Covenant, i.e. the Law of Moses, but confirmed the New Covenant, the essence of which was contained in the promises to Abraham which had been made before the Law of Moses was given.
of any things save those which Christ wrought through me, for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed, in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of the Holy Spirit. So that from Jerusalem and round about even to Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ. Yes, making it my aim to preach the gospel, not where Christ was already named, that I might not build upon another man’s foundation. But, as it is written: They shall see, to whom no tidings of him came, and they who have not heard shall understand. Therefore I was hindered these many times from coming to you. But now, there is no need for me in these regions, and having these many years a longing to come to you, I hope to see you during my journey, and to be helped on my way by you, if first I may enjoy your company for a while. At present, however, I am going to Jerusalem bringing aid to the saints. For it has been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints that are at Jerusalem. They were pleased to do it, and indeed they owe it to them. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, they owe it to them also to minister to them in material things. When therefore I have accomplished this, and have given to them this fruit, I will leave for Spain by way of Rome. And I know that, when I come to you, I shall come in the fullness of the blessing of Christ. Now I beseech you brothers, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the love of the Spirit, that you strive together with me in your prayers to God for me, that I may be delivered from those in Judea who do not believe, and that my service for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints. That I may come to you in joy through the will of God, and together with you find rest. Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

CHAPTER 16

Various Commendations and Greetings

I commend to you Phoebe our sister, who is a servant of the church that is at Cenchreae, that you may welcome her in the Lord in a way worthy of the saints, and I ask that you assist her in whatever matter she may have need of you. For she herself also has been a helper of many and of my own self. Greet Prisca and Aquila my fellow-workers in Rome.
Christ Jesus, 4 who for my life laid down their own necks. To whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles, 5 and greet the church that is in their house. Greet Epaenetus my beloved, who is the firstfruits of Asia to Christ. 6 Greet Mary, who bestowed much labour on you. 7 Greet Andronicus and Junias, my kinsmen and my fellow-prisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also have been in Christ before me. 8 Greet Ampliatus my beloved in the Lord. 9 Greet Urbanus our fellow-worker in Christ, and Stachys my beloved. 10 Greet Apelles the approved in Christ. Greet them that are of the household of Aristobulus. 11 Greet Herodion my kinsman. Greet them of the household of Narcissus, that are in the Lord. 12 Greet Tryphaena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Greet Persis the beloved, who laboured much in the Lord. 13 Greet Rufus the chosen in the Lord; and his mother, who also was as a mother to me. 14 Greet Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas and the believers that are with them. 15 Greet Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister and Olympas, and all the saints that are with them. 16 Greet one another with a holy kiss. All the churches of Christ greet you. 17 Now I urge you brothers, mark those that are causing divisions and create obstacles contrary to the doctrine that you have been taught. Turn away from these. 18 For they that are such serve not our Lord Christ, but their own belly, and by their smooth and fair speech they deceive the hearts of the innocent. 19 For your obedience is known to all. I rejoice therefore over you, but I would have you to be wise regarding that which is good and simple concerning evil. 20 And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. 21 Timothy my fellow-worker greets you, as do Lucius, Jason and Sosipater, my kinsmen. 22 I Tertius, who write this epistle, greet you in the Lord. 23 Gaius my host (and of the whole church) greets you. Erastus the treasurer of the city greets you;

16:5 The early churches met in homes; there is little archaeological evidence of specific church buildings until two hundred years after Jesus.

16:17 The book of Proverbs gave similar advice to the ‘ecclesia’ of Israel in the Old Testament. There are those within the community of believers from whom we may not formally separate, but from whom it is wiser to just stay away. Paul says that we should “mark” those who are always stirring up division and putting obstacles in the way of those wishing to walk towards the Kingdom; and just quietly keep away from them.

16:23 Erastus must have been a very wealthy man of high social profile. In this list, he is purposefully placed next to Quartus – a common slave name – who is simply described as a “brother”. The true church of Christ will be characterized by an amazing unity between persons of very different social, ethnic and personal background. Our unity should be enough to stop this world dead in its tracks and win it for Christ (Jn. 17:23).
and Quartus the brother. 24 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen. 25 Now to him that is able to establish you according to the gospel I preach, which is the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery which has been kept in silence through times eternal 26 but now is manifested, and in accordance with the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the eternal God, is made known to all the nations to obedience of faith: 27 To the only wise God, through Jesus Christ, be the glory forever. Amen.
Paul, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Sosthenes our brother, to the church of God which is at Corinth, those that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called saints, with all that call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord and ours.
Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
I thank my God always concerning you, for the grace of God which was given you in Christ Jesus.
That in everything you were enriched in him, in all utterance and all knowledge.
Even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you, so that you are not lacking in any spiritual gift, as you wait for the revealing of our Lord Jesus Christ.
Who shall also confirm you to the end, unreproveable in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.
God is faithful, through whom you were called into the fellowship of His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.

An Appeal for Unity
10 Now I urge you brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you all speak the same thing and that there be no divisions among you; but that you be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgment.
11 For it has been reported to me concerning you, my brothers, by those of the household of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.
12 By this I mean, that each one of you is saying: I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ.
13 Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized into the name of Paul?
14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, except Crispus and Gaius.
15 Lest any of you should say you were baptized into my name.
16 And I baptized also the household of Stephanas. Besides these, I do not know whether I baptized any other.
17 For Christ sent me not so much as to baptize, but to preach the gospel; not in the wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of no power.
God Uses the Weak Things
18 For the word of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but to us who are saved it is the power of God. 19 For it is written: I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and the discernment of the discerning will I bring to nothing. 20 Where is the wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the disputer of this world? Has not God made foolish the wisdom of the world? 21 For seeing that in the wisdom of God the world through its wisdom did not know God, it was God’s good pleasure through the apparent foolishness of the message preached to save them that believe- 22 seeing that Jews ask for signs and Greeks seek after wisdom. 23 But we preach Christ crucified, to Jews a stumbling block and to Gentiles foolishness. 24 But to them that are called, both Jews and Gentiles, Christ is the power of God and the wisdom of God. 25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men. 26 Consider your calling, brothers; not many of you had worldly wisdom, not many were powerful, not many were of noble birth. 27 But God chose the foolish things of the world, that He might put to shame those that are wise; and God chose the weak things of the world, that He might put to shame the things that are strong. 28 God chose what is low and despised in the world, even things that are not, to bring to nothing things that are. 29 So that no flesh should boast before God. 30 But of Him are you in Christ Jesus, who was made to us by God to be our wisdom, righteousness, sanctification and redemption. 31 That, according to what is written: He that boast, let him boast in the Lord.

CHAPTER 2
And I brothers, when I came to you, I came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you the testimony of God. 2 For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ and him crucified. 3 And I was with you in weakness and in fear and in much trembling. 4 And my speech and my preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power; 5 so that your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

True Wisdom
6 We speak wisdom, however, among them that are mature. Yet a wisdom not of this world, nor of the rulers of 1:28 God has chosen us; so we are in some way the low and despised in this world and the societies in which we live.

2:4 The power of persuasion is in the Gospel itself, especially in the message of the cross (v. 2). Converts are not won by the slickness of the presentation, but by the power of the message.
2:6 If the rulers of this world are “coming to nothing”, we shouldn’t place our hopes in politicians, but rather in the politics of God’s coming Kingdom on earth at the return of Jesus.
this world, who are coming to nothing. 7 But we speak God’s wisdom in a mystery, even that which was hidden, which God foreordained before the ages for our glory, 8 which not one of the rulers of this world has known. For had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. 9 But as it is written: Things which eye saw not and ear heard not and which did not enter into the heart of man, whatever things God prepared for them that love Him, 10 God revealed them to us through the Spirit. For the Spirit searches all things, yes, the deep things of God. 11 For who among men knows the things of a man, save the spirit of the man which is in him? Even so the things of God nobody knows, save the Spirit of God. 12 But we received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is from God, so that we might know the things that were freely given to us by God. 13 Which things also we speak about, but not in words which man’s wisdom teaches, but in words that the Spirit teaches, combining spiritual things with spiritual.

14 Now the natural man receives not the things of the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness to him and he cannot know them, because they are spiritually discerned. 15 But he that is spiritual judges all things; and he is ultimately judged by no man. 16 For who has known the mind of the Lord, that he should instruct Him? But we have the mind of Christ.

Spiritual Growth

And I, brothers, can not speak to you as spiritual people, but as carnal people, as infants in Christ. 2 I fed you with milk, not with solid food. For you were not yet able to bear it; no, not even now are you able. 3 For you are still carnal. For whereas there is among you jealousy and strife, are you not carnal and do you not walk after the manner of men? 4 For when one says: I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos—are you not mere men? 5 Who then is Apollos? And who is Paul? Ministers through whom you believed, and each as the Lord gave to him. 6 I

2:9 God has “prepared” an individual place for us in eternity; we will each as it were have our own especially prepared room in God’s eternal house (Jn. 14:1-3).

2:13 We combine spiritual things with spiritual by comparing the various parts of God’s word, which was written by His Holy Spirit; and by making sense of God’s Spirit working in our lives, combining this experience with the teaching of the words of His Spirit in the Bible.

2:14 It shouldn’t surprise us, therefore, that many people just ‘don’t get’ our message of Christ to them.

2:15 People do judge us; but our attitude should be that it means nothing to us, and in this sense we cannot be judged by them.

3:2 When we are baptize, we are born again (Jn. 3:3-5); in spiritual terms we are babies, and we grow spiritually from the milk of God’s word, the basic teachings of the Gospel; but as we mature, we move on to the meat of His word. But the Corinthians hadn’t matured.
planted, Apollos watered; but God gave the increase. 7 So then neither is he that plants anything, neither he that waters, but God that gives the increase. 8 Now he that plants and he that waters are one, but each shall receive his own reward according to his own labour. 9 For we are God’s fellow-workers. You are God’s husbandry, God’s building. 10 According to the grace of God which was given to me, as a wise master builder I laid a foundation, and another builds upon it. But let each man take care how he builds upon it! 11 For no one can lay a foundation other than that which is already laid, which is Jesus Christ. 12 But if anyone builds on the foundation gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, stubble, 13 each man’s work shall be revealed. For the day of judgment shall declare it, because it will be revealed by fire; and the fire itself shall test each man’s work of what sort it is. 14 If anyone’s work shall endure which he built thereon, he shall receive a reward. 15 If anyone’s work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss; but he himself shall be saved, yet as having passed through fire. 16 Do you not know that you are a temple of God, and the Spirit of God dwells in you? 17 If anyone destroys the temple of God, him shall God destroy. For the temple of God is holy; and such are you. 18 Let no one deceive himself. If anyone thinks that he is wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may become wise. 19 For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written: He takes the wise in their craftiness. 20 And again: The Lord knows the reasonings of the wise, that they are vain. 21 Therefore, let no one boast in men. For all things are yours. 22 Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come- all are yours. 23 And you are Christ’s, and Christ is God’s.

CHAPTER 4  Feb. 22  Aug. 24
Being Wise Stewards

Let a man regard us as servants of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. 2 In this, moreover, it is required of stewards, that a man be found faithful. 3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should 3:8 The labour we expend upon others will receive an eternal reward – unlike the labour we expend upon our secular lives, careers etc.

3:9 Paul likens God to a fellow worker on a building site or on a farm; this shows the humility of God in being prepared to work with us as we try to help others to His Kingdom.
3:15 If those we convert or try to build up in faith should fall away, we ourselves will still be saved, although we too must pass through the testing fire of the final judgment.
3:23 Christ even after His ascension is “God’s” and therefore not God Himself.
4:1 As taught in the parables of Jesus, we have each been given certain talents and blessings which we must use faithfully in God’s service. If we don’t use them, or use them for our own selfish advantage in this life, then we are not faithful stewards.
4:3 The fact we will be judged by God is so significant that it means that how mere people judge us in this life is irrelevant and should matter little to us.
be judged by you, or any man’s judgment. I do not judge even myself.
4 For I know nothing against myself in my own conscience. Yet hereby I am not justified; but he that judges me is the Lord.
5 Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who will bring to light the hidden things of darkness and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and then shall each man have his praise from God.
6 Now these things, brothers, I have applied to myself and Apollos for your sakes. That from us you might learn not to go beyond the things which are written, so that none of you get puffed up, one against the other.
7 For who makes you to differ? And what have you that you did not receive? But if you did receive it, why do you boast as if you had not received it?

Paul’s Qualification to Teach the Corinthians

8 Already are you filled, already you have become rich, you have come to reign without us. Yes, and I hope that you will indeed reign, that we also might reign with you.
9 For I think God has sent us the apostles last of all, as men doomed to death. For we are made a spectacle to the world, both to angels and men.
10 We are fools for Christ’s sake, but you are wise in Christ. We are weak, but you are strong. You have glory, but we have dishonour.
11 Even to this present hour we both hunger and thirst and are naked and are buffeted and have no certain dwelling-place;
12 we toil, working with our own hands. Being reviled, we bless. Being persecuted, we endure.
13 Being defamed, we entreat. We are made as the garbage of the world, the scum of the earth, even until now.
14 I do not write these things to shame you, but to encourage you as my beloved children.
15 For though you have ten thousand would be teachers in Christ, yet you have not many fathers. For in Christ Jesus it was me who begat you through the gospel.
16 I therefore

4:4 On one level, our conscience is important. But even if our conscience is clear about something, this doesn’t mean that we are therefore right. We stand before God’s judgment of us; at the last day, our conscience will not as it were jump out of us and stand there and judge us. We will be judged according to our response to the Word which Jesus spoke (Jn. 12:48); and in some matters our conscience is faulty.
4:5 True judgement involves considering a person’s deepest motives. Seeing these are hidden, both to us as observers and often to the person themselves, we cannot judge / condemn others; we simply must leave this to God. This doesn’t mean that we can’t have an opinion – otherwise we would be unable to tell right from wrong. But we must not pre-judge God’s ultimate judgment of a person.
4:10 The life decisions we make because of our knowledge of Christ will often make us appear foolish in the eyes of unbelieving people. But do we appear fools to them – or do we usually act just like they do?
4:15 Those we bring to Christ are our spiritual children, and we must always care for them as long as we live; and we should likewise respect those who brought us to Christ as our spiritual parents.
urge you to be imitators of me. 17 For this cause have I sent to you Timothy, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my ways which are in Christ, even as I teach everywhere in every church. 18 Now some are inflated with pride, as though I were not going to come to you. 19 But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and I will discover not the talk of those that are inflated with pride, but the power. 20 For the kingdom of God is not in talk but in power. 21 What do you prefer? Shall I come to you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of gentleness?

A Case of Sexual Immorality

It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and such immorality as is not even among the Gentiles, that one of you has taken to himself his father’s wife. 2 Instead of grieving, you have become arrogant. Remove the one who has done this deed from among you. 3 For I truly, though absent in body but present in spirit, have already judged him that has done this thing, 4 I command you that in the name of our Lord Jesus, when you are gathered together (and my spirit is present with you when you do), with the power of our Lord Jesus, 5 deliver such a person to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. 6 Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little yeast raises the whole lump of dough? 7 Purge out the old yeast so that you may be a new lump, even as you actually are. For our Passover lamb has been sacrificed, even Christ. 8 Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old yeast, neither with the yeast of malice and wickedness, but with the bread of sincerity and truth which has no yeast. 9 I wrote to you in my letter to have no association with fornicators. 10 I did not mean with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous and extortioners, or with idolaters. For you must go out of the world to do this. 11 But as it is, I wrote to you not to keep association, if anyone that is named a brother be a fornicator, or 5:2 Local church discipline is occasionally required in cases of severe immorality such as this. But the aim is that through the process, they will be saved (v. 5). We should not cast people out just because of personal disagreement with them and never in anger, only in love and a desire to save both them and others.

5:5 The common understanding of ‘Satan’ breaks down here; for the adversary [perhaps local Roman authorities, in this case] plays a part in the salvation of people, under God’s hand.

5:6 The leaven or yeast which negatively influenced others in the church wasn’t merely the sexually perverted person; it also refers to “malice” (v. 8). The reason for church discipline in this case was protective – so that others wouldn’t be badly influenced.

5:11 Eating together in the first century was a sign of acceptance and fellowship. Jesus ate with all kinds of sinners in order to bring them to Him; He didn’t refuse to eat with people because they weren’t up to His spiritual level.
covetous, or an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner. With such a one have no association, not even to eat. 12 For what have I to do with judging those that are without? Do you not judge those that are within? 13 But them that are without God judges. Put away the wicked man from among yourselves.

6:1 We should therefore not take other believers to court; instead we should try to resolve the issues through the mediation of wise, humble people within the church – even those who may be counted as nothing amongst us.

6:7 We should suffer ourselves to be defrauded rather than take people to court; we live in an age of litigation and legal threatening as never before, and we mustn’t be caught up in it.

6:8 To take a brother to court for defrauding you is in fact [in God’s eyes] to defraud them; so you show yourself no better than them, and thus condemn yourself.

6:9 If we believe that the wicked will not be allowed into the Kingdom of God when Jesus returns, this should be comfort enough for us. This is the only judgment that matters, and so we shouldn’t take them to human judgment in this life. By refraining from doing so, we show our faith in God’s judgment which is to come (see 4:3,4).

6:11 Washed... in the name – A reference to baptism. We also have committed [in essence] the sins which we are tempted to take others to court over. But we were graciously forgiven through our baptism. Therefore we should be forgiving to them.

6:12 Christ hasn’t given us a long list of things which we must do and those we must things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any. 13 Food for the belly and the belly for food, but God shall bring to nothing both it and them. But the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body. 14 And God both raised up the Lord and will raise us up also through His power. 15 Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ and make them members of a prostitute? God forbid. 16 Or do you not know that he that is joined to a prostitute is one body with her? For the scripture says: The two shall become one flesh. 17 But he that is joined to the Lord is one spirit. 18 Flee fornication. Every sin that a man does is outside the body, but he that commits fornication sins against his own body. 19 Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you, which you have from God? And you are not your own; 20 for you were bought with a price. Glorify God therefore in your body and spirit, for they are God’s.

Feb. 24  Aug. 26

Paul Answers Questions About Singleness

Now concerning the things of which you wrote. It is good for a man not to touch a woman. 2 But because there is so much immorality, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. 3 Let the husband render to the wife her due and likewise also the wife to the husband. 4 The wife has no power over her own body, but the husband does. And likewise also the husband has no power over his own body, but the wife does. 5 Do not deprive one another, unless it is for an agreed time, so that you may give yourselves to prayer and then come together again, that Satan does not tempt you because of your lack of self-control. 6 But this I say by way of concession, not by commandment. 7 Yet I would that all men were even as I myself. However each man has his own gift from God, one after this manner and another after that. 8 But I say to the unmarried and to widows: It is good for them if they live as I do. 9 But if they do not have not do. The question isn’t ‘What can I get away with?’ but rather ‘What is the expedient / wise thing?’.

6:16 The sexual act is designed to be used by God in an ongoing sense in order to make two people “one”. To use it any other way is seriously sinful. 7:2 Paul often sets an ideal standard, and yet recognizes God’s concessions to human weakness. Thus he advises the single life, but makes a concession to marriage; in marriage, there shouldn’t be separation, but if there is, then remain single (v. 11). 7:5 We are tempted by our own internal libido, rather than a cosmic being. The internal desire for forbidden sexual relations is our real adversary / Satan. 7:7 Both marriage and singleness are gifts from God. Yet many single people so wish to be married, and some married so wish to be single again; thinking that they would serve God better in this case. But whatever state we are in, is a gift from God that we must use.
self-control, let them marry. For it is better to marry than to burn. 10 But to the married I give this instruction; not I, but the Lord: That the wife should not leave her husband 11 (but should she depart, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband) and the husband should not leave his wife. 12 But to the rest speak I, not the Lord: If any brother has an unbelieving wife and she is content to dwell with him, let him not leave her. 13 And the woman that has an unbelieving husband and he is content to dwell with her, let her not leave her husband. 14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the brother. Else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. 15 Yet if the unbelieving departs, let him depart. The brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases; but God has called us to peace. 16 For how do you know, O wife, whether you shall save your husband? Or how do you know, O husband, whether you shall save your wife? 17 Only as the Lord has distributed to each man, as God has called each, so let him walk. And so ordain I in all the churches. 18 Was anyone called being circumcised? Let him not become uncircumcised. Has any been called in uncircumcision? Let him not be circumcised. 19 Circumcision is nothing and uncircumcision is nothing- but the keeping of the commandments of God is all important. 20 Let each man abide in that calling wherein he was called. 21 Were you called while a slave? Do not worry, but if you can become free, do so. 22 For he that was called in the Lord being a slave, is the Lord’s freedman. Likewise he that was called being free, is Christ’s slave. 23 You were bought with a price. Become not slaves of men. 24 Brothers, let each man, wherein he was called, therein stay with God. 25 Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of 7:12 I, not the Lord – All that Paul wrote was inspired by God’s Spirit. Often, however, he is repeating the teaching which the Lord Jesus had already given (v. 10). However, now Paul tells us something which has been revealed additionally to him by the Spirit, and which is not to be found in the teaching of Jesus.

7:14 To some extent our unbelieving or immature family members are ‘covered’ in us. It’s a motivation to remain faithful to God ourselves.

7:16 Whilst God through Jesus will save people, He has delegated this work to us. A believer can save another person; this is a great encouragement to ‘stick it out’ in marriage to an unbeliever, and in preaching the Gospel.

7:17 In all the churches – Paul’s teaching to this one church was inspired by God and is therefore relevant and binding far wider than to that one church. His letters are therefore not merely historical documents, but the voice of God to all believers in all generations. We do of course live in a different place in time and geography, but the essence of God’s teaching through him must be applied by us all.

7:20, 23 If you can become free... become not slaves – Maybe relevant to signing ourselves up for careers or employment which enslaves us and takes us away from the things of God.
the Lord; but I give my judgment, as one that has obtained mercy of the Lord to be trustworthy. 26 I think therefore that it is good by reason of the present distress that is upon us, that a man should remain as he is. 27 Are you bound to a wife? Do not seek to be loosed. Are you loosed from a wife? Do not seek a wife. 28 But should you marry, you have not sinned, and if a virgin marry, she has not sinned. Yet such shall have tribulation in the flesh, and I would spare you.

Serving the Lord Without Distraction

29 But this I say brothers, because the time is shortened, that from this time forward both those that have wives may be as though they had none; 30 those that weep, as though they wept not, those that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not, and those that buy, as though they possessed not. 31 And those that use the world, as not using it to the full. For the fashion of this world passes away. 32 But I would have you to be free of worries. He that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord. 33 But he that is married is careful for the things of the world, how he may please his wife, 34 and is divided. Also the woman that is unmarried or betrothed is anxious about the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit; but she that is married is anxious about the things of the world, how she may please her husband. 35 And this I say for your own profit. Not that I may cast a snare upon you, but so you may do what is proper, and that you may serve the Lord without distraction. 36 But if anyone thinks that he behaves himself inappropriately toward his betrothed, if she be past the flower of her age, and if need so requires, let him do what he will. He sins not. Let them marry. 37 But he that stands steadfast in his heart, being under no necessity but having his desires under control, and has determined this in his heart, to remain betrothed; he shall do well. 38 So then he who marries his betrothed does well, and he who refrains from marriage will do even better. 39 A wife is bound for as long as her husband lives; but if the husband dies she is free to be married to whoever she chooses. But only in the Lord. 40 But in my judgment she is happier if she remains as she is. And I am certain that I also have the Spirit of God.

7:36 It appears that 7:26-40 are Paul’s comments upon a very specific situation in Corinth – he is writing an answer to various things which the Corinthians had written to him about (v. 1). We are reading only his answers, without having seen the original questions.
7:39 Marriage is for life. At no other time in human history has this principle been under such attack as it is today. Marriage for believers is to be only “in the Lord” – to those who have been baptized into Him.
7:40 I think – the Greek can imply ‘I am certain that...’.
Now concerning things sacrificed to idols. We know that we all have knowledge; yet knowledge puffs up, but love builds up. 2 If anyone thinks that he knows anything, he does not know anything as he ought to know. 3 But if anyone loves God, the same is known by Him. 4 Therefore concerning the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that no idol has real existence and there is no God but one. 5 For though there are those called gods, whether in heaven or on earth, as there are gods many and lords many, 6 yet to us there is only one God, the Father, of whom are all things and we are everything to Him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, for the sake of whom are all things, and we exist for His sake. 7 However there is not in all men that knowledge, but some being used until now to the idol, eat things sacrificed to an idol, and their conscience being weak is defiled. 8 But food will not commend us to God. Neither, if we eat not, are we the worse. Nor, if we eat, are we the better. 9 But take heed, lest by any means this freedom of yours becomes a stumblingblock to the weak. 10 For if a man sees you who have knowledge dining in an idol’s temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, be encouraged to eat things sacrificed to idols? 11 For through your knowledge he that is weak perishes, the brother for whose sake Christ died. 12 And thus, sinning for the sake of whom are all things, and we exist for His sake.
against the believers and wounding their conscience when it is weak, you sin against Christ. 13 Therefore, if food causes my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh again, so that I do not cause my brother to stumble.

Paul’s View of a Paid Ministry

Am I not free? Am I not an apostle? Have I not seen Jesus our Lord? Are not you my works in the Lord? 2 If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you. For you are the seal of my apostleship in the Lord. 3 My defence to them that examine me is this: 4 Have we no right to eat and to drink? 5 Have we no right to lead a wife that is a believer, even as the rest of the apostles and the brothers of the Lord and Cephas? 6 Or are Barnabas and I the only ones who have a right not to have to work for a living? 7 What soldier ever serves at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard and does not eat the fruit of it? Or who feeds a flock and does not drink the milk of the flock? 8 Do I speak these things after the manner of men? Or did not the law say the same? 9 For it is written in the law of Moses: You shall not muzzle the ox when he treads out the corn. Is it for the oxen that God cares, 10 or did He say it entirely for our sake? Yes, for our sake it was written. Because he that ploughs ought to plough in hope, and he that threshes, hopes to partake in the harvest. 11 If we sowed to you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we shall reap your material things? 12 If others have this rightful claim over you, do we not have more? Nevertheless we did not use this right, but we bear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the gospel of Christ. 13 Do you not know that they that labour in the temple get their food from the temple, and they that serve at the altar have their portion from that which is sacrificed on the altar? 14 Even so the Lord ordained that they that proclaim the gospel should live from the gospel. 15 But I have used none of these things, and I do not write these things that it may be so done in my case. For it is better for me to die, than that anyone should make my boasting void. 16 For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to boast about. For necessity is laid upon me. For woe to me, if I do not preach the gospel. 17 For if I do this of my own will, I have a reward; but if against my own will, 9:5 A wife that is a believer – Again Paul stresses that marriage should only be to a believer (7:39).

9:12 Here we have an example of how we can chose to live spiritual life on different levels. It wouldn’t have been wrong for Paul to take a salary for his work, and he explains there is even Old Testament precedent for this – and even an unrecorded saying of Jesus which teaches it (v. 14). But he chose to take a higher level – and not take a salary. If we love God truly, we will want to try to serve Him on the highest possible level. We will not be minimalists, thinking what we can ‘get away with’.

9:17 Paul is saying that a sign that he has been truly called to preach the Gospel is because this isn’t something which came naturally to him; his silent years in Arabia after then I have clearly had a stewardship entrusted to me. 18 What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, I may present the gospel without charge, so as not to use to the full my right in the gospel.

All Things to All People

19 For though I was free from all, I brought myself under bondage to all, that I might gain the more. 20 And to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews. To them that are under the law, I became as one under the law (though I am not under the law), that I might gain those that are under the law. 21 To them that are without law, as without law, not being without law to God, but under law to Christ, that I might gain them that are without law. 22 To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak. I have become all things to all men, that I may by all means save some. 23 And I do all things for the gospel’s sake, that I may be a joint partaker of it. 24 Do you not know that they that run in a race all run, but only one receives the prize? Run like this, so that you may attain the prize. 25 And every man that strives in the games exercises self-control in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible. 26 I therefore run, but not with uncertainty. So fight I, but not as a shadow boxer. 27 But like an athlete I discipline my body and make it my slave; lest by any means, after I have preached to others, I myself should be disqualified.

CHAPTER 10

Israel in the Wilderness Are Our Warning

Brothers, I would not have you ignorant that our fathers were all under the cloud and all passed through the sea, and were all baptized into Moses in the cloud and in 10:13 The test may actually be beyond our ability to bear; but God gives us a way of escape. Whenever we sin, we are therefore guilty and responsible; we can’t justify our failure by ‘situational ethics’, whereby we reason that the situation left us with no choice but to sin. God promises that He will not allow this ever to happen. It’s a great comfort as well as a challenge.

10:21 Demons are another name for idols – which don’t exist, even though many think they do (8:4,5).
on the ground of conscience, 26 for the earth is the Lord’s and the fullness of it. 27 If one of them that do not believe invites you to a feast and you are inclined to go, whatever is set before you eat, asking no question for conscience sake. 28 But if anyone says to you: This has been offered in sacrifice to idols! Do not eat it for the sake of he that tells you, and for conscience sake. 29 Conscience, I say, not your own, but the other’s. One may ask: Why is my liberty judged by another’s conscience? 30 If I eat my food with thankfulness, why is evil spoken of me, for that for which I give thanks? 31 The principle is that whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do or do not- do all to the glory of God. 32 Give no occasions of stumbling, either to Jews, or to Gentiles, or to the church of God. 33 Even as I also please all men in all things, not seeking my own profit but that of the many, that they may be saved.

Headcoverings in the Church

Be imitators of me, even as I am of Christ. 2 Now I praise you who remember me in all things, and hold fast the traditions, as I delivered them to you. 3 But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ, the head of the woman is the man, and the head of Christ is God. 4 Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonours his head. 5 But every woman praying or prophesying with her head unveiled dishonours her head. For it is one and the same thing as if she were shaven. 6 For if a woman is not veiled, let her also be shorn; but if it is a shame to a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be veiled. 7 For a man indeed ought not to have his head veiled, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God; but the woman is the glory of the man. 8 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man. 9 For neither was the man created for the woman, but the woman for the man. 10 For this cause ought the woman to have a sign of authority on her head, because of the angels. 11 Nevertheless, in the Lord, neither is the woman without the man, nor the man without the woman. 12 For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman; but all things are of God. 13 Judge for yourselves. Is it appropriate that a woman pray to God unveiled? 14 Does not nature itself teach you, that if a man has long hair it is a dishonour to him? 15 But if a 10:29, 30 Why is my liberty...? why is evil spoken of me... ? – These appear to be Paul anticipating the kind of objections which people would raise to what he has just said (he has this same style in 15:35). We must be sensitive to the conscience of others, and not simply reason that we see nothing wrong in doing something.

11:1 Paul isn’t someone to just be admired from a distance, as we may admire a painting; we really are to see him as our model, so that we might follow Christ better.

11:3 The head of Christ is God – Even now, after Jesus’ mortal life, He is still subservient to God.
Our response to division in the church reveals whether we are approved of God or not.

This section can be usefully read just before we take the bread and wine at the breaking of bread service. We can break bread alone; and this is an appropriate Bible passage to read.

A few moments of silence before we take the bread and wine are necessary – so that we can examine ourselves. As we reconstruct in our own imaginations the death of Christ, we naturally will examine ourselves, because our conscience will be touched.

‘Judge’ is being used in the sense of ‘condemn’. We cannot avoid the day of judgment; but if we condemn ourselves in our self-examination today, realizing that we are not worthy, then, we will not be condemned. This will work out to be the greatest paradox of all existence.

Condemned with the world – Those rejected at the day of judgment will simply be sent back into the world to share the world’s judgment. If in this life we prefer to are judged, we are chastened by the Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world. 33 Therefore, my brothers, when you come together to eat, wait for one another. 34 If anyone is hungry, let him eat at home, that your coming together be not to condemnation. About the other things I will give instruction when I come.

CHAPTER 12
Feb. 28 Aug. 30
Various Gifts Within the Body of Christ

Brothers, I do not want you to be ignorant concerning spiritual gifts. 2 You know that when you were Gentiles you were led away to those dumb idols, in whichever way you might have been led. 3 Therefore I make known to you, that no one speaking in the Spirit of God says Jesus is accursed. And no one can say Jesus is Lord, but in the Holy Spirit. 4 Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. 5 And there are diversities of service, but the same Lord. 6 And there are diversities of activities, but the same God who empowers them all in everyone. 7 But to each individual is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good. 8 For to one is given through the Spirit the word of wisdom and to another the word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit. 9 To another faith through the same Spirit, and to another gifts of healings through the same one Spirit. 10 And to another workings of miracles, and to another prophecy and to another discerning of spirits; to another various kinds of tongues, and to another the interpretation of tongues. 11 All these gifts are energized by one and the same Spirit, apportioned to each man according as he is willing to receive it. 12 For as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of the body, though being many, are one body; so also is Christ. 13 For in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Gentiles, whether slaves or free; and were all made to drink of one Spirit.

12:3 There were people who claimed to have the Holy Spirit gifts who in fact didn’t, and who were willing to curse Jesus as the pagans demanded they did. The problem of false claims to Holy Spirit possession continues with us today.

12:10 Only some people in the first century were given the gift of speaking in tongues [foreign languages]. See too v. 30. Those who claim that ‘speaking in tongues’ is experienced by every truly converted believer are therefore wrong.

12:13 We become parts of the body of Christ by being baptized into His body. This is why baptism is so important; and it means that everyone who’s truly baptized is part of the body of Christ, and we therefore should not be divided from others in the body (v. 25); and we cannot say that we have no need of others in the body of Christ (v. 21). The bread which we break at the breaking of bread is a symbol of the body of Christ; we are one loaf (10:17). We should therefore welcome at the breaking of bread all those who have been validly baptized into Christ. Seeing there is only one body of Christ,
The Body of Christ

14 For the body is not one member but many. 15 If the foot shall say: Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body- that would not make it not a part of the body. 16 And if the ear shall say: Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body- that would not make it not a part of the body. 17 If the whole body were an eye, where is the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where is the smelling? 18 But now has God set the members each one of them in the body, even as it pleased Him. 19 And if they were all one member, where is the body? 20 But now they are many members, but one body. 21 Therefore the eye cannot say to the hand: I have no need of you; nor the head to the feet: I have no need of you. 22 No, on the contrary, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble are necessary. 23 And those parts of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour; and our unattractive parts have more abundant covering; 24 whereas our more attractive parts have no need of this. But God tempered the body together, giving more abundant honour to that part which lacked it, 25 so that there should be no schism in the body, but that the members should have the same care one for another. 26 And whether one member suffers, all the members suffer with it; or one member is honoured, all the members rejoice with it. 27 Now you are the body of Christ and each individually members of it. 28 And God has set some in the church, first apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers, then those who do miracles, then the gifts of healing, helping, administration and various kinds of languages. 29 Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Are all workers of miracles? 30 Do all have gifts of healing? Do all speak with languages? Do all interpret? 31 But earnestly desire the higher gifts. And I will show you a still more excellent way.

The Supremacy of Love

1 If I speak with all the languages of men and of angels, but do not have love, I have become like sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal. 2 And if I have the gift of prophecy and know all mysteries, and all knowledge, and if I have all faith so as to remove mountains, but do not have love, I am nothing. 3 And if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor and if I give my body to be burned, but do not have love, it profits me nothing. 4 Love suffers long, and is kind. Love
13:6 Rejoices not in unrighteousness – Much ‘entertainment’ invites us to do just this; to enjoy viewing and hearing unrighteous things and take pleasure from them, although we are not literally doing those things. We are not to rejoice in sinful things but to focus our minds upon spiritual things.

13:8 Paul here prophesies that the miraculous gifts of the Holy Spirit would pass away. They will be given again when Jesus returns (Heb. 6:5).

14:2 The gift of tongues was the ability to speak in foreign languages, as happened in Acts 2. Paul is here describing, and criticizing, what was happening in the church at Corinth.

14:6 To speak in a foreign language for the sake of it, just to show off, wouldn’t help anyone; they’d need someone with the gift of translating to translate back to their own language. The essence of what Paul is saying in this chapter is: ‘Don’t show off. Use whatever gifts you’ve been given to practically upbuild others, rather than abusing them to exalt yourself, to show off before others, to appear different and cool in the eyes of men’.
is piped or harped?  8 For if the bugle gives an indistinct sound, who will get ready for battle, who shall prepare himself for war?  9 So also you, unless you utter by the tongue speech easily understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? For you will be speaking into the air.  10 There are, surely, many languages in the world and none is without meaning.  11 If then I do not know the meaning of the voice, I shall be to him that speaks a barbarian and he that speaks will be a barbarian to me.  12 So also you, since you are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek to excel in edifying the church.

Commands Governing the Use of Tongues
13 Therefore let him that speaks in a tongue pray that he may interpret.  14 For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prays, but my understanding is unfruitful.  15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit and I will pray with the understanding also. I will sing with the spirit and I will sing with the understanding also.  16 Else if you bless with the spirit, how shall he that is in the place of the unlearned say the Amen at your giving of thanks, seeing he does not understand what you say?  17 For you truly give thanks well, but the other is not edified.  18 I thank God, I speak with tongues more than you all.  19 However in the church I would rather speak five words with my understanding, that I might instruct others also, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

14:10 ‘Tongues’ refers to “languages in the world”, i.e. not ‘mumbo-jumbo’ but intelligible speech, as happened in Acts 2.  14:19 Whilst these commands refer to the use of the gift of languages [“tongues”] in a first century church, we can grasp the principle – talk to people on their level, in a way and style which is spiritually helpful to them, rather than talking on your own level to them, insensitive to their needs. The Lord Jesus taught the people God’s word as they were able to understand, not as He was able to expound (Mk. 4:33).
a tongue, let it be by two, or at the most three; and even then in turn, and let one interpret. 28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church, and let him speak to himself and to God. 29 And let the prophets speak by two or three, and let the others discern them. 30 But if a revelation be made to another sitting by, let the first keep silence. 31 For you all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn and all may be exhorted. 32 And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets. 33 For God is not a God of confusion but of peace, as in all the churches of the saints. 34 Let the women keep silence in the churches, for it is not permitted for them to speak; but let them be in subjection, as also said the law. 35 And if they would learn anything, let them ask their men at home. For it is shameful for a woman to speak in the church. 36 What? Was it from you that the word of God went out? Or came it to you alone? 37 If anyone thinks himself to be a prophet, or spiritually gifted, let him acknowledge that the things which I write to you are the commandment of the Lord. 38 But if anyone is ignorant, let him be ignorant. 39 Therefore my brothers, desire earnestly to prophesy and forbid not to speak with tongues. 40 But let all things be done decently and in order.

A Summary of the Gospel

Now I make known to you, brothers, the gospel which I preached to you, which also you received, wherein also you stand. 2 By which also you are saved, if you hold fast the word which I preached to you, unless you believed in vain. 3 For I delivered to you first of all that which also I received: That Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures, 4 that he was buried, that he rose on the third day in accordance with the scriptures, 5 that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. 6 Then he appeared to above five hundred believers at once, of whom the greater part remain until now (but some have fallen asleep); 7 then he appeared to James, then to all the apostles. 8 And last of all, as to the abnormally born, he appeared to me also. 9 For I am the least of the apostles, who is unworthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. 10 But by the grace of God I am what I am, and His grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I laboured more abundantly than all of them. Yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. 11 Whether I or they, so we preach and so you believed.

The Crucial Importance of Christ’s Resurrection
12 Now if Christ is preached that he has been raised from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? 13 But if there is no resurrection of the dead, neither has Christ been raised. 14 And if Christ has not been raised, then is our preaching vain, your faith also is vain. 15 Yes, we are found false witnesses of God. Because we witnessed of God that He raised up Christ, whom He did not raise if it is true that the dead are not raised- 16 for if the dead are not raised, neither has Christ been raised. 17 And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is vain, you are still in your sins; 18 and therefore also those who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished. 19 If we have only hoped in Christ in this life, we are of all people the most pitiable. 20 But now has Christ been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of them that are asleep. 21 For since by a man came death, by a man came also the resurrection of the dead. 22 For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive. 23 But each in his own order. Christ the firstfruits, then they that are Christ’s, at his coming. 24 Then comes the end, when he shall deliver up the kingdom to God, even the Father, when he shall have abolished all rule and all authority and power. 25 For he must reign until He has put all his enemies under his feet. 26 The last enemy that shall be abolished is death. 27 For He put all things in subjection under his feet. But when He said all things are put in subjection, it is evident that He is excepted who did subject all things to him. 28 And when all things have been subjected 15:10 The idea of labour not being in vain recurs in v. 58. The connection teaches that Paul’s zealous labour in response to grace is not just to be admired from a distance; he is to be taken as our example.

15:11 Peoples’ faith is dependent to some extent upon the preacher; we can bring people to faith or leave them without faith and hope because we didn’t preach to them (Rom. 10:14).

15:20 Firstfruits – Jesus was the first person to rise from the dead and be given eternal life. When we are resurrected and given eternal life, we will be like the rest of the harvest. If Christ was the “firstfruits”, then men like Enoch and Elijah, indeed nobody before the time of Christ, was given eternal life at the end of their mortal lives.

15:22 Shall all be made live – All those “in Christ” by baptism into His death and resurrection.

15:28 Christ will be eternally subject to God, and will give His Kingdom to God (v. 24). Christ wasn’t just less than God during His moral life; He will eternally be like this. Trinitarian theology can’t satisfactorily answer this.
to him, then shall the Son also himself be subjected to Him that did subject all things to him, that God may be all in all. 29 Else what shall they do that are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why then are people baptized for them? 30 Why do we also stand in jeopardy every hour? 31 I protest by that boasting in you, brothers, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord: I die daily. 32 If after the manner of men I fought with beasts at Ephesus, what does it profit me? If the dead are not raised, let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die. 33 Be not deceived. Evil companionships corrupt good moral habits. 34 Awake to soberness righteously, and do not sin. For some among you have no knowledge of God. I speak this to move you to shame.

The Process of Resurrection
35 But someone will say: How are the dead resurrected? And with what type of body do they come forth? 36 You foolish one, what you sow does not come to life unless it dies. 37 And what you sow is not the plant body that shall later be, but a bare grain, perhaps of wheat or some other grain. 38 But God gives it a body just as it pleases Him; and to each seed a body of its own. 39 All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another flesh of birds, and another of fishes. 40 There are also heavenly bodies and earthly bodies; but the glory of the heavenly is one and the glory of the earthly is another. 41 There is one glory of the sun and another glory of the moon and another glory of the stars, for one star differs from another star in glory. 42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption, it is raised in incorruption. 43 It is sown... in dis honour, it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness, it is raised in power. 44 It is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. 45 So also it is written: The first man Adam became a living soul. The last Adam became a life-giving spirit. 46 But it is not the spiritual that is first but the natural, and only then the spiritual. 47 The first man is of the earth, earthy. The second man is heavenly. 48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy, and as is the heavenly, such are they that are heavenly. 49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly. 50 Now this I say, brothers, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God. Neither does corruption inherit incorruption. 51 Behold, I tell you a mystery: We shall not all remain asleep, but we shall all be changed, 52 in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet shall sound and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. 53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. 54 But when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall come to fulfilment the saying that is written: Death is swallowed up in victory. 55 O death, where is your victory? O death, where is your sting? 56 The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. 57 But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. 58 Therefore my beloved brothers, be steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that your labour in the Lord is not in vain.

Paul’s Plans for Corinth

Now concerning the collection for the saints, do as I instructed the churches in Galatia. 2 Upon the first day of the week let each one of you, as your income allows, put some money aside and store it up so that no collections are needed when I come. 3 And when I arrive, whomsoever you shall approve, them will I send with letters to carry your generosity to Jerusalem. 4 And if it be fitting for me to go also, they shall go with me. 5 But I will come to you, when I shall have passed through Macedonia (for I plan to pass through Macedonia). 6 And perhaps I will stay with you or even spend the winter, so that you may help me on my journey, wherever I go further. 7 But I do not wish to see you just in passing; I hope to It’s possible to serve God without doing it in love – as Paul warns against in chapter 13. It’s very important to do all we do consciously motivated by love; not because we ‘have to’, not for appearances, nor from habit and tradition.

Respect can never be demanded, it can only be earned. We should respect those who have clearly given their lives to serving others in Christ.

Maranatha – A watchword of the early church, meaning ‘May the Lord come soon!’.
we do not want you to be ignorant in regards to the hardships which we encountered in Asia. We were weighed down exceedingly, beyond our power, so much so that we feared even for our lives. 9 Yes, we ourselves have had the sentence of death within ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves but in the God who raises the dead- 10 who delivered us out of so great a death, and will deliver. On whom we have set our hope, that He will also still deliver us. 11 You also helping together on our behalf by your prayers, so that it works out that for the gift bestowed upon us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on our behalf.

Paul’s Change of Travel Plans
12 For our boasting is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and Godly sincerity, not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we behaved ourselves in the world- and more abundantly toward you. 13 For we write no other things to you, than what you read or even acknowledge, and I hope you will

1:4 One reason for our sufferings is so that the comfort we are given for them we may share with others who are suffering the same. But this will only be possible if we are meaningfully in relationship with others; and suffering has a way of making us self-centred. Paul understood this principle so well that he could write that his sufferings were so that he could comfort the Corinthians (v. 6).

1:9 Sentence of death within ourselves – Paul may be referring to having received a death penalty from the local authorities, or to his recovery from a terminal illness.
1:13 ‘What we write is what you read’ may be a way of saying that they knew within their consciences, at first reading of his words, that there was congruence between Paul’s words and his actions – as there should be in our words too.
acknowledge to the end; 14 as also you did once partially acknowledge us, that we are your boasting, even as you are also ours, in the day of our Lord Jesus. 15 And in this confidence I had decided to come first of all to you, that you might have a second benefit; 16 and by you to pass into Macedonia and again from Macedonia to come to you, and from you proceed on my journey to Judea. 17 When I planned this, did I show fickleness? Or the things that I plan, do I plan according to the flesh, so that in the same breath I say, Yes, yes and then No, no? 18 But as God is faithful, our word toward you is not yes and no. 19 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, by me and Silvanus and Timothy, was not yes and no; but in him is yes. 20 For no matter how many and whatever be the promises of God, in him is the ultimate Yes! Therefore also through him is the Amen, to the glory of God through us. 21 Now he that establishes us with you in Christ and anointed us is God, 22 who also sealed us and gave us the down payment of the Spirit in our hearts. 23 But I call God for a witness upon my soul, that to spare you I came no more to Corinth. 24 Not that we have lordship over your faith but are helpers of your joy. For in faith you must stand fast.

Receiving Back the Disciplined Brother

But I determined this for myself, that I would not come again to you with sorrow. 2 For if I make you sorry, who then is he that makes me glad, but he that is made sorry by me? 3 And I wrote this very thing, lest when I came, I should receive sorrow from those in whom I ought to rejoice—having confidence in you all, that my joy is in you all. 4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote to you with many tears. Not that you should be made sorry, but that you might know the love that I have more abundantly for you. 5 But if any has caused sorrow, he has caused sorrow not so much to me but in a sense (not to put it too severely) to you all. 6 Sufficient to such a one is this punishment which was inflicted by the majority. 7 So that to the contrary you should rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his excessive sorrow. 8 Therefore I beg you to confirm your love toward him. 9 For to this end also did I write, that I might

1:19 The totally positive nature of the Lord Jesus should be reflected in our positivity and sense of purpose in life (v. 17).
2:6 This may refer to the case of the immoral brother about which Paul had earlier written in 1 Cor. 5, advising the church to separate from this person. But Paul knew that excessive separation from even such an immoral person can result in psychological and spiritual damage if they have repented (v. 7).
2:12 A door was opened – God sometimes gives us opportunities to make a special witness for Him, and we must have the courage to take them.
2:14 This alludes to the Roman triumph, whereby the victorious soldiers marched through the streets in glory and with the burning of incense after defeating their enemy. The victory of Jesus on the cross should fill us with such a sense of victory and glory.

3:2 The fact Paul had converted the Corinthians was the basis upon which he had authority with them; he didn’t need any letter from any other authority figure.
which fades away was with glory, much more that which remains permanently is yet more glorious. Having therefore such a hope, we use great boldness of speech, and are not like Moses, who put a veil upon his face so the children of Israel could not gaze to see the outcome of that which was fading away. But their minds were hardened. For until this very day at the reading of the old covenant the same veil remains, it not being revealed to them that it is made redundant through Christ. But to this day, whenever Moses is read, a veil lies upon their heart. But whenever it shall turn to the Lord, the veil is taken away. Now the Lord is the Spirit and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

But we, with an unveiled face and reflecting the glory of the Lord, are all transformed into his likeness from glory to glory by the Lord the Spirit.

3:12 “Boldness” is a word often associated with the preaching of the Gospel in Acts. We who are naturally shy and not confident in witnessing to others can be inspired with boldness by the fact we have a sure hope. If we believe we shall live eternally in God’s Kingdom, we will find strength to share this good news with others (see 4:13).

3:13 The things of the Old Covenant (v. 14), the Law of Moses, were fading away (v. 11). They would finally finish with the destruction of the temple in AD70. This means we aren’t bound to keep the Law of Moses today – it has faded away.

3:18 When Moses spoke with the Angel, the glory on the Angel’s face became reflected onto Moses’ face, and he radiated it to others. If we are in a personal relationship with Jesus, His glory, His personality, will be reflected from our faces to others; and moreover, we will become like Him. His face will become ours. This is why we should regularly read the Gospels and meditate upon Jesus as a person; simply knowing Him will transform us.

4:4 It is darkness which blinds men’s eyes (1 Jn. 2:11), i.e. not walking according to the light of God’s word. There is only one God – not two. God (and not Satan) blinded Israel to the Gospel (Rom. 11:8); 2 Cor. 3:14 says that their minds were blinded or “hardened” (RV) as Pharaoh’s was. Whoever “the god of this world” is or was, God worked through it and is therefore greater than it. In Eph. 4:18 Paul specifically defined what he meant by “darkness”: “Having the understanding darkened... through the ignorance that is within them... the blindness of their heart” (AV). That opposition was the real adversary / Satan. Paul is likely quoting the phrase “the god of this world” from contemporary Jewish writings rather than actually believing such a ‘god’ existed.
age of God, should not dawn. 5 For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves as your servants for Jesus’ sake. 6 Seeing it is God that said: Light shall shine out of darkness, He shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. 7 But we have this treasure in earthly vessels, that the exceeding greatness of the power may be of God and not from ourselves. 8 We are afflicted in every way, yet not crushed; perplexed, yet not in despair; 9 pursued, yet not forsaken; struck down, yet not destroyed. 10 Always carrying about in the body the dying of Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our body. 11 For we who live are always being delivered to death for Jesus’ sake, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh. 12 So then death works in us, but life in you. 13 But having the same spirit of faith, according to what is written, I believed, and therefore did I speak; we also believe and on this basis we also speak. 14 Knowing that He that raised up the Lord Jesus, shall raise up us also with Jesus, and shall present us with you. 15 For all things are for your sakes, that the grace may be multiplied through many, causing thanksgiving to abound to the glory of God. 16 Therefore we do not give up, but though our outward man is decaying, yet our inward man is renewed day by day. 17 For our slight momentary affliction accomplishes for us an eternal weight of glory beyond comparison; 18 whilst meantime we do not look at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen. For the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal.

CHAPTER 5
Mar. 6 Sep. 5
Paul’s Longing for the Judgment Seat of Christ
For we know that if the tent that is our earthly home is dissolved, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens. 2 For indeed in this tent we groan, longing to be clothed with our dwelling from heaven inasmuch as we, having put it on, will not be found naked. 4 For indeed we that are in this tent do groan, being burdened. Not that we would be unclothed, but that we would be further clothed, that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. 5 Now He who has prepared us for this very thing is God, who also has given us the Spirit as a guarantee. 6 Being there-

4:5 Preaching can become a very proud exercise if we use it to project ourselves to others. The content of our message must be Jesus.
4:10 The principle of baptism is daily worked out in our lives; losing temporarily [dying] and yet sharing in the resurrection life of Jesus (Rom. 6:3-5).
5:3 Found naked – Those who will be rejected by Jesus at the final judgment will be “found naked” (Rev. 16:15) because they have not developed anything in God’s account. In a similar figure, Jesus tells us to store up treasure in Heaven with God by the way we live and think today (Mt. 6:20).
fore always of good courage and knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord 7 (for we walk by faith, not by sight), 8 yes, we are of good courage; and we would rather be absent from the body and at home with the Lord. 9 Therefore we make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to be pleasing to him. 10 For we must all be revealed before the judgment seat of Christ, that each one may receive the result of the things done in a bodily form, according to what he has done, whether it be good or bad.

Ambassadors for Christ

11 Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are revealed to God, and I hope that we are revealed also in your consciences. 12 We are not commending ourselves to you again, but giving you cause to boast about us, so that you may be able to answer those who boast about outward appearance and not about what is in the heart. 13 If we are out of our mind, it is for the sake of God; if we are in our right mind, it is for you. 14 For the love of Christ controls us, because we have judged that in that one has died for all, therefore all have died. 15 And he died for all, that they who live should no longer live for themselves, but for him who for their sakes died and rose again. 16 Therefore we, from this time forward, know no one after the flesh. Even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know him so no more. 17 Therefore if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old things are passed away, behold, all things have become new. 18 But all things are of God, who reconciled us to Himself through Christ and gave to us the ministry of reconciliation. 19 That is, that God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself, not counting their trespasses to them; and has committed to us the word of reconciliation. 20 Therefore, we are ambassadors on behalf of Christ, as though God were entreating the world by us. We beg you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. 21 He who knew no sin, he became a sin offering on our behalf, that we might become the righteousness of God in him.

5:9 At home or absent – Whether we are dead or alive at the return of the Lord Jesus. If we die, we will be unconscious until He returns; but effectively, our death will be His return for us, because the next conscious moment for us will be the resurrection and being with the Lord Jesus.

5:10 We will receive the result of how we lived our lives in a bodily form – either we will remain mortal and die “the second death”, or we will not be affected by the second death (Rev. 2:11) because we will be given an immortal body like Jesus now has. Note we will exist eternally in a bodily form; all existence spoken of in the Bible is bodily existence.

5:17 We are “in Christ” by baptism into Christ (Rom. 6:3-5), and thus become part of a new creation, of which Christ is the creator.

5:20 We are Christ’s representatives on earth, and so when people meet us, they meet Jesus. Our behaviour must be appropriate to this (6:3,4).
CHAPTER 6

And working together with him we entreat you not to receive the grace of God in vain. 2 For He said: In a time of acceptance I hearkened to you, and in a day of salvation did I succour you. Behold, now is the time of acceptance; behold, now is the day of salvation.

Paul’s Ministry Commended by God

3 We aim to give no reason for stumbling in anything, that our ministry is not blamed. 4 But in everything, commending ourselves as servants of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses, in stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings. 6 In pureness, in knowledge, in patience, in kindness, in the Holy Spirit, in sincere love, in the word of truth, in the power of God; by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left, by glory and dishonour, by evil report and good report. As deceivers and yet true, as unknown and yet well known, as dying and behold we live, as chastened and not killed, as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing, as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing and yet possessing all things. 11 Our mouth is open to you, O Corinthians, our heart is enlarged. 12 You are not restricted by us, but you are restricted in your own affections. 13 In return (I speak as to children) widen your hearts also.

Do Not be Unequally Yoked

14 Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers. For what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? Or what communion has light with darkness? 15 And what agreement has Christ with Belial? Or what portion has a believer with an unbeliever? 16 And what agreement has a temple of God with idols? For we are a temple of the living God, even as God said: I will dwell in them and walk in them, and I will be their God and they shall be My people. 17 Therefore come out from among them and be separate,
CHAPTER 7
Mar. 6 Sep. 5

Therefore beloved, having these promises, let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

Paul’s Sufferings
2 Open your hearts to us. We wronged no one, we corrupted no one, we took advantage of no one. 3 I say it not to condemn you. For as I have said before, you are in our hearts, to die together and live together. 4 Great is my confidence in you. Great is my boasting on your behalf. I am filled with comfort, in all our affliction I am overflowing with joy! 5 For even when we went into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side. Without were conflicts, within were fears. 6 Nevertheless God that comforts the lowly comforted us by the coming of Titus. 7 And not by his coming only, but also by the comfort with which he was comforted in you, while he told us of your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me. So that I rejoiced yet more.

Godly Sorrow
8 Even if I caused you sorrow by my letter, I do not regret it. Though I did regret it, for I see that that epistle made you sorry, though only for a time. 9 I now rejoice, not that you were made sorry, but that you were made sorry to repentance. For you were made sorry in a Godly way, that you might suffer harm from us in nothing. 10 For Godly sorrow works repentance to salvation, it brings no regret; but the sorrow of the world works death. 11 For observe this very thing: you sorrowed in a Godly manner, and what diligence it produced in you, what clearing of yourselves, what indignation, what fear, what vehement desire, what zeal, what vindication! In all things you proved yourselves to be pure in the matter. 12 So although I wrote to you, I wrote not for his cause that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong; but that your earnest care... for us might be revealed to you in the sight of God. 13 Therefore we have been comforted, and in our comfort we rejoiced still more at the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been refreshed by you all. 14 For whatever boasts I made to him about you, I was not put to shame. But just as everything we said to you was true, so also our boasting before Titus has proved true. 15 And his affection for you is even greater, as he remembers the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling you received him. 16 I rejoice that in everything I can have perfect confidence in you.

Mar. 7 Sep. 6

Generous Giving for the Poorer Believers

Moreover brothers, we make known to you the grace of God which has been given in the churches of Macedonia. 2 For in a severe test of affliction, their abundance of joy and their extreme poverty have overflowed in a wealth of generosity on their part. 3 For according to their power, I testify, yes and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord, 4 begging us earnestly to accept this grace as a token of their fellowship in this service to the saints. 5 And their giving was beyond our hope; for through the will of God, first they gave themselves to the Lord and to us. 6 So much so that we urged Titus that as he had started, so he should complete among you also this act of grace. 7 So as you abound in everything, in faith and speech and knowledge and in all earnestness and in your love to us, see that you excel in this grace also. 8 I speak not as direct commandment; but rather through showing you the earnestness of others I am probing the sincerity of your love. 9 For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor as a pauper, that you through his poverty might become rich. 10 And herein I give my judgment. For this is expedient for you, who were the first to make a beginning a year ago, not only to desire to give but to actually give. 11 But now complete the doing also. That as there was the willingness to want to give, so there may be the completion of the desire also, according to your ability. 12 For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable according to what a person has, not according to what he does not have. 13 For I do not say this so that others may be eased and you distressed. 14 But that as a matter of fairness, your abundance

7:13 If we are unselfish, then the joy of others becomes our joy. Joy is not only to be experienced in terms of things which make us personally joyful.

8:1, 2 The grace or loving kindness of God elicits generosity or ‘giving’ from us; for the Greek word translated “grace” means ‘gift’. We cannot be passive to the gift of saving grace.

8:12 In this way, a poor person can still be generous. If God’s grace motivates us to generosity but we simply don’t have the things we’d like to give to others, then our desire to give is still counted by Him as if we had done it.
at the present time should supply their need, so that their abundance may supply your need, that there may be an equality. 15 As it is written: He that gathered much did not have too much, and he that gathered little had no lack. 6 But thanks be to God, who put the same earnest care for you into the heart of Titus. 17 For he indeed accepted our appeal; but being very earnest, he went to you of his own accord. 18 And we have sent together with him the brother whose praise in the gospel is spread through all the churches. 19 And not only this but he is the one who was appointed by the churches to travel with us in this act of grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the Lord and to show our own willingness to help. 20 This was to avoid being blamed by anyone in this matter of charity which is ministered by us. 21 For we take care to do things honourably, not only in the sight of the Lord but also in the sight of men. 22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things; but now, much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence which he has in you. 23 Whether any inquire about Titus, he is my partner and my fellow-worker toward you; or our brothers, they are the messengers of the churches, they are the glory of Christ. 24 Therefore show them in the presence of the churches the proof of your love and of our boasting on your behalf.

CHAPTER 9

An Appeal for Generous Giving

For concerning the service to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you. 2 For I know your readiness, of which I boast on your behalf to those in Macedonia, that Achaia has been prepared for the past year; and your zeal has stirred up very many of them. 3 But I have sent the brothers, that our boasting on your behalf may not be made void in this respect. That, even as I said: You may be prepared. 4 Lest by any means, if there come with me some Macedonians and find you unprepared, we (not to mention you) would be embarrassed for my being so confident of your generosity. 5 So I thought it necessary to urge the brothers to go on ahead to you, and arrange in advance for the gift you have promised, so that it may be ready as a willing 8:15 This quotation from the Old Testament implies some Israelites gathered more manna each day than others who were maybe weak or old. But those who gathered more shared their excess with those who couldn’t gather enough.

8:16 God puts things such as the needs of others into our hearts, and we must follow His leading.

8:23 Christ glories in those who do His work of caring for others; He has such a positive view of His servants.

9:2 Zeal and enthusiasm to be generous are contagious; but generosity and care for others mustn’t be mere words, as it was with the Corinthians and as it so often is in conversations between believers; there must be concrete action (v. 3).
9:6 Reaping the results of our generosity will come at the harvest, which is the return of Christ (Mt. 13:30). We can be generous with things other than money.

9:7 Giving to others, of anything (not only money), should be done with joy and not because we feel we have to, or it’s expected of us; it should be the result of a conscious decision which we privately take.

9:8 If we truly desire to be generous, then God will give us what is required to be generous with – He will give us yet more seed to sow, so that the harvest from it (both in terms of praise to Him from the recipients and of glory we will receive in the Kingdom) will be greater (vv. 10-12). Jesus taught the same in Lk. 11:5-7 – we will be given whatever we ask, if we ask for it in order to give to others that which they truly need but we truly don’t have.

10:5 The essence of Christianity is to be spiritually minded, to bring all our thoughts under control.

day, not, as it were, as an extortion.
6 But this I say: He that sows sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that sows bountifully shall reap also bountifully. 7 Let each man do according to what he intends in his heart. Not grudgingly, or of necessity; for God loves a cheerful giver. 8 And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that you, having always all sufficiency in everything, may abound to every good work.
9 As it is written: He has scattered abroad, He has given to the poor. His righteousness abides for ever. 10 And He that supplies seed to the sower and bread for food shall supply and multiply your seed for sowing, and increase the fruits of your righteousness. 11 You will be enriched in every way for all your generosity, which through us will produce thanksgiving to God. 12 For the administration of this charity not only provides for the wants of the saints, but abounds also through many thanksgivings to God. 13 By their approval of this service they glorify God for your loyalty which you confess to the gospel of Christ, and for the generosity of your contribution to them and to all. 14 While they also, with prayers on your behalf, long after you by reason of the exceeding grace of God in you. 15 Thanks be to God for His unspeakable gift.

CHAPTER 10
Mar. 8 Sep. 7
Paul Threatens the Corinthians with Divine Authority

Now I Paul, I myself urge you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, I who in your presence am lowly among you but being absent am bold toward you: 2 I beg you now, so that when I am present I may not be bold with that confidence by which I intend to be bold against some, who think of us as if we walked according to the flesh. 3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not fight in a fleshly way 4 (for the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh but mighty before God to the casting down of strongholds), 5 casting down imaginations and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ. 6 And being in readiness to avenge...
10:7 So also are we – Whatever we know of our own experience of Christ, not least His gracious love, presence and forgiveness of us, we should recognize is also experienced by our brethren in Christ with whom we may have differences.

10:8 Authority, be it in a church, over children, in a marriage, in the workplace, is a gift from God to be used positively to build others up, to serve others with, rather than for our own glorification and negative destruction of others thereby.

10:10 Paul may have had some physical weakness or deformity which made him unattractive (10:1; 11:6) – a “thorn in the flesh” (12:7). God delights to use those with weakness to do His work, and Paul was a great example of this.

10:12 We tend to spiritually compare ourselves against other people and conclude that we’re not bad. But the standard of comparison must be with Jesus. He was of our nature, our representative, so that we can realistically do this.

10:16 So that...– If Paul’s converts at Corinth grew spiritually, then he felt he would be used to take the Gospel to other new areas. Their immaturity was therefore an obstacle to the spreading of the Gospel and the salvation of others.
to one husband, that is, that I might present you a pure virgin to Christ. 3 But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve with his craftiness, your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ. 4 For if he that comes preaches another Jesus, whom we did not preach, or you receive a different spirit, which you did not receive, or a different gospel, which you did not accept- it seems you think you do well to go along with him. 5 But I reckon that I am not in the least inferior to these so called super apostles. 6 Although rude in speech, I am not in knowledge. No, in every way have we made this manifest to you in all things. 7 Or did I commit a sin in abasing myself so you might be exalted, because I preached to you the gospel of God for nothing? 8 I robbed other churches by accepting support from them in order to serve you.

9 And when I was present with you and was in want, I was not a burden on anyone. For the brothers, when they came from Macedonia, supplied all my needs; indeed in everything I kept myself from being burdensome to you, and so will I remain. 10 As the truth of Christ is in me, no one shall stop me boasting about this throughout the regions of Achaia. 11 And why? Because I do not love you? God knows, I do! 12 But what I do, that I will continue to do, so I may not provide an opportunity to those that desire such an opportunity, and so that their boasting will be shown to be not the same as ours. 13 For such men are false apostles, deceitful workers, fashioning themselves into apostles of Christ. 14 And no marvel. For even Satan fashions himself into an angel of light. 15 It is no great thing therefore if his servants also fashion themselves as servants of righteousness, whose end shall be according to their works.

Paul Lists His Sufferings

16 I say again, let no one think me foolish; but if you do, accept me as a fool so that I may also boast a little. 17 What I will now speak in this confidence of boasting, I speak not after the Lord but as in foolishness. 18 Seeing that many boast after the flesh, I will boast also. 19 For being wise, you bear with the foolish gladly. 20 For it seems you follow a man if he brings you into bondage, if he devours you, if he takes you captive, if he exalts himself, if he hits you on the face. 21 To my shame, I can say, we were too weak to do that. Yet wherein any is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also. 22 Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? So am I. 23 Are they servants of Christ? (I speak as like a madman) I more, with far greater labours, far more imprisonments, with countless beatings, and often near death. 24 Of the Jews five times I received thirty nines lashes. 25 Three times I was beaten with rods, once was I stoned, three times I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day have I been adrift at sea. 26 On frequent journeys, in danger from rivers, in danger from robbers, in danger from my own people, in danger from Gentiles, in danger in the city, in danger in the wilderness, in danger at sea, in danger from false brothers; 27 in toil and hardship, in many a sleepless night, in hunger and thirst, in frequent fastings, in cold and nakedness. 28 Besides those things that are without, there is the daily pressure of my anxiety for all the churches. 29 Who is weak, without me being weak? Who is made to fall, and I am not indignant? 30 If it is necessary for me to boast, I will boast of the things that concern my weakness. 31 The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, He who is blessed for always, knows that I do not lie to you. 32 In Damascus, the governor, under Are- tas the king, guarded the city of the Damascenes in order to capture me. 33 And only through a window I was let down in a basket by the wall and escaped his hands.
CHAPTER 12  Mar. 9  Sep. 8
Paul Speaks of the Great Revelations Given to Him

I must go on boasting (though there is nothing to be gained by it). I will go on to visions and revelations of the Lord. 2 I knew a man in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I do not know, or whether out of the body, I do not know; God knows), such a person was caught up to the third heaven. 3 And I knew such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I do not know; God knows), 4 how he was caught up into Paradise and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. 5 On behalf of such a one will I boast, but on my own behalf I will not boast, save in my weaknesses. 6 For if I wanted to boast, I would not be foolish, for I would be speaking the truth. But I will not boast, lest anyone should account me above that which he saw me to be, or hears from me. 7 By reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations, that I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan, to harass me, that I should not be exalted too much. 8 Concerning this thing I pleaded with the Lord three times that it might depart from me. 9 And he said to me: My grace is sufficient for you. For my power is made perfect in weakness. Therefore most gladly will I rather boast in my 12:2 Paul speaks of himself as a “man in Christ”; he had the ability to see himself from outside of himself.

12:2 The third heaven – ‘Heavens and earth’ is sometimes used in the Bible to mean ‘a system of things’. The first ‘heaven’ was the Mosaic system; we are now in the heavenly places of Christ (Eph. 1:3 2:6); the third heaven may therefore refer to the Kingdom age after Christ has returned. Paul was given a special vision of the Kingdom – “paradise” (v. 4), the Kingdom of God on earth when the original state in the garden of Eden will be restored.
12:6 If people have too high an opinion of us, we should inform them of our weakness, as Paul did.
12:7 Thorn in the flesh – This could refer to a physical weakness in Paul, maybe a speech impediment (10:1,10; 11:6). Or the reference to “flesh” could suggest a moral weakness in Paul – worldly women were ‘thorns’ to God’s people in the past (Num. 33:55; Josh. 23:13). The ‘satan’ / adversary to Paul’s work which was associated with his “thorn in the flesh” was however clearly the Jewish opposition to him, involving a group of false teachers following him around trying to get his converts to turn against him and return to the Jewish system.
12:8 This recalls the triple prayer of Jesus in Gethsemane that the cup of suffering would pass from Him.
12:9 There are things we too repeatedly ask God for, convinced that our service of Him will be enhanced if He hears our prayer. But the answer is the same for us as it was for Paul – the fact we have His grace and acceptance should mean that we ultimately lack nothing (Ps. 23:1; 34:10). The other part of the answer is that God loves to work through the broken, the small, those who think they aren’t good enough or smart enough.
weaknesses, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. 10 Therefore I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, for Christ’s sake. For when I am weak, then am I strong.

The Motives for Paul’s Planned Visit to Corinth
11 I have become foolish. You compelled me. For I ought to have been commended by you. For in nothing was I behind the super apostles, though I am nothing. 12 Truly the signs of an apostle were done among you in all patience, by signs and wonders and mighty works. 13 For in what way were you made inferior to the other churches, except that I was not a burden to you? Forgive me this wrong. 14 Behold, this is the third time I have been ready to come to you, and I will not be a burden to you. For I do not seek your things, but you. For the children ought not to save up for the parents, but the parents for the children. 15 And I will most gladly spend and be spent for your souls. If I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less by you because of this? 16 But granting that I myself did not burden you, you say I was crafty, and got the better of you by deceit. 17 But did I really take advantage of you by any one of them whom I have sent to you?
18 I urged Titus to go and I sent the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? Did we not act in the same spirit? Did we not take the same steps? 19 You think all this time that we are excusing ourselves to you. But in the sight of God we speak in Christ. All things, beloved, are for your upbuilding. 20 For I fear, lest by any means, when I come, I should find you not as I would wish, and should myself be found by you such as you would not wish. Lest by any means there should be quarreling, jealousy, anger, hostility, slander, gossip, conceit, and disorder. 21 I fear that when I come again my God may humble me before you, and I may have to mourn over many of those who sinned earlier and have not repented of the impurity, sexual immorality and sensuality that they have practiced.

Paul’s Final Appeal
This is the third time I am coming to you. At the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established. 2 I warned those who sinned before and all the others, and I warn them now while absent, as I did when present on my second visit, that if I come again I 12:14 Paul saw his converts as his spiritual children. We can go through all the same emotions if we bring others to Christ.

12:15 Love that is unresponded to is one of the hardest human experiences. But it is what God and Jesus go through more than any; for the more we love and are prepared to love, the harder is the rejection.
12:21 I may have to mourn – He means, he may have to discipline them. But such discipline was motivated by true sadness.
will not spare them-  ³ seeing you seek proof that Christ speaks in me (who toward you is not weak but is powerful in you).  ⁴ For he was crucified through weakness, yet he lives through the power of God. For we also are weak in him; but we shall live with him through the power of God toward you.  ⁵ Examine yourselves, to see whether you are in the faith. Test yourselves. Or do you not realize this about yourselves, that Jesus Christ is in you? Unless indeed you fail to meet the test!  ⁶ But I hope you shall know that we have not failed the test.  ⁷ Now we pray to God that you do no evil. Not so we may appear to have met the test, but so you may do what is right, though we may seem to have failed.  ⁸ For we can do nothing against the truth but only for the truth.  ⁹ For we rejoice, when we are weak and you are strong. This we also pray for, even your perfecting.  ¹⁰ For this cause I write these things while absent, that I may not when present with you deal sharply with you, according to the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for casting down.  ¹¹ Finally, brothers, farewell. Be perfected. Be comforted. Be of the same mind. Live in peace, and the God of love and peace shall be with you.  ¹² Greet one another with a holy kiss.  ¹³ All the saints greet you. ¹³ The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ and the love of God and the communion of the Holy Spirit be with you all.

13:4 Christ’s death, His willing weakness, was the model followed in handling the difficult Corinthians; and the cross becomes the pattern for us in our side of handling difficult relationships.

13:5 We also should be able to examine ourselves and see whether Christ is in us or not. Serious self-examination is a distinct feature of the Christian life.

13:7 Seem to have failed – Paul wasn’t concerned with his image, with appearing a failure in the eyes of men [such fear of public failure obsesses many people]. What he wanted was for them to grow in Christ and please Him, even if they temporarily rejected Paul.

13:8 This wonderful principle means that we should not worry unduly if our technique is successful or not; for if we are truly motivated, we cannot damage the Truth by our genuine efforts to serve. It is the one talent man who did nothing, through fear of failure, who was condemned – not those who somehow did at least something (Mt. 25:25).
Paul, an apostle (not from men, nor through man, but through Jesus Christ and God the Father, who raised him from the dead), and all the brothers that are with me, to the churches of Galatia. Grace to you and peace from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us out of this present evil world, according to the will of our God and Father. To whom be the glory for ever and ever. Amen. I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting him who called you to the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel. Not that there is another one; but there are some who trouble you, and want to distort the gospel of Christ. But though we, or an angel from heaven, should preach to you any gospel other than that which we preached to you, let him be accursed. As we have said before, so I now say again: If anyone preaches to you any gospel other than that which you received, let him be accursed. For am I now seeking the favour of men or of God? Or am I striving to please men? If I were still pleasing men, I should not be a servant of Christ.

Paul Recounts His Conversion

For, brothers, I make known to you, as regards the gospel which was preached by me, that it is not from man. For neither did I receive it from man, nor was I taught it, but I received it through direct revelation from Jesus Christ. For you have heard of my manner of life in time past in the Jews’ religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God and made havoc of it. And I advanced in the Jews’ religion beyond many of my own age among my fellow countrymen, being even more exceedingly zealous for the traditions of my fathers. But when it was the good pleasure of God, who separated me from my mother’s womb, and called me through His grace, to reveal His Son in me, that I might preach him among the Gentiles- immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood, but according to the revelation and with the power of God.

1:6,7 A teaching which appears to make mention of Jesus isn’t therefore harmless; a ‘distortion’ of the Gospel (v. 7) is another Gospel (v. 6), which can lead to condemnation (v. 9). Correct understanding of the Gospel is so important (1 Cor. 15:2).

1:8 An angel – This is hyperbole; Paul means ‘even if even an Angel was to teach something else...’. But Angels in fact do not sin; for our reward is to live eternally like them (Lk. 20:35,36). Sin brings death (Rom. 6:23), and so Angels can’t sin, seeing they are eternal.

1:10 Any preaching of Christ will lead to opposition from men, and we have to simply accept this fact.

1:16 Paul emphasizes that he was never one to be “in with the in crowd”; he was a loner, who preached Christ according to his totally personal experience of Him, not because any man had sent him to preach. We should be the same.
17 nor did I go to Jerusalem to those that were apostles ahead of me; but I went away into Arabia, and returned to Damascus. 18 Then after three years I went to Jerusalem to visit Cephas and stayed with him fifteen days. 19 But none of the other apostles did I see, except James, the Lord’s brother. 20 In what I am writing to you, before God, I do not lie! 21 Then I came to the regions of Syria and Cilicia, 22 but I was still unknown by face to the churches of Judea which were in Christ. 23 They only heard say: He that once persecuted us now preaches the faith of which he once made havoc! 24 And they glorified God in me.

CHAPTER 2
APR. 2 OCT. 2
Paul’s Argument with Peter

Then after the space of fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, also taking Titus with me. 2 And I went up there by revelation, and I laid before them the gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but privately before them who were of repute, lest by any means I should be running, or had run, in vain. 3 But not even Titus who was with me, being a Gentile, was compelled to be circumcised. 4 In view of the false brothers unknowingly brought in, who came in secretly to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus that they might bring us into bondage, 5 we did not yield to them in submission even for a moment, so that the truth of the gospel might be preserved for you. 6 But from those who were reputed to be somewhat (whatever they were, it makes no matter to me, God does not accept man’s person) they, I say, who were of repute added nothing to me. 7 But on the contrary, when they saw that I had been entrusted with the gospel of the uncircumcision, even as Peter with the Gospel to the circumcision 8 (for he that worked through Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, worked through me also to the Gentiles); 9 and when they perceived the grace that was given to me, then James, Cephas and John, they who were reputed to be pillars, gave to me and Barnabas the right hand of fellowship, that we should go to the Gentiles and they to the circumcision. 10 Only they asked us to remember the poor, which very... thing I was also zealous to do. 11 But when Cephas came to Antioch, I opposed him to his face, because he stood condemned. 12 For before that certain men came from James, he would eat with the Gentiles; but when they came, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing those who were of the circumcision. 13 And the rest of the Jews acted hypocritically along with him, so that even Barnabas was led astray by their hypocrisy. 14 But when I saw that they did not walk straightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said to Cephas before all: If you, being a Jew, live as do the Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why do you compel the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?

Justification by Faith not Law

15 We being Jews by nature and not sinners of the Gentiles, 16 yet knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but through faith in Jesus Christ, even we believed in Christ Jesus, that we might be justified by faith in Christ and not by the works of the law. Because by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. 17 But if, while we seek to be made righteous in Christ, we ourselves also are found sinners, is Christ then a servant of sin? God forbid! 18 For if I build up again those things which I destroyed, I prove myself a transgressor. 19 For I through the law died to the law, that I might live to God. 20 I have been crucified with Christ, and it is no longer I that live but Christ living in me; and that life which I now live in the flesh I live in faith, the faith which is in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself up for me. 21 I do not make void the grace of God. For if righteousness is through the law, then Christ died for nothing!

CHAPTER 3

The Error of the Galatians

O foolish Galatians! Who has bewitched you? It was before your own eyes that Jesus Christ was openly

2:11-13 Although there has to be pragmatic decision making at times (v. 9 note), we must be careful not to let God’s principles be broken. It must’ve been hard for Paul to directly confront Peter about his hypocrisy, but he did so because an important principle was at stake. Peter would break bread privately with Gentile believers, but not when some Jewish brothers came to visit. Paul saw this as seriously wrong; we should unashamedly break bread with our brothers and sisters in Christ, whatever political pressure may be exerted; and whatever the consequences. To do otherwise is to not walk according to the Gospel (v. 14). If a spiritual giant like Peter could fail in this matter, we must recognize it will be a temptation for the rest of us.

2:20 Crucified with Christ – Maybe a reference to the fact Paul had been baptized into the death of Christ, with the result that the resurrection life of Jesus is now revealed in our lives (Rom. 6:3-5).

2:20 Loved me and gave Himself up for me – We can each say and feel these words.

3:1 When Paul had preached the Gospel to the Galatians, he had been an incarnation of Christ crucified. People should see in us, in our sufferings and ‘weakness’, something of the crucified Christ in His time of dying.
ly displayed as crucified. 2 Let me ask you only this: Did you receive the Spirit by doing works of the law, or by hearing with faith? 3 Are you so foolish? Having begun in the Spirit, are you now perfected in the flesh?

4 Did you suffer so many things in vain? If it be indeed in vain. 5 Does he that supplies to you the Spirit and works miracles among you, do it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith? 6 Even as Abraham believed God, and that faith was imputed to him for righteousness.

7 Know that they that are of faith, the same are sons of Abraham. 8 And the scripture, foreseeing that God would make the Gentiles righteous by faith, preached the gospel beforehand to Abraham, when it says: In you shall all the nations be blessed. 9 So then, they that are of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham. 10 For as many as are of the works of the law are under a curse. For it is written: Cursed is everyone that does not continue to do all things that are written in the book of the law. 11 Now it is evident that no one is justified by the law before God! For, The righteous shall live by faith. 12 And the law is not of faith, but: He that does the commandments shall live in them. 13 Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us. For it is written: Cursed is everyone that hangs on a tree. 14 This was so that upon the Gentiles might come the blessing of Abraham in Christ Jesus, so that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

The Promises to Abraham Were the Christian Gospel

15 Brothers, I speak in human terms. Though it be but a man’s covenant, yet when it has been confirmed, no one makes it void, or adds thereto.

16 Now to Abraham were the promises spoken, and to his seed. He did not say: And to seeds, in the plural, but in the singular: And to your seed, who is Christ! 17 This is what I mean; the law which came 430 years afterward, does not annul a covenant previously ratified by God, so as to make the promise of no effect. 18 For if the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise! But God has granted it to Abraham by promise. 19 For what, then, was the law? It was added because of transgressions, until the seed should come to whom the promise had been made. The law was

3:6 Imputed – God counted Abraham as totally righteous because Abraham believed in God and in his promised future descendant, Jesus. Abraham lived before the Law of Moses, and so he wasn’t counted as righteous because of his obedience to Law but by faith in the [future] Christ who was to come.

3:8 In the promises to Abraham, we see the basic elements of the Gospel. Abraham was promised that he would inherit the land for ever; God would be his personal God; that he would have one special descendant who would bring blessing [forgiveness – Acts 3:27,28] upon people from all nations; and that this one special son [Jesus – v. 16] would become many people who would also eternally inherit the land. This is fulfilled by people being baptized into Christ and being counted as “in” Him (vv. 27-29).
The purpose of the Law of Moses was to convict God’s people of sin, and to understand their salvation in terms of the great future offering of God’s own Son, which it pointed forward to. Once Christ came, there was no need to keep the Law of Moses.

3:27 As many of you – Implying only as many as have been baptized into Christ are “in Christ” and heirs of the things promised to Abraham. These included eternal possession of the earth and the blessing of forgiveness from sin through Christ, Abraham’s great descendant. Thus through baptism we become the spiritual children of Abraham, “the Israel of God” (Gal. 6:16), members of the new ‘community of Israel’ (Eph. 2:12).

4:4 If Jesus was “born [Greek: ‘made’] of a woman”, He therefore didn’t physically exist before His birth of Mary.

4:6 Abba – The Aramaic word for “daddy”. This is how close we can come to God Almighty.
you turn back again to the weak and worthless elementary principles of the world, whose slaves you want to be once more? 10 You observe days and months and seasons and years. 11 I am afraid I may have laboured over you in vain.

Paul’s Personal Appeal
12 Brothers, I urge you to become as I am, for I also have become as you. You did me no wrong. 13 You know it was because of a bodily ailment that I preached the gospel to you at first, 14 and though my condition was a trial to you, you did not scorn or despise me, but received me as a messenger of God, as Christ Jesus. 15 Where then is that satisfaction you felt? For I testify, that if possible, you would have plucked out your eyes and given them to me. 16 So then have I become your enemy, by telling you the truth? 17 They zealously seek you for no good purpose. On the other hand, they desire to exclude you—so you might go running after them. 18 But it is good to be zealous in a good matter at all times, and not only when I am present with you. 19 My little children, of whom I am again in the pains of childbirth until Christ be formed in you: 20 I so wish I could be present with you now and change my tone, for I am in doubt about you.

The Allegory of Abraham’s Two Sons
21 Tell me, you that want to be under the law, do you not hear the law? 22 For it is written that Abraham had two sons. One by the handmaid, and one by the freewoman. 23 However the son by the handmaid was born after the flesh, but the son by the freewoman was born through the promise. 24 Such things contain an allegory. For these women are two covenants. One from mount Sinai, bearing children to bondage, which is Hagar. 25 Now this Hagar represents mount Sinai in Arabia, she corresponds to the Jerusalem that now is; for she is in bondage with her children. 26 But the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother. 27 For it is written: Rejoice, O barren one who did not bear; break forth and cry aloud, you who were not in labour! For the children of the desolate woman will be more than those of the one who has a husband. 28 Brothers: We, as Isaac was, are children of 4:10, 11 If we are justified by keeping the Law of Moses, then the work of the Gospel is in vain for us.

4:13 God often uses our weakness as an opportunity for preaching the Gospel—this may be a reference to Paul’s “thorn in the flesh” (2 Cor. 12:7), which Paul asked three times to be taken from him. But in fact God used this weakness in order for the Gospel to spread.
4:19 Pains of childbirth—Paul took such responsibility for the people he preached to. We are “born again” by baptism and response to the Gospel (Jn. 3:3-5; 1 Pet. 1:23); but it can happen as with the Galatians that people go so far away from the Gospel that they have to go through the birth process again.
promise. 29 But as then, he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, so also it is now. 30 However, what does the scripture say? Cast out the handmaid and her son, for the son of the handmaid shall not inherit with the son of the freewoman. 31 Therefore brothers, we are not children of the handmaid but of the freewoman.

CHAPTER 5
Apr. 4 Oct. 4

Freedom in Christ

For freedom did Christ set us free. Therefore, stand fast and do not get entangled again in a yoke of bondage. 2 Behold, I Paul say to you: If you receive circumcision, Christ will profit you nothing! 3 Yes, I testify again to every man that receives circumcision, that he is a debtor to do the whole law. 4 You are severed from Christ if you would be justified by the law! You are fallen away from grace. 5 For through the Spirit, by faith, we ourselves eagerly wait for the hope of righteousness. 6 For in Christ Jesus, neither circumcision nor uncircumcision means anything, but faith working through love. 7 You were running well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? 8 This persuasion came not from him that calls you. 9 A little leaven leavens the whole lump. 10 I have confidence in the Lord that you will take no other view than mine, and the one who is troubling you will bear the penalty, whoever he is. 11 But I, brothers, if I still preach circumcision, why am I still persecuted? Then has the stumbling-block of the cross been done away. 12 I would that they that unsettle you would even go beyond circumcision and emasculate themselves.

The Fruits of the Spirit and the Works of the Flesh

13 For you, brothers, were called for freedom. Only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another. 14 For the whole law is fulfilled in one word, in this: You shall love your neighbour as yourself. 15 But if you bite and devour one another, take care that you are not consumed by one another. 16 But I say, walk by the Spirit and you shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. 17 For the flesh lusts against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh. For these are contrary to each other. You may not do the things you would like to! 18 But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. 19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these- fornication, uncleanness, sensuality, idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousies, wraths, factions, divisions, parties, envyings, drunkenness, revellings and such like. Of which I forewarn you now, even as I did previously forewarn you, that they who practise such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. 22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, self-control. Against such there is no law. 24 And they that are of Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with the passions and the lusts of it. 25 If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk in step with the Spirit. 26 Let us not become vainglorious, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER 6

Keep on Keeping on

Brothers, even if a man is caught in any sin, you who are spiritual, restore such a one in a spirit of gentleness, looking to yourself, lest you also be tempted. 2 Carry one another’s burdens and so fulfil the law of Christ. 3 For if a man thinks himself to be something when he is nothing, he deceives himself. 4 But let each man test his own work, and then shall he have his boasting in regard to himself alone, and not of his neighbour. 5 For each man shall carry his own burden. 6 One who is taught the word must share all good things with the one who teaches. 7 Be not deceived. God is not mocked. For whatever a man sows, that shall he also reap. 8 For he that sows to his own flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption. But he that sows to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap eternal life. 9 And let us... not be weary in doing well. For in due season we shall reap, if we do not give up. 10 So then, as we have opportunity, let us work that which is good toward all men, and especially toward those that are in the family of the faith.

A Final Appeal
11 See with what large letters I am writing to you with my own hand. 12 It is those who want to make a good showing in the flesh who would force you to be circumcised, and only in order that they may not be persecuted for the cross of Christ. 13 For not even they who receive circumcision do themselves fully keep the law, but they desire to have you circumcised so they can boast about you. 14 But far be it for me to boast, except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world. 15 For neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything. What counts is being a new creation. 16 And as for all who walk by this rule, peace and mercy be upon them, and upon the Israel of God. 17 From now on let no one cause me further trouble. For I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus. 18 Brothers, may the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

6:11 What large letters – Perhaps Paul’s “thorn in the flesh” (2 Cor. 12:7) was poor eyesight – hence Gal. 4:15.
6:12 Judaism was a legally recognized religion in the Roman world. If the new Christians joined or rejoined the synagogues, they would be spared persecution. This is why Gentile Christians in Galatia were being tempted to join Judaism.
6:14 Are we proud of the cross, as Paul was?
6:17 The marks – An allusion to how slaves were branded with the sign of their owners. It should be visible to others that we are slaves of Jesus.
We are “in Christ” by baptism into Him (Rom. 6:3-5). He is now in Heaven, and so we are in a spiritual sense ‘in the heavens’ (Eph. 2:6). This situation has been brought about by Christ, and so we could say that He is the creator of a “new creation” (2 Cor. 5:17), of heavenly places for us. This theme of Paul’s has been misunderstood badly by those who mistakenly believe that we go to Heaven on death (rather are we unconscious until Jesus returns and then we will be resurrected); or that Jesus created the literal Heavens (God did, not Jesus).

We didn’t physically exist before the foundation of the world; neither did Jesus. Both He and us existed in God’s purpose and plan.

Paul writes this about many people. For it to be true, he would have spent much of his available time in prayer for various brothers and sisters throughout the Mediterranean world. How long do we spend in prayer for others each day?
Father of glory, may give to you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him; so that you may have the eyes of your mind enlightened, that you may appreciate what is the hope of His calling, what the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints, and what the exceeding greatness of His power toward us who believe, according to that working of the strength of His might which He wrought in Christ, when He raised him from the dead and had him sit at His right hand in heaven, far above all rule and authority and power and dominion and every name that is named, not only in this world but also in that which is to come. And He put all things in subjection under his feet, and gave him to us to be head over all things in the church, which is his body, the fullness of him that fills all in all.

CHAPTER 2 Apr. 5 Oct. 5

The Meaning of Conversion

You once were dead in the trespasses and sins in which you once walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the powers of the air, according to the spirit that now works in the sons of disobedience. Among whom we also all once lived in the lust of our flesh, doing the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by our natural condition destined to be children of God’s wrath, even as the others. But God, being rich in mercy, for the sake of His great love with which He loved us, even when we were dead through our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ (by grace have you been saved!), and raised us up with him; and in Christ Jesus, has made us sit with him in the heavens. His intention was that throughout the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus.

For by grace have you been saved through faith, and that faith is not of yourselves, it is a gift from God. It is not of works, that no one should boast. For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God beforehand prepared that we should walk in them.

Unity Created Between Jew and Gentile

Wherefore remember, that once you, the Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by those called Circumcision (which is in the flesh and made with hands), 12 you were at that time separate from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel and strangers from the covenants of the promise, having no hope and living without God in the world. 13 But now in Christ Jesus you that once were far off are made near by the blood of Christ.

For he himself is our peace, who has made us one and has broken down in his flesh the dividing wall of hostility, 15 having abolished in the flesh the enmity, the law of commandments contained in ordinances, that he might create in himself of the two one new man, making peace; 16 and might reconcile them both in one body to God through the cross, thereby having slain the enmity. 17 And he came and preached peace to you that were far off, and peace to them that were near. 18 For through him we have our joint access in one Spirit to the Father. 19 So then you are no longer strangers and pilgrims, but you are fellow-citizens with the saints and of the household of God, being built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the chief cornerstone. 21 In whom the whole building, being fitted together, grows into a holy temple in the Lord. 22 In whom you also are being built together for a dwelling place of God in the Spirit.

CHAPTER 3

For this cause, I Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus on behalf of you Gentiles, 2 if indeed you have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God which was given to me for you, 3 as I wrote before in few words: How by revelation was the mystery made known to me, 4 whereby, as you read, you can perceive my understanding in the mystery of Christ.

This in other generations was not made known to the sons of men, as it has now been revealed to his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit: 6 That the Gentiles are fellow-heirs and fellow-members of the body and fellow-partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel, 7 of which I was made a servant, according to the gift of that grace of God which was given me according to the

2:12 This verse is proof enough there can be no salvation in any religious system that excludes Jesus. To be without Him is to be “without God”, because He is the only way to relationship with God (Jn. 14:6). We also learn here of the vital importance of the covenant or promise which God made with the Jewish fathers – for the Gospel was preached to Abraham in the form of the promises made to Him about Jesus and the future Kingdom of God on earth (Gal. 3:8).

2:15 If Jesus has removed the “law of commandments contained in ordinances”, then we really are free from keeping the Law of Moses. The reference to “commandments... ordinances” may refer to the ten commandments, which included the Sabbath. We are totally under the teaching of Christ.
working of His power. 8 To me, who am less than the least of all saints, was this grace given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, 9 and to make all men see what is the intention of this mystery which for ages has been hid in God who created all things. 10 The intention was that through the church the manifold wisdom of God might now be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly places, 11 according to the eternal purpose which God purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord. 12 In whom we have boldness and access in confidence through our faith in him. 13 Therefore I ask that you do not lose heart at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

Paul’s Further Prayer for the Ephesians
14 For this cause I bow my knees to the Father, 15 from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, 16 that He would grant you, according to the riches of His glory, that you may be strengthened with power through His Spirit in the inner man. 17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith, to the end that you would be rooted and grounded in love, 18 that you might be able to comprehend with all the saints what is the width and length and depth and height, 19 and to truly know and understand the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God. 20 Now to Him that is able to do immeasurably above all that we ask or think, according to the power that works in us, 21 to Him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus to all generations for ever and ever. Amen.

CHAPTER 4

The Basis for Christian Unity

I therefore, the prisoner in the Lord, urge you to walk worthily of the calling with which you were called, 2 with all lowliness and meekness, with patience making allowance for each other in love; 3 giving diligence to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. 4 There is one body and one Spirit, even as also you were called in the one hope of your calling. 5 One Lord, one faith, one baptism, 6 one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all.

The Gifts of God
7 But to each one of us was the grace given, according to the measure of the gift of Christ. 8 Wherefore He says: When he ascended on high, he led captivity captive and gave gifts to men. 9 (Now this, He ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth? 10 He that descended is the same also that ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things). 11 And he gave some to be apostles, and some prophets, and some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers. 12 For the perfecting of the saints, to the work of holy service, to the building up of the body of Christ, 13 until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God to a full grown man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ. 14 That we may no longer be like children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine devised by the trickery, craftiness and deceitful scheming of men. 15 But speaking the truth in love, we may grow up in all things into him, who is the head-Christ! 16 By him all the parts of the body fit and are knit together, with every joint supplying something according to its unique purpose, thus making the body grow as it builds up itself in love.

The New Life
17 Therefore, this I say and testify in the Lord: You are to no longer walk as the Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind, 18 being darkened in their understanding, alienated from and we find spiritual freedom from their burden by perceiving ourselves as slaves of Christ.

4:5 One faith – One set of beliefs which comprise the true Gospel.
4:6 The one and only God is clearly distinguished from the one Lord Jesus (v. 5).
4:13 Until – It could be argued that the miraculous gifts of the Spirit were given until the early church had come to maturity and the New Testament had been written.
4:16 Builds up itself – The body of Christ edifies itself because of what each member of the body supplies to the whole. This is why pushing off on our own is damaging both to ourselves and to the rest of the body. We need fellowship with others; they do have something to give us, and we have something to give them. This is why division within the body of Christ is such a serious sin.
4:17 Notice the emphasis in this section upon the internal state of our thinking; this is the essence of Christianity. The world has a “vain” mind, spiritually empty. They live a corrupt “manner of life” because they are deceived by their own desires (v. 22); whereas we are to have a new mind (v. 22).
the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardening of their heart. 19 Who being past feeling gave themselves up to sensuality, to work all uncleanness with greediness. 20 But that is not the way you learned Christ! 21 Assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus. 22 Those things belonged to your former manner of life, which was corrupt through deceitful desires. 23 But you, being renewed in the spirit of your mind, put on the new man, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. 24 Therefore, putting away falsehood, each one of you speak the truth with his neighbour. For we are members one of another. 25 In your anger, do not sin! Do not let the sun set while you remain angry. 27 Give no opportunity to the Devil! 28 Let him that stole, steal no more, but rather let him labour, working with his hands what is good, so he may have something to give to him that has need. 29 Let no corrupt speech proceed out of your mouth, but as the need arises, speak that which is good for encouragement, that it expresses grace to those that hear you. 30 And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by which you were sealed until the day of redemption. 31 Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamour and railing be put away from you, along with all malice. 32 And be kind to each other, sensitive, forgiving each other, even as God in Christ also forgave you.

CHAPTER 5

Therefore, as beloved children, be imitators of God, and walk in love—just as Christ also loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God. 3 But fornication and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not even be named among you—as is appropriate among saints; 4 nor filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor crude joking, which are not befitting saints; but rather the giving of thanks. 5 For this you know for sure, that no fornicator, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, has any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. 6 Let no one deceive you with empty words. For because of 4:26 This is great practical advice; don’t let the day end with you angry.

4:32 We are to forgive as we have been forgiven. If we ask God to forgive us our secret sins, things we do wrong without realizing it nor specifically repent of—then we must likewise forgive those who sin against us without repenting. The more we reflect upon our own sins and their forgiveness, the more empowered we will be to forgive others.

5:2 The death of Christ on the cross isn’t just something for us to look at from a distance; we should let there be a direct bridge of influence and inspiration between it and our lives today; loving others in practical ways because He, there, so long ago, on a Friday afternoon, on a day in April, on a hill just outside Jerusalem—died for me.

5:3 Not even be named—Just as the Jews were not to even mention the names of other gods (Ex. 23:13).
these things comes the anger of God upon the sons of disobedience. 7 Therefore do not associate with them! 8 For you were once darkness, but are now light in the Lord. Walk as children of light 9 (for the fruit of the light is in all goodness and righteousness and truth), 10 proving what is well-pleasing to the Lord. 11 And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. 12 For it is shameful even to speak of the things that they do in secret. 13 But all things when they are reproved are revealed by the light. For everything that is revealed then becomes light. 14 Therefore it is said: Awake, you that sleep, and arise from the dead and Christ shall shine upon you. 15 Therefore, look carefully how you walk, not as the unwise but as the wise, 16 redeeming the time, because the days are evil. 17 Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is. 18 And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit. 19 Speaking to one another in Psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord with all your heart, 20 giving thanks always and for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ; 21 Submitting to one another out of reverence for Christ.

Husbands and Wives

22 Wives, submit to your husbands, as to the Lord. 23 For the husband is the head of the wife and Christ is the head of the church- himself being the saviour of the body. 24 But as the church is subject to Christ, so the wives should also be to their husbands in everything. 25 Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church and gave himself up for it, 26 that he might sanctify it, having cleansed it by the washing of water with the word, 27 that he might present the church to himself in splendour, without spot or wrinkle or any such thing, that she might be holy and blameless. 28 Thus husbands ought also to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loves his own wife loves himself. 29 For no one ever hated his own flesh but nourishes and cherishes it, even as Christ also the church, 30 because we are members of his body. 31 For this...

5:23-32 The husband is the head of the wife in the context of being her saviour. The man isn’t simply the head of the woman in any context just because he’s a male. A saviour has to be the leader and be accepted as such; Christian marriage is to role play the relationship of Christ to the church. The husband should therefore be willing to die for the wife, to love her as Christ loved the church; and the wife in recognition of this should in this context be acceptive and obedient to that (v. 24). Thus Christian marriage is connected to very high ideals; human dysfunction of course means that neither husband nor wife totally fulfil the roles they are called to, but the height of the challenge, if seriously accepted, will ennable marriage and lift it to a very high plane. The reasoning of these verses shows that a choice to marry an unbeliever can never be marriage as God intends.
cause shall a man leave his father and mother and shall cleave to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh.
32 This mystery is great, but I speak in regard of Christ and of the church.
33 However, let each one of you love his wife as himself, and let the wife see that she respects her husband.

CHAPTER 6 Apr. 7 Oct. 7
Commands to Children and Slaves
Children, obey your parents in the Lord. For this is right.
2 Honour your father and mother (which is the first commandment with promise), 3 that it may be well with you, and you may live long on the earth. 4 And you, fathers, do not provoke your children to anger; but nurture them in the training and instruction of the Lord. 5 Servants, be obedient to those that according to the flesh are your masters, with respect and fear, in singleness of your heart, as if to Christ. 6 Not in the way of eyeservice, as men-pleasers; but as servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart, 7 giving service with a good will, as if to the Lord and not to man. 8 Knowing that whatever good thing each one does, the same shall he receive in return from the Lord, whether he be slave or free. 9 And you, masters, do the same things to them, and stop your threatening; knowing that he who is both their master and yours is in heaven, and that there is no partiality with him.

Spiritual Armour
10 Finally, be strong in the Lord and in the strength of his might. 11 Put on the whole armour of God, so that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the Devil. 12 For we do not wrestle only against flesh and blood, but also against the principalities, against the powers, against the world-rulers of this darkness, and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenlies. 13 Therefore put on the full armour

6:4 The Lord is the trainer and instructor of our children; but He chooses to mediate that teaching through the parents.

6:5 Those who feel enslaved by their daily work can do their tasks as if they are doing them as service to Christ – and He will accept this as done to Him. This means that the person who has to work long, hard hours in the workplace most of the week can do as much service to Christ as the person who is ‘free’ to serve Christ in things like preaching, teaching and serving His brethren – if the work done to our human employer is consciously done by us “as to Christ”.

6:11-13 The world is under God’s control, not that of evil beings in heaven (Dan. 4:32). “All power” in heaven and in earth has been given to Jesus (Mt. 28:18) by God (Rev. 3:21; Lk. 22:29), so it cannot also be possessed by wicked beings in literal Heaven. There can be no sinful being in heaven itself (Ps. 5:4,5; Hab. 1:13; Mt. 6:10). Verse 12 may be translated, “For we wrestle not only against flesh and blood...” i.e., we do not only wrestle against individual men, but against organized systems. The church was facing the “evil day” of persecution at the hands of the Romans (1 Pet. 4:12; 5:8,9). “The rulers of this dark world” at the time were the Romans. Note that the wrestling is spiritual wrestling to keep the faith (2 Cor. 10:3-5). The Greek word of God, so that when the day of evil comes, you may be able to withstand it; and after you have done everything, to stand firm. 14 Stand therefore, having girded yourself with truth and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, 15 and having shod your feet with the readiness to announce the gospel of peace; 16 meanwhile taking up the shield of faith, with which you shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the evil. 17 And take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. 18 With all prayer and petition, praying at all times in the Spirit; and with this in view, be alert with all perseverance and petition for all the saints, 19 and on my behalf, that utterance may be given to me in opening my mouth, to make known with boldness the mystery of the gospel, 20 for which I am an ambassador in chains. That in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak. 21 But so you may also know my affairs and how I am doing, Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful servant in the Lord, shall make known to you all things; 22 whom I have sent to you for this very purpose, that you may know our state and that he may comfort your hearts. 23 Peace be to the believers and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 24 Grace be with all those that love our Lord Jesus Christ with undying love.

for “principalities” is translated “magistrate” in Lk. 12:11; human “rule”, in the sense of human government, in 1 Cor. 15:24, and the “power” of the Roman governor in Lk. 20:20. So it does not necessarily have reference to any power or prince in heaven. “Wicked spirituals in high (heavenly) places” doesn’t refer to wicked beings in heaven itself. The exalted position of the true believers in Christ is described as being “in heavenly places in Christ” (Eph. 2:6). The threat to the church was twofold: from the Roman/Jewish persecution and from the (often Judaist) “false apostles” (2 Cor. 11:13) within. Remember Ephesians was written to the church at Ephesus. Paul had previously warned them about this threat from within in Acts 20:29-30.

6:17 Salvation is our helmet in that if we firmly believe that we really will be saved when Christ returns, then this will guard our thinking [our head].
CHAPTER 1  Apr. 8  Oct. 8

Paul Updates the Philippians on His Situation in Rome

Paul and Timothy, servants of Christ Jesus, to all the saints in Christ Jesus that are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons. 2 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 3 I thank my God upon all my remembrance of you, 4 always in every prayer of mine with joy making requests for you all, 5 giving thanks for your fellowship in furtherance of the gospel from the first day until now. 6 Being confident of this very thing, that He who began a good work in you will keep working at perfecting it, until the day of Jesus Christ. 7 It is right for me to feel this way about all of you, because I have you in my heart, both in my imprisonment and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, you all are partakers with me of grace. 8 For God is my witness, how I long after you all in the tender mercies of Christ Jesus. 9 And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and all discernment, 10 so that you may approve the things that are excellent, so that you may be sincere and void of offence until the day of Christ; 11 being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God. 12 Now I would have you know, brothers, that the things which happened to me have turned out for the progress of the gospel; 13 so that my bonds made Christ manifest throughout the whole Praetorian guard, and to all the rest; 14 and further, most of the believers in the Lord, being made confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak the word of God without fear. 15 Some indeed preach Christ out of envy and strife, and some of good will. 16 The former preach Christ from selfish ambition, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my chains; 17 but the latter out of love, knowing that I am appointed for the defence of the gospel. 18 What then? In every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed and therein I rejoice, yes and will rejoice.

Paul Speaks of His Future

19 For I know that this shall result in my salvation, through your prayer and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, according to my earnest expectation and hope, that in nothing shall I be put to shame; but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether by life, or by death.

For to me to live, is Christ, and to die- is gain. But if by living in the flesh, this shall bring fruit from my work, then what I shall choose I do not know. I am torn between the two. My desire is to depart and be with Christ, for that is far better.

Yet to abide in the flesh is more needful for your sake. And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and stay with you all, for your progress and joy in the faith; that your boasting may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you again.

Only let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ. That, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state- you standing fast in one spirit, with one mind together striving for the faith of the gospel, and not frightened in anything by your opponents. This is a clear sign to them of their destruction, and of your salvation- and that from God.

Because to you it has been granted in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe in him, but also to suffer in his behalf; having the same conflict which you saw in me and now hear is in me.

CHAPTER 2

The Mental Attitude of Christ to be Our Example

Therefore, if there is any encouragement in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any tender mercies and compassions, make my joy full by being like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. Let nothing be done through selfish ambition or conceit, but in lowliness of mind let each esteem others better than himself; each of you not looking to his own things, but each of you to the things of others.

Have this mind in you, which was also in Christ Jesus. Who, though being in the mental image of God, did not consider grasping at being equal with God, but poured himself out, taking the mental attitude of a servant, and was the made just the same as all ordinary men. And being perceived as a normal man, he humbled himself, becoming obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. 9 Wherefore God highly exalted him, and gave to him the name which is above every name-10 that in the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of those in heaven and those on earth and those under the earth, 11 and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. 12 So then, my beloved, even as you have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. 13 For it is God who works in you, both to will and to work, for His good pleasure. 14 Do all things without complaining and question- ings, 15 that you may become blameless and harmless, children of God without blemish, in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation; among whom you shine as lights in the world, 16 holding fast the word of life, so that I may rejoice in the day of Christ that I have not run in vain or laboured in vain. 17 Yes, and if I am poured out as a drink offering upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I am glad and rejoice with you all. 18 And in the same manner you also should be glad and rejoice with me.

Paul’s Messengers
19 But I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon, so that I may also be cheered by news of you.

The context of this passage must be considered. Phil. 1:27 speaks of the importance of our state of mind. This is developed in the early verses of chapter 2: “Of one spirit... one mind... in lowliness of mind ... Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus...”. Paul is therefore speaking of the importance of having a mind like that of Jesus, which is devoted to the humble service of others. The verses which follow are therefore commenting upon the humility of mind which Jesus demonstrated, rather than speaking of any change of nature. Just as Jesus was a servant, so earlier Paul had introduced himself with the same word (1:1 cp. 2:7). The attitude of Jesus is set up as our example, and we are urged to join Paul in sharing it. We’re not asked to change natures; we’re asked to have the mind of Jesus – so that we may know the “fellowship of sharing in His [Christ’s] sufferings, becoming like Him in His death and so to attain to the resurrection from the dead” (3:10,11).

Jesus was “in the form [Greek morphe] of God”. Although Jesus was perfect, He had a totally God-like mind, yet He was willing to take on the demeanour of a servant. Later Paul encourages us to become “conformed unto (Christ’s) death” (3:10). We are to share the morphe, the form of Christ which He showed in His death. Christ “made himself of no reputation”, or “emptied himself” (R.V.), alluding to the prophecy of His crucifixion in Is. 53:12: “He poured out His soul unto death”. He “took upon Himself the form (demeanour) of a servant” by His servant-like attitude to His followers (Jn. 13:14), demonstrated supremely by His death on the cross (Mt. 20:28). Is. 52:14 prophesied concerning Christ’s sufferings that on the cross: “His visage was so marred more than any man, and His form more than the sons of men”. This progressive humbling of Himself “unto death, even the death of the cross” was something which occurred during His life and death, not at His birth.
For I have no one likeminded, who will truly care for your welfare. 21 For they all seek their own, not the things of Jesus Christ. 22 But you know his proven character, that as a son with his father he served as an apprentice with me in declaring the gospel. 23 Therefore I hope to send him at once, as soon as I see how it goes with me. 24 But I trust in the Lord that I myself also shall come shortly. 25 But I considered it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and fellow-soldier, and your messenger and minister to my need, 26 since he was longing for you all, and was distressed because you had heard that he was sick. 27 For indeed he was sick and near to death, but God had mercy on him, and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow. 28 Therefore I have sent him more diligently, so that when you see him again, you may rejoice and that I may be less sorrowful. 29 Therefore receive him in the Lord with all joy and hold such in honour. 30 Because for the work of Christ he came near to death, hazarding his life to supply that which was lacking in your service toward me.

Warning Against the Judaizers

Finally my brothers, rejoice in the Lord. For me to repeat the same things to you as I did before is not tedious, indeed it only confirms their certainty. 2 As so I say again: Beware of the dogs, beware of the evil workers, beware of the mutilators! 3 For we are the circumcision who worship by the Spirit of God and glory in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh. 4 Though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh. If any other man thinks to have confidence in the flesh, I yet more. 5 Circumcised the eighth day, of Israelite stock, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews. As touching the law, a Pharisee. 6 As touching zeal, persecuting the church. As touching the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless. 7 However, what things were gain to me, these have I counted loss for Christ. 8 Yes indeed, I also count all things loss for the excellence of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord, for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and count them as rubbish, that I may gain Christ, 9 and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own which is of the law, but which is through faith in Christ- the righteousness which is from God by faith; 10 that I may know him, and the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of his sufferings, becoming conformed to his death. 11 If by any means I may attain to the resurrection from the dead.

Paul’s Aim

12 Not that I have already attained, or am already perfected; but I press on, that I may lay hold of that for which Christ Jesus has also laid hold

3:10, 11 If we share the sufferings of Christ now, we will share in His resurrection. Our baptism committed us to this as a way of life (Rom. 6:3-5).
Forgetting the past – This is so difficult to do. But if we believe for sure that we will live eternally in God’s Kingdom, we have so much to look forward to that the past weighs less heavily. And God can help us – He made Joseph ‘forget’ or [Hebrew] ‘neglect’ the pain he suffered in his family (Gen. 41:51).

We are citizens of Heaven, of God and of Jesus, although we live here on earth. This is where our loyalty should be; our earthly citizenship should mean far less to us than the fact we are citizens of God’s Kingdom.

Jesus now exists in a bodily form; and we also will, eternally in God’s Kingdom.

My brothers... my joy and crown – The crown of joy will be given us when Jesus returns to earth (1 Thess. 2:19; 1 Pet. 5:4). But that crown will be our brothers and sisters for whom we have laboured in this life. Their presence in God’s Kingdom, the fact they get to be saved, will be what gives us eternal joy. The amount we try for others in this life will affect the nature of our eternal salvation.

The simple fact of having prayed to God about things (v. 6) can give us this peace.
and your thoughts in Christ Jesus.

8 Finally brothers, whatever things are true, whatever things are honourable, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report; if there be any virtue and if there be any praise, think on these things. 9 The things which you both learned and received and heard and saw in me, these things do; and the God of peace shall be with you.

Paul’s Practical Needs

10 But I rejoice in the Lord greatly, that now at length you have revived your thought for me. I know you did indeed take thought for me, but you lacked opportunity. 11 Not that I speak regarding want; for I have learned to be content whatever my situation. 12 I know how to be abased and I know also how to abound. In everything and in all things have I learned the secret both to be filled and to be hungry, both to have plenty and to be in want. 13 I can do all things in him that strengthens me.

14 However you did well in that you had fellowship with my affliction. 15 And you yourselves also know, you Philippians, that in the beginning of the gospel’s work, when I departed from Macedonia, no church had fellowship with me in the matter of giving and receiving, but you only. 16 For even in Thessalonica you sent often to my need. 17 Not that I seek the gift, but I seek the fruit that accrues to your account. 18 But I have all things and abound. I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, they were as the odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, pleasing to God. 19 And my God shall supply every need of yours according to His riches, in glory in Christ Jesus. 20 Now to our God and Father be the glory forever and ever. Amen. 21 Greet every saint in Christ Jesus. The brothers that are with me greet you. 22 All the saints greet you, especially they that are of Caesar’s household. 23 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.
The hope we have is the hope of God’s Kingdom on earth; Jesus will come from Heaven to earth to raise the dead and give us the reward (2 Tim. 4:8; 1 Pet. 5:4). In this sense the promised hope is being prepared for us in Heaven.

Knowledge is related to our practical walk in Christ; not academic knowledge, but the practical knowledge of Christ which comes from His word. Daily reading of His word is therefore so important.

Jesus isn’t God Himself but is the “image” of God, because His character was exactly like God’s.

The idea of a creation “in Him” can be understood with the help of 2 Cor. 5:17, which says that anyone who is “in Christ” becomes a new creation. It’s not talking about the literal creation of the world, which the Bible says was done by God Himself.
and for him. 17 And he is superior to all things, and in him all things consist. 18 And he is the head of the body, the church, who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; so that in all things he might have the pre-eminence. 19 For it was the good pleasure of the Father that in him should all the fullness dwell, 20 and through him to reconcile all things to Himself, having made peace through the blood of his cross-yes, to reconcile all things through him, whether things upon the earth, or things in the heavens.

The Context of Paul’s Preaching
21 And you, being in time past alienated and enemies in your mind in your evil works, 22 yet now has he reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and without blemish and unreproveable before him. 23 If indeed you continue in the faith, grounded and steadfast, and not moved away from the hope of the gospel which you heard, which was preached to all creation under heaven. Of which I Paul was made a servant, 24 who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is lacking of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body’s sake, which is the church. 25 Of which I was made a servant, according to the plan of God which was given me concerning you, to fulfil the word of God, 26 the mystery of which has been hid for ages and generations; but now has it been manifested to His saints, 27 to whom God was pleased to make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles-which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. 28 We proclaim him, encouraging every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man complete in Christ. 29 For this purpose I labour, striving according to his power, which works in me mightily.

CHAPTER 2 May 15 Nov. 14
Paul Warns the Colossians of False Teaching
For I would have you know how greatly I strive for you and for those at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh, 2 that their hearts may be comforted, they being knit together in love; and to all riches of the full assurance of understanding, that they may know the mystery of God as it is in Christ.
3 In him are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. 4 This I say, so that no one deludes you with persuasive speech. 5 For though I am absent in the flesh, I am still with you in the spirit, rejoicing and seeing your order and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ. 6 Therefore, as you received Christ Jesus the Lord- walk in him, 7 rooted and up built in him and established in your faith, even as you were taught, abounding in thanksgiving. 8 Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the elements of the world, and not after Christ. 9 For in him, in a bodily form, dwells all the fullness of all that God stands for; 10 and in him you are made complete. He is the head of all principal-ity and power. 11 In him you were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in the putting off of the body of the flesh, in the circumcision of Christ. 12 Having been buried with him in baptism, by which you were also raised with him through faith in the working of God, who raised him from the dead. 13 And you, being dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, God made alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses. 14 Having blotted out the bond written in ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, Christ did away with it by nailing it to the cross. 15 Having despoiled the principalities and the powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

2:2 Understanding brings assurance; this is the advantage of searching the Bible for the correct understanding of God. 2:9 As the fullness of God dwells in Jesus, so it can also dwell in us (v. 10; Jn. 1:16; Eph. 1:23; 4:13). But this doesn’t make us God Himself in person, and neither does it make Jesus that. 2:12 Baptism is an immersion in water, symbolizing death in the grave, and emerging in resurrection. Baptism isn’t sprinkling. 2:13 Forgiveness of sins is associated with baptism; which is why baptism is so important. 2:14 Written in ordinances – A reference to the ten commandments, which include the Sabbath. Most of the other nine commandments are repeated in the teaching of Jesus; but the Sabbath command isn’t. 2:17 The rituals of the Jewish law pointed forward to Jesus (Gal. 3:24). But now that He has come, the Jewish law has been ended (v. 14).
posedly seen in visions, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, 19 and not holding fast the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together through the joints and bands, increases with the increase of God. 20 If you died with Christ from the elements of the world, why, as though living in the world, do you subject yourselves to ordinances? 21 Handle not, nor taste, nor touch (all things that perish with the using), after the precepts and doctrines of men? 23 Which things have indeed a false appearance of wisdom in worship and humility and severity to the body, but are not of any real value against stopping the indulgence of the flesh.

The New Focus of our Lives in Christ

If then you were raised together with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated on the right hand of God. 2 Set your mind on the things that are above, not on the things that are upon the earth. 3 For you died, and your life is hid with Christ in God. 4 When Christ, our life, shall be manifested, then with him you shall also be manifested in glory. 5 Therefore, put to death what is earthly in you:

Fornication, uncleanness, passion, evil desire and covetousness, which is idolatry. 6 For which things’ sake comes the anger of God upon the children of disobedience, 7 things in which you also once walked, when you lived in these things. 8 But now you are to also put away: Anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy language out of your mouth. 9 Do not lie to each other, seeing you have put off the old man with his doings, 10 and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator; 11 where there cannot be Gentile and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, slave, freeman- but Christ is all and in all. 12 Therefore, as God’s elect and beloved, put on sensitivity, kindness, humility, meekness, longsuffering; 13 forbearing one another and forgiving each other, if anyone has a complaint against another, even as the Lord forgave you, so also forgive. 14 And above all these things, put on love, which is the bond of perfection. 15 And let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts- to this you were also called in one body; and be thankful. 16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly. In all wisdom teach and encourage one another with Psalms, hymns, spiritual songs-

2:23 It may ‘feel good’ to obey legalistic rituals, but this will not help us in our battle against self-indulgence.

3:1 Christ resurrected and then ascended to Heaven. We share in His resurrection by baptism (2:12); and the equivalent of His ascension to Heaven is that we should be thinking about spiritual, Heavenly things. These should be our reality, rather than the passing things of this world like wealth, comfort and temporary success. To be spiritually minded is the goal of the Christian life.
singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord. 17 And whatever you do, in word or in action, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

Domestic Relationships

18 Wives, be in subjection to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord. 19 Husbands, love your wives and be not bitter against them. 20 Children, obey your parents in all things, for this is pleasing to the Lord. 21 Fathers, do not provoke your children, in order that they are not discouraged. 22 Servants, obey in all things those that are your masters according to the flesh, not with eyeservice, as men-pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing the Lord. 23 Whatever you do, work heartily, as if to the Lord and not to men. 24 Knowing that from the Lord you shall receive the reward of the inheritance; for you serve the Lord Christ. 25 But he who does wrong will be repaid for what he has done, and there is no partiality.

Masters, give to your servants what is just and equal. Knowing you also have a master in heaven. 2 Continue earnestly in prayer, being vigilant in it with thanksgiving, 3 meanwhile praying also for us, that God would open to us a door for preaching the word, to speak the mystery of Christ, for the sake of which I am also in chains. 4 Pray that I may speak boldly, as I should. 5 Walk in wisdom toward those that are without, redeeming the time. 6 Let your speech always be with grace, seasoned with salt, that you may know how you ought to answer each one.

3:17 To be thankful in all things is a major feature of the Christian life.
3:23 It’s very gracious of Jesus to accept our service to our worldly employer as service to Him. This empowers us to no longer be crushed by the monotony of our daily work – it can now have meaning and be consciously done for Jesus. This must’ve been especial comfort to slaves in the first century.
3:25 No partiality – Masters of slaves were not to think they were unaccountable to anyone (4:1). Even if in some aspects of our lives and thinking we are free from being accountable to people – we are still accountable to God and He will repay us at the day of judgment, when Christ comes.
4:3 We should also ask God to give us opportunities for preaching.
4:4 If even Paul felt he ought to preach more boldly than he did, and asked others to pray that he might do this... we shouldn’t be surprised if we feel the same.
4:5 We shouldn’t waste our time, but redeem it. The world is full of opportunities to waste our time, to fritter it away on the internet or entertainment. But we should use every moment we can in the Lord’s service; for we are His servants.
God gives us all opportunities, potentials and maybe specific things which He wants us to achieve in His service; we must not flunk out of our calling.

In this almost pathetic cry, we sense Paul’s frustration at the limitations of his situation (as in Acts 26:29 “except these bonds”). When we feel the same, let’s realize that all God’s servants have felt similar.

CHAPTER 1
Paul and Silvanus and Timothy, to the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. Grace to you and peace. We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers, remembering without ceasing before our God and Father your work of faith, labour of love and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.

The Power of Example
Knowing, brothers beloved of God, your first calling, how that our preaching of the gospel came not to you in word only, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and in much assurance. Even as you know what manner of men we have shown ourselves toward you, for your sake. And you became imitators of us and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Spirit. In this way you became an example to all in Macedonia and in Achaia that believe. From you has sounded out the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia but in every place your faith toward God has gone forth; so that we do not need to say anything about you. For others report about what kind of reception you gave us and how you turned to God from idols, to serve a living and true God, and to wait for His Son from heaven, whom He raised from the dead, Jesus, who delivers us from the wrath to come.

CHAPTER 2
Brothers, you know our visit with you, that it has not been found vain. As you know, previously in Philippi we suffered and were spitefully treated; but even amid much opposition we were bold in our God to tell you about the gospel of God. For our appeal is not of error, nor of uncleanness, nor in deceit. But even as we have been approved of God to be entrusted with the gospel, so we speak, not as pleasing men but God, who tests our hearts. Neither at any time were we found using words of flattery, as you know, nor a cloak of covetousness, God is witness; nor seeking glory of men, neither from you nor from others, when we might have claimed authority as apostles of Christ. But we were gentle in the midst of you, as when a nurse cherishes her own child.

1:5, 6 Converts tend to imitate the person who converted them. We therefore have to watch who we are, for the sake of others who will hear us preach. This isn’t a call to hypocrisy; rather to being aware that who we are really does affect who others become, and so we should watch who we are for others’ sakes.
1:10 The return of Christ to the earth is the basic Christian hope.
2:7 The figure is of a wet nurse this time feeding her very own child. This was the tender, special care of Paul for his brethren, and it should be ours.
Preaching the Gospel isn’t merely a relaying of ideas and teaching; it’s a giving of ourselves to others. 8 So, affectionately longing for you, we were well pleased to impart to you not only the gospel of God, but also our own lives, because you had become dear to us. 9 For, brothers, you remember our labour and distress, working night and day, so that we would not burden any of you while we preached the gospel of God to you. 10 You are witnesses and God also, how holily and righteously and unblameably we behaved ourselves toward you that believe. 11 As you know how we dealt with each one of you, as a father with his own children, exhorting you, encouraging you and testifying, 12 to the end you should walk worthily of God, who calls you into His own kingdom and glory. 13 And for this cause we also thank God without ceasing, that when you received from us the word of the message of God, you accepted it not as the word of men but, as it is in truth, the word of God, which also works powerfully in you that believe. 14 For you, brothers, became imitators of the churches of God in Christ Jesus which are in Judea. For you also suffered the same things of your own countrymen, even as they did of the Jews, 15 who both killed the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and drove us out, and do not please God, and oppose all mankind, 16 forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved. By doing so they fill up the full measure of their sins. But God’s wrath comes upon them at last. 17 But we, brothers, having been taken away from you for a short time in presence but not in heart, endeavoured more eagerly to see your face with great desire. 18 Because we wanted to come to you, I Paul time and again; but Satan hindered us. 19 For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of glorying? Are not even you, before our Lord Jesus at his coming? 20 For you are our glory and our joy.

CHAPTER 3 May 18 Nov. 17

Paul’s Great Love for the Thessalonians

Therefore when we could no longer endure it, we thought it good to be left behind at Athens alone; 2 and sent Timothy, our brother and God’s minister in the gospel of Christ, to establish you and to comfort you concerning your faith. 3 That no one be moved by these afflictions; for yourselves know that for this we are appointed. 4 For truly, when we were with you, we told you beforehand that we are to suffer affliction. Even as it came to pass and you know. 5 For this cause I also, when I could no longer endure it, sent Timothy, that I might know your faith, lest by any means the tempter had tempted you and our labour should be in vain. 6 But now Timothy has come to us from you and brought us the good news of your faith and love, and that you have good remembrance of us always, longing to see us, even as we also you. 7 For this cause, brothers, in all our distress and affliction, we were comforted through hearing of your faith. 8 For now we live, if you stand fast in the Lord. 9 For what thanksgiving can we render again to God for you, for all the joy with which we rejoice for your sakes before our God, 10 night and day praying exceedingly that we may see your face and may perfect whatever is lacking in your faith? 11 Now may our God and Father Himself, and our Lord Jesus, direct our way to you. 12 And the Lord make you increase and abound in love one toward another and toward all men, even as we also toward you, 13 so that he may establish your hearts unblameable in holiness before our God and Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints.

CHAPTER 4

May 18 Nov. 17

The Sanctified Life

Finally, brothers, we urge and exhort you in the Lord Jesus that you should abound more and more, just as you received from us how you ought to walk and to please God. 2 For you know what instruction we gave you through the Lord Jesus. 3 For this is the will of God, that you live sanctified lives. Therefore abstain from fornication; 4 let each one of you take a wife for himself in sanctification and honour, 5 not in the passion of lust, even as the Gentiles who do not know God. 6 Let no one transgress and wrong his brother in this matter. Because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as also we forewarned you and testified. 7 For God called us not to uncleanness but to sanctification. 8 Therefore he that rejects this teaching rejects not man but God, who gives His Holy Spirit to you. 9 But concerning love of the brothers, you have no need that anyone write to you. For you yourselves are taught of God to love one another. 10 For indeed you

3:9 Before our God – We are ‘before God’ when we pray to God, and in our lives generally. Yet Paul uses the same phrase in v. 13 to describe how we will come ‘before God’ at the day of judgment. In prayer, and in our lives, we should try to live as if we are before God at judgment. In our daily lives, let’s not isolate ourselves from that ultimate reality. Prayer especially is a foretaste of judgment day.

3:13 As we face Jesus at the day of final judgment, our hearts will be calm if we have lived a life of love to others (v. 12).

4:4, 5 We should take a partner in love, not “in... lust”. Marriage is to be on the basis of love, not lust.

4:10 If our self-examination reveals that we are loving toward others, we shouldn’t be do it toward all the brothers that are in all Macedonia. But, brothers, we encourage you to abound more and more. 11 May you also aspire to lead a quiet life, to mind your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you, 12 that you may walk properly toward those who are outside, and that you may lack nothing.

Comfort From the Hope of Resurrection
13 Brothers, we would not have you ignorant concerning those that fall asleep, lest you grieve like those who have no hope. 14 For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, just as surely those that have fallen asleep in Jesus will God bring up with him. 15 For this we say to you by the word of the Lord, that we that are alive, that are still living at the coming of the Lord, shall in no way precede those that have fallen asleep. 16 For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ shall rise first. 17 Then we that are alive, that are left, shall together with them be snatched away in the clouds in the air to meet the Lord, and so shall we ever be with the Lord. 18 Therefore, comfort one another with these words.
We should not be asleep – but the parable of Mt. 25:1-13 suggests that even the “wise virgins” will be asleep when Christ comes.

CHAPTER 1 May 20 Nov. 19
Suffering Has an End – At the Return of Christ

Paul and Silvanus and Timothy, to the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 2 Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 3 Brothers, we are obligated to thank God always for you, as is appropriate, because your faith grows exceedingly, and the love of every one of you all abounds toward each other, 4 so that we ourselves boast of you among the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that you endure. 5 These are proof that God’s judgment is righteous, and you are enduring them to the end you may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you also suffer. 6 It is a righteous thing with God to repay with tribulation those who afflict you; 7 and to give relief to those who are afflicted (and to us too), when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with the angels of his power in flaming fire, 8 rendering vengeance to them that do not acknowledge God and to them that do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. 9 They shall suffer punishment, even eternal destruction from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his might, 10 when he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be marvelled at in all them that have believed in that day (because our testimony to you was believed). 11 To which end we also pray always for you, that our God may count you worthy of your calling and fulfil every desire of goodness and work of faith, with power. 12 To the end that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you and you in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER 2 May 20 Nov. 19
The Man of Sin

Now brothers, concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our gathering together to him, we urge you 2 not to be quickly shaken in mind or troubled, either by spirit or by word or by letter ap-

1:5 The fact we experience tribulation is a sure token that we are in fact going to be accepted into God’s Kingdom; for through such tribulation we have to enter the Kingdom (Acts 14:22).

1:9 Eternal destruction – The punishment for sin is death (Rom. 6:23), not eternal conscious existence in torture. Their death will be permanent, and in this sense their destruction will be eternal.

1:11 If we are desiring good and right things, then God will powerfully fulfil those desires.

2:2 There were and are many false ideas around to the effect that Christ has already come; Preterism says He came in AD70, the Watchtower claimed He came in 1914.
pearing to be from us, as though the day of Christ had come. 3 Let no one beguile you in any way. For first of all must come the falling away and the man of sin shall be revealed, the son of destruction, 4 he that opposes and exalts himself against all that is called God or that is worshiped, so that he sits in the temple of God, set-ing himself up as God. 5 Have you forgotten that when I was still with you I told you these things? 6 And now you know what is restraining him now, that he may be revealed in his own time. 7 For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work. Only he who now restrains it will do so, until he is out of the way. 8 And then shall be revealed the lawless one, whom the Lord Jesus shall slay with the breath of his mouth and bring to nothing by the powerful glory of his coming. 9 But the coming of the lawless one will be according to the working of Satan, with all power and signs and lying wonders, 10 and with all unrighteous deceit of them that perish. Because they did not receive the love of the truth, that they might be saved, 11 for this reason God will send them strong delusion, that they should believe the lie; 12 that they all might be condemned who did not believe the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

An Appeal to Stand Firm 13 But, brothers, we are obligated to give thanks to God always for you, beloved of the Lord, for God chose you from the beginning to salvation, through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth; 14 unto which He called you through our preaching of the gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. 15 So then, brothers, stand fast, and hold to the teachings which you were taught, whether by word, or by our epistle.
16 Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father, who loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, 17 comfort your hearts and establish them in every good work and word.

CHAPTER 3

May 21 Nov. 20

Paul Asks For Prayer

Finally, brothers, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run swiftly and be glorified, even as also it is with you. 2 And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men. For all do not have faith.

But the coming of Christ will be publically obvious to all because the wicked will be destroyed by it (v. 8), and we will be gathered unto Christ in that day (v. 1).

2:11 God isn’t passive toward those who don’t want to love His truth (v. 10) – He actively encourages them to believe delusions. This is one reason why we find believing such huge nonsenses – because God has in fact deluded them.

2:17 If we desire to speak and do the right things, God will confirm us in this; just as He confirms those who don’t love the truth in the way of untruth (vv. 10,11). There is both a downward and upward spiral in spiritual life; we can’t just opt out, we are on a journey either to eternal life or eternal death, and God is propelling us on the way we choose.
3 But the Lord is faithful, who shall establish you and guard you from the evil. 4 And we have confidence in the Lord concerning you, that you both do, and will do, the things which we command; 5 and so may the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God and into the patient waiting for Christ.

Discipline Those Who Just Want Material Benefit

6 Now we command you, brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you withdraw yourselves from every brother that walks disorderly and not after the tradition which they received from us. 7 For yourselves know how you ought to imitate us. For we ourselves did not behave disorderly among you, 8 neither did we eat bread for nothing at anyone’s hand; but we ate our bread as the result of our own labour and toil, working night and day, that we might not financially burden any of you. 9 Not because we do not have the right to do so, but to make ourselves an example to you—that you should imitate us. 10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you: If any will not work, neither let him eat of your food. 11 For we hear of some that walk among you disorderly, that do not work at all but are busybodies. 12 Now those that are such we command and exhort in the Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work and eat their own bread. 13 But you, brothers, be not weary in doing good. 14 And if anyone does not obey our word by this letter, note that man, that you have no association with him, so that he may be ashamed. 15 But do not count him as an enemy, but warn him as a brother. 16 Now may the Lord of peace himself give you peace at all times in all ways. The Lord be with you all. 17 The salutation of me Paul with my own hand, which is the token in every epistle. So I write. 18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

3:3 The Lord Jesus is able to directly influence human minds [hearts].

3:6 Withdraw yourselves – This verse is in the context of verses 7-12, concerning some who were “disorderly” in that they were involved with the church simply in order to get money, and refused to work when they could do so. Verse 6 doesn’t mean we should withdraw ourselves from anyone who breaks any commandment of Jesus, for we all do this. The verse speaks about the specific situation of those seeking to gain money from being members of the church in Thessalonica.

3:9 Sometimes it’s better not to do something which we could legitimately do, because of the bad example it may set, and because it may be misunderstood and misused by others who are weaker.

3:14 This is to be understood the same way as :6.
The importance of correct teaching is that it leads to love and faith. This is why having correct doctrine and rejecting wrong teachings is practically important (1:3,4).

Paul, now nearing the end of his life, considers himself the world’s worst sinner. Previously he had thought of himself as the least apostle (1 Cor. 15:9), then as the least of all the believers (Eph. 3:8). As Paul grew spiritually, he became more aware of both the extent of his own sinfulness, and of the certainty of his salvation. We should be following this pattern.

Paul’s dramatic conversion is a pattern for each of us. Whether we were raised Christian or not, whether we committed what the world would consider major sins or not, the fact is that our conversion was and is as dramatic as Paul’s; and our response to God’s grace should be as zealous as his.

1:5 The importance of correct teaching is that it leads to love and faith. This is why having correct doctrine and rejecting wrong teachings is practically important (1:3,4).

1:15 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus according to the commandment of God our Saviour, and Christ Jesus our hope. To Timothy, my true child in faith. Grace, mercy and peace to you, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord. Stay at Ephesus, just as I urged you to do when I was going into Macedonia, so that you might instruct certain men not to teach a different doctrine, nor give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which cause disputes rather than Godly edification which is in faith. The intended result of this instruction is love out of a pure heart, a good conscience and sincere faith. From which things some having strayed have turned aside to idle talking; desiring to be teachers of the law, though they neither understand what they say, nor what they confidently affirm. But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully, since we know that law is not made for a righteous man but for the lawless and unruly, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for fornicators, for sodomites, for kidnappers, for liars, for perjurers, and if there is any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine, in accordance with the gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.

Paul’s Conversion a Pattern for All

12 I thank him that enabled me, Christ Jesus our Lord, for that he counted me faithful, appointing me to his service. Though I was before a blasphemer, a persecutor and abusive. However, I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief. And the grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly, with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. Faithful is the saying and worthy of all acceptance: That Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief. However, for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me as the chief sinner might Jesus Christ show all his patience as a pattern to those that would later believe in him to gain eternal life. 17 Now to the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honour and glory forever and ever. Amen. 18 This charge I commit to you, my child Timothy, in accordance with the prophecies which were made about you, that by them you may war the good warfare. 19 Holding on to faith and a good conscience, which some having thrust from them, made shipwreck of their faith. 20 Of whom is Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I delivered to Satan, that they might be taught not to blaspheme.

CHAPTER 2 May 22 Nov. 21
Paul Encourages Prayerfulness

I urge therefore, first of all, that supplications, prayers, intercessions and thanksgivings be made for all men; 2 for kings, and all that are in high place, that we may lead a calm and quiet life in all Godliness and dignity. 3 This is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour, 4 who would wish all men to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth. 5 For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus, 6 who gave himself as a ransom for all, the testimony made at the due time. 7 To this I was appointed a preacher and an apostle (I speak the truth, I do not lie), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth. 8 I therefore desire that the men pray everywhere, lifting up holy hands, without anger and dispute. 9 In like manner, I urge that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with bashfulness and sobriety; not with braid hair and gold or pearls or costly clothing, 10 but apparel which becomes women professing reverence towards God through good works. 11 Let a woman learn in quietness with all subjection; 12 I do not permit a woman to teach, nor to have dominion over a man, but to be in submission. 13 For Adam was first formed, then Eve; 14 and Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived fell into transgression. 15 But she shall be saved through the child-bearing, if they continue in faith, love and sanctification with sobriety.

1960 1 TIMOTHY 3:1–4:3

3:13 Our service of itself develops our faith. This is an example of the upward spiral in spiritual life; years of humble service make faith deeper, which in turn motivates us to more service.

3:15 Even Paul didn’t know exactly how his plans would work out; we all long for stability and clear plans for the future. But God doesn’t work with us like that; He wants us to go through life with faith in His leading.

3:16 God was manifested in the flesh in His Son, Jesus. Jesus was of human nature but had a perfect character, so that He showed us what God would have been like if He were a human being. This doesn’t mean He was God Himself in person.

4:1 This is a prophecy of how the initially pure Christian understanding would be corrupted by false ideas and practices.

4:3 Forbidding to marry – As the Catholic church forbid their priests the truth. 4 For every creature of God is good and nothing is to be rejected, if it be received with thanksgiving. 5 For it is sanctified through the word of God and prayer. 6 If you put the believers in mind of these things, you shall be a good minister of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith and of the good doctrine which you have followed. 7 But reject profane and old wives’ fables, and exercise yourself with reverence towards God. 8 For bodily exercise is profitable for a little time; but reverence towards God is profitable for all things, having the promise of the life which now is and of that which is to come. 9 Faithful is this saying and worthy of all acceptance. 10 For to this end we labour and strive, because we have our hope set on the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, especially of those that believe. 11 These things command and teach. 12 Let no one despise your youth. Be an example to those that believe, in word, in manner of life, in love, in faith, in purity. 13 Until I come, give attention to reading, to preaching, to teaching. 14 Do not neglect the gift you have, which was given to you by prophecy when the council of elders laid their hands on you. 15 Be diligent in these things. Give yourself wholly to them, that your progress may be manifest to all. 16 Keep a close watch on yourself and on the teaching. Persist in this, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers.

Commands About Widows

Do not rebuke an elder but exhort him as a father. The younger men as brothers. 2 The elder women as mothers. The younger women as sisters, in all purity. 3 Honour widows that are indeed widows. 4 But if any widow has children or grandchildren, let them learn first to show devotion towards their own family and to repay their parents. For this is acceptable in the sight of God. 5 Now she that is indeed a widow and alone has her hope set on God, and continues in supplications and prayers night and day. 6 But she that gives herself to pleasure is dead while she lives. 7 These things also command, so that they may be without reproach. 8 But if anyone does not provide for his own family and specially his own household, he has denied the faith and is worse... than an unbeliever. 9 Let no one be registered as a widow who is under sixty years old. Only register those who have been the woman of one man and 10 well reported of for good works; if she has brought up children, if she has used hospitality to strangers, if she has washed the saints’ feet, if she has helped the afflicted, if she has diligently followed every good work. 11 But refuse to register younger widows, for when their passions draw them away from Christ, they desire to marry, 12 having condemnation, because they have rejected their first pledge. 13 Besides that, they learn to be idlers, going about from house to house, and not only idlers, but also gossips and busybodies, saying what they should not. 14 I desire therefore that the younger widows marry, bear children, rule the household, give no occasion to the adversary for slander. 15 For already some are turned aside after satan. 16 If any woman that believes has widows in her family, let her help them and let not the church be burdened, so that it may help those that are indeed widows.

Commands About Elders

17 Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially those who labour in the word and in teaching. 18 For the scripture says: You shall not muzzle the ox when he treads out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his wages. 19 Do not receive an accusation against an elder, except at the mouth of two or three witnesses. 20 Those elders that sin, reprove in the sight of all, so that the rest may also be in fear. 21 I charge you in the sight of God and Christ Jesus and the elect angels, that you observe these things without prejudice, doing nothing by partiality. 22 Lay hands hastily on no one, and do not participate in other’s sins. Keep yourself pure. 23 No longer drink only water; instead use a little wine for your stomach’s sake and your frequent infirmities. 24 Some men’s sins are evident, preceding them to judgment; but those of others follow them there later. 25 Likewise, the good works of some are clearly evident, and those that are otherwise cannot be hidden.

parents (v. 4). God’s word here gives an unusually strong condemnation for those who don’t do this.

5:14 Rule the household – The believing woman is ideally intended to serve in the domestic sphere.

5:18 Paul clearly supported the idea of a paid ministry, even though he himself chose not to take advantage of this in Corinth (1 Cor. 9:4-12) and Thessalonica (1 Thess. 2:9; 2 Thess. 3:8,9). There are times and places and contexts where it’s better not to do some things which we could legitimately do, for the sake of others; the example we set may be misused, or misinterpreted.

5:24, 25 All our sins and good works will be openly revealed at the day of judgment in front of everyone; so we shouldn’t be hypocritical in this life, nor should we grieve that our good works aren’t noticed or valued. For the day shall come when they will be.
Let all who are under a yoke as slaves regard their own masters as worthy of all honour, so that the name of God and the teaching may not be reviled. 2 And those who have believing masters, let them not despise them because they are brothers, but rather serve them because those whom they are serving are believers and beloved. Teach and exhort these things.

The Danger of Riches
3 If anyone teaches a different doctrine and consents not to sound words, the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which shows reverence towards God, 4 he is proud, knowing nothing, but is obsessed with disputes and arguments over words, from which come envy, strife, reviling, evil suspicions, 5 wranglings of men corrupted in mind and bereft of the truth, who suppose that reverence towards God is a way of gain. 6 But reverence towards God with contentment is great gain. 7 For we brought nothing into the world, for neither can we carry anything out. 8 But having food and covering we shall be content. 9 But they that are intent on being rich fall into a temptation and a snare, and many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and condemnation. 10 For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil, which some, by seeking for, have been led astray from the faith, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows. 11 But you, O man of God, flee these material things and instead pursue after righteousness, reverence towards God, faith, love, patience, meekness. 12 Fight the good fight of the faith, lay hold on the everlasting life, whereunto you were called and did confess the good confession in the sight of many witnesses. 13 I urge you in the sight of God, who gives life to all things, and of Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate made the good confession: 14 Keep the commandment without stain, without reproach, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ. 15 In due time He shall reveal him, He who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings and Lord of lords, 16 who only has immortality, the reference is therefore to their having seen Angels, who carry the Name of God (Ex. 23:21).

6:16 The real spiritual wealth is in giving our material wealth away.

2 TIMOTHY

CHAPTER 1

May 25  Nov. 24

Paul’s Relationship with Timothy

Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, according to the promise of the life which is in Christ Jesus, to Timothy, my beloved child. Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord. I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers in a pure conscience, how unceasing is my remembrance of you in my prayers, night and day longing to see you, remembering your tears, wanting to be filled with joy for you. I am often reminded of the sincere faith that is in you, which dwelt first in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice; and I am persuaded dwells in you also.

Living up to Potential

Because of this I remind you to stir up the gift of God which is in you through the laying on of my hands. For God did not give us a spirit of fearfulness, but of power and love and a disciplined mind. Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but suffer hardship for the gospel according to the power of God. Who saved us and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to His own purpose and grace, which was given to us in Christ Jesus before times eternal; but has now been manifested by the appearing of our Saviour Christ Jesus, who abolished death, and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel; of which I was appointed a preacher and an apostle and a teacher. For which cause I suffer also these things. Yet I am not ashamed. For I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard what I have committed to him against that day. Hold the pattern of sound words which you have heard from me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. That good thing which was committed to you guard through the Holy Spirit which dwells in us. This you know, that all that are in Asia turned away from me. Of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes. The Lord grant mercy to the ers may still be acceptable to their Lord. Seeing Paul’s work had led to the conversion of most of those in Asia, their being poisoned against him must’ve been so painful.

2:4, 5 The images of a soldier at war and a training athlete show the intensity expected of us in the Lord’s service. It can never be a mere hobby, culture or inherited tradition.

2:7 If we “consider” God’s word, He will confirm our efforts by giving us the understanding we seek. But we must reflect upon the Bible and life, rather than being unthinking and superficial.

2:8 Jesus was the “seed of David”, a literal descendant of David through His mother Mary. This shows Jesus didn’t personally pre-exist before His birth; and that Mary was an ordinary woman, also a direct descendant of David.

2:10 If Paul hadn’t kept doing the work of the Gospel, at great personal pain and cost, others wouldn’t have been saved. The salvation of others is to some extent dependent upon the efforts of third parties such as ourselves. Whatever the cost, we can’t quit the Gospel’s work.

2:11 This is the principle of baptism – death with Jesus beneath the water, and then resurrection with Him (Rom. 6:3-5).

2:12 If we shall deny him – Paul wrote this knowing that Peter had denied Jesus – but had repented. We too can repent.
Don’t Argue About Words

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, instructing them in the sight of the Lord, that they do not fight about words, to no profit, to the catastrophic destruction of those that hear them. 15 Exert yourself, to prove you are pleasing to God, a workman that needs not to be ashamed, handling correctly the word of truth.

16 But shun profane babblings of false teachers; for they will result in progressive ungodliness, and their word will eat away like a cancer. An example would be Hymenaeus and Philetus, men who concerning the truth have erred, in saying that the resurrection is past already; and they ruin the faith of some. 19 However the firm foundation of God stands sure, having this seal: The Lord knows those that are his. And:

Let every one that names the name of the Lord depart from unrighteousness. 20 Now in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some to honour and some to dishonour. 21 If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel to honour, sanctified, fulfilling the use intended by the master, prepared to do every good work. 22 Enthuse about righteousness, faith, love and peace with those who call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

But foolish and ignorant questions refuse, knowing that they only cause strife.

24 And the Lord’s servant must not quarrel but be gentle towards all, eager to teach, patient of ills and wrongs, in meekness correcting those that contradict themselves, so that God may give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth, and that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the Devil, having been taken captive by him to do his will.

CHAPTER 3

May 27  Nov. 26

A Prophecy About the Last Days

But know this, that in the last days grievous times shall come. 2 For men shall be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, proud, argumentative, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, implacable, slanderers, without self-control, fierce, not lovers of good, traitors, headstrong, puffed up, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God. 5 Holding a form of reverence towards God, but having denied the power of it. From such people—turn away. 6 For of these are they that creep into houses and take captive weak minded women laden with sins, led away by various lusts, ever learning and never able to came to the knowledge of the truth. 8 Just as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also withstand the truth. Men corrupted in 2:14 Arguments between brethren about small matters can lead to the destruction of others.

2:18 The resurrection is past already – The error of extreme Preterism today.

3:1-5 This is an exact description of society as it is in our “last days” before the return of Christ to earth.
3:10 Paul’s life and character are set up for us in the Bible as our pattern – not just something to be historically studied, plotting where he went on a map, viewing him as a mere historical figure.
3:12 Persecution therefore shouldn’t surprise us. It may not involve physical suffering, but in some sense, the unbelieving world will persecute us.
3:15 This is the importance of the Bible – if we believe God’s word, we find there the wisdom which leads to salvation. Attention to the Bible is therefore vital for every true Christian, and we ought to be reading the Bible daily.
3:16 Inspired – God breathed His word into the Bible writers, so that what they wrote wasn’t merely the word of men, but was God speaking through them. This is what makes the Bible unique amongst books; God’s word is all we need to prepare us to every good work (v. 17). We need no other books or revelations, as the Bible is enough to completely equip us (v. 17).
4:1 When Christ returns, the dead will be raised and judged, and then God’s Kingdom fully established on earth.
4:3 This prophesied corruption of pure Biblical teaching has come true in the many confused and incorrect versions of Christianity which there are. People choose to accept whoever teaches what they naturally want to here – rather than realizing that the Bible is the inspired word of God (3:16), and only believing what they read there. We must be teachable in front of God’s word, even if it says things we naturally would prefer were not true. We cannot exalt our ideas above those of God.
ing itching ears, will gather around themselves teachers to suit their own lusts; and will turn away their ears from the truth and turn aside to fables. But you, be sober in all things, suffer hardship, do the work of an evangelist, fulfil your ministry.

Paul Speaks of His Impending Death

6 For I am already being offered, and the time of my departure comes. 7 I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith. 8 From this time forward there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give to me at that day; and not to me alone, but also to all those that have loved his appearing. 9 Make an effort to come to me soon. 10 For Demas forsook me, having loved this present world, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia. 11 Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with you; for his service is profitable to me. 12 But Tychicus I sent to Ephesus. 13 When you come, bring the cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, and the books, especially the parchments. 14 Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil; may the Lord render to him according to his works. 15 You also need to be on guard about him, for he greatly withstood our words. 16 At my first defence no man stood with me, but all forsook me. May it not be held against them. 17 But the Lord stood by me and strengthened me, that through me the message might be fully proclaimed; and so all the Gentiles might hear. And I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. 18 The Lord will deliver me from every evil work and will save me to his heavenly kingdom; to him be the glory for ever and ever. Amen. 19 Greet Prisca and Aquila and the house of Onesiphorus. 20 Erastus remained at Corinth, but Trophimus I left at Miletus sick. 21 Try by all means to come before winter. Eubulus greets you, and Pudens and Linus and Claudia, and all the brothers. 22 The Lord be with your spirit. Grace be with you.

4:8 The reward of the faithful will be given when Christ returns — at “that day” (the “day” of v. 1); and all the true believers will receive their reward at that same time (Heb. 11:39,40). It is not true that when we die, we go to Heaven and receive our reward. We are unconscious until Christ returns; all the faithful will then be resurrected, judged, and given eternal life together in His Kingdom on earth (Mt. 25:34).

4:16 All forsook me — As all in Asia turned away from Paul (1:15). Paul died a lonely man, unpopular even with his brethren; but therefore he felt the very real presence of Jesus with him (v. 17).
Paul, a servant of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ, for the sake of the faith of God’s elect and their knowledge of the truth - the truth which is ultimately all about reverence towards God. In hope of eternal life, which God, who cannot lie, promised before times eternal; but in His own time manifested His word in the message with which I was entrusted, according to the commandment of God our Saviour; to Titus, my true child after a common faith. Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Saviour.

Paul’s Advice About the Church in Crete

5 The reason I left you in Crete was so you would set in order the things that were lacking, and appoint elders in every city as I instructed you- if anyone is blameless, the husband of one wife, having children that believe, who are not accused of riot or unruly. 7 For the bishop, as God’s steward, must be blameless, not arrogant or quick-tempered or a drunkard or violent or greedy for gain; but given to hospitality, a lover of good, self controlled, just, holy, disciplined, holding to the faithful word which is according to the doctrine, that he may be able to minister comfort using the sound doctrine and also refute those who oppose it.

10 For there are many unruly men, vain talkers and deceivers, especially they of the circumcision, whose mouths must be stopped. Men who overthrow whole houses, teaching things which they should not, all for money’s sake. 12 One of their prophets said: Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, idle gluttons. This testimony is true. For which cause reprove them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, not giving heed to Jewish fables and the commandments of mere men who aim to turn away others from the truth.

15 To the pure, all things are pure; but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; both their minds and their consciences are defiled. They profess that they know God, but by their works they deny him. They are detestable, disobedient, unfit for any good work.

CHAPTER 2

May 28 Nov. 27

Commands to Men and Women, Old and Young

But you must teach what accords with sound doctrine: 2 That older men be sober-minded, dignified, self-controlled, sound in faith, in love, in patience. 3 That older women likewise be reverent in demeanour, not slanderers nor enslaved to much wine, teachers of that which is good; 4 so that they may train the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, 5 to be self-controlled, pure, working at home, kind and submissive to their own husbands; that the preaching of the word of God may not be mocked. 6 The younger men likewise exhort to be self-controlled. 7 In all things show yourself as an example of good works. In your teaching show integrity, dignity, 8 sound speech, that cannot be condemned; so that an opponent may be put to shame, having nothing evil to say about us.

Encourage servants to be submissive to their masters, and to be pleasing to them in all things. Not argumentative, 10 not petty thieves, but showing integrity in everything; that they in all things may make attractive the doctrine of God our Saviour. 11 For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation to all men. 12 It trains us to renounce ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and Godly lives in this present age, 13 as we look for the blessed hope: The manifesting of the glory of the great God, and of our Saviour Jesus Christ, 14 who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify to himself a people for his own possession, zealous of good works. 15 These things speak and exhort and reprove with all authority. Let no one despise your teaching.

May 28 Nov. 27

The Way of Life Elicited by God’s Grace

Put them in mind to be in submission to rulers, to authorities—

2:3 “Slanderers” here translates the Greek word diabolos, elsewhere translated “devil”. This word simply means a slanderer; it doesn’t of itself mean a cosmic, supernatural evil being. It can be used about ordinary people, as it was about Judas (Jn. 6:70,71).

2:4, 5 Loving a Christian husband and submitting to him are here paralleled. Submission within marriage can never be demanded; it is motivated by love.

2:10 The doctrines of the Gospel are made attractive to others by our examples, as we translate them into practice. Doctrine as theology will not immediately attract secular people.

2:12 We cannot be passive to God’s grace (v. 11) – God’s free gift of salvation to us trains us, as we experience and reflect upon it, in a life of good works.

2:14 The giving of Jesus in His death makes us “zealous of good works” in that the sensitive, reflective believer cannot be passive to the cross of Christ. We have to respond in practice to such love and grace.
be obedient, to be eagerly ready to do every good work, \(^2\) to speak evil of no one, not to be contentious, but to be gentle, showing all meekness toward all men. \(^3\) For we also once were foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving various lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, hating one another. \(^4\) But when there appeared the kindness of God our Saviour and His love toward man, \(^5\) not by works done in righteousness, which we did ourselves, but according to His mercy He saved us, through the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Spirit \(^6\) which He poured out upon us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour. \(^7\) This was so that being justified by His grace, we might be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. \(^8\) This teaching is trustworthy, and I want you to insist on these things, so that those who have believed in God may be careful to devote themselves to good works. These things are excellent and profitable for people. \(^9\) But avoid foolish controversies, genealogies, dissensions and quarrels about the law, for they are unprofitable and worthless. \(^10\) A divisive person, after a first and second warning, reject, \(^11\) knowing that such a one is perverted and sins, being self-condemned. \(^12\) When I shall send Artemas to you, or Tychicus, give diligence to come to me at Nicopolis, for there I have decided to winter. \(^13\) Do your best to speed Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their way; see that they lack nothing. \(^14\) And let our people learn to devote themselves to good works, to help those in urgent need, and not to be unfruitful. \(^15\) All that are with me greet you. Greet those that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all.

3:1 Are we ready to good works, whenever the opportunities present themselves, whether the timing is convenient or not?

3:7 Justification by grace is a major New Testament theme. We are counted as righteous, even though we are not of ourselves, by God’s pure grace; and thus we are waiting to inherit eternal life – which we will receive when Jesus returns. The fact we are saved as a pure free gift, and not by our works, should actually be a motivation to do good works (v. 8).

3:10 Keep away from those who cause division. Making divisions and factions between brethren can lead to condemnation (v. 11) – even though it is often justified as love for God.
May 29  Nov. 28

Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus and Timothy our brother, to Philemon our beloved and fellow-worker, and to Apphia our sister, and to Archippus our fellow-soldier, and to the church in your house. Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. I thank my God always, making mention of you in my prayers, hearing of the love and faith which you have toward the Lord Jesus and toward all the saints. I pray that our fellowshipping of your faith may result in our coming to acknowledge every good thing which is in you in Christ. Already I had much joy and comfort in your love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through you our brother. Thus although I have all boldness in Christ to command you to do what is required, yet I prefer to appeal to you for love’s sake- I, Paul, an old man and now a prisoner also for Christ Jesus. I appeal to you for my child Onesimus, whose father I became in my imprisonment.

1:10 Paul saw those he converted to Christ as his spiritual children. Onesimus was a runaway slave who had ended in prison in Rome; and yet Paul converted his fellow prisoner. It happened that Onesimus’s master, Philemon, had also been converted by Paul (v. 19). And so now Paul is sending Onesimus back to Philemon, persuading Philemon to have mercy upon him. We may feel imprisoned by situations, but we can still reach out to others who are also imprisoned within them, and lead them to Christ.

1:15 Paul is very positive. He suggests that such disagreements and interpersonal failures occur so that the fellowship and unity achieved after reconciliation will be that much stronger.

1:19 We owe our eternal lives to those who converted us; this shows the eternal significance of converting another person to Christ.
1974 PHILEMON 1:20–1:25

1:22 Paul acted as if his prayers for deliverance for prison were going to be answered — so much so that he, a prisoner, asks someone to prepare a room for him to stay in when he next visits. This is the principle of Mk. 11:24 — to act and feel as if we have already received what we are asking for.

Lord. Refresh my heart in Christ.
21 I write to you having confidence in your obedience, knowing you will do what I ask. 22 But meanwhile also prepare for me a lodging; for I hope that through your prayers I shall be restored to you. 23 Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus, greets you; 24 as do Mark, Aristarchus, Demas and Luke, my fellow-workers. 25 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.
CHAPTER 1

The Supremacy of Christ

God, who at various times and in various ways spoke in time past to the fathers by the prophets, has in these last times spoken to us in the Son, whom He appointed heir of all things, on account of whom also He structured the ages. Who being the brightness of His glory and the exact image of His person, upholds all things by the word of his power. When he had accomplished the purification of sins, he then sat down on the right hand of the Majesty in Heaven. He thus became so much better than the angels, as he has inherited a more excellent name than they.

Christ Greater than Angels

For to which of the angels said He at any time: You are my Son, this day have I begotten you? And again: I will be to him a Father and he shall be to me a Son? And again, when He brings the firstborn into the world He says: And let all the angels of God worship him. And of the angels He says: Who makes His angels winds, and His servants a flame a fire. But of the Son He said: Your throne, O Mighty One, is for ever and ever, and the sceptre of your kingdom is a sceptre of uprightness. You have loved righteousness and hated iniquity; therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness above your fellows. And: You, Lord, in the beginning did lay the foundation of the earth, and the heavens are the works of Your hands. They shall perish, but You continue; and they all shall wear out as does a garment, and like a cloak You shall roll them up as a garment, and they shall be changed; but You are the same and Your years are without end. But of which of the angels has He said at any time: Sit on my right hand until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet? Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to do service for the sake of those that shall inherit salvation?

CHAPTER 2

Therefore we ought to give the more earnest attention to the things that we heard, lest we drift away from them. For since the message declared by angels proved to be reliable and every transgression or disobedience received a just 1:3 Jesus was the reflection of God’s glory, His image – but not God Himself. He is seated now at the right hand of God, begotten by Him (v. 5), and God is called ‘his God’ (v. 8). All this language is inappropriate if Jesus is God Himself.

1:5 Here and throughout Hebrews 1 and 2 it is emphasized that Jesus wasn’t an Angel. The claim by some that He was is simply non-Biblical.

1:14 All of the Angels are serving God, and involved in caring for us whom He is preparing to inherit eternal life in His Kingdom. All the Angels are obedient to God and doing His work – there are no sinful beings in Heaven.
retribution, 3 how shall we escape, if we neglect so great a salvation? Which having at the first been spoken through the Lord, was confirmed to us by those that heard; 4 God also bearing witness with them, both by signs and wonders and by various powers and by gifts of the Holy Spirit, according to His own will. 5 For not to angels did He subject the world to come, of which we speak. 6 But one has somewhere testified: What is man, that You are mindful of him? Or the Son of Man, that You visit him? 7 You made him a little lower than the angels, You crowned him with glory and honour and did set him over the works of Your hands; 8 You did put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that He subjected all things to him, He left nothing that is not subject to him. But now we do not see all things subjected to him.

The Humanity of Christ
9 But we behold him who has been made a little lower than the angels- Jesus- crowned with glory and honour because of his suffering of death, whereby, by the grace of God, he tasted death for every person. 10 For it became Him for whom are all things and through whom are all things, in bringing many sons to glory, to make the author of their salvation perfect through sufferings. 11 For both he that sanctifies and they that are sanctified are all of the same nature. For this cause he is not ashamed to call them brothers, 12 saying: I will declare Your name to my brothers, in the midst of the congregation will I sing Your praise. 13 And again: I will put my trust in Him. And again: Behold, I and the children whom God has given me. 14 Since then the children are sharers in flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner partook of the same nature; so that through his death he might bring to nothing him that had the power of death, that is, the Devil; 15 and might deliver all those who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. 16 For truly not to angels does he take hold in association; but he took hold of the seed of Abraham. 17 Therefore in all things he had to be made like his brothers, so that he might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation...
God cannot be tempted (James 1:13), He has no possibility of sinning. But Jesus had temptation in a meaningful, legitimate sense—in that He had the real possibility to sin.

It’s therefore not true that ‘once saved, always saved’. We must endure to the end to be saved (v. 14; Mt. 10:22).

Hard heartedness is a spiritual disease we must avoid. Numbness of conscience, of feeling to and for others, indifference to God, existing rather than living life as God intended...this must be replaced by a softness of heart, a sensitive conscience, a gentleness.

Sin deceives; hence 2:14 personifies sin as a ‘devil’, a slanderer or false accuser. We deceive ourselves that we can sin; the Bible continually focuses us upon our internal thought processes, for to change them is the essence of Christianity.

Our baptism is like leaving Egypt, crossing the Red Sea and entering the wilderness for the sins of the people. For because he himself suffered when tempted, he is able to succour those who are being tempted.

CHAPTER 3

The Supremacy of Christ Over Moses

Therefore holy brothers, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, Jesus, who was faithful to Him that appointed him, as also was Moses in all his house. For he has been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he that built the house has more honour than the house. Every house is built by someone; but He that built all things is God. And Moses indeed was faithful in all his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken. But Christ, as a Son over his own house, whose house we are if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope, remaining firm to the end.

Learn the Lesson from Israel

Therefore, even as the Holy Spirit said: Today, if you shall hear his voice, do not harden your hearts, as in the rebellion, like the time of testing in the wilderness, where your fathers put me to the test and saw my works for forty years. Therefore I was displeased with this generation, and said: They do always err in their heart. They did not know My ways. As I swore in My anger: They shall not enter into My rest. Brothers, take care, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, causing you to depart from the living God. But encourage one another day by day, so long as it is called today, lest any one of you be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we have become partakers of Christ, if we hold fast to our original confidence, remaining firm to the end. It is said: Today, if you hear his voice, do not harden your hearts, as in the rebellion. For who, having heard, still rebelled? Was it not all those who followed Moses out of Egypt? And with whom was He displeased for forty years? Was it not with those that sinned, whose bodness journey with Israel (1 Cor. 10:1). All that happened to them there, especially their failures, becomes a warning to us.

4:1 It’s no bad thing to have a sense of the future we may miss if we turn away. For the Hebrews, that meant turning back to reliance upon their own works and legal obedience.

4:2 The Gospel (“good tidings”) preached in the Old Testament was in essence the same as that of the New Testament (Gal. 3:8).

4:9 It could be argued that if a day with God is as 1000 years (2 Pet. 3:8), then the day of rest, the Sabbath, the 7th day, will begin 6 days or 6000 years after creation. Rev. 20:2-7 suggests that the first part of God’s Kingdom, the Millennium, will last for 1000 years. According to Biblical chronology, Jesus lived about 4000 years after creation. We are now 2000 years later, making 6000 years. This would mean that the coming of Christ to establish the ‘sabbath rest’ of the Millennium could be at any time now. This suggestion has some problems but it’s stimulating to reflect on it.

CHAPTER 4  May 31  Nov. 30

The Possibility of Rejection

Therefore, while the promise remains of entering His rest, let us fear lest any one of you should seem to have failed to attain it. 2 For indeed we have had good tidings preached to us, even as also they did; but the word they heard did not benefit them, because it was not united by faith with them that heard it. 3 For we who have believed do enter into that rest, even as He has said: As I swore in my anger: They shall not enter into My rest, although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. 4 For He has spoken in a certain place of the seventh day in this way: And God rested on the seventh day from all His works. 5 And in this place again: They shall not enter into My rest. 6 Seeing therefore it remains that some should enter therein, and they to whom the good tidings were earlier preached failed to enter in because of disobedience; 7 He again defines a certain day, a today, saying through David a long time afterwards (in the words already quoted): Today, if you shall hear His voice, harden not your hearts. 8 For if Joshua had given them rest, He would not have spoken afterward of another day. 9 There remains therefore a Sabbath rest for the people of God. 10 For he that is entered into His rest has himself also rested from his works, as God did from His. 11 Let us therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, that no one fall by the same kind of disobedience. 12 For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, and pierces even to the dividing apart of soul and spirit, of joints and marrow, and is quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart. 13 And there is no creature that is not revealed to his sight, but all things are naked and laid open before the eyes of him with whom we have to give account.
The Comfort of Christ’s Humanity

14 Having then a great high priest, who has passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our confession. 15 For we do not have a high priest who cannot sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who has been tempted in all things, yet did not sin. 16 Let us therefore draw near with boldness to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and may find grace to help us in our time of need.

CHAPTER 5

For every high priest, being taken from among men, is appointed for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins. 2 He can have compassion on those who are ignorant and going astray, since he himself is also subject to weakness; 3 and because of it, he is required to offer sacrifices both for his sins and also for the sins of the people. 4 And no one takes this honour to himself, but only when he is called by God, even as was Aaron. 5 So Christ also did not glorify himself to become a high priest, but He that spoke to him: You are my Son. This day have I begotten you. 6 As also He said elsewhere: You are a priest for ever, after the order of Melchizedek. 7 Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears to Him that was able to save him from death, and was heard for his Godly fear; 8 though he was a Son, yet he learned obedience by the things which he suffered. 9 And having been made perfect, he became to all those that obey him the author of eternal salvation, 10 pronounced by God a high priest after the order of Melchizedek.

Spiritual Growth

11 Of him we have much to say and hard to explain, since you have become dull of hearing. 12 For when by reason of the time, you ought to be teachers, you have need again for someone to teach you the elementary principles of the oracles of God; and have become as those in need of milk and not solid food. 13 For everyone that partakes of milk is without experience of the word of righteousness, for he is a babe. 14 But solid food is for the mature, those who by experience of use have their senses exercised to discern good and evil.
Thereupon leaving the doctrine of the first principles of Christ, let us press on to completion. Not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works, faith toward God,
2 the teaching of baptisms and of laying on of hands, the resurrection of the dead and of eternal judgment.
3 And if God permits, this will we do.

The Need for Endurance

4 For as touching those who were once enlightened and tasted the heavenly gift and were made partakers of the Holy Spirit, 5 who tasted the good word of God and the powers of the age to come, 6 but then fell away—it is impossible to renew them again to repentance, seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame. 7 For the earth which drinks in the rain that often comes upon it, and bears herbs useful for those by whom it is cultivated, receives blessing from God. 8 But if it bears thorns and thistles, it is rejected and in danger of being cursed, whose end is to be burned. 9 But beloved, though we speak in this manner, we are confident of better things for you; things that accompany salvation. 10 For God is not unrighteous to forget your work, and the love which you have shown toward His Name, in that you serve the saints and still do. 11 And we desire that each one of you may show the same zeal to have the full assurance of hope until the end. 12 Do not be lazy, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

The Certainty of God’s Promise

13 For when God made a promise to Abraham, since He could swear by none greater, He swore by Himself, 14 saying: Surely blessing I will bless you and multiplying I will multiply you. 15 And thus, having patiently endured, he obtained the promise. 16 For men swear by something greater, and in every dispute of theirs, the oath is final for confirmation. 17 Therefore God, determined to show more abundantly to the heirs of the promise the immutability of His purpose, confirmed with an oath; 18 so that by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to we should develop over time so that we are able to move on from basic Gospel teachings [“milk”] to deeper things.

6:5 The miraculous gifts of the Holy Spirit which were experienced in the first century are the same gifts which will be used in “the age to come”, the Kingdom. These gifts will be poured out again when Christ returns to establish the Kingdom on earth. Therefore they are not possessed at this moment.

6:6 This seems to be specifically talking about those in the first century who possessed the miraculous Holy Spirit gifts; in our time, we can always repent and be assured of forgiveness and acceptance by God.

6:18 Fled for refuge – An allusion to the way in which under the Law of Moses, if you accidentally killed someone [thereby committing a sin worthy of death, but not lay hold on the hope set before us. 19 This hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast and passing into the presence beyond the veil; 20 into which as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

CHAPTER 7

For this Melchizedek, king of Jerusalem, priest of God Most High, met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings and blessed him; 2 to whom also Abraham divided a tenth part of all. He was first, by interpretation, King of righteousness, and then also, King of Jerusalem, which is, King of peace. 3 He was without recorded father or mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life but presented as being like the Son of God, abiding a priest continually. 4 Now consider how great this man was, to whom Abraham, the patriarch, gave a tenth of the spoils. 5 And they indeed of the sons of Levi that receive the priest's office have the commandment according to the law to take tithes from the people, that is, of their brothers; even though they are also descendants of Abraham. 6 Melchizedek was not descended from Levi by genealogy, but he took tithes of Abraham and blessed him that had received the promises. 7 But without any dispute the less is blessed of the better. 8 And here mortal men receive tithes; but there one received them, of whom it is witnessed that he lives. 9 And, so to say, when Abraham paid the tithe, Levi, whose descendants receive the tithe, also paid a tithe. 10 For Levi was yet in the loins of his ancestor Abraham when Melchizedek met Abraham. 11 Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it the people received the law), what further need was there for another priest to arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after the order of Aaron? 12 For the priesthood being changed requires also a change of the law. 13 For he of whom these things are said belongs to another tribe, from which no one has ever served at the altar. 14 For it is evident that our Lord originated from the tribe of Judah. Regarding this tribe Moses spoke nothing concerning priesthood. 15 And what we say is even more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek willingly], you could flee to a city of refuge, and remain there until the death of the High Priest; you would be safe in that city, and pronounced free when the High Priest died (Num. 35:24-32). We are in such a situation; the city of refuge and High Priest we have is Christ.

7:3 Melchizedek was not Jesus – he was “like the Son of God”, and Jesus was a priest similar to him (v. 11). The Hebrew Christians were complaining that Jesus was not from the priestly tribe, Levi, but from Judah (v. 14). The point is that Melchizedek, the great Old Testament priest, had no genealogy [“Without father, without mother”], and yet was still a priest.
there arises another priest,

16 who has been appointed, not on the basis of a law about physical descent, but according to the power of an endless life. 17 For it is witnessed: You are a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek. 18 On the other hand, there is an annulling of the former commandment because of its weakness and unprofitableness (for the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of a better hope, through which we draw near to God.

The End of the Old Priesthood

20 And the Melchizedek priesthood was not without the taking of an oath. 21 The Levitical priests were made priests without an oath, but he with an oath: The Lord swore and will not change His mind; you are a priest for ever. 22 By this also has Jesus become the surety of a better covenant. 23 And they indeed have been made priests many in number, because that by death they are hindered from continuing. 24 But he, because he abides for ever, has his priesthood unchangeable. 25 Therefore he is able to save for ever those that draw near to God through him, seeing he lives forever to make intercession for them. 26 For such a High Priest was fitting for us—holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and has been exalted higher than the heavens. 27 Who needs not to offer up sacrifices daily, like those high priests, first for his own sins and then for those of the people. For this he did once for all, when he offered up himself. 28 For the law appoints as high priests men who have weakness, but the word of the oath, which came after the law, appoints the Son who has been perfected forever.

CHAPTER 8

Now in the things of which we are talking, the chief point is this. We have such a high priest who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, a servant of the sanctuary and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, not man. 3 For every high priest being appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices, it is therefore necessary that this high priest also have these to offer. 4 Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at 7:16 Has been appointed – Jesus was given eternity by God; He therefore isn’t God Himself.

7:18, 19 The Law of Moses has been ‘annulled’ and is therefore not binding upon us today – it is ‘unprofitable’. Throughout this section, the Law of Moses is spoken of in very inferior terms compared to the excellency of salvation in Christ.

7:27 Offered up Himself – Jesus was both priest and sacrifice. This indicates how in control He was of the situation as He died, despite the evident pain and distress He was under.

7:28 Been perfected – Hardly the language one would expect if Jesus is God Himself.

8:3 Jesus is actively at work in Heaven for us. He offers up our works, our thoughts, our prayers, to God.
HEBREWS 8:4–9:4

8:7 There was ‘fault’ (v. 8) with the Old Covenant [the Law of Moses]; the New Covenant is “better” (v. 6). We therefore don’t need to keep the Law of Moses.

8:9 Took them by the hand – This is a picture of a loving Father taking the hand of a child to lead them. This is how gentle God was in leading His people out of Egypt and through the Red Sea – events which represent our exit from this world’s ways and passing through the water of baptism (1 Cor. 10:1).

8:13 Ready to vanish away – Suggesting that Hebrews was written shortly before the destruction of the temple worship system in AD70.

9:3 When Jesus died, the veil was torn (Mt. 27:51). This symbolized that through His death, not just the High Priest but all in Christ can enter the Most Holy Place and have direct fellowship with God (v. 8); not just once a year on the day of Atonement, but continually.
and the tables of the covenant. 5 And above it were cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat, of which things we cannot now speak in detail. 6 Now these things having been thus prepared, the priests went in continually into the first tabernacle, performing the services. 7 But into the second only the high priest went, and he but once a year, and not without taking blood, which he offered for himself and for the sins of the people; 8 the Holy Spirit indicating that the way into the Holy Place was not yet made manifest whilst the first tabernacle remained 9 (which is symbolic for the present age). According to this system, both gifts and sacrifices were offered which could not make the worshiper perfect as relates to the conscience, 10 being merely foods, drinks and various washings, earthly ordinances imposed until a time of reformation. 11 But Christ having become a high priest of the good things to come, through the greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, 12 nor yet through the blood of goats and calves, but through his own blood, he entered in once for all into the Holy Place, having obtained eternal redemption. 13 For if the blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, could sanctify to the cleansing of the flesh- 14 how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to God, cleanse your conscience from blemish to God, cleanse your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? 15 And because of this, he is the mediator of a new covenant; that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first covenant, they that have been called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance. 16 For where a will is of power, there must of necessity be the death of him that made it. 17 For a will is of force where there has been death; it does not have power while he that made it lives. 18 Therefore even the first covenant has not been dedicated without blood. 19 For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of the calves and the goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people, 20 saying: This is the blood of the covenant which God commanded for you. 21 Moreover the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry he sprinkled in like manner with the blood. 22 And according to the law, I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood; and apart from shedding of blood there is no remission of sin. 23 It was necessary therefore that the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed

9:19 Water, scarlet and hyssop all feature in the events of Christ’s crucifixion, which the Old Testament rituals pointed forward to.

9:22 Almost – Blood was required for the forgiveness of sins, so animals had to be offered. But there were cases where the Law of Moses stipulated that if someone was too poor to offer an animal, they could offer grain or flour. This shows how although God respects His own principles, He is so eager to grant forgiveness and have fellowship with people, even if their personal circumstances preclude them from serving Him in the way He ideally requires.

9:27 After death we die and are unconscious until Christ comes, but this period of death is like a sleep; after we die, our next conscious moment will be the return of Christ and standing before Him at judgment.

9:28 To bring salvation — We will only be fully ‘saved’ when Christ returns and gives us an immortal body and inheritance in His Kingdom on earth.

10:4 However, God does state in the Old Testament that He forgave people their sins when they offered sacrifice. They were forgiven not because God was pleased with the blood as red liquid; but on account of the fact that it pointed forward to the future sacrifice of Christ, and because it showed they recognized that sin brings death. By placing their hand on the head of the sacrifice, they accepted it as their representative.

CHAPTER 10

The Weakness of the Mosaic System

For the law having only a shadow of the good things to come, not the reality of the things, can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect those that draw near. 2 Else would they not have ceased to be offered? Because the worshipers, having been once cleansed, would have had no more consciousness of sins. 3 But in that sacrificial system there is a remembrance made of sins year by year. 4 For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins. 5 Therefore when he came into the world, he said: Sacrifice and offering You did not want, but a body did You prepare for me. 6 In whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin You had no pleasure. 7 Then said I: Behold, I come (in the roll of the book it is written about me) to do Your will, O God. 8 First he said: Sacrifice and offering, burnt offerings, and offerings for sin You did not desire, nor did You have pleasure in them (all of which are offered according to the law). 9 Then he said: Behold, I come to do Your will. He takes away the first, that he may establish the second. 10 By which will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ with these things, but the heavenly things themselves had better sacrifices than these. 24 For Christ has not entered the holy places made with hands, which are only copies of the true ones; but into Heaven itself, now to appear in the actual presence of God for us. 25 Nor must he offer himself often, as the high priest enters into the Holy Place year by year with blood not his own. 26 Or else he must often have suffered since the foundation of the world; but now once at the end of the ages has he been manifested to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. 27 And inasmuch as it is appointed to men once to die and after this comes judgment, 28 so Christ also, having once been offered to bear the sins of many, shall appear a second time, not to deal with sin but to bring salvation to those who are eagerly waiting for him.
once for all. 11 And every priest indeed stands day by day serving, and offering often the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. 12 But he, when he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God; 13 from that time forward expectantly waiting until his enemies be made the footstool for his feet. 14 For by one offering he has perfected for ever those that are sanctified. 15 And the Holy Spirit also testifies to us. For after saying: 16 This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, says the Lord: I will put My laws into their hearts, and on their minds I will write them; 17 then is added: And their sins and their iniquities I will remember no more. 18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin required.

The Practical Result of Christ’s Sacrifice
19 Therefore brothers, having boldness to enter into the Holy Place by the blood of Jesus, 20 by the way which he dedicated for us, a new and living way, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh; 21 and having a great priest over the house of God, 22 let us draw near with a true heart in fullness of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience and having our bodies washed with pure water; 23 let us hold fast the confession of our hope so that it does not waver. For He who promised is faithful. 24 And let us consider how to provoke one another to love and good works, 25 not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the habit of some is; but rather encouraging one another, and so much the more, as you see the day drawing near.

Do Not Go Back
26 For if we sin wilfully after what we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remains no more a sacrifice for sins, but a certain fearful expectation of judgment, and a fierceness of fire which shall devour the adversaries. A man that set at nothing Moses’ law died without compassion on the word of two or three witnesses. Of how much worse punishment, do you suppose, shall be considered those who have trodden underfoot the Son of God and have counted the blood of the covenant (with which they were sanctified) an unholy thing, and have insulted the Spirit of grace? For we know Him that said: Vengeance belongs to Me, I will reward. And again: The Lord shall judge His people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God. But call to remembrance the former days, when you were first enlightened. You endured a hard struggle, with sufferings; partly in that you were made a spectacle both by reproaches and tribulations, and partly in that you became companions of those who were so treated. For you had both compassion on them that were in bonds, and joyfully accepted the plundering of your own property, knowing that you have for yourselves a better possession and an enduring one. Therefore do not throw away your boldness, which has great reward. For you have need of patience, that, having done the will of God, you may receive the promise. For yet a very little while, and he that comes shall come and shall not delay further. But My righteous one shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, My soul will have no pleasure in him. But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who have faith and preserve their souls.

CHAPTER 11

The Definition of Faith

Now faith is assurance of things hoped for, a conviction about invisible things. For on account of their faith, the elders had witness borne to them. By faith we understand that the ages have been framed by the word of God, so that what is seen has not been made out of things which appear.

Abel, Enoch and Noah

By faith Abel offered to God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he had witness borne to him that he was righteous, God bearing witness in respect to his gifts; and through it he, though being dead, still speaks. 5 By faith Enoch was snatched away so that he should not be killed; and he was not found, because God had taken him away. He had witness borne to him, that before his being snatched away he had been well pleasing to God. 6 And without faith it is impossible to be well pleasing to Him. For he that comes to God must believe that He is, and that He rewards those that seek after Him. 7 By faith Noah, being warned concerning things not seen as yet, moved with Godly fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his household. By this he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is according to faith.

Abraham and Sarah

8 By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed, and left for a place which he was to receive for an inheritance afterwards. And he left not knowing where he was going to. 9 By faith he became a sojourner in the land of promise, as yet not his own, dwelling in tents, with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise. 10 For he looked for the city which has the foundations, whose builder and maker is God. 11 By faith even Sarah herself received power to conceive seed when she was past age, since she counted Him faithful who had made the promise. 12 Therefore from one man, and him as good as dead, were born as many as the stars of the sky in multitude-innumerable as the sand which is by the seashore. 13 These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them, and greeted them from afar, and having confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. 14 For they that say such things make it obvious that they are seeking after a country of their own. 15 And if indeed they had been mindful of that country from which they went out, they would have had opportunity to return. 16 But now they desire a better country.
ter country, that is, a heavenly one. Therefore God is not ashamed of them— to be called their God. For He has prepared for them a city. 17 By faith Abraham, being tested, offered up Isaac. Yes, he that had gladly received the promises was offering up his only begotten son. 18 Even he to whom it was said: In Isaac shall your seed be called. 19 Abraham accounted that God is able to raise up, even from the dead. From where he did, figuratively, receive him back.

Isaac, Jacob and Joseph
20 By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even concerning things to come. 21 By faith Jacob, when he was dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph and worshiped, leaning upon the top of his staff. 22 By faith Joseph, when his end was near, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel and gave commandment concerning his bones.

Moses
23 By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid for three months by his parents, because they saw he was a goodly child, and they were not afraid of the king’s commandment. 24 By faith, Moses, when he had grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh’s daughter, 25 choosing instead to share ill treatment with the people of God, rather than enjoy the pleasures of sin for a short time; 26 considering the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt. For he looked to the greater reward. 27 By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the anger of the king. For he endured, because he saw Him who is invisible. 28 By faith he kept the Passover and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the firstborns should not touch them. 29 By faith they passed through the Red Sea as if on dry land, which the Egyptians in trying to do were swallowed up.

Joshua, Rahab and Many Others
30 By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been compassed about for seven days. 31 By faith Rahab the prostitute did not perish with those that were disobedient, having received the spies with peace. 32 And what more shall I say? For time will run out if I tell of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, of David and Samuel and the prophets. 33 Those who through faith subdued kingdoms, worked righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, 34 quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weakness were made strong, became mighty in war, turned to flight armies of aliens. 35 Women received their dead by a resurrection; and others were tortured, not ac-

11:27 Not fearing – But Ex. 2:14,15 says: “Moses was afraid, and thought, “Surely the thing is known.” When Pharaoh heard of it, he sought to kill Moses. But Moses fled from Pharaoh”. We can conclude that Moses did have fear, and yet his faith overcame that fear. Faith wasn’t automatic nor easy for him, but involved much struggle (v. 11 note).
of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which so easily ensnares us, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, 2 looking to Jesus the author and completer of faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and has been sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. 3 Think on him that endured such hostility from sinners against himself, so that you do not grow weary and lose heart. 4 In your striving against sin you have yet to resist to the point of shedding your blood.

The Reason for Suffering

5 You have forgotten the word of encouragement which reasons with you as with sons: My son, do not regard lightly the chastening of the Lord, nor become faint when you are reproved by Him. 6 For the Lord

---

11:40 God’s plan is that all the faithful receive the promises (eternal life in God’s Kingdom on earth) at the same time – at the return of Christ, when the dead will be resurrected, judged and given immortality here on earth. It’s therefore not true that one believer dies, goes to Heaven and gets rewarded, 100 years later another one does, etc. The true Christian hope is that of bodily resurrection from the dead when Christ returns to establish His Kingdom.

12:1 The faithful listed in chapter 11 are as it were a great crowd who are cheering us on as we run our race towards the Kingdom.

12:3 Think on Him – We are to live life always “looking to Jesus” (v. 2). But how many times each day do we think of Him? We should be reading something of Him each day, reflecting on Him and His words, so that His example is the constant guide for our lives.

12:4 An allusion to Jesus sweating as it were drops of blood as He battled temptation in Gethsemane (Lk. 22:44).

12:5-11 Suffering comes from God, and in the context of Christian life it is given in order to develop us spiritually. The idea that good things come from God and bad things from Satan is therefore wrong. Nothing is chance or bad luck in our lives. God is in control and all negative things occur for our ultimate good as believers. This takes some faith to accept.
disciplines those whom He loves, and chastises every son whom He receives. 7 Endure your sufferings as a father’s chastening; it shows how God deals with you as with sons. For what son is there whom his father does not chastise? 8 But if you are without chastening, of which all have been made partakers, then aren’t you illegitimate children and not real sons? 9 Furthermore, we had the fathers of our flesh to chasten us, and we gave them respect; shall we not much rather be in subjection to the Father of spirits and live? 10 For they indeed for a few days chastened us as seemed good to them; but He for our profit, so that we may be partakers of His holiness. 11 All chastening seems for the present to be not joyous but grievous; yet afterward it yields peaceable fruit to those that have been exercised thereby—the fruit of righteousness. 12 Therefore strengthen the hands which hang down and the feeble knees, 13 and make straight paths for your feet, so that what is lame may not be disabled further, but rather be healed. 14 Follow after peace with all men, and the holiness without which no one shall see the Lord. 15 See to it that no one comes short of the grace of God; that no root of bitterness springing up causes trouble, and by it many are defiled. 16 Ensure that no one is an immoral or Godless person like Esau, who for one meal sold his own birthright. 17 For you know that afterward, when he wanted to inherit the blessing, he was rejected; for he found no conditions for a change of mind, though he sought it diligently with tears.

Zion Rather than Sinai

18 For you have not come to a mountain that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and to blackness and darkness and tempest, 19 and the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words which they that heard them begged that no more words should be spoken to them. 20 For they could not endure that which was commanded—If even a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned. 21 And so fearful was the appearance that Moses said: I am exceedingly afraid and trembling. 22 But you have come to association with mount Zion and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to innumerable hosts of angels, 23 to the general assembly and church of the firstborns, who are enrolled in heaven; and to God the judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect, 24 and to Jesus the mediator of a new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaks... better things than that of Abel. 25 See you do not reject him that speaks. For if they did not escape when they rejected Him that warned them on earth, much more shall not we escape if we turn away from him that warns from heaven. 26 Whose voice then shook the earth, but now He has promised, saying: Yet once more will I make to tremble not the earth only, but also heaven. 27 And further: Yet once more, signifies the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that have been made, that those things which are not shaken may remain. 28 Therefore, receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, let us have grace, whereby we may offer service well-pleasing to God with reverence and awe. 29 For our God is a consuming fire.

et love of the believers continue. 2 Do not forget to show love to strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. 3 Remember those that are in bonds, as if you were bound with them; those that are ill treated, as being yourselves also in the body. 4 Let marriage be held in respect among all, and let the marital bed be undefiled. For fornicators and adulterers God will judge. 5 Be free from the love of money, content with such things as you have. For God Himself has said: I will in no way fail you, neither will I in any way forsake you. 6 So that with good courage we can say: The Lord is my helper. I will not fear. What shall man do to me? 7 Remember those that had the rule over you, those who spoke to you the word of God. Consider the outcome of their life, and imitate their faith. 8 Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and for ever. 9 Do not be carried away by various and strange teachings. For it is good that the heart be established by grace- not with food laws, which have not profited those who have been so occupied with them. 10 We have an altar from which those who serve the tabernacle have no right to eat. 11 For the bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the Holy Place by the high priest as an offering for sin, are burned outside of the camp. 12 Therefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people through... his own blood, suffered outside of the gate. 13 Let us therefore go to him outside the camp, bearing his reproach. 14 For we do not have here a permanent city, but we seek after one which is yet to come. 15 Through him, therefore, let us continually offer up a sacrifice of praise to God; that is, the fruit of lips which make confession to His Name. 16 But do not forget to do good and to share, for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. 17 Obey those who rule over you, and be submissive; for they watch out for your souls, as those who must give account. Let them do so with joy and not with grief, for that would be unprofitable for you.

Final Requests and Greetings
18 Pray for us. For we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honourably in all things. 19 And I exhort you the more exceedingly to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner. 20 Now the God of peace, who brought from the dead the great shepherd of the sheep, our Lord Jesus, through the blood of an eternal covenant, 21 perfect you in every good thing to do His will; working in you that which is pleasing in His sight, through Jesus Christ. To whom be the glory for ever and ever. Amen. 22 But I urge you, brothers, bear with this word of encouragement; for I have written to you in few words. 23 Be informed that our brother Timothy has been set at liberty; along with whom, if he comes soon, I will see you. 24 Greet all those that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy greet you. 25 Grace be with you all. Amen.

13:15 We should be praising God all the time. This might be through singing or humming Christian music to ourselves, or simply having a thankful heart for everything, even the very [apparently] smallest things.

13:19 The sooner – The more they prayed (v. 18), the more quickly he would be released. Prayer really does change things, and therefore we should be in the habit of asking others to pray for us, and praying for them too.
JAMES

CHAPTER 1

James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are of the dispersion, greeting. 2 Count it all joy, my brothers, when you fall into various temptations, knowing that the proving of your faith works patience. 3 And let patience have its perfect work, so that you may be perfect and entire, lacking in nothing. 4 But if any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives to all liberally and without reproaching, and it shall be given him. 5 But let him ask in faith, never doubting. For he that doubts is like the surge of the sea driven by the wind and tossed. 6 Do not let that man think that he shall receive anything from the Lord. 8 He is a doubleminded man, unstable in all his ways. 9 Let the lowly brother glory in his exaltation, but the rich in his humiliation, because as a flower of the field he will pass away. 11 For the sun rises with the scorching wind and withers the grass, and the flower of it falls and the beauty of its appearance perishes. So also shall the rich man fade away in his business.

Temptation and God’s Word

12 Blessed is the man that endures temptation. For when he has been approved, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord has promised to them that love him. 13 Let no one say when he is tempted: I am tempted by God. For God cannot be tempted with evil, and He tempts no one. 14 But each man is tempted, when he is dragged away by his own lust and enticed. 15 Then the lust, when it has conceived, carries sin; and the sin, when it is fully grown, brings death. 16 Be not deceived, my beloved brothers. 17 Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom can be no variation nor shifting shadow. 18 Of His own will He gave us birth by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of His creations. 19 You know this, my beloved brothers! But let every man be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger. 20 For the anger of man does not work the righteousness of God. 21 Wherefore put away all filthiness and rampant wickedness, and receive with meekness the implanted word which is able to save your souls.

1:5 The allusion here is to Solomon, who when given the choice of whatever he wanted, chose wisdom – and therefore so much else was added to him.
1:13 Jesus was tempted (Heb. 2:14-18; 4:15); yet God cannot be. Therefore, Jesus cannot be God in person.
1:14, 15 Sin and temptation come from within; we are tempted by our own desires, not by any cosmic being called Satan. We are therefore totally responsible for our sin, and the result of sin is therefore quite rightly death.
1:18 The word of God is likened to seed in Lk. 8:11; 1 Pet. 1:23. This is what has the power to birth the spiritual man within us. We should therefore be quick to hear it (:19).
Self-examination

22 But be doers of the word and not hearers only, deluding your selves. 23 For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like to a man seeing his natural face in a mirror; 24 for he sees himself and goes away and immediately forgets what manner of man he was. 25 But he that looks into the perfect law of liberty and continues, being not a hearer that forgets, but a doer that works, this man shall be blessed in what he does. 26 If anyone thinks himself to be religious while he does not hold his tongue but rather just deceives his own heart, this man’s religion is vain. 27 Pure and undefiled religion before God the Father is this: To visit orphans and widows in their trouble, and to keep oneself unstained by the world.

Surface Level Judgment

My brothers, do not hold the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with partiality. 2 For if there come into your synagogue a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, and there come in also a poor man in vile clothing; 3 and you have regard to him that wears the fine clothing, and say: Sit here in a good place; and you say to the poor man: Stand there, or, Sit under my footstool; 4 do you not make distinctions among yourselves, and become judges with evil thoughts? 5 Listen, my beloved brothers. Did not God choose those that are poor in the world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom which he promised to those that love him? 6 But you have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich oppress you, and themselves drag you before the courts? 7 Do not they blaspheme the honourable Name by which you are called? 8 However, if you fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture: You shall love your neighbour as yourself, you do well! 9 But if you show favouritism, you commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. 10 For whoever shall keep the whole law and yet stumble in one point, he is guilty of breaking all of it. 11 For He that said: Do not commit adultery, also said: Do not kill. So if you do not commit adultery but if you kill, you have become a transgressor of the law. 12 So speak and act as men that are to be judged by a law of liberty. 13 For judgment is without mercy to whomsoever has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment.

Faith and Works

14 My brothers, what good is it if a man claims to have faith but has no works? Can that faith save him? 15 If a brother or sister is naked and in lack of daily food, 16 and one of you says to them: Go in peace, be warmed and filled! And yet you do not give them the things needful to the body—what does it profit? 17 Even so, faith, if it does not have works, is dead in itself. 18 Yes, a man will say, you have faith and I have works. Show me your faith apart from your works and I, by my works, will show you my faith. 19 You believe that God is one! You do well. The demons also believe and shudder. 20 But, O vain man, do you need evidence that faith without works is useless? 21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up Isaac his son upon the altar? 22 You saw that faith worked together with his works, and so by works was faith perfected. 23 And the scripture was fulfilled which said: And Abraham believed God and it was accredited to him as righteousness; and he was called the friend of God. 24 You see that by works a man is justified and not only by faith. 25 And in like manner was not also Rahab the harlot justified by works, in that she received the messengers and sent them out another way? 26 For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

CHAPTER 3

The Tongue

Be not many teachers. My brothers, realize that we teachers shall receive heavier judgment. 2 For in many things we all make others stumble. If any does not cause stumbling by his words, the same is a perfect man, able to bridle the whole body also. 3 Now if we put the horses' bridles into their mouths that they may obey us, we turn about their whole body also. 4 Behold the ships also, though they are so great and are driven by rough winds, they are all the same turned about by a very small rudder, wherever the impulse of the steersman wills. 5 So the tongue also is a little member, and boasts great things. Behold, how much wood is kindled by how small a fire! 6 And the tongue is a fire. The world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, which defiles the whole body and sets on fire the wheel of nature, and is set on fire by Gehenna. 7 For every kind of beasts and birds, of creeping things and things in the sea, is tamed and has been tamed by mankind. 8 But the tongue no one can tame; it is a restless evil, it is full of deadly poison. 9 With this we bless the Lord and the Father, and with this we curse men, even though they are made after the likeness of God. 10 Out of the same mouth comes forth blessing and cursing. My brothers, these things ought not to be so. 11 Does the fountain send forth from the same spout both fresh and bitter water? 12 My brothers, can a fig tree yield olives or a vine figs? Neither can salt water yield fresh.

3:6 Our words really can lead us to eternal condemnation; for by our words we will be either condemned or saved (Mt. 12:37). The control of our thinking and words is so utterly vital; and it is these things which are the essence of Christianity.

3:13 Good works aren’t so much the occasional dramatic act, but a life lived in wisdom and humility.

3:16 Division between believers comes ultimately from jealousy and rivalry (:14; 4:1) which begins within the mind. Personal spiritual mindedness is therefore so important. Only because this isn’t achieved do we end up with divisions. And division results in “vile deeds”. Yet such division was being justified by the immature Christians as “wisdom” (:15). Hence James has to say that this isn’t wisdom at all, as true wisdom leads to unity and gentle behaviour between believers (:17).

4:1 Sin comes from within the human heart, not from some external cosmic being. James draws a connection between the ‘wars’ within the mind of the individual weak believer, and the ‘wars’ between groups of believers within the church. Divisions start because individuals aren’t single-heartedly devoted to spiritual things. He repeatedly criticizes double mindedness (:8). James constantly highlights the human mind, processes deep within the heart of the individual, as the real arena of spiritual conflict – not in Heaven or ‘out there’ in the supposed ‘spirit world’.

True Wisdom
13 Who is wise and understanding among you? Let him show his works in his good life, in meekness of wisdom. 14 But if you have bitter jealousy and rivalry in your heart, do not boast about it and deny the truth. 15 This wisdom is not a wisdom that comes down from above, but is earthly, sensual and devilish. 16 For where jealousy and division are, there is confusion and every vile deed. 17 But the wisdom that is from above is most importantly pure, then peaceable, gentle, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, without variance, without hypocrisy. 18 And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace for those that make peace.
war within you? 2 You want what you don’t have, so you murder. You covet and cannot obtain, so you fight and quarrel. You do not have, because you do not ask. 3 You ask and do not receive because you ask with the wrong motivation, you want only what will give you pleasure. 4 You adulteresses, do you not know that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Therefore, whoever would be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. 5 Or do you think that the scripture says in vain: The Spirit that dwells in us yearns jealously. 6 But He gives more grace. Wherefore the scripture said: God resists the proud but gives grace to the humble. 7 Therefore, be subject to God and resist the Devil, and the Devil will flee from you. 8 Draw near to God and He will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands you doubleminded sinners, and purify your hearts. 9 Lament and mourn and weep, let your laughter be turned to mourning and your joy to gloom. 10 Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and He shall exalt you. 11 Brothers, do not speak evil against each other. He that speaks against a brother, or judges his brother, speaks against the law, and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law but a judge. 12 One only is the lawgiver and judge. He who is able to save and to destroy. Who are you to judge your neighbour? 13 Come now, you that say that today or the next day we will go into this city and spend a year there and trade and make a profit. 14 Whereas you do not know what shall be the next day. What is your life? For you are as a vapour that appears for a little time, and then vanishes away. 15 For you ought to say: If the Lord wills it, we shall both live and do this or that. 16 But now you boast in your arrogance. All such boasting is evil. 17 Therefore, to him that knows to do good and does it not, to him it is sin.

CHAPTER 5  Jun. 10  Dec. 10

A Call for Justice

Come now, you rich, weep and howl for the miseries that are coming upon you. 2 Your riches are corrupted and your garments are moth eaten. 3 Your gold and your silver are rusted, and their rust shall be a testimony against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. You have laid up your treasure in the last days. 4 Indeed, the wages of the labourers who mowed your fields, which you kept back by fraud, cry out; and the cries of the reapers have reached the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth.

4:4 We are as it were married to Christ; any unfaithfulness to Christ is therefore as adultery.
4:15 We should therefore unashamedly say “God willing” when talking about our plans, no matter if others look at us strangely.
4:16 Here we have the principle of knowledge bringing responsibility to Divine judgment.
5:3 If we claim to live as if we expect Christ to return at any moment, it’s inappropriate to be saving up wealth for future enjoyment.
ears of the Lord of Sabaoth. 5 You have lived on the earth in pleasure and luxury; you have fattened your hearts only for a day of slaughter. 6 You have condemned, you have killed the righteous, even though he does not oppose you.

A Call for Patience
7 Therefore brothers, be patient until the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waits for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until it receive the early and latter rain. 8 Be you also patient. Establish your hearts. For the coming of the Lord is at hand! 9 Brothers, do not complain about each other, so that you are not judged. Behold! The judge stands at the door! 10 Brothers, take for an example the suffering and patience of the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord. 11 Behold, we call them blessed that endured. You have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the result that the Lord intended, how the Lord is full of pity and is merciful.

Prayer and Healing
12 But above all things, my brothers, do not make oaths. Neither by the heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath; but let your yes, mean yes, and your no, mean no, so that you will not fall under judgment. 13 Is any among you suffering? Let him pray. Is any cheerful? Let him sing praise. 14 Is any among you sick? Let him call for the elders of the church and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. 15 And the prayer of faith shall save him that is sick and the Lord shall raise him up, and if he has committed sins, it shall be forgiven him. 16 Therefore, confess your sins to each other, and pray for each other, so that you may be healed. The supplication of a righteous man avails much in its working. 17 Elijah was a man of like passions with us, and he prayed fervently that it might not rain, and it did not rain on the earth for three years and six months. 18 And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain and the earth brought forth her fruit. 19 My brothers. If anyone among you wanders from the truth, and someone turns him back: 20 let him know, that he who turns back a sinner from the error of his way, he shall save a soul from death, and shall cover a multitude of sins.

5:9 If we believe that any moment now Christ will return and judge us, we will not be critical and condemnatory of our brethren.
5:11 Even when it seemed God wasn’t answering Job’s prayers nor helping him, He was in fact very pitiful of Job.
5:17 The context suggests that Elijah’s prayers for a drought were because he believed this would lead Israel to repentance and forgiveness; and he himself suffered terribly as a result of that drought, coming near to starvation.
5:20 The prayers and spiritual efforts of a third party really can lead to a believer’s forgiveness and salvation – although see 1 Jn. 5:16,17. If our prayers and efforts for others can have such eternal consequence – we should, like Paul, be praying for our brethren all the time (:15).
1 Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the chosen ones who are temporary dwellers of the dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia, chosen according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in sanctification of the Spirit, to be obedient and sprinkled by the blood of Jesus Christ. Grace to you and peace be multiplied.

The Purpose of Trials

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to His great mercy begat us to a living hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled and that does not fade away, reserved in heaven for you; you who by the power of God are guarded through faith to a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. Wherein you greatly rejoice; though now, for a little while, if need be, you have suffered many trials, so that the proof of your faith (more precious than gold that perishes though it is proved by fire) may be found to result in praise and glory and honour at the revelation of Jesus Christ; whom you love though you have not seen him. On whom you believe, though now you do not see him, and rejoice greatly with joy inexpressible and full of glory; receiving the result of your faith, the salvation of your souls. Concerning this salvation the prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come to you; searching what time or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did point to, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ and the glories that would follow them. It was revealed to them that they were not serving themselves but you, in these things which now have been announced to you through those who preached the gospel to you by the Holy Spirit sent forth from heaven. Which things the Angels desire to look into. Wherefore girding up the loins of your mind, be sober and set your hope completely on the grace that is to be brought to you at

1:4 God and Jesus are in Heaven, preparing for us a wonderful, eternal future. But we will only receive this at the last day when Jesus returns (:5). We therefore don’t go to Heaven on death to receive that future, but Christ brings it to us on earth when He returns.

1:7 The hard experiences of life are like fire applied to us, purging out the dross, and making our dirty piece of rock turn into pure gold. It’s hard to imagine, but we will be “praised” by Jesus at the last day – just as He enthusiastically commends the faithful for the good things they did which they had forgotten (Mt. 25:36,37). This is how positively Jesus views us.

1:13 Our faith isn’t to be a hobby, but our complete focus in life should be upon the grace which will result in us being given eternity when Christ returns.
the revelation of Jesus Christ. 14 As children of obedience, do not be conformed to the lusts you had in your former ignorance. 15 But like He who called you is holy, be you yourselves holy in all manner of living. 16 Because it is written: You shall be holy, for I am holy.

Our Response to the Gospel
17 And if you call on Him as Father, who without partiality judges according to each man’s work, pass the time of your sojourning in fear. 18 Knowing you were redeemed, not with corruptible things, with silver or gold, from your vain manner of life handed down from your fathers; 19 but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without spot. 20 He was foreknown before the foundation of the world, but was manifested at the end of times for your sake, 21 who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory. So that your faith and hope might be in God. 22 Seeing you have purified your souls in your obedience to the truth to sincere love of the brothers, fervently love one another from the heart. 23 Having been begotten again, not of corruptible seed but of incorruptible, through the word of God, which lives and endures. 24 For, All flesh is as grass and all the glory of it as the flower of grass. The grass withers and the flower falls, 25 but the word of the Lord endures for ever. And this is the word of good news which was preached to you.

CHAPTER 2
Therefore, put away all wickedness, deceit, hypocrisies, envies and all evil speaking. 2 Be as newborn babes, longing for the spiritual milk which is without deceit, so that you may grow thereby to salvation, 3 if indeed you have tasted that the Lord is gracious.

The New Temple
4 Come to him as to a living stone, indeed rejected by men but chosen by God and precious. 5 You as living stones are being built up into a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. 6 Because it is contained in scripture: Look, I lay in Zion a chief corner stone.
stone, chosen, precious. And he that believes in him shall not stumble. 7 Therefore, for you that believe he is precious. But to those who are disobedient, the stone which the builders rejected has become the chief cornerstone, 8 a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence. For being disobedient, they stumble at the word; to which they also were appointed. 9 But you are an elect race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for God’s own possession, that you may show forth the excellence of Him who called you out of darkness into his marvellous light. 10 Who in times past were no people but now are the people of God. Who had not obtained mercy but now have obtained mercy. 11 Beloved, I urge you as temporary residents and pilgrims, to abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul. 12 Keep your conduct among the Gentiles honourable, so that when they speak against you as evildoers, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day of visitation.

_Our Attitude to Those in Authority_

13 Be subject to every ordinance of man for the Lord’s sake. Whether to the king, as supreme leader, 14 or to governors as those sent by him to punish evil-doers and for the praise of those that do well. 15 For so is the will of God, that by well-doing you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men. 16 As free and not using your freedom for a cloak of wickedness, but as bondservants of God. 17 Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king. 18 Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all fear, not only to the good and gentle but also to the harsh. 19 For it is commendable if because of conscience toward God one endures grief - suffering unjustly. 20 For what glory is it, if, when you sin and are beaten, you shall take it patiently? But if when you do well, and suffer, you shall take it patiently, this is acceptable with God. 21 For this were you called. Because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, that you should follow his steps. 22 He did no sin, neither was deceit found in his mouth. 23 Who, when he was insulted, did not retaliate with insults, when he suffered, he did not threaten, but committed himself to Him that judges righteously. 24 Who himself bore our sins in his body upon the tree, that we, having died to sin, might live to righteousness; by whose stripes you were healed. 25 For you were going astray like sheep, but are now returned to the shepherd and overseer of your souls.

Husbands and Wives

In like manner, you wives be in subjection to your husbands. That, even if any do not obey the word, they may without the word be gained by the behaviour of their wives, seeing your chaste behaviour coupled with fear. Whose adorning, let it not be the outward adorning of braiding the hair and of wearing jewels of gold, or of putting on apparel; but let it be the hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible apparel of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great value. For after this manner, in the past, the holy women who trusted in God also made themselves beautiful by submitting to their husbands. As Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord. Whose children you now are, if you do well and are not put in fear by any terror. You husbands, in like manner live with your wife with understanding, giving honour to the woman as to the weaker vessel, as being also joint-heirs of the grace of life, so that your prayers are not impeded.

A Gracious Life

8 Finally, all of you, be likeminded, compassionate, loving as brothers, sensitive, humble. 9 Not rendering evil for evil, or reviling for reviling, but instead give blessing. For this were you called, that you should inherit a blessing. 10 For he that would love life and see good days, let him restrain his tongue from evil and restrain his lips so they speak no lies. And let him turn away from evil and do good; let him seek peace and pursue it. 12 For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and His ears to their prayers; but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.

Coping with Persecution

13 And who is he that will harm you, if you be zealous for what is good? 14 But even if you should suffer for righteousness’ sake, you are blessed. And do not be afraid of their threats, nor be troubled, but sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord, always ready to give answer to every man that asks you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet with meekness and fear. Having a good con-

3:1 Peter writes here speaking about Christian marriage, in which both parties are heirs and therefore hope for eternal life (v. 7). He tacitly recognizes that no marriage will be perfect and that the man will at times fail the huge challenge of loving his wife as Christ loved and died for the church (Eph. 5:25).

3:6 Sarah is only recorded as calling Abraham her “Lord” when we are told that she thought this about him in her heart (Gen. 18:12). In fact she said this in disbelief in the promises of God – in her heart she initially thought God’s promises of her and Abraham having a child couldn’t come true because “my Lord” was so old and impotent (Rom. 4:19). However we see how both spirituality and unspirituality can exist within the heart of believers at the same time; and God here chose to focus upon the positive. His positivity about His children is an example to us, as well as a comfort.

3:7 Peter here assumes that believing husbands and wives will be regularly praying together; although those prayers will lose power if there is marital strife.
Baptism is therefore related to salvation; by being in Christ we have a clear conscience before God because all our sins really are forgiven and we are counted by Him as being His own Son, the perfect Lord Jesus.

We shouldn’t be surprised if the world views us as strange and even gets aggressive with us because of our refusal to do the sinful things which they do. What they don’t appreciate is that we have to give account to God for our lives, whereas they simply live and die for ever (:5).

Whatever gifts we receive from God, we are given them only to give them as gifts to others. These gifts may not be financial; but the poor need not think they have been given no gifts. We have each been given gifts by God.
with the ability which God supplies, that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ. To whom belongs the glory and the dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

Encouragement for the Last Days

12 Beloved, do not think it strange concerning the fiery trial which is to test you, as though some strange thing happened to you. 13 But insomuch as you are partakers of Christ’s sufferings, rejoice! That at the revelation of his glory you also may rejoice with exceeding joy. 14 If you are reproached for the name of Christ, you are blessed; because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God rests upon you. 15 For let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil-doer, or as a meddler in other men’s matters. 16 But if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed but let him glorify God in this name. 17 For the time of judgment begins at the house of God, and if we are judged first, what shall be the outcome of those that do not obey the gospel of God? 18 And if the righteous are scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear? 19 Therefore, let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit their souls in doing well to a faithful Creator.

Elders in the Church

The elders among you I urge (I who am a fellow-elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, who is also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed), 2 tend the flock of God which is among you, exercising the oversight, not reservedly but willingly, according to the will of God; not for dishonest gain, but eagerly. 3 Neither lord it over those entrusted to you, but make yourselves examples to the flock. 4 And when the chief Shepherd shall be manifested, you shall receive the crown of glory that does not fade away. 5 Likewise, you younger ones, be subject to the elder men. Yes, all of you gird yourselves with humility, to serve one another. For God resists the proud but gives grace to the humble. 6 Therefore, humble yourselves under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time; 7 casting all your anxiety upon Him, because He cares for you.

Stand Firm

8 Be sober, be watchful. Your adversary the Devil, like a roaring lion, walks about seeking whom he may devour. 9 Stand firm in your faith, knowing that the same sufferings are experienced by your brothers who are in the world. 10 And the God of all grace, who called you to His eternal glory in Christ, after you have suffered a little while, shall Himself perfect, establish, strengthen you. 11 To Him be the dominion for ever and ever. Amen. 12 By Silvanus, our faithful brother, as I account him, I have written to you briefly, exhorting and testifying that this is the true grace of God. Stand fast in it! 13 She that is in Babylon, elect together with you, greets you, and so does Marcus my son. 14 Greet each other with a kiss of love. Peace be to you all that are in Christ.

the “sufferings” of the Christians to whom Peter was writing (5:9); and this was clearly the Roman empire, rather than any cosmic being.

5:9 We are strengthened in our sufferings by realizing that in fact they aren’t unique to us, but somewhere, another believer is going through the same in essence. This is how Christian fellowship and engaging meaningfully with other believers on a spiritual rather than a merely human level can give such strength.
“Precise and correct knowledge” is important; it therefore does matter what and how we believe and understand God and His word. It’s not that academic purity of understanding is important in itself; but this “correct knowledge” is useful for practical Godliness. This knowledge produces fruit in practice (:8).

1:5, 6 There is an upward spiral in spiritual life, just as there is a downward spiral. One spiritual strength is connected with and leads to others.

The Certainty of Truth
12 Wherefore I shall be ready always to put you in remembrance of these things, though you know them and are established in the truth which is with you. 13 And I think it right, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance. 14 Knowing that the putting off of my tabernacle comes swiftly, even as our Lord Jesus Christ indicated to me. 15 Yes, I will give diligence that at every time you may be able after my death to call these things to remembrance. 16 For we did not follow cunningly devised fables, when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewit-nesses of his majesty. 17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, delivered to him by such a voice from the Majestic Glory: This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. 18 And this voice we heard, delivered out of heaven, when we were with him on the holy mount. 19 And we have the word of prophecy made yet more sure; to which you do well that you take heed, as a lamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawns and the day-star arises in your hearts. 20 Knowing this first, that no prophecy of scripture is of private interpretation. 21 For no prophecy ever came by the will of man, but men spoke from God, being moved by the Holy Spirit.

CHAPTER 2

False Teachers

But there arose false prophets also among the people, as among you also there shall be false teachers, who shall secretly bring in destructive heresies, denying even the master that bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. 2 And many shall follow their destructive ways, by reason of whom the way of the truth shall be blasphemed. 3 And in covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you. Their sentence now from of old does not linger, and their destruction does not slumber.

Old Testament Examples of Judgment

4 For if God did not spare the angels who sinned, but cast them down to Tartarus and committed them to pits of darkness, to be reserved until judgment; 5 and did not spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah with seven others, a preacher of righteousness, when He brought a flood upon the world of the ungodly; 6 and turned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes, condemning them to destruction, having made them an example to those that should live ungodly lives; 7 and delivered righteous Lot, distressed by the filthy conduct of the wicked 8 (for that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, tormented his righteous soul from day to day with their lawless deeds): 9 therefore the Lord knows how to deliver the godly out

1:21 The Bible was written by inspiration of God – the writers were moved by God’s Spirit so that the words they wrote weren’t merely their private views, but the word of God. This is why the Bible is so unique and needs to be read and meditated upon daily. The word of God is to be the light for us in the darkness of this world, until the “day” of Christ’s return dawns (:19).

2:1 Among the people – The people of Israel. The following examples in this chapter are therefore taken from the history of Israel in the Old Testament. The ‘angels’ or messengers that sinned and were thrown down into the earth refer to the men led by the false prophet Korah who were swallowed up into the earth (Num. 16:32).

2:7 We get the impression from the Old Testament that Lot was spiritually weak; but we must be careful how we judge Bible characters because here we read that Lot was in fact righteous and although he was well involved in the life of Sodom, he was deeply grieved for their wickedness. He is a type of the faithful living in the world of the very last days (Lk. 17:28-32).
of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment to the day of judgment.

Characteristics of False Teachers

10 Chief among these are those that walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement and despise dominion. Daring, self-willed, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignitaries. 11 Whereas angels, though greater in might and power, do not dare bring before the Lord an injurious accusation against them. 12 But these, as creatures without reason, born mere animals to be taken and destroyed, speak reproachfully in matters of which they are ignorant; they shall in their destroying surely be destroyed, 13 suffering wrong as the wages of wrong-doing. They count it pleasure to revel in the daytime, spots and blemishes, reveling in their deceivings while they feast with you. 14 Having eyes full of adultery, they cannot cease from sin, enticing unstable souls; having a heart exercised in covetousness, children of cursing. 15 Forsaking the right way, they went astray, having followed the way of Balaam the son of Beor, who loved the wages of wrongdoing. 16 But he was rebuked for his own transgression: a dumb ass spoke with a man’s voice and hindered the madness of the prophet. 17 These are springs without water and mists driven by a storm; for whom the blackness of darkness has been reserved. 18 For when they speak great swelling words of emptiness, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through lewdness, the ones who have actually escaped from those who live in error; 19 promising them liberty, while they are in fact slaves to corruption. For of whom a person is overcome, of the same is he also brought into bondage. 20 For if, after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the latter end is worse for them than the beginning. 21 For it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. 22 It has happened to them according to the true proverb: A dog returns to his own vomit and a sow, having washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

Prophecy of the Last Days

This is now, beloved, the second epistle that I write to you; and
The physical planet wasn’t destroyed by the flood, but the wicked human system upon earth was. ‘Heaven and earth’ is a phrase used in the Bible to refer to a system of things – the rulers are likened to the heavens, e.g. the sun, moon and stars refer to the fathers of Israel; and the earth refers to the ordinary people. The literal heaven and earth won’t be destroyed (Ecc. 1:4), but the system of human evil which is currently here will be. The new heavens and earth will therefore be “righteous” (v. 13).

This along with v. 9 could imply that God is delaying the return of Christ because He is so passionate for human repentance, so that as many as possible may live eternally in His Kingdom. We should therefore not only repent ourselves, so that our spiritual development hastens the return of Christ (:11,12); but also seek to spread the Gospel to others and thereby hasten the second coming (Mt. 24:14).
to the wisdom given to him, wrote to you; 16 as also in all his letters, speaking in them of these things. In his letters there are some things hard to be understood, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do also the other scriptures. 17 Therefore beloved, you, knowing these things beforehand, beware; lest, being carried away with the error of the wicked, you lose your own stability. 18 But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and for ever. Amen.
CHAPTER 1

Prologue

That which existed from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we saw and our hands handled, concerning the word of life. 2 The life was manifested and we have seen and testify and declare to you the life, the eternal life, which existed with the Father and was manifested to us. 3 What we have seen and heard, we declare to you also, so that you may also have fellowship with us. Yes, and our fellowship is with the Father and with His Son Jesus Christ. 4 And these things we write, that your joy may be made full.

Life in the Light

5 And this is the message which we have heard from him and announce to you: That God is light, and in Him is no darkness at all. 6 If we say that we have fellowship with Him and walk in the darkness, we lie and not do the truth. 7 But if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus His Son cleanses us from all sin. 8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us. 9 If we confess our sins, He is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make Him a liar and His word is not in us.

CHAPTER 2

My little children, these things write I to you, so you may not sin. And if anyone sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. 2 And he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the whole world. 3 And hereby we truly know that we truly know him: If we keep his commandments. 4 He that says: I know him, and does not keep his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him. 5 But who keeps his word, in him truly has the love of God been perfected. Hereby we know that we are in him.

Walking in the Light

6 He that says he abides in him, ought also walk even as he walked. 7 Beloved, I write no new commandment to you, but an old commandment which you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which you heard. 8 But now, a new commandment I write to you, which thing is true in him and in you. Be-

1:3 True Christian fellowship is based around a common belief in the same basic Gospel message which both Jesus and John preached, and living according to it (v. 7). Christian fellowship as John speaks of it isn’t the same as social friendship, although it may include this.

1:10 The more God’s word abides in us, the more we are convicted of both our sinfulness and yet also the grace and certain salvation of God.
because the darkness is passing away, and the true light already shines. 9 He that says he is in the light and hates his brother, he remains in the darkness. 10 He that loves his brother abides in the light, and there is no occasion of stumbling in him. 11 But he that hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he goes, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

Something for Everyone of Every Age
12 I write to you little children, because your sins are forgiven you, for his name’s sake. 13 I write to you fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning. I write to you young men, because you have overcome the evil one. I have written to you little children, because you know the Father. 14 I have written to you fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning. I have written to you young men, because you are strong and the word of God abides in you, and you have overcome the evil one. 15 Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. 16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh and the lust of the eyes and the vain glory of life, is not of the Father but is of the world. 17 And the world passes away and the lust of it, but he that does the will of God abides for ever.

Antichrists
18 Little children, it is the last hour; and as you heard that antichrist comes, even now have there arisen many antichrists. Whereby we know that it is the last hour. 19 They went out from us but they were not of us. For if they had been of us, they would have continued with us; but they went out, that they might be revealed, that all these are not of us. 20 And you have an anointing from the Holy One and you know all these things. 21 I have not written to you because you do not know the truth, but because you know it! And because no lie is of the truth. 22 Who is the liar but he that denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist: he that denies the Father and the Son. 23 Whoever denies the Son, the same has not the Father. He that confesses the Son has the Father also. 24 As for you, let that abide in you which you heard from the beginning. If what you heard from the beginning abides in you, you also shall abide in the Son and in the Father. 25 And this is the promise which he promised us—everlasting life. 26 These things have I written to you concerning those that would lead you astray. 27 And as for you, the anointing which you received of him abides in you, and you do not need anyone to teach you. But as his anointing teaches you all things and is true and is no lie and even as it taught you, so you are to abide in him. 28 And now, little children, abide in him. That, when he shall be manifested, we may have boldness and not be ashamed before him at his coming. 29 If you know that he is righteous, you know that everyone also that does righteousness is begotten of him.

Children of God

Look what manner of love the Father has bestowed upon us, that we should be called children of God. And we are! For this cause the world does not know us, because it did not know Him. 2 Beloved, now are we children of God; and it is not yet revealed what we shall be. We know that, when He shall be manifested, we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him even as He is. 3 And everyone that has this hope purifies himself, even as He is pure. 4 Everyone that keeps on committing sin commits lawlessness, for sin is lawlessness. 5 And you know that he was manifested to take away sins; because in him is no sin. 6 Whoever abides in him does not keep on in sin. Whoever keeps on in sin has not seen him, nor truly knows him.

Overcoming Sin

7 My little children, let no one lead you astray. He that does righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. 8 He that keeps on in sin is of the Devil. For the Devil sins from the beginning. To this end was the Son of God manifested, that he might destroy the works of the Devil. 9 Whoever is begotten of God does not keep on in sin, because his seed abides in him, and he cannot keep on in sin, because he is begotten of God. 10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the Devil. Whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is he that does not love his brother. 11 For this is the message which you heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. 12 Not as Cain, who was of the evil one, who killed his brother. And why did he kill him? Because his works were evil and his brother’s righteous. 13 Marvel not brothers if the world hates you. 14 We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. He that does not love abides in death. 15 Whoever hates his brothers is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him. 16 Hereby know we love, because he laid down his life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. 17 But whosoever has the world’s goods and sees his brothers in need, and shuts up his compassion from him, how does the love of God abide in him? 18 Little children, let us not love in word, nor with the tongue, but in deed and truth. 19 Hereby shall we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our heart before him. 20 Because if our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and knows all things. 21 Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have boldness toward God. 22 And whatever we ask we receive from Him, because we keep His commandments, and do the things that are pleasing in His sight. 23 And this is His commandment: that we should believe in the name of His Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, even as He gave us commandment. 24 And he that keeps His commandments abides in Him and He in him. And hereby we know that He abides in us, by the Spirit which He gave us.

Warning Against False Teachers

Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits, whether they are of God. Because many false prophets have gone out into the world. 2 Hereby do you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ came in the flesh is of God. 3 And every spirit that does not confess that Jesus came in the flesh is not of God, and they are proved to be of the antichrist; of whom you have heard that it comes, and now is already in the world. 4 You are of God, little children, and have overcome them. Because greater is he that is in you than he that is in the world. 5 They are of the world. Therefore speak they of the world and the world hears them. 6 We are of God. He that knows God hears us. He who is not of God does not hear us. By this we know the spirit of truth and the spirit of error.

3:16 Jesus’ life wasn’t taken from Him, but He “laid it down” (Jn. 10:17). He gave His last breath as an act of the will, a consciously controlled outgiving of life rather than dying because men took His life from Him by murder. This intense level of self-giving is applied to us. When Jesus died for us in this way, we were far away in understanding, appreciation and spirituality. And so it will be with our fellow believers for whom we are to likewise die.

3:21 Although our conscience isn’t always reliable (1 Cor. 4:4), we should aim like Paul to live every moment in good conscience before Him (Acts 23:1).

4:2, 3 See on 2 Jn. 7-9. Our understanding of the nature of Jesus is therefore very important.

Love One Another

7 Beloved, let us love one another. For love is of God, and everyone that loves is begotten of God and knows God. 8 He that does not love, does not know God. For God is love. 9 Herein was the love of God manifested to us, in that God has sent His only Son into the world that we might live through him. 10 Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that He loved us, and sent His Son to be the propitiation for our sins. 11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. 12 No one has seen God at any time. If we love one another, God abides in us, and His love is perfected in us. 13 Hereby we know that we abide in him and He in us, because He has given us of His Spirit. 14 And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world. 15 Whoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him and he in God. 16 And we know and have believed the love which God has toward us. God is love, and he that abides in love abides in God, and God abides in him. 17 In this way is love made perfect with us, so that we may have boldness in the day of judgment. Because as he is, even so are we in this world. 18 There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear; because fear has punishment, and he that fears is not made perfect in love. 19 We love, because He first loved us. 20 If a man says, I love God, and hates his fellow believers, he is a liar. For he that does not love his fellow believers whom he has seen, cannot love God whom he has not seen. 21 And this commandment have we from him, that he who loves God, loves his fellow believers also.

CHAPTER 5

Whoever believes that Jesus is the Christ is begotten of God; and whoever loves Him that begat, loves him also that is begotten of Him. 2 Hereby we know that we love the children of God: when we love God and do His commandments. 3 For this is the love of God, that we keep His commandments; and His commandments are not grievous. 4 For whatever is begotten of God overcomes the world; and this is the victory that has overcome the world, our faith. 5 And who is he that overcomes the world, but he that believes that Jesus is the Son of God?

4:10 God took the initiative in loving, and we are asked to love others in this same way. We should be thinking how we can initiate loving acts towards others, rather than simply responding to others’ love to us by loving them back.

4:20 It’s therefore impossible – although very tempting – to claim to be a Christian if we continually find excuses why we can’t have contact with other believers. Love is to be something active, concrete and meaningful in practice; we therefore can’t be ‘out of church believers’, we need active engagement with our brethren in order to reflect God’s love to them as we are commanded here. Private Bible reading in our room, understanding doctrine correctly, praying to God alone, may sound all very good; but we can’t actually love God unless we love His children, for He is manifested in them.
The Bible teaches that we are mortal and don’t consciously survive death. We “have eternal life” in the sense that from God’s perspective He remembers us after our death and knows we will be immortalized at Christ’s return. Further, insofar as we live the kind of life which we will eternally live in the Kingdom, we have and can live the eternal life right now.

Answered prayer is therefore a great encouragement to us that we are of God.

God is prepared to forgive some sins for the sake of others’ prayers to Him about them. If third party prayers are this powerful, we should like Paul be praying for our fellow believers all the time.

Anything that detracts our focus from the simple fact that we shall live eternally in God’s Kingdom is an idol, and we should shun it.
2 JOHN

CHAPTER 1

The elder to the elect lady and her children, whom I love in truth; and not I only, but also all they that know the truth. 2 For the truth’s sake which abides in us, and shall be with us for ever. 3 Grace, mercy, peace shall be with us, from God the Father and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love. 4 I rejoice greatly that I have found some of your children walking in truth, even as we received commandment from the Father. 5 And now lady, I urge you not as though I write a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another. 6 And this is love, that we should walk after His commandments. This is the commandment, even as you heard from the beginning, that you should walk in it.

Antichrist Defined

7 For many deceivers have gone out into the world, especially those that do not confess that Jesus Christ came in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the antichrist. 8 Look to yourselves, that we do not lose the things which we have done but that we receive a full reward. 9 Whoever goes ahead and does not continue in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. He that continues in the teaching, the same has both the Father and the Son. 10 If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not welcome him into your house and give him no greeting. 11 For he that gives him greeting partakes in his evil works. 12 Having many things to write to you, I would not write them with paper and ink; but I hope to come to you and to speak face to face, that your joy may be made full. 13 The children of your elect sister salute you.

:6 Love isn’t the passing emotion which the world calls love. Love for God and each other involves keeping His commandments; it’s not enough to just be vaguely attracted to the ethos of Christianity in a casual manner.

:7 It could be argued that those who believe in the Trinity have denied that Jesus was in the flesh. Whilst we can leave all judgment to God, the question of the nature of Jesus is therefore crucial – because according to our understanding of Him, so will we live our lives.

:10 The early preachers travelled from home to home, and were supported by Christian families who welcomed them into their homes (3 Jn. 6). John is saying that missionaries who don’t teach the right thing about Jesus shouldn’t be given this support.
If our idea of joy is purely self-centred, we won’t find it. The writings of John and Paul show they felt joy because of the spiritual health of their brethren.

The early preachers were motivated in their work by God’s Name – they wished to share with others the personality and character of the Father and His Son. As this was their focus, they weren’t so interested in taking money from their audience.

This is exactly the kind of 3rd party ‘guilt by association’ which has destroyed so many churches today – believers are excluded because of their inclusive attitude to other believers, and John condemns this very clearly.

CHAPTER 1

The elder to the beloved Gaius, whom I love in truth. Beloved, I pray that in all things you may prosper and be in health, even as your soul prospers. For I rejoiced greatly, when brothers came and testified to the truth which is in you, even as you walk in truth. I have no greater joy than this, to hear of my children walking in the truth. Beloved, you do a faithful work in whatever you do toward those that are brothers and especially to strangers, who testify of your love before the church. You will do well to set them forward on their journey in a manner worthy of God; because for the sake of the Name they went forth, taking nothing from the Gentiles. We therefore ought to welcome such, that we may be fellow-workers for the truth. I wrote somewhat to the church, but Diotrephes, who loves to have the pre-eminence among them, does not welcome us. Therefore, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he does, prating against us with wicked words, and not content therewith, neither does he welcome the brothers; and those that would, he forbids and throws them out of the church. Beloved, do not imitate such evil, but imitate that which is good. He that does good is of God. He that does evil has not seen God. Demetrius has the witness of all and of the truth itself. Yes, we also testify, and you know that our witness is true. I had many things to write to you, but I am unwilling to write them to you with ink and pen. But I hope shortly to see you, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be to you. The friends salute you. Salute the friends by name.
JUDE

CHAPTER 1

Jude, a servant of Jesus Christ and brother of James, to those that are called; beloved in God the Father, and kept for Jesus Christ. 2 Mercy to you and peace and love be multiplied. 3 Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write to you of our common salvation, I found it necessary to write to you, urging you to contend earnestly for the faith which was delivered once and for all to his saints. 4 For there are certain people who have crept in secretly, who long ago were designated for condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into a license for immorality, and who deny our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

Old Testament Warnings

5 Now I desire to have you remember (as you know all things already) that the Lord having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that did not believe. 6 And the angels which did not keep to their own domain, who left their proper abode, He has kept in everlasting bonds, under darkness, to the judgment of the great day. 7 Even as Sodom and Gomorrah and the cities about them, these gave themselves over to fornication and went after strange flesh. Such are given as an example. All of them suffered the punishment of eternal fire. 8 Likewise also these dreamers defile the flesh, reject authority, and speak evil of dignitaries. 9 But Michael the archangel, when contending with the Devil in dispute about the body of Moses, does not bring against him a reviling accusation, but said: The Lord rebuke you. 10 But these revile whatever things they do not see with their eyes or cannot examine naturally. They are like the beasts without reason. In these things are they destroyed. 11 Woe to them! For they went in the way of Cain, and ran riotously in the error of Balaam for hire, and perished in the gainsaying of Korah.

Characteristics of the Rejected

12 These are they who are hidden rocks in your love-feasts when they feast with you, shepherds that without fear feed themselves. Clouds without water, carried along by winds, autumn leaves without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots; 13 wild waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, for whom the blackness of darkness has been reserved forever. 14 And to these also Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying: Behold, the Lord came with ten thousands of His holy ones, 15 to execute judgment upon all and to convict all the ungodly of all their works of ungodliness which they have done in an ungodly way, and of all the hard things which ungodly sinners have spoken against Him. 16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their lusts (and their mouth speaks great swelling words), showing respect of persons for the sake of personal advantage. 17 But you, beloved, remember the words which have been spoken previously by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ; 18 how they said to you: In the last time there shall be mockers, walking after their own ungodly lusts. 19 These are they who make divisions, sensual, having not the Spirit. 20 But you, beloved, build up yourselves in your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit, 21 keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to eternal life. 22 On those who are in doubt have mercy. 23 And others save, snatching them out of the fire; and on some, have mercy with fear, hating even the underclothing stained by the flesh. 24 Now to him that is able to guard you from stumbling, and to set you before the presence of His glory without blemish in exceeding joy, 25 to the only God, our Saviour through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, dominion and power, before all time, and now and for always in the future. Amen.

:15 People are condemned because of their words – how we think and speak is of huge importance to Jesus (Mt. 12:37).
:23 The fire – Fire is used here symbolically, as often in the Bible, for condemnation. People aren’t literally on fire as we see them fall away from the faith; they are however effectively falling into condemnation and losing their hope of eternal life. We should urgently do all we can to pull them out of this rather than saying nothing or pretending not to notice.
:24 We will be seen by Jesus at the last day as “without blemish” in His eyes, because His righteousness has been imputed to us.
The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave him to show to his servants the things which must shortly come to pass; which he sent and put into sign by his Angel to his servant John; 2 who testified of the word of God and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, even of all things that he saw. 3 Blessed is he that reads, and they that hear the words of the prophecy, and keep the things that are written therein; for the time is near. 4 John to the seven churches that are in Asia. Grace to you and peace, from Him who is, and who was, and who is to come, and from the seven Spirits that are before His throne. 5 And from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the firstborn from the dead and the ruler of the kings of the earth. To him that loves us and freed us from our sins by his blood, 6 and who made us kings and priests to his God and Father; to him be the glory and the dominion for ever and ever. Amen. 7 Behold, he comes with the clouds, and every eye shall see him, and they that pierced him, and all the tribes of the earth shall mourn over him. So shall it be! Amen. 8 I am the Alpha and the Omega, says the Lord God, who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty. 9 I John, your brother and partaker with you in tribulation and the kingdom and patience of Jesus, was in the isle that is called Patmos, because of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus. 10 I was in the Spirit on the Lord’s day, and I heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet, saying: 11 What you see, write in a book and send it to the seven churches. To Ephesus and to Smyrna and to Pergamum and to Thyatira and to Sardis and to Philadelphia and to Laodicea.

A Vision of the Glorified Jesus
12 And I turned to see the voice that spoke to me. And having turned I saw seven golden candlesticks. 13 And in the midst of the candlesticks- one like a Son of Man, dressed in a robe reaching down to his feet and with a golden sash around his chest. 14 And his head and his hair were white as white wool, white as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire. 15 And his feet were like bronze refined in
Not only do we as individuals have guardian Angels, but groups of believers, churches, have a specific guardian Angel also.

First love – Greek ‘agape’. Their defence against false teachers and hard works (v. 2) had been done without agape love. If we lose love as our motivation, all defence of the faith and labour for Christ becomes meaningless and places Jesus “against” us (see 1 Cor. 13); we have “fallen” from the true faith.

The Greek word translated ‘devil’ is diabolos and means ‘a false accuser’. The ‘devil’ here is clearly the anti-Christian local authorities, and not any cosmic being.
that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. He that overcomes shall not be hurt by the second death.

The Letter to Pergamum

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write: These things says he that has the sharp two-edged sword: 13 I know where you live, where Satan’s throne is, yet you remained loyal to my name and did not deny my faith, even in the days of Antipas my witness, my faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwells. 14 But I have a few things against you, because you have there some that hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols and to commit fornication. 15 So have you also some that hold to the teaching of the Nicolaitans. 16 Therefore repent, or else I will come to you quickly, and I will make war against those with the sword of my mouth. 17 He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him that overcomes, to him will I give of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and upon the stone a new name written, which no one knows but he that receives it.

The Letter to Thyatira

18 And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write: These things says the Son of God, who has his eyes like a flame of fire and his feet are like to burnished bronze: 19 I know your works and your love, faith, ministry and patience; and that your last works are more than the first. 20 But I have this against you: you tolerate the woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess, and she teaches and seduces my servants to commit fornication and to eat things sacrificed to idols. 21 And I gave her time that she should repent, and she does not want to repent of her fornication. 22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, into great tribulation, and those that commit adultery with her— unless they repent of their works. 23 And I will strike her children dead. And all

2:11 When Christ returns, the responsible dead will be raised and judged, and the unworthy amongst them will die again. This will therefore be for them their “second death”.

2:13 The ‘satan’ ['adversary'] here refers to the local Roman authorities who were against the Christians.

2:17 In Semitic thought, a name refers to a personality or character. There will be something very intimate between Jesus and us throughout eternity, which only He and us can enter into; we will enjoy a personal relationship with Jesus for eternity.

2:21 Jesus doesn’t react against sin immediately, He gives time for people to repent and respond. We should be the same in dealing with people.

2:23 Jesus searches our minds, what we are thinking, and repays us for our works. Thus our thoughts are paralleled with our actions. Constantly, even as we sleep, Jesus is searching our hearts. To be spiritually minded is therefore of utmost importance in our Christian life.
and did once hear and keep it, and repent. Therefore if you shall not watch, I will come as a thief, and you shall not know what time I will come upon you. 4 But you have a few names in Sardis that did not defile their clothes, and they shall walk with me in white; for they are worthy. 5 He that overcomes shall thus be dressed in white garments, and I will in no way blot his name out of the book of life; and I will confess his name before my Father and before His angels. 6 He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

CHAPTER 3

And to the angel of the church in Sardis write: These things says he that has the seven Spirits of God and the seven stars. I know your works. You have the reputation of being alive, but you are dead. 2 Be watchful and establish the things that remain, which are ready to die. For I have not found your works complete in the sight of my God. 3 Therefore remember how you have received, and did once hear and keep it, and repent. Therefore if you shall not watch, I will come as a thief, and you shall not know what time I will come upon you. 4 But you have a few names in Sardis that did not defile their clothes, and they shall walk with me in white; for they are worthy. 5 He that overcomes shall thus be dressed in white garments, and I will in no way blot his name out of the book of life; and I will confess his name before my Father and before His angels. 6 He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

The Letter to Philadelphia

And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write: These things says he that is holy, he that is true, he that has the key of David, he that opens and none shall shut, and that shuts and none opens. 8 I know your works (behold, I have set before you an open door, which none can shut), you have a little power and did keep my word and did not deny my name. 9 Behold, I will make those of the synagogue of Satan, who say they are Jews and they are not, but do lie—behold, I will make these come to you and bow down at your feet, and to know that I have loved you. 10 Because you did keep the word of my patience, I also will keep you from the time of trial which is to come upon the whole world, to test them that dwell upon the earth. 11 I come suddenly. Hold fast to what you have, that no one takes your crown. 12 He that overcomes, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God; and he shall stand there no more, and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which comes down out of heaven from my God; and my own new name. 13 He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

The Letter to Laodicea

14 And to the angel of the church in Laodicea write: These things says the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God. 15 I know your works, how you are neither cold nor hot. I wish you were either cold or hot. 16 As you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spew you out of my mouth. 17 For you say, I am rich, I have prospered, and I need nothing; not realizing that you are wretched, pitiable, poor, blind, and naked. 18 I counsel you to buy from me gold refined by fire, so that you may become rich; and to clothe yourselves with white garments, that the shame of your nakedness be not revealed; and anoint your eyes with eyesalve so you may see. 19 As many as I love, I reprove and chasten. Therefore be zealous and repent. 20 Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and will eat with him and he with me. 21 He that overcomes, I will allow him to sit down with me on my throne, as I also overcame and sat down with my Father on His throne. 22 He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

The Heavenly Throne Room

After these things I looked, and beheld a door opened in heaven; and the first voice that I heard, as if a trumpet was speaking to me, was as one saying: Come up here, and I will show you the things which hereafter must came to pass. 2 Immediately I was in the Spirit, and beheld a throne set in heaven; and one sitting upon the throne. 3 And he that sat on it was to look upon like a jasper stone, and a sardius; and there was a rainbow round about the throne, like an emerald to look upon. 4 And round about the throne were twenty four thrones; and upon the 3:12 Jesus even after His resurrection and glorification still speaks of God as “my God”. Yet He parallels “my new name” with the Name of God. Jesus was given the Name of God after His resurrection – hence He calls it a “new name”, which He had only recently been given at the time He gave the Revelation. As God’s Son He operates in the Name of God, but this doesn’t mean He is God Himself in person.

3:15 Jesus like any lover hates indifference and passivity on our part; an appearance of commitment to Him which is only external (3:1).
thrones I saw twenty four elders sitting, dressed in white garments, and on their heads were crowns of gold. And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, voices and thunders. And there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God. And in front of the throne there was as it were a sea of glass like a crystal; and in the midst of the throne and round about the throne, four living creatures full of eyes before and behind. And the first creature was like a lion, the second creature like a calf, the third creature had the face of a man and the fourth creature was like a flying eagle. And the four living creatures each had six wings, full of eyes round about and within; and they have no rest day and night, saying: Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God, the Almighty, who was and who is and who is to come. And when the living creatures shall give glory and honour and thanks to him that sits on the throne, to him that lives for ever and ever, the twenty four elders shall fall down before him that sits on the throne and shall worship him that lives for ever and ever, and shall cast their crowns before the throne, saying: Worthy are you, our Lord, to receive the glory and the honour and the power. For you did create all things, and for your sake they existed and were created.

Opening the Scroll

And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a scroll written within and on the back, sealed with seven seals. And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a great voice: Who is worthy to open the scroll and to undo the seals of it? And no one in the heaven, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the scroll, or to look thereon. And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the scroll, or to look thereon. And one of the elders said to me: Do not weep. Behold, the Lion that is of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has conquered; he can open the scroll and the seven seals of it. And I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures and in the

4:8 Full of eyes – Through the cherubim Angels, God knows all that is happening on earth and in our lives. They were full of eyes “within” – perhaps indicating their total self-knowledge. One of the greatest joys of being immortalized with God’s nature is that we shall know ourselves fully.

4:8 Day and night – In the Kingdom, we will praise God and serve Him every single moment. Our service of Him in this life cannot be a mere occasional hobby: if we are seeking to eternally serve Him every moment, then this will be our desire in this life; and our life decisions relating to education, career and use of our personal time will reflect this.

5:1 This scroll is the book of life; the opening of the possibility of eternity for those written in it was made possible by the death of Christ (v. 9).

5:4 John’s weeping suggests our frustration at not being able to enter eternity by our own merits. Hence his and our extreme gratitude for the sacrifice of Christ.
midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as though it had just been slain. The lamb had seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth. 7 And he came and he took the scroll out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne. 8 And when he had taken the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty four elders fell down before the Lamb, having each one a harp and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. 9 And they sing a new song, saying: Worthy are you to take the scroll and to open the seals of it. For you once were slain, and did purchase for God a people with your blood, people of every tribe, tongue and nation, 10 and made them to be a kingdom and priests to our God; and they shall reign upon the earth.

Praise to the Lamb
11 And I looked, and I heard a voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands. 12 They were saying with a great voice: Worthy is the Lamb that has been slain to receive the power, riches, wisdom, might, honour, glory and blessing. 13 And I heard every created thing in heaven and on earth and under the earth and in the sea, and all that is in them, saying: To Him who sits on the throne and to the Lamb, be blessing, honour, glory and might, for ever and ever. 14 And the four living creatures said: Amen. And the elders fell down and worshiped.

Six Seals
And I looked when the Lamb opened the first of the seven seals; and I heard one of the four living creatures saying as with a voice of thunder: Come! 2 And I looked and beheld a white horse, and he that sat thereon had a bow, and there was given to him a crown, and he came forth conquering and to conquer. 3 And when he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying: Come! 4 And another horse came forth, a red horse, and to him that sat thereon it was given to take peace from the earth, that they should slay one another. And there was given to him a great sword.

5 And when he opened the third seal,
I heard the third living creature saying: Come! And I looked and beheld a black horse, and he that sat thereon had a balance in his hand. And I heard as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying: A measure of wheat for a denarius and three measures of barley for a denarius; and do not damage the oil and the wine. And when he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature saying: Come! And I looked and beheld a pale horse, and he that sat upon him. His name was Death, and Hades followed behind him. And there was given to them authority over a quarter of the earth, to kill with sword and with famine and with death and by the wild beasts of the earth.

And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of those that had been slain for the word of God and for the testimony which they held. And they cried with a great voice, saying: How long, O Master, the holy and true, until you judge the inhabitants of the earth and avenge our blood? And each one was given a white robe, and they were told that they should wait a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants and brothers who were to be killed as they had been, was completed.

And I watched as he opened the sixth seal. There was a great earthquake, the sun became as black as sackcloth made of hair, and the whole moon turned the colour of blood. And the stars of the heaven fell to the earth, as a fig tree casts her unripe figs when she is shaken by a great wind. And the sky was removed as a scroll when it is rolled up, and every mountain and island were moved out of their places. And the kings of the earth, the princes, the chief captains, the rich, the strong and every slave and freeman, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains. And they said to the mountains and to the rocks: Fall on us and hide us from the presence of Him that sits on the throne, and from the anger of the Lamb. For the great day of their anger comes, and who is able to stand?

CHAPTER 7

Sealing God’s Servants

After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that no wind should blow on the earth, or on the sea, or upon any tree. And I saw another angel ascending from the sunrising, having the seal of the living God; and he cried with a great voice to the four angels to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, saying: Do not

6:9 Although the Bible teaches that the dead are unconscious, God remembers the dead and is in a sense outside of time as we know it; therefore “all live unto Him” (Lk. 20:38). So here the Bible speaks about the unconscious dead as if their blood, their lives, demand from God a response in judging their murderers.

7:3 The seal is on the forehead, representing the mind. God identifies who is really His by their attitude of mind. To be spiritually minded is the essence of Christianity.
hurt the earth, nor the sea, nor the trees, until we have sealed the servants of our God on their foreheads.
4 And I heard the number of those that were sealed, a hundred and forty and four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of the children of Israel.
5 Of the tribe of Judah were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand.
6 Of the tribe of Asher twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand.
7 Of the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand.
8 Of the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.
9 After these things I saw and beheld a great crowd, which no one could number, out of every nation, comprised of all tribes, peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, arrayed in white robes and with palms in their hands.
10 And they cry with a great voice, saying: Salvation to our God who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb!
11 And all the angels were standing round about the throne and about the elders and the four living creatures; and they fell before the throne on their faces and worshiped God,
13 And one of the elders asked me: These that are dressed in white robes, who are they and from where did they come?
14 And I replied: My lord, do you know? And he explained to me: These are they that came out of the great tribulation, and they washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.
15 Therefore are they before the throne of God, and they serve Him day and night in His temple, and He that sits on the throne shall spread His tabernacle over them.
16 They shall hunger no more, nor thirst any more. Neither shall the sun strike upon them, nor

7:4 Most numbers in Revelation are symbolic; 144 is 12 x 12, perhaps suggesting that the community of the redeemed will be based upon the twelve tribes of Israel in that the Christian hope is “the hope of Israel” (Acts 28:20), “salvation is of the Jews” (Jn. 4:22) in that the promises which comprise the Gospel of the Kingdom were made to Abraham and his children (Gal. 3:8).
7:9 People from every language and ethnic grouping will be redeemed in Christ when He returns. This means that the Gospel must go to every ethnic group on earth before Christ returns. The internet has hastened this possibility; for since the time of Christ the majority of those groups were ignorant of Christianity. In this context we must understand the Lord’s teaching that once the Gospel goes into all the world, then He will return (Mt. 24:14). In this sense our world-wide preaching can hasten His return.
7:14 This could imply that during the great tribulation just before Christ returns, the persecution will result in the Gospel going out to every ethnic group and gaining converts (see v. 9 note); just as persecution lead to the spreading of the Gospel to the Gentiles in the first century (Acts 11:19,20).
any heat. 17 For the Lamb that is in the midst of the throne shall be their shepherd, and shall guide them to springs of living water, and God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.

CHAPTER 8

The Seventh Seal

And when he opened the seventh seal, there followed a silence in heaven for about half an hour. 2 And I saw the seven angels that stood before God; and there were given to them seven trumpets. 3 And another angel came and stood over the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given to him much incense, that he should add it to the prayers of all the saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. 4 And the smoke of the incense, with the prayers of the saints, went up before God out of the angel’s hand. 5 And the angel took the censer, filled it with the fire of the altar and cast it upon the earth. There followed thunders, voices, lightnings and an earthquake.

The First Four Angels Sound

6 And the seven angels that had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound. 7 And the first sounded, and there followed hail and fire, mingled with blood; and they were cast upon the earth. The third part of the earth was burnt up, as was the third part of the trees; and all green grass was burnt up. 8 And the second angel blew his trumpet and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea; and the third part of the sea became blood. 9 And there died the third part of the creatures (even they that had life) which were in the sea, and the third part of the ships were destroyed. 10 And the third angel blew his trumpet, and there fell from heaven a great star, burning as a torch; and it fell upon the third part of the rivers and upon the fountains of the waters. 11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood, and one third of the waters became bitter-tasting; and many men died because the waters were made so bitter. 12 And the fourth angel blew his trumpet, and a third of the sun was struck and a third of the moon and a third of the stars. This meant that the third part of them were darkened; and the day would not shine for the third part of it, and the night in like manner. 13 And I saw and I heard an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a great voice: Woe, woe, woe, for those who dwell on the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

Jun. 24 Dec. 24

The Fifth Trumpet

And the fifth angel blew his trumpet, and I saw a star from heaven fall to the earth; and there was given to him the key to the pit of the abyss. 2 And he opened the pit of the abyss and smoke went out of the pit, like the smoke of a great furnace, and the sun and the air were darkened because of the smoke of the pit. 3 And out of the smoke came forth locusts upon the earth; and power was given them, as the scorpions of the earth have power. 4 And it was said to them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree, but only such men as do not have the seal of God on their foreheads. 5 And they were told that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented for five months; their torment was as the torment of a scorpion when it strikes a man. 6 And in those days men shall seek death and shall in no way find it, and they shall desire to die and death will flee from them. 7 And the shapes of the locusts were like horses prepared for war, and upon their heads as if crowns of gold, and their faces were as men’s faces. 8 And they had hair as the hair of women and their teeth were like that of lions. 9 And they had breastplates, like breastplates of iron, and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots, of many horses rushing to war. 10 And they have tails like scorpions and stings, and in their tails is their power to hurt men for five months. 11 They have over them as king the angel of the abyss. His name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in the Greek tongue he has the name Apollyon. 12 The first Woe is past. Behold, hereafter there come two other woes.

The Sixth Trumpet

13 And the sixth angel blew his trumpet, and I heard a voice from the horns of the golden altar which is before God, 14 one saying to the sixth angel that had one trumpet: Release the four angels that are chained at the great river Euphrates. 15 And the four angels were released, that had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that they should kill a third of all mankind. 16 And the number of the armies of the horsemen was twice ten thousand times ten thousand. I heard the number of them. 17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision and those that sat on them, having breastplates as of fire and of... hyacinth and of sulphur, and heads of lions; and out of their mouths proceeded fire, smoke and sulphur. 18 By these three illnesses was one third of all mankind killed, by the fire and the smoke and the sulphur, which proceeded out of their mouths. 19 For the power of the horses is in their mouth and in their tails. For their tails are like those of serpents and have heads, and by means of them they wound. 20 And the rest of mankind, who were not killed with these illnesses, did not repent of the works of their hands, that they should not worship demons and the idols of gold, silver, brass, stone and wood—which can neither see, nor hear, nor walk. 21 And they did not repent of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAPTER 10

An Angel with Seven Thunders

And I saw another strong angel coming down out of heaven, arrayed with a cloud; and the rainbow was upon his head, his face was as the sun and his feet as pillars of fire. 2 And he had in his hand a little scroll that was opened, and he set his right foot upon the sea and his left upon the earth. 3 And he cried with a great voice, as a lion roars; and when he cried, the seven thunders uttered their voices. 4 And when the seven thunders had sounded, I was about to write. And I heard a voice from heaven, saying: Keep secret the things which the seven thunders uttered and do not write them down. 5 And the angel that I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his right hand to heaven, and swore by Him that lives forever and ever, who created the heaven and the things that are therein and the earth and the things that are therein, and the sea and the things that are therein, that there shall be no more delay. 6 But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then is finished the mystery of God, according to the good news which He declared to His servants the prophets. 8 And the voice which I heard from heaven, I heard it again speaking with me, and saying: Go, take the book which is opened in the hand of the angel that stands upon the sea and upon the earth. 9 And I went to the angel, saying to him that he should give me the little book. And he said to me: Take it and eat it up; it shall make your belly bitter

9:20 Demons therefore refer simply to idols, not to any actual cosmic beings.
9:21 These awful judgments aren’t simply the wrath of an offended Deity; their intention is to lead even the wicked people of the last days to repentance. God’s passion is for human repentance; when we repent we therefore so thrill Him.
10:6 No more delay – In one sense the coming of Christ is delayed, just as the bridegroom delays in Mt. 25:5, because God is so passionate for as many people as possible to come to repentance and salvation (2 Pet. 3:9). In another sense we can hasten the coming of Christ by our spiritual development (2 Pet. 3:11,12) and spreading the Gospel worldwide (Mt. 24:14). But the apparent delay in Christ’s return can lead His people to selfish behaviour (Mt. 24:48); and we must beware of this danger.
but in your mouth it shall be as sweet as honey. 10 And I took the little book out of the angel’s hand and ate it, and in my mouth it was sweet as honey. But when I had eaten it, my belly was made bitter. 11 And they said to me: You must prophesy again about many peoples and nations and tongues and kings.

CHAPTER 11

The Two Witnesses

And there was given to me a reed like a measuring rod, and I was told: Rise and measure the temple of God and the altar, and those that worship therein. 2 But the court which is outside the temple, do not measure it. For it has been given to the nations, and they will trample the holy city for forty two months 3 And I will give power to My two witnesses, and they shall prophesy one thousand two hundred and sixty days, clothed in sackcloth. 4 These are the two olive trees and the two candlesticks, standing before the Lord of the earth. 5 And if anyone desires to hurt them, fire proceeds out of their mouth and devours their enemies, and if anyone shall desire to hurt them, in this manner must he be killed. 6 These have the power to shut the heaven so that it does not rain during the days of their prophecy, and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood and to smite the earth with every plague, as often as they shall desire. 7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that comes up out of the abyss shall make war with them and overcome them and kill them. 8 And their dead bodies will lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. 9 And from among the peoples, tribes, tongues and nations do men look upon their dead bodies for three and a half days, and they will not allow their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb. 10 And they that dwell on the earth rejoice over them and make merry, and they shall send gifts to each other, because these two prophets tormented them that dwell on the earth. 11 And after the three and a half days, the beast that comes up out of the abyss shall make war with them and overcome them and kill them. 12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying to them: Come up here! And they went into heaven in the cloud.

10:10 God’s word is indeed sweet, but it can have bitter consequences if we seriously accept His demands of carrying the cross of Christ and upholding His standards in this wicked world.

11:2 42 months is the same as 1260 days or three and a half years, all time periods which occur in the various prophecies of the last days. It could be that there will be a literal three and a half years of tribulation immediately before Christ’s return; and it’s possible that if this tribulation is largely spiritual, that this period has already begun.

11:6 Closing the skies through prayer is an allusion to the work of Elijah, who prayed and stopped rain coming for three and a half years (James 5:17). The same period of 42 months is in view here too (v. 2). This suggests that there will be an Elijah ministry in the last days, seeking to prepare Israel to accept their Messiah (Mk. 9:12; Malachi 4:5).
and their enemies saw them. 13 And in that hour there was a great earthquake and the tenth part of the city fell; and there were killed in the earthquake seven thousand persons, and the rest were terrified and gave glory to the God of heaven. 14 The second woe is past. Behold, the third woe comes quickly.

The Seventh Angel
15 And the seventh angel blew his trumpet and there followed great voices in heaven, and they said: The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. 16 And the twenty four elders, who sit before God on their thrones, fell upon their faces and worshiped God, saying: 17 We give You thanks O Lord God, the Almighty, who is and who was; because You have taken Your great power and have reigned. 18 And the nations were angry, and Your anger came, and the time of the dead to be judged, and the time to give reward to Your servants the prophets and to the saints, and to those that fear Your Name, the small and the great, and to destroy those that destroy the earth. 19 And there was opened the temple of God that is in heaven, and there was seen in His temple the ark of His covenant, and there followed lightnings, voices, thunders, an earthquake and great hail.

CHAPTER 12

The Woman and the Dragon

A nd a great sign was seen in heaven: a woman arrayed with the sun and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars. 2 She was with child, and was crying out with labour pains and the agony of giving birth. 3 And there was seen another sign in heaven: behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns and upon his heads seven diadems. 4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven and he did throw them to the earth; and the dragon stands before the woman that is about to give birth, so that when she gives birth he may devour her child. 5 And she gave birth to a son, a man child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron, and her child was caught up to God and to His throne. 6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she has a place prepared by God, that there they may nourish her one thousand two hundred and sixty days. 7 And there was a war in heaven. Michael and his angels fought 11:15 The Kingdom of God will subsume the kingdoms of men; therefore, the Kingdom of God shall come literally on this earth at Christ’s return.

12:7-9 Bible teaching about Satan is explained in the doctrinal summary at the end of this Bible.
Note:
- The language of “cast down” and “cast out” does not require literal downwards movement – Babylon is “thrown down” in Rev. 18:21. ‘Cast out of Heaven’ means a loss of power with the dragon; and the dragon and his angels retaliated. 8 But he was defeated and there was no longer any place for them in heaven. 9 And the great dragon was cast down, the old serpent, he that is called the Devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole world. He was cast down to the earth, and his angels were cast down with him. 10 And I heard a great voice in heaven, saying: Now has come the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God and the authority of His Christ. For the accuser of our brothers is cast down, who accuses them before our God day and night. 11 And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb, and because of the word of their testimony; and they did not love their life even to death. 12 Therefore rejoice, O heavens, and you that dwell in them. Woe for the earth and for the sea! Because the Devil has gone down to you, having great anger, knowing that he has but a short time. 13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast down to the earth, he persecuted the woman that had brought forth the man child. 14 And there was given to the woman the two wings of the great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness to her place, where she is nourished for a time and times

- After the drama of :7-9, v. 10 says that now is the Kingdom of our God. These verses speak of the future rather than telling us what happened in Eden (1:1). There is rejoicing that the devil has been cast to earth. Why should there be rejoicing if his coming to earth was the start of sin and disaster for man?

- The dragon had “seven heads and ten horns” (:3), therefore it was not literally the serpent. It being called “that old serpent” shows that it had the characteristics of that serpent in Eden, in the sense of being a deceiver, as the serpent was. Thus the devil is not literally the serpent, it is a political power, manifesting sin. Pharaoh is likened to a great dragon (Ez. 32:2).

- The dragon drew a third of the stars of heaven to the earth with his tail (:4). If this is read literally, the sheer size of the dragon is immense – a third of the whole universe could be contained just on his tail. There is no way planet earth would be big enough to contain such a huge creature sprawling over it. And remember that all this happened, or will happen, after the first century A.D., when this prophecy was given.

- “Heaven” can figuratively refer to a place of power. Revelation being such a symbolic book, we would expect this to be the case here. The woman in “heaven” then delivered her child, who was “caught up unto God and to his throne” (:5). God’s throne is in heaven. If the woman was already in heaven, why would her child have to be “caught up” to heaven? She must have been a symbol of something on earth, although in a figurative “heaven”. She then flees “into the wilderness” (:6). If she was in literal heaven, this means there is a wilderness in heaven. It is far more fitting for her to be in a figurative heavenly place, and then fleeing to a figurative wilderness on the earth. As all other references to “heaven” in Revelation 12 are figurative, it seems only consistent that the “war” was in a figurative heaven. There can be no rebellion or sin in literal heaven (Mt. 6:10; Ps. 5:4-5; Hab. 1:13).

The conflict in figurative heaven – i.e. a place of authority – was therefore between two power groups, each with their followers, or angels.
and half a time from the presence of the serpent. 15 The serpent poured water like a river out of his mouth after the woman, to sweep her away with a flood. 16 And the earth helped the woman; the earth opened her mouth and swallowed up the river which the dragon poured out of his mouth. 17 And the dragon grew angry with the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her seed that keep the commandments of God and hold the testimony of Jesus.

And I stood upon the sand of the sea. And I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads; and on his horns ten diadems, and upon his heads were names of blasphemy. 2 And the beast which I saw was like a leopard, his feet were as the feet of a bear, his mouth as the mouth of a lion; and the dragon gave him his power and his throne and great authority. 3 And I saw one of his heads as though it had a mortal wound; but its mortal wound was healed, and the whole earth marvelled as they followed the beast. 4 And they worshiped the dragon, because he gave his authority to the beast; and they worshiped the beast, saying: Who is like to the beast? And who is able to war with him? 5 And there was given to him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies, and there was given to him authority to continue for forty two months. 6 And he opened his mouth to blaspheme against God, to blaspheme His Name and His tabernacle, even those that dwell in the heaven. 7 And it was given to him to make war with the saints and to overcome them, and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation. 8 And all that dwell on the earth shall worship him, every one whose name has not been written in the book of life of the Lamb that has been slain from the foundation of the world. 9 If anyone has an ear, let him hear. 10 If anyone is for captivity, into captivity he goes. If anyone shall kill with the sword, with the sword must he be killed. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

The Earth Beast

11 And I saw another beast coming up out of the earth. He had two horns like a lamb, and he spoke as a dragon. 12 He exercises all the authority of the first beast in his sight. He makes the earth and those who dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose wound had been healed. 13 And he does great signs, that he should even make fire to come down out of heaven upon the earth in the sight of men.

13:10 This alludes to Christ’s teaching that whoever takes the sword shall perish by the sword (Mt. 26:52). Those who follow Christ do not use violence to anyone but seek to love their enemies.

13:11 Like a lamb – There will be a power system in the last days which is a false imitation of Jesus, the true lamb. He ‘plays God’ by appearing to be able to do the work of creation which God alone can do, giving life to a dead body as He did to Adam (1:14).
14 And he deceives those that dwell on the earth by reason of the signs which were given to him to do in the sight of the beast, saying to those that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image of the beast who was wounded by the sword but lived. 15 And he was permitted to give breath to the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast should speak, and cause to have killed as many as would not worship the image of the beast. 16 And he causes all, the small and the great and the rich and the poor and the free and the bondservant, to be given a mark on their right hand, or upon their forehead; 17 so that no one should be able to buy or to sell, unless he has the mark, the name of the beast or the number of his name. 18 Here is wisdom. He that has understanding, let him count the number of the beast. For it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred and sixty six.

CHAPTER 14

The Lamb on Mount Zion

And I looked, and beheld the Lamb standing on mount Zion, and with him one hundred and forty four thousand, each having his name and the name of his Father written on their foreheads. 2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder; and the voice which I heard was as the voice of harpers playing their harps. 3 And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders; and no one could learn the song save the hundred and forty four thousand, they that had been purchased out of the earth. 4 These are they that were not defiled with women, for they are virgins. These are they that follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These were purchased from among men to be the firstfruits to God and to the Lamb. 5 And in their mouth was found no lie. They are without blemish. 6 And I saw another angel flying in mid heaven, having eternal good news to proclaim to those that dwell on the earth, and to every nation and tribe and tongue and people. 7 He said with a great voice: Fear God and give Him glory! For the hour

13:14 Even if a person appears to be able to do miracles, we should not follow them if they are not teaching according to God’s word (Dt. 13:2).
13:16 The forehead represents the mind. The mark may not be anything literal, but rather an attitude of mind. God’s people are likewise sealed on their foreheads (7:3; 9:4). The difference between the believer and the world comes down to where our inner heart is.
14:4 The true believers are engaged to be married to Christ; to unite ourselves with the world is to be unfaithful to Him and lose our virginity.
14:5 Was found – The believers have of course been sinful and blemished. But they are seen by Jesus as perfect; for love imputes perfection to the beloved, and the love of Christ is the ultimate love. He will see us as if we are perfect. We can rightly rejoice in His love.
of His judgment comes, and worship Him that made the heaven and the earth and sea and fountains of waters. 8 And another, a second angel, followed, saying: Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the great, that has made all the nations to drink of the wine of the anger of her fornication. 9 And another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a great voice: If anyone worships the beast and his image and receives the mark on his forehead, or upon his hand, he also shall drink of the wine of the anger of God, which is prepared unmixed in the cup of His anger; and he shall be tormented with fire and sulphur in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb. 11 And the smoke of their torment goes up for ever and ever, and they have no rest day and night, they that worship the beast and his image and whoever receives the mark of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saints, they that keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus. 13 And I heard the voice from heaven saying: Write: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from this time forward. Yes, says the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours. For their works follow them.

14 And I looked and beheld a white cloud, and on the cloud I saw one sitting like a Son of Man, having on his head a golden crown and in his hand a sharp sickle. 15 And another angel came out from the temple, crying with a great voice to him that sat on the cloud: Send forth your sickle and reap. For the hour to reap comes. For the harvest of the earth is ripe. 16 And he that sat on the cloud cast his sickle upon the earth and the earth was reaped. 17 Another angel came out from the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. 18 And another angel came out from the altar, he that has power over fire, and he called with a great voice to him that had the sharp sickle, saying: Send forth your sharp sickle and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth. For her grapes are fully ripe. 19 And the angel cast his sickle into the earth and gathered the vintage of the earth, and cast it into the winepress, the great winepress of the anger of God. 20 And the winepress was trodden outside of the city; and there came out blood from the winepress, even to the bridles of the horses, as far as a sixteen hundred stadia.

14:7 Him that made – The silent reality of creation ought to be an imperative to both us and the world to repent and turn to our maker.

14:10 Fire destroys; it doesn’t burn anything for eternity. The allusion is to the destruction of Sodom with fire and sulphur; this is described as “eternal fire” in Jude 7. But Sodom isn’t literally burning today; eternal fire refers to total destruction which has eternal consequences. In this manner Jerusalem is described as having been destroyed with eternal fire (Jer. 17:27). The punishment for sin is death (Rom. 6:23).

14:15 When human sin has reached a certain point, Christ will come and judge it. That day cannot surely be far off.
We shall sing this song, by God’s grace! As Moses rejoiced that God’s people had escaped from Egypt, so we shall rejoice that we have finally and irreversibly left behind the flesh and this world.

Again, even the very final judgments of God upon sinners are intended to bring them to repentance rather than simply express the wrath of an offended deity. God is so passionate for human repentance; including our own, today.
they cursed the Name of God who has the power over these plagues, and they did not repent and give Him glory. 10 And the fifth poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast, and his kingdom was darkened; and they gnawed their tongues for pain because of the pain. 11 They cursed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and they did not repent of their deeds. 12 And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river, the Euphrates, and the water of it dried up, so that the way might be made ready for the kings that come from the east. 13 And I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, that looked like frogs. 14 For they are spirits of demons, who work signs. These go to the kings of the whole world, to gather them together to the war of the great day of God the Almighty. 15 (Behold, I am coming like a thief! Blessed is the one who stays awake, keeping his garments on, that he may not go about naked and be seen exposed!) 16 And they gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew Har-magedon. 17 And the seventh poured out his bowl upon the air; and there came forth a great voice out of the temple, from the throne, saying: It is done! 18 And there were lightnings and voices and thunders, and there was a great earthquake, such as has never occurred since men came upon the earth, so great an earthquake, so mighty. 19 And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell, and Babylon the great was remembered in the sight of God, to give to her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of His anger. 20 And every island fled away and the mountains were not found. 21 And great hailstones, each about the weight of a talent, came down out of heaven upon men, and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail. For the plague was so severe.

16:15 The allusion is to the virgins who were tempted to fall asleep because it seemed that Christ, the bridegroom, delayed His return (Mt. 25:5). The garments refer to the white clothing of Christ’s righteousness which we were given at baptism (19:8). We keep these garments on by continuing to believe that this is truly how we stand before God, and thereby keeping awake in our watching joyfully for Christ’s return. Our eagerness for His coming can only be maintained if we are humbly confident of our acceptance by Him then.

16:19 So many cities are built on fault lines, this may have a literal fulfilment.

17:1 Babylon appears to refer to a political or religious system which the rulers of the earth [or, ‘the land’, the area promised to Abraham] give material support to in return for benefit and temporary pleasure. This system will persecute God’s people, both natural and spiritual Israel.
of the great prostitute that sits upon many waters, \(^2\) with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and they that dwell on the earth were made drunk with the wine of her fornication. \(^3\) And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness, and I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. \(^4\) And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stone and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations, even the unclean things of her fornication, \(^5\) and upon her forehead a name written of a mystery: Babylon the great, mother of prostitutes and of earth’s abominations. \(^6\) And I saw the woman drunk with the blood of the saints and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a great wonder. \(^7\) But the angel said to me: Why do you marvel? I will tell you the mystery of the woman, and of the beast with seven heads and ten horns that carries her. \(^8\) The beast you saw was and is not, and is about to come up out of the abyss, and to go into destruction. And they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, they whose name has not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that he was and is not, and shall come. \(^9\) Here is the mind that has wisdom. The seven heads are the seven mountains on which the woman sits. \(^10\) And they are seven kings. The five are fallen, the one is, the other is yet to come; and when he comes, he must continue a little while. \(^11\) And the beast that was and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goes into destruction. \(^12\) And the ten horns you saw are ten kings who have received no kingdom as yet, but they receive authority as kings with the beast, for one hour. \(^13\) These are of one mind; and they give their power and authority to the beast. \(^14\) These shall war against the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them, for he is Lord of lords and King of kings, and they that are with him, called and chosen and faithful, these also shall overcome. \(^15\) And he said to me: The waters which you saw, where the prostitute sits, are peoples and crowds and nations and tongues. \(^16\) And the ten horns which you saw: they and the beast, these shall hate the prostitute and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh and shall burn her completely with fire. \(^17\) For God did put it in their hearts to do his mind and to be of one mind, and to give their kingdom to the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished. 18 And the woman whom you saw is the great city which reigns over the kings of the earth.

CHAPTER 18  Jun. 29  Dec. 29
The Fall of Babylon

After these things I saw another angel coming down out of heaven, having great authority; and the earth was lit with his glory.

2 And he cried with a mighty voice, saying: Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the great, and has become a habitation of demons, a refuge of every unclean spirit, and a refuge of every unclean and hateful bird. 3 For by the wine of the anger of her fornication all the nations are fallen; for the kings of the earth had committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth grew rich by the power of her greed. 4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying: Come out of her My people, lest you take part in her sins, and partake of her plagues.

5 For her sins have reached even to heaven, and God has remembered her iniquities. 6 Give to her even as she gave, and repay her double according to her deeds. In the cup in which she mixed, mix for her a double portion. 7 As she glorified herself and lived in luxury, so give her a like measure of torment and mourning, since in her heart she says: I sit as a queen, I am no widow, and mourning I shall never see. 8 Therefore in one day shall her plagues come, death and mourning and famine; and she shall be completely burned with fire. For strong is the Lord God who judges her. 9 And the kings of the earth, who committed fornication and lived wantonly with her, shall weep and wail over her, when they look upon the smoke of her burning, 10 standing far away for the fear of her torment, saying: Woe, woe, the great city! Babylon, the strong city! For in one hour does your judgment come.

11 And the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no one buys their merchandise any more. 12 Merchandise of gold and silver and precious stone and pearls and fine linen and purple and silk and scarlet and all kinds of scented wood, and every vessel of ivory and every vessel made of most precious wood and of brass and iron and marble, 13 and cinnamon and spice and incense and ointment and frankincense.
This figure of a millstone being cast into the sea is used by Jesus to describe the fate of those who cause His little ones to stumble (Mt. 18:6). To do this means that we are just as bad as Babylon with all her apparently more gross sins. Those who do this will be “condemned with the world” (1 Cor. 11:32), i.e. they will be resurrected, judged, and sent back into ‘Babylon’ to share her judgment.

19:3 For ever and ever – Babylon herself will be totally destroyed by fire, not eternally subject to conscious torture (18:8). But the smoke, the reminder of the eternal... time they said: Hallelujah! And her smoke goes up for ever and ever.

And the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshiped God that sits on the throne, saying: Amen. Hallelujah!

And a voice came from the throne, saying: Give praise to our God all you His servants, you that fear Him, the small and the great.

And I heard what seemed to be the voice of a great crowd, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunders, saying: Hallelujah! For the Lord our God, the Almighty, reigns.

Let us rejoice and be exceedingly glad, and let us give the glory to Him. For the marriage of the Lamb comes, and his wife has made herself ready.

And it was given to her that she should dress herself in fine linen, bright and pure. For the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints.

And he said to me: Write, Blessed are they that are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he said to me: These are the true words of God.

And I fell down before his feet to worship him, and he said to me: You must not do that! I am a fellow-servant with you, and with your brothers that hold the testimony of Jesus. Worship God! For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

The Victorious Jesus

And I saw the heaven open; and behold a white horse, and he that sat thereon was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he judges and makes war.

And his eyes are a flame of fire, and upon his head are many diadems, and he has a name written which no one knows but him.

And he is dressed in a garment sprinkled with blood, and his name is called The Word of God.

And the armies which are in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and pure.

And out of his mouth proceeds a sharp sword, that with it he should strike down the nations; and he shall rule them with a rod of iron, and he treads the winepress of the fierceness of the anger of God the Almighty.

And he has on his garment and on his thigh a name written: King of kings and Lord of lords.

And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying: To all the birds that fly in mid heaven, come, be gathered together to the great supper of God.

Eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses and of those that sit thereon, and the flesh of all men, both free and bondservant and small and great.

And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies gathered together to make war against him that sat upon the horse, and against his army. 20 And the beast was captured, and with it the false prophet, who in its presence had done the signs by which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped its image. These two were thrown alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulphur. 21 And the rest were slain by the sword that came from the mouth of him who was sitting on the horse; and all the birds were filled with their flesh.

CHAPTER 20

The Last Judgment and the Thousand Years

And I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, having the key of the abyss, and a great chain in his hand. 2 And he laid hold of the dragon, the old serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years; 3 and threw him into the abyss and shut it and sealed it over him, that he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years should be finished. After this he must be released for a little time. 4 Then I saw thrones, and seated on them were those to whom the authority to judge was committed. Also I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the word of God, and who had not worshiped the beast or its image, and had not received its mark on their foreheads or their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. 5 The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were ended. This is the first resurrection. 6 Blessed and holy is he that has part in the first resurrection. Over these the second death has no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years;
The lake of fire is therefore symbolic of death – which the Bible defines as total unconsciousness.

Heaven and earth are often used in the Bible to describe a system of things on earth; the ‘heaven’ can refer to those in power, and the ‘earth’ to the ordinary people. There is no need for God to destroy and replace literal Heaven where He dwells.

This is the hope which Job had – to actually see God in person (Job 19:27). God therefore exists in a personal form; and ultimately we shall see Him. Heaven will be transferred to earth – hence the Kingdom of God on earth is sometimes spoken of as “the Kingdom of Heaven”. Not the Kingdom in Heaven, but Heaven’s Kingdom coming onto earth.

CHAPTER 21

Jul. 1 Dec. 31

The New Jerusalem

And I saw a new heaven and a new earth. For the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and the sea was no more. And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride, adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of the throne, saying: Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and He shall dwell with them, and they shall be His people; and God Himself shall be with them, and be their God. And He shall wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more. Neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more. The first things are passed away. And he that sits on the throne said: Behold! I make all things new. And he said: Write! For these words are faithful and true. And he said to me: They have come to pass. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. Amen. Amen.
and the end. I will freely give to him who is thirsty from the spring of the water of life. 7 He that overcomes shall inherit these things, and I will be his God and he shall be my son. 8 But for the fearful and unbelieving and abominable and murderers and fornicators and sorcerers and idolaters and all liars, their share shall be in the lake that burns with fire and sulphur; which is the second death. 9 And there came one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls, who were laden with the seven last plagues; and he spoke with me, saying: Come here, I will show you the bride, the wife of the Lamb. 10 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a mountain great and high, and showed me the holy city Jerusalem coming down out of heaven from God, 11 having the glory of God. Her light was like a stone most precious, as it were a jasper stone, clear as crystal. 12 She had a wall great and high, having twelve gates; and at the gates were twelve angels, and the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel written thereon. 13 On the east were three gates, on the north three gates, on the south three gates and on the west three gates. 14 The wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them the twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. 15 And he that spoke with me had for a measure a golden reed to measure the city and the gates of it, and the wall of it. 16 And the city is laid out as a square, its length is as great as its breadth, and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand stadia. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal. 17 And he measured the wall of it, one hundred and forty four cubits according to the measurement of a man, which is also an angel’s measurement. 18 And the building of the wall was of jasper, and the city was pure gold, like pure glass. 19 The foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper. The second, sapphire. The third, chalcedony. The fourth, emerald. 20 The fifth, sardonyx. The sixth, sardius. The seventh, chrysolite. The eighth, beryl. The ninth, topaz. The tenth, chrysoprase. The eleventh, jacinth. The twelfth, amethyst. 21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls. Each of the separate gates was one pearl, and the street of the city was pure gold, as if it were transparent glass. 22 And I saw no temple therein. For the Lord God the Almighty, and the Lamb, are the temple of it. 23 And the city has no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine upon it. For the glory of God did light it, and the lamp of it is the Lamb. 24 And the nations shall walk by the light of it, and the kings of the earth bring their glory into it. 25 The gates of it shall in 21:17 A man... an Angel – In the Kingdom of God, we shall be made equal to the Angels (Lk. 20:35,36), who cannot sin any more and who share God’s eternal nature. 21:24 When Christ returns, we shall be resurrected, judged, and made the rulers in His Kingdom which He will establish upon earth (5:10). We will rule over the ordinary mortal people who are alive on earth at the time of His return. The rulers of this world no way be shut by day (for there shall be no night there). 26 And they shall bring the glory and the honour of the nations into it. 27 There shall in no way enter into it anything unclean, or he that makes an abomination and a lie, but only they that are written in the Lamb's book of life.

CHAPTER 22  Jul. 1  Dec. 31

Eden Restored

And he showed me a river of water of life, bright as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb, \(^2\) in the midst of the street thereof. And on both sides of the river was the tree of life, bearing twelve fruits, yielding its fruit every month; and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. \(^3\) And there shall be no curse any more, and the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be therein, and his servants shall serve him. \(^4\) They shall see his face, and his name shall be on their foreheads. \(^5\) There shall be night no more, so they do not need the light of a lamp, nor the light of the sun; for the Lord God shall give them light, and they shall reign for ever and ever.

Final Charges

6 And he said to me: These words are faithful and true. And the Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, has sent His angel to show His servants what must soon take place. \(^7\) And behold, I come quickly. Blessed is he that keeps the words of the prophecy of this book. \(^8\) And I John am he that heard and saw these things. And when I heard and saw, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel that showed me these things. \(^9\) And he said to me: You must not do that! I am a fellow-servant with you, and with your brothers the prophets, and with those that keep the words of this book. Worship God! \(^10\) And he said to me: Do not seal up the words of the prophecy of this book. For the time is at hand. \(^11\) He that is unrighteous, let him continue to do unrighteousness, and he that is filthy, let him remain filthy, and he that is righteous, let him continue to do righteousness, and he that is holy, let him remain holy. \(^12\) Behold, I come suddenly; and my reward is with me, to repay everyone for what he has done. \(^13\) I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the will bow before us and give all their glory to us – we who in this life are as nothing. We shall be the light of the world in that we shall teach the nations the light of Christ, who is the light of the world. But we must be and want to be the light of the world now if we are to be it in the future age.

22:3 Eden will be restored. The curse that came upon the earth and all creation as a result of Adam’s sin will be removed. Again we see that God’s plan is to establish His Kingdom here on earth – hence the language of paradise restored.

22:12 The coming of Christ will be “sudden” and we must therefore remind ourselves throughout each day that Christ really might come any time – and be prepared for Him. Christ brings the reward to us, from Heaven to earth (1 Pet. 5:4); we don’t get the reward on death by going to Heaven.
beginning and the end. 14 Blessed are they that wash their robes, that they may have the right to eat of the tree of life and may enter in through the gates into the city. 15 Outside it are the dogs and the sorcerers and the fornicators and the murderers and the idolaters and lovers and practisers of falsehood. 16 I Jesus have sent my angel to testify to you these things for the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, the bright morning star. 17 And the Spirit and the bride say: Come! And he that hears, let him say: Come! And he that is thirsty, let him come. Let him that desires take the water of life freely. 18 I testify to every man that hears the words of the prophecy of this book, that if anyone shall add to them, God shall add to him the plagues which are written in this book. 19 And if anyone shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from the tree of life and out of the holy city, which are written of in this book. 20 He who testifies these things says: Yes. I come quickly. Amen. Come Lord Jesus. 21 The grace of the Lord Jesus be with the saints. Amen.

22:15 Lovers and practisers – People can love sin without personally practicing it by loving to watch and read of these things, participating in them from a distance.
22:17 If we grasp the wonder of the eternal future made possible, our natural reaction will be to invite the person next to us to come and share in it too. Good news about something doesn’t remain silently within anyone.
Part 1: THE BIBLE

The Bible we hold in our hands today has an amazing history and is nothing short of a miracle. It claims to be the Word of God and presents us with a challenge to search out the Truth of its message and to confirm for ourselves that this is indeed the only revelation available from our Creator.

God’s Spirit

The Bible is an expression of God’s spirit. His spirit was seen at work in the creation: “By His Spirit He adorned the heavens’ (Job 26:13). The spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters to bring about the present creation (Genesis 1:2). Yet we also read that “by the word of the Lord” the world was made (Psalm 33:6); Genesis records how “God said” and things were created. God’s spirit, therefore, is very much reflected in His Word. Likewise our words express our inner thoughts and desires – the real ‘us’ – very accurately. David spoke of how God’s Word and His heart are parallel: “For Your word’s sake, and according to Your own heart, You have done all these great things.” (2 Samuel 7:21). So God’s mind / spirit is expressed in His Word. God achieved the miracle of expressing His spirit in written words by the process of inspiration. This term is based around the word “spirit”: In-spirit-ation.

“Spirit” means “breath” or breathing. “Inspiration” means “in-breathing”. This means that the words which men wrote while under “inspiration” from God were the words of God’s spirit. Paul encouraged Timothy not to let his familiarity with the Bible lead him to forget the wonder of the fact that it is the words of God’s spirit, and therefore provides all that we need in order for a true knowledge of God: “From childhood you have known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make you wise for salvation, through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be complete, thoroughly equipped for every good work” (2 Timothy 3:15-17).
The Bible Fully Inspired
This unwillingness to accept the huge spiritual power which is in God’s Word has led many Christians to question whether all the Scriptures are fully inspired by God. They have suggested that much of what we read in the Bible was just the personal opinions of the writers. But Peter effectively disposes of such erroneous reasoning: “We have the word of the prophets made more certain, and you will do well to pay attention to it ... above all, you must understand that no prophecy of Scripture came about by the prophet’s own interpretation. For prophecy never had its origin in the will of man, but men spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit” (2 Peter 1:19-21 NIV).

We must “above all” believe that the Bible is inspired. The doctrine of inspiration is so often emphasised in the Bible text:

- “For God commanded, saying ...” (Matthew 15:4)
- “For David himself said by the Holy Spirit ...” (Mark 12:36;)
- “… which the Holy Spirit spoke before by the mouth of David ...” (Acts 1:16);
- “The Holy spirit spoke rightly through Isaiah the prophet ...” (Acts 1:16);
- As the Holy Spirit says ...” (Hebrews 3:7; see also 9:8; 10:15).

If these men were only partly inspired, we do not have access to the true Word or spirit of God. If what they wrote really was the Word of God, then it follows that they had to be completely taken over by God’s spirit, during the period of inspiration – otherwise the product would not have been God’s Word in purity.

Inspired Words Can Motivate
An acceptance that God’s Word is completely His, provides us with more motivation to read and obey it: “Your word is very pure, therefore Your servant loves it” (Psalm 119:140). A comparison of 2 Timothy 3:16 with 4:2,3 shows how an appreciation of an inspired Bible can motivate action from us:

Because the inspired word is profitable …

- for doctrine therefore preach the word; be ready in season and out of season (i.e.; whether you naturally feel in the preaching mood or not).
- for reproof therefore convince (reprove)
- for correction therefore rebuke
- for instruction in righteousness therefore exhort with all long-suffering and teaching.
What it can Mean to Us
If we believe that the Bible is inspired, we will feel the passion and power of it the more, and thereby its impact upon us will be the greater. Take for example the quote from the Old Testament: “You have seen that I have talked with you from heaven (therefore) you shall not make anything to be with Me – gods of silver ...” (Exodus 20:22,23).
Because of the wonder of having heard God’s voice, therefore idolatry of any form will be meaningless for us.
The Apostle Paul felt the passion of God’s word. It wasn’t just black print on white paper to him. Thus he speaks of how “Isaiah is very bold and says … Isaiah also cried out concerning Israel …” (Romans 9:27; 10:20). Paul had meditated deeply upon Isaiah’s words, even to the point of considering the tone of voice in which he first spoke them.
It was because the rulers of Israel “did not know … the voices of the prophets which are read every Sabbath” (Acts 13:27) that they crucified the Lord. Paul speaks of the prophets’ “voices” rather than merely their words. The men who crucified Jesus didn’t feel the wonder of inspiration in their attitude to the Bible – even though they would have devoutly upheld the position that the Bible texts were inspired. Here we have a lesson for ourselves. Although we might agree that the Bible is the inspired word of God, it is quite possible that we might fail to feel this as we should when we read it.

Part 2: THE KINGDOM OF GOD
The focus of the true Christian hope is the coming Kingdom of God on earth. The Lord’s prayer shows this: “Your kingdom come (that) your will be done on earth, as it is (now) in heaven” (Matthew 6:10). At Christ’s return, “the kingdoms of this world (will) become the kingdoms of our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign forever and ever!” (Revelation 11:15). Then God’s will and desires will be completely and openly performed in this earth.

The Kingdom on Earth
The “kingdom of God” is a phrase interchangeable with “the kingdom of heaven” (Matthew 13:11 cp. Mark 4:11). The Bible never speaks of ‘the kingdom in heaven’; it is the kingdom of heaven which will be established by Christ on earth at His return. As God’s will is completely obeyed by the angels in heaven (Psalms 103:19-21) so it will be in the future kingdom of God. Entering the kingdom of God at Christ’s return is the end result of all Christian endeavour in this life (Matthew 25:34; Acts 14:22); as such, it is important to have a correct understanding of it. The doctrine of the Kingdom of God forms a vital part of the Gospel message (Acts 8:12; 19:8; 28:23,31). “We must through many tribulations enter the kingdom of God” (Acts 14:22), it is the light at the end of the tunnel of this life, and therefore the motivation to make the sacrifices which the true Christian life involves.

Old Testament Prophecy of the Kingdom of God
Daniel 2 is one of many prophecies in the Old Testament which speak of the Kingdom of God. Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, wanted to know the world’s future. He was given a vision of a great statue, composed of different metals. Daniel interpreted the head of gold as representing the king of Babylon (Daniel 2:38). After him there was to come a succession of major empires in the area around Israel, until there would be a situation in which “as the toes of the feet were partly of iron and partly of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly fragile” (Daniel 2:42). This speaks of the present balance of power in the world split between many nations, some strong and some weak. Daniel then saw a little stone hit the image on the feet, destroying it. The stone grew into a great mountain which filled the whole earth (Daniel 2:34,35). This stone represents Jesus (Matthew 21:42, Acts 4:11; Ephesians 2:20; 1 Peter 2:4-8). The “mountain” which will fill the earth represents the everlasting kingdom of God, which will be established at His return to the earth. Thus the kingdom will be on earth, not in heaven: “And in the days of these kings, the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed ... it shall stand forever” (Daniel 2:44).

Christ the King
Christ will be the king and His personal return to earth will mark the start of the Kingdom of God. He will reign as supreme ruler over all the earth.

- “He will reign ... forever, and of His kingdom there will be no end” (Luke 1:32,33).
- “The kingdoms of this world have become the kingdoms of our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign forever and ever!” (Revelation 11:15).
- “He (Christ) shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river to the ends of the earth” (Psalm 72:8).

Co-rulers
Christ will share His rulership over the earth with His followers: “[Christ has] made us kings and priests to our God; and we shall reign on the earth” (Revelation 5:10). “A king (Jesus) will reign in righteousness, and princes (the believers) will rule with justice” (Isaiah 32:1; Luke 19:17; 2 Timothy 2:12).
The Capital

Christ will reign from Jerusalem, the capital of the future Kingdom. Whilst people will be praising God at various places worldwide (Malachi 1:11), Jerusalem will be the focal point of the world’s worship (Jer. 3:17). Nations “shall go up from year to year to worship the King, the Lord of hosts” around the temple in Jerusalem (Zechariah 14:16). This annual pilgrimage to Jerusalem is also prophesied in Isaiah 2:2,3: “In the last days, the mountain of the Lord’s house shall be established in the top of the mountains ... and all nations shall flow to it. Many people shall come and say, Come and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; He will teach us His ways ... for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem”.

There will be worldwide enthusiasm to learn the ways of God. People will be so motivated by this desire that they will travel from all ends of the earth to Jerusalem in order to gain more knowledge of God.

One Universal Legal System

Instead of the confusion and unfairness created by man’s legal systems there will be one universal legal code – “the law, and the word of the Lord”, which will be pronounced by Christ from Jerusalem. “All nations shall flow unto” these teaching sessions. The true knowledge of God will lessen the friction between nations. Respect will be paid to those who reflect God’s characteristics of love, mercy, justice etc. in contrast with the present exaltation of the proud and self-assertive: “In His days the righteous shall flourish” (Psalm 72:7).

Agricultural and Environmental Change

The absolute authority of Christ and total justice of His arbitration in disputes will result in the nations willingly changing their military hardware into agricultural machinery: “Nations … shall beat their swords into ploughshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more” (Isaiah 2:4). The Bible describes the dramatic solution to the current environmental crises the earth currently faces. We will see a fertile, fruitful earth in God’s kingdom: “There shall be an abundance of grain in the earth on the top of the (once barren) mountains; its fruit shall wave like (the crops of) Lebanon” (Psalm 72:16). “The wilderness … shall be glad … the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose; it shall … rejoice even with joy and singing … for waters shall burst forth in the wilderness, and streams in the desert. The parched ground shall become a pool” (Isaiah 35:1-7). Even the natural aggression between the animals will be removed: “the wolf and the lamb shall feed together”, and children will be able to play with snakes (Isaiah 65:25; 11:6-8). Life spans will be increased (Isaiah 65:20). Women will experience less sorrow in childbirth (Isaiah 65:23). “Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then the lame shall leap like a deer, and the tongue of the dumb sing” (Isaiah 35:5,6). This will be due to the miraculous Spirit gifts again being possessed (cp. Hebrews 6:5).

The Ultimate Purpose of the Kingdom
The ultimate purpose of the Kingdom of God is to give glory to God. “Truly, as I live, all the earth shall be filled with the glory of the Lord” (Numbers 14:21; Habakkuk 2:14). Glory to God means that the inhabitants of the earth will appreciate, praise and copy His righteous attributes. “The meek shall inherit the earth (in the Kingdom), and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace” (Psalms 37:11). Possessing eternal life will almost be incidental to the real reason for our being in the Kingdom – which is to glorify God. Just a few years of living in the joy of absolute perfection and good conscience with God would be worth all the trauma of this life. That this glorious state will last forever takes us beyond the limits of human comprehension!

An Outline of Events at Christ’s Return
1. The responsible dead (those who know God’s ways) will be raised and taken, together with the responsible living, to the judgment seat.
2. Those who knew of God’s ways but refused to obey will be punished with death, and the righteous given eternal life. Judgment will also be given to the nations who resist Christ.
3. The righteous will then rule over those people who are then alive, but who are not responsible to God; they will teach them the Gospel as “kings and priests” (Revelation 5:10).
4. This will last for 1,000 years. During this time all the mortal people will hear the Gospel and therefore be responsible to God. These people will live much longer and happier lives.
5. At the end of the Millennium there will be a rebellion against Christ and the saints, which God will put down. (Revelation 20:8,9).
6. At the end of the 1,000 years, all those who have died during that time will be resurrected and judged (Revelation 20:5,11-15).
7. The wicked amongst them will be destroyed, and the righteous will join Christ and His saints in having eternal life.

The Meaning of the Kingdom for us Today
Being in the Kingdom of God should be a believer’s supreme motivation to despise worldly advantage and materialism. Everything which we can now imagine and strive for is incomparable to the ultimate fulfilment of being in God’s Kingdom. “Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you” (Matthew 6:30-34). A believer needs to seek “(God’s) righteousness”, i.e. try to develop a love of God’s character. We want to be in God’s Kingdom because righteousness will be glorified there, because we want to be completely morally perfect; rather than just because we, personally, want to escape death and live an easy life for eternity.

If we are “seeking first the Kingdom of God” our perspective about this life will change. We will shun materialism and the effort which it demands. If we selfishly build up our own possessions through ignoring the needs of others, we have denied God’s ways – even if we understand all the doctrines of God (1 Timothy 5:8; 6:10).

The fact that the Kingdom will be on earth not in heaven, means that we will not strive for present possession of it, neither will we be swayed by the pressure groups and political parties who only look at the state of the world as it now is (1 John 3:13).

By having this hope, we “draw nigh to God” (Hebrews 7:19). The Hope we have compels us to God’s service. And that same Hope inspires us to repentance, too. For if Christ is soon to return, what manner of persons ought we to be? We will want to tell others of this hope (Matthew 10:7; Mark 6:12).

If we will eternally walk in God’s ways in the Kingdom, we should strive to do so now: “We labour and strive because we have our hope set on the living God, who is the Saviour of all men” (1 Timothy 4:10 RV). The Kingdom of God is not just a time of personal, physical benefit. Jesus Christ spoke of it as a time of peace, a time when God’s principles would triumph over men’s selfish desires. This can begin right now in a quiet way, in the hearts of those who will be in the future Kingdom. If we believe we really will be there, then we will look more earnestly for the day to come. We can never be truly enthusiastic about the Lord’s return if we are unsure He will accept us into God’s Kingdom. The Apostle Paul encourages those who take on the hope of the Kingdom: “When Christ … appears, then you also will appear with Him in glory. Therefore put to death your members which are on the earth; fornication …” etc. (Colossians 3:4,5). The salvation God offers is by grace. This enables us to look forward with eagerness rather than uncertainty to Christ’s coming and our lives are thereby changed: “The grace of God … teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts … looking for the blessed hope and glorious appearing of our great God and Saviour Jesus Christ” Titus 2:11-13).
Part 3: GOD’S PURPOSE REVEALED IN PROMISES

The Bible gives a consistent message of the purpose of God. His plan is to fill the earth with men and women who show His character and give Him glory. He has given great promises which show the way this will be accomplished when His kingdom will be established in the earth.

In order for God’s purpose to be achieved, He provided His only begotten Son, the Lord Jesus Christ. Because of Christ’s life, death and resurrection, men and women have a way of being part of God’s great kingdom if they respond and believe in Him.

The Promise in Eden
Adam and Eve sinned by eating the forbidden fruit in the garden of Eden. Both they and the serpent were punished. Men and women would die, and would be unable to save themselves from this. But a ray of hope for man comes into this dark picture when God says to the serpent: “I will put enmity (hatred, opposition) between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed; He (the woman’s seed) shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel” (Genesis 3:15).

A “seed” means a descendant or child, but it can also refer to the people associated with the particular “seed”, e.g. we become the seed of Abraham if we are “in” Jesus by baptism (Galatians 3:27,29).

The Seed of the Serpent
The serpent, because of his lie, came to represent a sinful way of thinking. The seed of the serpent refers to those with the family likeness of the serpent, those who distort God’s Word, lying and leading others into sin. They allow these characteristics to rule their life. In the time of Christ the corrupt religious rulers were referred to as a “brood of vipers” (Matthew 3:7).

The Seed of the Woman
The seed of the woman refers to one who would bruise or crush the serpent’s head, i.e. sin, dealing it with a death-blow. This was a prophecy of Jesus Christ and his work: Jesus Christ, who has (by the cross) abolished death (and therefore the power of sin – Romans 6:23), and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel” (2 Tim. 1:10). “God, by sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, on account of sin: He condemned sin in the flesh” (Romans 8:3; see also 1 John 3:5; Matthew 1:21).

Christ was ‘wounded in the heel’ through his death for three days. Yet His resurrection proved that this was only a temporary wound, compared to the death-blow that He gave sin.
What does this mean to us?
On the cross Jesus destroyed the power of sin in Himself. He has invited us to share in His victory. If we are “baptized into Christ” we can share in the promises about Jesus, like that in Genesis 3:15. No longer are they just interesting parts of the Bible, they are prophecies and promises which are made directly to us! Although sin and death are still experienced by true believers, by being baptized into Christ (Galatians 3:27-29), they can have forgiveness of their sins now and eventually be saved from death. God has promised a time when the righteous will be raised from the dead and given eternal life: “The dead will be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed... then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory” (1 Corinthians 15:52-54).

Jesus was the true ‘seed of the woman’, but we can be part of that seed of the woman too by being baptized into Christ. Our lives will then reflect the words of Genesis 3:15 – there will be a constant sense of conflict (“enmity”) within us, between right and wrong. The great apostle Paul described a conflict between sinful thoughts and the love of God’s ways that raged within him (Romans 7:14-25). But he concludes this by saying: “O wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? I thank God – through Jesus Christ our Lord!” (Romans 7:24-25).

So right from the beginning God promised Christ as a Saviour. This incredible promise given to Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden has been fulfilled in Christ, and we too can benefit from it.

THE PROMISE TO ABRAHAM

The Gospel preached to Abraham
The Gospel taught by Jesus and the apostles was also given in a series of promises to Abraham, the father of the nation of Israel. God, through the promises, “Preached the gospel to Abraham” (Galatians 3:8). If we can understand what was taught to Abraham, we will then have a very basic picture of the Christian Gospel. There are other indications that the Gospel is not something which began at the time of Jesus: “We declare to you glad tidings (the Gospel) – that promise which was made to the (Jewish) fathers, God has fulfilled” (Acts 13:32,33; see also Romans 1:1,2; Hebrews 4:2).

Two Themes
The promises to Abraham have two basic themes:
1. Things about Abraham’s seed (special descendant)
2. Things about the land which was promised to Abraham.
The New Testament comments on these promises. By letting the Bible explain itself, we can combine the teachings of both Testaments to give us a complete picture of the promises made to Abraham.

Abraham – a Man of Faith

Abraham originally lived in Ur, a prosperous city in what is now Iraq. An extraordinary call of God came to him – to leave that sophisticated life and embark on a journey to a promised land. This required faith because exactly where he was to journey was not made completely clear. It turned out to be a 1,500 mile journey. The land was Canaan – modern Israel.

During his life, God appeared to Abraham and repeated and expanded His promises to him. Those promises are the basis of Christ’s Gospel. So that same call comes to true Christians as it did to Abraham, to leave the transient things of this life, and go forward in a life of faith, taking God’s promises at face value and living by His Word. “By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out (from Ur) to the place (Canaan) which he would afterward receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going” (Hebrews 11:8).

By showing a similar faith and acting upon it, we can have the same honour as Abraham – to be called the friends of God (Isaiah 41:8), to find the knowledge of God (Genesis 18:17) and to have the sure hope of eternal life in the Kingdom. To truly believe in the Christian message we, too, must firmly believe what God promised to Abraham. With eager eyes we should therefore read and re-read the dialogues between God and Abraham.

The Land

1. “Get out of your country. To a land that I will shew you” (Genesis 12:1).

2. Abraham “went on his journey….as far as Bethel (in Central Israel). And the Lord said to Abram. Lift your eyes now and look from the place where you are – northward, southward, eastward and westward: for all the land which you see I give to you, and your descendants forever…walk in the land…..for I give it to you” (Genesis 13:3,14-17).

3. “The Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, To your descendants I have given this land, from the river of Egypt to the great river, the river Euphrates” (Genesis 15:18).
4. “I will give to you and your descendants after you the land in which you are a stranger, all the land of Canaan, as an everlasting possession” (Genesis 17:8).

5. “The promise that he (Abraham) would be the heir of the world” (Romans 4:13).

We see here a progressive revelation to Abraham:

1. ‘There is a land which I would like you to go to’.

2. ‘You have now arrived in the area. You and your children will live here for ever.’

3. The area of the promised land was more specifically defined.

4. Abraham was not to expect to receive the promise in this life – he was to be a “stranger” in the land, although he would later live there for ever. The implication of this is that he would die and then later be resurrected to enable him to receive this promise.

5. Paul, under inspiration, saw the promises to Abraham as meaning his inheritance of the whole earth.

Abraham did not receive the fulfilment of the promises in his lifetime: “By faith he sojourned (implying a temporary way of life) in the land of promise as in a foreign country, dwelling in tents” (Hebrews 11:9). Abraham “died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off were assured of them, embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth” (Hebrews 11:13).

Notice the four stages:

1. Knowing the promises;
2. Being “assured of them”;
3. Embracing them – by being baptized into Christ (Galatians 3:27-29);
4. Confessing to the world by our way of life that this world is not our real home, but we are living in hope of that future age to come upon the earth.

God “gave him no inheritance in it, not even enough to set his foot on. But …He promised to give it to him for a possession” (Acts 7:5). God keeps His promises. There will come a day when Abraham and all who have those promises made to them will be rewarded. “These all died in faith, not having received the promises. God having provided something better for us, that they should not be made perfect apart from us” (Hebrews 11:13,39,40).

All true believers will therefore be rewarded at the same point in time, i.e. at the judgment seat at the last day (2 Timothy 4:1,8; Matthew 25:31-34). In order to be judged, Abraham and others who knew those promises must be resurrected just before the judgment.

The Seed
As with the promise of a seed in Genesis 3:15, this seed of Abraham applies primarily to Jesus and, secondarily, to those who are “in Christ” and therefore are also counted as the seed of Abraham:

1. “I will make you a great nation, I will bless you…and in you all the families of the earth shall be blessed” (Genesis 12:2,3).
2. “I will make your descendants as the dust of the earth, so that if a man could number the dust of the earth, then your descendants also could be numbered … all the land which you see I give to you and your descendants forever” (Genesis 13:15,16).
3. “Look now toward heaven, and count the stars if you are able to number them. So shall your descendants be. To your descendants I have given this land” (Genesis 15:5,18).
4. “I give to you and your descendants after you, the land of Canaan, as an everlasting possession; and I will be their God” (Genesis 17:8).
5. “I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore; and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies; and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed” (Genesis 22:17-18 KJV).

Again, Abraham’s understanding of the “seed” was increased as God gave him further promises.

1. Firstly he was just told that somehow he would have an extraordinary number of descendants, and that through his “seed” the whole earth would be blessed.
2. He was later told that he would have a seed who would come to include many people. These people would spend eternal life, along with himself, in the land at which he had arrived, i.e. Canaan.
3. He was told that his seed would become as many as the stars in the sky. This may have suggested to him that he would have many spiritual descendants (stars in heaven) as well as many natural ones (as “the dust of the earth”).
4. The previous promises were underlined with the additional assurance that the many people who would become part of the seed could have a personal relationship with God.

5. The seed would have victory against his enemies. Notice that the seed was to bring “blessings” to be available to people from all over the earth. In the Bible the idea of blessing is often connected with forgiveness of sins. After all, this is the greatest blessing a lover of God could ever want. “Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven” (Psalm 32:1).

The only descendant of Abraham who has brought forgiveness of sins to the world is Jesus, and the New Testament commentary on the promises to Abraham provides solid support. “He (God) does not say, ‘And to seeds’, as of many (i.e. in the plural), but as of one (in the singular), ‘And to your seed’, who is Christ” (Galatians 3:16). “…the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying to Abraham, And in your seed all the families of the earth shall be blessed. To you first, God, having raised up His Servant Jesus (i.e. the seed), sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from your iniquities” (Acts 3:25,26).

Notice here how Peter quotes and interprets Genesis 22:18:

The seed = Jesus

The blessing = forgiveness of sins.

Joining the Seed

The basic elements of the Gospel were understood by Abraham. But these vital promises were to Abraham and his seed, Jesus. Can anyone else be involved? Even physical descent from Abraham would not automatically make someone part of that one specific seed (John 8:39). To share these promises we have to become intimately part of Jesus. This is by baptism into Jesus (Romans 6:3-5); frequently we read of baptism into His name (Acts 2:38; 8:16; 10:48; 19:5). “As many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek (Gentile), there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male or female: for you are all one in Christ Jesus. And if you are Christ’s (by baptism into him) then you are Abraham’s seed, and heirs according to the promise” (Galatians 3:27-29).

The promise of eternal life on earth, through receiving the “blessing” of forgiveness through Jesus, is by being baptized into Christ, the seed, so that we can share the promises made to him. Romans 8:17 calls us “joint heirs with Christ”. The blessing was to come on people from all parts of the earth, through Christ’s work. The seed was to become a world-wide group of people, like the sand of the sea shores and the stars of the sky.
In Summary

We can summarise the two strands of the promises given to Abraham:

1. The Land
   Abraham and his seed, Jesus, and those in Him will inherit the land of Canaan and by extension the whole earth, and live there for ever. In this life they would not receive it, but would do so when Jesus returns.

2. The Seed
   This was primarily Jesus. Through Him the sins (“enemies”) of mankind would be overcome, so that the blessings of forgiveness would be made available world-wide.

By baptism into the name of Jesus we become part of the seed and share in the promises to Abraham.

The Hope of Israel

Paul could define his hope as “the hope of Israel” (Acts 28:20). The true Christian hope is the original Jewish hope, the promises made to Abraham the father of the Jewish people (see also John 4:22).

The Early Christians preached:

1. “The things concerning the Kingdom of God and
2. The name of Jesus Christ” (Acts 8:12).

These were the very two things explained to Abraham under slightly different headings:

1. Promises about the land and
2. Promises about the seed.

The good news about this Kingdom which was preached to Abraham played a big part in the early preaching of the Gospel (Acts 19:8; 20:25; 28:23,31).

A Life of Faith

Just technically being Abraham’s seed through baptism does not mean that we are acceptable with God. The Jews are Abraham’s seed naturally speaking, but this does not mean that they can be saved without being baptized and conforming their lives to Christ and the example of Abraham (Romans 9:7,8; 4:13,14).
The “seed” must have the characteristics of its ancestor. If we are to be the true seed of Abraham we must therefore not only be baptized but also have a very real faith in God’s promises, just as he had. Abraham was “the father of all those who believe, who also walk in the steps of the faith which our father Abraham had” (Romans 4:11,12; see also Galatians 3:7).

Real faith must then show itself in action, otherwise, in God’s eyes, it isn’t faith (James 2:17).

THE PROMISE TO DAVID

David, like Abraham and many other recipients of God’s promises, did not have an easy life. After many trials of faith he eventually became king of Israel. To show his appreciation of God’s love toward him during his life, he decided to build God a temple. The reply from God was that David’s son, Solomon, would build the temple and that God wanted to build David a house (2 Samuel 7:4-13). Then followed a detailed promise which repeats much of what was told Abraham, and which also filled in some other details:

- “When your days are fulfilled and you rest with your fathers, I will set up your seed after you, who will come from your body, and I will establish his kingdom. He shall build a house for My name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom for ever. I will be his Father, and he shall be My son. If he commits iniquity, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the blows of the sons of men: But my mercy shall not depart from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I removed from before you. And your house and your kingdom shall be established forever before you. Your throne shall be established for ever” (2 Samuel 7:12-16).

The promise in Eden (Genesis 3:15) and the promises to Abraham (Genesis 26:4; 28:14) talk of a promised “seed” coming. Having seen that the “seed” in those promises pointed forward to Jesus, it would be logical to assume that the seed promised to David is none other but the Lord Jesus Christ also. The Bible presents a consistent message and the promises of Christ are a key theme of the Old Testament. His description as the son of God (2 Samuel 7:14) confirms this, as do many other references in other parts of the Bible:-

- “(Jesus), born of the seed of David according to the flesh (Romans 1:3).
- “From this man’s seed (David’s), according to the promise, God raised up for Israel a saviour – Jesus” (Acts 13:23; see also Revelation 22:16).
The angel told the virgin Mary concerning her son, Jesus: “The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David, and of his Kingdom there will be no end” (Luke 1:32,33). This is applying the promise of David’s seed, in 2 Samuel 7:13 to Jesus.

With the seed firmly identified as Jesus, a number of details now become significant:

1. The seed
   “Your seed, who will come from your body. I will be his Father, and he shall be My son.” “I will set upon your throne the fruit of your body” (2 Samuel 7:12,14; Psalm 132:10,11).

   Jesus, the seed, was to be a literal, bodily descendant of David, and yet have God as his Father. This could only be achieved by the virgin birth as described in the New Testament. Jesus’ mother was Mary, a descendant of David (Luke 1:32), but he had no human father. God acted miraculously upon Mary’s womb by the Holy Spirit in order to make her conceive Jesus, and so the Angel commented, “therefore, also, that Holy One who is to be born will be called the son of God” (Luke 1:35).

2. The house
   “He shall build a house for My name” (2 Samuel 7:13).

   This shows that Jesus will build a temple for God. God’s “house” is where He is willing to live, and Isaiah 66:1,2 tells us that He will come to live in the hearts of men who are humble to His word. Jesus is therefore building a spiritual temple for God to dwell in, made up of the true believers. Descriptions of Jesus as the foundation stone of God’s spiritual temple (1 Peter 2:4-8) and of Christians as the temple stones (1 Peter 2:5) now slot into place.

3. The throne
   “I will establish the throne of his (Christ’s) kingdom forever...your (David’s) house and your kingdom. Your throne shall be established forever” (2 Samuel 7:13,16; see also Isaiah 9:6,7).

   Christ’s kingdom will therefore be a re-establishment of David’s kingdom of Israel. To fulfil this promise, Christ must reign on David’s “throne” which was literally in Jerusalem. The kingdom must be established here on earth in order to fulfil these promises.

4. The kingdom
   “Your house and your kingdom shall be established forever before you” (2 Samuel 7:16).

   David would witness the establishment of Christ’s eternal kingdom. He must therefore be resurrected at Christ’s return so that he could see with his own eyes the kingdom being set up world-wide, with Jesus reigning from Jerusalem.

Salvation promised

These things which were promised to David are absolutely vital to understand. David joyfully spoke of these things as “an everlasting covenant...this is all my salvation and all my desire” (2 Samuel 23:5). These things relate to our salvation too; rejoicing in them should likewise be all our desire.

These doctrines are important and it is a tragedy that Christendom teaches doctrines which contradict these marvellous truths:

- If Jesus physically ‘pre-existed’, i.e. he existed as a person before he was born, then this makes nonsense of these promises that Jesus would be David’s ‘seed’ or descendant.
- If the kingdom of God will be in heaven, then Jesus cannot re-establish David’s kingdom of Israel, nor can he reign from David’s “throne”.

These things were literally on the earth, and so their re-establishment must be in the same place.

The Implications of the Promises

Through baptism, the promises to David and also the other great promises of the Bible can apply to us – we too can have the hope of salvation in God’s Kingdom. We can become spiritual Israel, and therefore the people of God, separated from this world. Abraham, the natural father of the Jewish race, can become our spiritual father.

Separation

Having looked at this promise, and also the promise to Abraham, implications emerge in relation to the way we live if we accept them through baptism. For example, we become a separate people. We become spiritual Jews. What God spoke to men like Jacob, Abraham’s grandson, He therefore spoke to us (Hosea 12:5; Genesis 28:15; compare Hebrews 12:5,6). We therefore will seek all our associations only among the people of God, with whom we will share the kingdom of God.

Abraham’s example of consciously shunning the things of this world will be matched in his ‘children’. If we truly believe the promises, we too will separate ourselves “from the corruption that is in the world” (2 Peter 1:4). We should be happy to have a light hold on possession of property, knowing that this earth is ours. For now, we are just passing through it, surveying it, like Abraham did.

Commitment

All those in true covenant relationship with God will realize the fullness of commitment which He has entered, and will make a whole-hearted response and sacrifice (Malachi 2:4,5). Psalm 103:18 parallels “such as keep his covenant” with “those that remember his commandments to do them”. The extent of the implication of being in covenant with God ought to preclude the possibility of worshipping any other god. The covenant we can enter into demands loyalty.

If we take part in the promises of God, it should enable us to live godly lives now in this evil world. We can be sure of God’s mercy and truth towards us, so that whatever happens to us in this life we can have confidence that God will bring us to His kingdom.

Unity
Galatians 3:27-29 explains that through baptism into the covenant made with Abraham, there is a special unity between all in that covenant. Slave and free, male and female, Jew and Gentile are all thereby united, as they were in the early church. Through the power of the most basic facts of the Gospel preached to Abraham, this incredible unity is possible amongst believers.
Believers are all united in Christ as ‘Abraham’s seed’, therefore they must show kindness, patience, etc.

Present and Future Blessings
By being baptised we can have the blessings of forgiveness now (Acts 3:25,26), and also look forward to the blessings of the future Kingdom of God. In Galatians 3:15-20 Paul is pointing out that the promises to Abraham offer eternal inheritance in the Kingdom on the basis of faith and grace, and neither the Law of Moses nor any other form of legalism can change that basis. An appreciation of the promises will enable us to see the wonder of salvation by grace, to the point that we will reject all forms of legalism and seeking to justify ourselves by works achieved.

The Promise to Abraham can be ours Abraham was promised that his seed would have the Almighty God as their personal God, and would eternally inherit the land. If we acknowledge Abraham’s God as our God and can see in faith that God has promised the ture believer the world, we will live now in the confidence that one day these promises will be completely fulfilled and by God’s grace and mercy we can share in them. The time is coming when God’s purpose from the beginning will be complete, and the “earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea” (Habakkuk 2:14).
Part 4: THE WAY TO ETERNAL LIFE

Immortality Conditional

Immortality is conditional, and is not something which we naturally possess, as the following passages prove:

- “Christ has.....brought life and immortality to light through the gospel.” (2 Timothy 1:10; 1 John 1:2).
- “Unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no life (inherent) in you. Whoever eats My flesh....has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day” (John 6:52-54) – to give him this “eternal life”. Christ’s reasoning throughout John chapter 6 is that He is the “bread of life”, and that only through correct response to him, is there immortality (John 6:47, 50, 51, 57, 58).
- “God has given to us (believers) eternal life, and this life is in His Son” (1 John 5:11). There can be no hope of immortality for those not “in Christ”. Only through Christ has immortality been made possible; He is “the author of eternal salvation to all who obey him” (Hebrews 5:9; Acts 3:15 A.V. margin). Therefore immortality for men came through the work of Christ.
- The true believer seeks for immortality, and will be rewarded by the gift of eternal life – something he does not naturally possess (Romans 2:7; 6:23; John 10:28). Our mortal body “must put on immortality” at the return of Christ (1 Corinthians 15:53); thus immortality is something promised, not now possessed (1 John 2:25).
- God alone has inherent immortality (1 Timothy 6:16).

What is the Soul?

In the light of the foregoing it ought to be inconceivable that man has an ‘immortal soul’. The Hebrew ‘Nephesh’ and Greek ‘Psuche’, which are translated ‘soul’ in the Bible are also translated as: body, breath, creature, heart, mind, person, himself. The ‘soul’ therefore refers to the person, body or self.

There is no difference between people and animals in our fundamental nature and death:

- “For what happens to the sons of men also happens to beasts: one thing befalls them (note the double emphasis): as one dies, so dies the other...man has no advantage over beasts....All (i.e. man and animals) go to one place (the grave): all are from the dust, and all return to dust.” (Ecclesiastes 3:19, 20)
Death of the Soul
A very basic fact is that all “living creatures” eventually die. About a third of the words translated ‘soul’, are associated with the death and destruction of the soul. This shows that the soul cannot be something which is immortal. For example: “The soul who sins shall die” (Ezekiel 18:4). God can destroy the soul: “fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body” (Matthew 10:28. See also Ezekiel 22:27; Proverbs 6:32; Leviticus 23:30; Numbers 15:27-31; Isaiah 53:10).

That the ‘soul’ refers to the person or body rather than some immortal spark within us is shown by the majority of verses where the word occurs. Some examples: “The blood of the souls” (Jeremiah 2:34). “If a soul sin….if a soul touch any unclean thing….if a soul swear” (Leviticus 5:1-4 A.V. See also Psalm 103:1, 2, 5; Mark 8:35).

This is proof that the soul does not refer to any spiritual element within man; here, ‘soul’ just means one’s physical life.

The Spirit of Man
The Hebrew (‘Ruach’) and Greek (‘Pneuma’) words for ‘spirit’ are also translated in the following ways: life, spirit, mind, wind, breath.

God uses His spirit to preserve the natural creation. The spirit of God within man is therefore the life force within him, as these verses demonstrate:

- “The body without the spirit is dead” (James 2:26).
- God “breathed into his (Adam’s) nostrils the breath (spirit) of life; and man became a living being” (Genesis 2:7).

The spirit of life is given to us at birth, and remains as long as our body is alive.

The Removal of God’s Spirit
When God’s spirit is withdrawn from anything, it immediately perishes. If God “should gather to Himself His spirit and His breath, all flesh would perish together, and man would return to dust” (Job 34:14-15). When God takes away His spirit from us at death, not only does our body die, but our entire consciousness ceases. “Do not put your trust in princes…. His spirit departs, he returns to his earth; in that very day his plans perish” (Psalm 146:3-4).

At death, “the dust will return to the earth as it was; and the spirit will return to God who gave it” (Ecclesiastes 12:7). When we die we ‘breathe our last’ in the sense that God’s spirit within us departs from us. That spirit is absorbed
Death is Unconsciousness
The Bible makes it clear that we have no consciousness during the death state: “(Man’s) spirit departs, he return to his earth; in that very day his plans perish” (Psalm 146:4). “The dead know nothing….their love, their hatred, and their envy, have now perished” (Ecclesiastes 9:5, 6; see also verse 10).

Death is repeatedly referred to as a sleep or rest, both for the righteous and the wicked: “And many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake”; “But you, go your way till the end; for you shall rest, and will arise to your inheritance at the end of the days” (Daniel 12:2, 13. See also Job 3:11, 13, 17). Sufficient evidence has been produced for us to bluntly state that the notion of the righteous going to a state of bliss in heaven at death, is simply not found in the Bible.

Resurrection
The Bible emphasizes that the reward of the righteous will be at the resurrection, at the coming of Christ (1 Thessalonians 4:16). Paul said that if there is no resurrection, then all effort to be obedient to God is pointless (1 Corinthians 15:32). Surely he would not have reasoned like this if he believed that he would also be rewarded with his ‘soul’ going to heaven at death? The implication is that he believed the resurrection of the body to be the only form of reward.

Christ encouraged us with the words “you shall be repaid at the resurrection of the just” (Luke 14:14). At his return, Christ “will transform our lowly body that it may be conformed to His glorious body” (Philippians 3:20-21). As he now has a literal bodily form, energized purely by Spirit rather than blood, so we will share a similar reward.

Our Hope – Life with an Immortal Body
At the judgment we will be rewarded for how we have lived this life in a bodily form (2 Corinthians 5:10). The ungodly retain their present mortal body, which will then rot back to dust. Those who have tried to overcome the mind of the flesh with that of the Spirit “will of the Spirit reap life everlasting” (Galatians 6:8) in the form of a Spirit-filled body.

There is ample evidence that the reward of the righteous will be in a bodily form. Once this is accepted, the vital importance of the resurrection should be apparent. Our present body clearly ceases to exist at death; if we can only experience eternal life and immortality in a bodily form, it follows that death must be a state of unconsciousness, until such time as our body is re-created and then given God’s nature. Our present body will then be changed to an immortal one (Philippians 3:21).

Through baptism we associate with Christ’s death and resurrection, showing we believe we too will share the reward which He received through His resurrection (Romans 6:3-5). Through sharing His sufferings now, we will also share His reward (2 Corinthians 4:10; Romans 8:23). This hope of a literal bodily reward has been understood by God’s people from earliest times (Isaiah 26:19). Job knew that although his body would be eaten by worms, he would, in a bodily form, receive his reward: “my redeemer lives, and He shall stand at last on the earth: and after my skin is destroyed, this I know, that in my flesh I shall see God” (Job 19:25-26).

The Place of Reward: Heaven or Earth?
The following passages show that earth, not heaven will be the location of God’s Kingdom.

- The ‘Lord’s Prayer’ asks for God’s Kingdom to come, whereby God’s desires will be done on earth as they are now done in heaven (Matthew 6:10). We are therefore praying for God’s Kingdom to come on the earth.
- “Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth” (Matthew 5:5. See also Psalm 37, especially verses 11, 22, 34, 35) – not ‘….. for their souls shall go to heaven’. Living in the earth forever means that eternal life in heaven is an impossibility.
- “David…is both dead and buried…. David did not ascend into the heavens” (Acts 2:29, 34). Peter explained that David’s hope was the resurrection from the dead at Christ’s return (Acts 2:22-36).
- The righteous will say at the judgment: Christ has “made us kings and priests to our God: and we shall reign on the earth” (Revelation 5:9, 10).

Hell
The Bible teaches that hell is the grave, where all men go at death. The Hebrew word ‘sheol’, translated ‘hell’, means ‘a covered place’. A good translation of this word is ‘grave’. The following examples of ‘sheol’, should torpedo the popular conception of hell as a place of fire and torment for the wicked:

- “Let the wicked……be silent in the grave” (Psalm 31:17); they will not be screaming in agony.
- “God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave” (Psalm 49:15) – i.e. David’s soul or body would be resurrected from the grave, or ‘hell’.
Seeing that ‘hell’ is the grave, the righteous will be saved from it through their resurrection to eternal life. The supreme example is that of Jesus, whose “soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption” (Acts 2:31 KJV) because he was resurrected. That Christ went to ‘hell’ should be proof enough that it is not just a place where the wicked go.

What happens to unrepentant sinners?

God does not impute sin to those ignorant of His word (Romans 5:13). Those in this position will remain dead. Those who have known God’s requirements will be resurrected and judged at Christ’s return. If wicked, they will be punished with death and stay dead for ever (Revelation 2:11; 20:6). It is in this sense that the punishment for sin is ‘everlasting’, in that there will be no end to their death. It is one of God’s principles that the punishment for sin is death (Romans 6:23; 8:13; James 1:15). Death is a state of complete unconsciousness. Sin results in total destruction, not eternal torment. (Matthew 21:41; 22:7; Mark 12:9; James 4:12).

Unconsciousness – the Practical meaning of Death

There can be no activity in the grave…. Therefore now is the time to live a life active to the absolute maximum in the Lord’s service (Ecclesiastes 9:10-13). Moses pleaded with God to make time-frittering Israel see the implications of their mortality; having eloquently spoken of the tragedy of our mortality, he concludes: “So teach us to number our days, that we may gain a heart of wisdom” (Psalm 90:12). The tragic brevity of life means that we should quit time wasting follies. The fact we are going to die relatively soon, and lie unconscious, drives the man who seriously believes it, to faith in the God of resurrection. Death being like a sleep, it follows that judgment day is our next conscious experience after death. Because death is an ever more likely possibility for us, our judgment is effectively almost upon us. And we must live with and in that knowledge.

Part 5: WHO IS GOD?

There is Only One God

Deuteronomy 6:4,5 states: “The LORD our God, the LORD is one! You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your strength”. So the LORD’s unity is strongly linked with His being our God, the sole Lord and unrivalled Master of His people. It was the unity of God, and the imperative from it to love Him with all the heart, which was programmatic for the Jews’ daily living. This is why it was Jewish practice to recite these words several times a day, and also on their deathbed.
If there is only “one” God, as this passage clearly maintains, where does this leave the popular doctrine of the trinity? The trinity is one of the greatest false doctrines of all time, in its claim that there are three “persons” in the Godhead. The word trinity is never even found in the Bible. The Bible teaches that God is the Father of the Lord Jesus Christ, and that the Holy Spirit is His special power. Three separate entities – not “three in one” – as the confusing doctrine of the trinity would have us believe.

MORE ABOUT GOD...

God is from Everlasting to Everlasting
See what Habakkuk 1:12 builds upon the fact of God’s everlasting nature: “Are You not from everlasting, O LORD my God, my Holy One? We shall not die”. If we truly believe that we are His people, not those of this world, and that we are truly part of His eternal family, then His eternity becomes a guarantee of our eternal salvation.

God is the Creator
Because of God’s awesome creation and the power of the Word that formed it all, we should likewise stand in awe of Him and recognize the power of His word (Psalm 33:6-9). Because we are created in God’s image; the structure of our very bodies is an imperative to give ourselves totally to His cause (Matthew 22:19-21). Whatever bears God’s image – i.e. our very bodies – must be given to Him. “It is He who made us, and (therefore) we are His (Psalm 100:3 NIV). We must be His in practice because He is our Creator. So it is not that we merely believe in creation rather than evolution; more than this, such belief in creation must elicit a life given over to that creator.

God Sees and Knows All Things, Through His Spirit
The Old Testament character of Job knew this, and therefore he commented, it was impossible that he would lust after a woman, if he really believed (as he claimed he did) that God was omniscient: “I have made a covenant with my eyes; Why then should I look upon a young woman?... (for) does He (God) not see my ways, and count all my steps?” (Job 31:1-4).

Likewise God had to remind Israel: “Can any hide himself in secret places, so I shall not see him?” (Jeremiah 23:24). The context is appealing to the people to quit their sins. We should labour to enter the Kingdom, because God knows absolutely our every thought and action of ours and will ultimately judge them (Hebrews 4:11-13).
God is a Real, Personal Being

God is a real person, as the following points prove:

- It is a fundamental tenet of Christianity that Jesus is the Son of God. If God is not a real being, then it is impossible for Him to have a Son who was the ‘image of His person’ (Hebrews 1:3).
- Further, it becomes difficult to develop a personal, living relationship with ‘God’, if ‘God’ is just a concept in our mind. It is tragic that the majority of religions have this unreal, intangible conception of God.
- As God is so infinitely greater than we are, it is understandable that many people’s faith has balked at the clear promises that ultimately we will see Him: “Blessed are the pure in heart; for they shall see God” (Matthew 5:8).
- Jesus tells us that we should not swear, because “he who swears by heaven swears by the throne of God and by Him who sits on it” (Matthew 23:22).
- “God said, Let us make man in our image, according to our likeness” (Genesis 1:26). Thus man is made in the image and likeness of God, as manifested through the angels. Our creation in the image of God surely means that we can infer something about the real object, of which we are but an image. Thus God, whom we reflect, is not something nebulous of which we cannot conceive.
- The faithful are promised that they will inherit God’s nature (2 Peter 1:4).
- We will be given a body like that of Jesus (Philippians 3:21), and we know that he will have a physical body in the Kingdom.

The personality of God is, therefore, related to the Gospel of the Kingdom. There can be no sensible concept of worship, religion or personal relationship with God therefore until it is appreciated that God is a real being and that we are made in His image. We need to develop His mental likeness now, so that we may be made fully like Him in the Kingdom of God.

What Does This Mean for Me?

There is a vast difference between having a vague notion that there is a higher power, and actually being certain of what He is offering in return for faithful service to Him. Hebrews 11:6 makes this point, we “must believe that He (God) is” and “that He is a rewarder of those who diligently seek Him”.

An awareness within us that there is a God, does not mean that we are automatically acceptable to God. If we seriously agree that we really do have a creator, we should “therefore keep His... commandments” (Deuteronomy 4:39,40). As we search the Scriptures in order to do this, we will find that our faith in God’s existence is strengthened.
Part 6: THE REAL CHRIST

True Christian faith is centred around the work of the Son of God, the Lord Jesus Christ. His life, death and resurrection form the basis for God’s plan of salvation. It is vital to understand the real reason for Christ, his true status as Son of God and how we can benefit from his work. Jesus prayed to his Father just before his cruel death: “This is eternal life, that they (true believers) may know You, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom You have sent” (John 17:3).

The Virgin Birth

Over 2000 years ago the angel Gabriel appeared to Mary with this message: “You will conceive in your womb and bring forth a Son, and shall call his name Jesus. He will be great, and will be called the Son of the Highest… Then Mary said to the angel, How can this be, since I do not know a man? (i.e. she was a virgin). And the angel answered and said to her, The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Highest will overshadow you; therefore, also, that Holy One who is to be born will be called the Son of God” (Luke 1:31-35).

Through the Holy Spirit (God’s breath / power) acting upon her, Mary conceived Jesus while still a virgin. Thus Joseph was not the true father of Jesus. Without the Holy Spirit acting upon the womb of Mary, Jesus, the Son of God, could not have come into existence. Jesus was “begotten” by God (John 3:16), rather than created as Adam was originally. This explains the closeness of God’s association with Jesus and also helps explain his natural aptitude for the ways of God his Father.

Christ’s Place in God’s Plan

God had a complete plan formulated right from the beginning of creation (John 1:1). His desire to have a Son was in His plan from the beginning. The Old Testament reveals different aspects of God’s plan of salvation in Christ; from the promises to the Jewish fathers, to the prophecies of the prophets and the types of the Law of Moses. Christ existed in God’s mind and purpose from the beginning, although he only came into existence physically through his birth of Mary.

Hebrews 1:4-7, 13,14 stress that Christ was not an angel; whilst in his mortal life he was less than angels (Hebrews 2:7), he was exalted to a far greater honour than them seeing he was God’s “only begotten Son” (John 3:16). The Apostle Peter sums up the position: Christ “was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times” (1Peter 1:20). Jesus was the central pivot of the Gospel: God “had promised before through His prophets in the Holy Scriptures, concerning His Son Jesus Christ our Lord, who was born of the seed of David according to the flesh, and declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead” (Romans 1:1-4).

This summarizes the history of Christ:
1. Promised in the Old Testament – i.e. in God’s plan;
2. Created as a physical person through the virgin birth, as a seed of David.
3. Due to his perfect character (“the spirit of holiness”), shown during his mortal life He was resurrected;
4. Publicly declared to be the Son of God by the apostles’ spirit-gifted preaching.

The Foreknowledge of God
God has complete ‘foreknowledge’. We will be greatly helped in appreciating how fully Christ was in God’s mind at the beginning, while not physically existing, if we can come to terms with the fact that God knows all things which will occur in the ‘future’. God can therefore speak and think about things which do not exist, as though they do. God “calls those things which do not exist as though they did” (Romans 4:17). He declares “the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all My pleasure” (Isaiah 46:10). Because of this, God can speak of the dead as if they are alive, and can speak of men as if they were alive before birth. The “counsel”, or word of God, had prophesied Christ from the beginning; he was always in God’s purpose or “pleasure”. It was therefore certain that at some time Christ would be physically born; God would fulfil His stated purpose in Christ.

Biblical Hebrew has a ‘prophetic perfect’ tense, which uses the past tense to describe future things which God has promised. Thus David said, “This is the house of the Lord God” (1 Chronicles 22:1), when as yet the temple was only promised by God. Scripture abounds with examples of God’s foreknowledge. God was so certain that He would fulfil the promises to Abraham, that He told him: “To your descendants I have given this land…” (Genesis 15:18) at a time when Abraham did not even have descendants (see also Genesis 17:5). Christ was spoken of as existing from the beginning in God’s mind and plan, although physically he could not have done so. He was “the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world” (Revelation 13:8). Jesus did not die then literally; he was the “Lamb of God sacrificed about 4,000 years later on the cross (John 1:29; 1 Corinthians 5:7). In the same way as Jesus was chosen from the beginning, (1 Peter 1:20), so were the believers (Ephesians 1:4; the same Greek word for “chosen” is used in these Differences Between God and Jesus

There is a fine balance to be drawn between those passages which emphasize the degree to which “God was in Christ” (e.g. 2 Corinthians 5:19), and those which highlight his humanity. The latter group of passages makes it impossible to justify from the Bible the idea that Jesus is God Himself. One of the clearest summaries of the relationship between God and Jesus is found in 1 Timothy 2:5: “There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus.”

Reflection upon the highlighted words leads to the following conclusions:

1. The Father is God. (1 Corinthians 8:6; Isaiah 63:16; 64:8).
2. In addition to this one God, there is the mediator, the man Christ Jesus – “…and one mediator…,” indicating a difference between Christ and God.
3. “Mediator” means that Christ is a go-between. A mediator between sinful man and sinless God cannot be sinless God Himself; it had to be a sinless man, of human nature – “the man Christ Jesus.”

The Nature of Jesus

The word ‘nature’ refers to what we naturally, fundamentally are. The Bible speaks of only two natures – that of God, and that of man. By nature God cannot die, be tempted etc. Christ was not of God’s nature during his life, he was totally of human nature. It was vital that Christ was tempted like us (Hebrews 4:15), so that through his perfect overcoming of temptation he could gain forgiveness for us.

The wrong desires, which are the basis of our temptations, come from within us (Mark 7:15-23), from within our human nature (James 1:13-15). It was necessary, therefore, that Christ should be of human nature so that he could experience and overcome these temptations.

“As the children (us) are partakers of flesh and blood (human nature), he (Christ) also himself likewise took part (i.e. “partook”, R.S.V.) of the same (nature); that through death he might destroy…the devil…For verily he took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the (nature of the) seed of Abraham. Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest…to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted”. (Hebrews 2:14-18 KJV)

This passage emphasizes the fact that Jesus had human nature: “He also himself likewise” partook of it (Hebrews 2:14). This phrase uses three words all with the same meaning, just to drive the point home. Christ was the seed of Abraham (2:16), who had come to bring salvation for believers. In every way he had “to be made like unto his brethren” (2:17) so that God could grant us forgiveness through Christ's sacrifice.

Forgiveness
Whenever baptized believers sin, they can come to God, confessing their sin in prayer through Christ (1 John 1:9); God is aware that Christ was tempted to sin exactly as they are, but that he was perfect, overcoming that very temptation which they fail. Because of this, “God for Christ’s sake” can forgive us (Ephesians 4:32 KJV). “God, by sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, on account of sin: He condemned sin in the flesh” (Romans 8:3).

“Sin” refers to the natural proneness to sin which we have by nature. We continue to sin, and “the wages of sin is death” (Romans 6:23). To get out of this predicament, man needed help. God therefore intervened and gave us His own Son, who had our “sinful flesh”, with all the promptings to sin which we have. Unlike every other man, Christ overcame every temptation

The Humanity of Jesus
The Gospel records show how completely Jesus had human nature. He was weary, and had to sit down to drink from a well (John 4:6). “Jesus wept” at the death of Lazarus (John 11:35). Most supremely, the record of his final sufferings should be proof enough of his humanity. “Now my soul is troubled”, he admitted as he prayed for God to save him from having to go through with his death on the cross (John 12:27). He “prayed, saying, O my Father, if it is possible, let this cup (of suffering and death) pass from me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as You will” (Matthew 26:39).

From childhood “Jesus increased in wisdom and stature (i.e. spiritual maturity, cp Ephesians 4:13), and in favour with God and men”. (Luke 2:52), see also 2:40). This shows Christ’s physical growth as being parallel to his spiritual development. Obedience to God’s will is something which we can all learn over a period of time. Christ also had to go through this process of learning obedience to his Father. “Though he was a Son, yet he learned obedience by the things which he suffered, and having been perfected (i.e. spiritually mature), he became the author of eternal salvation” (Hebrews 5:8,9; see also Phil. 2:7,8,).

Jesus had to make a conscious, personal effort to be righteous; he was not forced by God, which would have resulted in him being a mere puppet. Jesus truly loved us, and gave his life on the cross from this motive. The constant emphasis upon the love of Christ for us would be hollow if God forced him to die on the cross (Ephesians 5:2,25; Revelation 1:5; Galatians 2:20). That Jesus did have the option whether to obey or not, makes us able to appreciate his love, and to form a personal relationship with him. It was because of Christ’s willingness to voluntarily give his life, that God was so delighted with him. “Therefore my Father loves me, because I lay down my life. No man takes it from me, but I lay it down of myself” (John 10:17,18).

What Does This Mean For Me?
The Lord Jesus can become real to us in our common, everyday lives because He too faced the temptations we face. We can really believe that forgiveness is possible through the work of such a representative; his example can be a living inspiration to rise above our lower nature. Appreciating the doctrines of salvation through Christ enables us to pray acceptably; “we have boldness and access with confidence by the Faith” – not just ‘by faith’, but as a result of the Faith (Ephesians 3:12 KJV). After being baptized into Christ we can come boldly before God’s throne in prayer, with a true heart and clear conscience (Hebrews 4:16). This “boldness” will be reflected in our being ‘bold’ in our witness (2 Corinthians 3:12; 7:4). ‘Boldness’ characterized the early church (Acts 4:13,29,31; Philippians 1:20).

God existed from infinity, and yet only 2,000 years ago He gave His only and His begotten Son. And that Son was a human being in order to save humans – only a few million of us (if that), who lived in a 6,000-year time span. That the only Son of God should die for a very few of us here, we who crawl on the surface of this tiny planet for such a fleeting moment of time, is wondrous indeed.

Christ died so that God could work out our salvation. The love of God for us is likened to a young man marrying a virgin (Isaiah 62:5) with all the intensity and joyful expectation and lack of disillusion. And more than this, Jesus Christ died for you, in the shameful way that He did. When this is fully appreciated we are left in total wonder and gratitude for God’s love.

The Trinity – Unscriptural
The Bible’s clear teaching about Christ gives no support for the doctrine of the Trinity. Consider the following:
Luke 1:31-35: Jesus would be the Son of God. Note the many future tenses in these verses. Jesus did not pre-exist before his birth of Mary.
John 3:16: Jesus was the “only begotten Son” of God. He ‘began’ when he was ‘conceived’ (idea of beginning, Luke 1:31) in Mary’s womb. If Jesus was begotten by God, then his Father is older than he is. God has no beginning (Psalm 90:2) and therefore Jesus cannot be God Himself.
Mary is described in the Gospels as Christ’s “mother”. Jesus did not exist before his birth of Mary.
The word ‘Trinity’ never occurs in the Bible.

1 Timothy 2:5: “There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus.” (see also 1 Corinthians 8:6; Isaiah 63:16; 64:8).

“God is not a man” (Numbers 23:19; Hosea 11:9); yet Chris was “the son of man”.

Christ is “the Son of the Highest” (Luke 1:32). God only has ultimate highness; Jesus as “the Son of the Highest” cannot have been God Himself in person.

The language of Father and Son, used about God and Jesus, shows they are not the same. A son may have certain similarities to his father, but cannot be one and the same person.

Jesus was “made like his brethren” (Hebrews 2:17) so that God could grant us forgiveness through Christ’s sacrifice. To say that Jesus was not totally of human nature denies the good news of Christ.

There are a number of obvious differences between God and Jesus, which clearly show that Jesus was not God Himself.

In some ways Christ’s ‘will’, or desires, was different from that of God (Matthew 26:39; John 5:30).

From childhood “Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and men” (Luke 2:52). This would not be possible if Jesus was ‘God the Son’.

Christ did not know the exact time of his second coming, although the Father did (Mark 13:32).

God was pleased with Christ’s willing obedience which is hard to understand if Jesus was God, living out a life in human form as some kind of tokenistic association with sinful man (Matthew 3:17; 12:18; 17:5).
Part 7: THE HOLY SPIRIT

The Hebrew word translated “spirit” in the Old Testament strictly means “breath” or “power”; thus God’s spirit is His “breathing”, the very essence of God, reflecting His mind. It is not a separate person from God. It is a common Bible teaching that how a man thinks is expressed in his actions (Proverbs 23:7; Matthew 12:34). A little reflection upon our own actions will confirm this; we think of something and then we do it. God likewise thinks and therefore does things. “Surely, as I have thought, so it shall come to pass, and as I have purposed, so it shall stand” (Isaiah 14:24).

Many passages clearly identify God’s spirit with His power. In order to create the earth, “…the spirit of God was hovering over the face of the waters. Then God said, Let there be light; and there was light” (Genesis 1:2,3). God’s spirit was the power by which all things, e.g. light, were made. A comparison of Matthew 12:28 and Luke 11:20 shows that “the finger of God” and “the spirit of God” are parallel – God in action is His spirit. “By the word of the Lord the heavens were made, and all the host of them by the breath of His mouth” (Psalm 33:6). God’s spirit is therefore described as follows:

- His breath
- His word
- His finger
- His hand

It is therefore His power by which He achieves all things. The spirit given to us, and all creation, is what sustains our life. We have “the breath of the spirit of life” within us (Genesis 7:22) given to us by God at birth (Psalm 104:30; Genesis 2:7). God is the life force which sustains all creation. His spirit is present everywhere (Psalm 139:2,7,9,10).

Gifts of the Holy Spirit

At various times in His dealings with men, God gave the use of His power (“Holy Spirit”) to men. However, this was never in the form of a “blank cheque”, as it were, enabling them to do what they wished; always the use of this Holy Spirit was for a specific purpose. When it was accomplished, the gift of the Holy Spirit was withdrawn. We must remember that God’s spirit acts in a way which fulfils the purpose which is in His mind. The gifts of Holy Spirit were always to achieve specific things at specific times. The making of the tabernacle is an example. Early in Israel’s history; they were commanded to make an elaborate tent (“tabernacle”) in which the altar and other holy items could be kept; detailed instructions were given concerning how to make all the items which would be necessary for the worship of God. To accomplish this, God gave His spirit to certain men. They were, “filled with the spirit of wisdom, that they may make Aaron’s garments…” etc. (Exodus 28:3).

Reasons for the Gifts in the First Century
Remembering the basic principles which we have already learnt about the gifts of God’s spirit, we now come to the New Testament record of the spirit gifts which were possessed in the early church (i.e. the groups of believers who lived in the generation after the time of Jesus). Christ’s last command was for the apostles to go throughout the world preaching the Gospel (Mark 16:15,16). This they did, with the theme of Christ’s death and resurrection foremost in their message. But remember that then there was no New Testament as we know it. As they stood in market places and synagogues speaking about this man Jesus of Nazareth, their story could have sounded bizarre – a carpenter from Israel who was perfect, who died and was then resurrected in accurate fulfillment of Old Testament prophecy, and who was now asking them to be baptised and follow His example.

In our day we appeal to the New Testament records of the work and doctrine of Jesus in order to prove that our message is from God; but in those days, before it was written down and available, God allowed His preachers the use of His Holy Spirit in order to underline the truth of what they were saying. This was the specific reason for the use of the gifts in the sight of the world; the absence of the written New Testament would have also made it difficult for the new groups of believers to grow in their faith.

As ever, these reasons for the granting of the Holy Spirit were made abundantly plain:

- “When he (Jesus) ascended up on high (to heaven), he…gave (spirit) gifts unto men… for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry (preaching), for the edifying of the body of Christ (i.e. the believers)” (Ephesians 4:8,12 KJV).
- So Paul wrote to the believers at Rome, “I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift, so that you may be established” (Romans 1:11).

Concerning the use of the gifts to confirm the preaching of the Gospel, we read: “God also bearing witness (to the message of salvation) both with signs and wonders, with various miracles” (Hebrews 2:4). “Then the proconsul believed, when he saw what had been done (a miracle), being astonished at the teaching of the Lord” (Acts 13:12). All this is summarized by the comment on the apostles’ obedience to the command to preach: “And they
(the disciples) went out and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming the word through the accompanying signs” (Mark 16:20).

The Withdrawal of the Gifts
The miraculous gifts of God’s spirit will be used again by the believers in order to change this present world into God’s Kingdom, after the return of Christ. The gifts are therefore called “the powers of the age to come” (Hebrews 6:4,5); and Joel 2:26-29 describes a great outpouring of the spirit gifts after the repentance of Israel. The very fact that these gifts will be given to the believers on Christ’s return is proof enough that they are not possessed now. To any Christian, with eyes open to both Scripture and world events, the Lord’s return must surely be soon.

From all the Biblical records of the use of spirit gifts, it is clear that they were given at particular times for particular purposes and were withdrawn by God when His purpose was accomplished: “Whether there are prophecies, they will fail; whether there are tongues (the ability to speak foreign languages, in order to preach), they will cease…but when that which is perfect has come, then that which is in part will be done away.” (1 Corinthians 13:8-10). As the Good News Bible clearly states: the gifts “are temporary”.

Ephesians 4:8-14 helps us understand this further. This passage explains that the gifts of the first century were to be given until the perfect, or mature, man was reached. Making such a fuss about possessing the spirit gifts is therefore not a sign of spiritual maturity. The progress each reader of these words should now make, is towards a deeper appreciation of the written Word of God, to rejoice in the completeness of God’s basic revelation of Himself to us through it, and to respond to it in humble obedience.

2 Timothy 3:16,17 teaches that response to “all scripture” enables the man of God to be “perfect”, complete, and mature. So once the New Testament was completed, towards the end of the first century, the gifts were no longer needed. They had achieved their purpose, of enabling the church to become “fully equipped” (Ephesians 4:8 Weymouth). When the Bible was completed, the church was indeed fully equipped to preach the gospel of salvation.

Present Claims of Spirit Possession
A number of other points have to be made concerning the repeated claims of those who think they now possess the miraculous gifts. Whatever one makes of the above arguments for the withdrawal of the gifts, the reality is that the present claims to Spirit gift possession are sadly in conflict with the nature of the gifts as recorded in the New Testament. Whatever is being done today is different from that which happened in the early church.
Present “speaking in tongues” tends to repeat the same short syllables over and over again, e.g. “Lala, lala, lala. Jesus, Jesus…..”. This is not in the syntax associated with any language; when one hears someone speak in a foreign tongue, it is usually possible to discern that they are communicating something by the pattern of the words they use, although we may not understand those words. Yet modern tongue-speaking does not feature this, underlining the fact that it is not building up the church, which was the purpose of the first century gifts.

Some Pentecostals claim that speaking in tongues is a sign of being “saved” and will therefore accompany every true conversion. This claim runs into serious difficulty with the description of the early church as a body, in which those possessing different gifts were like the different parts. Not everyone was an arm or leg, and so likewise not everyone possessed any one gift, e.g. tongues. 1 Corinthians 12:27-30 makes this clear. Another problem for the Pentecostal argument is that Philip converted many people in Samaria – i.e. they were baptised in water after understanding the Gospel, but they did not receive the spirit gifts; because after this, Peter and John came to them: “When they had come down, (they) prayed for them that they might receive the Holy Spirit…through the laying on of the apostles’ hands the Holy Spirit was given” (Acts 8:4-18).

It is possible that the passing on of the Spirit gifts was only by this laying on of hands, which is not frequently practised by modern claimants. Thus Paul wanted to visit the Romans in order to give them the gifts of the Holy Spirit (Romans 1:11 cf. Ephesians 4:12). It would therefore follow that once the generation who had this power passed away, there was no way of continuing the gifts. If indeed they are obtainable purely by prayer, it is difficult to understand why Paul had to visit Rome to transfer the gifts to believers there. The only answer must be that “through the laying on of the apostles’ hands the Holy Spirit was given”.

Part 8: BAPTISM

Baptism is one of the most basic Bible doctrines (see Hebrews 6:2 for example). True baptism can only occur after a correct grasp of the basic truths which comprise the Gospel. If you wish to become truly associated with the great hope which the Bible offers through Jesus Christ, then baptism is an absolute necessity. “Salvation is of the Jews” (John 4:22) in the sense that the promises concerning salvation were made only to Abraham and his seed. We can only have those promises made to us if we become in the Seed, by being baptized into Christ (Galatians 3:22-29). Jesus therefore clearly commanded His followers: “Go into all the world and preach the gospel (which is contained in the promises to Abraham – Galatians 3:8) to every creature. He who believes and is baptized will be saved” (Mark 16:15-16).

Baptism – Start of a New Life

Baptism is not just an optional extra, it is a vital prerequisite for salvation. Baptism must be followed by a lifetime of continued obedience to God’s Word. Jesus emphasized this: “Most assuredly, I say unto you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God” (John 3:5). “Born of water” refers to baptism: after this, one must be born again of the spirit. This is an ongoing process “Being born again….through the word of God” (1 Peter 1:23). Thus it is through our continued response to God’s spirit word that we become born of the spirit.

Baptized Into Christ

We are “baptized into Christ” (Galatians 3:27), into His name (Acts 19:5; 8:16; Matthew 28:19). Note that we are baptized into Christ – not into any church or any human organization. Without baptism we are not “in Christ”, and therefore not covered by His saving word (Acts 4:12).

True Belief Compels Baptism

The book of Acts of the Apostles shows the vital importance of baptism and emphasizes how immediately people were baptized after accepting the Gospel (e.g. Acts 8:12, 36-39; 9:18; 10:47; 16:15). This emphasis is understandable once it is appreciated that without baptism our learning of the Gospel is in vain. The prison keeper at Philippi was suddenly plunged into the crisis of his life by a massive earthquake which completely broke up his high security prison. The prisoners had ample opportunity to escape – something which would have cost him his life. His faith in the Gospel then became real, so much so that “the same hour of the night….immediately he and all his family were baptized” (Acts 16:33). Many a hesitant candidate for baptism can take true inspiration from that man. That he could make such an act of faith in the middle of huge immediate problems is proof enough that he already had a detailed knowledge of the Gospel, seeing that such real faith only comes from hearing the Word of God (Romans 10:17 cp. Acts 17:11).

Acts 8:26-40 records how an Ethiopian official was studying his Bible whilst riding in a chariot through the desert. He met Philip, who extensively explained the Gospel to him, including the requirement of baptism. Humanly speaking, it must have seemed impossible to obey the command to be baptized in that waterless desert. Yet God would not give a command which He knows some people cannot obey. “As they went down the road, they came to some water”, i.e. an oasis, where baptism was possible (Acts 8:36).
The apostle Paul received a dramatic vision from Christ which so pricked his conscience that as soon as possible he “arose and was baptized” (Acts 9:18). Paul later talked about his life after baptism like this: “I press toward the goal for the prize….” (Philippians 3:7,8,13,14). This is the language of an athlete straining forward to break the finishing tape. Such concentration of mental and physical endeavour should characterize our lives after baptism. Baptism is the beginning of a race toward the Kingdom of God; it is not just a token of having changed churches and beliefs, nor is it a passive entrance into a relaxed life of easy-going adherence to a few vaguely stated Christian principles. Baptism associates us in an ongoing sense with the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus (Romans 6:3-5).

As was true for Paul, so it is for all who have been properly baptized; baptism is a decision which one will never regret. All our lives we will be aware that we made the correct choice. Of few human decisions can we ever be so certain. The question has to be seriously answered: “Why should I not be baptized?”

How Should We be Baptized?

There is a widely held view that baptism can be performed, especially on babies, by sprinkling water on their foreheads (i.e. ‘christening’). This is in stark contrast to the Biblical requirement for baptism. The Greek word ‘baptizo’, which is translated ‘baptize’ in the English Bible, does not mean to sprinkle; it means to completely wash and immerse in a liquid. This word is used in classical Greek concerning ships sinking and being ‘baptized’ (i.e. submerged) in water. It is also used with reference to a piece of cloth being dyed from one colour to another by ‘baptizing’, or dipping it into a dye. To change the colour of the cloth, it is evident that it had to be fully immersed under the liquid, rather than have the dye sprinkled upon it. That immersion is indeed the correct form of baptism is borne out by the following verses:

- “John also was baptizing in Aenon near Salim, because there was much water there” (John 3:23).
- Jesus was baptized by John in the River Jordan: “Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water” (Matthew 3:13-16 KJV). His baptism was clearly by immersion – he “went up… out of the water” after baptism. One of the reasons for Jesus being baptized was in order to set an example, so that no one could seriously claim to follow Jesus without copying his example of baptism by immersion.
- Philip and the Ethiopian official “went down into the water, and he baptized him. Now when they came up out of the water…” (Acts 8:38,39).
- Baptism is a burial (Colossians 2:12), which implies a total covering.
Baptism is called a ‘washing away’ of sins (Acts 22:16). The point of true conversion is likened to a ‘washing’ in Revelation 1:5; Titus 3:5; Hebrews 10:22 etc. This language of washing is far more relevant to baptism by dipping than to sprinkling.

There are several Old Testament indications that acceptable approach to God was through some form of washing (Priests: Leviticus 8:6; Exodus 40:32; Israelites: Deuteronomy 23:11; Naaman a Gentile: 2 Kings 5:9-14). So baptism refers to a complete dipping in water after first understanding the basic message of the Gospel.

The Meaning of Baptism

One of the reasons for baptism by immersion is that going under the water symbolizes our going into the grave – associating us with the death of Christ, and indicating our ‘death’ to our previous life of sin and ignorance. Coming out of the water connects us with the resurrection of Christ, relating us to the hope of resurrection to eternal life at His return, as well as to living a new life now, spiritually triumphant over sin on account of Christ’s victory achieved by his death and resurrection (Romans 6:3-5).

Because salvation has been made possible only through Christ’s death and resurrection, it is vital that we associate ourselves with these things if we are to be saved. The symbolic dying and resurrecting with Christ, which baptism gives, is the only way to do this. Sprinkling does not fulfil this symbol.

A New Way of Life

At baptism, “our old man (way of life) is crucified” along with Christ on the cross (Romans 6:6); God “made us alive together with Christ” at baptism (Ephesians 2:5). However, we still have human nature after baptism, and the fleshly way of life will keep raising its head. The ‘crucifixion’ of our flesh is therefore an ongoing process which only begins at baptism, hence Jesus told the believer to take up his cross each day and follow Him, as it were, in the procession towards Calvary (Luke 9:23; 14:27). Whilst a life of true crucifixion with Christ is not easy, there is unspeakable consolation and joy through being also united with Christ’s resurrection. Christ brought about “peace through the blood of His cross” (Colossians 1:20. See also Philippians 4:7; John 14:27; 2 Corinthians 1:5).

There is also the freedom which comes from knowing that our natural self is really dead, and therefore Jesus is very actively living with us through our every trial. The great apostle Paul could speak from much experience of this all down the long eventful years of his life: “I have been crucified with Christ; it is no longer I who live, but Christ lives in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God” (Galatians 2:20).
Saved By Christ’s Resurrection
Association with Christ’s resurrection to eternal life gives a person access to the same at His return. It is through sharing in this resurrection, then, that we can finally be saved (1 Peter 3:21). Jesus stated this in very simple terms: “Because I live, you will live also” (John 14:19). Paul likewise: “We were reconciled to God through the death of His Son…we shall be saved by His life” (resurrection; Romans 5:10). By associating ourselves with Christ’s death and sufferings in baptism, and our subsequent way of life, we will surely share in His glorious resurrection. (2 Timothy 2:11,12; 2 Corinthians 4:10,11,14; Philippians 3:10,11 compare with Galatians 6:14).

Luke 3:12 records how the “tax collectors also came to be baptized, and said to him, Teacher, what shall we do?” There is a parallel between desiring baptism and realizing that we must do something concrete in our lives. The baptism process brings us into the realm of God’s gracious forgiveness and redemption, and into living contact with the real Christ. There is no way we can be passive to this and do nothing about it.

Baptism is Vital for Salvation
When we are baptized we should try not to continue in sin, seeing we are “dead” to it (Romans 6:2). This is one of the most basic implications of baptism. We will realise that the unbaptized world (including those who have not been baptized properly) has no hope and we will try with all our heart to persuade others to be baptized. Baptism can never be undone; we for evermore live our lives with a sense of responsibility to God (1 Peter 1:17-19).

Carrying Christ’s Name
The wonder of being baptized into Christ means that like the early brethren, we will rejoice to suffer shame for the sake of carrying Christ’s Name (Matthew 10:24,25). It will be “enough” for us that we know something of our Lord’s sufferings. The more we reflectively read the Gospels, the more we will know the nature and extent of His sufferings, and the more we will see in our own something of His.

Loving One Another As Ourselves
Paul reasons that we are the body of Christ by baptism; and nobody hates their own body. He feeds and cares for it. This not only means that the Lord will likewise care for us (Ephesians 5:29-30). It means that we now have the basis of self-respect and a healthy love of self (the kind the Lord had in mind when he said we should love our neighbour as we love ourselves). Because we are to count ourselves as the body of Christ, we no longer need to wallow in the feeling that we are so unworthy, we aren’t worth making the effort with. And therefore we should truly love our brother.

“One Man In Christ”
By being baptized into Christ, all that is true of him becomes true of us. We must aspire to be united, because “ye are all one man in Christ” (Galatians 3:28 RV). We “are all sons of God” (3:26) because of our baptism into the Son of God. And so Paul goes on to reason that just as Christ was “the heir”, who is “master of all”, “even so we” were kept under the law for a time (Galatians 4:1-3). The basis of our unity is that there is only one Jesus, and by being in Him we are living lives committed to the imitation of that same man. The unity between baptized believers is enough to witness to the world and arrest their attention – that this is all something true and valid.

APPENDIX: THE DEVIL AND SATAN

Many religions believe there is a monster called the Devil or Satan, who is the originator of all problems and is responsible for the sins we commit. But the Bible teaches us that God is all-powerful and that the Angels cannot sin. This means it is impossible that there is any supernatural being that is opposed to God. We are questioning the supremacy of God Almighty by believing that such a being does exist.

The Source of Evil
There is a belief that good things come from God and bad things from the Devil or Satan. The ancient Babylonians believed in a god of good, and a god of evil. God’s response was, “I am the LORD, and there is no other; there is no God besides me … I form the light and create darkness. I make peace and create calamity. I, the LORD, do all these things” (Isaiah 45:5-7,22). God is the Author, the Creator of “calamity” and disaster. There is a difference between calamity and sin. Sin entered the world as a result of man not God (Romans 5:12). God tells the Babylonians, “There is no God beside me.” There is no source of power apart from Him. Thus a true believer in God cannot accept the idea of a supernatural devil or demons.

God: The Creator of Disaster
There are many examples of God bringing “evil” into people’s lives. Amos 3:6 says that if there is calamity in a city God has done it.

- Micah 1:12 says that “disaster came down from the Lord to the gate of Jerusalem”.

Job recognised that, “The Lord gave, and the Lord has taken away” (Job 1:21). He does not say, “The Lord gave and Satan has taken away”. Job commented, “Shall we indeed accept good from God, and shall we not accept adversity?” (Job 2:10). Job’s friends comforted him over “all the adversity that the LORD had brought upon him” (Job 42:11 cp. 19:21; 8:3).

So God is the source of “evil” in the sense of being the ultimate permitter of problems in our lives.

The Orthodox Devil – Illogical

“For whom the LORD loves He chastens … If you endure chastening … afterward it yields the peaceable fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it” (Hebrews 12:6-11). This shows that trials given by God eventually lead to our spiritual growth. To say that the devil forces us to sin while at the same time bringing problems which lead to our developing “the peaceable fruit of righteousness” is inconsistent. Here the orthodox idea of the devil runs into problems. For example, the passages which speak of delivering man to satan “that his spirit may be saved”(1 Corinthians 5:5), or “that they may learn not to blaspheme” (1 Timothy 1:20). If Satan is really a being bent on causing men to sin, why do these passages speak of “Satan” in a positive light? The answer: an adversary, a “Satan”, or difficulty in life, can often result in positive spiritual effects on a believer’s life.

The Origin of Sin

Sin comes from inside us. It is our fault that we sin. Remember, “the wages of sin is death” (Romans 6:23) – sin leads to death. If it is the devil’s fault that we sin, then a just God should punish the devil rather than us. But the fact that we are judged for our own sins, shows that we are responsible for them. “There is nothing that enters a man from outside which can defile him … For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders … All these evil things come from within and defile a man” (Mark 7:15-23).

The idea that there is something sinful outside of us which causes us to sin is incompatible with the teaching of Jesus. From within, out of the heart of man, come all these evil things. James 1:14 tells us how we are tempted: “Each one is tempted when he is drawn by his own desires and enticed”. We are tempted by our own evil desires evil desires, not by anything outside of us. “Where do wars and fights come from among you?” James asks; “Do they not come from your desires for pleasure?” (James 4:1). Each of us has temptation generated by our own evil desires.
Paul identifies the source of sin
Paul laments: “In me (that is, in my flesh) nothing good dwells … For the good that I will to do, I do not do … if I do what I will not to do, it is no longer I that do it, but sin that dwells in me” (Romans 7:18-21). Paul does not blame his sinning on an external being called the devil. He located his own evil nature as the real source of sin: “it is no longer I that do it, but sin that dwells in me. I find then a law, that evil is present with (i.e. within) me, the one who wills to do good” (Romans 7:20-21). So he says that the opposition to being spiritual comes from something that he calls “sin that dwells in me”.

The word ‘Satan’ in the Bible
1 Kings 11:14 records that the LORD raised up an adversary (same Hebrew word elsewhere translated “satan”) against Solomon. Hadad the Edomite”, “And God raised up another adversary (another satan) …Rezon … He was an adversary (a satan) of Israel” (1 Kings 11:23,25(. God stirred up ordinary men, not a supernatural being, to be satans/adversaries to Solomon. Another example: Peter tried to dissuade Jesus from going to Jerusalem to die. Jesus turned and said to Peter “Get behind Me, Satan! … you are not mindful of the things of God, but the things of men” (Matthew 16:23). Thus Peter was called a satan by Christ.

God can be termed a ‘satan’
Because the word ‘satan’ just means an adversary, a good person, even God Himself can be termed a ‘satan’. There is nothing necessarily sinful about the word itself. God can be a satan to us by:

- Bringing trials into our lives.
- Obstructing a wrong course of action we may be embarking upon.

But the fact that God can be called a ‘satan’ does not mean that He Himself is sinful.

The books of Samuel and Chronicles are parallel accounts of the same incidents. 2 Samuel 24:1 records “the LORD … moved David against them (Israel)” to make him take a census of Israel. The parallel account in 1 Chronicles 21:1 says that “Satan stood up against Israel, and moved David” to take the census. In one passage God does the provoking, in the other Satan does it. Therefore God acted as a ‘satan’ or adversary to David.

The Word ‘Devil’ in the Bible
Similarly with the word ‘devil’. Jesus said “Did I not choose you, the twelve, and one of you is a devil? He spoke of Judas Iscariot...” (John 6:70-71) who was an ordinary, mortal man. The word ‘devil’ here simply refers to a wicked man. Another example is in 1 Timothy 3:11. The wives of church elders were not to be ‘slanderers’; the original Greek word his is ‘diabolos’, which is the same word translated ‘devil’ elsewhere. Thus Paul warns Titus that the aged women in the ecclesia should not be “false accusers” or ‘devils’ (Titus 2:3 KJV).

The words ‘devil’ and ‘satan’ do not refer to a fallen Angel or a sinful being outside of us.

Sin, Satan and the Devil

The words ‘satan’ and ‘devil’ are sometimes used figuratively to describe the natural sinful tendencies within us. These are our main ‘satan’ or adversary. They are also personified, and as such can be spoken of as ‘the devil’ – our enemy, a slanderer of the truth. This is what our natural ‘man’ is like – the very devil. The connection between the devil and our evil desires – sin within us – is made explicit in several passages:

- “As the children (ourselves) have partaken of flesh and blood. He (Jesus) Himself likewise shared in the same, that through (His) death He might destroy him who had the power of death, that is, the devil” (Hebrews 2:14). The devil is here described as being responsible for death. But Romans tells us that sin is responsible for dearth “the wages of sin is death” (Romans 6:23). Therefore sin and the devil must be parallel.

- Similarly James 1:14 says that our evil desires tempt us, leading us to sin and therefore to death, but Hebrews 2:14 says that the devil brings death. The same verse says that Jesus had our nature in order to destroy the devil.

- Contrast this with Romans 8:3: “God by sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh (that is, our human nature, … He (Jesus) condemned sin, in the flesh.” This shows that the devil and the sinful tendencies that are naturally with human nature are effectively the same.

It is vitally important to understand that Jesus was tempted just like us. Misunderstanding the doctrine of the devil means that we cannot correctly appreciate the nature and work of Jesus. It was only because Jesus had our human nature – the ‘devil’ within him – that we can have the hope of salvation (Hebrews 2:14-18; 4:15). By overcoming the desires of his own nature, the Biblical devil, Jesus was able to destroy the devil on the cross. If the devil is a personal being, then he should no longer exist.
‘Our sins’ = ‘the works of the devil’

“He who sins is of the devil” (1 John 3:8), because sin is the result of giving way to our own natural, evil desires (James 1:14,15), which the Bible calls ‘the devil’. “For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that He might destroy the works of the devil” (1 John 3:8). If we are correct in saying that the devil is our evil desires, then the works of our evil desires, i.e. what they result in, are our sins. This is confirmed by 1 John 3:5, “He (Jesus) was manifested to take away our sins”. This confirms that “our sins” and “the works of the devil” are the same. Acts 5:3 provides another example of this connection between the devil and our sins. Peter says to Ananias, “Why has Satan filled your heart?” Then in verse 4, Peter says “Why have you conceived this thing in your heart?” Conceiving something bad within our heart is the same as Satan filling our heart.

Personification

However, the Bible does talk as if the devil is a person! Hebrews 2:14 speaks of “him who had the power of death, that is, the devil”. The Bible often uses personification – speaking of an abstract idea as if it is a person. Thus Proverbs 9:1 speaks of a woman called ‘Wisdom’ building a house, and Romans 6:23 likens sin to a paymaster giving wages of death.

Our devil, the ‘diabolos’, represents our evil desires. Yet you cannot have abstract diabolism, the evil desires that are in a man’s heart cannot exist separately from a man; therefore ‘the devil’ is personified. Sin is often personified as a master (e.g. Romans 5:21; 6:6,17; 7:3). It is understandable, therefore, that the ‘devil’ is also personified, seeing that ‘the devil’ also refers to sin. In the same way, Paul speaks of us having two beings, as it were, within our flesh (Romans 7:15-21):

- the man of the flesh, ‘the devil’,
- fights with the man of the Spirit.

Yet it is evident that there are not two literal, personal beings fighting within us. This sinful part of our nature is personified as “the evil one” (Matthew 6:13) – the Biblical devil. The devil is a common figure for our own nature; sin and temptation originate from within. The real arena of spiritual conflict is the human heart.

Practical Implications

If we grasp this, we will battle daily for control of the mind; we will strive to fill our mind with God’s word, we will read the Bible daily, we will be cynical about our motivations, we will examine ourselves, we will appreciate the latent liability to sin which we and all men have by nature. We won’t take the weakness of others towards us so personally; we will see it is their ‘devil’. Belief in a personal devil is so popular because it takes the focus away from our own struggle with our innermost nature and thoughts.
